"We put two and a half hours in of windshield time just to save money on lumber," said Taylor Adkinson. Adkinson works for

Integrity Fencing (out of Higginsville) and was with the fencing crew at the CC's gas station. Right now, at least, owner Andrew Gray isn't as worried about gas prices as he is the cost of lumber: "Lumber is up 189% since last year," said

Gray. "Well, I guess it dropped 3% or something a few days ago; but it's still high." Gray said he is still trying to adjust his labor costs with the price of lumber just to make money. "The way prices are, we had to work until late last night to make a dollar," he said. Gray talked about making more and more decisions on the "fly" in order to make sure his business decisions will not lose money. The example of finding a place that sold his

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James Mahlon White

Children being abandoned on our southern border is a terrible thing happening. The parents who leave their kids to fend for themselves is unconscionable. Let's call this what it is, a trafficking operation by the cartels. Lord only knows what happens to these kids on the way to the border. Not sure how you can't call this a crisis and you can't argue with desperate people wanting a better life, but this is no way to do it. Enough is enough. Wouldn't it be great if liberals and conservatives could stop arguing long enough to fix this mess?

We have other "messes" though. Crime is up, way up in many of our big cities. This is what happens when you decide police are the enemy and "defund" them. Hope there will be a study to show what occurs when social workers replace police. Many experienced law enforcement officers have walked away from this insanity over the past year. Can't hardly blame them. What do these cities think is going to happen without the rule of law? Murder, homelessness and a sky high crime rate, that's what.

There wasn't much on the tube last night, so I headed over to Netflix and watched a documentary about President Truman. He would have turned 137 on May 8. Most folks today probably don't know that he visited Warsaw in the spring of 1934. He was on the Jackson County Court and stumping the state when he arrived in Warsaw. His visit was to help promote a bond issue to rebuild dilapidated state hospitals and prisons. Harry pulled his model A Ford into a parking space on Warsaw's gravel Main Street for an overnight stay at the Osage Hotel (Now the Yellow Deli). Rooms were $2.00 a day and meals were fifty cents. He was having breakfast when a call came for him. It was from Jim Pendergast, an old Army buddy and Jim Aylward, Democratic State Chairman. They wanted him to run in the primary race for U.S. Senate against John J. Cochran, St. Louis and Congressman "Tuck" Milligan of Richmond. Truman was quoted as saying, "I was too astounded to give them an answer until the next day." He won the primary and defeated Senator Roscoe Patterson, Springfield Republican in the general election. You could say that Truman's major political career, the one that led him to the Presidency had its start at a hotel in Warsaw, only a mile from the dam that bears his name.

When I was a kid Millie Kauffman would send me from the Enterprise office up the street to the Osage Hotel to get lunch. The proprietor was Agnes West and she'd fix Millie and I grilled ham and cheese sandwiches. There was a rack around the walls of the dining room with plates bearing the faces of Republican Presidents. One day my Dad handed me a plate and said, "Give this to Agnes." It had the faces of Democrat Presidents. Agnes thanked me and said, "Tell Jab I don't need anymore plates for my collection." For a time the Osage Hotel had Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, John Kennedy and Jimmy Carter along with Herbert Hoover, Dwight Eisenhower, Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford. I wonder what old Harry would make of today's world? Bet the buck would still stop with him. You betcha.

Time to wrap this up. The Jubilee Days carnival is pulling into the harbor and I plan to walk down and take a look. Life flows pleasantly along. Take care of yourself.

WORDS TO LIVE BY: Unless we think of others and do something for them, we miss a great source of happiness.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Vicky Hartzler wants to be your next US Senator. Before you get too excited you need to take a look at her voting record and read part of a letter she sent to some of her constituents. You decide if it sounds like the Republican we elected or if she has become part of the Washington establishment. This is a portion of her letter, word for word.

Vicky: "I condemn President Trump's attempt to publicly pressure Vice President Mike Pence to act unconstitutionally by rejecting certain state electoral votes.

"I also wholeheartedly condemn the violent actions undertaken on January 6, 2021, by these so-called protesters. The assault on the United States Capitol building was appalling and something one would expect from a third world coup – not from our own citizens. It was thuggery, plain and simple, and these violators must be punished.

Finally, I condemn the President for his words leading up to, and during, the rally that took place prior to the certification process. The President's actions were reckless, and only added increased tension and doubt to many Americans looking for reassurance in our system of government. After a year of riots in our street, COVID restrictions and health challenges, and a contentious election, our citizens need healing – not further actions which tear us apart.

"It's already been made clear: Congress certified the 2020 presidential results and this election is over. We owe it to our nation to move past these divisive tactics and work towards bringing America, and our communities, together.

I appreciate your thoughts and the opportunity to represent and serve the good people of Missouri's Fourth District. My goal is to continue to work with you to move America forward.

"Very truly yours."

formed a live show for the kids. Her show, "Wild Heart", is an interactive entertainment presentation about animals and their relationships to people and the earth. The kids seemed to like it and it wasn't long before Syrigus had some volunteers on the "stage" participating.

"It's awesome!" said Maddison Mullen, who was standing at the balloon-animal making table. Several of the kids had grouped up to get balloon animals made, and others were wandering over to the snow cone stand. Still yet there were many others heading to the bouncy-house. There was a lot to see and do.

There are different levels of the program (which runs June 6 - August 7): the listeners program (for kids who cannot read independently), the readers program (kids who haven't started 7th grade but can read independently), and the young adult program (kids 7th - 12th grade). And, there are prizes: for the youngest kids there is a bubble machine and a bug catching kit; the older kids could win a Fuji-film camera and film. There are other things available for kids who complete their reading lists: coupons, certificates, books, and a treasure box.

The point of the summer reading program, however, is to keep kids engaged in reading throughout the summer. By the look of the crowd, it appears a lot of kids will. "It is going really well, and we have a good turnout," said Stephanie Rogers, the Henry County Library Director as she looked around the library parking lot at all the kids. She said she hopes to make this an annual program (with different themes every year). "We want to keep kids excited about reading and engaged during the summer months." Shelia Jensen (at the library) helped organize the events; Assistant Director Debbie Jones booked several of the events, too. One of the later teen programs that sounds interesting is "edible insects". Paul Latimer will be giving an educational presentation about how other folks in other countries often eat insects; the kids will even get a chance to try a few of those "treats" themselves. Of course, the idea is to help expose kids to other cultures and learn about insects as a resource.

Next week's theme is "How Can We Help the Animal Shelter?" Later programs include an animal shadow drawing, a presentation of the bald eagle program, Annie the therapy dog, animal zoo train, animals that blow bubbles and even exploding sidewalk chalk. Anyone interested can contact the Henry County Library to get their kid engaged in the summer program: (660) 885 - 2612. The program (and the weekly events) is also available at the Lenora Blackmore Branch in Windsor: (660) 647 - 2298. Brochures can be picked up at either library branch with a complete list of the schedule and summer program contents.

materials cheaper and making the decision to drive and get them the other day was just one example. Gray isn't exactly happy about it: he suspects that there is no real supply problem anymore with lumber at this point, but the prices are staying high. Like many, he wonders if it is just good old fashioned price gouging at work. In fact, a lot of people are going with metal fencing to avoid the high cost of a traditional wood fence. But Gray, who also races boats, noticed that the alcohol fuel for the racing boats is nearing the price of a gallon of gas, too. It is just another indicator that the economy might be on its way to more severe problem.

Lumber costs aside, staple grocery items are taking hikes, too. Taylor Adkinson said that even the cost of the Ramen noodles he usually buys has risen 50 cents for a ten-pack box at his hometown store. "It seems small," he said, "but it is adding up." And Adkinson has a point: when the staples go up (bread, milk, and eggs) it can be an indicator that an economy is in trouble.

A dozen eggs in 1974 cost 74 cents. At the beginning of the 70s the price of a dozen eggs was a mere 53 cents; the lowest price a dozen eggs had been in the previous two decades was 49 cents and had hovered around the 60-cent mark since the 1950s. In the 1940s, especially post war, a dozen could be bought for a whopping 72 cents - a fortune in 1948. By 1980 they had risen to over 80 cents per dozen and a year later in 1981 they hit the 90-cent mark. By 1984 they were $1 a dozen and stayed about the same price, give or take a nickel or two, until the turn of the 21st century (data from the daily-meal.com). In a sense, we can track the economic conditions and problems across the decades by examining the humble egg. Eggs were somewhat affordable until 2010 when, for a five-year period, they started climbing again (reaching 1.82 a dozen in 2015). By 2016 they dropped back down to about 80 cents a dozen. But the prices are climbing again.

Chickens are basically corn with feet, which can explain some of those ups and downs. When corn and grains are high, so are the eggs. Eggs, which today are a little over a dollar a dozen, were about 70 cents a dozen a few months ago. Much like the lumber price hikes, eggs have been subject to supply-demand laws: the explanation is that more people were buying eggs during the pandemic and the prices rose as less eggs became available. But it is not the only staple item that is getting more expensive. Bread, too, has risen considerably for the consumer.

According to the US Bureau of Labor and Statistics, bread rose about 3% overall for the consumer. Some breads (like the traditional loafs) have recently hit a 12% hike. As Mr. Adkinson said above: it doesn't seem like much, but it is adding up. Presently, the effects are somewhat flat - few people are choosing to skip buying eggs or bread at the current prices, but what if they rose another 25 cents? It is not the only consumer good going up, either. "That 5 pounds of beef that was $20 is now $30," said Taylor. Beef prices, very recently, went up again.

What is another economic indicator? Gas? Back in the late 1980s and early 1990s gas stuck around the $1 per gallon mark. In the first decade of 2000, gas prices steadily increased to the point where they were well over $3 a gallon (average of $3.52 per gallon in 2011 according to Statista.com). By 2016 they were back to about $2 per gallon but slowly going back up. Today we are nearing the $3 mark again. The big question is this: how bad is it going to be? For now, the gas prices are flat. Since people were couped up for a year it makes since they will start getting out again. But if the prices keep rising, and this time next year a gallon of gas is $3.50, are you going to take that family trip? That is not to say what that impact would have on trucking and shipping. Everyone, it seems, are holding their breath.

"Do you think it will be this way next year?" Adkinson and Gray weren't sure. Gray said that he has been told the price of lumber should return to "normal" by next year. But does that mean everything will? "I know that you have to have $30,000 extra on hand right now just to buy a house," said Gray. True, real estate has risen sharply recently; even used cars are getting pricy. "I think it could go either way," said Gray. "We could see a depression, or it could flatten out." Although hopeful, Gray doesn't appear to have a lot of faith in the government to see America through this. When asked if he thought the current administration could address any economic problems that may come up, Gray said: "I don't get into politics, but I don't think Biden has a plan." But for now, Gray is worried about the future of his business. "I just know that if lumber prices went down, our business would pick up."

was held from Tuesday, June 1 through Friday, June 4.

The first few days of the week-long event is spent inside the hospital: the students visit the ER, sit in on some procedures, visit surgery, radiology, and medical inpatient; they even shadow the IT department.

The last day of the visit includes a "MASH Camp" which is held outside of the hospital under a tent. The setup includes the students visiting several stations at 90-minute intervals which are designed to allow them to practice and observe various medical skills. The stations are interesting: there is a mannequin (which gives birth) at the OB station: Gwen Meeks (an OB nurse) demonstrated the birthing process for the students at that station. The students also get to practice their suturing skills on cow parts, and practice giving injections. One station was set up for orthopedics. The students got to drill into bones and place plates to stabilize fractures; they also learned how to wrap a broken bone. Fred Habel and Greg Pro from Stryker Orthopedics (the folks that make the plates and equipment for the procedures) were guiding students through those processes. The students even got to ventilate pig's lung.

A few of the students liked some of the aspects of the hospital better than the others: Patience Laserta, a high school student from Leeton said she was more interested in the OB side of things. Most of the others, however, had not made up their minds. The students' shadowing was done during normal operating hours - and since hospitals don't stop running - they got to see some interesting things: life flights, the emergency nature of an ER, and also medical procedures and surgeries. In general, they got to observe how the various departments and floors of the hospital were run and managed.

Skaggs is the go-to nurse when questions or concerns arise. Surgeons, anesthetists and ancillary staff seek her out because she is trustworthy, dependable, a true team player and always willing to help others.

As the Employee of the Month, Skaggs received a GVMH gift and her name will be engraved on a plaque to be permanently displayed in the hospital. She is also one of 12 finalists for the 2021-2022 Employee of the Year award.

For more information on GVMH, visit gvmh.org and follow them on social media @chooseGVMH.

Pulled Pork to accompany the many wonderful salads, side dishes and desserts brought by members.

The program, "Our Henry County Fair" was given by Melissa Everhart. She encouraged everyone to enter in as many different contest categories as possible. Over the last few years, participation in county fairs across the nation has declined. Flyers were handed out listing the many different contests available and Melissa gave instruction on how to register and the deadline for entering. She also suggested that you invite a family member or friend to enter several categories and have a little friendly competition between you.

The meeting was called to order by President, Susan Evanoff. Members stood as they said The Pledge of Allegiance. Members answered Roll Call by recalling a memory they had of attending a County Fair. The May minutes were approved as submitted. Treasurer, Verlinda Talley gave her monthly report and it was approved. A thank you note from Victor Choppa was passed giving his thanks and appreciation for being awarded our $500 scholarship.

Garden Tour Chairperson, Brenda Roberts discussed the plans for the upcoming Garden Tour and passed a sign-up sheet for volunteers to be at each location. The night before the tour, members will meet and can see each garden at that time.

New member, Georgie Scott was introduced and welcomed to the club. Jim Cook dropped off some of his own Dahlia tubers for the members and gave instructions on how to plant and care for them. Members toured Mr. Cook's impressive Dahlia Garden last year and were inspired to plant several different varieties in their own gardens.

Discussion was started on how to proceed with the watering of plants at the Dorman House. Access to the outside faucet has been blocked off due to some structural issues with the building. Civic Improvement Chairperson, Mary Lou Philpott will contact the Museum Director for more information. Further discussion was tabled until the next meeting.

The July meeting had to be rescheduled due to Olde Glory Days Fireworks display being the same night. The date of July 15th was approved. The meeting will be held at the home of Susan Dahman with Christine Breshears serving as Co-Hostess.

Meeting was adjourned.

Beacon House Day Camp

SANDRA POFF AND MAX LAFVOR enjoyed the sun outside at the Henry County Courthouse.

If someone was walking across the Clinton square on June 3 (or on most days this summer) they might see a group of youngsters frolicking on the green grass on the courthouse lawn. No, they are not waiting to go inside the courthouse: they are playing and are a part of the Beacon House Day Camp. Squeals of delight sounded off as another kid ran in a circle. It was worth investigating.

At that time, the kids were in a circle and playing a version of duck-duck-goose, only with water: yes, the traditional "goose" got a small cup of water to dump on one of the other kids. Sandra Poff, who was in charge of this group (Beacon House employee) shouted some instructions to the kids to keep some semblance of order. "Your turn!" she called out to a particular child who was ready to run "the circle." It looked fun. At that time they had already been at it for a bit: apparently their morning also included "the floor is lava" time.

The mornings at the Beacon House Day Camp are reserved for the younger crowd (the grade schoolers); the afternoons (from 1 to 4 p.m.) are for the middle school aged kids. There is a fee ($10) for the session (either morning or afternoon), but it does appear to be a fun time for the kids. Anyone interested can find them on Facebook or give them a call at: (816) 838 - 8295.

"This group of contestants has worked so hard to promote their titles and social impact initiatives throughout the state, all while being in a pandemic. They are dedicated to making the most of every opportunity."

The Miss Missouri's Outstanding Teen class of 2021 includes a Clinton teen. Miss Metro St. Louis' Outstanding Teen Ashley Berry is the daughter of Mark and Amy Berry. She will perform a ballet enpointe for her talent during preliminaries on Wednesday night. The rest of the week, her competition schedule includes: a private interview with the judges on Tuesday afternoon, fitness, along with talent on Wednesday night, and evening wear and on-stage question during Thursday night's preliminary competition.

Ashley, a student at Clinton High School, organized her platform, "Teens in Politics" to encourage people her age to become more aware of the issues facing citizens on the United States. Through her platform, Ashley strives to help create passionate future voters. "Each year around 4 million Americans turn 18, but a small number of them vote because they don't feel confident enough in the process or knowledgeable enough about the issues and the candidates," she said. "I am determined to change this and to make Missouri youth a powerful political force."

Ashley's title represents the St. Louis metropolitan area, but since her crowning prior to the Covid 19 pandemic, she has participated in a variety of fundraisers and service projects throughout the state. Pageant week will begin with a kick-off brunch on Monday, when the Outstanding Teen candidates are recognized for their various service projects and achievements. Throughout the week, the teen candidates will participate in a wide variety of activities, ending on Saturday afternoon with a reverse parade and meet and greet, held in downtown Mexico.

The preliminary competition begins

Tuesday, June 15 and will continue through Thursday, June 17. The organization will crown the new Miss Missouri's Outstanding Teen on Friday night as it says goodbye to reigning Miss Missouri's Outstanding Teen Halie Hebron. After being crowned, the new Miss Missouri's Outstanding Teen will immediately begin preparations to compete on the national stage in Orlando later this summer.

The Miss Missouri Scholarship Organization is one of the largest providers of scholarships to young women in the state. This year, the organization will award more than $85,000 in scholarships between the Miss Missouri and Outstanding Teen programs.

Tickets for the Miss Missouri and Miss Missouri's Outstanding Teen Pageants are available through the Mexico Area Chamber of Commerce, located at 100 West Jackson Street or by calling 573-581-2765.

HAROLD WAYNE SAPP

Harold Wayne Sapp, age 91, passed away Tuesday, June 1st, 2021 at Clinton Healthcare and Rehabilitation in Clinton, Missouri. Funeral service will be held at 2:00 PM on Wednesday, June 9th, 2021 at Vansant-Mills Funeral Home in Clinton with a visitation one hour prior to the service. Cremation to follow with burial at 10:00 AM on Thursday, June 10th, 2021 at Englewood Cemetery in Clinton. Fond memories and condolences can be left online at www.vansant-millsfuneralhome.com.

Born August 13, 1929, in Montrose, Missouri, he was the son of George Walker Sapp and Katie Viola Shoemaker Sapp.

On July 2, 1949, Harold married Juanita "Pat" Louise Young. Pat preceded him in death May 11, 1968. On November 12, 1970, Harold married W. Naomi Farar.

Harold lived in the Clinton area his entire life. He was an active Shriner, and member of the Masonic Lodge #548 in Clinton, and the "infamous" Shrine club Mini-Rods. Harold was a member of the 1st Presbyterian Church in Clinton. Harold was elected to the Clinton City Council in 1979, and served the 4th Ward until 1985. Harold worked for Beatrice Food Co., servicing Clinton and the surrounding areas with Meadow Gold dairy products and making many friends. Other business ventures included the old Colonial Arms Apartments, and the Countryside sub-division in Clinton.

He retired from Beatrice in 1972, and purchased the Clinton Cabinet Shop. After 20 years building and installing custom cabinets, Harold sold the business and he and Naomi began a leisurely life of traveling the continent in their RV, enjoying their summers at their lake house on Coffman Bend, and their winters at their retirement village property in Mesa, Arizona.

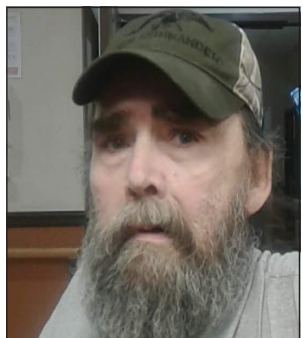

Harold was known as a practical joker in the highest caliber. His long-time friend and sometimes business partner, Tom Skaggs, tells of many pranks that he was a victim of including: Harold dumping a truck load of sawdust from his cabinet shop onto Tom's front yard. And while traveling together, Harold once replaced Tom's Listerine mouthwash with whiskey! There was another story that, while on a pheasant hunting trip in Kansas, someone turned up the heat all the way up inside one of the hunting cabins while the occupants were to be gone all day. Harold was immediately the prime suspect. Harold's life was full and I believe he enjoyed it all. There were sad times, but he seemed to be able to push forward and find something to laugh about, in about every situation. He loved to meet new people, and he loved to be with his old friends, of which he had many. He will be missed.

Also preceding him in death is his two brothers, Raymond Sapp of Montrose, and Howard Sapp of Deepwater, and a daughter Barbara Faye Dean of Wellington, Missouri.

He is survived, in addition to his loving wife, Naomi, by a sister, Marjorie Williams of Raytown, Missouri, 2 daughters; Sandra Kay (Wayne Thomas) Phillips of Stockdale, Texas, and Sharla K. (Richard) Porter of Mesa, Arizona, one son; Fred J. (Linda) Morgan of Flagstaff, Arizona. Harold and Naomi have 11 grandchildren, and 15 great grandchildren, and numerous nieces and nephews.

Arrangements have been entrusted to Vansant-Mills Funeral Home in Clinton, Missouri.

First Presbyterian Church

Rev. Nancy Gillard delivered the message simply titled Love from what is commonly called the love chapter in the Bible, 1 Corinthians 13. Let us all open our eyes and hearts to God's spirit and we will most certainly see ways to serve God in love.

The Presbyterian Women held their annual brunch Friday, June 4th in Fellowship Hall. Everyone enjoyed the opportunity to fellowship together after the distancing and limitations of the past year. The ladies are enjoying a new bible study called "What My Grandmother's Taught Me" which is a look at the women named in the genealogy of Jesus. Several were in attendance.

We are currently collecting cake mixes of any size and flavor throughout the month of June. These donations will help the Samaritan Center Pantry. Two shelves in our foyer are nearly filled to capacity. Let's all pitch in and see if we can exceed last year's donations which filled an entire shopping cart.

If you are interested in putting your sewing skills to work then we have another mission project for you. Materials for personal hygiene items are available in tubs in the church foyer. This project will help girls in India. See a Naomi Ruth lady for directions if needed.

Jesus Camp will be held at this location July 26-30. The camp will be held jointly with the Clinton Christian Church. Covid-19 guidelines set in place by Heartland Camps will be followed. If you have children or grandchildren wishing to attend camp, be sure to register them at www.heartlandcamps.org. Spots fill up quickly so don't delay.

The weekly ZOOM Bible Study continues on Wednesday's at 11:30 am. If interested in participating, be sure to call the church office and a link will be sent to you.

You are invited to join us in worship each week. We are worshipping inside (no mask requirements) and outside with our drive-in service. If unable to attend in person, please find us online at: You tube Nancy Gillard, fbccclintonmo.com or Facebook First Presbyterian Clinton MO. Sunday sermons, worshipful music, church updates and prayer times are available there.

Golden Valley Christian Church

This nation has been so blessed by God; it is difficult to understand just how much. Even Solomon, one of the richest kings in Judea, would be moderately poor by today's standards. He may have had a luxurious palace for his home, but there was no electricity to light that palace. He may have had plenty to eat, but there were no electric or gas stoves to cook on, or a refrigerator to store left-over food. When the heat of summer hit, he had no air conditioner for relief from the heat. He may have had chariots and fine horses, but he did not own a Ford F-150 or a Ram pickup to drive. He had no telephone or cell phone for communication. Anyone who was born after WW2 accepts today's way of living as perfectly normal. But if you were born much before that time period, you would know how false that claim is. We need to recognize

God for all of the blessings He has given us, spiritual and physical (Phil 4:19).

"Thank you" to everyone who contributed to the green-beans project. A total of sixty (one-gallon-size) cans of green beans have been delivered to our Christian Service Camp at La Monte, Missouri, for the summer campers to enjoy. All of the requested items for VBS need to be brought in by Sunday, June 13th. Bible study is being held on Wednesday evenings, and the Golden Valley Christian Crafters meet on Thursday afternoons at 2:00 PM.

Last Sunday, Bro Elmer continued the message of Ephesians with Chapter 2:1-10. We were reminded of the greatness of God's power in raising Jesus from the dead. Death is not only physical, but spiritual and eternal. Separation from God is a spiritual death, but we can be saved from this death through Jesus Christ. The Apostle Paul tells us plainly that we are saved by the grace (a gift) of God, through faith, not by works (verses 8-9). However, faith is not just believing, but also trusting in what Jesus did for us. We are created for good works (verse 10). Jesus is the only way to salvation (John 14:6).

Golden Valley Christian Church meets at 611 South Third Street in Clinton. Sunday Bible classes begin at 9:30 AM, and the morning worship service is at 10:30. Our interim minister is Elmer Fuller, and our website is www.goldenvalleyc.org, where you will also find links to access our Facebook page and YouTube sermons. We are happy to invite you to attend our services, where you will always receive a warm welcome.

Mt. Zion United Methodist Church

Pastor David's message, "Power in the Blood", had Scripture references from Exodus 24:3-8, Hebrews 9:11-15, and Mark 14:12-16, 22-26, with corresponding hymns; "Nothing but the Blood", and "Power in the Blood".

Authenticity is the quality of being genuine and true. There is authenticity in blood, sweat and tears. There is authenticity in sacrifice. Throughout Scripture there are stories of sacrifice that show a truly authentic belief and obedience to God that are especially rewarded—a covenant between God and his people; Noah, Abraham, Moses/Israel, Christ and all the rest of the world—the final covenant through the shedding of His blood.

So, what is a covenant? It is a legal agreement or contract between two parties. God has never lessened, but always extended the 'bargain', making His Grace available to larger and larger groups of humanity. We see the development all the way from Noah, as an individual, familial agreement, to Abraham, then to all of the decedents of Abraham, and finally to all through Christ our Lord. Within these agreements we see an authenticity—that each covenant is sealed in blood. There is something that is deeply authentic and sacred about blood when long ago a sacrifice was made to propitiate God, demonstrating the authenticity of one asking blessing and forgiveness for transgressions against God's law. But the final covenant was made by the ultimate sacrifice, Christ—man and God—took upon himself the collective sin of all humanity for all time.

So, when we think on this day regarding covenants, never overlook the power in the blood. There is nothing more that God can give over to you than his own blood. Can there be any more demonstration of authentic love than this? Jesus sacrificed himself and gave us the free will to choose Him or not. So, take this amazing gift, grab it with both hands, accept God's Grace and then share the gift of eternal life with others. Tell them about the power in the blood that they might know of this covenant and so that we can make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Share and show this overwhelming, authentic love.

Urich Baptist Church

It was a gorgeous Sunday to worship the Lord. Today, Clint Keeney rang the church bell. Mrs. Julia Klinefelter led in the congregational singing with Mrs. Dixie Collins playing piano. We rejoiced with Clint Keeney on his birthday. Mr. Gary Vass and Mr. Randy Vogt collected the offering.

The scripture passage from Pastor Chad Pollett's sermon was from Ephesians 3: 14-21. In this passage Paul is still in bondage and writing to others giving them strength and encouragement. He reminded them that the Gentiles are now part of the new family of God. Paul wanted all to know that God's love surpasses all understanding and He dwells in our hearts through our faith. Paul wanted everyone to be spiritually healthy and reminded them that through their faith they will live eternally. Paul blessed others while in prison. We can be a blessing to others also.

Third Street Structure Fire

FIREMAN MITCH GRIMES

A structure fire occurred at 926 N. Third Street at about 7 p.m., June 1. There was a minor injury associated with the fire and Golden Valley Ambulatory services were on scene as well. The Clinton Fire Department was able to quickly contain the blaze which had spread rather quickly from what appeared to be the deck of the residence.

Dorman House Closed To Public

The Dorman House, part of the Henry County Museum Complex tour, is currently closed to the public due to some structural integrity issues noticed on the building a few weeks ago. The closure will include the dates for the Olde Glory Days events. The matter is currently being addressed and it is hoped to have the building safe for tours again in the coming months. Many local folks will recall that the Dorman House was the first two-story structure built in Clinton (in 1852) and was the home of Judge J.G. Dorman, his wife Udolphia Miller Dorman, and their seven children. It has been maintained as an early 19th century example of American architecture and furnishings by the Henry County Museum.

The Dog-Trot Cabin and late 1800s One Room School House are still available as part of the museum tours as is the Museum building which currently has the World War I Memorial display (available to see through June 30).

FTC Issues Scam Alert

As part of the American Rescue Plan Act, eligible families will get monthly payments from the government from July 15 through December 2021. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will send these monthly payments directly to people through direct deposit, paper checks, or debit cards. Unlike economic impact payments, these payments are an advance on families' child tax credit. People who are eligible will get up to half of their child tax credit in these monthly payments and the other half when they file their 2021 taxes.

If you qualify for payments — which depends, in part, on how much you make — you'll get them on about the 15th of each month, automatically, without having to do anything. The IRS is working to get online systems set up on its webpage and make sure all questions get answered. Go to IRS.gov for the latest info on who qualifies, how much you'll get, and how to address any problems you might run into.

When money from the government is in the news, we know scammers are about to run their standard playbook. They may call, email, text, or DM you. They'll say they can help you get your payments earlier (they can't), get you more money (also no), or tell you other lies (for sure). Here's the real deal:

- Only the IRS will be sending these payments. Anyone trying to "help" you get your child tax credit is really after your money.

- The government will NEVER call, text, email, or DM you out of the blue, asking for money or information. Keep your money — and your Social Security, bank account, debit and credit card numbers — to yourself.

- Nobody legit will ever demand that you pay by gift card, wire transfer through companies like Money Gram or Western Union, or cryptocurrency. That's a scam, every time.

If someone tries to scam you out of these payments or anything else, report it to the FTC at ReportFraud.ftc.gov.

This I Remember

#12 Jarrod Steffens: (2000) "I was 33-0 for my Scott City, KS wrestling team. But I lost in my final match in districts. At State I lost in the QF but came back through wrestle-backs to go for third. The guy that beat me in QF got me again. I took fourth. I also have good memories playing football at Baker University."

#13 Noland Wilson: "Playing on the Cardinal baseball teams coach by Jim Garvin. We won three district championships in a row. We got to the Final Four in 2007 but lost to Sullivan. Good times." Note: This is your warning- Be thinking of your answer to "What is one of your favorite sports memories?"

Pickleball Visits Sunrise Optimist

SUNRISE OPTIMIST President Tom Gregg met with Pickleballer Mark Parker.

No doubt about it, Pickleball, (PB), is now on the map. The Sunrise Optimist wanted to know what the fuss was all about so they had Mark Parker give a presentation on the newest sport on the block. Mark is an avid player and supporter of the very popular sport/activity in this area and across the country. Mark likes to show off his collection of clever PB T-shirts. This one reads "Dink Responsibly, Don't Get Smashed." A 'dink' in PB is similar to a drop shot in tennis. Visit the Clinton Pickleball facebook page for times and locations.

Coverage Of Area Summer Sports

I am often asked, after the school's spring sports season is over, how will I put together a summer Democrat Sports Page? Well it is possible, but it does change. The Clinton area has a ton of summer sporting events: Golf Tournaments, Baseball (T-Ball to Travel to Royals), Softball (Girls to Men to CoEd), Swim Meets, Rodeos, Road Races (5Ks), Summer Camps, new coach interviews, Disc Golf, Demolition Derbies, Cornhole Tournaments, Fishing Records, Crappie Tournaments, News on UCM, MU, Chiefs, Sporting KC, etc. So, you see, we have Summer Sports but not so much of the Cardinal variety. Stay with me folks and we will have some fun. As always, send me information on your favorite teams.

MDC Creature Feature:
Missouri's Periodical Cicadas

MISSOURI won't experience periodical cicadas until 2024, but its annual cicadas (pictured) will make their appearance this summer. MDC encourages the public to learn more about these unique insects and the vital role they play in the ecosystem.

It wouldn't be a Missouri summer without the pulsating hum of its annual cicadas. The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) encourages you to learn more about these bug-eyed insects and the important role they play in the ecosystem.

Periodical cicadas are making headlines this year as numerous states will be visited by Brood X after spending 17 years underground. However, MDC's Forest Entomologist Robbie Doerhoff says Missouri won't experience periodical cicadas for another few years.

"Periodical cicadas won't emerge in Missouri until 2024," explained Doerhoff. "But the dog days, or annual cicadas, we see each summer will be present, and are super cool in their own way!"

Doerhoff said that several species of cicadas occur in Missouri, and they start to emerge in mid-to-late June.

"Annual cicadas look like larger and greener versions of the famous periodical cicadas," she explained. "They spend two-to-five years living underground as nymphs and sucking juices from plant roots with their straw-like mouth parts. During the dog days of summer, nymphs will tunnel to the surface, climb a tree or other object, and molt to become a winged adult."

After molting, which takes just a few hours, cicadas leave behind their famous shed skin. They will then sing, mate, and produce the next generation – all within just a few weeks of living above ground before dying. Notable species of annual cicadas include Robinson's cicada, scissor grinder, buzz saw, and Northern dusk singing cicada.

"The thing that's so neat about Missouri's annual cicadas is how unique they are," said Doerhoff. "You can identify species by their song and the time of day they sing."

For example, the call of a Robinson's annual cicada is a repetitive, rhythmic "pZEE-ape, pZEE-ape" and mostly occurs in midday. Buzz saw cicadas call from high trees with a distinctive "WHEE-oo, WHEE-oo" during the evening and at dusk.

Though their unique calls can be bothersome to some, the annual singing of males is imperative to finding a mate.

"The adult males have sound-producing membranes called tymbals that emit that loud, raspy call used to attract females," said Doerhoff. "Studies have shown cicada calls can reach 92 decibels – which is louder than a lawn mower!"

Annual cicadas can be found statewide and are most common in wooded areas, parks, and forest borders. Females lay their eggs in the woody twigs of trees and shrubs, occasionally causing the tips of twigs to turn brown. After hatching, nymphs fall from the twigs and burrow underground to feed off tree, shrub, and perennial plant roots.

"Cicadas really thrive in areas where the land is relatively undisturbed for the years it takes the nymphs to develop underground," explained Doerhoff.

Like many wildlife members, cicadas play an important role in Missouri's ecosystem. They provide a food source for many species of birds, insects, spiders, and other animals that feed on large bugs. The small nymphs help aerate the soil while they burrow underground. Once they die, cicada bodies serve as an important source of nitrogen for trees.

Doerhoff stressed the importance of celebrating cicadas, as broods may be getting smaller.

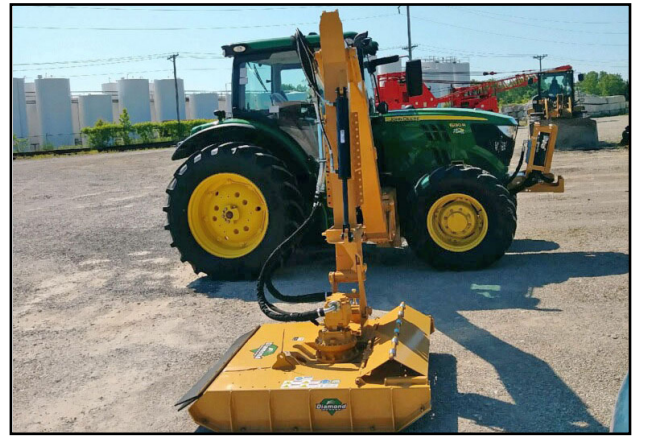

"The lifecycle of a cicada is so incredible because they spend so much time underground preparing to emerge, especially the periodical cicadas, and it's unfortunate their numbers are potentially declining," she noted. "There are several factors that could be to blame, including urban development and pesticide use. Because they only spend a few weeks aboveground, we still have much to learn about this species."

To help support cicadas, Doerhoff suggested steering clear of chemical use on lawns.

"Using pesticides above ground can ultimately harm cicadas," she said. "Don't use weed-and-feed products as they can kill tree roots that cicadas feed on. Avoid unnecessary insecticide applications to your trees and grass as these types of pesticides can kill soil-dwelling organisms that help make your backyard a healthy ecosystem."

County Purchases New Mower

Henry County Commission, June 3: The Henry County Commission met with Bob Jordan from Murphy Tractor (Kansas City) who was in town delivering the new mowing tractor today. The tractor was purchased last year but had to be retrofitted with a reach-arm. The work done to the tractor was completed in South Dakota.

"We are happy to have it here," said Commissioner Jim Stone. The purchase (total of about $200,000 with the attachment) should decrease mowing times for the county reduce maintenance costs.

The first order of business is to thank the guys from Jerry's Pest Management and Osage Valley Electric Cooperative. They are the ones that put up the Olde Glory Days banners on Second and Ohio streets and around the square. The Chamber provided these fine folks with Chamber gift certificates as a "thank you" for their efforts. Also a "thanks" to the folks at Elite Laundry and Linen for cleaning the Kaboom costume! On Tuesday, a couple of folks with the Clinton High School, our Academic Excellence committee and the three of us here at the Chamber met to discuss how we might be able to recognize those high school students that may possess job skills, character, continue their growth in academics and more. We will keep you up-to-date as far as where we see our Academic Excellence program going in the future. If you are interested in seeing the nine-hole disc golf course become an 18-hole course, please stop by the Chamber PG 14.

ber office for our next meeting. We will talk about how the back nine could look, what our next steps need to be, when work on the course might begin and more. It's our understanding that more people will come to Clinton to play on an 18-hole course rather than just a nine-hole course and fundraising tournaments would be easier to schedule. We had a great meeting this past Tuesday and our next meeting is June 14 th at 5:30pm at the Clinton Chamber. This may be our last meeting before construction begins so if you want your feelings known, please stop by.

I hope you saw our one-page ad in the Clinton Daily Democrat this year highlighting students and our sponsors for Academic Excellence. We are more than pleased the way our ad looked so thanks to the folks at the CDD! The Ambassador's Committee of the Clinton Chamber celebrated with a ribbon cutting on Thursday at Hannah Bananas in Clinton. We are so happy they chose to expand their business to Clinton, become a member of our Chamber and we know they are going to be here for a long time. This is their second location...they are working on their third location and have plans for their fourth location! Needless to say, these folks have a plan and know what they are doing. Stop by if you haven't already.

The OGD committee continues to move forward with this year's celebration. Music, the parade, carnival, fireworks, office Olympics, kids games, side shows, veteran's dinner, prize drawings and more will be taking place. The Fishin' Magicians show is coming back... look for a Ventriloquist/Comedian and the Kansas City Aerial Show...the Henry Co. Museum and Dorman House will be open...you'll hear the TLC Dulcimers...main stage entertainment includes Funk Syndicate, the Cate Brothers, Dawson Hollow and the Eskimo Brothers... don'tt forget the Gospel Fest...and so much more! Stay tuned, KaBoom has more to come!

Anyone can be a member! People buy Chamber gift certificates to give to friends, family, co-workers, employee of the month, as a thank you and so many other reasons. Call 660-885-8166 and order your gift certificates. They will be ready when you get here! We get about three or four inquires each week, sometimes more, from the public wanting to know about places to rent in Clinton. We do have a list of landlords we give to them or email, but now each Monday on our Facebook page, we will be updating that list to make sure it is accurate and includes more information for folks looking for a place to rent. If you have houses or apartments to rent, make sure the Chamber knows about it so you will be on the list. Don't forget, if you're a business owner and belong to the Chamber, be sure to update those Facebook pages so we can share your information on the Chamber's Facebook page. If you would like to get involved in moving Clinton forward, just reach out and we'll find the perfect place for you! Be sure like us on Facebook: Greater Clinton Area Chamber of Commerce, and watch for the new website coming soon.

Clinton City Council

The Clinton City Council met in open session June 1 at City Hall. Councilpersons Rick Pereles and Debbie Smith were absent; Mayor Greg Lowe presided.

Following the saying of the Pledge of Allegiance and roll call, the previous meeting's minutes were approved (from May 18).

A report from Economic Development Director Mark Dawson was heard by the council. Dawson reported to the council that the contract for the virtual spec building had been signed and the first payment for that was mailed last week. He wished to thank the Henry County Industrial Development board, Evergy, and the City of Clinton for working with them in establishing funding for the project. Dawson also reported that the new website for the City of Clinton should be completed by mid to late June. He reported meetings with railroads and legal staff related to the railroads are progressing; this is related to rail service at the Industrial Park. Dawson said he is continuing to look for a potential grant (EDA, Economic Development Administration) to help with rail improvement costs. The grants should be available for Henry County because of the closure of the coal plant at Montrose. The plant closure counts Henry County among those adversely affected from coal cessation (and there is money out there for that).

Dawson said there were 9 new projects opened last month - two manufacturing projects are looking favorable and there should be an announcement coming from them in late July (if all continues to go well). In addition to reporting on the unemployment rate in the county (which is 4.3%), Dawson explained a study to the council about inflow and outflow analysis of workers/labor in Clinton: the workflow study indicates that at least 4,918 workers per day leave Clinton to go to work. The estimated cost to the community of the work going out is about $140 million.

The second reading of Bill No. 2021-06 was held (and passed). The bill amends the budget for fiscal year ending September 30 (2021).

Councilman Cameron Jackson gave the Public Safety report: the council approved the request for four total street closings related to Olde Glory Days.

The Wastewater Plant operations report included information about finding a long-term solution for replacing vertical pumps with submersible pumps at the pump stations. The ones that are presently there are outdated (installed in the 1980s) and pose a safety threat.

The council, after some clarifying discussion about contracts related to the Inclusive Playground construction, approved the Resolution (Res. 07-2021), and the accepted the bid of $37,980 from Westport Construction. Also approved by the council was to allow Mayor Lowe to approve restroom construction (project related and not to exceed $25,000). All the accepted bids and approval of funds are accounted for in the budget for the Inclusive Playground Project. City Administrator Christy Maggi said that she does expect delays on construction projects for a while to come. Councilman Wilson clarified those delays might be because of material shortages and labor issues.

Councilman Jackson said that concerns raised about trash on the square from late night activities has been passed along to patrol officers on appropriate shifts to help address the problem.

The Livable Streets project is moving forward; currently they are identifying how to best proceed with developing a plan for bike and pedestrian paths.

The Public Safety report was given by Councilman Gene Henry. The first item addressed was that of the update of the standard operating guidelines for the Clinton Fire Department. Fire Chief Mark Manuel explained that most everything in the SOG update is new; the old one has not been updated since the 1980s.

Councilman Daniel Wilson wondered why, in the updated SOG, that the driver of a firetruck needed to be 20 or over. It was explained that the fire department has found that those 20 and over seem to be more responsible concerning the operation of the complicated apparatus of the fire trucks. The motion to accept the updated SOG was approved by the council.

Councilman Henry introduced the Cadet Patrol Officer Program to the council. The concept, as explained by Officers Chad Neple and Paul Abbott (present at the council meeting) should help the police department acquire and retaining new officers. It is not a new concept; many departments use this as a recruiting tool and the Clinton Police Department does struggle to keep up with the larger departments' pull of new officer candidates from this area. The proposal for the program includes the compensation of cadets while they attend school and would require a commitment of the cadet after their training and school for two years with the Clinton Police Department. The council approved the program.

The council approved a request for a special event permit for the Clinton Police Officers Association's Beer Garden at olde Glory Days from July 1 -3 at the Elks tent on the square. The measure will still need to be approved by the Henry County Commission.

Councilman Henry also wanted to be sure that everyone knew that the Mega Fireworks Show will be July 1 at 9:30 p.m. Related to that, it will be legal to shoot fireworks in Clinton on July 3rd and 4th (Saturday and Sunday). Mayor Greg Lowe wished to extend a thank you to John Wilson (Sextant) at Englewood Cemetery and the volunteers who placed flags on the veterans' graves for Memorial Day Weekend. "The cemetery looked neat and clean; I am proud of John's (Wilson) work out there," said Mayor Lowe.

The City Administrator's report included the information for the dates of the budget work sessions for the 2021-2022 year. The dates are: Monday, June 21 at noon; Wednesday, July 21 at noon; and Monday, August 23 at noon - all the meetings will be held at city hall.

Having no unfinished or new business, the council adjourned to executive session at about 6:30 p.m.

Land Value Reassessments

Well, it is that time again.....reassessment time. I might as well let you in on the worst kept secret around. HOME/LAND VALUES are going up. I have been warning of this for the last year and a half, and it is here. My office has spent the last 20 months combing through the County and verifying our data. We have looked at every parcel in the County (just shy of 17,000 parcels) and are continuing to review the new aerial imagery taken in March/April of this year.

The Missouri State Tax Commission (the Agency tasked with verifying that our numbers are correct) visits my office every month and selects a random sample of files to review. We get feedback from them monthly and an annual report of the accuracy of our values. While I try to be accurate with the values in the County, this last housing/land boom has affected our values tremendously; so much so that we could be out of parameters set by the State. While being a little low does not bother me at all, there is a line that we as a county can't afford cross.....the one that would allow the State to increase values across the board without regard to equity and fairness. I will not allow that to happen.

The increases throughout the County are aggressive and I understand that better than most. I also understand that an increase of this kind will result in a "rollback" of the levies for all taxing entities in the County. I have been in contact with most of the taxing entities and given them the heads up on the increases and EVERY ONE of the taxing entities that I have talked to have committed to "rollback" as necessary. While I understand that the whole "rollback", assessment, assessed value, appraised value and levies are more than any of you care to know about, my job is to:

1. Ensure that values are applied fairly and equitably for everyone.
2. Treat everyone that calls or comes into our office with respect.
3. Be available from 7:30am - 5:00pm Monday through Friday and available after hours/weekends by appointment so everyone has access to the Assessor's Office.
4. Attend all tax levy hearings in the County to ensure that all levies are set ("rolled back") as dictated by Revised Missouri State Statutes. Appraised values in this State are required to be between 90% and 110% of market value (the value at which your home/real property would sell on the open market....not a "flip", short sale, distressed sale, repossession, or family/friend discounted value. When/if the State Tax Commission determines my values are below 90% (some Counties near us are below 80% and some below 70%) they can and DO unilaterally increase all values across the board to get the County as a whole to 100%, increasing the values of homes/properties that are correct, close to correct and way off by the same amount which is NOT FAIR and NOT EQUITABLE. With the ever increasing cost of materials to build new houses it is hard to plan for the increases needed 2, 4, or 6 years ahead.

In short, increase notices should start showing up any day now, and some of the increases are significant. Of the 17,000 parcels, one half will be receiving increase notices....that is 50% of all property owners. With the expected "rollback" (and I do not know yet what that will be), I expect that 40% of those getting increase notices will actually pay LESS REAL ESTATE TAXES than you did in 2020. So, just because your appraised/assessed value increases, do not think that automatically means you will owe more in taxes.... for many of you, it will not result in increased taxes.

If you receive an increase notice and do not believe that your home/property has been valued correctly, you have many options.

1. Call our office and talk to me or one of the outside appraisers. You may be asked to leave your name and number and we will call you as we get the opportunity.
2. Come to our office and bring your increase notice. We will be happy to assist you as quickly as possible.
3. If you can't call or come by during regular office hours, we will make appointments after hours or on weekends.
4. If, after we discuss the changes, we can't agree on a value with the facts available, you can ask for a reevaluation both inside and out to be conducted. (This is normally done when there are issues that can't be observed from outside inspection.) This has to be requested and finished prior to the deadline for the Board of Equalization.
5. After all of that, if we still can't come to an agreement, there is the possibility of having a private appraisal done. If the value from the private appraisal comes in higher than what we have on the property, we will use that value and you will have to pay for the appraisal. If the value comes in lower than what we have it at, we will use that value and we will pay for the appraisal. (We have offered this option for several years. We have rarely needed to make it to this option and our office has never had to pay for a private appraisal.)

6. The next option is appeal to the Board of Equalization. This must be done by the second week in July, 2021. Utilizing this option entails presenting your information/evidence as to the value of your property to a Board empanelled to hear such matters.

7. If that does not result in the outcome you feel is appropriate, you may then appeal to the State Tax Commission.

8. There is one more option after that and I will be glad to share it with you if all the other options are not successful.

The goal of my office is to be accurate and fair. Nobody (no person or taxing entity) gains one dime of tax money by raising or lowering values on real property. It is done this way so that levies are set AFTER appeals to the Board of Equalization are settled. Please be prepared for any of the options listed above by having evidence or documentation to support the value that you think is fair. While I value everyone's opinion on these matters, they are just that, opinions. Just because your values have been too low for many years, doesn't mean that the value we have placed on your property is incorrect. One of our standard questions is "would you sell it for that?"

On the other side, we are human and we do make mistakes. I can tell you now that there are some mistakes in the 17,000 parcel values. We appreciate it when you bring those mistakes to our attention so we can get them fixed. I can assure everyone that nobody on my staff nor the two previous office holders or their staffs have ever knowingly placed a wrong value on anyone's property. The market swings over the last 3 decades have been wild as evidenced by land increases from $380/acre to $6,000/acre in 30+ years and average home prices more than doubling in 30 years.

Stock Market Insights By Dr. Richard L. Baker, AIF

"You can have this for free!" I remember my mom and dad's skepticism when someone would walk up to them and say that as we walked around our county fair when I was boy. My parents knew there was always a catch.

With the stock market doing so well and near all-time highs so soon after the pandemic, a constant question I'm being asked is: "Will we see a June Swoon?" After the first-quarter earnings season, mostly exceeding expectations, and with the markets so high one has to wonder, what's the catch?

I understand the uneasiness the investors are feelings. In the last few weeks, we have seen some interesting things. Inflation (CPI) rose 4.2% on a year-over-year basis. The stock market danced a little in the middle of May before recovering at the end of the month. Probably, the most interesting thing we have seen is, as of June 3rd, the S&P 500 has gone over 250 days since its last decline of 5% or more. What makes that significant is the S&P 500 has averaged 177 days between declines of 5% or more since WWII.

The good news is that historically June isn't known as a volatile month for the market. It's had only five 5% or more declines (second lowest only to December) since WWII. June is tied for second lowest one-month decline, and in the past 10 years has averaged up 1.0%.

All that to say, a pullback in the market wouldn't surprise anyone, but it is historically unlikely because major market weakness seldom starts in June. The summer months in general are traditionally sluggish for the stock market because of reduced trading volume. There is a lot of optimism (life without a mask is wonderful) about the pandemic recovery and though investors might be asking "what's the catch?", they are generally positive about the next few weeks of economic outlook.

I also think if more families were walking around county fairs together our country would be in a much better place, but that's a discussion for another place. Have a blessed week!

"Break The Bank" At Olde Glory Days

You might get to 'Break The Bank' during Olde Glory Days this year! Of course you'll need to buy a badge for five dollars at the Chamber of Commerce (200 South Main St, 8am till 4:30pm) later this month in order to have your chance to play. If your number is called Friday or Sat. night at 8:30 or Sunday during Gospel Fest, you will win cash, a gift card or you may even try to 'Break The Bank'. Nearly 30 people will have the chance to win thousands of dollars in prizes during this year's celebration. Badges will also be sold at the information booth Friday and Sat. on the Square and before each game.

Olde Glory Days Beer Garden

The Olde Glory Days beer garden is back for 2021! We missed seeing everyone last year and we cannot wait to see everyone again! This year, it will be the same familiar faces running the garden, but we have changed our name. We are now the Clinton Police Officers Association. We will be in our usual location, on the west side of the square, just south of the Court-house parking lot. We will be serving ice cold adult beverages from the fine folks at Missouri Eagle, an Anheuser-Busch Distributor. We will be open on the following days during Olde Glory Days; Thursday, from 5:00 pm - 11:00 pm, Friday from 11:00 am - Midnight, and Saturday 11:00 am - Midnight.

Admission into the beer garden is free. There is no age limit to enter the tent however you must be 21 to consume alcohol, of course. We will be offering a limited number of sponsor tables again this year. If you'd like to sponsor a table (with a great view of the main stage) contact Shane Lawson or Keith Keller, or email us at clintonpoa@gmail.com.

Proceeds from the beer garden will be distributed to local charities and civic organizations throughout the year.

In conjunction with the beer garden, the Clinton Elks Lodge will be hosting a corn-hole tournament on Saturday, July 3rd. Registration will begin at 12:00 noon and the tournament will start at 1:00 pm. All proceeds from the corn-hole tournament will go the Clinton Elks Veterans Fund.
