Foundation Remains Local Force For Good

PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE is at the forefront of the Truman Lake Community Foundation. The organization recently marked its 25th year. Recently, the TLCF presented grants to local schools in Clinton, as well as Sherwood.

For nearly 25 years, the Truman Lake Community Foundation has extended a helping hand. The foundation provides grants – more than $5.6 million to date - and offers donors a way to invest locally through a trusted resource.

Created in January 1998, the foundation holds assets of more than $12 million.

"The foundation truly is local people helping local people," said Jim Cook, president of the board of directors. "We create a sense of community by giving people with common interests the ability to make a difference."

Henry County has been the focus of much of the foundation's efforts although organizations in St. Clair, Bates and Johnson counties also have received support through the twice-yearly grant cycle.

The foundation awarded grants totaling $34,190 this fall to help Clinton and Sherwood students, foster children, Clinton Main Street, the Henry County Museum and the Windsor Ministerial Alliance, among others. The next grant period will be February 2023. One of the most common ways donors invest through the foundation is with scholarships, Cook said.

The foundation has dozens of scholarship funds under its umbrella.

"Each spring, many students receive help to pursue additional education," he said. "Giving young people the chance to achieve their dreams is a feeling that's hard to beat for both donors and the board of directors."

Two other popular funds are donor-advised and field of interest. Donor-advised funds give individuals, couples or families the ability to make grant recommendations to qualified organizations they value. Field of interest funds focus on a specific area such as education, health or the arts. "We can support any short-term or long-term goal you might have," Cook said. "If you have a charitable heart and need a planned way to make your big dream come true, the Truman Lake Community Foundation is the solution."

To learn more, visit thetlcf.com or email trumanlakefoundation@gmail. com. Gifts to the foundation are tax-deductible to the fullest extent allowed by the IRS. Donors can give online or by mail to Truman Lake Community Foundation, PO Box 463, Clinton, MO 64735.

SHOP CLASS continues to guide local wood crafter Garry Woodward who set up a business on his property off Highway Z.

BY JENNIFER JACKSON Staff Reporter

It's been a few decades, but Garry Woodward still recalls the shop class he took from Fred Dillon at Midway High School, west of Harrisonville.

"I didn't always get along with him," Garry said of the teacher, "but his was one of my favorite classes."

Garry spent 25 years as an accounting manager, sitting behind a desk in Olathe, Kansas. He retired last April, Backwoods Page 3

Cloudy With A Chance Of Meteors? Weaubleau Impact Structure Has Cosmic Link

METEORITE: MSU Geology Professor Dr. Kevin Evans spoke to the Saint Clair County Historical Society in Osceola. Dr. Evans displayed a Weaubleau egg, a round rock resembling a cannon ball. These "eggs" formed when a meteorite struck the ground. Attendees at the event included Wayne Wilson.

To Help Area Animals

BY TABITHA MIFFLIN Staff Reporter

The Clinton Animal Shelter is a local non-profit no kill animal shelter for cats and dogs. The shelter has a contract with the city of Clinton to accept animals through Clinton Animal Control. They also rescue animals within the county when they are able. In addition to the contract with the city, the shelter hosts their own fundraisers like garage sales and raffles and they accept monetary donations and supplies. The shelter is equipped to house between 20 and 25 dogs and 40 to 50 cats/ kittens. Currently, they are over capacity with roughly 35 dogs and 75 cats/kittens. Heidi Crabtree has been working at the shelter for over 10 years and said they've been unusually over capacity much more frequently in the past several months than

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James Mahlon White

November is zipping along like hell on wheels. Thanksgiving is next week and Christmas is waiting in the wings. Our Thanksgiving menu is one thing that doesn't change much in a world where everything seems to change. While there are many Christmas songs, there's not so many for Thanksgiving. "Come Ye Thankful People" and "Over The River And Through The Woods" are the only two that come to mind.

Democrat staffer Alex Edwards said he was in Westport over the weekend. I'd forgotten that Westport was the start of Kansas City, but there was a nearby community up and going about the same time. It was called High Blue (for the river) and was west of Belton. There are a lot of things I've never heard of and High Blue is one of them. I was told there's no higher elevation than High Blue until you get down to Arkansas. Speaking of elevations, there's yet another report about climate change. The author says that folks will be seeking cooler weather very soon and suggested the mountains near Seattle. If you moved there, the way things are going, your mountain might erupt like St. Helen's.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS! Cleopatra's tomb may have been found.

Archaeologists working at a site in Egypt believe they have discovered a tunnel leading to it. The tunnel is carved through layers of rock and stretches more than 4,800 feet and is six feet high. Cleopatra was Egypt's last Pharaoh. Even if it doesn't turn out to be her tomb, the tunnel itself is a feat. These ancient structures never cease to amaze me, built by hand, with no mechanical machinery. Ancient Egypt was a lot more advanced than we give them credit for. They may not have had an industrial revolution, but they were mentally advanced. Hope we hear more about this. Although it's understandable to think the dead should be left in peace, if we didn't excavate these places we'd learn little about our ancient past. In the meantime, let's hope these archaeologists don't stir up any dark forces.

Good advice is to quit while you're ahead and I'll do just that. Take care old buddy.

and is now working harder than ever in his wood-shop business. Backwoods Cre-

"There's a big difference," he said of his vocation. "I'm enjoying it."

Garry used to work out of a double-car garage, but several years ago, he and spouse Cindy Woodward moved to a house east of Deepwater on a large lot with an outbuilding where Garry has his wood shop. The property is dotted with white oaks, red oaks and walnut trees, which Garry takes to a local sawmill, where it is cut into wood he makes into cutting boards, charcuterie boards, wine caddies and coasters. He's also branching into furniture making, and recently sold a sewing-machine treadle table he made to a woman at the Heritage Festival in Warsaw. He mainly sells products through craft fairs, he said, and online through his "Backwoods Creations" facebook.

Cindy, who has owned businesses in the past, is actually the owner of Backwoods Creations, but never has to tell her only employee to get up and go to work.

"He is always working," Cindy said. "This is what he loves. His craftsmanship is unbelievable."

Garry said he tries to keep his woodcraft affordable, but said his main thing is keeping the quality. Signs of quality to look for in a cutting or charcuterie board: the seams and the whole board should be smooth, he said, and the handle should be part of the wood used in the board, not a separate piece, or it will break off.

It's also important that the wood is sealed well, so that meat juices don't soak into the wood. Garry uses mineral oil to seal his boards, then applies a finish he makes himself from mineral oil, beeswax and carnauba wax, all of which are foodgrade. The beeswax and carnauba wax also seal the wood pores, he said.

The guiding belief of his woodworking: each item should be unique.

"I never make the same item twice," he said. "I always try to make it different."

The difference between a cutting board and a charcuterie board is the thickness, he said. A cutting board should be at least an inch and a half thick to withstand the pressure of chopping— commercial chefs prefer even thicker — while a charcuterie board is half an inch thick, as it basically a serving tray for meats and

In addition to trees from his property, Garry uses osage orange for the yellow wood in his creations, and exotic woods for the darker colors — red padauk wood from Africa, he said, and purpleheart wood from South America. His arrowhead-shaped charcuterie boards are very popular, he said, and he has made custom orders, including boards in the shape of Mis-

His products are made to last for generations, he said, although half a dozen people have bought his boards to hang on the wall.

"Backwoods Creations" started out seven years ago as "Woody Signs," which he made in his two-car garage in Drexel, Mo. Now he has the 25-by-25 foot shop, with a power plane, table saw, drum sander and band saw. Woodworking is his dream

"This is my serenity," he said.

On his wish list is a router table, and he has ordered a machine that puts his logo on his work, and can personalize items for wedding gifts or anniversaries. Garry said he has heard that a woodworking guild has formed in Springfield, and wishes there was one closer. He'd also like a place to display his work, but plans to add more craft shows to his schedule, and is encouraged that a real estate company has shown interest in his products.

His other favorite class was history, Garry said his special interest is native American history. While he has traditional woodworking tools, he doesn't rely on them, and considers himself a modern woodworker.

And he continues to value what he learned in highschool shop class from Fred

"I always go back to what he taught me," Garry said. For more information, go to the Backwoods Creations Facebook, or catch Garry at Christmas in the Country on Dec. 3 at the Appleton City MK&T railroad depot..

Meteor cont..... Impact Structure, is listed as probable.

It's the discovery of Dr. Kevin Evans of Missouri State University, who was in Osceola last week to speak at the monthly meeting of the St. Clair County Historical Society. His topic was the Ozark Uplift, which created the Ozark Highlands in the southern half of Missouri, northwest Arkansas and southeast Oklahoma — mapping the geology of the state caused by its numerous side-slip faults being one of his current research projects. But the discussion veered back to the meteorite strike when a woman in the audience asked what the round rocks were that she and her sons kept finding. She thought they were geodes, she said, but when they crack open the balls, they find sand, not crystals.

The balls are called Weaubleau eggs, Dr. Evans explained, which were formed when a meteorite 1.2 miles in diameter struck the Earth just south of Osceola. He discovered the craters in 2003, when he was preparing digital elevation models (DEMs) of the area and put four quadrants of DEMS together, revealing the circular areas of rock deformation, the impact area and the larger circle of area affected by the impact, which would have been a quarter of mile across, Dr. Evans said, as it would be if struck by a meteor.

With an inner ring of 5.5 miles and the outer ring of larger than 11 miles to the rim. the Weaubleau Structure is one of the largest-known impact structures in the United States, and the largest exposed impact structure in the country. The size ranks the Weaubleau Structure in the middle range of impact sites. But it is mostly exposed, while larger impact sites are at the bottom of Chesapeake Bay or under glaciers in Idaho. The good news — the meteors fell in the mid-Mississippian Period, 330 million years ago, named from the age of rocks exposed in the upper Mississippi River valley. The area was covered by a shallow sea that provided habitat for long-stemmed plants, seaweeds, corals and snails, with reptiles and ferns just starting to appear on land. The impact of the meteor was well below the threshold to generate mass extinction, and came from the west, hitting the water at angle and sending up a column of water and pieces of rock two miles high,

Dr. Evans said. Thomas Beveridge was the first to observe in 1951 that the rock layers in the area south of Osceola had undergone severe deformation and brecciation, meaning the rocks were broken into angular fragments. The impact sites along Missouri's 38th parallel also resemble a pattern caused by a series of meteor strikes on the planet Jupiter, which were observed in 1994. In all, there are seven craters of rock deformation on or just below the 38th parallel, including two more in Missouri. The others in Missouri turned out not to be caused by meteors, Dr. Evans said.

Geologists have not been able to drill down through the breccia to find the core of the meteor that fell near Osceola, which is estimated to be 1,000 feet deep. But Dr. Evans said that the tiny grains of shock quartz found in the breccia are a "smoking gun" for an im-

In 2004, Dr.Evans and three other geologists reported on the geology of the site at the 50th annual meeting of Missouri Department of Natural Resources, including Weaubleau eggs. There are examples of the round rocks at the St. Clair County Historical Museum, and also Weaubleau eggs and fossils found in the area in a display case at the county library, across the street from the museum. Weaubleau eggs can be as large as basketballs, Dr. Evans said, adding that he has a collection at the university and also 60 of them in his yard

If you look, you can see the layer of rock deformation in road cuts on Highway 13 south of Osceola. The outer ring of the Weaubleau Structure touches Osceola on the north. The small ring is southeast of the Ash Grove Aggregates Quarry, and encompasses the community of Gerster. Dr. Evans said he plans to conduct more research by boat along Weaubleau Creek and Truman Lake this summer.

That meteors would fall to earth like they did on Jupiter seems unlikely, according to some astronomers, as Earth's gravitational pull is less than Jupiter's. On the other hand, the moon has less gravitational pull than the Earth, but has sites where serial meteorite impacts created craters.

Just something to consider when you are driving down Highway 13 past Osceola, or are looking up at the night sky this fall for meteor showers. The Leonid Meteor Showers occur from Nov. 3 to Dec. 2, peaking on Nov. 18, and are best seen between midnight and dawn. They are created by ice and debris left in the trail of the 55P (for periodic) Temple -Tuttle comet, a small comet that circles the sun every 33 years, and will next appear in 2031.

They are called Leonid because they appear to eminate from the constellation of Leo, whose stars form a backwards question mark for the mane, a trapezoidal lion's body and a triangular tail. It can be found by locating the Big Dipper and looking along a line formed by the pointer stars of the Dipper, the two on the outside edge of the cup, which point to the North Star on one side and to Leo in the opposite direction. For best viewing, sit in a dark place, lean back and when your eyes adjust to the dark, look all around the sky, astronomers advise.

Jay Manifold of the Kansas City Astronomical Society

foreshadowed the Weaubleau Structure discussion when he opened last week's meeting with a brief presentation on upcoming astronomical events. He noted the Geminid Meteor Showers will peak in mid- December, and are best seen at an earlier time in the evening — between sunset and 9 p.m. before the moon rises. He is also looking forward to Dec. 7, when the moon will cross. or occult, Mars about 9 p.m., a rare event made more special because Mars will be oppositional, meaning in the best viewing position. Manifold is already planning where he will go to view the solar eclipse in April of 2024.

For more information about the Weaubleau Structure and the forces that shaped Missouri geology, go to Ozarks Public Television for Dr. Evans' appearances on Ozarks Watch.

GVMH's Faulconer Honored With Distinguished Quality Professional Award

CHRISTINE FAULCONER

We are pleased to announce that Lori Oswald is the November Employee of the Month.

Oswald has been an employee of GVMH since February 2018 and currently works as the Information Technology (IT) Secretary.

Coworkers who nominated Oswald say that she is the glue that binds their department together. From managing busy schedules, to answering Help Desk calls during overflow, she ensures that all things are done to the highest quality. Even in stressful situations, Oswald keeps everyone on track and is extremely optimistic and reassuring. She makes everyone feel like family.

As the Employee of the Month, Oswald received a GVMH gift and her name will be engraved on a plaque to be permanently displayed in the hospital. She is also one of 12 finalists for the 2022-2023 Employee of the Year award.

For more information about GVMH, visit gvmh. org and follow on social media @choosegvmh.

Chapter IU of the P.E.O. Held Regular Meeting

SUZIE AND GUS WETZEL HOSTED a Fall Social where members of Chapters IU and MT (Leawood, KS) and their families were treated to hayrides, delicious food and fun. Treva Jones assisted in making this a fun Sunday at the Farm.

Chapter IU of the P.E.O. Sisterhood held their regular business meeting on Thursday, November 10th at the home of Debbie Sieger. Suzanne Ammons served as co-hostess.

Janet Akers and Judy McVeigh gave informative programs on the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund and P.E.O. Star Scholarship, respectively. These are two of six philanthropies that include ownership of an all-female college (Cottey College in Nevada, MO), and five projects that provide financial assistance for higher education to female students. Deb Mills shared an Advent Devotional Booklet that she wrote for each day of Advent which begins November 27th. Following the meeting, 23 members enjoyed a delicious dessert and snacks.

The December meeting will be held Thursday, December 8th at 7 p.m. at the home of Brenda Ford with Margaret Barr as co-hostess for their annual Christmas Gift Exchange.

Christmas Comes to MK&T Depot

BY JENNIFER JACKSON Staff Reporter

For more than 80 years, passengers arrived in Appleton City at the depot that served the MK&T railroad, whose tracks still bisect the business district.

On Dec. 3, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., the doors of the depot will be open to the public for Christmas in the Country, the 26th annual sale featuring local crafters, a baker and a candy maker. It's not only a chance to Christmas shop, but also to visit the oldest passenger railroad depot remaining on the MK&T line.

The depot was scheduled for demolition, but was acquired in 1986 by the local historical society, Appleton City Landmarks Restoration (ACLR). The ACLR moved the depot across the tracks and restored it, adapting the space for meetings and community events, according to ACLR member Susan Rotert.

Only 10 vendors are in the Christmas in the Country sale, which is put on by the ACLR, as space is limited. Vendor rental fees help cover maintenance costs of the depot and other landmarks the society owns. Two of this year's vendors provide edible gifts: Sunrise Bakery, owned by Mary Miller, and Sisters Candy Shoppe. Both are local institutions.

"Everyone looks forward to Mary's homemade breads, pies, fried pies and candies," Susan said.

Sisters Candy Shoppe, owned by Julie Cooper and Tammy Rapp, has been at Christmas in the Country for 20 years, Susan said. They make homemade truffles, chocolate-covered cherries, peanut clusters, turtles and divinity, she said.

Four craftsmen will offer their work. Tom Holt of Custom Woodworks sells wooden toys, puzzles and ornaments. Garry Woodward of Backwoods Creations, whose shop is east of Deepwater, will have cutting and open to the public on Dec. 3 for Christmas in the Country, an annual craft fair.

charcuterie boards, wine caddies, pizza peels and coasters. Warren Rauscher, the Woodcutter from Raymore, will have keepsake boxes, letter openers, jewelry and small tables.

New to Christmas in the Country is Zach Borland, of Borland Metal Works in Appleton City, who is introducing his metal art, including ornaments and winter scene lights. Zach also does custom orders.

On the softer side, Margie Siegismund will be selling her handmade woven rugs. Michelle Berry and Laura Berry from Butler will have embroidered table linens and needlecraft for sale, along with jewelry.

Built in 1870, the MK&T depot served Appleton City until the 1950s, according to Patty Bartz, an ACLR member. It was used for storage, she said, then sat vacant for many years. The Missouri Pacific Railroad acquired the depot and was about to tear it down until the ACLR stepped in. Twelve years later, in 1998, the ACLR also restored Railroad Park, put up a wrought-iron fence similar to the original, and added an MK&T caboose and a gazebo. The ACLR covers maintenance costs by renting the depot, which is in the National Register of Historic Places, for parties and events, she said.

Also happening in Appleton City on Saturday, Dec.3, are open houses at Gina's Junk, Gina Hill's new business on the main street, and Three Wishes, which sells arts and crafts.

For a cup of Swedish coffee or espresso along with a cinnamon roll or other treat Saturday morning, stop at 4th Street Fika, which is open until noon, at 103 E. 4th (Hwy. 52).

For lunch, the Hudson Hustler 4-H club serves a hot baked potato lunch with drink and dessert in the park, which has picnic tables. That's generally where people go for lunch, Susan said. For more holiday spirit, Word for day: Fika. Pronounced fee-ka, it's a Swedish term for taking time to slow down and appreciate the good things in life.

And it's also a place: Jonas and Shellie Unell's 4th Street Fika, a coffee house on Appleton City's main street. Since it opened, it's brought the flavor of Jonas' homeland to mid-Missouri, and become a gathering place.

"It's for us, and for the community," Jonas explained. "People walk in and can get something they couldn't get before. They see someone they know and sit down with them and chat."

Jonas, who grew up in Gothenburg, Sweden, met Shellie when he came to Appleton City in 1988 to attend high school, spending a year with a teacher, Nancy Nichols, and her family. It was an informal study-abroad program, he said, arranged with the family his older brother had lived with when he

Jonas works at the coffee shop in the mornings - it's open from 7 a.m until 11 a.m on weekdays, and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday — and is so busy he needs another staff member to keep up with the orders for espresso drinks and smoothies. The brewed coffee is from Sweden, and is served in mugs regulars have their own cups, which hang on a rack on the wall. Cinnamon rolls and croissants are served on real plates. He makes fronacke - crunchy seed crackers — and sells chokeladballs and gingersnaps.

The coffee shop doesn't make money, Shellie said, but the income covers the bills and Jonas' coffee consumption, which he admits is prodigious. For the Unells, the point is to bring something new to Appleton City, and save the historic building, part of keeping the main street vibrant. The opera house across the street came down two years ago, Shellie said, but empty buildings in the downtown business blocks are being used again. The Unells have a photograph of their building from 1938 when it was Yoss Bros. Groceries. Appleton City is a farming community and was a site of the Peabody Coal Company.

"There used to be seven different grocery stores," Shellie said, noting that the town has two banks, a restaurant — the Farmhouse Kitchen — and a hospital in addition to other business-

The Unells go back and forth to Sweden to visit his parents and their oldest son, 26, who lives there. Their younger son, 23, attends the University of Central Missouri at Warrensburg, and their daughter, 19, graduated last year from Appleton City High School and attends Neosha County Community College in Kansas. All three children have dual citizenship and are bi-lingual, Shellie said.

Student Leadership Conference

Clinton Christian Academy students learn principles leadership beginning in elementary school. As they advance through the years they find opportunities to help the younger classes and pass on the ideas of leadership to others. In the upper grades, Student Council offers opportunities to direct the goings-on of the school and lead their peers in activities they all engage in. Last week, our high school classes had the opportunity to attend an area-wide leadership conference for Christian school students. The conference was hosted by Midwest Nazarene University in Olathe, Kansas. The large auditorium was packed with students from over ten nearby Christian schools. Last year, only two of our students could attend. This year the 9th, 10th and 12th grades were able to go.

The conference featured Ryan Lefebvre, famed announcer for the Kansas City Royals. He spoke of his struggles growing up and as an adult in the broadcasting world. His personal, honest testimony was well-received by the students. Another speaker was a graduate who, though born with severe cerebral palsy, has overcome his difficulties and offered advice and encouragement.

The speakers were punctuated with minute-to-win-it games where each school and grade participated.

A Chicken Filet lunch provided by the university was a welcome break. There were several moments of reflection by our students and some personal commitments were made. This was a valuable conference and we look forward to experiencing what next year has to offer.

LILLIAN "MICKEY" COLE

Lillian "Mickey" Cole, Born: May 4, 1957, Passed November 2, 2022.

Survivors include Partner Darrell Cole, Best Friend & Caregiver Luci Melton, Parents Ray & Loyella Arnold, Older Siblings; Betty Mullins, & Loyd Mullins, & Younger Siblings; Zella & David Bullard, Loyd & Trudy Arnold, Chester & Sunny Arnold; numerous nephews, nieces, and extended family members.

Proceeded in death by her biological parents Loyd & Lillian Mullins, older sibling Mary Mullins, and Sister-In-Law Cathy Arnold.

A Memorial Service will be at Consalus Funeral Home. 209 S. 2nd Street, Clinton, MO. 64735, on Monday, September 21, 2022, at 11:00 AM.

Mickey came to her parents in a nontraditional way but was loved in a very traditional way. She was a toddler when her biological mother passed away and was adopted by Ray & Loyella Arnold. Mickey was the first of four children of that home: she was fiercely independent and massively protective of her younger siblings. Early on she showed a love for art and collecting. She collected things like most people, but also valued and collected experiences and friendships along the way.

Mickey made fast friends whenever meeting a new person. She was happiest when she had people nearby. She loved singing. When she attended William Chrisman High School, she joined the school choir and loved it. Singing was a passion, and it made her proud to be a part of such a special group.

Mickey graduated in 1974 and went on to start her career path at a local diner in Sugar Creek, Missouri, Mattie's Diner. It was more than a job; it was a place that she loved to be. She would come in and hang out even when not on the schedule. When she was working, she truly enjoyed what she was doing and it showed, as customers lined up to visit her as she served and chatted with guests that became more friend than customer to Mickey & Darrell enjoyed living the small-town life. They lived in several communities in the area including Appleton City, and Adrian, before settling in at Montrose. She continued to cook at small town diners wherever she found the opportunity to be part of the community and serve.

Mickey loved a good thrift store, another man's junk was indeed an opportunity for treasure. Her motto when leaving the house for thrifting or garage selling was to always have 1's, & 5's and quarters ready for the potential deals. She was a collector of pigs of any kind: wood, ceramic. coconut, pigs with wings, any pig was worthy of the collection. She also loved to collect brass items, bells, animals, candle holders,

UNIQUE INSURANCE For your unique life.

wall plaques, baby shoes, extra bonus If it was a brass

Mickey loved camping, although that was only if her camper had a bathroom. Mickey & Darrell enjoyed fishing but for the catch and release. She always had her life jacket and rubber boat ready to go out on the water. It was never about the fishing; it was more about the experience spending time with her friends, family and especially kids in her life. She also loved gardening. She was so proud of her flowers and equally proud of her vibrant and over the top yard art, that made her smile every time she looked at it.

Mickey was a giver of her art and her love. She loved to paint, she started very young in childhood with those paint by number kits, moving on into full fledged crafting and gift giving. Sometimes the gift might seem a bit odd, but they came from the heart, and she always put her full thought into it, making the eyes blue if yours were blue, just so you knew it was made intentionally with you in mind.

Mickey passed at sunset and she had a beautiful send off from the natural world as she gained her angel wings. The sky had lovely shades of oranges and yellows painted just for Mickey as she was welcomed into her next chapter. Mickey was loved and will be missed by all she knew, the friends that were family and family that were friends

CHURCH NEWS=

Clinton Church of the Nazarene

11/6/22 service

What a wonderful day to come and worship our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Pastor message was titled Signs and Wonders. His scripture was Daniel 7:25-27. We study and read about those Christians who worshipped our Lord and realize we are worshipping so awesomely the same Lord and Savior of their time. God is the same, today, yesterday and always. We can be sure He will be there for us; today, tomorrow and always. For God remains the same. God is true, and He is there for us. We can count on Him. Trust in Him!

We thank each person who came to worship here today. We pray that you receive rich blessing by being here and that you will come again. See you in church next Sunday!

First Baptist

A grateful life is overflowing with Thanksgiving! Jesus is the foundation of a grateful life, as all things have been created in Him and through Him. When He comes into our lives, He makes us complete, and allows us to grow in our relationship with Him. With Jesus, we may face whatever may come, good or bad, with gratitude for His presence in our lives. A grateful life looks both backwards at how he welcomes us as sinners through His grace, and forwards, placing Him in charge of our lives. Live giving joyful thanks to Jesus!

Operation Christmas Child shoeboxes are being collected this week! Please call the office for more info at 660-885-2211. Celebrate Recovery is on Tuesday evening, beginning at 5:30 p.m., at the Vansant location, for anyone with hurts, habits and hangups. Henry County Rescue Mission offers dinner at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday evening at the downtown location (209 E Jefferson). GriefShare begins at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday at the Vansant location for anyone needing help dealing with the death of a loved one.

We invite those without a church home to join us in worship of our Lord & Savior, Jesus Christ. First Baptist Church exists to fulfill the Great Commission (Matthew 28:19-20) by loving people into a growing relationship with Jesus Christ.

First Presbyterian

God is faithful. He calls us beloved and we are recipients of His amazing blessings. Rejoice, for God's mercies are new everyday. We are created, renewed, redeemed and loved. Rev. Nancy Gillard delivered the message Money Conundrum using Luke 12: 13-23 as her text. Our Hand chimes choir beautifully played the hymn "My Jesus, I Love Thee" directed by Mark Smith.

The ladies are gathering again on November 16th to cut, stretch and roll tee shirt strips for anyone interested in braiding these colorful strips into ropes. This work will be part of the Samaritan's Purse Christmas Shoe Box project. Our collection of cake mixes in any size, brand or flavor continues for Christmas Cheer at the Samaritan Center. Help us fill the shelves in the church foyer to over flowing. Toss a few mixes into your shopping cart and bring them

We will gather together in fellowship and gratefulness on Sunday, November 20th for our Thanksgiving Meal Potluck. Make plans to join us and bring a covered dish to contribute.

Tai Chi classes continue in fellowship hall each Monday at 10:00 and 11:00 am and Wednesday at 10:00 am. Come be a part of one of these classes.

Weekly ZOOM Bible Study is on Wednesday's at 11:30 am. Please contact the church office and the link will be sent to you if you are interested in participating. Rev. Gillard guides this weekly study.

You are invited to join us in worship each week. If unable to attend in person, please find us online at: You tube Nancy Gillard, fpcclintonmo.net or Facebook First Presbyterian Clinton MO.

Mt. Calvary Apostolic Pentecostal "Fishers of Women and Men"

Mat 4:18-22 (KJV) As fishermen, you need to know what you are fishing for, where to find that species of fish, and what type of bait to use. You need experience, you won't have success by listening to someone else's stories.

To be a fisher of men, you have to know who you are going to talk to, the area you are going to, and what bait are you going to use to get them to listen. What is it that relates to them and will give you the greatest success in holding their attention.

Joh 21:3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing. (KJV)

Joh 21:6 (KJV)

These men were professional fishermen. Jesus allowed them to fish all night without catching anything. He would use this situation as a teachable moment.

Joh 21:10-11 (KJV)

Jesus wanted them to understand that as fisher of men, they had to go where he directs. As fisher of men and women, we also must go where God directs us to go.

We must remember when witnessing to people, there will be a difference. Witness to those who believe, lay hands and pray for those in need. Don't worry about the ones who refuse to believe.

(Mark 16:15-18)

When the fishermen listened to Jesus, they caught many fish. The same will be true when witnessing to people. When we go where God directs us to go, they will be ready to listen.

Act 1:8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. (KJV)

Act 9:6 (KJV)

Holy Ghost will go with you and do what is needed for each person. We have to allow Jesus to teach us how to be fisher of men. Those who do not want to listen, walk away, and give it to God.

When God sent the Apostle Paul, and Jonah to those people, they did not go in their own. The city of Nineveh was saved, after Jonah obeyed and took God's message to them.

It says in, Joh 12:32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

Joh 12:33 This he said, signifying what death he should die. (KJV) When we witness to people we lift Jesus up.

2Ti 4:6-7 (KJV) Paul stated in 2Timothy 4:6-7 that he had finished his course. He did everything the Lord directed him to do and went where he was directed to go. We too can finish our course as fishers of men. God Bless.

In today's world, most people are secular, not religious. They believe in science, not the Triune God of Christianity. They believe in provable facts, not faith. These people trust in themselves and their fellow human beings for life and ultimate salvation, not God.

Most secular people today believe all life on earth began eons ago when lightning struck a random mud puddle. They believe everything you see on earth and in outer space started as a tiny ball of matter no bigger than the point of a pencil. This tiny point of matter then suddenly exploded in the "Big Bang" of creation.

And these same people are quick to say the Bible is full of fairy tales! Imagine that...

The Bible tells us that we should not fear even though If e is real and often troubling. There are days that we may want to give up and fear overtakes us. But the Psalms in the Bible reminds us that we are not alone, that God is with us. They tell us that He is our refuge and our strength; an ever-present force that brings us hope and the inspiration to do what he wants us to do. He is there to guide us and keep His unchanging word. He blesses those who love them and walk in His ways.

We need to keep our trust in God and not in ourselves. God is love and when God abides in us, his love is perfected in us.

The Show-Me Excellence Awards, presented annually by the Missouri Association for Healthcare Public Relations and Marketing (MAHPRM), recognizes high achievement and outstanding quality in advertising, marketing and public relations projects produced by hospitals and healthcare systems throughout the state. A panel of industry professionals selected by the MAHPRM Board judged the entries.

"We are extremely proud to have received five MAH-PRM Show-Me Excellence Awards," said Lea Studer, Director of Marketing and Communications at GVMH. "This is the most prestigious awards competition for Missouri healthcare public relations and marketing professionals and includes a lot of phenomenal work from small and large organizations all over the state. This year, our team received two first place awards and a second place award for our Heart of Gold Campaign, a first place award for our Breast Cancer Awareness Campaign and a second place award for our Hospice Memorial Services Marketing Project."

Sewer Line Work in the Brock Edition

On Wednesday 11/16/22 Dukes Contracting will be performing the root control treatment on the sewer lines in the Brock Addition (area immediately behind Mc-Donalds). This will take the better part of the day and may bleed over to Thursday 11/17/22. Alliance Water will have a staff member on site monitoring the work and they will be able to answer any questions the residents may have. Some of the lines to be treated are in the back yards of the resident's homes, so the crew will have to gain access.

Closed for the Holiday

The composting facility will be closed on Thanksgiving Day and the Friday after. They will reopen on Saturday 11/25/22 at the normal

NARCZNON Public Service Announcement

Cocaine is again prominent in the world of drugs and steadily becoming more available. Finding pure Cocaine is next to impossible so dealers have been cutting drugs by adding Fentanyl to expand their supply and increase their profit. Fentanyl laced Cocaine can lead to a deadly cocktail. It is important to know what to look for if you suspect a loved one is using Cocaine that may be laced with Fentanyl.

If you or a loved one are struggling with addiction, reach out for help. Narconon helps people all over the US find treatment to end the web that traps those in addiction.

Cocaine is one of the most expensive drugs on the streets. The average price of a gram of cocaine is around $120. Recently the availability of cocaine has been growing steadily. Finding pure cocaine is almost nonexistent now because dealers are cutting it with anything cheaper to extend the product and increase their income. One of the things they are starting to cut it with is Fentanyl.

Cocaine is already addictive but when you add Fentanyl to it, it becomes even more addictive. Fentanvl is highly addictive itself and can cost on average $1-$2 per dose. People using this can get hooked on a deadly cocktail and not even know it.

Mixing Cocaine and Fentanyl you can result in respiratory failure, arrhythmias, heart failure, and stroke. It can greatly impact your heart causing it to beat slowly then rapidly.

It is vital to know the health effects when mixing Cocaine and Fentanyl whether you are using it knowingly or unknowingly.

Some of the following may occur when mixing opioids (Fentanyl) and stimulants (Cocaine):

- Anxiety
- •High Blood Pressure Confusion
- Incoherence
- Drowsiness Mental Impairment
- Paranoia rregular or Strong Heart-
- beat

 Suppression of Breathing Blurred Vision

Knowing the signs of overdose is vitally important so you can get your loved one

Week of November 14 extstyle ext

Scorpio 10/23-11/21: You'll be craving lighthearted, joyful interactions with loved ones when the week begins. Allowing yourself to get swept up in the moment and connect on a more spiritual, magical level with others can be truly healing and fulfilling. Also, you'll do well to guard yourself against taking on other people's negative emotions as your own. Instead, staying centered regarding how you feel while showing compassion can preempt stress and burnout. Later, you'll be able to get back to the business of learning and expanding your horizons, perhaps signing up for an online class or making travel plans for the future. Sagittarius 11/22-12/21: You'll want to apply a burst of youthful, playful energy to your closest bonds in the beginning of the week. Taking the initiative comes naturally. Later, being able to connect on a deep, heartfelt level with your significant other or another loved one with whom you share an important connection can feel even easier than it has for the past few weeks. If you share joint assets, now can be a good time to go over any miscommunication or technical errors that transpired recently and ensure that you're on the same page.

Capricorn 12/22-1/19: You might butt heads with loved ones or a significant other as the week starts. Confusion and other stressors feed into your short temper, making it tough for you to take a step back, take a deep breath, and then resume any conversation that ended up getting heated. But if you can make that happen, you could preempt impulsive words and actions. Later, you can clear up any confusion with your significant other or a close friend or colleague.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18: At the start of the week, you could be caught off guard by a shifting tide with loved ones or your home environment. Finding that you have to contend with this out-of-the-blue situation is sure to get under your skin, but, if you can, try to do your best to embrace the bumpy road for what it is and what you might be able to learn from it. Later, you can breathe a sigh of relief as you get back into a fitness routine you had to pause or clear up misunderstandings with coworkers.

Pisces 2/19-3/20: It wouldn't be surprising if you felt inspired and confident when it comes to pitching a creative project as the week begins. Lean in to this artistic energy and you could come away from the moment feeling truly accomplished. Later, if you've had to deal with setbacks and delays related to dates and opportunities to express what's in your heart, you can now look forward to finding new ways to infuse everyday life with fun, joy, and pure magic.

Aries 3/21-4/19: You might find it easier than usual to dive into a work project with your eye on the prize when the week begins. Your commitment is steadfast, and you'll be willing to put your heart into the nitty-gritty details, as well as your nose to the grindstone to get it accomplished. Also, the stage is set for a creative collaboration with colleagues or friends. Later, the cosmos encourages you to take the initiative and pour your passion into personal goal reaching.

Taurus 4/20-5/20: At the start of the week, the cosmos throws a wrench in an interaction with higher-ups or an ongoing project. Either way, you could be caught off guard. As a creature of habit, you might be aggravated by this out-of-the-blue surprise. Do your best to go with the flow and see how change might actually make you more productive and lead to recognition. Later, it's easier to express yourself in every-day matters and interactions, do your errands around town, and fire off emails galore without so many technical difficulties. Take in and sigh out a deep breath of relief. You'll feel more accomplished in no time. Gemini 5/21-6/20: You could be feeling driven to commit even further to your closest relationships and thinking about what needs to be done to elevate your connections when the week starts. Any emotional challenges that arise now could feel like nuisance, but being willing to step up and do the work necessary to strengthen your attachment can ultimately be deeply fulfilling. Later, the cosmos bolsters your confidence in social situations, as well as your appetite for getting out of your comfort zone. Sharing this desire with your significant other or a dear friend can make for a sweet, memorable occasion.

Cancer 6/21-7/22: In the beginning of the week, the stage is set for you to put in the work to make your one-on-one relationships thrive. If you need to have a difficult conversation with a close friend, colleague, or significant other, the energy of this moment sets the tone to step up and do it to the best of your ability. Later, it's easier to share what's on your mind and articulate your personal goals. Having meditated on what you want to accomplish over the past few weeks, you could be in even better shape to lead the charge on long-term campaigns related to your work or make ambitious moves to make a long-held dream a reality.

Leo 7/23-8/22: You'll do well to join forces with friends, colleagues, or your significant other to make strides on a group effort as the week starts out. You might be wearing your heart on your sleeve at the moment, but this sensitivity can also lend itself to being especially self-expressive and effective in sharing what's in your heart as well as the stage with others! Later, you have fertile ground on which to dream and meditate, gathering information that can inform your progress on personal goal hitting in the weeks and months ahead.

meditate, gathering information that can inform your progress on personal goal hitting in the weeks and months ahead.

Virgo 8/23-9/22: At the start of the week, the cosmos lays the groundwork for you to get even more in touch with your romantic fantasies and daydreams. Instead of brushing them under the rug in an effort to stay on a practical path, you'll do well to let your mind wander and play in the deep end of your imagination. What you land on could end up bringing you even greater satisfaction from your closest one-on-one relationship. Later, the way is clear to communicate more effectively with colleagues and friends so you can get ahead on team efforts.

Libra 9/23-10/22: You could tap in to your imagination and spirituality for clues on how to bolster your work/life balance on a daily basis as the week begins. Your empathy and sensitivity are also bound to be firing on all cylinders, but it might also be tough to nail down how the people you encounter regularly are truly feeling. Hold off on taking action until you gain clarity. Later, you can look forward to clearing up any confusion you might have experienced with higher-ups or on major professional projects.

The Missouri State Fair and the Youth in Agriculture Committee are accepting applications for Youth in Agriculture scholarships for Missouri high school seniors graduating in 2023. The application form can be found on the Fair's web-

Applications should be submitted to the Missouri State Fair and must be postmarked by February 1, 2023. Applicants must submit an original copy of their application and three additional copies.

These scholarships are possible thanks to the gracious contributions of many individuals and companies supporting Youth in Agriculture. A total of 55 scholarships amounting to $93,000, the largest amount ever, will be awarded as follows:

one $5,000 S. Wayne Yokley Platinum Scholarship sponsored by Youth in Agriculture supporters, one $3,500 Sharon Topliff Scholarship sponsored by Youth in Agriculture sup-one $2,500 supreme scholarship sponsored by Sydenstricker Nobbe Partners/Sydenstricker Genet-

$2,500 supreme scholarships sponsored by the Missouri State Fair Foundation, and forty-eight $1,500 scholarships sponsored by Youth in Agriculture supporters.

Applicants must be high school seniors, active members of Missouri 4-H or FFA, and have participated at least once as a 4-H or FFA exhibitor at the Missouri State Fair. Selected students must enroll (fall and/ or spring semester immediately following graduation from high school) in an accredited community college, college or university.

Missouri State Fair scholarships are funded through the generosity of Youth in Agriculture sponsors, hometown supporters and buyers of the livestock sold during the annual Sale of Champions; the sponsors and buyers list is available here. A portion of each animal's sale price is allocated to the scholarship program. Additional support is also provided by The Hayden Freedom Foundation, Guesa Grandstand Concessions, Walmart of Sedalia and Sarah Ellen Jesse Memorial Contributions.

New Scholarship for Veterans, Active-Duty Military Service Members and their Families

In celebration of Veterans Day, WGU Missouri has launched a new scholarship for active-duty military personnel, veterans and their spouses who are interested in furthering their education. The "Military Appreciation Scholarship," valued at up to $2,500 each, is open to new students who plan on enrolling in any of the online, nonprofit university's 60+ undergraduate and graduate degree programs in IT, business, K-12 teacher education, and health professions, including nursing.

WGU Missouri's programs competency-based, providing flexibility and workforce-focused degree programs that active-duty military members, veterans, and their families need. Approximately 11 percent of WGU Missouri's students are active-duty military personnel, veterans or immediate family members of military personnel. WGU also consistently receives recognition for its efforts to support military students and was recently named as one of the Top Military Friendly® College and Universities for the 12th consecutive year by Military Advanced Education and Transition Magazine.

"WGU has demonstrated a strong commitment to helping servicemen and women apply their knowledge and life experiences toward a high-quality degree that will open up career opportunities in a number of fields," said Dr. Terrance Hopson, Regional Vice President of WGU Missouri. "One way we're proud to give back to those who sacrifice so much to keep us safe is through this military-exclusive scholarship offering. WGU also offers military members flexible, affordable degree programs that are approved for VA education benefits under the GI Bill - which means that veterans and military members are generally eligible for benefits that, paired with our low, flat-rate tuition, cover most program

The "Military Appreciation Scholarship" is open to new students who have been officially admitted to WGU and qualify as active-duty military personnel, veterans or military spouses. Each $2,500 scholarship will be applied at the rate of $625 per six-month term, renewable for up to four terms. Scholarships will be awarded based on a candidate's academic record, financial need and current competency, as well as other considerations. Students can apply for the scholarship online at wgu.

edu/militaryappreciation. Designed to meet the needs of adult learners, WGU's competency-based education model allows students to move quickly through material they already know so they can focus on what they still need to learn, rather than basing progress on a number of credit hours. Faculty members work one-on-one with students as mentors, offering guidance, support and individualized instruction. While the university's degree programs are rigorous and challenging, competency-based learning makes it possible for students to accelerate their programs, saving them both time and money.

Generous $5M Gift Supports Global Vision Endowment Exemplifying UCM's Role in Providing 'Education for Service'

The Global Vision Endowment, a program that has helped engage more than 100 University of Central Missouri students in service to individuals living in impoverished areas around the globe, is receiving a significant financial uplift thanks to a generous $5 million estate gift from an anonymous donor.

The gift to support UCM students was recently announced by Michael Sawyer, dean of the university's College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences (CAHSS), in cooperation with the institution's Alumni Foundation. It comes as the college is planning a service trip to Tanzania in May 2023, working with the internationally known organization Global Volunteers. This will be the third such visit students and faculty have made to Tanzania since the program's inception in 2008. The earnings from the endowment will be used for travel fees, lodging and meals for students and faculty advisors who participate in this outreach opportunity.

Sawyer said the Global Vision program exemplifies UCM's "Education for Service" motto. The donor established the Global Vision Endowment to provide a travel opportunity for students who have an interest in service learning and community engagement, regardless of major, or their financial situation. Prior to their death, the donor quietly demonstrated how much they cared about this program and the university through philanthropy and participation in events in which students shared information about their volunteer experiences overseas.

"This person was deeply committed," Sawyer said about the donor. "They had a background in traveling internationally, living and working abroad, and also had a commitment to service. They understood the difference this can make to our students and in turn the difference they can make in communities around the world."

Many people representing higher education, corporate and faith-based organizations are participants in Global Volunteers, which is the organization that partners with UCM for the Global Vision program. UCM students who wish to take part in the Global Vision opportunity must submit an application by Feb. 1, 2023. If accepted, they will enroll in the eight-week Global Vision course that begins in mid-March. After six weeks of classroom experiences to prepare them for their service opportunity, they will spend two weeks after the spring 2023 semester ends

Our Journey Together

Life is like a journey on a train... with its stations... with changes of routes... and with accidents! We board this train when we are born and our parents are the ones who get our ticket. We believe they will always travel on the train with us. However, at some station our parents will get off the train, leaving us alone on this journey. As time goes by, other passengers will board the train, many of whom will be significant-our siblings, friends, children, and even the love of our lives

Many will go so unnoticed that we won't even know when they vacated their seats and got off the train! This train ride will be full of joy, sorrow, fantasy, expectations, hellos, good-byes, and farewells. A good journey is helping, loving, having a good relationship with all co-passengers and making sure that we give our best to make their journey comfortable. The mystery of this fabulous journey is we do not know at which station we ourselves are going to get off. So, we must live in the best way - adjust, forget, forgive and offer the best of what we have. It is important to do this because when the time comes for us to leave our seat. we should leave behind beautiful memories for those who will continue to travel on the "train of life." Thank you for being one of the important passengers on my train... I don't know when my station will come... I don't want to miss saying: "Thank You!" -Author unknown-in Tanzania. While they are in that country, students will volunteer for community projects and also assist Global Volunteers in educating families on proper nutrition, particularly as it relates to the prevention of stunting, the impaired growth and development of malnourished children.

"For many of our students, this will be the first time to ever leave the country, and for some the first time to go on an airplane," Sawyer said. "It is so impactful for them to see that even prior to graduation they can use the skills they have right now and get out and make an appreciable, meaningful difference."

Professor of Political Science and International Studies Henry Wambuii accompanied the group to Tanzania in 2019 and will do so again in 2023. He said students can participate in the Global Vision program at any point while pursuing a degree at UCM. CAHSS expects to select at least 10 student participants in spring 2023 while also supporting two faculty ad-

While the size of this upcoming group is similar to groups of individuals who have participated in such trips in the past, the college plans to expand the number of participants in the future, thanks to the generous estate gift that increased the endowment. In the spring semester, Dean Sawyer will call together a university-wide steering committee to expand the number of participants and destinations in programs under the Global Vision umbrella. The anonymous donors generosity is making it possible for the college to triple or quadruple the annual number of awardees.

"One of the things we want to be is as representative as possible," Wambuii said, noting that students in all majors across all four UCM colleges are welcome to apply. "We would love to have people from areas such as Nursing, Political Science and Business. We want a very diverse group every time we go."

Let's go 'Back' to the Movies

ROCKY & ADRIAN

Hey, you got to love the movies, especially sports movies. OK, think of your favorite sports movie. I know many of you said either "Hoosiers" or "Field of Dreams" (me too). The scene of the baseball players walking out of the cornfield is powerful. The line, "Hey Dad wanna have a catch?" brings tears to my eyes every time. The line, "Build it and they will come." will last for generations. I love the great movies that transcend their sports "Hoosiers" themes. is about small-town basketball that shows us a ton of life lessons. Their tough coach (Dale) skips the big game pep talk and simply says, "I love you guys." Walking into the huge Butler Field House for the State Championship game, Coach Dale knows his small-town team is overwhelmed. Grabbing a ladder he has the height of the rim measured. "How tall?" He asked; "Ten feet"... "Huh, the same as back home in Hickory."

How about "Remember the Titans?" This powerful movie shows how sports can bring about needed social change. "A League of Their Own" and "42" are historical and special. Tom Hanks' line, "There's crying baseball" will resonate for a long time. Sports movies can document American history as well as anything. If I was a history teacher I would use clips from sports movies a lot. Check out Ken Burns's "Baseball." It is really a history documentary that uses Baseball as a theme. Many sports movies are based on true stories, "Glory Road," "The Blind Side" and "Eight Men Out." These movies take a memorable look at a lot of social issues. "Rudy" was also based on a true story. How can you not be moved when Rudy was carried off the field?

For pure fun watch "Tin Cup," and "Major League." From "Major League" I will often say, for the fun of it, "Juuusst a bit outside." The 'riddle' in "Tin Cup" opened a few eyes. If you are a big baseball fan "Money Ball" will speak to you. It illustrated how baseball has changed. If you like golf history try "The Greatest Game Ever Played." If you are going for pure goofiness, "Caddyshack" "Happy Gilmore." For a heartwarming story, try "The Rookie," or "Jerry Maguire" with the line, "Show me the money!" or the movie "For Love of the Game."

Soccer movies are not as common, but there is, "She's the Man," and my wife loves "Kicking and Screaming." If you can stand the language try "Ted Lasso." "Bend it like Beckham" is fun and "The Game of Their Lives" is an uplifting movie about the rag-tag US team beating England in the 1950 World Cup.

In the hockey movie
"A Miracle on Ice," I get goosebumps when their coach says dramatically
match, "Tonight you are the best team on the planet." Many say the hockey win over the Soviet Union in the 1980 Winter Olympics was the greatest sports upset of all time.

The movie "Babe" documents how ladies like Babe Didrikson, have been great athletes way before Title IX, If you like kids in your sports movies how about "The Bad News Bears" or "The Sand Lot." If you are going for sad, the best would be "Brian's Song." It's about Gale Sayers and his friend Brian Piccolo. If you don't cry at the end of this movie there is something wrong with you. If you like old movies with famous actors try "Pat and Mike" (1952) starring Hepburn and Tracy. It is said that the athletic Hepburn did her own action shots.

Boxing is a great topic for movies, usually showing 'down and out' characters becoming winners and, of course, getting the girls. Examples: "Rocky" and the spin-offs, and "The Cinderella Man." Rocky saying, "Yo Adrian, I did it" is a part of our language now.

In the movie, "Radio" a football coach takes in a 'special' man to help with the team. The line, "It's never a mistake to care for someone" speaks volumes. So, grab some popcorn and go to the movies. You may have to use Netflix or Hulu or Apple+ or any of the streaming services that I don't know much about. It is tough getting old. From "Field of Dreams" the famous line, "Is this heaven?"- "No, this is Iowa." Well, Clinton isn't Iowa, but it's close. Until next time.

Lady Cardinals Volleyball Continues To Bring In Honors

AFTER AN ASTOUNDING RUN through the regular season and deep into districts, the Clinton Lady Cardinals volleyball team continues to reign in post-season honors. More recently, the senior duo of Mercedez Brown and Nyssa Brown were both selected to All-Conference teams.

Cardinals volleyball, off the heels of an impressive season that nearly saw the Lady Cards take home the district championship, continues to receive recognition for their season. This week, it was seniors Mercedez Brown and Nyssa Brown receiving postseason accolades, with Mercedez Brown selected to 1st Team All-Conference Honors and Nyssa Brown receiving 2nd Team All-Conference Honors. On the season, the two combined for 93 Blocks, 92 Serving Aces, and 664 Kills to go along with 664 Digs. In short, the two seniors were a dynamic duo for the squad on the year, providing the kind of skill and leadership necessary to make championship run. While the two were the only Cards that received All-Conference Honors for their efforts on the court this season, they were not the only members of the 2022 Lady Cards to achieve recognition, as Mercedez and Nyssa were also joined by teammates Jazmyn

Shockley, Kinzlie Hager, Paige McNabb, Carly Fosnow, Brianna Wright, Lauren Tucker and Josi Berry this week as each received Academic All-Conference Honors for their dedication off the court in the class-

Young Hunters Harvest 13,759 Deer During Early Youth Portion Of Firearms Deer Season

Top harvest counties were Franklin, Osage, and Howell Preliminary data from the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) shows that young hunters ages 6 through 15 harvested deer during Missouri's early youth portion of the 2022 deer hunting season, Oct. 29-30. Top counties were Franklin with 330 deer harvested, Osage with 310, and Howell with 260. Youth hunters harvested 15,608 during last year's early youth portion.

View additional harvest numbers for the 2022 early youth portion at https:// short.mdc.mo.gov/Z3g.

"Saturday's conditions were fairly comfortable for our young deer hunters," said MDC's Cervid Program Supervisor Jason Isabelle. "Although the rain we received in portions of the state on Sunday was much drought, it did put a bit of a damper on the latter half of the early youth portion."

Missouri's deer and turkey season continues through Nov. 11 and resumes Nov. 23 through Jan. 15, 2023. The November portion of firearms deer season runs Nov. 12-22 followed by the late youth portion Nov. 25-27. The antlerless portion of firearms deer season runs needed given the ongoing Dec. 3-11 (in open counties) followed by the alternative methods portion Dec. 24 through Jan. 3, 2023.

bear-hunting season, Oct.

More than 5,880 hunters applied during May for 400 permits for the season with the maximum total harvest being 40 bears. Of the 400 hunters selected through a random drawing of all applicants, 350 hunters purchased permits for the Bear hunting in Missouri is limited to Missouri residents and restricted to three designated areas of southern Missouri called Bear Management Zones (BMZ). Each permit issued is for a specific BMZ and hunting is limited to public or private property within the BMZ.

All eight bears were harvested in BMZ 1 out of a maximum of 20 with 177 hunters purchasing permits to hunt the zone. No bears were harvested in BMZ 2 out of a maximum of 15 with 128 hunters purchasing permits to hunt the zone. No bears were harvested in BMZ 3 out of a maximum of 5 with 45 hunters purchasing permits eight bears harvested were taken with bows. During last year's inaugural season, all 12 black bears harvested were taken with firearms. MDC notes that an even ratio of male and female bears was harvested this year, similar to last.

This year, three of the

"We anticipated a lower harvest this season over last," said MDC Bear Biologist Nate Bowersock. "Bears love gorging on acorns in the fall and the acorn crop around the state was much more plentiful this season over last. This resulted in bears moving less often and being more dispersed, which made it more difficult for hunters to find them."

MDC Reports 93,355 Deer Harvested During Firearms Opening Weekend

Franklin, Texas and Callaway.

Preliminary data from the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) shows deer hunters in Missouri harvested 93,355 deer during opening weekend of the November portion of firearms deer season Nov. 12 and 13. Of the 93,355 deer harvested, 55,267 were antlered bucks, 7,250 were button bucks, and 30,838 were does.

Top harvest counties for opening weekend were Franklin with 2,015 deer harvested, Texas with 1,724, and Callaway with 1,692.

Last year, hunters checked 89,939 deer during opening weekend of the November portion of firearms deer season.

Driver Examination Stations To Close Statewide For Upcoming Holidays

The Missouri State Highway Patrol would like to remind the public that driver examination stations throughout the state will be closed on the following dates:

Thursday, November 24, 2022, and Friday, November 25, 2022, in observance of Thanksgiving. Normal operations will resume on Monday, November 28, 2022.

For more news, follow the Missouri State Highway Patrol on Twitter @MSHP-TrooperGHQ

Be A Courteous, Attentive Driver This Thanksgiving Holiday!

Colonel Eric T. Olson, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminds everyone there will be an increase in traffic over the Thanksgiving holiday. Drivers should remain alert to changes along their normal route. Regardless of traffic patterns, safety should remain a priority.

The counting period for the 2022 Thanksgiving holiday weekend is from 6 p.m. . Wednesday, November 23, 2022, through 11:59 p.m. Sunday, November 27, 2022. Troopers will be participating in Operation C.A.R.E., enforcing all traffic laws, and available to assist the public. Over the 2021 Thanksgiving holiday counting period, 12 people were killed and 540 injured in 1,365 traffic crashes. Someone was injured or killed every 11 minutes over the 2021 Thanksgiving holiday.

Before you take a trip this holiday season, make sure your vehicles are in good condition and that you are well rested before they start driving. Remember: There is never a reason to speed, drive aggressively, or drive impaired.

Too many people die in traffic crashes each year in Missouri. The choices you make when you're behind the wheel matter. Make good choices, so you'll never have to say, "If I could just go back ...

If Missouri temperatures are accommodating, boating or fishing might become part of your Thanksgiving holiday weekend plans. Make sure your vessel's navigation lights are operational. There is less daylight this time of year, so check your lights and have extra bulbs on board before you head out. The water is becoming colder, and hypothermia is also a concern. The body loses heat 25 times faster in water than in the air of the same temperature. If you take an unexpected plunge in cold water, it's important to get out of the water and into dry clothes as soon as possible. Always wear the proper life jacket and using caution to avoid falling overboard. Plan ahead: How would you exit the water if you inadvertently fell overboard? Does your boat have an exterior swim ladder to allow vou to re-enter the vessel? It's also important to tell someone about your plans to be on or near the water and where you're going. Watercraft operators must consider the effect their actions have on others: Share the waterway and use common sense, good judgment, and courtesy to ensure the safety of all. Life jackets save lives.

Wear It!! The public is encouraged to call the Patrol's Emergency Report Line (800) 525-5555 or *55 on your cellular phone if they witness criminal activity or experience an emergency. These phone numbers are operational for both highway and water emergencies. If your celebration includes alcohol, designate someone else to drive whether you are in your boat or your car. Please don't become a statistic. Be Extra Vigilant When Driving In Inclement

Weather Missouri's weather forecast indicates snow and snow showers are expected. This will be the first snow of the season and whether it's a dusting or several inches, it will affect travel. Be sure to increase your following distance as you drive, stopping quickly on wet, snowy, or icy roads can be hazardous or impossible. Leaving five seconds between your vehicle and the one in front of you is always a smart idea, especially in inclement weather. In the cold months of 2021 (January, February, March, November, and December) there were 25 people killed and 1,995 people injured in a total of 7,392 crashes with weather conditions of snow, sleet/hail, or freez-

Troopers with the Missouri State Highway Patrol urge everyone to pay attention to weather conditions and make smart decisions regarding travel. If conditions dictate, avoid driving on Missouri's roadways. When you travel, make sure your vehicle is completely clean of snow, use your headlights to increase visibility, and reduce your speed when the roadway appears wet, or snow is present. Lower overnight temperatures may cause wet roadways to freeze and become slick. Remember: Missouri law states if you're using your windshield wipers, your headlights must be turned

During inclement weather, driving the speed limit is not "exercising the highest degree of care." Missouri law (Section 304.012 RSMo) states the responsibility of exercising the highest degree of care while driving rests on the driver's shoulders. Please adjust your speed to the weather. Do not use cruise control and increase your following distance. Allow extra driving time for you to reach your destination at a slow, safe speed.

Troopers suggest keeping your fuel tank at least half full. In preparation for winter weather, place an ice scraper, battery booster cables, blankets, extra coats, gloves, water, non-perishable food, first aid kit, flashlight, small shovel, and a bag of sand or cat litter in your trunk now, before an emergency occurs.

Before you travel, make sure your cell phone is fully charged and keep it with you. Do not use your cell phone when you are driving; park your vehicle well off the roadway or in a parking lot before placing a call. The Missouri State Highway Patrol emergency number is 1-800-525-5555 (or *55 on a cellular phone). These numbers ring at the nearest troop headquarters. Troopers are available to assist you.

Motorists are encouraged to check road conditions before driving to help determine if the trip can be completed safely. Missouri's Road Condition Report is available at 1-888-275-6636 or MoDOT's Road Condition Map at http:// traveler.modot.org/map/. The MoDOT Traveler Information Map app can be downloaded free of charge to your smart devices.

Please remember buckle up, pay attention, be courteous, and obey all traffic laws. When weather conditions make driving hazardous, drive only when absolutely necessary. Too many people die in traffic crashes each year in Missouri. The choices you make when you're behind the wheel matter. Make good choices, so you'll never have to say, "If I could just go back ...

City of Osceola BOARD OF ALDERMEN

MEETING

NOVEMBER 8, 2022

Mayor Gibbs called the board meeting to order at approximately 5:00 p.m. Following the pledge of allegiance, roll call was taken. Those in attendance were Alderpersons Terry, Saddoris, and Watson. Also present was Lila Foster.

Alderperson Watson made the motion to approve the consent agenda including financial reports, Alderperson Saddoris seconded her motion; roll call vote was taken with all members voting yes.

Citizen Input-

Teresa Heckenlively thanked the city staff for their assistance with the Trunk or Treat event. She also thanked Dustin for donating porta potties. She estimated approximately 1000 people participated in the annual event.

Rita Collett at 250 Boundary stated she had lost a refrigerator/freezer, tv and two lights. Discussion followed; the board requested a list of the items and costs.

Chuck Duffy at 260 Boundary stated he had lost a ceiling fan. The board requested a price for replacement.

ACTION AGENDA—

2023 Liability Insurance - Mike Keith gave an overview of the proposed coverage and costs. Discussion followed; Alderperson Watson moved to approve the proposal without the terrorism coverage for a total of $62,057. Alderperson Saddoris seconded the motion and roll call vote followed with all members voting yes. Motion carried unanimously. CDBG Checking Account Resolution - Mayor Gibbs explained the board needed to approve the resolution to establish a checking account for the two cdbg projects. Discussion followed; Alderperson Terry moved to approve the resolution and allow the mayor and staff to proceed with the checking account. Alderperson Saddoris seconded her motion and roll call vote was taken; all members voted yes. Motion carried unanimously. 2023 Election - Mayor Gibbs announced the municipal election was scheduled for April 4th; candidates could for file for a two-year term for mayor, (1) southside alderman and (1) northside aldermen. Alderperson Terry read Bill #2022-06 by title only; Alderperson Saddoris seconded her motion and motion carried. Alderperson Watson then read the bill by title only for the final reading; Alderperson Saddoris seconded her motion, roll call vote was taken and motion carried unanimously. 2023 Proposed Budget

 Since the police department is currently without officers, and the city is collaborating with Sheriff Hilty on various scenarios for coverage, the new budget for 2023 had been previously tabled. The floor was opened by Mayor Gibbs for discussion. Alderperson Watson stated that due to the lengthy time involved in arriving at a plan with the sheriff's department, the city should move forward with the proposed budget and the police department budget remain as presented. A police budget amendment could be presented later. Alderperson Terry inquired if this was a motion and Alderperson Watson stated yes; Alderperson Terry seconded her motion; and motion carried unanimously.

UPDATE ON ACTIVITIES OR DISCUSSION -

Sac Osage Broadband Project - Mayor Gibbs explained the current idea from Sac Osage which requires the city to pay for a GIS Survey for its electrical service in the amount of $10,000. The company could then evaluate the potential installation of broadband to the city and its citizens. Sac Osage did state the city would also be responsible for replacement of defective poles. The board was receptive to this survey and its costs. But was also concerned about any additional costs. Further information would be needed prior to any formal decision.

COMMENT OR REPORTS Mayor Gibbs-none

Alderperson Watson

Alderperson Saddoris reported the library would be asphalting their parking area and would it be possible to coordinate asphalting of jail parking lot at the time. Discussion followed; it was mutually agreed to obtain a cost and donations from the county commission and GVMH.

Alderperson Terry thanked everyone for their response to clean up efforts that she previously mentioned. Inquired about the new building on Olive Street and the rv park rental fee for storing campers. It was noted that people paid a storage fee and revenue typically ran about $3200 yearly from this service. Also discussed were the repairs needed to the pool's mechanical system.

St. Clair County Economic Developer— Gave a report on recent events and the new businesses located in and around Osceola.

Staff -- none

Citizen Input -- none With no further business, Alderperson Watson made a motion to adjourn to closed session; Alderperson Saddoris seconded, and motion carried unanimously following roll call vote.

Wambuii was born in Kenya and joined the UCM faculty in 2004. He will help prepare students for their visit through the Global Vision course, imparting knowledge of the geography, culture and basic conversational Swahili. He noted that throughout the program's history at UCM, groups have traveled to places such as China, Co-Iombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, India, Malaysia, Peru and St. Lucia. At least two students who returned from their experiences, Moeryae "Sunny" Smith, an international studies major who went to Malaysia, and Danielle Donnell, a professional photography major who traveled to Colombia, were named semi-finalists in the Fulbright program.

"We get involved in the day-to-day work," Wambuii said about the two-week long trip. "I get to teach little kids, I do home visits, I do agricultural work. We (faculty) are volunteers just like the students. I'm giving back, but also most important, I am giving students a chance for experiential learning."

The donor who made these experiences possible had a keen interest in what students who participated in the Global Vision program took away from the trip and would visit campus to hear participants share their experience with the campus community.

"Estate gifts such as this allow a donor to truly leave a lasting legacy," said Courtney Goddard, vice president of University Advancement and executive director of the UCM Alumni Foundation. "A donor's wish of supporting UCM can be fulfilled not only during their lifetime but far beyond. This amazingly generous gift will enrich the experience of UCM students who participate in this unique program for years to come." In October a panel of students who took a Global Vision service trip to an orphanage in Ancòn, Peru, in December 2021 spoke about what the opportunity meant to them. Joe Masters, a senior Political Science major and U.S. Navy veteran from California. discussed volunteer experiences at a kitchen where all of the food was cooked on a wood stove. He helped bottle water, which had to be purified, made home visits to speak with families about proper nutrition, and particularly enjoyed opportunities to regroup with other students in the evenings to discuss the day's events in ways that aren't always possible in a typical educational setting.

"I was in the Navy for 10 years, and we used to port at different countries where I would go on community relations projects," Masters said. "I thought this would be almost the same thing, but this trip had a different meaning to me. It has a special place in my heart."

In her panel presentation,

Jessica Miller, a senior International Studies major and Political Science minor from Sedalia, read an entry from her journal describing a child she met on her first day volunteering at the orphanage.

"Miguel conveyed how life is about living, and everyone is deserving of living a good life," she wrote. "That is what [the orphanage] is doing for the children they house through education, shelter, mentorship and more. I'm looking forward to today, the next day and the next. I'm so excited for what more is to come."

PROVIDING THE GOLDEN STANDARD OF CARE

Help us Bring Radiation Oncology to Clinton

The Golden Valley Memorial Hospital Foundation is pleased to announce that its capital campaign to bring radiation oncology services to Clinton and the surrounding communities is well underway and we would like to offer you the opportunity to participate.

At Golden Valley Memorial Healthcare, we diagnose nearly 300 new patients with cancer every year. Beyond those diagnosed here, many others are diagnosed at other healthcare facilities in our region. We feel strongly that all of these individuals deserve the opportunity to be cared for by providers they know and trust, at a state-of-the-art facility, without the burden of traveling far from home.

With your help, we can bring this vital service, and hope, to our communities.
