Candy Containing Needle Turned Into Sheriff's Office

A Kit-Kat candy bar was turned into the Benton County Sheriff's Office after a 12 year old girl bit into a sewing needle embedded in the candy.

It is unknown how the needle ended up in the candy bar. The child had been Trick or Treating in the Warsaw area and had gone door to door in various neighborhoods.

While the child was not injured, parents are being warned to check all candy collected during the Halloween season. The wrapper on the candy bar had not been open prior to the child opening it; however, it is difficult to tell how the needle was placed inside the candy.

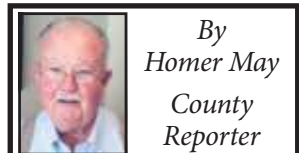

"No one has come forward with any more information on this crime, but I do want to caution parents to be careful about what their children are eating," said Benton County Sheriff Eric Knox. "I am afraid the days of going door to door on Halloween are over. To be on the safe side, it would be better to take children to an

Absentee Voting Numbers Surge In Benton County

By

Lisa Firsick, of Edwards, voted by absentee ballot this year because she planned a trip out of town over Election Day, November 6. She was one of 977 absentee voters in Benton County as of Saturday, November 3, 2018, more than double the 423 absentee voters in November 2014. Missouri is one of 20 states that offer absentee voting with an excuse required. Twenty-seven states offer absentee voting with no excuse required.

"I prefer absentee voting because it is more convenient for me," said Firsick who works in Warsaw near the courthouse where early voting takes place. "Since my convenient polling location at Colony Baptist was closed, I have to drive nearly 20 miles one way to vote at the Community Building in Edwards if I vote on Election Day. There are a lot of elderly people who live near me who don't drive and it is even harder for them to get

Benton County deputies were dispatched to Eagle Bay at approximately 5:15 AM, on October 31, where they found Kathy R. Bolejack, 32, fatally shot at her residence, 28160 Spirit Drive, Lincoln. The reporting party, Shawn P. Jones, 47, residing at the same address, has been charged in the shooting and is presently being held in the Benton County Jail.

Deputies found Jones waiting outside when they arrived at the scene, and Bolejack was located in a northeast bedroom, lying on a bed with a single gunshot wound to her left temple area. Although there was a .22 caliber rifle leaning next to the bed, it was determined that Bolejack's head wound was not consistent with that of a

Community Building Bustles During Annual Craft And Collectibles Show

AN ARRAY of crafts and collectibles were on display at the Community Building in Warsaw on Saturday. Cindy Renfro admired the wood working done by Jim Barr. His items are sourced from local oak, hickory and walnut.

A good crowd of shoppers as well as many new vendors showed up for the traditional Country Crafts and Collectibles Show on November 3rd, in the Warsaw Community Building. The Show has been a popular event for a long time, and has raised thousands of dollars each year for Cancer charities.

"The funds raised at this show will be grouped with funds raised by other BSI Cancer Fighting Team (CFT) events, and will be donated to three cancer-fighting organizations in March," said the team coordinator, Sharon Guess, who has been raising funds for Cancer since 2005. "The organizations chosen to receive funds in 2019 are Hope Lodge of Kansas City, Sarah Cannon at Research Medical Center in Kansas City, and Bothwell Regional Health Center's Susan O'Brien Fischer Cancer Center."

Guess stated it is expected that $10,000 each will be donated to the Cancer Center and Sara Cannon at Research Medical Center, and that Hope Lodge has requested that its equal donation be in the form of paper goods.

"The money being donated for fighting cancer is not my money," said Guess. "And, I want to know where these donations are going. Before cancer-fighting organizations are chosen, I sit down and talk to representatives of each one and specify how we want our donations to be spent. For instance, we had been giving to the Sarah Cannon Cancer Foundation in the past, but after finding out that a 501(c) treatment center had been opened, our donations were specified for that facility instead. It is important to us that the money be spent on cancer treatments."

The Country Crafts and Collectibles Show bustled with eager shoppers shortly after opening at 9 AM. There was a variety of wares being sold by 38 vendors, including Kettle Corn, baked items, epoxy wooden bowls and other wooden products, including a small outhouse-designed toilet paper holder. There were many jewelry booths including one with copper items; crocheted and vintage items, and glitter galore in Christmas-themed booths with small decorated trees for each member of the family, and shutters painted as snowmen. Heavenly-scented skin product and room scents, as well as homemade jams, butters, pickles and vegetables drew in customers with their fragrances, and sports enthusiasts could buy Kansas City Chiefs accessories. Of course, there were many kitchen items including refrigerator magnets, dish towels and the newly popular microwavable bowl cozies. Drawings were held throughout the day for prizes donated by the vendors.

New vendors this year were LaDonna Meuschke from Cole Camp, who sold Style Dots; Christy Bevel from Ozark, who sold 31 Gifts; Kathy and Sara Green from Marshall, who sold hand-crafted jewelry; Crown Customs from Sedalia, selling designer T-shirts, signs and caps related to the Kansas City Chiefs; S & B Kettle Corn of Warsaw; Dee Johnson from Stover, selling decorated ladders and shutters; and River Church Youth, from Warsaw, selling baked items.

"We let one non-profit organization set up a booth without paying a fee," said Guess. "The River Church Youth were only allowed to sell baked items."

Guess named several vendors who have had booths at the craft and collectibles show for many years. They include Sierra Meeks from Clinton, who sells Scent-sy; Kay Brooks, who has sold vintage collectables, clothing, and jewelry for 10 years; Cindy Helton from Raytown, selling crocheted and small crafts; and Betty Evilsizer, who has been selling crocheted, vintage items and dolls for 22 years. Evilsizer began her vendor days while the Warsaw Business Women were sponsoring the Show.

people.” Gazarek and his helpers Mike Shortino, John Cooner, Steve Garcia, David Grimes and Howard Sullentrop worked from 7:30 AM until 8:30 PM preparing for the shrimp boil and cleaning up afterwards.

Gazarek expressed appreciation to all of the members of the Jay Harris Council 8620 of the Knights of Columbus and the Ladies Auxiliary who helped with the event.

“We also appreciated having the Benton County Sheriff’s deputies there to direct traffic,” Gazarek said.

“This is our major fund raiser for the year,” said Gazarek.

Gazarek said the Knights will decide next week how to distribute the money to different, local charities.

“We welcome any charitable organization representative to step forward to ask us for assistance,” Gazarek said. “We are here to help anyway we can.”

The Benton County Court Clerk’s Office reported that absentee voting began on September 25, and really picked up around October 24. There were about 50 absentee voters a day during the last week before Election Day, and about 25 a day the previous week. Absentee voting ends Monday, November 5, at 5 PM.

The Washington Post reported on October 31 that voters in at least 17 states had surpassed overall early and absentee voting numbers from 2014. The article also stated that in some cases, early and absentee vote totals were on track to double since four years ago. High voting turnout appears to be due to the high levels of engagement on the part of Democrats and Republicans, and because more and more states are offering easier ways to vote early.

Absentee voters in Missouri are required to provide one of the following reasons for voting absentee. a) Absence from your jurisdiction on Election Day; b) Are ill or disabled; c) Religious belief or practice; d) Are caring for an incapacitated person; e) Incarceration, provided all qualifications for voting are retained; f) Are employed as an election official; or g) Certified participation in the address confidentiality program established under sections 589.660 to 589.681 because of safety concerns.

Voters in Missouri can request absentee ballots from their local election authority in person, by mail, or by fax. Voters requesting an absentee ballot by mail, who have registered by mail and have not voted in person, are required to submit a copy of their personal identification unless they provided a copy with their registration application. Examples of acceptable identification include identification issued by the state of Missouri, an agency of the state, or a local election authority of the state, or identification issued by the U.S. government. (www.sos.mo.gov has a complete list of acceptable identification.)

States can choose to provide three ways for voters to cast a ballot before Election Day. 1) Early Voting. In 37 states (including three that mail ballots to all voters), and the District of Columbia, any qualified voter may cast a ballot in person during a designated period prior to Election Day. 2) Absentee Voting. All states will mail an absentee ballot to certain voters who request one. 3) Mail Voting. A ballot is automatically mailed to every eligible voter (no request or application is necessary). According to www.google.com, Colorado, Oregon and Washington are the only states that practice Mail Voting.

.22 round. When Jones was asked to describe what had occurred, he stated that he heard a “pop” while taking a shower, and found Bolejack on the bed with a gun in her hand. Jones stated that he removed the gun from her hand, got scared, and took the gun outside and threw it into the woods.

Sheriff Knox, who always goes to the scene of shootings, arrived at the residence soon afterwards and talked to the deputies. They found quite a few inconsistencies that did not match Jones’ version of the shooting incident. Then, the Coroner arrived and after he and the Sheriff talked about the scene, they too found inconsistencies with what a suicide should look like. Investigators spent many hours looking into the shooting and finding evidence to prove what really happened that morning.

A couple of hours later, the Missouri State Highway Patrol – Division of Drugs and Crime Control (DDCC), arrived with truckloads of equipment to use when going through the crime scene. Jones was asked to report to the Sheriff’s office and members of the DDCC team held more interviews with him, presenting the case against him. Jones then changed his version of what happened and admitted that during an altercation with Bolejack, he took a firearm away from her and shot her with that firearm.

“Jones was charged with Voluntary Manslaughter, Armed Criminal Action, Unlawful Possession of a Firearm, and Tampering with Physical Evidence,” said Sheriff Knox. “His Bond has been set at $500,000.00.”

Jones is a classified felon and was in possession of three firearms, two revolver pistols and one rifle. He was convicted of a felony in Caldwell County in 1998.

There have been other shootings in Benton County during 2018 including that of Caleb L. D. Shepherd, of Lincoln, who died from a gunshot to the abdomen in January. Warsaw Police Chief, Jason Wenberg was shot in the chest by a 16-year old suspect in May, and was released from the hospital after treatment. Fortunately, he was wearing a bullet-proof vest.

FRISTOE AREA NEWS

This has been a cold dreary Monday. Hope it is nicer tomorrow for people going to vote!

The community came together once again Saturday evening to support the Benefit Fund Raiser Leland and Mary Brown organized for Beth and Ronnie Jackman. Ronnie has been diagnosed with throat cancer and is in the process of taking chemotherapy treatments every day in Kansas City. There was a chili, soup dinner for donations and then an auction for items that had been donated. I didn’t get a head count from organizers on the number served for the meal but the Fristoe Community Building was an absolute standing room only with people standing outside. I have not been given by organizers, a dollar amount believed to have been raised but I am sure the benefit was a resounding success.

Then, unbelievable as it sounds, after the putting all the effort for the benefit Leland Brown we are told collapsed with a seizure and was taken to Columbia Hospital. That is all the information we have at the moment but please keep Leland in your prayers! As mentioned keep Ronnie Jackman, a friend’s husband Steve, Mary Scarbrough, and W.Y. Garrison on prayer lists!

The Happy Trails Cowboy Church had a chilly but fun day for their Trail ride/horse clinic etc. Saturday. Guy and Shannon Jones and family along with Ike and Ruby and Hibdon and son made the plans and set up the perimeters for the ride and horse enjoyment for all. The Jones family are the leaders of the Happy Trails Cowboy Church and Hibdon’s are regular attendees! All that took part in the day of “horse” enjoyment had nothing but great reports of the activities!

The Fristoe Pentecostal Lighthouse Church had a wonderful morning of worship Sunday November 4th. Senior Pastors Br. and Sis. Ullum had several of their children in attendance and the church is always blessed when any of the Ullum’s family visit. Also Sis. Brenda Smith was also in attendance Sunday morning and as always blessed the congregation greatly. Pastor Tony and Brenda sang special music and it was wonderful The Lighthouse Church is so blessed to have the Ullum’s and the Smith’s as Pastors. The congregation are so humbled to have not one but two Pastors and wives such as they have. They are quick to say God has been so very good and blessed them greatly.

Granddaughters, Laney “Sissy” Ryleigh “Rye Rye” Madalyn “Boo” send out a Big Happy Birthday Shout-out to their Poppy Arnett as he celebrates his birthday Tuesday November 13th!

Remember: Prayer meeting, Monday morning, 9:00 A.M. Fristoe Lighthouse Church

Hoping everyone has a wonderful safe week!

A NICHOLS WORTH OF NATURE
By Donnie Nichols

My friend, Rachel Kissinger, owns eleven acres of remnant tall grass prairie. I spent a few days there last week cutting sumac and treating the stumps with chemicals in an effort to reduce its presence. That got me thinking about succession and the effects it has on ecosystems.

Before European settlements (which dates to 1800), Missouri had over 15 million acres of tall grass prairie. Today we have less than 1/2 of 1% or about 75,000 acres. Tall grass prairies are one of the most threatened ecosystems in the world.

Historically, prairies covered more land area than any other ecosystem in North America. More than the deciduous forests of the East that run from Maine through Georgia, more than the deserts of the Southwest and more than the boreal forest north from Maine through Minnesota. If grasslands aren't somehow managed to control woody invasion, they will eventually become forests. In geological time, forests are young. They all started out as grasslands or wetlands. Fire was the principle agent in maintaining our prairies and Native Americans were the principle source of ignition. For a variety of reasons, they actually managed the landscape with fire. Grazing by native herbivores (and insects) was the second biggest factor in maintaining grasslands.

As more settlers poured onto the Plains, native tribes were displaced. In 1809, the Osage Indians signed a treaty and left Missouri. By 1809, buffalo were almost extirpated from Missouri (in 1806, the only buffalo Lewis and Clark encountered in Missouri were a few in what is now the Kansas City area). Gone with the Osage were the annual fires. This, coupled with no buffalo, early successional plants were no longer being controlled. Young timber started up and developed rapidly.

When pre-settlement soil was exposed, the exposed areas were rapidly colonized by short-lived native weed species, such as horseweed or fleabane, that would invade quickly and stabilize the soil. When burned, these weeds gave way to prairie pioneers such as grey-headed coneflower, black-eyed Susan, wild bergamot, and eventually to legumes such as compass plant and other conservative "long-lived" species. Without fire, or some kind of control, our grasslands became forests.

Sumac is an early successional plant that invades grasslands. Unless controlled, it rapidly colonizes absorbing the sun's energy, spreading leaves that shade the ground below. This deprives energy to the lower plants which now cannot survive. The sumac, in turn, gives way to late successional plants such as oaks and hickories. Within 100 years, without any controls, what once was a grassland or wetland will become a mature forest.

Another early successional plant is cedar. I was giving a prairie tour two weeks ago and was expounding how grassland people hate cedars when a lady on the tour told me about a cedar fence her grandparents had planted years ago. I told her I felt she was only partially correct. There might indeed be a "cedar fence" on her grandparents' land, but if she looked close she would find evidence of a wire fence that was originally there.

The fruit (berries) on the cedar, contain the seeds for future generations of cedar trees. Many birds eat cedar berries. If you have noticed, birds often perch on fence wire. As they sit there, they poop and the seeds from the berries are deposited in the fence line. Cedar grows rapidly and in a short time the whole fence line is grown up in cedar. Cedar trees are allelopathic. Allelopathic plants exude chemical compounds in the soil from roots or shed parts that inhibit germination and/or growth of other species. Cedars drop some of their needles changing the acidity of the soil beneath them preventing most plants from growing. Sumac seeds, by the way, won't germinate unless the outer seed coat is softened by passing through a bird's digestive system. A process known as scarification.

Rachel really enjoys and appreciates her prairie, and being a good steward of her land is working to maintain its original condition. Last year we cut the cedars and sprayed sericea lespedeza. In February we burned to reduce thatch, kill small woody plants and increase forb production. The results were rewarding. Rachel observed not only more, but a greater variety of plants than in years past. Future plans include the removal of an old fence row that is grown up in hedge and cedar.

Thanks to Rachel and others like her we will hopefully have native ecosystems for future generations to enjoy.

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The Missouri Department of Conservation's (MDC) feral hog strike team has tallied up elimination numbers from January through September 2018. So far, they've yielded a total of 7,339 feral hogs removed by MDC, partner agencies, and private landowners. In 2017, 6,561 feral hogs were removed from the landscape. Crews in southeast Missouri removed 3,849 feral hogs, which is where the highest density of feral hogs occurs. The Ozark region removed 2,358 and the Southwest region removed 823 feral hogs. St. Louis region removed 186 feral hogs, Kansas City Region removed 116 feral hogs, and Northeast Region removed one. The highest densities of feral hogs occur south of Interstate 44, with very few feral hog sightings in the north portion of the state. "We've been very strategic in our efforts, focusing on removal of whole groups of feral hogs at a time, before moving onto another area," said Mark McLain, MDC's feral hog elimination team leader. "This strategic approach is important because if we leave even a few feral hogs behind in an area, they can reproduce quickly and put us back where we started." McLain said it's essential that the public understand why feral hogs must be eliminated. "Feral hogs are a destructive, invasive species that don't belong here; they're not a native species," McLain said. "They out-compete native wildlife for habitat and food. For example, places with a lot of feral hogs will see their wild turkey and deer populations diminish." McLain said feral hogs are known to carry diseases that could possibly spread to humans, pets, and livestock. He hopes the message that hunting is not an effective method for eliminating feral hog populations is starting to catch on. "For over 20 years, unregulated hunting of feral hogs was allowed in Missouri, during which time our feral hog population expanded from a few counties to over 30 counties," he said. In 2017, MDC, the Corps of Engineers, and the LAD

Foundation established regulations against feral hog hunting on lands owned and managed by these three organizations. Other agencies have passed regulations similar to MDC's to eliminate hog hunting on land they own. "A persistent piece of this story is continued illegal releases of feral hogs, which establishes populations and further spreads the problem," McLain said. "This is illegal and when caught, those who release feral hogs face hefty fines." McLain said MDC is partnered with many agricultural and environmental groups as well as hundreds of private landowners, that are all committed to eliminating feral hogs from Missouri. Landowners and the public are a crucial element of this effort, especially since most land in Missouri is privately owned. "Landowners who've experienced feral hogs on their land have learned that hunting feral hogs pushes them onto neighboring property, which causes problems for their neighbors," McLain said. When neighboring landowners try to control feral hogs through hunting, the hogs simply travel back and forth between the properties, escaping and causing more damage. Trapping with no hunting interference is the best method to eliminate them. Landowners can seek help from MDC and USDA such as technical advice, on-site visits, loaning equipment and training. Feral hogs are not wildlife and are a serious threat to fish, forests and wildlife as well as agricultural resources. Feral hogs damage property, agriculture, and natural resources by their aggressive rooting of soil in addition to their trampling and consumption of crops as part of their daily search for food. Feral hogs have expanded their range in the U.S. from 17 to 38 states over the past 30 years. Their populations grow rapidly because feral hogs can breed any time of year and produce two litters every 12 to 15 months. Feral hogs are also known to carry diseases such as swine brucellosis, pseudorabies, trichinosis and leptospirosis, which are a threat to Missouri agriculture and human health. To report feral hog sightings or damage, go online to mdc.mo.gov/feralhog. Preliminary data from the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) shows that hunters checked 2,169 turkeys during Missouri's fall firearms turkey season, Oct. 1-31. Top harvest counties were Greene with 57, Henry with 48, and Laclede with 47. Last year's fall firearms turkey harvest total was 2,899. MDC's turkey biologist says the low harvest total can be attributed to several years of poor hatches. "We had really poor production in 2016 and 2017, which resulted in lower turkey numbers across the state," said MDC Turkey Biologist Jason Isabelle. "Unfortunately, on top of those two bad hatches, production was down again this year, so the drop in harvest this fall certainly wasn't unexpected." Another factor that has resulted in lower fall turkey harvests is declining hunter participation. This year, 10,262 fall firearms turkey hunting permits were purchased. During the peak year of 1987, nearly 53,000 permits were purchased. Missouri has seen a declining interest in fall firearms turkey season as have other states. Isabelle attributes the bulk of this declining interest to the popularity of archery season. "Each year we continue to see more and more hunters participating in the archery deer and turkey season," said Isabelle. "Rather than carry a shotgun in the woods in October, I think a lot of hunters are now carrying a bow." Despite the low harvest and participation numbers, Missouri's fall firearms turkey season provides hunters with ample time to spend in the setting of the state's beautiful fall woods, and there are hunters who enjoy the fall experience just as much as the spring. "Fall turkey hunting can be pretty exciting," Isabelle said. "Having a scattered flock of turkeys respond to your calls from all directions is an incredible experience." Fall archery turkey hunting continues through Nov. 9 and resumes from Nov. 21 through Jan. 15, 2019. HOPEWELL BAPTIST CHURCH NEAL BROOKS, PASTOR

Billy Quessenberry opened our Sunday School hour with song. Please remember the family of Baby Miles, the family of Roger Self, the family of Violet Hill, Virginia Scott and Dorothy Feaster in your prayers. Congratulations to the Osceola High School cheerleaders on earning a trip to state competition. Shoe boxes for Operation Christmas Child are due into the church my this coming Sunday, November 11. Warren Love gave the children's message and Marty Lehnhoff led children's church. Melissa Schutz, accompanied by Barbara Ott, sang The Old Rugged Cross for our special music. Bro. Neal Brooks' message, It's Not About Us, was taken from James :13-18. If there are things going on in your life, pray. Prayers offered in faith to God are heard. Often our prayers are not offered in faith. Sometimes it is hard to really believe. When a righteous man turns to God, much is accomplished by God. Prayer is not about us. Prayer is to be focused on God and seeing the power of his might. Keep on believing, even when things are hard. At the close of the morning worship service, we observed The Lord's Supper.

LINCOLN FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Hello from First Baptist Lincoln. Hope your days are filled with God's love. Sunday school attendance today was 39. Movie night was well attended Saturday evening. Trunk or Treat was well attended with a lot of children and parents coming by. The weather was really nice that evening. Many people are on the prayer list and in need of you prayers. Our country is in need of prayer also. Please send up prayers to God about these things. Roy Burnfin celebrated a birthday. The community Thanksgiving service will be November 18 at 6 PM at the Abundant Life Church. Betty Upham came forward to join the church today. Welcome to Betty.

Pastor Ron's text was from the book of Hebrews 10. What is happening? This was the question of the day. Bible prophecy is being lived out in today's world. Priests made atonement for the people in the Holy of Holies in their day. Today we have Jesus who made that atonement for us by dying on the cross. Hold fast to your profession of faith in Jesus. We are to stir up love in one another because time is short. We are to assemble together to encourage others.

Philippians 4: 8-9 tells us that the right thinking makes for holy living. These verses are a test for our thoughts on the things we hear and do. Is it true, honest, just or pure? Does it cause you to love, have thoughts for others or care for others? How can I honor God today? It is through right thinking. God is praise worthy. What will people say about you when you are gone? Do you have peace with God?

UNTIL NEXT WEEK GO WITH GOD AND GOD BLESS.

Lincoln Football

Trying to pick an Athlete of the Week off of Lincoln's football team based on Friday's game with Cole Camp was tough as several players really stepped up.

Jackson Beaman was our choice last week and he really surprised a few people with his ability to throw the football after his injury and surgery last summer. You knew at some point he would be ready, but he was really the only one who knew when that exact time would actually be.

Nathan Jobe had a big interception. Tanner Bays put on a show punting the football. Some college should grab that kid. Parker Engles and Bays both had 16 tackles. Levi Betts had a big interception killing Cole Camp's hopes for a comeback. He was all over the field at times. Joe Bittner's name was called by the public address announcer several times.

However, in the end, Nate Hesse with two TD's and an interception was the guy. I loved the move he put on Kaden Harms on the first TD catch. I was there a few feet away but the fog really hindered my picture taking all night long. Also, sometimes I am guilty of watching the play and forgetting to take a picture. I did that at a WHS girls softball game this year.

There are also other intriguing stories in play. Bo Kroenke stepped in and played QB all year and has stepped aside for the return of Beaman. Gage Kahler, their star running back, has played hurt the last few games. Devon Parrott, their extra point and field goal guy is getting better all of the time.

Landon Bond is a pretty good player too and is probably overlooked some in all of this. If I missed someone, please forgive me, but remember the Cole Camp game was the only one I have watched this year.

Speaking of Cole Camp, Jordan Farrar is a great kid and he played his last game Friday night. So did Adam Boyd, Clayton Hesse, Cameron Craig, Michael Burroughs and Aden Hernandez.

Hey, I got to go and find a game to watch.

LINCOLN'S LEVI BETTS HANGS ON to Cole Camp's Garrett Strathman as help is on the way. Lincoln won the district game at home over Cole Camp 14-0 last Friday night. The game was played in a dense fog throughout the contest. Lincoln (10-1) will travel to Midway (11-0) this coming Friday.

Lincoln Wins Battle Of The Fog Over Cole Camp

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

The Lincoln Cardinals won a tough one at home over Cole Camp 14-0 in district play last Friday night. Instead of singing Starry, Starry Night, one could have sung Foggy, Foggy Night, as fans complained at half time they had trouble seeing the game. The players were able to see because they were at ground level and threw the ball deep all night long.

Lincoln, who had beaten Cole Camp just two weeks ago in Cole Camp 28-21, came into the game with an injured running back in Gage Kahler and a big surprise in QB-RB Jackson Beaman.

After a scoreless first quarter, Lincoln thought they had a touchdown when Cole Camp's Kaden Harms would complete a sideline pass to Garrett Strathman. Strathman would fumble and Landon Bond would pick up the ball and race 18 yards for the TD only to have it called back on a penalty.

The half would end without either team able to score.

With 8:30 to go in the third quarter, Jackson Beaman, who because of surgery this past summer threw his first pass of the season just a week ago, took over at QB and threw a 21 yard pass to fellow QB Bo Kroenke on the right side of the field. Then, he showed the magic in his arm with a 43 yard bomb to Nate Hesse in the left hand corner. Hesse made a great move in evading Harms and raced five yards in to the end zone for the first score of the game. Then, the ever present kicker, Devon Parrott ripped the uprights for the 7-0 lead.

Two big plays in the fourth proved to be the death blows for Cole Camp. After Tanner Bays, who amazed the crowd all night with his punting ability, would punt 49 yards to the Cole Camp 26 yard line. Nathan Jobe read a pass play perfectly and intercepted Harms on a short pass into the flat. Jobe commented, "I saw the QB drop back and read the play. It was just football." That set up magic show number two as Beaman would nail Hesse in the left hand corner of the end zone for their second TD on the night. Parrott was perfect and it was 14-0.

Then Cole Camp, who never gave up, would make a final charge to the Lincoln six yard line. Levi Betts picked off a Harms pass and ran it back some twenty yards to kill the huge threat.

Cole Camp finished their unforgettable season at 6-5. Senior Evan Shearer suffered his second head injury in two years that ended his playing career. His father, Head Coach Kevin Shearer, who coached the game on crutches, was injured in an earlier game after being slammed into by an opposing player on the sidelines.

Bays was 8-345 punting with a 61 yard dandy. Parker Engles and Betts had 16 tackles each, Bays had nine and Jobe had eight. Bo Kroenke was 3-7 passing with 24 yards and Jackson was 6-12 with 117 yards. Hesse was 3-75 receiving with the two TD's. Beaman was 10-34 rushing and Kahler was 9-22 and was benched for safe keeping in the second half. Joe Bittner was all over the field on both sides of the ball.

Lincoln at 10-1 will travel to Midway 11-0 this coming Friday. Midway defeated Warsaw 19-6 in the first game of the season.

WHS Cross Country Runners Excelled At State

WHS CROSS COUNTRY COACH Ehren Banfield stands proudly next to All-State Runner Alyssa Alcantara. The freshman amazingly came in 10th out of 176 girls this past week at the state meet in Jefferson City MO.

By Johnie J. Logue

WHS Freshman Alyssa Alcantara even surprised her coach last Saturday at the state meet at the Oaks Hills Golf Course in Jefferson City MO.

Head Cross Country Coach Ehren Banfield commented, "I knew Alyssa had an All-State Performance in her but 10th out of 176 is an accomplishment indeed." (TIME: 21:15.40).

Coach Banfield explained details of the race, "Alyssa Alcantara was nervous as the 20 minute gun shot off to announce to the runners that race time was nearing. Alyssa, a freshman, has been a star this entire season and I knew that an All-State Performance was certainly in her grasp. As race time was counting down, I went over the strategy that we had discussed for many days now as the countdown to state was approaching. The key to her race success today was to get out strong, fast and get in good position in the front pack. With 176 girls running in the Class 2 girls race, position was vital. This race was not some normal season race or even a district meet that only had 47 runners or much less. She was competing against 176 young ladies across the entire state that had earned this final race to prove how well they have trained and grueled through thousands of miles of training to prove their athletic ability and determination.

The pillar to Alyssa's success was hindering on her first 300-400 meters of the 5000 meter (5 K) race. Not only did Alyssa have Coach to listen to, but experienced All-State Warsaw runner Dallas Larsen, who found out late Friday night that he did not have to go to Drill this weekend and could come to support Warsaw XC at the State Meet. Dallas's experience and being a previous teammate of Alyssa last year helped give her the calm and focus she needed before race time. Dallas has not been the only influence in Alyssa's XC season this year, but Ashlee Kuykendall, who has talked with Alyssa on many occasions, came out to support her the previous weekend at Districts in Hollister, MO."

Senior Maleek Porter placed 60th out of 175 runners (Time: 18:56.12) Coach Banfield commented, "Maleek Porter, who has wanted to make State for many years now has finally achieved his goal. I know Maleek would have liked to have placed in the top 25 but another 175 state qualifiers were also dreaming of that same exact goal."

Sophomore Trey Palmer also ran a good race finishing (71st/175) (Time: 19:08.18). Coach Banfield said, "Trey is progressing well as a runner and is moving in the right direction. He will keep moving up in placements and lowering his times with faster races."

All three runners are to be commended for their outstanding seasons, their hard work, dedication and passion for Cross Country.

Basketball Begins

BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTED last Monday at WHS as Aubrie McRoberts, Jessie Glenn and Kamryn Yach worked on their ball handling skills.

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

High School basketball practices started last Monday all across the state of Missouri. Both Warsaw's girls and boys teams filled the gym with high hopes, high expectations and high energy. The older and more experienced players were trying to fine tune their skills while the younger players were trying to impress their coaches in order to make the team and to gain valuable playing time.

The boys teams under Coach Scott Floyd actually had to cut some six players last season as he had a full roster and was limited on the amount of available jerseys.

Coach Floyd commented, "27 athletes showed up for the 1st day of practice and a few more have trickled in throughout the week and yes, we will cut players."

We return a lot of players off the JV and Varsity from last season. Jake Luebbert, Joey Mace, and Zach Chapman will all contribute on the Varsity this year. We really don't have new plans or schemes, we are simply trying to build off what we learned last year."

When asked about competing in the new conference, Coach Floyd replied,

"I am excited to compete in the new conference. We will have the opportunity to play against schools that are more similar to us in size and make-up and we will also have the opportunity to develop new rivalries. As a coach, it is exciting to have the opportunity to compete against a set of new coaches who have new schemes and style of play."

Senior Matt Luebbert sat out the football season with an injury and seems to be on his way to getting into late season form of a year ago. If that happens then he will hard to handle. Senior Logan Davis is the other kid that opposing teams will have to worry about. It is hard to believe these guys are seniors. They took a pounding as varsity freshman night after night and now it is their time to turn the tables on somebody. Luebbert will need to score a ton and Davis will have to cut down on his turnovers. The team was 13-13 last season.

Junior Lane Bates should be the power man in the middle. Sophomore Trey Palmer is their three point marksman and the Wildcats will be counting on him a lot this season to score and to score big. You need 60-65 points to win most games so they will have to improve in order to beat the better teams.

The fifth starter is a mystery at this time but he will probably come from the fore mentioned group of Chapman, Jake Luebbert and Mace. If you want help at ball handling, then Chapman may be the guy. If rebounding, then you go with Luebbert and if scoring, then Mace could step up. Turnovers as always will be their major problem.

On the girls side, Taylor Spry is getting over tendinitis in her right foot, and she is just working on getting into basketball shape

Freshmen Taylor Howe, Karlie Jones, Mira Segar, Julie Long, Kylie Clevenger, and Kaylee Lawson should help out the varsity right away. Coach Morgan commented, "If nothing else they will make our JV very competitive this year."

Long has been impressive in practice and could give them much needed help in handling the ball against the press. Jones gives Coach Morgan some needed height.

They have 18 players, four seniors, one junior, five sophomores and eight freshmen. The junior may be the best female player in Benton County in Aubrie McRoberts. She will need some help this year scoring with Hannah Chapman gone off to college. Senior Jordan Plybon is their three point bomber and could make things interesting if she steps up her game. Senior Kamryn Yach is the other sleeper player.

They have the same coaching staff as last year. Coach Glenn and Coach Beck are going to provide some behind the scenes support this year too.

Coach Morgan responded about the new Ozark Mountain Conference, "I think girls basketball is going to be just as competitive as it was in the Tri-County. El Dorado Springs has a good group of freshman coming up (two players had sisters on the State Championship team), Buffalo is very athletic and has a lot of size and good shooters, Butler is always a tough defensive team, haven't gotten to play Sherwood in past years but I am sure we will be in for some tough games. I think this conference becomes maybe the hardest to win when the Mid-Lakes join us in two years. Skyline, Strafford, Stockton, Fair Grove, Clever, and Forsyth all have rich girls basketball histories.

Skyline - 6 Championships out of 14 Final Four appearances

Strafford - 3 Championships out of 3 Final Four appearances (looking for 4 straight)

Stockton - 4 Championships out of 6 Final Four appearances

Fair Grove - 3rd place in 2008

The Stafford boys have also been to the final four in recent years so as Warsaw may have escaped from

The 'Head Start' Program In Warsaw

By Homer May
Enterprise Staff

The recently completed month of October was Head Start Awareness Month. In January 1964, President Lyndon B. Johnson declared a "War on Poverty," in his State of the Union speech. Shortly thereafter, Sargent Shriver, then Director of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, took the lead in assembling a panel of experts to develop a comprehensive child development program that would help communities meet the needs of disadvantaged preschool children. That program has evolved since then (It was originally an eight week summer program.), yet remains true to its original purpose: as a comprehensive child development program serving children from birth to age five, and their families.

The following information, contained in a brochure printed by West Central Missouri Community Action Agency, Appleton City, was furnished by Warsaw Head Start Family Advocate Celina Flores and Director Gail Wallace: Head Start welcomes children of all backgrounds, including those learning English as a second language or those who have special needs. The program's purpose is to educate children in the classroom and, combined with parent education, enhances knowledge in the areas of child development, social-emotional development, health, mental health, disabilities, nutrition, life skills, literacy, job readiness, and community resources. It accomplishes these goals through a creative curriculum which is based on relationships between caregivers/teachers, their families and the community, planning and evaluating, individualizing, creating a welcoming environment, ensuring children's safety, promoting children's health, guiding children's behavior, daily routines and activities.

A child attending the program will benefit by learning to get along with others, and will develop habits of sharing, taking turns, problem solving, self-confidence, self-discipline, safety awareness, brushing teeth, toileting, handwashing, serving self at meal time, learning to follow routines, pre-reading/writing, math, science, music/movement.

Head Start participants are required to attend class daily and maintain health by getting routine physical and dental exams, well baby checks, lead and hemoglobin tests, standard immunizations and any recommended follow up. Staff qualifications: Every Head Start classroom is staffed with at least one teacher who has obtained a Child Development Associate Credential, or an Associate or higher degree in Early Childhood Education or a related field. All Head Start drivers are CDL Licensed. All Head Start staff is CPR and First Aid certified.

You may call the Benton County Head Start program at 660-438-3773, for more information, or to sign up for Head Start. The program always takes applications for students, and teachers.

WARREN D. LOVE REPRESENTATIVE

October 31, 2018
Greetings, My Fellow Missourians!

I attended a very informative meeting on Tuesday evening in Bolivar at Smith's Restaurant. There was a crowd of more than 125, including mayors from many local cities across southwest Missouri. The main discussion regarded animal control/animals running at large and the many problems associated with this issue. Animals running at large can pose potentially serious threats to public safety and health. Several speakers including animal control officers, veterinarians, and staff with the Missouri Department of Agriculture spoke at the meeting and provided insight on what is involved past just capturing an animal; many factors are involved including shelter for the captured animal, staff to run the shelter, and funding. Animal shelters, municipal pounds, rescue shelters, and contract kennels are all options to contain seized, stray, abandoned, or homeless animals. Current and possible ordinances in local area towns as well as potential USDA community facility loans and grants were also discussed. Animal control is a big challenge with no easy answers, but the meeting provided useful information in how to deal with it. At the end of the meeting, Richard Sheets with the Missouri Municipal League advocated for Proposition D and encouraged the passage of this legislation, because municipalities and counties will each receive 15% of this gas tax revenue dedicated to road and bridge infrastructure construction and repair. For detailed information on this ballot measure, please visit www.SAFERMO.com.

VETERAN'S DAY IS NOVEMBER 11, 2018... but since November 11th falls on a Sunday, Veteran's Day will be observed as a federal holiday on Monday, November 12th. As we observe this special holiday, I ask you to keep these amazing men and women in your hearts and prayers, and also to give thanks to all of the brave Americans who have served in defense of our nation throughout its history. We would not be the greatest nation on this planet today without their service and sacrifices, and our future would not be nearly as bright without the leadership they will continue to provide in the years to come. They deserve our respect, our gratitude, and our commitment to preserving the memory of their deeds. We are blessed to have these true heroes who have done, and continue to do, so much for our great nation.

UPCOMING VETERAN'S DAY CEREMONIES:

Thursday, November 8, 9 a.m., Osceola High School Veteran's Day Assembly (Breakfast served to Veterans at 8:30 a.m.)

Sunday, November 11, 11 a.m., Benton County American Legion Post 217 "Wreathing of the Waters" Ceremony at Drake Harbor.

Monday, November 12, 9:30 a.m., Hermitage High School Veteran's Day Assembly.

Monday, November 12, 1:30 p.m., El Dorado Springs DECA Chapter 23rd Annual Veteran's Day Assembly in the High School Gym.

Warsaw Enacts Dwelling Size Code

By Homer May
Enterprise Staff

In new business Monday eve Nov. 5, Warsaw Alderpersons concluded a discussion begun at last session, by enacting an ordinance providing a minimum square footage for new primary residences, at 850 sq. ft. This requirement applies to dwellings in multiple districts, but should not be interpreted to apply retroactively.

The meeting opened at 6 PM, with Alderpersons Eric Flores, Eric Masoner, Lou Breshers, Terry Marshall Sr., Adam Howe, Dave Williams present. Mayor Eddie Simons presided; City Clerk Jessica Kendall recorded. First business conducted was to approve the evening's agenda and minutes of an Oct. 15 meeting, then agree to pay bills presented.

Also under new business, the group approved three ordinances: (1) in which the City requires that residents have water service, if living in a City residence. There are possible criminal penalties for violation. (2) authorizing the Mayor to execute a direct loan agreement and promissory note between the City and Missouri Transportation Finance Corp. for improvements at Route 7 and Commercial St. City Planner Randy Pogue made a comment that "A lot of people are excited about this project." (3) approving a lease between the City, which owns a property at 1101 Dogwood, and Stanbury Uniform to utilize that building, at $1.00/year. The lease is to provide jobs for people in the community; either party can terminate the lease.

In late session, City Planner Pogue remarked he had attended a recent Highway Prioritization Meeting in Springfield, and the City named improvements to Hwy. 65, Warsaw to Buffalo, as one such priority; and a study of possible improvements in Highway 7, Warsaw to Clinton as another. Mayor Simons and Alderman Howe took the lead on a discussion about Municipal Golf Course improvements, which might include refurbishing a lot of its greens. Projects could include zoysia grass on fairways. The group then agreed to negotiations between the City and two engineering firms for their recommendations for local storm water improvements.

Reports from Departments, Board and Commissions were received without comment. And just before going into executive session about 6:43 PM, Mayor Simons opened a discussion about a possible ordinance which would hold landlords responsible for their tenants' delinquent water bills. The matter will be further discussed at this group's Nov. 19 meeting. These sessions are usually held on 1st and 3rd Monday eves. Visitors are welcome, but check with the City (Ph: 660-438-5522) for latest information.

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James M. White, Publisher

Time sure scoots along, doesn't it? We "fell" back an hour on Sunday and closed the door on daylight savings time. Winter will officially open its door on December 21. Thanksgiving is two weeks away and Christmas is waiting in the wings. We will spring forward again on Sunday March 10 at 2:00 AM...if all goes well.

gebra class. What will the French students do for a diversion now? Maybe they'll have to look out the window or at their books.

It's time to wrap this up. Have a good day in your neck of the woods.

Til Next Week:

Speaking of time, 2018 will soon head into the dust bin of history. What will 2019 bring? Probably all kinds of strange things. A lady in Colorado says that the world will end on January 2. She's driving across the country in her mini-van to warn people to "get their affairs in order." If she's right and that's all the time we have left, worrying about our affairs isn't at the top of my agenda. A big Kansas City strip steak and a pint of Baskin-Robbins is more pressing. Strange, too, are the birds that fell out of the sky in the UK. Thousands of them for no apparent reason. Those bird carcasses reminded me of my great Aunt Casey's backyard. In the spring and summer it always looked like a casting call for a remake of "The Birds." She had countless bird feeders that attracted all sorts of creatures, including squirrels who would just hang around. I always likened this to a free avian buffet with squirrels tossed in. Her cat looked at it like a fast food drive thru.

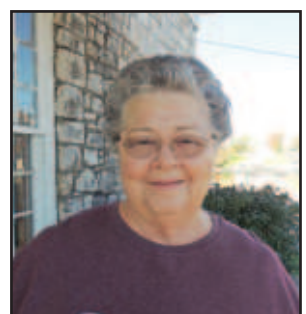

I read an article this morning that schools in France are banning cell phones in the classroom. Hey, that's not a bad idea, is it? It will be interesting to see what impact this has on bullying among school age children there. I do wish we had cell phones back in the stone ages. The calculator app would have come in handy during Mr. Gillman's al-

This year Benton County is stunningly beautiful with the vibrant colors of fall. With the chill in the air, it means major cooking times are approaching. Casseroles, baking, cakes and cookies and pies! Oh my! So with all the temptations coming up I know I have to keep eating my share of healthy foods. Greens top the list. Growing up in Northwest Missouri, we didn't have access to many of the greens available to us now. I thought I hated spinach since the only spinach my mother served was canned, gross and slimy. Now I love fresh spinach, kale, Swiss chard and bok choy.

My favorite fast way to prepare chard and bok choy is a quick garlic sauté. Last week I came home with one very large choy and it was delicious. The baby choys are also quite delicious.

Garlic Greens
½ cup chicken stock
2 teaspoons corn starch
1 tablespoon olive or vegetable oil
2 garlic cloves, minced
2 pounds of bok choy
Salt and freshly ground pepper

Wash choy, cut off stems, removed hard core, slice stems into one inch pieces. Chop leaves into one inch pieces. Mix stock and corn starch together.

Heat oil in large skillet; add garlic, sauté for 20 seconds. Add choy stems, stirring for about one minute, add leaves, sauté another minute. Add stock; continue stirring and tossing about until thickened. Removed from heat, add salt and pepper.

If you have any left, refrigerate and use in frittatas, quiche or soup.

Leaving Your Job? What Should You Do With Your 401(k)?

You've got a powerful retirement savings vehicle in your 401(k) plan, which offers various investment options and the chance to accumulate tax-deferred earnings.

But if you leave your job before you retire, what should you do with your 401(k)?

You have several choices—and it's important that you understand them, because your decision can greatly affect the resources you'll ultimately have available during your retirement years.

Here are the main options for dealing with your 401(k) from a previous employer:

- You could leave the money in the company's plan. Not all companies offer this option, but many do. If you like the investment choices available in your plan, leaving the money alone may not be a bad idea — you know where your money is going, and you can still benefit from potential tax-deferred growth. On the other hand, since you won't be employed by the company, you might find it harder to keep up with changes to your 401(k), such as when investment options are added or dropped. Also, you no longer will receive your employer's matching contribution, if one had been offered.

- You could move the money into your new employer's plan. If your new employer has a 401(k) and allows transfers, you could roll the money from your old plan into the new one. This might be an attractive option if you like the investment options offered in your new employer's plan. And it will give you a head start in building resources in the new plan.

- You could roll the money into an IRA. You may find several advantages to rolling your 401(k) into an IRA. First, your money will still have the potential to grow on a tax-deferred basis. Second, you can put your funds in virtually any investment you choose — stocks, bonds, mutual funds, government securities, certificates of deposit and others — so you can build a mix of investments appropriate for your goals and risk tolerance. Third, if you own multiple 401(k) accounts, you might benefit from consolidating them into a single IRA, making it easier to allocate and monitor your retirement assets. Plus, with a consolidated account, you may find it easier to track your withdrawals, when it's time to start taking them.

If you do decide to move your 401(k) to an IRA, make sure to request a direct rollover. The money will be sent directly to the institution that holds the IRA and no taxes will be withheld.

- You could cash out your plan. If you cash out your plan, your company likely will pay you 80% of your account value, withholding the rest for federal taxes. And if you're younger than 59-1/2, you also may face a 10% penalty tax. Furthermore, you'll have lost a key source of your retirement income. Of course, if you absolutely need the money, it's there for you.

Before making any moves with your 401(k), consult with your tax and financial professionals. You worked hard to build your 401(k) — so you'll want to do all you can to keep it working hard for you.
