Roger L. Reedy, Benton County Assessor, will mail approximately 12,000 personal property lists to Benton County residents who own taxable personal property as of January 1, 2018, who must furnish the assessor a list by March 1, 2018, to avoid late penalties. Taxable personal property includes vehicles, boats, boat motors, airplanes, travel trailers, mobile homes, livestock, farm machinery, and all licensed trailers. If you have lifetime plates on your vehicle or trailer, you still need to list this.

If you do not receive a list in the mail by January 22, 2018 please call the assessor's office at 438-5473 so that one will be sent to you. Office hours are 8:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 4:30.

In addition, the assessor will be at the Cole Camp City office to take lists on the following mornings from 8:30 AM until noon: Fridays, January 5, 12, and 19, 2018.

The Benton County Democratic Party Club will have its monthly meeting on Wednesday, January 17, in the Warsaw Library at 6:00 PM. Our guest speaker will be Joseph (Joe) Poor. Joe is President of the Laclede County Progressive Club. He is also our candidate for Missouri's 28th Senate District. Joe wants to serve as an advocate for our rural communities and to reinvigorate our local Main Streets.

COLD TEMPERATURES ARE JUST A PART OF THE JOB for many workers, including Warsaw Sonic car hop Casey Keith who delivered a breakfast order to Jamie Lux. She told the Enterprise, "I bundle up as much as I can. I wear three coats, a hat, gloves and get on with it." The wind chill was 16 degrees below zero early Tuesday.

Conquering The Cold To Get The Job Done

By Judy Kramer County Reporter

Below freezing temperatures and significant snowfalls kept many people at home on Monday. But, those same conditions also made it necessary for City of Warsaw road crews to arrive at their posts early to begin plowing snow and placing sand and salt on roads to make them safer for drivers.

"Even though it was a holiday, our workers were out at 2 AM on Monday and are to be commended for a job well done," said Doug Hedrick, City employee directing the road crews.

Hedrick said that City trucks are kept in shape, with good maintenance, so they are safe to operate when needed. All of the trucks have heaters, and crews are advised to layer their clothing to help prevent cold stress.

"We take care of all City roads, and our coverage area is increasing with construction of new businesses such as the Casey's that is going up near McDonalds," Hedrick added. "Our road crews have been accident free as they have performed their work."

Monday was a regular work day for first responders, including the staff of Warsaw/Lincoln Ambulance Service. Three paramedics and three EMTs staff the station every day, and they are provided winter gear, and heated ambulances for trips they must make in cold weather. Their three ambulances have rear wheel chains that can be dropped onto tires while the vehicle is moving, but if the ambulance skids off the road into a ditch before activating the chains, they won't be deployed.

"Winter weather slows our response time," said Paramedic David Jenkins.

"We are just like other vehicles in that we can have mishaps on the road and must drive a little more carefully in bad weather."

"Anything that happens to a person is an emergency to them," commented Jenkins. "But if it is not what an emergency room considers to be a true emergency, the person arriving by ambulance will be sent back home. If all three of our ambulances are called out, the next person needing one may have to wait until one from another district can respond."

Heating Bills Could Go Up, Way Up

By Joyce Coates Enterprise Staff

Colder than usual temperatures as 2018 begins are an omen of higher bills to come for homes and businesses, specifically, those heated with either propane or natural gas.

Natural gas is a fossil fuel, and propane is a 'green fuel' but both burn clean and are deemed environmentally friendly. Natural gas is a combination of propane, butane, ethane, and methane gases. Propane is processed with crude oil to separate it from the other components. Therefore, the price of propane that depends on the costs of natural gas and crude oil is usually higher.

In mid-2009, Missouri Gas Utility (MGU) offered customers in Benton County free installation of natural gas service to replace their existing propane tanks and systems. Many accepted based on the expectation of lower monthly bills. However, MGU's plan, certified by the Missouri Public Service Commission (MPSC) in November 2009, was delayed for more than two years.

In March 2012, MGU acquired Southern Missouri Gas Company and changed the business name to Summit Natural Gas of Missouri, Inc. (SNG). The Public Service Commission approved SNG's new

Christian Meier will be taking over as the Warsaw R-IX Assistant Superintendent on July 1. Meier, the current Forsyth High School principal, will replace Tim

CHRISTIAN MEIER

Thomas who is retiring at the end of the school year.

Meier, who grew up in Indiana, attended Missouri State in Springfield on an academic scholarship. He began his career as a middle school science and social studies teacher with the Sparta School District. Meier finished his Master and Education Specialist degrees at William Woods University.

Meier and Warsaw Superintendent Shawn Poyser met when they were both working at Sparta.

"The Forsyth and Warsaw School Districts are very similar," said Meier. "I wanted to work in the central office and this was the perfect opportunity to work with someone (Poyser) I trust."

While Meier will not start his new job until July,

Chief of Police for Warsaw, said that the department's response time is slower in winter weather. But, as of late Monday morning there had not been any calls.

"Everything has been quiet and calm so far in Warsaw," said Senberg. "But, the Sheriff's office has had to respond to some calls in the county."

Senberg said that police officers are provided with winter coats, hats and gloves to keep them warm during this time of year.

Monday was also a workday for employees of Ozark Disposal who are always concerned about road conditions as they make pickups in Benton and several other adjoining counties.

"Road conditions worry us when there is snow," said Kevin Dockery, owner of Ozark Disposal. "We do many pickups in resort areas where snow plowing is not always done by the City. We also worry about visibility. Usually in bad weather our start up is delayed. On Mondays we begin start ups at 3 AM, but we delayed it until 6 AM this Monday when visibility was better and some roads had been plowed. Our drivers also use their judgment (based on experience) to decide if they should pick up in an area where they might get stuck. We often change our routes during bad weather so that our last scheduled stops are picked up first and our first scheduled stops are left until the end of the route."

Dockery said that safety is the company's biggest issue, so employees are provided with high visibility coats. Since most of them are in and out of their trucks, there is little danger of over exposure to the elements. However, those who have many pickups on a street are asked to take breaks inside the heated trucks before getting too cold.

"We have not had to close our routes this year because of weather," said Dockery. "But we have done so in the past when the snow was deeper and some bags left out for pickup were buried."

The City of Warsaw subcontracts water meter reading and maintenance to People Service. The company was due to read meters on Monday, but was unable to carry out the job because 15 to 20 percent of the meters were covered by ice and snow and could not be found without a metal detector. Company representative, Mark Breshears, said that readings would have to be estimated, or read when the weather warmed up.

"We are big on safety," said Breshears. "We don't stay outside in the cold more than 20 minutes at a time. After that amount of exposure, we get back in vehicles to warm up. In the event of a water main break, we wear water-proof and insulated clothing. I have been in this business a long time and have had icicles on my whiskers many times."

Employees at Henderson Ranch in Edwards find that cold weather causes mishaps to occur. Water has frozen and heaters have gone out on water tanks during this cold spell. Four ranch hands have been out in their winter clothes giving extra feed to the cattle, as they need to eat more when it is cold.

A call to the Edwards Post Office confirmed that its local mail was being delivered on Tuesday morning without any problems.

The Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) website provides tips to protect workers in cold environments. It reports that prolonged exposure to freezing or cold temperatures may cause serious health problems such as trench foot, frostbite and hypothermia. In extreme cases, immersion and exposure can lead to death. Danger signs include uncontrolled shivering, slurred speech, clumsy movements, fatigue and confused behavior. Tips to employers include: Recognize the environmental and workplace conditions that may be dangerous; Learn the signs and symptoms of cold-induced illnesses and injuries and what to do to help workers; Train workers about cold-induced illnesses and injuries; Encourage workers to wear proper clothing for cold, wet and windy conditions, including layers that can be adjusted to changing conditions; Be sure workers in extreme conditions take a frequent short break in warm, dry shelters to allow their bodies to warm up; and Try to schedule work for the warmest part of the day. OSHA also suggests that workers: Avoid exhaustion or fatigue because energy is needed to keep muscles warm; Work in pairs so that one worker can recognize danger signs; Drink warm, sweet beverages and avoid drinks with caffeine or alcohol; Eat warm, high-calorie foods such as hot pasta dishes; and Remember that workers face increased risks when they take certain medications, are in poor physical condition or suffer from illnesses such as diabetes or cardiovascular disease.

OSHA does not require employers to provide clothing for normal exposure to outdoor cold weather, however, many employers provide their workers with winter weather gear.

request in July 2012 "to construct, own and operate a natural gas distribution system providing service in Benton, Morgan, Camden and Miller Counties in Missouri." SNG's territory has expanded since then.

Natural gas is priced per 1,000 cubic feet (Mcf); propane is priced per gallon. For cost comparison, measure the energy content in British thermal units (BTU); i.e., the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water by one degree, Fahrenheit.

Natural gas generates 1,030,000 BTUs per Mcf; propane generates 91,333 BTUs per gallon. One thousand cubic feet of natural gas equals approximately 11.3 gallons of propane.

Records of the U.S. Energy Information Agency (EIA) show the average price from 2013-2017 in Missouri of a gallon of propane for residential use was $1.74, or $19.64 per Mcf. Heating oil for commercial use for the same period averaged $1.93, or $21.78 per Mcf. (EIA records prices for propane during the heating season only, from October - March.)

EIA records various natural gas prices year-round, by state. One is the price at the "city gate"; the point or measuring station where the gas utility receives gas from a pipeline company or transmission system. The average price at a Missouri city gate for the period 2013-2017 was $5.77 per Mcf.

The average natural gas price for the same period was $9.67 per Mcf for commercial use by nonmanufacturers that sell goods or services, and by local, state and federal agencies. The average residential price for the period was $16.36 per Mcf.

"Doing the math" shows natural gas to be less expensive on average, to the satisfaction of some who opted for SNG service. Several propane users, however, believe they made the right decision not to switch. Others who opted for natural gas have been increasingly disappointed because their monthly bills have been higher, not lower.

Summit Natural Gas is one of five distributors currently operating in Missouri, including Ameren, Empire District, Spire (formerly Laclede), and Liberty. Summit territory comprises five areas: Gallatin, Warsaw, Lake of the Ozarks, Rogersville and Branson. The Warsaw area includes Cole Camp, Greenridge and Lincoln.

Linda Allcorn, director of Boonslick Regional Library, was asked about costs of natural gas service to the Warsaw branch and reported annual amounts that since 2014 have averaged a little over $3,500. This calculates to less than $300 a month, even counting an above-average bill in January 2017 for $743.18.

In contrast, J&D Pharmacy switched to natural gas, but after several months decided to incur the expense to revert to a propane system. They made the decision because they were using more gas and paying significantly higher monthly bills. Using propane again is saving them money.

Unable to afford reinstalling a propane system, Ayman Ielouch, owner of Warsaw Laundromat, is stressed about the high cost of natural gas. Energy consumption by his commercial-grade washers and dryers, plus the boiler and rooftop furnace is relatively stable year-round, he said, at approximately 1,130 cubic feet.

His January 2017 bill for $1,662.73 was not as high as his February 2017 bill for $1,962.23. He is frustrated to know that service from Ameren, Laclede or Spire (formerly Missouri Gas Energy) would cost at least $700 less for the same volume of gas.

The Consumer Service department of Missouri Public Service Commission receives many complaints every year about high bills. Yet, it can take no action against utility companies if they follow the regulations and charge rates approved by the MSPC. The Missouri Office of the Public Counsel represents the public and ratepayers as a class, but not on an individual basis.

Regardless of the service provider, components of natural gas monthly bills are calculated essentially the same. The Missouri Office of the Public Counsel defined the components as:

1. Customer Charge: Covers a portion of the gas company's fixed costs that it incurs to serve each residential customer. This charge allows natural gas utilities to recover customer specific expenses such as meter reading costs, billing costs and investments in meters and service lines. This charge appears monthly on a customer's bill regardless of usage.

2. Commodity Charge: Covers all other costs to operate the business such as salaries, a return on investment and any other non-gas cost for running the business. The total amount of this charge varies based upon the amount of gas used by the residential customer.

3. Purchased Gas Adjustment Charge (PGA): The cost of gas purchased from producers of natural gas, the costs to store natural gas in storage fields and the cost to transport natural gas via interstate or intrastate pipelines [to the city gate] for use by the residential customer.

CELEBRATING LENT

By Tom Cobb

A local natural gas company pays its suppliers a wholesale price that is not regulated by the Missouri Public Service Commission. Primarily driven by supply, demand and the weather, it usually accounts for 55-60 percent of the total cost. Changes in wholesale prices are accounted for through revisions to the PGA charge.

PGA in SNG's five service areas was revised in November 2017. Gallatin increased by $0.099; Warsaw and Lake of the Ozarks decreased by $0.0328, and Rogersville and Branson increased by $0.0064.

From December 2014 until November 2017, Warsaw area customers were charged the highest combined rates per 100 cubic feet (Ccf) in the state for both residential ($1.6004), and commercial ($1.5013) service, compared to rates charged throughout Missouri by all five companies.

After November, Warsaw area commodity charges for residential ($1.1340) and commercial ($1.0349) customers were still the highest. And, the residential rate (commodity plus PGA) for the Warsaw area is still the highest in SNG territory, and in the state, at $1.5676 per Ccf. Branson area service charges, $1.4801 per Ccf, rose to the highest in SNG territory for commercial services, only $0.0116 higher than Warsaw.

In addition to the three standard charges, natural gas bills typically include amounts for taxes, franchise fees that are levied by the local municipality (city or town), and in some cases, infrastructure reimbursements to the utility company.

Lizzy Reinholt, SNG's media contact, responded in early October 2017 to questions about the Warsaw area's high rates. She said SNG completed a "rate case" in 2014 that the Public Service Commission reviewed and approved. She added that "...the company brings natural gas to underserved or unserved rural areas... where the geography can impact the cost to deliver the gas."

Gallatin customers are charged considerably less than Warsaw's: 50 cents less for residential and 39 cents less for commercial service, per Ccf. It could be said that the Gallatin area of eight cities or townships compared to four in Warsaw's area, is no less "rural" with fewer than 300 more people within a wider territory.

Lower costs where the population is greater does not always seem to be the case. For instance, rates for residential and commercial accounts in the Rogersville area comprised of 12 cities and townships, are $1.1879 and $1.2314 per Ccf, respectively; considerably lower than in Warsaw but higher than the $1.0722 and $1.0833 in Gallatin.

Bottom line: Heating bills go up, sometimes way up, this time of year. Residential customers have some options for relief. SNG's budget billing formula spreads costs more evenly throughout the year. Also, the West Central Missouri Community Action Agency has an energy assistance program for residential customers on fixed income. To be eligible, an applicant's income must be at or less than 135 percent of the federal poverty level based on family size.

Commercial customers may be able to get help through SNG's "Commodity Charge Flex Provisions." Reinholt described it as "the flexible rate structure that provides commercial customers an opportunity to work with us to find an alternative rate that suits the needs of both the customer and the company."

Predictions, Coaching, Seedings, Skyline and Hospitality Rooms

I guess I shouldn't make predictions because people get mad at me but when they ask me who I think is going to win, then I usually tell them.

I have been pretty good so far this basketball season. I did miss the Warsaw tournament by picking Lincoln to win but I have been right on most everything else. I called Skyline winning their tournament before it started I had them over Halfway by ten. They won by nine.

Yeah, I thought Halfway would beat Warsaw. I called Warsaw by 16 over Osceola. They won by 13.

Guessing what high school kids are going to do from day to day is pretty difficult to do. I feel bad for coaches whose livelihood sometimes depends on it.

I liked what Warsaw superintendent Shawn Poyser told me during our interview the other day. He said that young coaches should not be in a hurry to take a head coaching job but wait for the right situation to come along. The reason being, if you get fired, then that sticks on your record forever.

Seeding tournaments is pretty hard, especially early in the season. I think Halfway should have gotten the top seed in the Skyline tournament. They couldn't give it to Skyline for they lost to Warsaw twice. Warsaw had also beaten Osceola so they couldn't give it to them. So they gave it to Warsaw, who lost to Halfway, who lost to Skyline, like I predicted.

Skyline girls won their tournament with only seven players. Their JV was entered into the tournament so they couldn't play varsity. Skyline beat Fair Grove 54-50 in a dandy. Skyline hopefully will get their two starters back by district time.

I had sent Kaylee Damitz the story I wrote about her back in early December. Well, it finally got there this week. In the meanwhile I had taken her mother a couple of copies since we were playing in their tournament down there.

They had a great hospitality room, as did Osage, as did Warsaw.

Hey, I got to go find a game to watch and something to eat.

NO, IT'S NOT WWE, as Blair Oaks' Dalton Bridges picks up Warsaw's Dallas Larsen during their high school wrestling match in the middle school gym during the Warsaw Tournament on Saturday. Larsen outpointed Bridges in his fourth bout of the day. The event started at 9:00 AM and lasted past 5:00 PM.

Estes Takes First In WHS Tourney

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

It was wild and wooly and a lot of fun on Saturday at WHS in their first home meet of the season. Sixteen schools filled the parking lot and the gym with four matches going on at the same time in the high school and middle school gyms.

Warsaw's Kolby Estes took first place in his 145 pound weight class. Folks will remember that Estes lost in the finals of state last season. The junior is having an outstanding season and wants to win the state championship this time around.

Senior Dallas Larsen took second after outpointing Blair Oak's Dalton Bridges. Larsen commented going into the match, "He is pretty salty and it will be a tough match."

Senior Nate Fauquier at 220 won his 100 match of his career by pinning Sam Lynn of Centralia.

As a team, Warsaw came in seventh out of sixteen teams that included Blair Oaks, Diamond, Centralia, Bolivar and Lone Jack among others.

In other weight classes for Warsaw :

- 113-Delmar Graves 7th
- 132-Justin Martin 6th place in Bracket B
- 138-Jayden Schepker 5th
- 160-Colby Schwartz 8th
- 170-Maleek Porter 10th
- 182-Kieon Davis 4th
- 220-Grady Miller 7th
- 285- Colby Stephens 9th

WHS JUNIOR MATT LUEBBERT GOES UP for two of his 35 points against Osceola in the third place game in the Skyline Tournament on Saturday. Warsaw won 75-62 as Luebbert scored his 1000th point in the third quarter of play.

Luebbert Scores 1000th Point

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

The Warsaw Boys claimed third place in the Skyline Tournament on Saturday night with a 75-62 victory over Osceola.

Matt Luebbert, coming off his lowest point production game of the year with just eight points led the Wildcats with 35 points and 15 rebounds.

With his 35 point performance, Matt Luebbert eclipsed the 1,000 point mark for his career as a Wildcat. Luebbert has now totaled 1,010 points as a Warsaw player. The agile 6'3 forward-guard had nine points in the first quarter and 11 in the second making it clear that he was on a mission to beat his previous night's performance.

If you are wondering, Randall Sherman has over 2100 points as the all-time leading scorer for WHS.

Sherman played in exactly 100 games.

Warsaw, seeded number one, jumped out early on third-seeded Osceola and led 20-14 after one. However, the Indians are a tough bunch of kids as they came back to trail just 39-37 at the half.

They scored in the opening seconds of the half to take 40-39 lead. However, the Wildcats were not to be denied on this night as Luebbert and company stormed back and led after three 56-51, as Luebbert hit one at the buzzer to pad the cushion.

Warsaw's other offensive weapon, Logan Davis, nailed two free throws to extend the lead to 73-60 in the closing seconds. Davis had 20 points and handled the ball well most of the night.

Cole Branson helped with 6 points, Lane Bates with 5 points and Trey Palmer, Keegan Glenn and Tyler Simons all chipped in with 3 points apiece. Warsaw improved to 9-6 on the season.

Warsaw: 20, 39, 56, 75

Cole Camp Takes Lincoln In JV Contest

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

The Cole Camp JV Team defeated Lincoln on Tuesday night as the undercard to the varsity contest. However, unlike the varsity, this game went down to the wire.

The game was very entertaining with Cole Camp taking a 34-32 victory and they probably beat a more athletic team in the Lincoln Cardinals JV. Cole Camp's fundamental style of play shows up every time their basketball teams takes the court.

Halfway Knocks Off Wildcats

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

The Fourth-Seeded Halfway Cardinals defeated the number one seeded Warsaw Wildcats 60-46 on Friday night in the Skyline Tournament. Probably the biggest story was that Matt Luebbert, who came in to the game as the top scorer and rebounder in class three in MO, only had eight points. Point guard Logan Davis stepped up with 19 points but it wasn't enough as Halfway played hard, used the press and came out on fire in the second half.

Dallas Dodd hit a three pointer with four seconds left to put Halfway in front 14-10 after one quarter of play. The press and the double team on Luebbert slowed the Wildcats down as it was 24-18 at the half.

Warsaw fell behind early in the third 38-18 as Halfway would outscore Warsaw 16-2. Davis had his pocket picked at the 5:50 mark and things look grim. Warsaw, without cheerleaders and the pep club there for moral support, could never could get going as Halfway continued to play hard and run players in and out. It was 49-30 after three.

Warsaw narrowed the lead in the fourth. Davis was fouled shooting a three and made the hat trick by downing all three freebies to cut the lead to 15 at 58-43. Luebbert got a clean dunk to make it 45-58 and then later fouled out at the fifteen second mark.

Cole Branson and Lane Bates added four points each and Trey Palmer had 11. Hayden McCarthy had 24 to lead Halfway. Warsaw fell to 8-6 on the season. Halfway moved to 11-1.

THE LINCOLN CHEERLEADERS LEAD the Lincoln pep club in a cheer during Tuesday night's home basketball game against Benton County rival, the Cole Camp Bluebirds. With five players on the court, the crowd can act as a sixth man during a game and can motivate their team to victory.

Basketball's Sixth Man

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

If you have never been to a high school basketball game between rival schools, then you are missing a real treat. If you want to see the calm before the storm, then go early to a game. Everybody is friendly, smiling and they are having a good time. When the players warm up, you will hear the pep clubs cheer. Later, the starting lineups are introduced and the students get pretty loud. The players jump center and then it is "Katie Bar the Door."

Yeah, the kids get to holler at opposing players and moan and groan about the referee's questionable calls. They cheer on their players and hold up signs. Sometimes the signs are head pictures of the players or the number three, meaning the player made a three point shot.

Let's not forget the hard working, ever-present cheerleaders on the side lines. They can really stir up the crowd. The kids can get rowdy at times but the administrators are there to calm them down.

Recently, the Warsaw student body showed up with doctor masks and protective suits during their home game with Lincoln. They were mocking the flu like sickness that swept through Lincoln high school that previous week. Yeah, kids will have fun.

Familiar chants are when there is a block, "YOU GOT SWATTED" or when players shoot and miss the goal, "AIR BALL, AIR BALL."

While the kids are having fun, they are really motivating their players. Some players block out the crowd but most kids get pumped up when the fans roar their approval. Bobby Barnes, WHS Hall of Fame basketball player said, "I blocked out the crowd and didn't know anyone was there until after the game."

On the other side, Jordan Plybon, who plays for the Warsaw girls team, commented, "I hear the pep club and the cheerleaders and they motivate me to play better."

Denny Henson, who played high school ball in Kansas, also agreed, "I fed off of the crowd. They made me play harder."

So the next time you go to a high school basketball game, make sure you check out the pep club for they can truly be the Sixth Man on a basketball team. Games without cheerleaders can be boring and that is where the pep club takes over.

Lincoln fans were happy to see Bo Kroenke back in the lineup after being injured and he didn't show any rust as he added 11 points. Lincoln's inside outside attack and their last quarter press was just too much for Cole Camp to deal with in the end.

Cole Camp had a balanced attack led by Kaden Harms with 14 points. Cole Camp fell to 4-10 on the season.

LINCOLN'S GRANT EIFERT RIPS A THREE from the outside as Cole Camp's players watch. Lincoln defeated Cole Camp 76-58 last Tuesday night in Lincoln.

Lincoln Takes Cole Camp In County Rivalry

By Johnie J. Logue
Enterprise Staff

The final score of a basketball game can be deceiving at various times. Sometimes a team gets way ahead and plays their reserves and the other team catches up to make the game look closer than it actually was. At other times, a very close game can get blown out in the last minutes because of free throws and players fouling out.

Lincoln defeated Cole Camp on Tuesday night 76-58 in a game that was far closer than the final score indicates. Lincoln led just 16-15 after one.

Cole Camp took the lead at half at 34-31 on some nice outside shooting. In what was a hotly contested game on both ends of the floor and especially rough underneath the basket, Cole Camp stood their ground. However, in the end it was Lincoln gaining the upper hand. The score was 54-49 after three.

Derek Stephens had 26 points and surprisingly never shot a free throw according to the stat sheet. Grant Eifert had 18 points on six three pointers, three in the first half and three in the second and was probably the big difference in the game. Anyone who was paying attention in the warm-ups noticed that Eifert was on his game from the outside.

Corbin Reese had nine points and has shown teams that they cannot double team Stephens underneath without the 6'4" Reese stepping up.

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James M. White, Publisher

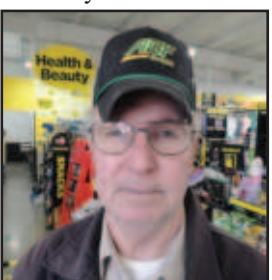

Our library is a great gathering place, especially in the winter months. I've said it before, and I'll say it again, we're fortunate to have the library in Warsaw and people like JoAnn who keep it humming along. We've been blessed with other dedicated librarians over the years too. Freda Scott and Judy Frank come to mind. The first library was a project of the McCormick Book Club, which was a group that liked to read the latest books that were being published. One of them included my grandmother White. The club was named for a Methodist minister who was accidentally shot and killed by a young man from a prominent Warsaw family, causing grief in a number of households. Reverend McCormick is buried in Riverside Cemetery, not far from the first entrance. This all took place back in the Depression and buying the latest books on the market was expensive. Club members each bought a book and then passed it from member to member. In the late 1930's they lobbied the Benton County Commission to use one of the jury rooms in the courthouse for a library. The small room on the Main Street side was used. When the collection grew large enough, the library was moved to the "new" Community Building, to a room on the right side of the front door. I bet the members of the McCormick Book Club would be proud of our current library and how it's grown over the years. If you are driving through Riverside Cemetery and see Rev. McCormick's grave, maybe you'll remember reading this and know that a young Warsaw minister's life was cut short by a tragic accident. And, you may remember that the remarkable library we have today goes back to a group of Warsaw residents in the 1930's who wanted to see that their neighbors had good books available.

Among phone calls Tuesday was one from Eleanor Freund who lives down in Springfield. Eleanor had just finished her grocery shopping at a new store near her home. She said the high tech store plays the sound of distant thunder as you approach the produce department and the smell of fresh rain wafts through the air. In the dairy aisle the sounds of hens clucking and cackling can be heard and a buttery scent can be detected. Eleanor said this is all well and good, but she doesn't buy toilet paper there.

The Governor is in hot water after admitting to an affair and reports that he used blackmail to keep it under wraps. The Gov denies this and an investigation is underway. This is why people would rather vote for a billionaire reality TV star than a politician. What people do behind closed doors is their own business. What is our business, however, is who's lying to the electorate to get elected.

Have a buster of a day.

FRISTOE NEWS

What a cold weekend and now starting off the week. This Monday morning it was 33 degrees at my house at 6:00 A.M. By 11:00 A.M. it was down to 24 degrees and ended up at 22 degrees at 2:00 with it being 17 degrees at 4:00 PM, and I will check the temperature before I go to bed and send this to paper. At 9:00 PM (my bedtime) it is 9 degrees!

Dean and Pat Arnett traveled to Lincoln last week to visit Darrell Beyer and other friends and neighbors they know that are in the Lincoln Health Care facility. Darrell was in a good mood and very talkative. While there Pat stopped by and visited Verl Turpen, who by the way shares a room with Darrell Beyer. Verl was feeling good and Pat had a good visit with him. Verl and Helen Turpen have been favorites of Pat's for many years. Pat went to their house as visitors of daughter's Donna and Doris, daughter Debbie was already married. Pat said that Verl and Helen always made her feel so welcome in their home. Due to health problems Verl and Helen have both been in the Lincoln Health facility for several years. Helen passed away nearly one year ago, however, Verl is always glad to visit with friends that stop by. Another resident Pat stopped by to visit was Leta Rogers. They had a really good enjoyable visit. Pat has known Leta for many years and also knew Leta's husband Claude as she worked with him many years at the Unitog MFG facility. Claude passed away several years ago and Leta is now in the Lincoln nursing facility but she still enjoys talking and visiting with people and always has lots of information to pass on. I have said all this to bring to the attention of those reading this column how much the residents in the Health Care Facilities enjoy the visits of friends and former neighbors. So when you have a few extra hours and the weather is presentable drop by one of the nursing home facilities and spread some cheer around. I know it will be appreciated.

Please continue to remember Joe Harriein your prayers as well as Janet Adam, Darrell Smith, Shirley Piggott, Darrell and Helen Beyer, Br. And Sis. Ullum, Mary Scarbrough, and W.Y. Garrison.

Although Tri-Lakes Cowboy Church as cancelled due to inclement weather it sounds like the weather is going to be much better this week. It is held on Thursday night in the Fristoe Community Building. The building opens at 5:15 with food and music available around 6:00 P.M. Prayer, Praise and Worship and Bringing God's Word begins around 7:00 P.M. Cowboy Church offers so much with not just music, food and preaching but the fellowship that is enjoyed by the participants is a testimony to the true love of The Lord. When someone is sick or absent for another reason, they are missed. People truly enjoy each other and even more important they care about each other.

Adam and Bridget celebrate their wedding anniversary January 22nd. Happy anniversary to them! Community Bible Study: Fristoe Community Building, Thursday morning 7:30 A.M.

As I reflect back about the business of selling boats and also my year of selling real estate, I am reminded that sometimes there is a big difference in a listing or selling price, than the buying price. Most agents are excited about listing your home or land, but the question is, is it listed to sell? My goal is to give you the best information I can on what your property is worth for a quick sell. Having a listing just sitting there with no one looking at it is frustrating for everyone, the seller, the agent, and even a potential buyer. Let me help to come up with a reasonable price, so it's not just a listing, but a closing. Give me, Dennis Morgan, a call at 417-327-6356, or call the Anstine Realty & Auction office at 660-438-7000 and ask for Dennis. Let me help you have a sold sign in front of your property.

SPONBILL QUILTERS GUILD

The Spoonbill Quilter's met Wednesday, January 19 at the Community of Christ Church in Warsaw. Those present: Vikki Trantham, Janelle Segari, Sherry Bruise, Janice Wilson, Fran Larabee, Marilyn Manely, Joan Koanpasek and Linda Sinnet.

Birthdays for Nancy Maples.

An April trip is in the process of being planned by Linda and Vikki, please let them know your thoughts. Trip will take us to Collins, MO for breakfast at Smith's then to quilt shops in Stockton, Butler, Lamar, this will be an all day trip.

In June, we would like to have family picnic at the lake, possibly in October if there is interest to a trip to Jamesport, MO for the Amish Quilt Auction and Missouri Star Co. this would be an overnight trip.

Show-n-Tell: Vikki showed a daily planner cover she had embroidered with a pieced border and wedding quilt she made for her son and it is good to have Vikki back in Warsaw. Janelle told about her trip to Paducah and the Quilt Museum and quilt shops she visited.

Buddy bag was won by Janice. Thought for the Day: No act of kindness, no matter how small is never wasted.

After the meeting adjourned the group worked on "Fridge Quilts" for three area rest homes which can be used for physical therapy.

How Will You Die?
Hebrews 9:27

Yes, this is a pretty gloomy subject this week. I mentioned the other day that I made of list of some hundred people that I have known that have passed away. I don't know what I did with the list but sadly it is a list that will keep on growing the longer I live.

I have known people who died in accidents, car wrecks, hit by trains, gun accidents, murdered, drowned, electrocuted, AIDS, cancer, in war, all sorts of things, and yes even suicide.

Most, I suppose, have died by natural causes. Some died at home and some died in nursing homes and hospitals. I am guessing most people die in a hospital and at the time of death they are heavily sedated. Most of the time they are not in their right mind so they cannot make a death bed confession.

I had a guy who wanted to argue with me about how Goliath died. Did he die from the stone in his forehead or when David cut his head off? Yeah, a pretty stupid argument. I told him that most people would agree that it is more important how you lived than how you died. He agreed on that and went his way.

However, when we hear someone died, we normally ask two questions. We want to know their age and how they actually died.

People in the Bible died in various ways, however, here are a few thoughts.

Stephen was stoned and died unafraid, Ananias and Sapphira died in judgment, Judas killed himself in shame, Simeon died after seeing the baby Jesus, John the Baptist was beheaded and Jesus died on the cross at Calvary.

The rich man died and went to hell. He didn't go to hell because he was rich or because he ignored the need of the poor such as Lazarus. He ignored the message of God and apparently waited too long.

So the real answer to our question about how you will die is simply will you die in faith or will you die in unbelief? Please don't wait too long, my friend. I can be reached at Johnwarrior@gmail.com for more info

Well the cold and snow kept a lot of people home this week. In the Lord's house today there were 29 in attendance with 1 visitor. Jim Waggoner celebrated a birthday. Children in Action started this week for our younger children. Young Christian Weekend will be coming up April 6-8.

Pastor's text was from 2Cor 4: 16. God's glory and our benefit was the topic. Success can be bad and a hardship a good thing. God is in control of our lives. Trust in the Lord through all things. If you take your eyes off heaven you will be in trouble. Fix your eyes on Jesus and heaven always. Be thankful for all things. The worst sometimes becomes the best. What are your hardships today? Life is temporary and heaven takes away all pain and sin.

GO WITH GOD AND GOD BLESS.

Missouri Cattlemen's

Curtis (Doc) Long, Butler, Missouri, was presented with the Missouri Cattlemen's Association (MCA) Pioneer Award, which is the highest honor of distinction offered by the association, during the 50th Annual Missouri Cattle Industry Convention. Long has served the Missouri cattle industry for over 50 years.

"Not only has he been actively involved in producing Angus seedstock, he has been active in cattle industry organizations like MCA," said Lonny Duckworth, 2012 MCA President. "I think it is especially notable that he is a strong supporter of youth in our industry."

Long has contributed time and resources to MCA's junior programs and to other youth programs in the industry, according to Norm Garton, Garton Angus Ranch.

"As an advocate of junior programs and the Angus Foundation, he established in 1998 the Missouri State Fair Angus Carcass Contest, now in its 13th year," said Garton, who presented the award January 7, 2018. "He continues to fund scholarships within Missouri Angus and donates bull and female credits to the Missouri Cattlemen's Association to auction off to raise funds for scholarships and youth programs." Long owns Briarwood Angus Genetics, which includes over 200 registered Angus cows. Each spring, the Long family host a production sale where nearly 100 head are sold. He was a charter member of U.S. Premium Beef and today continues to improve his family's cattle farm.

Long is also a physician who has been the Missouri Physician of the Year and recognized by the University of Missouri's School of Medicine for developing a residents' training program. MCA President Greg Buckman said Long is able to use his knowledge of the beef industry to explain to patients the health benefits of including beef in a heart healthy diet.

Word To The Wise

Truth is everybody is going to hurt you: you just gotta find the ones worth suffering for.

WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

Aries 3/21-4/19: Things are going to move kind of slowly Monday and Tuesday. Some days move along lickety-split, some days just don't. No need to read anything into it. It's the nature of space and time to be a little erratic. And, sure enough, Wednesday and Thursday you're going to be running around like the proverbial headless chicken. Be sure to keep communicating with everyone even as things turn into pandemonium. You'll be in need of serious rejuvenation at the end of the day Friday. Spend the weekend taking care of yourself. Grab a magazine and don't get out of bed until you have to.
Taurus 4/20-5/19: You're feeling so good on Monday you don't know what to do with yourself. The sun will be shining on you. Butterflies are going to follow you around. Birds will chirp in your ears. This is the beginning of a long, exciting week. On Wednesday, everything is going to start to accelerate. Suddenly, you're not going to have time for the butterflies or the birds anymore. You're going to be too busy juggling foam balls and jumping through hoops of fire, so to speak. This weekend, unwind by spending time with good friends and eating a lot of good food. A dinner party may be in order.
Gemini 5/21 - 6/21: You thought this was going to be smooth sailing on Monday. Turns out, the water is choppier than you expected. Communicate what you're feeling and what you need on Tuesday and Wednesday. There are enough hands on deck to help you get through this. And there are a lot of good things on the horizon, including the exotic possibility of love. (Someone is going to flirt heavily with you on Thursday or Friday. Whatever you do, flirt back.) This weekend, you're finally going to reach the destination you've been sailing toward.
Cancer 6/22 - 7/22: You are charming in any social situation, but dinner parties are where you especially shine and that goes double on Monday and Tuesday. Remember, though: Sometimes saying very little is more alluring than saying a lot. And this is just going to be one of those weeks when you don't feel like saying a whole lot. A lot of the talking you do later this week is going to be internal. You won't have to contend with any authority figures, and that is going to open you up to the wonders of daydreaming. This weekend, you may have a revelation that sets you on a whole new path.
Leo 7/23 - 8/22: The system is big and complicated, and it's important you don't get stuck somewhere in the middle. Make your intentions known at the week's start. This is your career you're talking about. You have more than a small stake in it. And it's not an act of arrogance to assert yourself, especially on Wednesday. (People who accuse others of arrogance are sometimes just experiencing a little emotion called jealousy.) The great thing is, your friends have your back. Spending some quality time with them later in the week is not a bad idea. They will restore your confidence and energy. You have an action-packed weekend ahead.
Virgo 8/23 - 9/22: Monday and Tuesday, you're going to be lost in philosophical ideas. It's an unusual headspace for you, and you may find yourself eating in unusual places, too. Nevertheless, you're going to get a lot done. Even in your dreamiest state, you're remarkably productive. Wednesday through Friday are going to be consumed with work stuff. There are a couple of people around you who tend to jump to conclusions, so be sure that you communicate as clearly as possible. Thankfully, you're going to spend the weekend with the kind of people who can intuit what you're going to say even before you say it.
Libra 9/23 - 10/22: It's a beautiful day on Monday. Even the muddy puddles look beautiful in their way. Still, just because the outward world is fine and dandy doesn't mean that the people around you are fine and dandy. Some of the people in your life are going to be downright cranky, most notably on Tuesday and Thursday. That's just about the last thing you need. Be nice, but avoid them at all costs. Why drag yourself down in dramas that have nothing to do with you? With this strategy, you'll end the workweek in high spirits. This weekend you're going to witness one of the most amazing sunsets you've seen in a long time.
Scorpio 10/24 - 11/22: Whatever you're feeling, try to be open to this other person at the outset of the week. This is not a business relationship, this is a personal relationship, and there's a huge difference, which you'll notice on Wednesday and Thursday. It's understandable that you've confused the nature your work life with the nature of your private life, because work is just about all you can concentrate on these days. Take your mind off everything this weekend by treating yourself to dinner at a favorite restaurant.
Sagittarius 11/22 - 12/21: It's Monday and you have a lot of little things to get done. Feeling a tad overwhelmed? Make yourself a to-do list and get cracking! Once you start crossing things off your list you'll feel so much better. Thursday or Friday, when things have calmed down a bit, a friend is going to invite you out for a night on the town. You should go. There is so much happening all around you that you should experience. This weekend, you may feel pressured to go out again, but if you're not up for it, you're not up for it. Follow your mood.
Capricorn 12/22 - 1/19: You and your crazy friends! On Monday someone's going to cajole you into playing a game you haven't played since you were a kid, and it's going to be way more fun than you remembered. In a lot of ways this week is going to be a blast, but on Thursday or Friday you might feel like two or three of your friends are turning out to be a little flaky. How annoying! (It's just like being a kid again!) Over the weekend, it's going to dawn on you who your real friends are, and the discovery is going to come as a relief.
Aquarius 1/20 - 2/18: An old relative is going to try to contact you Monday, probably via an unexpected phone call. They're just calling to say hi, but in the course of the conversation you're going to learn something that makes you think of them in a whole new way. It's funny how family members can seem both like old friends and perfect strangers at the same time, and you're reminded of this again on Wednesday. Toward the end of the week, another unexpected development is going to come your way, this one in the form of a sudden and incredibly fun romantic fling. Ah, life. It never fails to surprise.
Pisces 2/19 - 3/20: An old love letter (maybe even an old email) is going to come to mind on Monday, and it's going to start you pining for a romance that ended quite a while ago. Weird how the past continues to live on in the present, isn't it? And isn't it funny to think about all of the things you used to be so sure of? It certainly makes any certainty you have in anything right now a lot less solid. That's ultimately for the better, especially when midweek arrives. The world is a shifting, sliding place, and the ride can be fun if you keep your expectations loose. Music and poetry figure strongly into your weekend, as do creativity and love.

When Do You Need a Financial Advisor ?

If you could accomplish all your financial goals just by putting your paycheck into the bank every couple of weeks, you wouldn't need the services of a financial advisor. But life isn't that simple - and so, at some point, you may realize you need some professional assistance. But when?

Actually, you might benefit from the services of a financial advisor during many life events, including the following:

- Starting your career - When you're starting out in your career, you may encounter several questions related to your benefits package. Should you contribute to your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored plan? If so, how much, and where should you invest your money? Are the life and disability insurance policies offered by your employer sufficient for your needs? A financial advisor can help you answer these and other questions you may have.
- Getting married - When you get married, you'll have to decide if, and how, you want to combine your finances. Also, you and your spouse may have different attitudes about investing and different tolerances for risk. A financial professional can help you find common ground.
- Changing jobs - When you switch jobs, what should you do with your old employer's retirement plan? And how should you invest in the plan offered by your new employer? As was the case when you first began your career, you may find that a financial professional can help you make the right choices.
- Facing a layoff or buyout - You may never go through a layoff, or take a buyout offer from an employer - but if either of these events happen, you will face some financial decisions. And during such a potentially stressful period, you may be tempted to make some financial moves that won't be beneficial. A financial advisor can suggest some strategies that may help you keep your investment situation relatively intact until you land your next job.

- Saving/or college - If you have children whom you'd like to send to college someday, you'll probably want to start putting money away as early as possible. A financial professional can show you the various college-savings vehicles, and help you choose the ones that are most appropriate for your needs.
- Getting divorced - If you are fortunate, you won't ever experience a divorce, but, if it does happen, you'll want to get the professional assistance necessary to ensure fair outcomes for everyone. You'll obviously need to work with an attorney, but you may find that, in the area of investments, a financial advisor also can be useful.
- Entering retirement - As you near retirement, your key questions will switch - but not entirely - from putting money in to taking money out. How much can you withdraw each year from your 401(k) and IRA without running the risk of outliving your resources? When should you start taking Social Security? If you were to work a couple of years longer than you had originally intended, how would it affect your withdrawal strategies? Again, a financial advisor can help you with these issues.

As you can see, most important life events will carry some financial concerns. But you don't have to face these challenges alone - and by getting the help you need, when you need it, you can ease the transition from one stage of life to another.
