New Aquatic Director Dives Right Into The Job

BY JENNIFER JACKSON
Staff Reporter

As director of the Sugar Creek Parks and Recreation department, Pam Burnham oversaw the opening of a new splash pool in the Independence suburb. Instead of a ribbon cutting, she strung different-colored pool noodles on twine, then had children cut the twine with safety knives.

"We had a noodle cutting," she said.

Pam, Clinton's new Aquatic Center director, brings creative talents to the job that she started on May 31, stepping into the job held by Ann Drury, who retired.

Pam said she will be planning events as soon as she gets her head around what's happening at the pool now, and supervising 30 people.

In addition to program planning for Sugar Creek Parks and Rec, Pam has 22 years experience as an office manager and worked in marketing for a senior care facility. She is a certified instructor in Zumba Gold, Laughter Yoga and Cardio Drumming, and taught a combination of Tai Chi, Pilates and Yoga in the center's salt-water pool as an Aquatic Mind-Body instructor.

MAKING HER DEBUT as Clinton's Aquatic Center Director, Pam Burnham has been at her post since May 31.

"We opened the pool to the public, and I taught classes free of charge," she said.

It was an interest in teaching classes that led her to finding her new niche in Clinton. Pam and her husband had sold their house in Sugar Creek, she said, and have property near Warsaw, with plans to retire there some day. They were renting a house in the meantime, and Pam was looking for work in the Clinton area.

"I knew I wanted to be busy and to be involved in the community," she said.

So she visited the Clinton Senior Center, and then went across the street to the Clinton Community Center, asking if they were looking for instructors for art or craft classes, which she also teaches. The receptionist at the Community Center mentioned that Pam had stopped in to Ann Drury, the Aquatic Center director. Ann, who has worked at the indoor pool since it opened in 2006, was planning to retire.

"She 'wrote the book' for the job," Pam said.

Ann will still be at the pool as the swim team coach for the "Littles," Pam said.

Pam is originally from Carrollton County, Mo., and has lived in New York, Colorado Springs and the Kansas City metropolitan area. When she was 19, she took a Red Cross training course and became a certified lifeguard, and was

Sippin' Into Summer Set For Thursday

The summer season is underway and Clinton Main Street will host "Sippin' Into Summer" Thursday June 15th from 4:00 PM to 7:00 PM. The event will include 14 participating businesses with the ability to enter Main Street's giveaway at each location, giving multiple chances to win. Several will have extra vendors for added zip. Each business is slated to have snacks, fun summer drink samples and sales.

According to Clinton Main Street Executive Director Amanda Johnson no purchase is necessary to win and ID's will be checked at alcohol serving locations.

Gallery Brings The Power Of Art To The Community

BRING ART TO THE COMMUNITY AND THE COMMUNITY TO ART is the mission of Clinton's Gallery 3. Trish Meyers founded Gallery Three which features art by Missouri artists, including watercolors of flowers, birds and other wildlife by Susan Sanders.

BY JENNIFER JACKSON
Staff Reporter

Four years ago, the owner of the building on the southwest corner of the Square walked into Tim Meyers' CPA office, three doors down, and asked if he needed more storage room.

He didn't, but Tim and his spouse, Trish Meyers, had been looking for a place to display the work of an artist friend of theirs.

That was the catalyst for the creation of Gallery Three, named for its three owners — Trish Meyers, her son, Mark, and Reggie Cornell, the artist whose work the Meyers wanted to display.

Their purpose:

"To bring art to the community, and the community to art," Trish said.

Trish gave a program about the inception of Gallery Three last Friday to members of the United Methodist Women in the Backroom of Clinton UMC.

The Meyers, who bought the corner building for the gallery, literally live in its back room — an apartment in back, downsizing from the home where they raised five children. To create the gallery, they put up peg boards and "hung all the art we could find," Trish

Bike Fest Rolled Into Well Attended Success

BY JENNIFER JACKSON
Staff Reporter

Cruisin' to Clinton, the cruise night on the Square, drew more than cars to town last Saturday. While hotrods, kit cars and vintage cars and trucks were parked on the east side of the Square, bicycles were featured on the southwest corner, where Skipper Buckley and friends staged Bike Fest, an exhibit of bicycles from the 1890s to the 1980s, next to the 9/11 Memorial.

Skipper had a row of 1960 and '70s Schwinn Krate Sting-Rays bicycles from his collection. Charlie Dixon brought his high wheeler, a Penny Farthing. Daniel Dahlquist brought bicycles from the 1890s that he restored, and Skipper asked James Allen, who has the Pedalers Bicycle Museum in Springfield, to participate.

Judy and Dave Bell of Deepwater drove their 1983 GMC truck to the Square with a red Schwinn 1957 Spitfire bicycle in the truck bed. Dave bought and rebuilt the bike, Judy said, adding a Chevrolet tank, and repainted it.

Earlier, the Bell's 1942 Chevy truck won trophies at the Clinton Senior Center Car Show for best paint job and Top 10 trucks in the show. Dave rebuilds and paints vehicles in his workshop, Judy said, and has a room full of trophies.

"We go to a lot of local shows — Blue Springs, Peculiar, Garden City, Bolivar and Collins," Judy said. "It's a lot of fun."

Bill and Eileen Albin of Clinton were at cruise night admiring Greg Lowe's shiny black 1958 Ford Fairlane hardtop convertible, along with Avery Westhusing of Montrose, and Garrison Boehler of Deepwater.

Cruising' to Clinton is held on the Square on the second Saturday of the month, May through September, at 4 p.m., and the third Saturday in October. DJ Bud Powell provides music for the cruise night crowd.

The Bike Fest included a raffle for a Mongoose bicycle like the one on the "Stranger Things" Bike 18

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James Mahlon White

What interesting times we live in. President Trump is indicted for having classified documents the same day evidence comes out about the Biden Family being bribed. It's going to be a race to see what happens first. World War III over Ukraine, our country going bankrupt under un-payable debt, a permanent socialist dictatorship or a civil war in our streets. Criminalize the leader of the opposition party. This is what a banana republic does. As my new pen pal points out, The Donald is no Saint. That might be true and some see him as a sleazy businessman, but there's nothing worse than a corrupt career politician. Build Back Better has really been about who paid Joe Biden the most money. In the meantime, it's been announced that China has a spy base in Cuba. Not sure why they bothered with Cuba, they have one in the Oval Office. Ah well, politics in general is fun, though it can bring heart break at times and waiting. Remember when we didn't know who'd won the White House, Bush or Gore until weeks later?

Let's switch to something else. One of the joys of the internet is looking up things and places that interest you. I have been on a number of sites about Ireland and Austria. I've searched for long lost ancestors and looked up recipes for Tiroler Grostl. I like sites that tie in with politics too. For example, there's one about Davos where elite politicians and business people gather each year and "Make plans for our lives." Another one about Skull & Bones is fascinating too. This secret society was founded years ago and its members are the elite of both the Democrat and Republican parties. Yep, you bet! And I learned yesterday that our Justice Department asked Google and other search engine companies to give the names of folks looking up certain things. The Department says it's just "people looking for child porn?" You believe that?

Aunt Jane called last night and the conversation drifted to Missouri "Mills." They looked like a milk cap and were used as a measure to collect sales tax. Later Missouri switched to mills made of metal and the final ones were made of plastic. Then they were done away with and sales tax was paid in cash. Now the mills are small collector's items. JWB says she's lucky to have a few of them, along with pleasant memories of long ago Missouri.

Time to stop this mental meandering. Hang in there old buddy, still seems to be the best advice of the day.

Til Next Week

Radiation Oncology Center Coming Soon

GOLDEN VALLEY MEMORIAL HEALTHCARE (GVMH) is pleased to announce that construction of the new Dr. James and JoAnn Bourland Radiation Oncology Center is going well and is on time for GVMH to begin seeing patients later this year.

The Bourland Radiation Oncology Center is being built with an emphasis on comfort, quality, convenience and the latest technology. It will feature a linear accelerator, one of the most sophisticated radiation technologies available. The linear accelerator has enhanced speed and accuracy with precise targeting to treat tumors. Using the linear accelerator for radiation therapy can reduce the number of treatments needed by patients.

"When the Center is complete, patients will be able to get expert cancer care, see familiar specialists and staff, and not be burdened with traveling miles away to receive treatment," said Craig Thompson, CEO at GVMH. "We are excited to bring this vital service to Clinton and our surrounding communities."

UCM's Online PR Degree Named Most Affordable Program by OnlineU

Anyone who is seeking an affordable Public Relations degree from a nationally recognized academic program, may want to consider the University of Central Missouri. The academic rankings organization OnlineU has designated UCM #1 on its list of colleges and universities that offer the Most Affordable Online Public Relations Degrees.

OnlineU points to an annual tuition rate of $7,748 as the key factor in ranking UCM at the top of its list of 10 PR programs from across the United States. UCM, which houses a PR-SA-certified Bachelor of Science in Public Relations and Strategic Communication within the Harmon College of Business and Professional Studies, was one of only two Missouri public comprehensive institutions that made the list.

In announcing these rankings, OnlineU noted that an online bachelor's degree in Public Relations is ideal for students who are interested in careers in media, marketing, consumer services, and/or technology. Students who pursue this type of degree can expect to develop skills in writing, public speaking, researching and social media. In pursuit of their degree, students also are often required to complete a capstone course before they graduate, and they will gain real-life experiences through a PR internship.

In order for an institution to be included in the OnlineU rankings, a college or university must have fully online degrees and meet degree requirements for the ranking. Institutions also must be accredited and meet online student representation requirements. OnlineU ranks each institution after manually researching online tuition.

UCM's B.S. in Public Relations and Strategic Communication offers a Public Relations online degree option through the Office of Online and Learning Engagement. Individuals who are interested can enroll part time or full time beginning the fall, spring or summer, and they can take all online courses to finish their bachelor's degree in Public Relations. The program is especially well-suited for transfer and transition students.

UCM's online B.S. degree is a 120-hour program. Core courses for this major include Design and Layout, Writing and Editing and Advanced PR Writing, Special Topics in Public Relations – Entertainment PR, and Global Sports PR. All of these classes are taught by seasoned faculty members who have professional experience in their subject areas, and are experts in strategy and theory.

Students in UCM's Public Relations program are part of an academic area where they can expect to find employment once they graduate. Statistics show that 97 percent of the university's PRSC majors are able to find a job in within their academic field or a related area of interest, or go on to pursue graduate study within six months after completing their degrees. UCM's program also is nationally recognized. During the past two years, the university's PR and Strategic Communications program has been named to the PRNews Education A-List, a designation given to the top programs in the nation.

"UCM's program value is among the best. It's one of the most hands-on, applied programs in the country and it amplifies students' educations by training them to become true strategists," said Tricia Hansen-Horn, Ph.D., professor and coordinator of the B.S. in Public Relations and Strategic Communication program. "Our online program can accommodate students from all states and around the world; we support them through one-to-one mentorships and advising. We're happy to welcome online students to the UCM Public Relations and Strategic Communication program."

While UCM's Public Relations Program was listed as #1 for Most Affordable Online Degrees in Public Relations, several additional programs were named to the top 10 in other categories for Salary Score and Affordability. These programs include master's degrees in the academic areas of Nutrition, Psychology, Sports Management, Cybersecurity, Aviation, Communications, Secondary Education, and Library Science, as well as the Emergency Management program.

Learn more about UCM's Public Relations online degree by contacting Brenda Fuhr, manager of student transition and engagement at UCM-Lee's Summit, at 660-543-8252 or fuhr@ucmo.edu or Dr. Tricia Hansen Horn, professor and coordinator of the B.S. in Public Relations and Strategic Communication, at 660-543-8635 or hansen-horn@ucmo.edu.

Summer Music Camp & Piano Institute to Celebrate Camp Anniversary with Recitals

The 2023 University of Central Missouri Summer Music Camp and Piano Institute will celebrate the 35th anniversary of the Piano Institute with three recitals, including a solo concert by UCM Distinguished Alumna Dr. Carolyn True. All programs will take place in Hart Recital Hall, located in the Utt Music Building, and they are free and open to the public.

True is an internationally renowned concert pianist, master teacher, and UCM Music Distinguished Alumna. Having attended UCM's former lab school for many years as a youth, she received her Bachelor of Music degree from UCM, then known as Central Missouri State University, as a student of her father, Dr. Wesley True. She then went on to receive graduate degrees at the University of Maryland and the Eastman School of Music with her aunt, Nelita True. She is a prize-winning faculty member of Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, and is the featured guest artist at this year's UCM Music Camp.

Providing an opportunity for the public to enjoy live music performances, the first of three programs kicks off at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 11, and will feature camp alumni including Sally Kirchhoff and Angela Smith, David and Denise Robinson, Tammy Spratley, Khang Nguyen, and Colin Levins. The second program begins at 7 p.m. Sunday, and will feature True in a solo performance. Scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, June 12, the third program will feature UCM Music Camp faculty members for a presentation that includes a mixture of traditional instruments, electronics, and toy piano, as well as performances by True, Eric Honour, Mia Kim, Alex Smith, Jackson Thomas, and Stella Roden.

The UCM (then Central Missouri State College Summer Music Camp was founded in 1964 and ran continuously until going on hiatus in the mid-2000s. The UCM Summer Piano Institute was founded in 1988 by emeriti members of the Department of Music, Dr. Wesley True and Dr. Richard Smith. Together, these camps have provided music education for thousands of students, many of whom went on to become professional music educators and performers. A new era in the camp history is observed in 2023 with the campus being rebranded as a single music camp. Fifty students from across Missouri will be studying with 17 faculty members from June 10-16.

For more information, contact camp director Dr. Mia Kim at mkim@ucmo.edu or 660-543-8900.

Clinton Airport Regional Director Fields Questions

BY LUKE EDWARDS
Staff Reporter

The Clinton City Council met in open session June 6 at City Hall. Councilman Austin Jones was absent. Following roll call, the Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the previous meeting's minutes were approved. There were no personal appearances.

Joel Long, the new Clinton Regional Airport Manager, reported to the council. His report was brief and more introductory in nature. Mr. Long reported that he was excited for the new projects to get started (the runway and new terminal project) and that he was available for questions at any time. "The airport is nice, well kept, well funded, and moving forward," he said. "Things are really looking up at the airport."

Councilman Cameron Jackson gave the Public Works Committee report. He reported that a storm sewer box (which had collapsed at Third and Jefferson Streets) has been repaired at a minimal cost. Waste Water is waiting for the backfill to settle before pouring concrete.

Resolution 07-2023 was approved by the council. The resolution pertains to the Clinton Square seal coating and striping project. Plans for the project include the parking for the courthouse (the City of Clinton has met with the Parking spaces on the square will be wider and it is a multiple day project, but will be done in phases so as to not disrupt all traffic flow on the square at one time. "There will be inconveniences, but not large ones," reported City Administrator Christy Maggi.

The council approved pursuing a grant to develop an action plan pertaining to the Safe Streets and Roads project. There will be an estimated contribution of the city of about $40,000 City Council Page 18

Clinton Healthcare Spotlight Resident of the Month Stanley Brown

Anna Pearl taught their children to never see color as everyone was equal in God's eyes. However, some of the community didn't see it this way.

Stanley attended an all-black school his 1st grade year in Clinton. He was the pt black to attend the integrated school his 2nd grade year in Lincoln. At a young age he started working to help support his large family doing odd jobs like mowing yards and dish-washing. Children wouldn't invite him or allow him to attend classmate's birthday parties due to his color. That is until Maria. Stanley will never forget that she was the first girl to ever invite him to a birthday party.

At 11 he was the 1st and only African American to be an Eagle Scout from Clinton Missouri. He also became a member of the 2nd Baptist church of Clinton. Which later became Save Our World Ministries where his brother Pastor. Stanley graduated from Clinton High School. After high school he decided to attend college in Warrensburg, Mo. Stanley's love for music was his motivation behind his music major. The dorm life was one big party which Stanley was not interested in. During his 2 1/2 years he was named Master of Ceremonies. Unfortunately, between the wild parties around him and the bullying and disownment from his fellow black community for "acting to white" Stanley had enough and dropped out of college and moved back to Clinton.

Stanley did attend John Casablanca's school of modeling on the Plaza of Kansas City. At a contest he took pt place in the sexiest contest. He again was the only African American in the contest and beat out ten other contestants. Stanley has accomplished many things in his 73 years including polit lessons to digging worms to modeling. He even owned an antique store. There's not much he hasn't done. He was voted Henry County Young Democrat State Administrative Vice President where he met Bob Hope and got his autograph. Stanley was also the first African American to be the director of the Henry County Fair Parade. "Children in Wonderland" was the theme. Stanley was able to get Jane Froman who was a famous actress and singer from Clinton area to make an appearance. As well as Clinton's Mayor and Missouri Governor Kit Bond, two Playboy bunnies and Miss Missouri joined the parade ceremonies.

Stanley has never married nor had any desire to have children after helping to raise his nine other siblings. He never really knew exactly what he wanted to do so he did a little of everything. God and Jesus were his champion and he enjoyed being a Christian. Stanley's advice to the younger generation is they need more Jesus. If they cared more about other people, there wouldn't be so many violent shootings. Stanley says we need to put God first into our country and school systems. Stanley is such a kind loving soul, and we are so blessed to have him at Clinton Healthcare and Rehabilitation.

HAPPY SUMMER

Clinton Christian Academy Begins New Program

A recent addition to the program options is a new "Strength & Conditioning" course offered this summer for students in grades 6-12.

Clinton Christian Academy (CCA), currently in its 23rd year of operation, has experienced a huge amount of growth in enrollment in recent years. Traditionally a K-8 school, the expansion to include high school grades 9-12 has led to opportunities to gradually expand our course offerings and extra-curricular programs for students in our upper school (grades 6-12). A recent addition to our program options is a new "Strength & Conditioning" course offered this summer for students in grades 6-12. The Strength & Conditioning course is led by David Batschelett with the help of Gerard Wombles. Batschelett, a Clinton native, has Athletics and Fitness Association of America (AFAA) Certification with extensive experience as a group fitness instructor.

Upper school students in grades 6-12 have the option of participating in the new Strength and Conditioning program four days per week this summer and will continue to be offered during the school year. The primary goals of the program are to get kids faster and stronger, more flexible and more injury resistant. Instruction is focused on a variety of exercises including lower body workouts, upper body workouts, cardio workouts and flexibility work. The ultimate goal as the strength & conditioning program develops is that students will be able to compete in some weight lifting competitions later in the school year.

The Strength & Conditioning program is currently held in the gym, with the desire to build a weight room sometime in the future when the Lord provides. As with any new program, CCA is currently gathering supplies/equipment to be utilized with this new course. The following supplies/equipment would be helpful in facilitating this new course: pull up bar, plyometric boxes, jump ropes, yoga/stretching mats, resistance bands, medicine balls, dumbbells, kettlebells, benches, squat/power rack, Olympic bar, Olympic trap bar, and Olympic weights. Anyone who is interested in making financial donations or donations of fitness equipment should contact Dave Batschelett at (314) 584-0555 or email Dave at dbats1969@gmail.com.

Clinton Christian Academy Senior Trip

CCA SENIORS spent time on River Street in Savannah, GA and Tybee Island.

By Audrey Higgins

On Tuesday, May 2nd, four Clinton Christian Academy seniors, along with two chaperones (Becky Hyke and Casey Higgins), took off to Statesboro, Georgia. The main focus of this trip was to spread the word of God. The seniors handed out tracts on River Street in Savannah, Georgia. In the tracts was information about our school and our mission. The tract explained that mankind are sinners and that we must repent and have a relationship with the Lord in order to be saved. The seniors also collected donated items from the CCA school families and created home-less kits for distribution to individuals that needed them. Seniors and chaperones passed the kits out all throughout the trip.

While in Georgia the seniors participated in several acts of service. On Wednesday, the seniors worked in a food pantry supported by Christian Social Ministries. Christian Social Ministries (CSM) is run by John Long. Mr. Long is the father of CCA's Upper School Principal, Becky Hyke. CSM supports a food pantry, furniture store, thrift store and many other ministries. The CCA seniors packed over 150 sacks with non-perishable food items while serving with CSM. The food pantry distributes bags every Monday free of charge while always offering to pray for those who come.

The seniors and chaperones also worked for Fostering Bulloch at the 7th Mile Ranch in Statesboro, Georgia. Fostering Bulloch has many ministry opportunities, such as holding summer camps for foster children in hopes of finding a loving family for them.

CCA seniors served at the 7th Mile Farm (Fostering Bulloch) in various ways including dismantling an old car, and painting a check-board design on the top of a school bus. This school bus and old car will be used at the summer camps and in local parades. Aside from service projects, the seniors spent time on River Street in Savannah, GA and Tybee Island.

On the final leg of their seven day trip, the seniors traveled to Benton, Tennessee and stayed for two nights where they white water rafted, kayaked, and paddle boarded on Lake Ocoee. Seniors worked hard raising money all year long in order to have this special trip together in which to serve. Senior Audrey Higgins shared, "Even though we had to work hard on our trip, it was fun and we got to fellowship with everybody!" Senior Devoney Conner stated, "It was a very informative and fun trip!". Upper School Principal, Becky Hyke, knew God had used this trip in a very special way when she asked the senior girls what they would advise next year's seniors regarding their plans for next year's trip and their immediate response was "Next year's seniors should do the exact same thing!"

LOOKING BACK

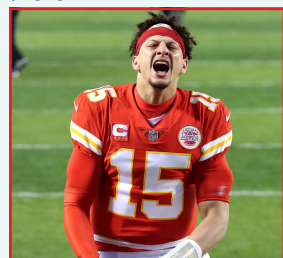

with Guest Sports Reporter
TIM KOMER

KC CHIEFS Owner Lamar Hunt and his Head Coach, Hank Stram celebrated the organization's first Super Bowl win in 1969.

Looking Back: The Joy of Sports

The Chiefs' Super Bowl win in 2022 was pure joy for the Kingdom. The big parade was something else also. I bet many of you made the trip to the city to watch the parade or watched it on TV, as I did. Remember Kelce's, "You've got to fight, for your right, to party!" Personally, I can't remember the last time someone tried to stop me from partying. But, I also can't remember the last time I 'partied'. Sad, huh? The Chiefs winning was a joyous occasion, that is for sure. Joyous is more than happy. Joyous finds grown men skipping and old people dancing. It finds fans giving high-fives to total strangers. As KC fans we have been there.

A RETURN TO GLORY, quarterback Patrick Mahomes has helped to deliver 2 Super Bowl wins for the Chiefs in the last 4 seasons.

A review of KC sports celebrations: The big celebrations have been the Chiefs' Super Bowl victories in 1969, 2019, and 2022. Add the Royals winning the World Series in 1985 and 2015. But also add, Sporting KC winning titles in 2000 and 2013. In the real old days, the Monarchs won the Negro League title in 1924 and '42. Maybe a forgotten team, the FC Kansas City, won the NWSL title in 2014 and '15. This soccer team became the KC Current in 2020 and they got close to a title in '22. A hockey note, the KC Mavericks (the longest-continuous professional hockey team in KC) won the Brabham Cup in 2015. So, there have been many KC celebrations, big and small.

Let's pause and think of a few non-sports joyous moments. Such as: getting your first car, first kiss, graduating from HS or college. The birth of your children, paying off a big loan, right?

Back to sports: If you played sports, or your children did, you probably have more sport-related joyous moments beyond the Chiefs or Royals. Such as, a game-winning hit, making a winning shot, scoring the winning goal, or making a game-saving tackle. You know, when the moment lifted you up. More than just happy, but joyful. You were 'big' happy and you were willing to let it show. You didn't care who was watching. We usually think of sports' joyful moments being connected to winning. But, let me be philosophical for a minute, joyful moments do not have to be connected to winning. Examples: The smile on your child's face after they made varsity for the first time. Such memories may still touch your heart, even if you do not jump or skip. The son that would spend hours in their room shaping their ballcap, or glove. A child practicing their post-score celebrations in the living room. Your daughter's smiling face the first time she made a 'real' slide into second base. Playing a fun game

Family First Mentality For Wishard Sisters Leads To Success On Fields

Clinton's Gentry and Briley Wishard, daughters of Brian and Angie Wishard, are both dynamic athletes.

Gentry, a 2018 graduate of Clinton High School, was a standout for Lady Cardinals athletics. Upon her graduation from CHS, she took her talents just up the road to Warrensburg where she continued her softball playing career for the Jennies. Gentry graduated from UCM in 2021 and is now continuing her career in the Clinton School District.

Briley, the "little" sister, will be starting her senior year at Clinton High School in the fall as a member of the Class of 2024. In her first three years for the Lady Cardinals, she has garnered many honors and awards and will, undoubtedly, add to that collection in her senior campaign.

Through the beauty of technology, I visited with both Gentry and Briley about playing sports while growing up and some of their memories.

OS: What is your earliest sports related memory?

Gentry: My earliest sports memory is a humbling moment. In the 4th grade, a group of friends decided to start a softball team together. After our first practice concluded my mom picked me up and I instantly started to cry and state how I was the worst person on the team. My mom's response was "Only you can change that". After that, I cannot begin counting the hours my father spent with me in our backyard working to improve my softball ability. After I began to understand the basics, I grew an interest in pitching. My dad warned me about the amount of work that was required. I was still eager to learn. After that, the rest was history.

Briley: My earliest sports memory is getting woke up at 4:00 in the morning to go to my sister, Gentry's softball games. One week I would travel to Kansas City for a tournament and the next I would go to Colorado or Oklahoma for another tournament. As for a sports memory of myself I remember where it all started, which was t-ball. My dad was the coach for my team and I remember how I ended up with a bunch of my friends that year. I thought that my team was going to be so good (the best actually). My uniform would consist of knee-high socks that would be mismatched, my sleeves rolled up, and a visor. I was prepared and ready for the games. The best part of the games what being able to hit the ball. I would get up to the plate and run all the way around the bases. I guess my competitive edge doesn't change with age.

OS: How do you all inspire each other when it comes to sports?

Gentry: My sister Briley inspires me more than she knows. At a young age, she was naturally more athletic than I ever could be. When she began to show an interest in softball I knew it would be in due time before she would be a person I could practice with. Her competitive edge and work ethic pushed me to continually improve, even when I was approaching my last years as a collegiate athlete. After athletics, Briley still pushes me. Whether it is going for a walk or just continuing to stay active, she is always up for a good challenge and I can never say no, even though I am more than likely to lose now.

Briley: Gentry has inspired me from a young age. Since there is an age gap between us I remember going to her softball games. I was not like other siblings at these games. They would go play on the playgrounds or around the sports complexes. I, on the other hand, would sit in a lawn chair up next to the fence, or be in charge of the scoreboard. If there was a way to be involved in a game I was there. Being able to grow up at a softball field has taught and shown me many things that have helped me be the person I am today.

OS: Have sports always been of interest to you? Gentry: Sports have always been of interest to me, but not because of the sport itself. The reason I found my passion in softball was the opportunities it provided me. I was able in the rain or snow, sliding in the mud. When your T-baller was all smiles waiting for the post-game treat (not even knowing who won the game). The day your child came home and told you the coach gave them a special compliment.

My kiddos had many joyous celebrations from winning, but the very special ones for me were the 'For the Love of the Game' kind. Please think of some of your own.

Don't get me wrong winning is fun and clearly a very important goal to strive for, but not at the expense of joy. I still remember the fun I had when I was picked for a baseball All-Star team. (I have no memory of how we did. It was the joy of being there. For the Love of the game.) It's the feeling of doing your best, being a part of a team. The pride and joy of winning the 'Most Improve Award' (not the MVP award). Walking off the field knowing you did your best. Loving the process, including practices. Loving the small moments.

I have asked many student-athletes what they remember most about their high school sports career. The answer is seldom about a game-winning shot or a walk-off hit. Many reply: "The goofiness on the bus coming back home from an away game. -"The music we played in the locker room before the games, we would sing and dance like rock stars." - "The time we played a prank on the coach." - "When a senior took the time to help me after practice."

So, cherish the moments that bring pure joy to sports and your life. If you are still jumping up and down over the Chiefs' win you may want to take a break, and sit in your easy chair, but keep the smile on your face and dream about 2023. The Chiefs just might repeat, but the Royals seem to be taking another year off (humor). Until next time.

to spend quality time with my dad and I now realize how lucky I was. From the age of 10, I got to spend at least an hour every night with my dad. Even though some of those moments weren't easy they are ones I treasure dearly. As I got older softball gave me friendships, the ability to travel to new places, teach life lessons, and continue to humble myself. Yes, sports itself is interesting but the memories, opportunities, and growth it provides is something that is hard to come by.

Briley: Sports have always been an interest to me and have been a part of my life. From one sport to another whether it be softball, basketball, and now track and field. There have been many sports that I have been involved in and now have either grown out of or figured out that they are not meant for me. Honestly, without sports, I do not know what my life would be like. I have grown up with them my whole life and they have become a part of me.

This Is A Cemetery

Lives are commemorated – deaths are recorded – families are reunited – memories are made tangible – and love is undisguised. This is a cemetery.

Communities accord respect, families bestow reverence, historians seek information and our heritage is thereby enriched.

Testimonies of devotion, pride and remembrance are carved in stone to pay warm tribute to accomplishments and to the life – not death – of a loved one. The cemetery is homeland for family memorials that are a sustaining source of comfort to the living.

A cemetery is a history of people – a perpetual record of yesterday and a sanctuary of peace and quiet today. A cemetery exists because every life is worth loving and remembering – always.

Calhoun UMC

Welcome to the Good News from Calhoun United Methodist. We are a diverse group of folk pleased to gather in fellowship and love, to praise the Lord with church family and guests. We ring the church bell at 9:45 to call the "flock" to 10:00 Worship. We extend our Sympathy and Christian love to the family and friends of Linda Browning who passed into the arms of Jesus recently. We ask for prayers for our church and congregation as we take a hard look at what God has in mind for us next. Joys to celebrate: We praised God for much needed rain this morning. Carol Lane was thankful that she has been able to work in her garden and be present in church these last few weeks. The Colwells have enjoyed having their son Jeff visiting from Texas. There was a good turnout for the Harvesters food drop Friday serving nearly 200 families. With school being out there were several young folks who volunteered to help with this worthwhile endeavor. There will be a celebration of life and interment service for Helen and Ray Reynolds, former Calhoun residents at the Calhoun Cemetery Saturday, June 17th at 10:30 a.m. Linda Hawkins was our visitor today.

We welcome visitors any Sunday morning for worship, come dressed as you are comfortable, bring the youngsters and be prepared to receive a blessing for your effort. We are a Concerned and Praying church if you find yourself in need of prayer we encourage you to join us any Sunday morning. We will be blessed by your presents.

Drakes Chapel UMC

There is a place in the valley in the wildwoods, no lovelier place in the dale. This beautiful place of worship is the Drake's Chapel United Methodist Church, located 5 miles East of Clinton off 52 Hwy. Look for our sign near the highway.

The tranquility of this grand old church is only second to the love of the Lord and the peace you will find in this Holy place.

Pastor Margie attended the Missouri Annual Conference on June 9-11th in St. Charles, MO. Kelli Jenkins, Lay Speaker from the Clinton United Methodist Church filled in for Margie and bright, as always, a wonderful message. Today's message was from Romans 13:25, "The Magic Pencil." If you had a magic pencil, what more would you draw into your life. We need a whole lot more Jesus and His love than anything else.

We would love to have you join us next week, either in person or online at 8:30. Wishing you all God's richest blessings this week so each of us can be a blessing to others.

First Baptist

Pastor Pat began his series of 'Ears to Hear', which a message entitled 'Parable of the Soils'. After sharing the first parable from the gospel of Luke, in which Jesus described the story of the famer distributing seeds, Pastor Pat defined the word 'parable' as meaning 'to throw alongside'. Jesus' parables teach, delight and move by revealing truth to those who have ears to hear. In the parable of the farmer, Jesus is the farmer throwing the seeds of the word, as we are called by Him to do. However, parables reveal the condition of our hearts, so it is our job to simply love people and spread the seeds. When the seed takes root in a heart, the power is life transforming.

Vacation Bible School will be held July 16th-21st. Children's and youth camps are also approaching, and more information can be found at www.firstbaptistclintonchurch.com. Worship services are held at 8:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. For more information, please contact the church office at 660-885-2211.

We invite those without a church home to join us in worship of our Lord & Savior, Jesus Christ. First Baptist Church exists to fulfill the Great Commission (Matthew 28:19-20) by loving people into a growing relationship with Jesus Christ.

Mt. Calvary

Apostolic Pentecostal

"Because of Your Imporunity"

Jesus wants us to come before God. There is a difference between need and want.

Need: is a necessity for life; food, water, shelter, clothes, and medical care.

Want: is unnecessary, but desired things; designer clothes, and expensive gadgets.

Some people want to have material things to keep up with the Jones.

Luke 11:8. (KJV)

Imporunity means to urge or beg with troublesome persistence.

Although the men were friends, the man in bed would not get up at midnight to give his friend bread, but because of the man's persistence, and his need, this was reason enough for the man to get out of bed and give as much bread to him that was needed. It's not what is wanted, but what is needed.

Luk 11:9-11. (KJV)

No matter what you need, it is ok to ask the Lord. There are times when you ask for things, God is waiting for us to get in the right position and humble ourselves.

He doesn't want us to approach him with pride, as he owes us something. Our approach must be respectful and humble.

The urgency of our need humbled our approach significantly when God doesn't answer right away.

God doesn't mind you asking, come to him and ask.

Luk 18:1-5. (KJV)

We pray for a reason, and we give God the glory. We are his elect. The burdens we carry should keep coming before him in prayer. He will take care of us. Remain faithful and persistent in prayer.

When someone asks you for something it is because they need to. If a person needs prayer, and they ask for it, pray for them. If they ask every week, pray for them every week. The prayers carry them through.

Keep your focus on eternal things, not material things. In Luke 10:38-40 Mary was sitting at the feet of Jesus listening to him. Martha was concerned about getting the food prepared and wanted Mary to get up and help.

Luk 10:41-42.

Keeping our focus on our eternity should be our number one priority. God Bless.

Trinity Lutheran

Congratulations to David and Laura Henny on the occasion of their 39th Wedding Anniversary this past week. God's blessings!

Does a person who is a Christian attend church regularly? Of course!

A person who has faith in Jesus wants to go to church. Church is where the Holy Spirit has promised to meet us to impart and strengthen faith in us through the preaching of the Word and Gospel and the administration of the sacraments of Holy Baptism and The Lord's Supper. A person who has faith in Jesus and the Holy Spirit living within their hearts wants to attend church as often as possible.

Is a person who is a Christian baptized? Absolutely!

Martin Luther said, "There is on earth no greater comfort than baptism. Luther admitted that when he was in distress of affliction and anxiety, he comforted himself by repeating, "I am baptized! I am baptized! In so doing, Luther reminded himself that he is a child of the Triune God. How comforting it is to know that through our Baptism, God has claimed us as His own.

Remember your baptism daily. In doing so, we all are reminded who we are...and whose we are. Whenever you are tempted, discouraged, spiritually distressed, or in doubt about your faith in any way, keep in mind the words of Luther: "The only way to drive away the Devil is through faith in Christ, by saying: "I have been baptized. I am a Christian." I am a child of God. I am baptized. I believe in Jesus Christ crucified for me." Amen.

It was another glorious day to worship the Lord. Clint Keeney rang the church bell. Mrs. Julia Klinefelter led in the congregational singing with Mrs. Dixie Collins playing piano. We rejoiced with Jarod and Jamie Crump on their wedding anniversary. Charles Forbes and Clint Keeney collected the offering.

The scripture passage from Pastor Chad Pollett's sermon was from John 9: 1-12. In this passage Jesus sees a man who was blind from birth and healed him. The religious leaders were still not happy with Jesus and were trying to find ways to arrest him. Jesus said in verse 5 "While I am in the world, I am the light of the world." As Christians we can be a light to others and share God's plan of salvation. Have a blessed week.

Valley Center United

We are an open and affirming church and welcome all to come and worship with us on Sunday morning!

We celebrated the confirmation and confession of faith for three new members today! Madison Hughes and Emily and Isaac Neuenschwander completed their Catechism class and made the important decision to join God's church. We saw God's grace at work as these young people professed their desire to follow the path of leadership and love that Jesus taught.

In our sermon today, it reminded us that Jesus did not just talk about what to do, but he went out to teach, heal and to actually do what he was talking about. His healing was more than physical, it was a spiritual healing as well. He showed the people what love is all about.

After our confession of faith and our covenant with God, we may ask ourselves, what do we do? What is next for me? What does God expect of me?

If we read the scriptures, it is Jesus who tells us what comes next and what we are to do. It reads that we are to go out to teach and show others of his love and grace. We are to be humble, to serve, help and protect others just as he would do.

When we accept the path that Jesus set for us, we confirm our belief that we are the people that he has created. In his name we go forth and take along his grace and be his witnesses to the world. We are not to just talk about doing, but to actually do it!

We come together, not as perfect people, but also as our own essence in the presence of God and as a reflection of our calling of that perfect person that God sees in us. Our faith has made us well.

We send God's blessings and his powerful grace to all of the people. Amen.

a camp counselor at Girl Scout Camp Sacajawea in Iowa.

For the Clinton job, she had to be re-certified as a shallow water lifeguard, which she did on June 6. She also needs to become a certified pool operator, Pam said, but has a maintenance person and managers who are certified in that area.

In mid-May, Pam and her husband bought and moved into a house a mile and half from the center, at 1002 E. Sedalia Ave., so Pam plans to commute by bicycle. Her husband is commuting to the Independence area, where he's helping open a new Cargo Largo outlet.

While she was at Sugar Creek Parks and Recreation, Pam said the department opened a disc-golf course, and had "disc-golf dogs" performing tricks at the opening event. In April, they held a kite festival that drew more than 3,000 people, she said.

"It was amazing to see families enjoying the outdoors" she said.

When she was at the senior center, she organized a winter-wonderland birthday party in the domed-roof pool. The party was, she said, "complete with a snowball fight."

ish's art took the form of sketches of her children, showing what they were doing, in letters to her mother, which her mother saved and gave back to her.

Gallery Three, at 137 S. Washington, welcomes volunteers interested in becoming part of the local art community, including people pursuing art as a "third age" passion. A former physical education teacher, Reggie Cornell became passionate about art when she retired, Trish said, painting all day and sometimes into the night.

Gallery Three is hosting this year's Ike Parker Memorial Art Show, June 30 and July 1, at the DeLozier Building, 203 W. Franklin. The judged show has three divisions — professional, amateur and high school — with cash prizes in five categories: photography, painting, drawing, sculpture and mixed media — plus best of show and people's choice. Entry forms are available at Gallery Three or online.

Gallery Three is looking for volunteers to move pegboards down the street and set up for the Ike Parker Show during Olde Glory Days. Parker was a regional artist who recorded local landmarks in Henry County and captured scenes of rural life and farming in earlier times. This is the 26th year of the Ike Parker Memorial Art Show, which is free to the public.

This is the 30th year for Olde Glory Days, Clinton's Independence Day celebration on the Square. Held on the weekend closest to the Fourth of July, this year's OGD is Thursday, June 29, through Sunday, July 2, and includes the Grand Parade at 10 a.m. Saturday, free outdoor concerts on the courthouse lawn Friday and Saturday evenings and fireworks on Sunday at 9:30 p.m. OGD also has free entertainment on the courthouse lawn, plus a puppet show at the Henry County Museum annex and a stage production at Heartland Community Theatre, both on July 1. A carnival and food vendors set up on the streets around the Square. Go to Olde Glory Days Facebook for more information.

who began the clean up of the vandalism. He said he found it reassuring, especially in light of the fact that grace and compassion seem a little hard to come by these days.

As a final note, Fire Chief Mark Manuel is concerned that the dead fuel moisture level might be too low to shoot fireworks off come late June through early July. "It is contingent on measurable rain," he said. "Ideally, the dead fuel moisture content should be 15% - 20%; right now it is at 6%." The situation is being monitored (pray for rain folks), but just in case fire works are too dangerous to shoot off because of a high burn hazard, there are plans to move it to a later date and the Olde Glory Days committee is aware of the situation. Of further note, Chief Mark Manuel clarified that the city does not have "burn bans" but, rather, burn restrictions. The language is in-line with state regulations.

The Clinton City Council adjourned to closed session at 7:06 p.m. television series, and drawings for three BMX bicycles provided by the Truman Lake Moose Lodge.

Robert Minks, Skipper's brother, and Nicolas Fickle, both of Clinton, sported "Clinton Bike Fest" T-shirts, and were on hand to help with Bike Fest.

Daniel Dahlquist came from Galena, Ill., for Bike Fest. Daniel is a poet who restores bicycles that have ties to American and bicycle history. On his virtual museum website, dahlquistcycleworks.com, he has an article and photos of bicycles he restored called "Story of America in 2 Bicycles."

His next focus is an article Washington Post columnist Sally Jenkins wrote about riding a yellow bicycle, the only transportation she could find, through the streets of New York after the Twin Towers disaster. Published on Sept. 11, 2021, the article, "Beneath 9/11's Terrible Smoke, a Flash of Gold" describes the experience.

The yellow Schwinn bicycle reminds us that our shared humanity can and will survive in the midst of unspeakable cruelty, he said.

CHARLIE DIXON, a Clinton bicycle collector, had his high-wheeler, a Penny Farthing, at Bike Fest.

JIM LEEMHUIS of Smithtown brought a Schwinn Sting-Ray Lil Tiger to Saturday's Bike Fest.

ish said.

The space had been a surplus store five years ago, and people still come in and look around, surprised, Trish said. Instead of dusty merchandise, they see a collection of colorful landscapes — oil, acrylic and watercolors — and other fine art.

"It's all Missouri art," Trish said. "The farthest we have is from artists who live in Smithville and St. Charles."

In the summer, the gallery draws more people from out of town than locals, Trish said — the guest book holds signatures from visitors all over the Midwest, and the country. Trish opens the gallery at 11 a.m. Wednesdays through Saturdays, and the gallery participates in all the Main Street events—Wine Stroll, Quilt Walk, etc. — and makes prints of artwork to sell during sidewalk sales.

Gallery Three also holds art classes — Susan Sanders, who has a studio in Clinton, is holding a two-part class this month. Every Wednesday, people are invited to bring an art project they are working on and sit around the table in back and visit while they work.

Artists pay five dollars a month to have a piece displayed at Gallery Three, Trish said, and pay a commission when the work is sold. Anyone with a connection to Missouri is eligible to have arts exhibited at the gallery, she said.

It's hard to hang art on their apartment walls, Trish said, so the back wall of the gallery holds the Meyers' art collection. Tr-to $50,000 for the plan development. The project includes things like bike and pedestrian lanes; the implementation grant for the project will be pursued in the future.

Core sampling for the Hillcrest and OakStar Drive project were taken recently. The order of the project's completion will include also completing the pool parking area. The council approved the three street closing requests related to Olde Glory Days events.

At Parks and Rec, the Artesian Pool House is coming along with about 90% of the electrical work is complete; there is still a rubble pile which needs to be cleared away (city staff will do that), and the Hurt Park Project cannot start until the Artesian Pool Project is done (because it is the same contractor doing the work).

The Swim Report for the opening weekend (Memorial Day weekend) indicated lower numbers (understandably — the Artesian outdoor pool is not open yet); the location for a drainage line was moved there as well.

Final bid documents are being prepared for the Waste Water Treatment Plant Improvement Project and the Calvird Pump Station repairs have been completed. Public Works recommended waiting for the correct pump to be delivered so the upper level pump could be repaired. The city is waiting for the final version of the Waste Water Treatment Plant permit renewal so it can go into effect. Also, the new Waste Water Plant manager was hired (John Patriarca) and started June 1.

The city council approved the bid from Midwest Drain and Sewer ($20,000) for targeted sewer repairs that were identified from the sewer camera monitors, and the remote monitoring controls for the Calvird, Deer Creek and Montgomery Pump Stations are being installed this week.

The city council will probably keep the Dangerous Buildings Commission intact. The next property that the body may monitor is the burned home at Fourth and Jefferson Streets. The final item Councilman Jackson reported was that, due to concerns about the stalling of the local Socket Fiber project, that the previous project manager has a serious illness which created the delay. A new project superintendent has been assigned and work should pick back up where left off.

The Public Safety report was given by Councilman Gene Henry. Councilman

Henry said that the ARPA grants for the fire extinguisher trainer and the cardiac monitor (both for the Clinton Fire Department) are still in progress. Also, the council approved that 30 SCBA air cylinders, not compatible with the Clinton Fire Department's current equipment, be declared surplus property and donated to the other county fire departments of which they are compatible with. Councilman Henry also reported that a new police officer (Wyatt Bernard) graduated from the police academy and will start immediately.

Councilman Daniel Wilson gave the Finance Committee report. The council approved the employee holiday leave policy which has been done for the last several years. Employees will be able to use 16 hours of floating leave time not otherwise scheduled as time off (for flexibility among departments). A special council session was scheduled for June 30 at noon so that the new road for the airport terminal bids could be approved with time to submit the project (to get the grant). It was also reported that a work order has been placed to repair the street lights at Second and Jefferson Streets. For now, the lights for all intersections will flash red and act as a four-way stop.

Mayor Carla Moberly reported that a replacement has been found for long-time Aquatics Director Ann Drury, "We will miss her, but have happily been able to find someone to take her place." She also said she was continually amazed at how city employees and department heads are able to come up with novel ways to save the city money, City Administrator Christy Maggi had no report. A survey will be sent out to the council persons to determine the best date for the council session that is originally intended for the 4th of July.

Before entering closed session, Councilman Jackson praised the Clinton Police Department for the quick capture of the vandals who recently painted obscene and offensive things on several local properties and vehicles. The adolescents were rounded up in less than 24 hours. Councilman Jackson condemned their actions but praised the community for quickly coming together — especially to clean up some of the hurtful messages that would be found especially offensive to some of the residents. "This is the community I know," said Councilman Jackson, speaking about the quick actions of the residents/neighbors

Warns Producers about Hay Scams

The Missouri Department of Agriculture reminds livestock producers to be wary of potential scams involving hay sales. The Department has received reports from producers who paid for hay upfront through a wire transfer, only to have no hay delivered. Dry conditions across much of Missouri has left pastures short and hay scarce, causing many livestock owners to search for hay from outside sources.

"We encourage livestock producers to use extra caution," said Director of Agriculture Chris Chinn. "The vast majority of sellers are legitimate and honest. These few bad actors are taking advantage of a serious situation and hay shortage. Make sure the seller is legitimate before you purchase hay or any other products."

The scams are driven primarily through fake accounts on social media. In most instances, the account appears real and gives no immediate indication of a scam.

Producers are encouraged to keep these tips in mind when looking to purchase hay:

Purchase from someone you know, if possible.

If you do not know the seller, ensure the seller is reputable.

When possible, view the hay in person before any exchange of money. Do not rely on photographs on social media.

Be cautious of any wire money exchange with someone you do not know.

The Missouri Department of Agriculture and MU Extension manage online hay directories, where livestock producers can search for hay made available by other producers. The MDA directory can be filtered by county or state and is regularly maintained by Department staff. The MU Extension hay market listing can be filtered by region of Missouri, hay type and bale type.

If you are the victim of a scam involving hay, contact your local authorities.

State Sen. Sandy Crawford, R-Buffero, announced today two of her main legislative priorities for 2023 have been signed into law by the governor. Senate Bill 13, which included my Senate Bill 12, modifies provisions relating to financial institutions.

"I would like to thank not only the governor for signing Senate Bill 13, but my colleagues for helping to get this measure across the finish line this year," Sen. Crawford said. "This new law is designed to streamline operations at the Missouri Division of Finance and assist banks who offer their own credit cards."

Senate Bill 13 gives the Division of Finance authority to issue useful guidance to the industry and increase consumer lending license fees. In addition, it repeals obsolete laws and it clarifies statutes related to the Division. It also clarifies that financial institutions that issue their own credit cards are allowed to adapt the full terms and conditions of a contiguous states' credit card lending law.

"As someone who spent 30 years in the banking industry, I know how these regulations can affect not only the professionals, but all of us," Sen. Crawford said.

This new law will take effect on Aug. 28.

The Shepherd Calls

LET THE LORD BLESS YOU

For Father's Day my wife took me shopping for a gift. Obviously, it was not going to be a surprise. Earlier she had asked what I wanted, and I said, "I need a pair of pants and a shirt." We quickly found some slacks we both liked; but she continued to look through the racks of trousers. "What are you doing?" I asked.

"I thought I'd get you two pair," she answered. "No, one is enough," I said grumpily. I am not a good shopper. "Let's just find a shirt and go."

It didn't take long to find a shirt. Then, again she continued to look. I was now aware of her game and said firmly, "One shirt and one pair of pants are enough."

Not to be outdone, her eyes fell on the ties. "Oh, look at these," she exclaimed. "You haven't bought a new tie in ages."

"But I don't wear ties as much as I used to," I protested. "No one does." I could see she was determined to get two of something, so we threw in two ties.

Now that I think about it, I am ashamed. My sweet wife wanted to do something nice for me, and I made it difficult for her.

You realize, don't you, that we often respond to God in the same fashion. God has done remarkable things for us. He wants to do even more. The Apostle Paul said God can do "exceedingly, abundantly" more for us than we can even think of asking. (Ephesians 3:20) The reason He doesn't do more is because we are not receptive.

When Moses led God's people out of Egypt, God wanted to give them a promised land, a land "flowing with milk and honey." However, all they wanted was to gripe about losing their Egyptian security, even though that security meant slavery. God wanted to bless them, but they wouldn't let Him.

Jesus wanted to give salvation to His Jewish relatives, but they wouldn't let Him. From the mountain outside the city, Jesus cried, "Oh, Jerusalem, I wanted to gather you like a hen gathers chicks under her wing; but you would not." (Matthew 23:37)

Be assured God wants to pour His blessings on you. Don't make it difficult. Let the Lord bless and keep you.
