Area Residents Grateful For It All! Good, Bad & Ugly Of Thanksgiving

By

Thanksgiving is traditionally a time to gather together with family and friends to give thanks for all of the many blessings. Every family has their own traditions which usually involve a wonderful dinner, but then sometimes the perfect dinner is filled with problems.

WHS math teacher Amy Spunaugle recalled a Thanksgiving catastrophe.

"One year my mom put the Thanksgiving ham out on the picnic table to thaw and our dog ate it," said Spunaugle.

She didn't recall what they ate instead.

"Thanksgiving 2016 and we had sold our home and were in the process of moving into a duplex for seven months until we both retired," said Beth Halsey.

"We were to turn the house over to the new family on the Monday after Thanksgiving. They called and asked if it were possible to move that day to the Friday after Thanksgiving because they had both sets of parents coming and wanted to show off their new home and have help with moving. We agreed and spent all Thanksgiving day packing, moving and cleaning. We finished at 9:30 PM and all the restaurants were closed.

LOOKING FORWARD to a memorable Thanksgiving, Raven Caswell and her son Van shopped for Thursday's dinner. Caswell said 25 family members will gather at her grandmother's farm.

It wasn't turkey and all the trimmings, but that Big Mac meal never tasted so good! We were thankful for McDonald's in addition to our other blessings!"

WHS English teacher Amanda Adler recalled a special Thanksgiving dinner when she was in charge of the big meal.

"When I was 12, Mom had knee surgery a few days before Thanksgiving so she was on crutches which left my three sisters, little brother and I in charge of the big meal. Mom sat in the living room giving us directions. My sister Amber and I did most of the cooking with the three younger siblings helping. We were pretty proud when we prepared the turkey but when it was time to make dressing and gravy, I couldn't find the giblets. Mom asked if we had taken the package out of the turkey. I asked her, 'Where is the package with the giblets?'"

"Put your hand up the turkey and grab the sack," she said. "We had already baked the turkey so it was hot but I grabbed the sack and pulled it out. We had baked the turkey with the sack of giblets inside of it. It was good anyway. Then when we took the ham out of the oven, Amber exclaimed that it was too hard to cut. Mom hobbled over to the kitchen and explained that we had baked the ham with the wrapper still on it. We peeled it off and it was easy to cut and very delicious."

Mom always said that "You learn by doing!"

"I was working as an EMT at Pettis County Ambulance and I had to work on Thanksgiving day," said Vicky Redwing. "So we had our meal at the station all planned out on what we were fixing and I, in advance before shift, made a BEAUTIFUL pumpkin pie, and you know my family takes pride in what we make, but this pie was absolutely beautiful with

Brewster Chooses Mavericks, Commits To Nebraska-Omaha

By

Like about every other little girl, when she was younger, Brylee Brewster played sports and joined teams so that she could have fun and be with her friends.

After dabbling in tee ball and local youth leagues, she started playing competitive softball at about the age of 8. She started off with the Torque Fastpitch organization and, as is usual, her dad was one of her coaches. Winning kept her going, but it didn't take her long to figure out that she wanted more.

When the trophies weren't enough, as a pre-teen, Brewster joined the Olathe, Kansas based KC Peppers organization. There, she was put on bigger stages and challenged herself by facing better players. She continues to play for the BC Peppers and travels the country from coast-to-coast, competing against the best players that the sport has to offer.

"When she was younger, you could see that she was different," BC Peppers coach Eric Flores said. "She had a different drive to her than other players her age. She has always pushed herself to compete at the highest level."

Now, as a 17 year old junior at Warsaw High School, Brewster has already gained All-Conference, All-District, All-Region and All-State recognition, and with 2 years left in her high school career, she is sure to add more awards along the way while also in the search of a state title for the Ladycats.

"One thing you can count on from Brylee is that she is going to work," Flores added. "She continues to push herself to be better. And as good as she is in on the dirt and in the circle, she is an even better person. She is a natural leader who leads by example with kindness and humility."

As this past September 1 drew near, Brewster knew she had multiple interests in her abilities to play at the collegiate level. She received interest from major programs in Power 5 conferences, as well as multiple mid-major programs and many Division II schools. However, after making a couple of visits to campuses, she recently made her announcement that she will be attending the University of Nebraska-Omaha where she will join an up-and-coming Mavericks team.

After coaching her myself for many of her years and watching her mature into the young lady and the player that she is today, it was my honor to sit down and talk with Brewster about her recent decision.

AH: When did you start playing sports, and what did you play?

BB: I've been playing sports ever since I was little.

TAKING HER TALENTS NORTH, Warsaw's Brylee Brewster has verbally committed to attend the University of Nebraska-Omaha where she will continue her education and pursue her softball dreams. Brewster is a junior at WHS.

THANKSGIVING

cut out leaves arranged so pretty on this beautiful crust I made from a family pie crust recipe and when I took it to the station for everyone to enjoy. The crew stated how good it looked and when one of them cut into it to eat made an awful face and started spitting it out, I thought they were just trying to tease me about it, saying it tasted awful. They were always teasing me about stuff. But I went and cut myself a slice to make sure it was good and it was AWFUL, I had forgotten to add the sugar to it. I was so embarrassed and was so disappointed because it was so beautiful to look at."

Warsaw native Charlotte Beck had a memory of a fun time with her family at Thanksgiving.

"It's been probably 20 years ago. We were eating dinner at my grandma's house. My cousin Emily asked me to pass her the center roll. I had already decided that I wanted the center roll though. She thought she should get it, so when I picked it up to pass it to her, I licked it. She didn't want it after that and I got the roll. She was not amused then, but we laugh about it now. She has told that story to her boys. One evening earlier this year, they had rolls for dinner. Her 9-year old had his eye on a specific roll so he licked it then announced that no one else could have it," said Beck.

Every family seems to have their own special traditions.

"My side of the family started a family tradition of building gingerbread houses. The recipe for the gingerbread houses is homemade and have to be made a week ahead of time to dry out. Everyone brings all sorts of candies to share to decorate. At the end, the oldest at dinner gets to judge and winner gets a prize," said Eryn Downs-Kellner.

"Growing up, Thanksgiving was and still is my favorite holiday," said Warsaw North School teacher Ally Richardson. "Every year we'd go to my grandparents' house to watch the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade while eating shrimp cocktail, cheese and crackers and other goodies while my grandma fixed our meal. My grandma always set out her red Chinaware, and my sister and I would set the table specifically choosing who would sit where. We drank ginger ale with our meal, and I always felt so special and grown up."

"One of the Thanksgiving traditions that my family keeps every year is playing games after the big meal," said Golden Valley physician Dr. Amber Campbell. "One year when we were playing SPOONS. My uncle Hadley got a little carried away and hit a pitcher of iced tea that went up in the air, flipped over and then came back down on the table without spilling a drop of tea. If I hadn't seen it, I wouldn't have believed it. Then one year my brother-in-law Rob said someone broke his pinkie finger when he/she was going for a spoon during this same game. We are very competitive," said Campbell.

Of course, there is sometimes the Thanksgiving visit to the ER.

"The year I was in kindergarten, we learned a little dance in class just before Thanksgiving," said Dusty Mills. "I wanted to show this dance to everyone at the dinner and, of course, I needed a stage on which to perform. I looked around until I found an old wooden footstool, drug it out to the living room, and began my little performance. Unbeknownst to me, it was broken and just as my mom realized what I was doing and told me to get down, I fell off the edge of the footstool as it tipped on the broken edge. The footstool flipped up and as it and I landed into a little pile - it hit my elbow just so, breaking my entire elbow cap and I spent the next several weeks in a cast. I keep Thanksgiving pretty low-key these days; no dancing and definitely no footstool stages," said Mills.

"Most of our Thanksgivings are fairly humdrum, and that's not a bad thing, just plenty of family, great food, and lots of fun," said MU Extension specialist Amie Breshears! "One of the most memorable happened 18 years ago. Benton had to go to Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City hours after he was born and he stayed there for 2 1/2 weeks. Thanksgiving fell during the time that we were up there and we didn't want to be far away from him on Thanksgiving day. It was only two hours from there to home, but it was still too far. One of my college roommates and her husband lived in Kansas City; they invited us over to celebrate Thanksgiving with their family. It was so kind of them, and it really was a great day, especially as I look back on it now. I'm so thankful that Benton is healthy and grateful for the good care he got there when he needed it most. Every Thanksgiving that we are all together is extra special now," said Breshears.

Not everyone loves to cook, but most try to make the perfect meal.

"We spend our Thanksgiving at my parents. My mother HATES to cook so it usually starts out with her drinking wine and we laugh at her while she cusses and tries to cook. We have the best time and always the best food," said Stephanie Adair.

The holidays can be difficult for people as it is a time to remember who won't be around the table for that special family time. "Now that I have lost my dad and both grandpas and a grandma, all my special memories are ones spent with them. Our lives go so fast making new memories each year, but Thanksgiving always reminds me of my childhood with my family," said Kenzi Culton-Wilson.

"We always celebrate Thanksgiving with my Grandma and Grandpa, Vernon and Barbara Gemes. This will be our first Thanksgiving without Grandpa with us. The holidays will be hard, but being together as a family will help to ease the pain. We will share stories and cry and laugh together. Grandma always forgets the corn in the microwave, we usually discover it when we go to warm up leftovers later in the evening. Maybe we will all remember it this year," said Brooke Daleske.

"2011 is the Thanksgiving that sticks with me forever, said Kelly Drake. "It's the last one I had with my mom. The traditions she had were my favorite; turkey, greasy noodles, and her homemade chocolate pie were the best! Then after dinner we set up her Christmas tree and watched White Christmas. 3 weeks later she was diagnosed with brain cancer and our lives were forever changed. Holidays just aren't the same."

Wishing everyone a special Thanksgiving wherever and however the celebration is carried out. (We just hope your meal is not carry-out!)

BREWSTER

I started off with tee ball, and then in middle school, I played softball, basketball and volleyball.

AH: When did you realize that softball would be your focus?

BB: When I was 13, I joined the Peppers organization and realized that softball was something that I wanted to continue to do and it could possible pay for my college.

AH: How did pitching come about?

BB: When I was 10, I played on a local traveling team, Torque, and we needed a pitcher so I tried it out for fun. At first, it was something that I was just trying to do for the team, but I ended up falling in love with it.

AH: What kind of work has gone into your pitching?

BB: I have put a lot of work into pitching. I am constantly training to get better, either in the weight room or on the field. I go to lessons in Lawrence, Kansas every other week. My instructor is Tracey Bunge. She is a previous player and coach at KU. I've been working with her for about a year and a half now and I've learned so much. There's just always something I can do to be better.

AH: Have you ever played any other positions?

BB: I used to play first base, along with pitching, but there came a point a few years ago when I decided that I just wanted to focus on pitching.

AH: What is so attractive or undeniable, to you, about being in the circle? Not just anyone can do it, right?

BB: I love to be in the circle because I am in control of the game. I get the ball every play, so there's always something I can do to help the team. Pitching is an extremely difficult thing to do. It takes a lot of practice and doesn't just come naturally.

AH: How was the recruiting process for you?

BB: The process was a little stressful. I was worried that I wouldn't find my "home", but when I stepped onto campus at Omaha, I knew that I had found it.

AH: Where else did you visit? Any other offers?

BB: I visited Missouri State University. It was also a really great experience and I can't thank their staff enough for taking the time to welcome me into their "home".

AH: So why the University of Nebraska-Omaha?

BB: When I was on my visit there, I just felt at home. I could see myself going there and living my everyday life. There was just something about it, and I knew that it could be my new "home" away from home.

AH: How do you expect the Mavericks to use you?

BB: I'm hoping to be in the circle as an underclassmen and help produce early. I really just want to have a positive impact as a member of the pitching staff and do what I can whenever my name is called.

AH: Any idea on a major yet?

BB: I want to major in Speech Pathology. I plan on being a speech therapist at a school and working with young kids. My grandma impacted me to follow the speech patch.

AH: What were some of the things that drew you to Omaha, the city itself?

BB: Omaha is a really pretty city! The campus alone is beautiful. And the city isn't really big, but it isn't small either.

AH: What have been some of your most memorable experiences while playing high school softball? Travel softball?

BB: I love having the opportunity to play high school softball because it's with my school friends. We get to bond and grow closer together, on and off of the field. With the BC Peppers, this last summer, we played the Aces and I was in the circle. They are a really good organization with a lot of girls committed to playing D1. It's been several years since our team had beat them, so it was really exciting when we beat them, 2-1. I pitched the full 7 innings and it was such a good game. Our defense was lights out! Travel ball has allowed me to make lifelong friends and travel places that I really never thought I'd go!

AH: Who has been the biggest inspiration in your softball career?

BB: My biggest inspiration has been Kasey Wood. She was my teammate for 2 years and she's currently playing softball at the University of Arkansas. She was an amazing role model and taught me how to be tough in the circle, both mentally and physically. She was the best mentor and she taught me so much. I'm very grateful that I got the honor of pitching with her.

AH: How do you want Ladycats fans and those little girls watching to remember you?

BB: I want the younger generation to remember me as someone who was a role model. I want to positively impact younger girls and help them become the best versions of themselves, both on and off of the field.

AH: What advice might you give to those younger girls who are just starting to play and enjoy softball?

BB: Enjoy the ride! It's very mentally and physically challenging, but it's all worth it. All of the bad innings and games mean nothing when you find huge success. There is always work to be put in and you should never be satisfied with where you are. Strive to be the best you can be and just play the game you love.

AH: Anything else you'd like to add?

BB: I'd just like to thank my parents for helping me get to where I am today. They have sacrificed a lot for our family just to get me where I need to be every weekend. I know they wouldn't trade it for the world and I'm incredibly grateful for that. My dad has sat on a bucket too many times to count and my mom has traveled the country with me. I think softball has brought our family closer and it's allowed us to spend quality time together and I wouldn't want to be doing anything different with anyone else.

Warsaw coach Matt Henderson said, "We took some rushed shots early on, but we came together in the second half."

Warsaw Swept At Lone Jack In Season Openers For Both Teams

By

Adam Howe, Sports

Warsaw got 13 points from sophomore guard Tanna Howe but she was the only Ladycats player to reach double figures in a 76-29 loss at Lone Jack last Friday afternoon. The Ladycats played the first game of a boys-girls doubleheader against the Mules as part of an assembly event with the school's student body in the stands.

S. Harr, 0; J. Gerken, 4. LONE JACK (76): D. Richards, 23; Goodson, 2; Ward, 12; Roth, 10; Mooney, 2; Schruder, 4; Evanson, 0; Shull, 11; B. Richards, 3; Moriny, 9.

In the boy's game, the Wildcats gave Lone Jack everything they could handle, but untimely turnovers and empty possessions in the final minutes sent Warsaw home with a 47-42 loss against a team that racked up 23 wins just one season ago.

Sloppy ball handling and possessions, in general, took their toll on both squads in the early going as they found themselves tied 9-9 at the end of the first and again at 15-15 at the break.

TAKING HER SHOT, the Ladycats' Tanna Howe launched a 3-point attempt in their loss at Lone Jack on Friday.

MAKING HIS MOVE, Warsaw's Luke Henderson puts the ball on the floor as he drives through the Mules defense during Friday's game.

A 17-13 margin for the Wildcats (0-1, 0-0) gave them a slight lead at 32-30 to finish the third but the Mules came back late and Warsaw came up empty on too many trips down the floor as they fell, 47-42.

Logan Gemes led the Wildcats with 13 points while Garrett Ferguson also hit double digits with 10.

WARSAW (42): S. Poyser, 3; G. Ferguson, 10; L. Henderson, 6; B. Slavens, 1; B. Henderson, 2; L. Gemes, 13; N. Siebert, 7; A. Burdick, 0.

LONE JACK (47): Kamolz, 0; Nicholson, 2; E. Carpenter, 0; Miller, 12; Seitz, 0; Rogers, 11; Shull, 3; T. Carpenter, 14; Rowland, 0; Bates, 0; Mantzey, 5.

The sharp shooting of the home team got them out to an early lead of 20-5 after early shooting woes plagued the Ladycats (0-1, 0-0).

High percentage shots for Lone Jack and points in transition off of turnovers helped them stretch their lead to 38-17 at the half.

A 21-6 advantage in the third quarter extended Warsaw's deficit to 59-23 before the turbo clock in the fourth ended with a 76-29 final.

Howe paced Warsaw with 13 points while Rachel Henderson was next in line with 5.

WARSAW (29): A. Konopasek, 1; K. Mostaffa, 2; H. Ferguson, 0; J. Bilderback, 0; R. Henderson, 5; M. Reimund, 0; T. Howe, 13; S. Miller, 4; M. Slavens, 0; G. Drake, 0;

NEWS
 By Pat Arnett
 Contributing Reporter
 The weather has been a wonderful week of autumn life in Missouri. Hopefully it will stay halfway like it has been for Thanksgiving. I remember a few Thanksgiving weekends when it was snowy. Just another Missouri weather picture.

 Got a short catch-up from Gracie Yoder this week and I am gonna send a bit of it along. Their team is living at Victory Church on Siam Reap helping the Pastor and his wife with the ministry there. They are teaching at University of Southeast Asia about American Culture and also English, and helping with the church service. The Lord's spirit is moving greatly in Cambodia. This week they will be going to a church plant of Victory Church in province

Battambang, which is 3 hours away. Asking prayers for unity for the team and praying they have safe travels to Thailand in the beginning of December.
 Everyone remember Gracie and her team when you are saying prayers, along with Lovely Henderson, Donna Nelson, Jeanne Wright, Duncan (DoNut) Kathy First, Lewis and Judy Retherford, Carolee Apperson, Gladys Harris, Easter Willis, Curtis Allen and Mary Scarbrough.
 I appreciate when people approach me and say they like reading the Fristoe

News. Last week it was a person I went to school with and then later worked with her and her husband. This person is Linda Flippen Sweargin and her husband is Lance. She said she enjoyed reading about Fristoe. Hi Linda, and you and Lance have a great Thanksgiving!
 The Cross Timbers Rural Fire Department had their annual chili/soup and pie auction benefit on Saturday, November 18. Dean and I attended and took some pies, bought some cakes and saw people we hadn't seen in awhile and did a lot of visiting. The Cross Timbers Rural Fire Department covers into the Fristoe area and includes the Fristoe Lighthouse Church. The fire department always appreciates all the help that can be given!
 Shoutout to Climax Springs girls basketball team as they went to Weaubleau for the season opening Jamboree and the girls played six games and WON 5 of them, GREAT!

book of Daniel Chapter 6; a wonderful sermon about how Daniel made a choice to keep living for God and to keep praying even when he was told he would lose his life if he did. God closed the mouths of the lions when Daniel was thrown in the lion's den because Daniel did what God instructed. Br. Smith encourages all of us to follow God's leading.
 Thought for the week: People don't care how much you know until you use what you know to show how much you care!
 Hope everyone has a fantastic and safe Thanksgiving!

Chicken Dinner, 5:-- PM-6:30 PM
 -December 20. Tenderloin Sandwich, 5:00 PM-7:00 PM, $7.00

 Christmas is in the air at the lodge. Plans are being made, committees are being formed and volunteers are being signed up to help with the Christmas for Families and Veterans Christmas. Every year the lodge adopts several families in Benton County. We provide gifts for the family members and food for their Christmas celebration. The members are asked to bring non-perishable food items and paper goods to help with our Christmas for Families. The lodge recognizes all veterans in residential care centers by giving them a special gift for their service and dedication to our country.

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James Mahlon White

Most of us learn something new every day and that's good. I learned recently.....well, I typed the preceding line yesterday afternoon and didn't complete the sentence after the phone rang. I can't remember what it was that I learned. I hope it's not something that will cause disaster to rain down. But Washington D.C. is taking good care of us. Yes, indeed! Our government is spending $4 million for the Bahamian Museum of Arts and Culture in Nassau, Bahamas and $3.5 million to The Parade Co. for a new headquarters. This organization focuses on producing the annual Thanksgiving Day Parade in Detroit. Our elected leaders think federal spending should inflate both prices and parade balloons. UNBELIEVABLE! Maybe it would be a good thing to have the End Times come soon. Are these people crazy?

Speaking of crazy, Hunter asked to subpoena President Trump, alleging "Unrelenting political interference in his case." You have to hand it to Hunter, he certainly has CHUTZPAH! The show must go on! I guess this one is "Crazy Rich Crack Heads".....I mean Artists. Reminds me of the 1980's commercial, "This is your brain on drugs." It featured an egg scrambling in the pan. The only political interference has been from his father. Have you ever seen a family feel so entitled? I haven't.

Rickie Caswell was in the office this morning and said her long bed of tall, vibrant flowers have bitten the dust. They're frosted and now brown and straggly.

Thanksgiving is upon us and I read about a family in Kansas who grow Heritage Turkeys, the kind folks had on the dinner table years ago. They're trying to save these old bloodlines and sell them in specialty stores at $7.00 per pound. The story explained that turkeys we buy today are bred to be very heavy breasted. Some of these birds grow so top heavy they can barely waddle around. I don't believe I'll buy a turkey that costs $7.00 per pound. However, beef lovers would pay that for a good prime rib in the blink of an eye. Speaking of heritage foods, this just came to mind. I remember Selma McDonald growing Kentucky Wonder Green Beans. She'd cook them with a bit of ham or slab of bacon with onions and potatoes, sometimes adding small red pepper flakes for kick.

I'm wondering all over the place again. Have a pleasant day of Thanks and something you like to eat, read, watch or hear. Brace yourself! Christmas and New Year's are waiting in the wings. More later Old Buddy.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

RICKIE CASWELL, AAMS®
Financial Advisor

It won't be long before we turn the page on 2023. But you still have time to make some financial moves that can pay off in 2024 — and beyond.

Here are a few to consider:
• Review your progress toward your goals. Have you made progress toward your long-term goals over this past year? If not, you may want to revisit your investment and financial strategies.

• Boost contributions to your retirement plans. If your employer allows it, you may be able to increase your contributions to your 401(k) or similar retirement plan before the year ends. And you have until April 15 to contribute to your IRA for the 2023 tax year. You can put in up to $6,500 to your traditional or Roth IRA and add another $1,000 if you're 50 or older. (Your ability to fully contribute to a Roth IRA is based on your income).

• Don't waste FSA dollars. If you have a flexible spending account (FSA) through your employer, you've likely used it to take care of a variety of health care costs, such as deductibles, co-payments and coinsurance. But FSAs are "use it or lose it" accounts, so if you have unspent dollars at year-end, you risk losing them. Make sure you know your employer's deadlines for incurring expenses and submitting claims so you can take full advantage of your FSA.

• Contribute to your HSA. When you have a health savings account (HSA), your contributions are tax deductible, your earnings generally grow tax free and your withdrawals are tax free, as long as they're used for qualified medical expenses. Plus, an HSA isn't "use it or lose it" — you can carry unused funds through

Clerk Paul reported the city presently has a CD in the amount of about $1,343,000, that its new website is up and running, that software for its office is now working, and that filing for several Board offices will open December 27.

Public Works Director Heath Roark said the upper north side water project is finished. He added that the city has a serious water inflow and infiltration problem and reported a need for a sewer camera, which would cost about $14,000. He was approved by the group to purchase one.

Police Chief Jeff Canfield reported his department has new "fantastic" laptops and lightweight bullet-proof vests. He reported a need for traffic signs near the Lutheran school, to be put in the 2024 budget. One of his officers then discussed a need for a new police vehicle, not presently approved.

Mayor Meuschke reported he recently met with energy companies Every and Brightspeed, relating to city electrical needs. He also indicated the city may need to update its rules relating to citizens keeping poultry in their yards.

In late session, citizen Marge Lumpe asked if progress was made toward getting pickleball courts in the city's parks. Mayor Meuschke responded that the city recently applied for a related grant.

The group went into executive session about 8:20 PM. These open sessions are usually held on 3rd Thursday eves. Visitors are welcome.
