Overdose Awareness Vigil 'A Time For Healing' In Clinton

BY JENNIFER JACKSON
Staff Reporter

On April 16, 2021, Karl Krupp, age 38, died of fentanyl poisoning in Amarillo, Texas. His body was found on a bus, which he was taking from Phoenix to his hometown in Owensville, Missouri.

"He was on his way home," Jeannette Krupp said. "He didn't make it."

Interviewed by phone, Jeannette, Karl's older sister, is leaving the Amarillo bus station on Thursday, August 29, on her bicycle and riding 700 miles across three states in nine days. Her destination: Owensville. Her goal: To complete "Karl's Last Ride" and bring awareness to the high risk of addiction and overdose death of fentanyl, a powerful painkiller.

Jeannette's ride won't take her through Clinton, Mo., but the dates of her ride overlap with National Overdose Awareness Day on Saturday, August 31, which will be observed at a candlelight vigil at 7 p.m. on the Clinton Square. It is the third year that the vigil has been held on the Square by Celebrate Recovery, and has the same purpose as Jeannette's ride: to alert people to the danger of drug addiction and overdose.

KARLS LAST RIDE, Jeanette Krupp is making a 700 mile bicycle trip to Owensville in memory of her brother Karl Krupp, the second person in her family to die of opioid poisoning.

Clinton's Drug Overdose Awareness Candlelight Vigil started three years ago when one of the Celebrate Recovery members, Stephanie Hernandez, suggested it, Darren Huey, Celebrate Recovering director, said.

"The first year we had about 50 people," Darren said. "Last year we had 125."

This year's vigil, which starts at 7 p.m., will feature music by Kingdom Fighters and testimonies by a person who lost someone to a drug overdose and a person who survived a drug overdose. Prayer and poetry round out the vigil, with candles lit as the names of loved ones who died of drug overdoses are read.

Each flame represents a person whose life, like Karl's, was snuffed out prematurely, leaving a dark hole in the hearts of his parents, his siblings and his children. In 2022, more than 100,000 people died from drug-related overdoses in the United States.

Jeannette, who is in her early 40s, said she is planning to ride her Salsa touring bicycle on Route 66 to Owensville, which is northeast of Interstate 44, halfway between St. James and Herman. She will have a sag wagon (support vehicle) with a sign on it following her, and has sent press releases about the ride to towns along the route — Clinton, Okla., Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Joplin, Springfield, Lebanon, Rolla and St. James.

Last week, she was scheduled to do an interview for a newspaper in Denton, Texas, she said, and to appear on Channel 7 News in Amarillo.

When she arrives outside of Owensville, she SERVING UP PRESERVATION, Members of the Appleton City Landmarks and Restoration organization served lunch at the MK&T Railroad Depot.

BY JENNIFER JACKSON

Last week, members of Appleton City Landmarks and Restoration held their annual Taco Bar lunch at the MK & T Railroad Depot. They started serving at 11 a.m., and by noon, 130 people had come and paid $10 each to pick up lunch or eat in the historic depot, treasurer Dorothy Holt said.

The organizers also take phone orders from businesses, who come and pick up lunch for their entire staff. The money goes to cover utility costs and maintenance for the buildings in the Appleton City group has restored and maintained — the depot plus the original town library, the Moore Schoolhouse and the house museum, the latter on the grounds of the Appleton City History Center, 503 S. Maple.

The next event at the depot is a Baked Potato Bar in October. ACLR members also decorate the depot for Christmas and host Christmas in the Country with local persons selling their handmade crafts and baked goods.

The ACLR group will hold another Baked Potato Bar lunch in March, around St. Patrick's Day, and rents the depot can for special occasions.

Last week's Taco Bar featured tortilla chips and ground beef, with shredded cheddar cheese, salsa, lettuce, tomatoes, onions, jalapeños, black olives and sour cream. Dessert was choice of a homemade brownie, pineapple cake, chocolate cake or peanut butter cake with peanut butter frosting, plus coffee, tea or lemonade.

Many people came and got their lunch in takeout boxes, while others sat and enjoyed the ambiance of the depot. Built in 1870, the MK&T depot served Appleton City until the 1950s.

"People would take the train that came through in the morning down to Nevada to shop, and come home at night," Linda Lampkin, ADLR president, said.

The depot sat vacant for many years, then was acquired by the The Missouri Pacific Railroad, and about to be torn down until the ACLR stepped in. Twelve years later, in 1998, the ACLR also restored Railroad Park, put up a wrought-iron fence similar to the original, and added an MK&T caboose and a gazebo, making a green space in the center of town.

Many of the old depots are gone, Linda said. The AC depot used to be on the other side of the tracks, she said, and when it was moved, was flipped end to end. The rails are still in use — the train that comes www.statista.com reports that municipal solid waste generation in the U.S. from 1960 to 2018 ranged from 88.1 to 292.4 million metric tons a year, and it is projected to increase to 3.4 billion metric tons by 2050. According to www.intelligentliving.com proper waste disposal is an essential component of sustainable living. By managing our waste effectively, we can reduce our environmental impact and conserve resources for future generations. Henry County waste disposal comes in different forms and from a variety of businesses including Golden Valley Disposal, Henry County Industries, and the City of Clinton's Wastewater Department.

Where Does Clinton's Trash Go After We Give It A Toss?

BY JUDY KRAMER
Staff Reporter

Golden Valley Disposal LLC, on 400th Road, Clinton, picks up residence trash weekly (Monday through Friday) with a maximum of five bags per household. Trash must be on the road by 6 A.M. It also offers commercial dumpster and roll-off service on Saturdays. Trash is off-loaded to the transfer station and further transferred to a landfill in Warrensburg. People without a trash pickup service can also take their waste to the transfer station, as well as contractors. For a list of materials not accepted go to www.gvdisposal.com.

The busiest time for trash pickup according to a Golden Valley Disposal representative is in the spring and summer when there is a lot of construction work resulting in extra waste. Holidays observed by the disposal business include New Year's Day, Memorial Day, 4th of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Henry County Industries at 516 Price Lane in Clinton, provides recycling community bins at its facility. They provide pick-up for businesses which usually recycle paper, cardboard and sometimes cans and plastic. It does not take shredded

To The Editor,

I wanted to take a moment to thank everyone who helped during my campaign for reelection for Henry County Northside Commissioner.

Though we may be disappointed with the results, I'm proud of all that we have achieved together and what your support meant to me throughout this campaign.

I appreciate all the voters who took the time to be informed and to vote during this election.

To The Editor,

Although our world seems to become more complicated with each passing day, I find myself feeling truly thankful that I still have the basic freedoms everyone should have: freedom of speech and freedom of belief.

Living without those freedoms, I think, would be like living in a prison. The sad truth is that many people are living in a place like that—in China.

Twenty-five years ago, a gentle, meditative practice called Falun Dafa (aka Falun Gong) was outlawed by the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), because those who practice it believe in something those in power find dangerous—the Divine.

Starting in 1999, practitioners were harassed, arrested, imprisoned, sent to labor camps, and tortured. They were told to give up their beliefs, but they refused.

In the early 2000's, human rights groups began to see an alarming trend: an inexplicable amount of organ transplants were being performed—seemingly on demand—in China, even though Chinese generally believe that the body should return as it came, making organ donation extremely rare.

It is estimated that hundreds of thousands of Falun Dafa practitioners have been murdered as their organs are forcibly removed, to supply an organ transplant industry of global proportions run by the CCP.

In fact, over the last several years, Congress has been working hard to pass bipartisan legislation to counter the persecution of Falun Dafa practitioners by the CCP.

This bill would finally provide the means to hold accountable those directly responsible for this heinous crime against humanity if/when they set foot on US soil.

will be met by her parents, who are raising Karl's two younger daughters, Emily and Aspen, ages 5 and 4. Karl's older daughter Clarice, 15, Emily and Aspen will ride their bicycles with their aunt to the finish line at the high school.

Karl was first prescribed fentanyl after he was in a serious car accident, Jeannette said, from which he was airlifted to the hospital after being trapped under the steering wheel with multiple broken bones. A synthetic opioid drug, fentanyl is 100 times more potent than morphine as a pain reliever. Available by prescription under the brand names Duragesic, Actiq, Abstral, Sublimaze, Subsys and lonsys, fentanyl is approved by the Food and Drug Administration to treat severe pain, but has a high risk of addiction and dependence.

After pharmacy laws changed, Karl's prescription was cancelled and he started obtaining fentanyl on the street, Jeannette said. She remembers

"He was in so much pain," she said. "He said if he didn't use it, he felt like he was dying."

Made in labs and sold illegally, fentanyl can be in powder form, dropped onto blotter paper, put in eye droppers and nasal sprays, and made into pills. Karl apparently picked up fentanyl in New Mexico, Jeannette said. Fentanyl slows breathing and retards brain function, causing confusion and drowsiness. Karl fell asleep on the bus, and had stopped breathing by the time the bus reached Amarillo.

"They said he had enough fentanyl in his body to kill 20 people," Jeannette said. "If they'd had Narcan on the bus, it would have saved him."

Narcan is the brand name of naloxone, which can be used to successfully reverse an overdose. It can be administered as a spray to reverse restricted breathing, or injected.

Karl had struggled with fentanyl addiction for ten years, Jeannette said, five of which she spent taking him to rehab and picking him, and getting him out of jail. She also lost her cousin, Brandon Krupp, to fentanyl poisoning in 2018. She has made three 450-mile bicycle rides to raise awareness of the danger of drug overdose. The first was a multi-state trip that started in Ohio, which has a high number of fatal overdoses, and ended in Missouri.

"Every mile is in memory of someone," she said.

A sport performance coach at a high school in Denton, Texas, Jeannette said she is not a cyclist, but is an athlete — she has done pro-body building, played NCAA-1 volleyball and was a nationally-ranked acrobatics champion.

This is her most challenging ride yet. To make it to the end, she visual-izes all the names on the ribbons at the finish — so far there are 150, she said. She invites people to send names of family or friends lost to SUD (substance use disorder) or suicide, to her website, www.StayStrongKrupp.com.

At the Candlelight Vigil in Clinton, Save a Life Bags will be distributed, Darren said, which contain Narcan, plus test strips to detect the presence of fentanyl in drugs, and information about drug abuse. Compass Health, Hope Project, Forged by Christ and Narcotics Anonymous will be at the vigil, Darren said, along with Celebrate Recovery.

People who have lost a family member or friend can go to the Celebrate Recovery Clinton MO Facebook page, and put the name and date of the loss on the list, which will be read as the candles are lit at the vigil.

The vigil is a place where people who have lost family and friends to a drug overdose can remember them and mourn their loss. Given the connotations of substance abuse, it is one people are sometimes reluctant to share, Jeannette said.

"Not talking about it doesn't make it go away," she said, "so I'm talking about it."

She also invites cyclists to ride part of Karl's Last Ride with her (email JFKfitness@gmail.com).

Funeral services for Karl Clarence Krupp IV, born Nov. 7, 1982, took place on Friday, April 23, 2021, in Owensville, Mo., with burial at Resurrection Cemetery in St. Louis. He was survived by his father and mother, three daughters and his partner's son, his two older sisters, two nieces and a nephew. Memorials went to StayStrongKrupp.com, Jeannette's nonprofit organization to prevent drug overdoses and promote mental health.

Jeannette said after Karl died, she received hundreds of condolence messages, including from people he was in rehab with. One resident remembered Karl going up and down the hall, handing out the purple "StayStrong" bracelets Jeannette had sent him.

Jeannette also campaigns to have Narcan on every public transport, and is raising money for college scholarships for women athletes who have lost a parent, and who will never see them on the podium being awarded a medal for their efforts.

"I saw what it did to his family," Jeannette said, "and what he is missing out on."

She said she will try to get to Clinton, Mo., some year for the Overdose Awareness Candlelight Vigil, and perhaps ride the Rock Island Trail, which will go through Owensville. Her sister lives in Washington, Mo., where a billboard has gone up about Karl's Last Ride.

International Overdose

CELEBRATE RECOVERY has organized a Drug Overdose Awareness Day Candlelight Vigil at the bandstand on the Clinton Square for the past two years.

Awareness Day, August 31, is a worldwide campaign that started in 2001. The candlelight vigil in Clinton is held around the band pavilion on the northwest corner of the Square, West Franklin and Washington, starting at 7 p.m. Bring a lawn chair or blanket. Candles are provided.

paper and books but will accept clothing during business hours.

"We have a broker out of Joplin who takes our goods and distributes them to different recycling mills," said Director Carley Ross. "Some of these mills are in Arkansas and a lot of paper is sent to Boonville. A few years ago, recycling had a decline (apparently when China banned the import of most plastics and other materials headed for that nation's recycling processors.)" But now it is improving. Businesses can receive recycling pickup by purchasing a membership for $25 a month to help cover the cost of fuel. We pick up some recycling in Benton County including schools.

The City of Clinton's Wastewater Department is located at 1102 S. Vasant (south of the big cemetery). Residents can take their yard trash there for disposal.

According to www.statista.com, the U.S. recycling system faces many challenges. There is no federal law that mandates recycling in the country, so there is only localized legislation through city or state governments. Almost 10 percent of the population lacks access to recycling services, and we have some of the lowest municipal waste recycling rates worldwide. However, the rate of waste being recycled has increased every year since 1960 reaching nearly 68 million tons.

Recycling rates in Missouri were reported to be at 43 percent of materials available, according to https://recyclingpartnership.org. The top two recycling states are Main with 67 percent and Oregon with 60 percent, and the lowest three are Kentucky with 23 percent and Alabama and Tennessee at 22 percent.

to Clinton once a week still comes through Appleton City.

To raise funds to keep the depot and other historic buildings open, the ACLR group used to do home tours, Linda said. The group also owned the three-story building across the street from the depot, which was the Durlly Hotel. It also served as Ellett Hospital, the name still inscribed in stone across the facade.

"The rumor is that Grover Cleveland stayed at the hotel," Linda said. Cleveland, from New York, was the first Democratic president elected after the Civil War.

To learn more about Appleton City history, visit the Appleton City History Center and Museum, which is open on Fridays from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Donations are accepted.

Also open on Friday, from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. plus those hours Saturday and Sunday through Sept. 2, is another piece of local history, the Appleton City Carousel. The carousel came to town as part of the carnival for the city fair, but after the carnival closed, Linda bought the carousel, purchased two lots on the main street, spent a year having the lots cleared and an octagonal pavilion built, then moved it in.

Named 2024's Best Children's Attraction in Missouri by Rural Missouri magazine in April, the carousel has drawn people from more than a dozen states and several foreign countries. The most recent riders from a foreign country were from Belize, two children who were visiting their grandparents. Linda has regulars, she said, whose grandparents or parents bring them once a week to ride the carousel.

She also had a former police chief from Belton ride the carousel, and a 80-year-old woman came from Climax Springs with relatives to ride one of the horses. Riders must weigh under 160 pounds, the weight limit of each carousel horse or other animal.

Linda also has rules about attire for safety reasons—no wet swimsuits, no flip-flops or flimsy footwear. To cover the cost of electricity, she asks for whatever U.S. bill people want to pay, as long as they don't want change.

Linda said she expects even more carousel riders in town in the last two weeks of August. A map of the 2024 "Best of" selections is being featured at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia in the Missouri Electric Co-op's building. She operates the ride from the Friday of Memorial Day weekend through the Sunday of Labor Day weekend.

The real reward, Linda said, is seeing the look on the faces of the young girls riding the carousel. Linda knows they are in their own world, imagining they are riding real horses.

To hop aboard the past and experience the days of the "romance of the rails," check the Appleton City Landmark Restoration Facebook for the next event at the depot. The Appleton City Depot is in the National Register of Historic Places.

Steve and Debbie Wilson have a heart for helping others create stronger, healthier marriages. In 1990, their marriage fell apart. With God's intervention and His promise, "that what He began, he will complete," Phil 1:6, they worked their way back stronger than ever. It totally changed their passion and journey. After four years of working towards a great marriage, God impressed on them to begin sharing what God had done and how he could help every marriage. Thus, they began teaching marriage conferences around the country.

First Baptist Church Clinton is pleased to host the Wilsons for a Marriage and Parenting Weekend on their main campus located at 1531 Vansant Rd, Clinton, September 6-8. On Friday at 6 p.m., the weekend will begin with a catered brisket dinner. The session will focus on "Communication: The Missing Piece," which teaches couples to communicate beyond surface issues of the heart, communicating at such a level that they become emotionally connected. On Saturday, the conference will continue at 8:30 a.m. with a light breakfast, and then wrap up by noon. On Sunday, during both the 9:30 a.m. and the 11:00 a.m. worship service, the Wilsons will share practical tips on setting expectations. They will switch gears and return on Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. to facilitate a "Parenting with Purpose" session. The church will provide dinner for that session as well. The cost to attend any or all of these sessions is only $20, and childcare will be provided! Space is limited! Former Employees Told About Life After International Shoe Factory Closing

The International Shoe Factory closed its doors in Windsor on July 31, 1985. The Windsor Historical Society program, "Life After the Shoe Factory Closed in Windsor," was held on Saturday, August 10, at the Windsor United Methodist Church following a luncheon at 12:15 p.m.

In the 1980s, U.S. shoe companies were reporting decreased sales caused by stiff competition from cheap foreign imports. Many employees of the International Shoe Company plant in Windsor were laid off and were never called back. Windsor employees received official notice on May 9, 1985 that the shoe factory would cease production by July 1, 1985. The doors closed on July 31, 1985.

Dorothy Warren led the discussion of former employees and Windsor business people about the effects of the closing for their lives and businesses.

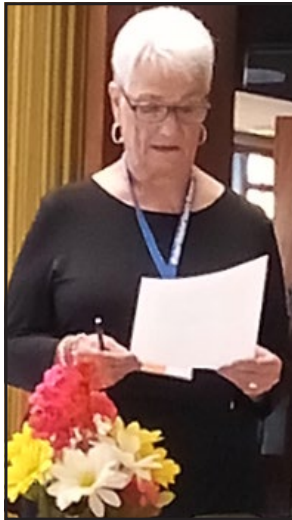

Many employees sought other employment, but several reported that not a lot of jobs were available in the four-county area in 1985. Helen Sell stated it was a blessing for her. Her father was ill, and she was free to help care for him. She later found employment later.

Sharon (Howery) Scott stated she remembered the closing as she was expecting her son, and she said she worked up to closing and later found other employment.

Larry Kreisel said that there were not a lot of jobs available in the area in 1985, so he took a full-time job at the Bormann Conoco Service Station where he worked for many years.

Knowing the factory was closing, some employees left ahead of closing. Gwen Hix said she left her factory job before closing for a job in Warrensburg.

Dorothy Warren said her husband, Roy Warren's department was the first to go around June 1, 1985, and Roy worked for a contractor at Whiteman AFB painting carpports. Dorothy said she and her husband found new opportunities after the shoe factory closed. After Dorothy's position ended on July 31, 1985, Roy and Dorothy were offered employment at a subdivision/resort at Lake of the Ozarks with Roy working in maintenance and Dorothy in the office. Dorothy later earned her Salesperson and Broker's license and had her own office, D Warren Realty, in which her daughter, Sandy, joined her in the office.

The International Shoe Factory had been Windsor's largest employer for much of the previous 53 years. Dorothy Warren asked how business owners were affected by the shoe factory closing.

Rodney Wesner saw a big difference with the loss of regular shoe factory income for employees. As the third generation of the Wesner Drug Store, Rodney remembered that there were more "lows" than "highs" in 1985. Shortly after the shoe factory closed, the Windsor Community Hospital closed its doors in November, 1985.

Walt Moser stated that his parents' Windsor Furniture Store sold a lot to shoe factory employees on a payment plan as they knew the workers would get a pay check.

Bill Simmons was not living in Windsor at the time, but his parents felt a difference in the Citizens Bank as employees always came into the bank to cash their checks, most of which were under $100.

Lynn Wilson said his parents' Dairy Queen business noticed some difference after the shoe factory closing as they had always had a noon rush from shoe factory workers.

Brian Vincent's parents ran the Vincent Shoe Store in Windsor, and he said their store was less affected by the shoe factory closing than other Windsor businesses because their shoe customers came from a larger geographical area. Brian felt a bigger factor in the loss of business for small towns was the result of Walmart opening stores in the mid 80s.

Dorothy Warren mentioned the news story of Bercha Mae Flippen, written by Jennifer Jackson in the August 8 issue of the CLINTON DAILY DEMOCRAT. Bercha Mae had been chosen as Queen of the International Shoe Factory 25th Anniversary celebration in Windsor in 1957. Today at 100 years young, Bercha Mae Flippen is believed to be the oldest surviving employee of the International Shoe Factory in Windsor.

The program concluded with a video provided by Rodney Wesner of the International Shoe Exhibit parade held on Main Street in Windsor on May 19, 1934.

The next International Shoe Factory reunion and program will be on August 9, 2025.

Butterflies have time enough.

When I lived away from the creek I somehow became accustomed to not seeing butterflies. There weren't any in town and even after I moved out a short distance, I never saw them. There were pastures, a creek and even crops, but no butterflies. In reflection I wonder if it was the pesticides that made the area bereft of their beauty. Perhaps butterflies are so fragile that their numbers and their health might be a barometer for us. An alert to environmental change or pollution.

Then I and some friends began bringing our horses to the creek to ride on the week-ends and I once again was reminded of their rare beauty as we would spot them along a trail. I recall one particular afternoon along a high ridge in late August when the numbers of colorful kaleidoscopes took to the wing and fluttered magically about us. Their presence seemed to be a blessing on what had already been a wonderful day.

A few years ago I was shucking corn down by the lower garden and suddenly this small Copper, an orange butterfly, alighted on my arm. Gently I shooed it away but it immediately returned to land in my hair, on my face and on my leg. Even when it flew a short distance it would soon return and remained with me all that morning.

Then there was what I referred to as the year of the butterfly as the air was full of them in all different sizes and color. Driving along the country road here, you could see the mangled bodies of the dead that had been finished off by cars as they flitted wantonly from wildflower to wildflower.

Butterflies are insects and come into the yard and garden looking for nectar from the flowers. Their early days are spent as wingless caterpillars and then they change into glorious creatures flitting in the wind. As a caterpillar they live in grass, on the underside of leaves or they are hidden under a silken web on the leaves they eat. Butterflies use a garden as a restaurant and usually have to leave your garden to lay their eggs. Unfortunately this does not hold true about Cabbage White butterflies. Cabbage Whites lay their eggs on the vegetable and causes severe damage to the crop.

The beauty of the butterfly has brought about some strange behavior from humans. One being that butterflies are popular tattoos. My thought on that would be, don't! The butterfly that looks so great on your breast when you are twenty will stretch into a buzzard when you turn sixty-five.

Then there is the practice of releasing large numbers of butterflies at ceremonies such as weddings and memorial services for loved ones. There are actually companies that sell them in either individual boxes or one giant release container.

But the true obsession are the few that have spent their lives tracing the Monarch. One such man, Dr Fred Urquhart had been trying to discover where the "Royals" spent their winter months since 1937, as it had long been known they fly the length of North America twice in their short lifetimes. In a book by Bianca Lavies, published in the early nineties, Bianca tells of the discovery of the winter home in the Sierra Madre Mountains in Mexico.

It was hoped that the sites would be kept secluded but thousands of tourists flocked to see Monarch butterflies so thick they blanketed the ground, hung from branches and the tree trunks. Bianca described when the sun hit them how they fluttered into the sky, "rising above the trees like puffs of orange and black smoke."

Another condition that endangers the Monarch, beside humans, is the herbicides that kill the milkweed plants where the monarchs feed and lay their eggs. Milkweed has a chemical that creates a bitter taste to birds and can actually be poisonous to them, thus birds soon learn that orange and black butterflies are not good food.

Monarchs that emerge in late summer and fall will not mate as the cool weather postpones the development of their reproductive organs. But those from spring and summer will mate within four days and live only about a month. They weren't Monarchs but I had a pair of honeymooners in my backyard last week. They were two very large satiny black creatures with bright yellow insignia which reminded me of oriental marks. The lovers perched on the welcome spelled out on my back walk and then spent time on the stepping stones. They languished atop a picnic table and surveyed the world from the chiminea. Finally late in the afternoon they were gone.

Seeing butterflies here has become so common that there are times I barely notice them. But every now and again the Great Spirit takes a hand and makes you aware there are still miracles. The miracle I speak of took place a few years ago, just outside my back door. At that time I had bluegrass sod in the back yard. To insure that it survived during intense heat, I watered it about every other day. I soaked it heavily one evening and then went to bed. The following morning, after coffee, I opened the back door to step out. What happened next is almost beyond description and no words on paper can ever completely describe the vast beauty my eyes were about to behold. The opening of the door ignited a bomb of butterflies in my back landscape. A fluttering of wings arose from the damp grass as hundreds and hundreds of the winged creatures surged upwards. Not one species but many comprised the volcano of color. The easy explanation is that they were seeking the moisture of the grass. But sometimes we try too hard to explain away the simple everyday miracles and messages sent to us. Frankly I think I was being reminded that we humans are like butterflies flitting about for a day, thinking it will last forever. But as one great man said: "The butterfly counts not months but moments, and has time enough."

STUCK IN YOUR COMFORT ZONE?

Dennis came back from his vacation and reported on how exciting it had been for him and his wife to see the sights of Alaska. I had asked him if he had ever been to Alaska before, and he said, "No. None of us had ever seen it." He went to explain, "You know I'm sort of a hometown kind of guy." And that's true. He actually has lived most of his life within a relatively short distance of home base. Dennis said, "He sort of had a stretch to do this, but he was really glad they did. Dennis actually had to move out of where he felt comfortable to experience some exciting things he'd never experienced. Maybe you are stuck in your comfort zone, missing some scary but exciting things that God wants you to see. I want to share with scriptures taken from Matthew 14:25-29 "During the fourth watch of the night Jesus went out to them, walking on the lake. When the disciples saw Him walking on the lake, they were terrified. "It's a ghost," they said, and cried out in fear. But Jesus immediately said to them: "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid." Lord, if it's You, "Peter replied, "Tell me to come to You." Come, "He said.

You see, Jesus had told His disciples to go on across the Sea of Galilee without Him. They encountered a violent storm, during which the Bible says, "Jesus went out to them, walking on the lake." The disciples were freaked out. The Bible says, "...but Jesus immediately said to them: Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid. Lord, if it's You, Peter replied, tell me to come to You on the water. Come, Jesus said. Then Peter got down out of the boat, walked on the water, and came to Jesus. You see, Peter dis what no man, other than Jesus, had ever done before or has ever done since: he walked on water! The boat was obviously the safe place to be. But Peter was willing to leave where it was safe place to be. But Peter was willing to leave where it was safe on one condition, "Lord, if it's You." And that's got to be our bottom line, too. Is that You, Lord, leading me out of the boat. I've been in and out into the "wild water" of something new/ If it's You, I'm going! Like Dennis who saw some new things when he moved beyond where he felt comfortable, you will see powerful things you've never seen before if you'll get out of the boat. God is leading you beyond where you feel adequate, where you can figure it out, where you can pull it off, but what a great place to be. You're in the miracle zone! He's leading you into a new episode where you'll need Him more than you've ever needed Him before and have Him as you've never had Him before. You see, it's not the water that's going to hold you up, it's Jesus. You're headed where it's going to be not much of you and a whole lot of God! That is something to be excited about! One day this same Peter who dared to get out of the boat would be led by the Lord to preach the Gospel boldly on the streets of Jerusalem, calling to Christ some of the very people who wanted Jesus crucified. (Talk about getting out of your comfort zone!) And Jesus would ask him to go where no Jew ever thought he'd go-to introduce those nasty Gentiles to Jesus. You see, living by faith turns out to be the really safe way there is to live! But you'll never walk on water if you never get out of the boat.

MARYLN DORIENE SWABBY

Marylne Doriene Swabby, 86, of Clinton, Missouri passed away while surrounded by her family on Thursday, August 8, 2024 at the Centerpoint Medical Center in Independence, Mo.

Doriene was born on her family farm in Benton County, Mo. on the very last day of the year in 1937 to Gertrude and Lloyd Keller. After the family moved to Clinton, Doriene attended and graduated from Clinton High School in 1955.

While attending CHS, Doriene was courted by Gene Swabby at the skating rink. She made it clear how important church was to her from the start - their first date was at church. The pair was married at New Hope Missionary Baptist Church in Clinton, Mo., May 20, 1956. She was 18 and he was 19. The couple was married for 68 years and together for over 72 years.

A mother to four; Mike, Dennis, Janet and Sue, and a grandmother to Clayton and Jessica. Doriene was a mother and grandmother figure to countless nieces, nephews and neighborhood kids. Her door, and heart, were always open.

Doriene was a woman who was strong in her convictions, passionate about her faith and generous with her time for the care of others. Her favorite childhood memory she recalls was the day she was saved by God's mercy at eight-years-old at Clear Creek Missionary Baptist. Her hands rolled and shaped love into the countless pies that she baked for neighbors, friends, school bake sales and of course, Missionary Baptist church potlucks. Happy to take requests, but infamous for her gooseberry pie.

Doriene volunteered at Golden Valley Memorial Hospital and Davis R-XII School. She was active with the Golden Valley Bluegrass Club and enjoyed going to exercise class at the Clinton Senior Center. Her life was filled with great friends like Linda Sites who she felt was like a sister to her. And if there was a fan club for her two grandchildren, she without a doubt would be president of it.

She is preceded in death by her parents Lloyd and Gertrude Keller, her older sister, Francine Keller, and many friends and cousins. One can only imagine the heavenly reunion she had with her two sons, Mike and Dennis, who preceded her in death. A reunion she had no doubt been looking forward to for years.

Doriene is survived by her husband, Gene Swabby, sister Connie (Darrell) Jones, daughters, Sue (Bill) Steward and Janet Swabby, grandchildren Clayton and Jessica Steward as well as several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 14, 2024 at the Bradley & Hadley Funeral Home, Clinton. The family will receive friends from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday at the funeral home. Interment will be in Englewood Cemetery. The family suggests memorial contributions to the Clear Creek Missionary Baptist Church, and these donations may be left in care of the funeral home.

JANE (WHITAKER) JONES

Jane (Whitaker) Jones, formerly of Clinton, Missouri passed away Wednesday, August 14, 2024 at the Foxwood Springs Senior Living Center in Raymore, Mo. She was born May 28, 1931 in Kansas City, Mo., the daughter of Homer Craig Whitaker and Ruby Lee (Shepherd) Whitaker.

Jane worked at various professional offices as an administrative assistant, among them was her family's bank in Blairstown, Mo. She married Clyde Morris Jones, Jr., in Blairstown, Mo., on June 11, 1950. He preceded her in death in 1997.

She was a member of the St. Mathews Presbyterian Church, Grandview, Mo.; the United Methodist Church, Adrian, Mo., where she served as a Sunday School teacher; and the First Presbyterian Church, Clinton, Mo. She and Clyde lived in Drexel, Holden, Grandview, Adrian, Garden City and Clinton. While they were in Adrian, she was very instrumental in establishing the Veterans Memorial Park in the early 1970's. She was a member of the Henry County Museum and the Grandview Jaycees. She was always instrumental in community support everywhere they lived.

Surviving are two daughters, Debbie Roth (Terry), Harrisonville, Mo., and Carla Bensing (Jesse), Grove, Oklahoma; two grandchildren, Roy Johnson (Michelle), Peculiar, Mo., and Maggie Johnson (Kenny), Platte City, Mo.; four great-grandchildren, Gunner Johnson, Caden Herron, Harper Jane Johnson and Sunny Johnson; brother-in-law, Tom Jones, Dallas, Texas; and one niece, Beverly Hocker, Lee's Summit, Mo.

In addition to her husband, she was preceded in death by her parents; and three brothers, Val Jean Whitaker, Doyné Whitaker and Connie Whitaker.

Prayers were said for folk suffering in the aftermath of hurricane Ernesto and wild fires all over the country. We pray for guidance as we continue to grow, here on the southeast corner of the Calhoun square.

Joys to celebrate: We were excited to gather for church today as a Birthday Dinner was celebrated following church services; and what a Banquet it was. It's amazing how a simple dish tastes so good when shared with others. Carol Lane made Snickerdoodles for pre-church fellowship, and we look forward all week for her special treats. We were pleased to sing Happy Birthday to Mason Keller who was 10 this week. Sue Lesmeister and Linda Hawkins enjoyed a trip to Springfield this week. We were pleased Ms. Verna was back today after a short illness. Mr. Steve lit the altar candles at the beginning of our service. Special Music: "I Love You More" by Jimmy Fortune on CD was shared by Steve Siercks. Brylee and Mason Keller took the offering. First Baptist

On Sunday, members and guests were given the opportunity to get to know the Student Pastor candidate, Ryan Campos. With 10 years of experience in Student Ministry and 6 years of experience as a Senior Pastor at First Baptist Church in Appleton City, Ryan felt his call to student ministry as his passion for discipleship grew. Ryan's philosophy for student ministry is to guide youth in our community to knowing Jesus, their faith, and the depths and challenges as Christians by meeting them where they are and along all areas of the spectrum of their relationship with God. Ryan also described the importance of equipping parents, as primary disciple makers, with resources and effective communication, while appealing to students of all personalities and interests. Ryan lovingly expressed his willingness to make the awkward awesome in order to show students that God loves them right where they are and to offer them something the world cannot - Jesus!

Celebrate Recovery is on Tuesday evenings at 5:30 pm at the Vansant location for anyone with hurts, habits, or hangups. Worship service times are 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. and Sunday School is offered at 8:15 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. For more information and upcoming events, please visit www.firstbaptistclinton.church or find us on Facebook at 'First Baptist Church - Clinton, MO'.

We invite those without a church home to join us in worship of our Lord & Savior, Jesus Christ. First Baptist Church exists to fulfill the Great Commission (Matthew 28:19-20) by loving people into a growing relationship with Jesus Christ.

First Presbyterian

When things go wrong in life, we often times want to find the easy way out. We may act like spoiled children, and stop listening to God. Our hearts and lives are empty without God's love. But thankfully He hears our cries and knows our anguish. Ask His forgiveness and receive His healing for your soul and joy will return.

Ephesians 4: 25 - 5:2 was the scripture used by Rev. Nancy Gillard for her message titled Mr. Goodwrench and Miss Manners. Gay Smith played the anthem "O Come, Let Us Sing to the Lord."

A collection for the Festival of Sharing continues and a display is visible in the foyer. A list of needed school supplies is available to those interested in donating items for the Backpacks. Garden seed for community gardens, old prescription glasses, Best Choice Labels and fleece blankets hand made by the Presbyterian Women are among other items requested. This mission project runs into October so there is plenty of time for you to be a part through your generosity.

Coming September 8 will be a celebration of the church building turning 100 years old. The Fellowship Committee and Deacons are planning the annual Fried Chicken Dinner after the worship service. On that day there will also be a special congratulations to all our graduates. Mark your calendar and make plans to attend this special event.

Tai Chi classes are great exercise on Mondays and Wednesdays at 10:00 am. Strengthen your core and improve your balance. An advanced class is available on Mondays at 11:00 am.

You have an open invitation to come visit the friendly, welcoming people of First Presbyterian Church. We will make you feel at home. Our worship begins at 10:30 am. Check out the monthly newsletter and calendar on our website fpccclintonmo.net

"The Hour is at Hand"

Do not become so involved with the world that it interferes with your communication with God. People get confused about the "hour". Time is important at a particular time, especially the present.

It is important to get an understanding of reading the word of God. As the Lord says, get understanding. People's "hour" is almost here. In the book of Matthew, it was Jesus's time to die on the cross.

2Kings 20:1-6
2Kings 20:3

Hezekiah prayed to God in a humble state and wept. Sometimes God allows things to happen to get us in the right state. That pride that is deep down has to come out of us. You cannot please God with pride.

God told Isaiah to go back and tell Hezekiah that his prayer was heard, and 15 years would be added to his life.

We have to be rid of the pride so we can make it to heaven. Ask God in prayer to reveal what needs to be removed. You will not have the chance to do this on Judgement Day. God is the same God from Genesis to Revelation. He will bring things out to keep you from going to hell.

Job was perfect and upright. He didn't ask God to heal him from the affliction of boils all over his body.

(Job 2:7-10)

He expressed confusion over his affliction, but continues to praise God. (Job 10:15-16)

Job 13:15

He was willing to wait for his change to come. He knew who God was.

(Job 14:14, 19:25-27)

Job 42:5.

We have a Bible to read, but in ancient days there was "word of mouth". Job says heard about the Lord, through what he heard the woman or man of God. For anyone who cannot read do not let that hinder you.

Mat 26:36

Jesus was letting them know that he was hurting on the inside. When we accept, the Lord's will, we understand we have to give in. His "hour" was at hand; for him to go to the cross, die, then resurrect. These were the events that would take place in his "hour".

Trinity Lutheran

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) is asking the congregation to donate boxed cake mixes for this year's Christmas Cheer food boxes. The goal is 100+ boxes. Place your cake mix boxes on the table in the Narthex.

The original Sinner's Prayer:

"I believe in God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth; And in Jesus Christ his only Son, our Lord;

"Who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried. He descended into hell. The third day he rose again from the dead. He ascended into heaven, and sits at the right hand of God the Father Almighty. From thence he will come to judge the living and the dead.

"I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy Christian Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen."

Come to church this Sunday. God has promised to be there, waiting for you, to impart and strengthen your faith through Word and Sacrament.

Divine Service 1 pm; Sunday School Noon; Phone: 660-885-4728.

Urich Baptist

Sunshine brightened our day as we gathered at 10:30 A.M. for worship service. Clint Keeney rang the church bell. Mrs. Julia Klinefelter led in the congregational singing with Mrs. Dixie Collins playing piano and Mrs. Rebecca Sowell playing violin. We rejoiced with Carl and Dixie Collins on their 59th wedding anniversary. Randy Vogt and Lonny Bramell collected the offering.

The scripture passage from Pastor Joshua Sowell's sermon was from Romans 8:1-17.

This passage tells us that when we put our faith in Jesus Christ, we become new.

He gives us guidance to make wise decisions, gives us enduring hope, daily blessings, and especially eternal life. Through our faith in Christ we will no longer be condemned by the law of sin. Jesus forgives us. How wonderful is that. Have a blessed week.

The Shepherd Calls by Dr. H. Wade Paris

DON'T BE AFRAID

Recent happenings at the Baptist Home have induced concern among its residents and their families. Perhaps you are asking, "What should we do now?"

The Baptist Home has seen dark days before. In his book, The Story of the Baptist Home Continued, 2003 to 2013, Jim Nelson---one of our current Outbackers---tells of the Home's earliest days. There were times when having enough food for the residents was in doubt. Food was garnered from donors and arrived in baskets and barrels on trains and wagons. In 1935, the Home was sold in forfeiture. Robert Barger, an Episcopalian, bought the Home with its 175 acres including its $200,000 facilities at a sheriff's auction for $131. Subsequently, Mr. Barger sold the Home, for the price of $1 to a new board that was to continue its ministry.

I first learned of the Home and its ministry when we moved to Sikeston in 1967. Observing the ministry of the Home for these 57 years and comparing it to its earliest days, I conclude I have witnessed the Home's golden years.

Recently, however, the Home has encountered new, complicated, and expensive snares. In II Corinthians 12:9, God tells us, "My power is made perfect in weakness." Commenting on that scripture, Andrew Murray wrote, "There is no truth more generally misunderstood and abused. God's thoughts are heaven-high above man's thoughts."

The Liberty Grove Baptist Church in Jackson, Tennessee was voting on the construction of a new building. Their present facilities had long been inadequate and by some calculations unsafe. A lady who apparently assumed they were the best givers in church said, "We cannot do this. We will never be able to pay for it." Another lady said, "I'll tell you what we can do; we do what we want to do." With a standing vote, the church voted to move forward. The following week a deacon and I demolished the front section of the sanctuary so we could not go back.

Fast forward a couple of years---we learned that a widow in our church who passed away had left her home and farm to the church. At the time the church voted to build, no one in the congregation knew of this bequest; but God knew it. The church was built, completed, and paid for in less than five years.

Remember the scripture above, "God's power is made perfect in weakness." Then, do not be afraid. God is in charge.

CCA Hosts 5k Run/Walk

Under a beautiful clear blue sky, Clinton Christian Academy hosted its first annual 5k Run/Walk fundraiser on Saturday, August 10, marking a significant milestone in the school's commitment to supporting its volleyball program. The event attracted a diverse number of participants, all united by a common goal: to support the CCA volleyball team.

The 5K Run was organized by Head Volleyball Coach Jessica Cotten, along with the help of the Assistant Coaches, Gwen Fisher & Sarah Jones, as well as the CCA Volleyball players. The event was a resounding success, not only in terms of fundraising but also in community support. With around 34 runners participating and additional attendees supporting from the sidelines, the energy was palpable throughout the race.

Runners of all ages took to the starting line at 7 a.m., and the race began with a burst of enthusiasm. The course, which wound its way down Division Road, was designed to be both challenging and enjoyable. Participants ranged from seasoned runners to families out for a fun day, showcasing the event's inclusive spirit.

Head Coach Jessica Cotten stated, "This event turned out to be a great time for everyone involved! God answered our prayers and provided us with the perfect weather and temperature! It is such a blessing to bring such amazing people together to a wonderful event where we can honor God and praise Him for all He has done for us."

As the runners crossed the finish line, the event closed with a sense of accomplishment and camaraderie. Winners of the 5k Run/Walk were as follows: Male Winners: 1st, James Fischer; 2nd, Colten Manning; and 3rd, Matthew Wombles. Female Winners: 1st, Ashlee Henny; 2nd, Gwen Fischer; and 3rd, Micah Nadler. Organizers are already looking forward to next year's run, eager to build on this year's success and further strengthen the ties between CCA and the Clinton community.

CCA wishes to thank all who helped make the event such a great success. Approximately $1200 was raised through this event to support the CCA VB program! Without all of our parents, VB players, coaches, and volunteers this event would not have been possible. Special thanks to Logan's Heating & Cooling and Lennox, for their help in sponsoring this event!

For those who missed the event but wish to contribute in support of the CCA Volleyball program, donations can still be made to CCA. Contact Information: Clinton Christian Academy, 271 W Division Road, Clinton MO 64735; 660-890-2111

Funeral Directors

It's when we suffer a tragic loss, They help us bear the heavy cross. Preserving loved ones in their rest, They try to fill each last request. Within the valley's shadowed death, They help us stop and catch our breath. They offer comfort and relief To cope with sadness, stress and grief From older folks to juveniles, They walk with us through many trials. And as we share our sad goodbyes, We see compassion in their eyes. With hope and wisdom to impart, They comfort each sad, broken heart. They offer guidance through the day And gently help us find our way. by: Larry Howland
