BCHS President Leroy Whitaker opened the evening by welcoming the crowd to the annual banquet which is the major fund raiser for the museum.

Whitaker also introduced BCHS board members: Jeff Polly, Marsha Eaton, Jim Hargrave, Rick Bibb, Rosemary McMahan, Janice Swearngin, Phylis Smith, Charlotte Simmons and Donnie Nichols. Marsha Eaton is the curator of the museum.

During the evening, attendees placed bids on items offered for the silent auction.

A live auction was held after dinner with Russell Johnson and Phillip Yoder providing their services. One of the top items for the auction was a set of "The History of Benton County, Missouri" books by Kathleen Kelly White and Kathleen White Miles. The books were published in the 1969. The set of three went for $900. Another popular item was a wooden duck hand carved by Donnie Nichols. The duck brought $625. A meal for six prepared by Randy Warsaw Mayor Eddie Simons called the meeting of the Warsaw City Board to order at 6:00 PM on Monday, April 7, in the council chambers of the Warsaw Community Building.

Alderspersons present included Lou Breshears, Adam Howe, Rob Coskey, Eric Flores and Jim White. City Clerk Jessica Kendall took notes of the meeting.

After the approval of a consent agenda and payment of the bills, the board unanimously passed a resolution for the City of Warsaw to apply for federal financial assistance from the United States of America for the purpose for Warsaw I & I improvements, concerning acceptance and compliance with various requirements to obtain financial assistance from the United States of America, acting through the United States department of Agriculture, rural development. The adoption of the resolution does not adhere the group to actually apply for a loan at this point, but is merely a formality in the process.

After a presentation by City of Warsaw Pool Manager Cheyenne Beard, the board also passed new admission prices for the pool for the 2025 season.

Admission to the pool was raised from $4.50 per person to $5.00 per person.

In the early 1800's, the colorful Osage Indians hunted, lived on, and controlled the entire length of the Osage River valley. The French had earned the trust of this great tribe by creating a very prosperous fur trading business. As a direct result of this trust, the entire tribe shared their friendliness, excellent farming abilities and land with our ancestors.

The very celebrated Lewis and Clark expedition provided this area with its first recorded settler. Ezekiel Williams conducted several more independent explorations of the West. Even with this vast knowledge of the new frontier, Williams chose the Ozarks to settle due to the unlimited virgin timber, spring fed streams and lakes, and abundant wildlife.

The pioneering homesteaders made the same discovery, and settled in small groups of three or four families in close proximity to each other. This not only provided security in a very remote back country, but in one or two of these new settler homes they constructed a so called porch kitchen which was used to instruct all the children in this settlement. This was the birthplace of the one room school in later times.

Population was growing rapidly in this un-organized, un-chartered area later to become Warsaw, Missouri. A legal system was needed to control the influx of new pioneers. Steven Houser built the first house in Warsaw, and provided a court room for several years to allow a legal system to assist and control community organization and growth.

Overland freight was held up at the Osage River because crossing was available only during low water times. Lewis Bledsoe built a strong, usable ferry in 1831 to solve this problem. This brought a concentration of large freight wagons, teams, and drivers in need of rest, repair, and overnight accommodations. Blacksmith shops, sleeping quarters, and saloons grew quickly to supply these needs. Many blacksmith shops ran 20 or more forges to provide shoes for the teams, and repairs for the wagons.

As the area grew and prospered, the court ordered the area to name a county seat for Benton County. After several years of heated disputes, Warsaw was declared the capitol in 1835, but it took seven more years for the name of Warsaw to become official.

The melody along the river in 1837 was the whistle of the riverboats announcing their arrival in Warsaw. These early steamers provided an enormous economic impact with numerous freighters being unloaded and reloaded night and day along the Wharf. St. Louis merchants were very pleased and eager to provide the new pioneers with much needed steel, salt, groceries, nails, and trading supplies for the Indians. The new settlers re-loaded these steam boats with raw material harvested from the new frontier. Items being shipped included animal hides and pelts from the abundance of wildlife, grain, dried fruit and vegetables, dried meat, honey, and large quantities of corn whiskey from their stills.

Slaves created working melodies as they paced their walk to the beat of the drum and carried the heavy packs on their backs, unloading and reloading the river boats. The peak levels of navigation in the spring and fall created brisk business all along the Wharf in early Warsaw.

In 1840 the population of Warsaw reached 1200 as churches, schools, the first jail and courthouse were constructed. Many merchants were opening shops to sell the new supplies. Hundreds of slaves were registered in Benton County causing growing racial tension. The Osage River served as a natural dividing line between the slave owners of the south, and the "free soilers" or "secessionist" to the north. A silent Civil War with bloody raids claimed countless lives for many years before the Civil War was officially declared.

The click of the rails, the familiar whistle, and the smell of coal smoke brought the successful romance of the railroad to the area after the war. Industry needed to move steel, grain, livestock and people at a faster pace so the railroads replaced the river boats.

Benton County had so many tributaries of the Osage River and the Grand River winding through the area that bridges became an absolute necessity to transport livestock and grain to the large river terminals. Warsaw city engineer, Joe Dice, built 20 bridges and swingers with some being rebuilt upon failure. Joe Dice left not only many very useful design and construction ideas, but he also had a reputation for his beautiful singing voice, often heard in local churches.

Severe economic depression hit the entire country in the 1930's, and Benton County was no exception. These rough patches seemed to strengthen this area, even when the wars of the 1940's were followed by severe record floods. All these hardships stimulated a serious plan for flood control.

From the very beginning, Warsaw was a rural based agricultural community. This allowed for a very peaceful small town character where residents were often employed by personal friends and neighbors. Skilled jobs were provided by the grain and livestock industry, the feed milling industry, railroads, and gunstock factories.

County educational leaders responded to continued growth with creative construction plans. Approximately 100 one-room schools were reorganized, and consolidated to three school districts in Warsaw, Lincoln and Cole Camp.

As the 1960's appeared, plans for long time flood control were under way. Truman Dam construction began in 1964, and was completed in 1979. A 50-thousand-acre pool provided adequate flood control. As this flood control project was in progress, another important industry was being developed by the large number of tourists coming to the area. The attraction and beauty of the developing new lake helped convince these tourists to consider building new homes here and becoming permanent residents. This large influx of new households required not only new and expanded banking facilities, and medical care, but additional eateries, and shopping.

grinding coffee for the morning brew. That would be for grown-ups, cocoa for the children, also building fires in three stoves so that the house would be warm when his large family arose.

Sometime later the train whistle would blow and he was off to the post office to work the mail, then start on the rural mail route riding one horse (Old Queen) and using (Old Buck) as a pack horse.

As he passed our house he would blow a whistle for one of his family to pick up our mail and give him his lunch, which he often did not eat as it would be frozen by noon. Again the same whistle would be blown to gather his children in for the evening mail. Later he drove a horse to a cart, and I can still hear him approaching. Then later a Model-T replaced the cart.

The town siren blew at noon and again at 6 in the evening. It too, was blown when a fire occurred. One blast for one end of town, two for the other. Having no fire department this gave us great concerns.

I remember well different people driving cows from town to nearby pastures outside of town, stopping them at the town well near our home to water them morning and evening.

I can still hear the laughter as we were picking blackberries in a path that seemed terribly big. Guess it was as we picked 150 gallons one year. Laughter was also hear as baseball was being played in our pasture, or it could be a game played with sticks and a can called (Old Sow in the hole) or various other sports.

One winter when it was very, very icy, I remember seeing my brothers skate to school. Als on winter nights one could hear children sleigh riding on Wisdom Hill. No cars were on the road so it was safe.

Almost every Saturday night there was a band concert on the hotel lawn which was run by Mrs. McEwan. Kenneth Davis was the conductor and had taught most of the people involved as music was not taught in school. This music could be heard from a great distance. Sometimes fiddle music was enjoyed there too.

Church bells always rang out on Sunday morning and most everyone went to church. When the bell of the Lutheran church tolled during the week, it meant that one of their members had died and it tolled once for every year of their age, so we stood and counted until we had the age figured out, then tried to determine who it might be, not knowing until it was learned by word of mouth, as there weren't any telephones. Our neighbor Arch Lockard, ran a dray wagon and delivered kerosene, groceries, feed and etc.

Lincoln sometimes had a fair, which was quite an event and one could see and hear sounds that were different and enjoyable. Gene Nash ran a drug store and if you happened to get an Eskimo Pie with a pink center (instead of white) you were entitled to another. And that was great! Silent movies were shown at night at the school and this was a treat. Once in awhile a tent show would come to town.

I watched my brother play basketball on an outside court and I did too for three years, also one year of volleyball. Tournaments were played in Sedalia or Smithton as they were the only one that gymnasiums. One had to put their hands in the pits of their arms to warm up when playing outside, but it was fun.

Our little red wagon made a noise of its own as we took it to town to get five cents worth of ice which would cool tea for both dinner and supper on hot, sticky days. There was a man named McQueen that would drive up with a load of watermelons and Mom would purchase some and place them in a tub of cold water to be eaten later. They tasted cold to me, but now I know they weren't.

On occasion, some of the Henry clan would go home with my Uncle Matt and Aura Fields and have the enjoyment of spending the day on a farm about four miles north of Lincoln. We rode in a surrey, going with them after church on Sunday and returning again in the evening for church. The Bible was read out loud by my father each morning before breakfast, followed by prayer and I have seen both Mother and Father kneel by their bedside to pray before retiring. This is well worth remembering."

It was signed Mrs. Bob White, Warsaw, MO.

Lincoln Softball Dodges Weather To Pickup Two More Wins, Now 6-0

NOT IN TIME, the Lady Cardinals Rebekah Helland scored as the ball rolled away from the Tipton pitcher trying to make the tag at home plate in Lincoln's 11-1 drubbing of the visiting Cardinals on Monday night.

Lady Cardinals softball improved their record to 5-0 with an 11-1 victory over Tipton on Monday night. Unlike recent games in Lincoln, the wind was not a factor. However, a muddy infield left by recent rains caused a few fielding issues.

Lincoln's Braylin Paxton was on the hill for the five inning contest and turned in one of her best performances of the season thus far. She gave up one run on two hits, struck out three and walked one.

Anna Crane took the loss for the Tipton Cardinals. She gave up 11 runs (eight earned), on 13 hits, struck out none and walked two.

Alyssa Mellen, who had the big bat on the day, went 4 for 4, drove in three runs and scored one run herself. Lilly Mellen went 1 for 4 with two runs batted in and two runs scored. Freshman Molly Strozewski, starting in left field, went 3 for 3, scored two runs and drove in two.

Several balls in the outfield were misjudged by Tipton and were scored as a clean hit.

Tipton fell to 3-4 on the season.

On Tuesday, the winds were a factor at times but both teams responded well. Lincoln busted open a close game in the fifth in a 13-3 five inning victory over Santa Fe. It was tied 3-3 after three before Linocln exploded for five runs in the fourth and five in the fifth to end the game.

The Mellen sisters shined once again as Lilly, a freshman, went 4 for 4, scored three runs and drove in three. Her older sister, senior Alyssa, went 3 for 4, scored twice and drove in two. Skylar Arbuckle went 2 for 2, scored three times, drove in a run and walked once. She was tagged with Lincoln's only error of the day on a wind blown ball in the first inning.

Lincoln coach Aleah Johnson commented, "Arbuckle has improved over last season, as has Rebekah Helland and Cadance Harvey, playing catcher for the first time. Helland is also learning a new position at first base."

Asked about the close game, Johnson replied, "We made some adjustments in our hitting and our bats came alive."

Asked if she thought they would be undefeated at this point, she commented, "I knew we could be good. We have several inexperienced players on the field."

Lincoln scored in the first on a sacrifice fly by Harvey. Santa Fe took the lead in the second with two runs. The lead was short lived as Lincoln scored two of their own in the second. The Lady Chiefs tied the game in the third. Lincoln pulled off the defensive play of the game as the elder Mellen fielded a double to center and hit her cut off, little sister Lilly, who fired to third baseman Katy Cook who tagged out the runner (Bellinger) trying for a triple to end the inning.

In the fourth, Greenlea Harms singled and scored on a triple by Arbuckle. Arbuckle later scored on an error. Harvey reached on an error allowing Lilly Mellen to score and Cook drove in Alyssa Mellen. Harvey scored on a single by Braylin Paxton to make it 8-3.

In the fifth, the Lady Chiefs brought in a new pitcher who walked the bases load setting up the five run outburst. With two outs, Cook singled to score Alyssa Mellen to end the game.

Paxton went five innings. She allowed three runs on six hits, walked one and struck out six.

On a side note, her fifth strike out unofficially gave the trio of Paxton girls; Braylin, Aleah and Cadyn, a combined 1,000 strikeouts for their careers. As full-time starters, Aleah pitched two seasons, Cadyn threw one amd Braylin has tossed three already, with a handful of games to boot this year. Their combined number of starts is 140.

Lincoln moved to 6-0 on a 13-15-1 line. Santa Fe was 3-6-3.

Lady Bluebirds Win Wild One, Lose Two To Top Teams

By
Johnie Logue, Sports

The Cole Camp Lady Bluebirds had an interesting three game stint as they won a wild eight inning battle with Crest Ridge at home on Friday, 11-10 and then were on the end of two blow out setbacks.

Madilynn Ogle singled on a line drive, scoring Madolynn Flores to end the contest with Crest Ridge. Ogle was also the winning pitcher after hurling five innings. She gave up six earned runs on nine hits, struck out two and walked none. Emma Thayer started in the circle and went three innings. She surrendered four runs on four hits, struck out one and walked three.

EMMA THAYER

Cole Camp's line was 11-20-4 while Crest rRdge was 10-13-6.

On Wednesday, the Lady Bluebirds lost to Versailles, 17-2 in a four inning affair on the road. Versailles scored four in the second, 10 in the third and three in the fourth. Cole Camp scored two in the third. The Lady Bluebirds committed eight errors that certainly didn't help their cause.

Katie Davidson earned the victory. She went four innings and gave up two runs on five hits, struck out six and walked none.

Ogle took the loss going 1.1. She gave up 13 runs on 10 hits and walked one. Thayer went two innings and allowed 4 runs on 3 hits and struck out two.

Ladycats Roll Behind Brilliant Outing From Brewster

By
Adam Howe, Sports

The Wildcats offense took a while to get going, but not so much for Brylee Brewster who fanned 17 of the 20 batters who stepped in the box against her, including the first 11 of the game, in an eventually decisive 11-0 win at Green Ridge last Tuesday night.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the top of the first off of RBI's by Haylee Cobb and Brewster, the game went scoreless for the next three innings.

Warsaw (4-1) broke things loose with a 5-run fifth inning to make it 7-0.

Adison Sherrill was hit by a pitch to lead things off and moved to third on a Cobb double. Brewster scored Sherrill on a fielder's choice and Cobb scored on a passed ball. Emmersyn Miskell followed and reached on a bloop single and later scored on a bobbled ball put in play by Elizabeth Winters. Mady Reimund reached on a free pass and Hailey Ferguson's ball that was misplayed scored Winters. Reimund crossed the plate on a wild pitch to end the Ladycats rally.

Another 4 runs in the fifth frame closed the final out at 11-0.

Brewster surrendered just 1 hit in the win and allowed 0 bases on balls.

Cobb paced the Warsaw offense with 3 hits while 2

During Snagging Season, Be A Good Friend To The Lake

By Dianne Peck
County Reporter

Paddlefish snagging season opened on March 15 and runs to April 30, 2025. It draws people even from out of state to take advantage of the unusual piscatorial sport. Living proof of its popularity are the many boats that put in not only at Drake Harbor but other locations as well.

The Corp of Engineers has a "Don't" list they hope everyone will follow. Don't dispose of fish waste in trash receptacles, port-a-johns, parking lots, etc. Don't discard fish waste near the water's edge or on the boat ramp.

Do dispose of fish cleaning waste back into the water (deep or the flowing part of the stream) so it won't wash back up on the bank or become concentrated in one area.

Do always wear your life jacket and do have a good time to build good memories of your time spent on Truman Lake.

DON'T BOTHER, he stole it; Dawson Parrott holds up the throw to second as the Tipton base runner goes in standing up. Tipton won 4-1 last Monday in Lincoln.

By Johnie Logue
Sports Reporter

The Lincoln Cardinals lost to Tipton 4-1 on Monday at home but turned around on Tuesday and defeated Santa Fe 15-2 in another home contest.

Wildcats Offense Carries Them To Home Win Over Weaubleau

By Adam Howe, Sports

Kendall Bagley went 3 for 4 to help lead the Wildcats past the visiting Weaubleau Tigers last Tuesday night, 14-6.

Bagley tallied singles in each of the first, second and third innings.

Warsaw got on the board in the bottom of the first inning after Bagley singled to centerfield and Jayce Depriest grounded out, both driving in one run.

Weaubleau tied the game in the top of the second, much thanks to two free passes.

The Wildcats flipped the game around in the bottom of the second with 5 runs. Garrett Ferguson, Bagley, Logan Gemes and Ryan Fajen all picked up hits, but the outburst was aided by walks drawn by Depriest, Sonny Garrett and Drake Murrell, and a hit by pitch by Ferguson.

Warsaw added 2 runs in the third to make it 9-2 and the Tigers pushed across 3 in the top of the fourth to close the gap at 9-5.

But the Wildcats answered with 2 more runs in the bottom of the fourth and then added 3 more in the sixth to build a comfortable 14-5 lead. Weaubleau managed 1 more run in the seventh before the Wildcats closed things out with the 14-6 final.

Josh Bunch earned the win for Warsaw. He surrendered 2 run on 2 hits, struck out 8 and walked 4 over 3.1 innings. Depriest

The Fristoe area was blessed with rains over the past weekend which should really put growth on the seeds that have been put in the ground. The other side of the coin is the temperature has not been very warm which doesn't encourage things in the ground to come up. However, my husband Dean has lettuce and radishes coming up joining what is already growing, onions and potatoes. As mentioned at beginning of this week's column, this area got quite a lot of rainfall, which put Turkey Creek over the bridge at Angus Road. While coming home from church on Sunday afternoon, two different pastures had several turkeys scratching and strutting. Prayer requests for this week are for Steve Gemes, Kathy First, Gladys Harris, Joe DeAngelo's grandson Duncan, Dorothy Thomas, Gail Mann, Bud Hatch and Delores Prater. Happy Birthday shoutouts this week are for Emily Hatcher, DoBee Wolf, Chante and Gracie Colbert. Hope they all have a wonderful birthday! Students are all working hard on school projects as well as preparing for proms, graduations and many other activities that take part of school ending. There is always baby showers, wedding showers and birthday and graduation parties that make use of the Fristoe Community Building this time of year and bless each family that makes use of it. Anyone passing thru Fristoe take notice of Fristoe Pentecostal Lighthouse Church and all the different things that are being done. I am not gonna blurt out what is going on, but it will be spoke of eventually. Numbers were down Sunday but Br. Smith lead song service and Br. Claude and Sis. Delores sang a special. The adult Sunday School class is still studying Minor Prophets and Br. Smith's message was from the book of Galation. Thought of the week: God intervenes in situations of people by being invited only! Behold, I stand at the door and lock. -Revelation 3:20 The Fristoe News hopes everyone has a great week!

Dear Editor,
We've all heard the words Social Security, but for over 1,300,000 Missourians (over 2,437 in Benton County), it's more than just words—it's a lifeline. Seniors, veterans, people with disabilities, and hardworking folks depend on these benefits to cover essentials like food, medicine, and housing. Yet, Republican lawmakers, including Congressman Mark Alford and Senators Josh Hawley and Eric Schmitt, are pushing policies that would slash Social Security, making life harder for those who rely on it most. Their relentless drive to cut government spending has led to deep staff reductions at the Social Security Administration, restrictions on phone-based services (unduly burdens older adults who live in rural areas, have mobility issues, or lack access to a computer or the internet) and closing field offices—reducing access for Missourians. These actions, along with threats to the security of personal information, have raised alarms among both Democrats and Republican career staff. It's time to demand accountability from elected officials and make it clear that attacks on Social Security and releasing personal data won't be tolerated. Missourians deserve better. Jacqueline Farr

Have I Got A Line For You!

By James Mahlon White

“Prayer is man’s greatest means of tapping the infinites resources of God.” I found that on the internet yesterday. I’m not certain who said it or wrote it. It reminded me, however, of a one day retreat I attended in a small Catholic church when visiting Austria. The day was comprised of dividing your life into six segments. In each one, you’d let your memory go back to that particular stretch of years. Part of this involved the recall of events and people who had hurt you and hurt you had caused others. You then turned it over to The Almighty and let it go. This was a “quiet” retreat and talking was verboten unless a teaching session was underway. Was I quiet for the whole day? No, not all the time, but I did give it a try. Let’s leave the spiritual and go to what’s happening next.

Are The Donald’s tariffs going to be good or bad for us? Every time he does anything there’s a huge uproar and each time he picks the right course. A good example of this was “hydroxychloroquine.” If the goal is to replace income tax with tariffs then, count me in! Our elected officials will never let this happen though. They need high taxes to control every aspect of our life. Just ask residents in Canada and the EU. Meanwhile, our government is an out of control pyramid scheme and we’re the victims. Look at the insane spending DOGE has uncovered. I’ll take America First all day and cutting government waste as well!

There’s a lot of discussion about Congresswoman AOC flying first class from New York to Las Vegas to speak at a Bernie Sanders rally. The premise was to focus on the “working class” and against the oligarchy. Two months ago, Congresswomen Cortez proposed a ban on flying to reduce carbon emissions. What does this prove? That socialism is for the people, NOT the socialist. Same thing with old Bernie who owns three multi-million dollar homes and has never held a job outside politics. Bet AOC will say she was forced to fly first class for security reasons. You betcha!

Well, another election is in the Benton County history books. Congratulations to the winners and my sympathies to the losers. It’s tough to wage a campaign and then have all that effort go up in smoke in about a 12 hour period. I send you best wishes for a good day Old Buddy, with lots of laughter.

'Til Next Week:

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

RICKIE CASWELL,
AAMS®
Financial Advisor

The financial markets always go through periods of instability. And we may see more of that now, given concerns about tariffs, inflation and the economy. As an investor, how can you deal with this volatility?

Some investors try to take advantage of market ups and downs by attempting to follow the age-old advice to “buy low and sell high” — that is, they seek to buy stocks when they feel prices have bottomed out and they sell stocks when they think the market has reached a high point. In theory, this is a great idea, but in practice, it’s essentially impossible, because no one can really predict market highs and lows.

Rather than trying to anticipate highs and lows, your best strategy for coping with the price fluctuations of the financial markets is to diversify your investment portfolio by owning a mix of stocks, bonds and other types of securities. Different types of financial assets can move in different directions at any given time — so, for example, stocks may be up while bonds are down, or vice versa. If you only owned one of these types of assets, and the market for that asset class was down, your portfolio could take a bigger hit than if you owned a variety of asset types.

And you can further diversify within individual asset categories. Stocks can be domestic or international, large-company or small-company — and these groupings can also move in different directions at the same time, depending on various market forces. As for bonds, they too don’t always move in a uniform direction, or at least with the same intensity — for instance, when interest rates rise, bond prices tend to fall, but longer-term bonds may fall more than shorter-term ones, which are closer to maturity with fewer interest payments remaining. Conversely, when rates are falling, longer-term bonds may be more attractive because they lock in higher yields for a longer time. Consequently, one diversification technique for bonds is to build a “ladder” containing bonds of varying maturities.

Some investments, by their nature, are already somewhat diversified. A mutual fund can contain dozens, or even hundreds, of stocks, or a mixture of stocks and bonds. And different mutual funds may have different investment objectives — some focus more on growth, while others are more income-oriented — so, further diversification can be achieved by owning a mix of funds.

Furthermore, some investors achieve even greater diversification by owning alternative investments, such as real estate, commodities and cryptocurrencies, although these vehicles themselves are often more volatile than those in more traditional investment categories.

While a diversified portfolio is important for every investor, your exact level of diversification — the percentages of your portfolio devoted to stocks, bonds and other securities — will depend on your individual risk tolerance, time horizon and financial goals. You may want to consult with a financial professional about creating the diversified investment mix that’s right for your needs.

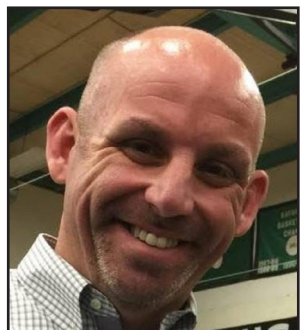

Ultimately, while diversification can’t guarantee profits or protect against all losses, it can help you reduce some of the risks associated with investing and better prepare you to deal with the inevitable volatility of the financial markets — two key benefits that can help you over the many years you’ll spend as an investor.

STREET

Do you think President Trump's tariffs are helping or hurting the economy?

Only time will tell. We have to reduce our reliance on foreign good (especially from China) while not hurting our exports, like American farm products.

-Jimmy Miller

I don't think tariffs will hurt, but people will have to buckle down for a bit until the benefits are felt.

-Larry West

They could hurt in the short term, but be beneficial in the future.

Flowers In Flight

Every great once in a while we are privileged to make the acquaintance of an extraordinary person. Maybe not a famous one by the world’s standards but one notable enough that your life’s experience would have been somewhat cheated if you had not known them. Mary Ellen was just such a noblewoman.

She was not celebrated and probably never will be. But in her circle of friends she was a joy for her inspirational stories, her good example and her joyous poetry. Poetry that tells the story of a woman of the great plains and her life’s struggles there.

She was cut of the cloth of those that rode out the dust bowl days, loneliness and sorrows of living in a harsh unyielding land. She had tasted life to it’s fullest in her seventy some years. If you didn’t have your head on straight, her sage advice may be: “You need to dismount and re-saddle”. In other words, revamp your thinking and your outlook. She gave me a poem that tells her story the best:

*You just can’t beat it.
The snow was coming down and the wind was high.
I crawled out of my warm
bed and heaved a big sigh.
Put on my overalls, didn’t have jeans back then.
If we ever wore slacks it was a terrible sin.
I was making the coffee
when I heard a loud shout.
Charles hollered, “Saddle that mare, the cattle are out.”
I grabbed my coat as I ran out the door.
The air was so cold it went through to the core.
I had the mare saddled
and was ready to go.
It took only a few minutes,
as I wasn’t slow.
They were headed south,
staying close to the fence.
Just ran right along didn’t have good sense.
We rode up ahead and tried to turn them around.
Their ears were frozen as they stood their ground.
That mare was the best
cutting horse that we ever had.
Had to hang on to the horn
or it would have been bad.
We had them all turned
and headed for home.
When along came a car
driven by some old crone.
She scattered the cattle by honking that horn.
Now can you beat that,
another fool had been born.
We got them all rounded up and then shut the gate.
We hadn’t had breakfast and it was getting kinda late.
We went to the house,
and as we went through the door.
I could smell the coffee and then I looked at the floor.
The coffee had boiled over
and made a big mess.
Forgot to turn off the burner in my time of stress.
It snowed all day and into the night
The wind went down, we looked out, what a sight.
Everything was covered with ten inches of snow.
We had to feed the cattle and take it real slow
We didn’t have four-wheel drives way back then Just and old truck that barely ran, only a has-been.
Charles looked at me and said, “Can you get the gate?”
I said, “You have sure changed since we used to* *date.”

But life has been good out here on the farm.
We raised six children and kept them from harm.
We had lots of company
and a whole lot of fun.
It seemed as though our lives had just begun.
I always cooked for twelve,
as we never knew.
Whether there would be a bunch or only a few.
Those times are gone now
and I am getting old.
That is why I thought this tale should be told.
Always enjoy each day
and always smile.
Because you start getting old in a very short while.*

As I sat, so many years ago and listened to her read me those words I was reminded of how we feel that if everything in our life isn’t perfect, we cannot be grateful for anything. We fall into that all or nothing thinking. And we live in a society that puts so much emphasis upon youth and beauty that we have very few models for womanliness. Our culture assumes that one is a little girl and suddenly becomes a woman. Womanhood is much more than sexuality and producing babies. It is the slow growth of bringing all we have to offer to not only those around us but ourselves as well. Maybe we should compare ourselves to a butterfly. Their final stage of life is when they are the most beautiful. I always think of butterflies as “flowers in flight”. To learn to be a butterfly, sit quietly and watch one.

If you are lucky one may alight on your hand. Breathlessly just watch it and admire it. If it chooses to spend some time with you, you are blessed but do not try to hold onto it or you will kill it. Let it teach you that you can have all the treasures of the world, not to own but to merely appreciate and enjoy. It can teach you that you are not the center of the universe. Like Mary Ellen, you need to accept yourself and to know your strength is in not missing the beauty and the other forms of goodness around you. Learn to be a “flower in flight.”

Cole Camp
Hosts New Spring Fling

By
Dianne Peck
County Reporter

The merchants of downtown Cole Camp issued an invitation to one and all needing a day trip to shake the late winter doldrums. They encouraged everyone to don their rain gear and dig out their umbrellas to help in dodging raindrops between shops.

The downtown area had two grand openings on Saturday, April 5. Ranch House Coffee made its debut inside RiOak designs along with their spring plant sale. The former Wine, Women and Song building now showcases its new proprietors selling delicious baked goods as the Bushel and a Peck Bakery and all kinds of surprise merchandise in the H-H Antiques & Collectibles.

Every shop was offering specials on clothing, jewelry, baked goods, coffees, Easter décor and wines. No matter what you fancied every business had special discounts and for a few, they were storewide. Cole Camp is now officially open as a daytrip destination for 2025.

CC Museum Prepares For
New Season

By Dianne Peck
County Reporter

The Cole Camp Museum held its regular March meeting on Thursday, March 20 at 2 p.m. in the Cole Camp Senior Center. The Treasurer, David Heisterberg, presented financial statements for previous months and gave a report on what it takes in dollars to operate the entity annually.

President Robert Weinberg staged a silver pitcher and cup from an unknown local church had been given to Neil Heimsoth to be placed in the museum.

Concerns about the cost of heating and cooling of the museum was discussed and it was decided to call a service technician for an assessment of the unit.

Plans for the Museum’s annual Olde Tyme German breakfast, held on March 29, were finalized, asking volunteers to come early or stay later to assist in the clean-up.

The April meeting will be held in the museum on April 17th at 2 p.m. Volunteers are asked to please come at 10 a.m. for the annual spring cleanup to prepare the entity to reopen on May 2, 2025. At noon the Museum will provide a Main Entrée and everyone is asked to bring a potluck dish of a salad or desserts.

In closing, President Robert Weinberg announced he was resigning from the Presidency, effective March 31, 2025.

CCCB Moving Forward With Rock Island

By
Dianne Peck
County Reporter

Cole Camp Community Betterment held their April meeting in the Handel Haus on Tuesday, April 1.

Following routine approval of Treasurer and Secretary’s reports, the agenda moved to the Rock Island Trail. The group thanked JoAnn Lane for putting out the press release.

Lane reported the engineering firms have been interviewed and the one chosen will be released soon. A motion was made to ask Charles LePage to do the next step in the TAP grant and do an independent cost estimate. Lane will speak to him soon.

The group reviewed a list of grant opportunities and consideration will be given to what options are available. Those mentioned were the Sunderland Foundation, Patterson Family Foundation, Veterans United, Walton Family Foundation and the MFA Oil Community Enrichment Foundation.

Discussion was held on how to handle the monetary gifts and pledges from individuals and a good plan was developed. The idea of a Capital Campaign for Rock Island was passed around and would be used to make contacts in Missouri who give regularly to similar projects.

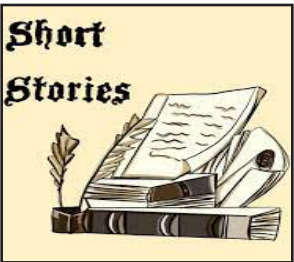

Charles Hunter is assisting with a Missouri Humanities project gathering information on the Rock Island Railroad in this area. Dianne Peck stated she would share research and photos she had.

In other business, the restroom signs for Olive Street, east of the Jaycee building, are being prepared. Roxy reported the plants in the Butterfly Garden behind The German Table are coming back. She will check into painting the concrete behind the garden to make a better background to showcase the flowers.

Two large bicycle racks will be placed at R-1 and the Cole Camp pool. The four smaller ones will be placed at the pickleball court, Cole Camp Post Office, A.J.’s Dairy Bar and Butterfield Park.

Pictures of historic buildings from Old Clabbertown and the original plat of the town square will be placed in the kiosk in Butterfield Park. CCCB is still waiting for more information on the playground equipment grant for Butterfield Park.

Meeting was adjourned.

We human beings like to give nicknames to each other. I guess that is on of our traits. About a month ago my life’s partner of 65 years said good bye to me. Why God put the most beautiful little girl together with a young guy who stuttered like crazy, I’ll never know; but that is what He did.

He not only put us together but gave us a pet name for each other even before we were married. That name was Woozie. We allowed no one to call us Woozie except ourselves. The day she left me she called me Woozie. She even called me Woozie when she was angry with me.

Let’s talk about my little Woozie for a moment. I had known her all my life and her big brother and I were best friends. Arnold and I would water ski down on White Branch every Sunday after church. Florence began showing up in her bathing suit. I once hit a log while skiing. Florence had me distracted. One day I asked Arnold if he thought “Sissy” would go on a date with me. He said, “I think she would Jackie.” The next Saturday night “Sissy” and I were at the Roxy Theater in Warsaw. Sometime later she was introducing me, stuttering and all to her friends. I was loosing control.

Several months earlier I had prayed that the Lord would give me a wife. Make sure you have your mind together when you pray. I was 23 and “Woozie” was 17. Lord, do You know what you are doing here? Apparently He did because five little boys, a few disagreements and 65 years later; my sweet little angel told me goodbye while holding my hand.

On her finger were two very small bands that I had placed there sixty five years ago. The Lord was so faithful and good to us. We walk with Him and hold His hand everyday. I wonder if she is holding our little baby James right now?

The Word says that we should not mourn as those having no hope. I’ll see my Woozie again. What a day of rejoicing that will be. See you soon my beloved Woozie!

A Message FROM THE MAYOR

If you have not purchased your dog license (or chicken-keeping license), it’s time to do that now. There is a bonus of free rabies vaccination for all dogs with a current license. The clinic will be held at the city barn/shed on Saturday, April 12 from 1:00 PM to 2:00 PM. This is the only time the vaccinations will be offered by the city, so don’t miss it! Dogs must be on a leash or in a carrier while at the clinic.

The grass is growing and will sprout quickly with the warmer temperatures and the spring rains. This is a reminder that grass must be kept cut no taller than 7 inches to meet city ordinance requirements. If it is allowed to grow taller, residents can be given a citation and fine. When mowing your lawn be sure to remove the clippings from the streets by making your last direction so clippings will be blown back into the yard. It is very dangerous to anyone riding a bicycle or motorized bicycle/motorcycle because the clippings make the pavement very slippery and can result in accidents.

There is no longer a municipal court held in Cole Camp. All court business must be conducted at Benton County Courthouse in Warsaw. This includes payment of fines. The city clerk does not have any access to the court records and can no longer accept payment of fines.

Once again, there is a need for volunteers to beautify the flower beds at the Boonslick Library in Cole Camp. Much improvement was done about two years ago with landscaping plastic and rock being applied, but as time passes it needs more attention. The local staff has identified plants that need to be removed and/or pruned back to make it easier to complete the process. There even a couple of rogue trees that have sprouted in the flower beds. Please contact me by email or at City Hall if you have a few hours to donate to this project. It would be wonderful to find some “permanent” volunteers who would make this their own project.

I’d like to thank every person who voted for me, put my sign in their yard and volunteered for my campaign for City Council.

Cole Camp is a wonderful place to live and raise our families. I’m proud to call it home.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

JOHNIE J. LOGUE

Abusing The Scriptures -Acts 19

First of all, you must know the book of Acts is dealing with a transitional period in church history. Therefore, it is very dangerous to form your doctrine based solely on the scriptures from this transitional book.

If I had the gift of healing, I would heal three elderly women on Jackson Street in Warsaw in about five minutes. Then off to the nursing homes and hospitals. I would not sell a cloth or beg for money on TV.

There is a baptism of the Holy Spirit at the time of conversion and not two separated acts.

Demonology is best left to the experts, if there really are any.

Tongues and healing were for a sign and ceased to exist. Paul couldn't heal Timothy or his other companions. He left Trophimus at Miletus sick.

The Lord Jesus said to be born again, not born again and again.

He died and shed his blood for every sin; past, present and future.

Time to die, really? He gave Hezekiah 15 more years after saying he would soon die.

Water baptism is an answer of a good conscious, a public testimony and obedience to God for the born again believer.

I hear people say prayer works. No, prayer is communication with God and not a tool to get what you want.

Let's rightly divide the Word of truth.

UNITY OF THE LAKES

Rev. Dr. James Gaither will be sharing a Palm Sunday message at Unity of the Lakes on April 13. Rev. Gaither has a master's degree in philosophy and Doctorate in Theology. He has been a seminary professor for over 30 years and has also served ministries in Illinois and New York for over 12 years. He has written two books, co-hosted a radio program called "Biblical Power for Your Life," and written over 100 magazine articles on spirituality and metaphysics.

Palm Sunday commemorates the story of Jesus entering Jerusalem with a crowd of followers. This story indicates how Jesus' original followers saw him by alluding to passages in Hebrew scriptures. But how is the story relevant for us today? The story has symbolic spiritual meaning for each of us about recognizing and connecting with our innate divinity. The Apostle Paul said, "I live, yet not I but Christ lives in me" and spoke of "Christ in you, your hope of glory." Connecting with "Christ in you" results in a more powerful and positive life. This message explores the practical and deeper metaphysical meaning of Palm Sunday.

Service is 11:00 AM followed by refreshments and fellowship. Dress is casual and all are welcome. We are located 8 miles south of Warsaw on Highway 65. Our physical address is 34948 Hwy 65 South, Warsaw, MO

BAPTIST CHURCH

Hello fellow readers. I hope you enjoy reading this column each week. Sunday school is being well attended. We had around 75 in worship today. We also had some visitors. Happy birthday to Kevin. We have started the bell choir again. We haven't played for some years. We are getting ready for Easter with a couple songs. We enjoyed a fellowship dinner after church today. Many stayed to enjoy all the different food choices. It was a great meal. It was good to see one long table filled with young adults and teenagers. Praise God for them.

We observed the Lord's Supper today. Pastor Jesse explained about who should and who shouldn't partake in it. Pastor Jesse's text was from Hebrews 10:19. Do you question your faith? Faith needs to fall on our Lord and Savior. Holding on to our faith isn't easy. Have boldness to worship Jesus. Don't waver from your faith. We need to lead people to Christ. Don't forsake the meeting together. Everyone needs Jesus to be saved.

AND HAVE A BLESSED WEEK.

HOPEWELL

1 Corinthians 4:8-13, The church in Corinth is a wealthy place, and they had separation between those with wealth and those without. All other New Testament churches were dirt poor, treated like garbage, and no one wanted anything to do with them. Most people worked as independent contractors. Jesus' family were stone masons. When people became followers of Jesus, they stopped with the temple worship and then were treated like something was wrong with them. Paul asks them, have you compromised the gospel in favor of doing well in your community. Paul's sarcasm continues with the massive sins inconsistent with the gospel, their worship was not about Jesus, they were worshiping themselves. What is really the most important thing right now, us or Jesus?

The truth of the gospel does not lead to us being in control or winning, it leads to a sense of loss. The last shall be first and the first shall be last. The gospel does not lead us to earthly victory but to victory in Jesus. The world mocked and crucified Him, and it looked like loss, while it was victory for us! When we give our lives to Jesus, we surrender all the control, we step back from trying to win, and accept what Jesus wants from us. Jesus doesn't have a problem with wealth. The problem is the unwillingness to share or meet other's needs. What is the point of being saved if we can't act like it? Following Jesus isn't easy, but it's the right thing to do. If we've been transformed by the grace of Jesus, we should act like we have been transformed. Otherwise, we start looking like the Corinthians and we compromise our faith in favor of the world. Jesus called us to be different. We impact the world by being different and demonstrating the gospel to others. A lasting impact is to show others what the gospel of Jesus looks like. The question is very simple, will we be transformed by the grace of Jesus or not?

WARSAW
OF THE
NAZARENE

Good morning from First Church of the Nazarene! How is your prayer life? Last week I shared on meditation and how we should be willing and desire to be in the presence of God daily—not just on Sunday. Worship begins at home! So, with that mindset, let us continue a chat on Spiritual disciplines with prayer. This is the second of three inward disciplines vital to growing in your walk with Jesus. Where would Jesus have been without prayer? Matter of fact, it is the one topic Jesus thought was important enough to provide details on how to do, yet many believers today treat prayer like a Christmas list to dear old St. Nicholas. Oh, it is much more, and 'real' prayer combined with meditation will bring about change in your life and the life of others. Prayer is a powerful weapon and that is why the enemy has crafted many modes of entertainment to distract us and keep us from praying. Are you ready for some change?

Many people say prayer does not work so they do not pray. My reply is simple. "You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions." (James 4:3). Remember last week when I taught meditation and the impact it will have on your spiritual growth? Evidently, we should come to understand the will of the Heavenly Father because we gain the mind of Christ. Given this truth, then how can we pray "God your will be done" and not state plainly in our prayer God's will. When we pray with the mind of Christ, we are filled with God's thought's, His love for all His creation, and His desires for the world.

Think of all the spiritual giants of the Church. I can guarantee that every one of them held prayer as the 'main business of their lives'. Not social events, but prayer. Does that excuse us from being missional in our communities? Of course not, however, prayer should be a fabric in our life like breathing. I realize that many believers do not have such a prayer life. Start today! Yes, start today and look back a year from now and see your growth. It is never too late for God will always meet you where you are and be your strength in building this vital spiritual discipline.

Do you believe prayer makes a difference? Consider what Paul said in 1 Corinthians 3:7-9 " So then neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but God who causes the growth. 8 Now the one who plants and the one who waters are one; but each will receive his own reward according to his own labor. 9 For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building." We are working together with God to shape the world as His agents of good will here on earth. "Nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done." (Luke 22:42) Clearly, we have been given a tremendous responsibility in releasing God's will over all His creation. Again, I ask, are you ready for change? On an interesting side note, we should consider the reason the content in Matthew 6 comes after Matthew 5 which contains the beatitudes. I do not think this is an accident or just a random order of events in what Jesus was teaching His followers. The goal of living for Christ was given first and followed by the tool to help us achieve that life. Walk deep for blessed are.... (you fill in the next word).

The bottom line is simple. Real prayer is something we learn and is a discipline that will grow when you are willing and make the choice to develop a deeper prayer life.

One sign of spring are the white blossoms of Bradford pear trees. This oval-shaped oriental became a favorite of landscapers and was widely planted in yards, city malls, business campuses, parks and downtown revitalization efforts from the 1960s up to 2000, but after four decades the Bradford pear would appear on the categorized lists of invasive trees in nearly all the eastern, midwestern and southern states.

In the early 1900s, United States pear orchards were in danger of being wiped out by fire blight disease. The U.S. Department of Agriculture sent Frank Meyer, a scientist, to China to search for a disease resistant fruit variety. Meyer collected several hundred pounds of the Chinese Callery pear seeds. He headed to Shanghai on a riverboat in 1918. The boat arrived with the seeds but Meyer was missing. His body was later found in the river, the cause was never determined.

Meyer's Callery pear seeds were shipped to the USDA Plant Station in Glen Dale, Maryland. Over the next three decades plant scientists found that the Callery pear was fire blight resistant but it did not produce edible fruit. Although it had little value for orchard growers, the Glen Dale station chief, Charles Bradford, thought the Callery pear might make a good oriental tree. He was working on its development when he collapsed of a heart attack in 1951.

Frank L. Creech continued Bradford's work. He found one variety of the Callery pear tree had a pleasing shape and produced a proliferation of white flowers. Creech reproduced the tree and eight years later the carefully pruned test trees were deemed a success. Creech named the tree Bradford pear in honor of his deceased boss.

By 1962, the Bradford pear was available commercially and became one of the most widely planted ornamental trees in the United States. All ornamental pears originate from Pyrus calleryana, commonly referred to as Bradford pear.

The trees were very popular because of their prolific spring flowers, dark glossy leaves and ability to thrive in almost any kind of soil - and because as a hybrid, people thought they were sterile, therefore having no messy fruits to contend with. The tree grew only 20-25 feet tall, retained its oval shape and in the fall, leaves had brilliant colors.

In 1966, Lady Bird Johnson planted a Bradford pear in Washington, DC publicizing its use as a landscape tree.

Fast forward to the 21st century when conservationists and forestry scientists were calling the Bradford pear an "invasive tree". By 2011, at least 26 states had reported problems with the spread of wild Callery (Bradford) pear.

In 2007, Theresa Cully, an Ohio scientist, documented the reason for the spread of wild Callery pears. As other cultivars were developed and released, each cultivar was genetically different from the others which meant they could, and did, cross with each other producing lots of fruit and seedlings trees. Birds ate the fruit and scattered the seeds across the landscape. The proliferation of wild Callery pear thickets has been wide spread, most noticeably around municipalities and non-cultivated areas. Its invasive spread has been largely uncontrolled. Callery pear populations have exploded and threatened native biodiversity as the trees steadily march into our native grasslands and forested areas, even becoming a headache for land developers.

In 2019, the Missouri Invasive Plant Council started a Callery pear buyback program. The Missouri Department of Conservation Bradford pear buyback 2025 schedule is on the MDC website. There are 17 locations statewide and the closest location nearest Warsaw is Warrensburg on April 22 from 3-6 pm. All that's required is bring a photo of a Bradford pear that you have cut down and you will receive one free native tree.

A great place to find native plants that are best suited for your area is the National Wildlife Federation Native Plant Finder: nwf.org/nativeplantfinder. Just type in your zip code.
