Benton County can apply for a grant in the fall.

In the past several years, BCCF has granted funds to the Benton County Historical Society, the Cole Camp Museum, the Food Bank, the three county school districts and annual scholarships to a graduating senior in each of the three county high schools.

The BCCF’s Board of Governors include: Dorcas Brethower, president; Tracey Spry, treasurer; Cheryl Petersen, Alice Wilson, Amanda Lutjen, Randy Eaton, Suzi Brodersen, David Knuth and Marcia Knuth.

The Benton County Community Foundation is affiliated with the Community Foundation of the Ozarks. The CFO provides philanthropic leadership to build stronger communities.

MEETING

current operating hours, will continue to share information with the public, and seek input on certain design elements of the office consolidation plan.

There will be a short presentation by USACE staff on the recommendation and floor plan overview, followed by an open forum for questions and comments, including the opportunity to submit written comments.

Back in November, Clint Mason, Branch Chief from the Kansas City District, addressed a group of concerned citizens at the meeting and offered some possible solutions to the problem of how to keep the Visitors’ Center open throughout the year. One solution was to remodel the Visitors’ Center and make 18 work stations so all of the Truman Dam staff could be together in the building on the bluff. If this were to happen then the current administration building and the two houses behind the building would be abandoned and possibly demolished.

“We currently have offices in the Administration Building across the lake from the Visitors’ Center,” said Mason. “We also are currently using the two houses behind the Administration Building for offices. These houses were built for living quarter for Corps employees, but they have been converted into office spaces. These houses were built in the 70s and are in need of repair. After a feasibility study in December, costing approximately $270,000, Col. Travis Rayfield, the District Kansas City Commander, will make the final decision on whether or not the three current buildings will be torn down and the Visitors’ Center will become the main office for employees of Truman Dam and Reservoir.”

If the plan is approved then the land where the present administration office sits could be used by the City of Warsaw for campgrounds or other recreational venues.

The Harry S. Truman Regional Visitor Center, one of only a handful of Class A visitors’ centers in the United States, sits atop Kaysinger Bluff and provides a spectacular view of Truman Dam and Reservoir. Exhibits within the Visitors’ Center provide information about the rich history of the Osage River Valley from pre-civilization to modern day. Waterfowl, bald eagles, and turkey vultures can routinely be observed from the observation deck.

If the Visitors’ Center is remodeled then some of the exhibits will have to go because the work stations will take up some of the present exhibit space. The plan is to keep the viewing area available for the public and if this happens then visitors will be able to go into the center throughout the week as the staff will be working there.

Presently, the Visitors’ Center is only open Friday, Saturday, Sunday and on Mondays following a holiday from 9 AM until 4 PM from April until September.

Rich Chiles of the US Army Corps of Engineers said that the plan is to consolidate the project office and the visitor’s center.

“There presently is no funding to remodel the visitors’ center but our plans are to remodel the visitors’ center so we can accommodate our work force and allow visitors to enjoy the great view from the visitors’ center,” said Chiles. “This will also allow us to keep the visitors’ center open more days since we will be working there.”

The architectural firm of Linscott, Haylett and Associates, AIA, of Kansas City, Missouri, designed the Visitors’ Center. Construction on the building began in 1975, and was completed in 1977 by Miller-Stauch Construction Company of Kansas City, Kansas. Kaysinger Bluff provides a natural setting for the structure’s contemporary design, with the exterior and interior surface treatment developed to blend with the surroundings both in texture and color.

Upon entering the building, a large map greets the visitor, showing the location of all park areas at Truman Reservoir. Visitor Attendants are on duty at the reception desk to answer questions about the project and lake area. Truman Lake Brochures and other informational pamphlets are available to visitors. Directly behind the information desk is an orientation and welcome video. The paintings on display in the building are by the late E.M "Ike" Parker. Exhibits on the main floor provide information on the lake area, Harry S. Truman, Partnerships, Living History and westward expansion. Wildlife, history, and water safety videos are available by request for viewing in a 67-seat theater.

The rotunda area contains reproductions of archaeological fossils and artifacts found in an area now covered by the waters of Truman Reservoir. On the south wall is a life-sized painting of the Missouri Leviathan, a creature once thought by scientist Albert E. Koch to have roamed the area. Actually, the bones of this extinct "creature" were that of many Mastodons and other creatures that Koch discovered in the area in 1840. Ramps on each side of the rotunda lead to the observation deck. A social history time line depicting the exploration and settlement of the Osage River Valley is displayed on the north wall for viewing as visitors walk up the north ramp.

Exhibits on the upper deck explain Truman Lake’s role in cultural history, wildlife, and environmental management, the operation of the powerhouse, Corps of Engineers Missions, and Construction of the Harry S. Truman Project. Views from the upper deck allow visitors to see both Truman Lake and the Lake of the Ozarks. Visitors get a sense of the construction and operation of Truman Dam, which separates the two lakes.

Other items of interest within the Harry S. Truman Visitors’ Center Complex include a nature trail along Kaysinger Bluff (approximately 3/4 mile), the Hooper House and Barn, the Log Cabin complex, the Kaysinger General Store, and the Concord Schoolhouse located just off the Hooper House Trail.

In addition to the regular summer operation of the Visitors’ Center, the area is open during Heritage Days and the Kaysinger Christmas celebration.

For additional information about the meeting, contact project staff at Harry.S.Truman@usace.army.mil or 660-438-7317. The location of this meeting is ADA accessible.

permanent areas of grass and trees on land that needed protection from erosion, to act as windbreaks, or in places where vegetation can improve water quality or provide food and habitat for wildlife. The farmers entered 10 to 15 year contracts with the Commodity Credit Corporation. In return, they received annual rental payments, incentive payments for certain activities and cost-share assistance to establish the protective vegetation. This CRP program was one of Federal Governments largest improvement programs and one of its most productive and cost-efficient.

During his career with the FSA Brent also worked with Farm loans and Price Support programs as well as the CRP programs. He was a good fit as he grew up in the Ionia area where his parents resided on a farm west of town. The adjoining farm was his grandfather’s and Brent now lives there while his brother Neil adjoins him on their father’s place. The boys have the land rented out and still pursue their love of music, as most locals know. Their band, Midnight Hour, played at many venues over the years in the area.

Now both boys, Neil and Brent, have joined forces with Kelly Jones in a new musical pursuit. They buy and resell vintage musical instruments and amplifiers, etc. This I discovered when I asked the typical retirement question of, “Do you have any trips planned?” Brent replied the trio will soon be headed for Texas in their interesting new recreational hobby.

When further questioned about a Bucket List he replied, “I used to think I’d like to go to Europe but I haven’t thought about that in a long time. Maybe being on the road with Leroy Van Dyke cured my traveling ideas.” VanDyke himself is winding down as Brent only performed two shows with him in 2024.

Brent was retiring in September of 2025 but has now taken Technical Administrative leave and is no longer going into the office. Rogena Whitney, the other FSA office employee, has been transferred to working in the Hickory County office four days a week. Rogena is in Lincoln on Wednesday and the other four days can be reached by telephone, as the call transfers to Hickory County.

out helped Warsaw tie the game at 3-3 in the top of the fifth, but in the bottom of the same inning, the Tigers broke up the tie and extended their lead to 6-3.

Five more runs on just 1 hit in the bottom of the sixth doomed the Wildcats in an 11-4 final.

This week has been really nice in temperatures but also getting a nice sprinkling of moisture keeping the gardens and actual planted crops that need to stay watered up. Many gardens around the neighborhood are growing really nice. To name a few crops are lettuce, radishes onions putting forth edibles as well as peas,, potatoes cabbage and a few others almost ready to be ate. I have had several questions/requests from last week on the statement I made about the Amish that are in the neighborhood. I will put them in the column again.. Alright, the V V blacktop highway to Angus Road has a well stocked Green House, also V V highway to Hereford Road has a business that sells Lawn Furniture. Moving on V V across A A till you come to Palmer Road and down that road about a mile and half is the business that sells Vitamins, and alot of different additives. Now back to A A toward 65 highway to Turkey Creek you find Turkey Creek Grocery Store. To everyone I hope you enjoy shopping! Prayer requests this week are Kathy First, Larry Berry, Steve Gemes, Gladys Harris, Bud Hatch, Dorothy Thomas, and several attendees of Fristoe Pentecstal Lighthouse Church. Happy birthday shout-out to all in May. My what I call my "City girl" granddaughter Ryleigh Reno will be graduating from Kearney High School the second week in May. She graduates high school in May and turns 18 years old in June. For anyone passing by Fristoe Pentecostal Lighthouse is building, on. The church was started in 1934. The history of the church was written and put in the Benton County History Book by Zelma Mitchner. Several people from the church as well as some hirings will be working about every day, especially Dean Arnett, Tony Smith and Bryan Smith. This Sunday Dave and Connie lead song service with Elizabeth "Dobee" and Bryan, also Dobee, and Dave sang specials. The adult Sunday School unit this month is really a good one covering teachings of the Life After. Todays lesson was about several that God had given messages to, Moses, Daniel, and David thay pertained to the hereafter. Br. Smith's message was from the book of Revelation. It touched on the church of Sardis! We invite everyone to stop by and view what the church is doing, a well remember that the church will be in Brush Arbor Revival in June. Come and visit and find out how God has blessed Fristoe Pentecstal Lighthouse Church! Thought for the week: What we must remember: We can accomplish more in one hour with God than a whole lifetime without Him! With God all things are possible Matt :19:26

Have I Got A Line For You!
By James Mahlon White

Well, The Donald is planning to “Shake things up” on the White House grounds. He’s installing twin flagpoles, one on each side of the house. The one flying from the roof isn’t cutting the mustard. He’s also re-doing Mrs. Kennedy’s rose garden. President Trump says he’ll pay for this out of his own pocket. Hey, why not have Mexico pay for it? Now that an idea! Here’s a better one. How about focusing on the price of groceries, no tax on tips, no tax on social security benefits, healthcare and ending the war in Ukraine. Bet landscaping issues at the White House aren’t what most of us want covered right now. Better leave it there, before Mike Murray gets too excited over these comments, but that’s how I see it.

LONE STAR NEWS! There’s a big debacle down in Texas over the state lottery and the director just resigned amid multiple investigations into prior jackpots. They total $200 million. Seems courier companies were used to pick up tickets at stores around the state, using every possible number combination. Texas State Law says that lottery tickets must be purchased in person. I’ve always been suspicious of state lotteries and lotteries in general. Isn’t it odd that the Powerball Jackpot is always won by someone in California? Gambling run by anyone is going to be easily corrupted. Does anyone know how much they take in? Lotteries exist because they’re the easiest way for our government to get revenue instead of taxing us all 100%. It’s also the easiest way to get money from the poor. That’s wrong. Wasn’t our lottery here in Missouri supposed to improve education? How has that worked out? Where have all of those millions gone? Put Elon to work on this!

This is the time of year when I’m reminded of Kitty Bunch. When Aunt Jane was a little girl and lived in the house attached to the old Enterprise Building, Kitty was a cook at the hotel across the street. Kitty would sing loudly as she cleaned fish on the hotel’s back porch and then stroll down to the wharf land with a bucket and big butcher knife to get greens for cooking. The wharf land is the land along the river below Warsaw. It was owned by the U.S. government and where steamboats tied up. In those days, wild purple violets dotted the terrain. The violets and the old wharf are long gone. Most everyone who was present during this time have gone somewhere too.

Until recently, if you received a pension from a job that did not pay into Social Security and you’ve also worked in a job that did, your Social Security benefits at retirement were reduced based on your pension income.

As of Jan. 5, 2025, that’s no longer the case, thanks to the Social Security Fairness Act. Now, you’ll receive both your pension and your fully earned Social Security benefits because the Act repealed the Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP).

This new law also repealed the Government Pension Offset (GPO) provision which had reduced spousal or survivor Social Security benefits for people employed in government jobs. These benefits will be increased in 2025.

There are nearly 3 million people who, depending on their situation, may see their benefits increase – from very little to $1,000 a month or more. Those impacted fall into these professional categories: teachers, firefighters, and police officers in many states; and federal employees covered by the Civil Service Retirement System.

The Act is retroactive to January 2024, and the Social Security Administration paid an additional lump sum benefit to affected people in March 2025. Going forward, most monthly income “raises” appear on April checks (for March benefits). A few more complex cases may take a little longer.

A word of caution – beware of scammers. The Social Security Administration doesn’t tend to call, email or text; they’ll send a letter regarding changes to your retirement benefits. And they will never ask you to pay for assistance or to have your benefits started, increased, or paid retroactively. But you can call the SSA at 800-772-1213 to ask if your retirement benefits have changed.

Plan for your increased retirement income

Of course, everyone’s needs are different, so there’s no one “right” way to handle a lump sum benefit or a monthly raise in income. But here are a few suggestions:

- Pay off some debts. If you have credit card debt a car or student loan, you may want to pay it down, or even pay it off.

- Invest in an individual retirement account (IRA). If you still have “earned” income – from wages, salaries, tips, bonuses, commissions, self-employment earnings or long-term disability payments – you can contribute from these sources to an IRA. There are tax benefits and an array of investment choices, so it’s an excellent way to build resources for retirement.

- Save for college. If you have children, or grandchildren, who have college in their plans, you might want to put some money into a college savings vehicle, such as a 529 plan, which provides tax benefits and gives you great flexibility in distributing the money.

- Build an emergency fund. If you don’t already have an emergency fund with three to six months of living expenses, you can work on that. Keep the money in a liquid, low-risk account, so that it’s readily available to pay for unexpected costs. Without such a fund, you may be forced to tap into your long-term investments.

Above all, you may want to get some help. A financial professional can recommend ways of using the money to help you meet your goals. Take any recent government correspondence that shows how your retirement benefits have changed so you can build or review your retirement income strategies.

If you’re thoughtful about how you put your new income to work, you’ll be doing yourself, and your retirement, a favor.

Different Flowers from the Same Garden.

Once upon a time there was a lovely fence that encased the yard here at the old homestead. My Grandfather John built it shortly before he died. Sadly all that remains are the crumbling stone corner posts and the tilting concrete support walls. I have been urged by some to have that “eyesore” removed and buried but that old wall holds a vestige of my childhood that I’m not ready to discard. On it can be found various hand prints with names and dates. They belong to me and my Chehaski Cousins.

As my Grandfather painstakingly erected that fence in the last summer of his life, he had each of us press our hands into the fresh wet concrete. Then our name and our age was scratched beside it. A couple of years ago, I, and two of those cousins strolled around the yard and searched out our names, each of us seemed to know just where to look in the parapet.

With the rush of emotion that we felt at discovering “ourselves” on the concrete support, came floods of memories that we lovingly shared, memories that bind us as a unit as strong and steadfast as the ancient concrete itself. It made me know the truth in an old quote; that we were “cousins by blood but friends by choice.

I feel a sorrow for the children of today. They are growing into adulthood in a nucleus family which lives unto itself. With no relatives, no support and that puts the child and that tiny family unit in an impossible situation. Few of them will ever relate to a bumper sticker I chanced to read recently. It said: “In the cookies of life, cousins are the chocolate chips.”

Family folklore taught me as a child that “persons” grow on family trees. It taught me that we had unique family expressions, food, mementos and “inside jokes” that no one else could ever possibly find amusing because they didn’t know the history of the anecdote. The maternal side of my family was small compared to Dad’s side. In fact I’m still meeting people that are third, fourth and fifth cousins. And then there are the first cousins once removed.

Usually people were just identified to me that they were “cousins”. No one ever explained the degrees of cousins; maybe because it was too confusing to them too. I actually found a chart recently that defines the bewildering subject. For example a first cousin has two of the same grandparents as you would. Second cousins share the same great-grandparents, third cousins have the same great-great grandparents and fourth cousins have the same great-great-great grandparents and so on.

When the word “removed” is used to describe a relationship, it indicates that the people are from different generations. I and my first cousins are the same generation (or two generations younger than our grandparents) so “removed” is not used to describe our relationship.

The words “once removed” means that there is a difference of one generation. An example being that my Mother’s first cousin would be my first cousin “once removed”. This is because I am one generation younger than my Mother’s cousin. And twice removed means two generations difference.

“Removed” and “once removed” wasn’t used much in Mother’s family but I heard the term frequently in Daddy’s. Possibly because that part of the family tree had some roots that ran deeply into the southern side of the Mason-Dixon line.

I knew a lady once that was forever referring to her “Kissing Cousins” and I never quite knew what that term meant. Upon doing some research on the subject I discovered the term is understood in different ways to different people. It can mean Cousins that know each other well enough that they greet each other with a kiss. Cousins that are not related by blood (they have married into your family) thus they become “kissable” by marriage. And then there are the cousins that actually marry each other, such as Queen Victoria and Prince Albert. Or our own Jesse James that married his first cousin Zerelda “Zee” Mimms.

I grew up believing that they had married what I was taught to know as “Forbidden Relatives”. In this country there is actual legislation against marriage between first cousins based on biological risk to the offspring.

Now it comes to light that there were no European countries that prohibited such marriages and that it was done in America to promote more rapid absorption of the immigrants. As mentioned before, Queen Victoria and Prince Albert were prime examples of first cousin marriages which proved to be a great love story. Unfortunately their grandchildren went to war with each other in World War 1. Few of us ever pause to think that Russia, England, Germany, etc; were ruled by “cousins”, talk about a family feud.

Life moves on but sometimes repeats itself in small ways. In my back yard lies concrete impressions of my nine grandchildren’s hand prints. A Mother’s Day gift from them a couple of years ago. What a priceless treasure they are to me and I am searching for the proper spot to install them in the landscape here on the Creek. A special spot that they can stroll to in their later years to search out their hand prints and recall their individual memories about good times with their “cousins” The cousins that are different beautiful flowers all from the same garden.

Cole Camp Museum Set For May 2 Opening

By Dianne Peck County Reporter

The Cole Camp Museum hosted a work/cleanup day Thursday, April 17, 2025. At 2:00 PM former President, Robert Weinberg called the monthly meeting to order. First order of business was the nomination and acceptance of Diana Ball to fill out the remainder of Mr. Weinberg’s term as President.

Dianne Peck nominated Diana Ball and Joe Brockman made a second. The vote for Ms. Ball was unanimous.

Newly appointed Diana Ball called the meeting to order and Secretary, Dianne Peck read the minutes from the March meeting.

It was voted to rehire Surefire Total Detail Company to professionally clean the Museum windows prior to the reopening in May and again in the fall.

The 2025 season begins Friday, May 2 and Docent schedules have been handed out. The Museum still needs Docents. One half day a month is needed from the volunteers. Tasks include either opening for morning or closing, while there, following the afternoon session. Volunteers sit the desk, welcome visitors and are welcome to read, knit, sew, play solitaire or whatever. No work or lifting involved. Volunteers answer questions and if they don’t know, they often take down the question and the person’s contact info so someone can respond to their queries. Please consider helping the museum by giving four hours of your time each month.

The Historical Society wants to sell their sesquicentennial coins and the Black history books at the Museum and it was voted to do so. With no further business the meeting adjourned. May Meeting is Thursday, May 15 in the Museum at 2:00 PM.

COLE CAMP SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

By Dianne Peck County Reporter

The Cole Camp School Board held their regular monthly session on Tuesday, April 22 at 6 p.m. in the Library. Election results were approved and the old Board dissolved and the newly (re-elected) members Pam Eckhoff and Zach Lutjen were sworn in. Jordan Kyle was elected Board president. Rick Grunden was elected VP and Leila Metzner was re-elected Board secretary. Jordan accepted the role as Foundation representative.

No one was present for Citizen’s comments. In regular business, The Board revised the published agenda to include the FCCLA overnight trip this summer. The Board approved the consent agenda which consisted of the previous Month’s meeting minutes, payment of bills, sub list and the March financials.

Under Informational items, the Board heard updates on progress toward meeting the District’s CSIP goals, and the return to emphasis on the procedures associated with requests to conduct a fundraiser. In a first reading, the Board saw the proposed language for the updates to paid time off employee policies. This policy was informational only this month but will be up for approval in May. The revised language included input from Central Office staff, the administrative team, and CTA Leadership team.

Under Action items, The Board approved the annual contract, with Ed Counsel for policy service, the Benton County Health Department social work contract for 2025-26, the online payment option as provided by Central Bank, the salary schedules for extra duties, support staff, and teachers. They approved employment of the support staff and extra duty staff members. The Board approved the overnight trip requests for district golf, FFA summer camp and FCCLA national conference.

The bid from Home Heating and Cooling was approved for the old multi remodel. The administrators and CTA presented their reports and calendar items were reviewed. The Board sponsored Teacher Appreciation Breakfast will be on Thursday, May 1. Serving times will be announced.

Following the Executive session Megan Garbuzov was employed as the lead teacher assistant for the full day preschool for 2025-26. Teagan Harrison was employed as a part time process coordinator for 2025-26. Ryan Metscher was employed as the district’s bus mechanic, starting July 1, 2025. Jennifer Bloss was approved for hire for 2025-26. The May Board meeting is set for May 27, 2025.

Sparks Named Employee Of The Month At GSCC

By Dianne Peck County Reporter

ADRIANN SPARKS

There was quite a bit of illness among the residents in March, enough that the Mardi Gras party was cancelled. The residents did get to enjoy St. Patrick’s Day. Despite all that the time changed and spring has arrived. Gusty winds have kept us inside and we are all looking forward to sunshine and fresh air.

The residents that stayed in enjoyed an Easter dinner of baked ham, Au Gratin potatoes, Asparagus cuts, deviled eggs and a dinner rolls. Dessert was coconut cake. A worship service was held at 3:00 PM.

The May calendar is chocked full of fun activities starting on May 3 with barnyard day. There will be a Mother’s Day celebration on May 9 and all the residents are looking forward to the Butterfly memorial on May 21.

Adriann Sparks was selected as Employee of the month for April. Adriann has not been with GSCC very long, but she has made an impact on the home. According to Staff she works hard to keep everything clean but also finds the time to visit with and help residents in any way she can. A team member nominated her for the recognition saying, “She does not leave a room unclean. She always has time to bring a smile and a helping hand to the residents. What a joy to have her as a team member.” Adriann, thank you for all you do!

A Message FROM THE MAYOR

By Diana Burdick City of Cole Camp Mayor colecampmayor@yahoo.com

If you are a business owner in Cole Camp or provide services for residents of Cole Camp, you will need to purchase a business license. The cost is based on the number of employees of the business. This has not been clearly understood in the past so I hope that this can be clarified by the Board of Aldermen so that it will be fair to all businesses. One of the items that will be considered is to base the cost on number of full-time equivalents (FTE). Many businesses employ several part-time (PT) employees rather than only full-time (FT) employees. This will make it easier to determine a fair/reasonable cost for businesses. The licenses are due June 1st of each year and can be obtained at City Hall.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK
JOHNIE J. LOGUE

The Four Enemies

The Bible speaks of the Christian's enemies. Four stand out.

Death is the last enemy Christ will remove. Death robs us of family and friends. It leaves us grieving with broke hearts. Sorrow is a heavy burden. Death changes our lives in many cases.

The world is our enemy. The culture, the media and the government are not always pleasant. People in general can create many problems for us. There is an evil in this world that can be overwhelming at times.

Our flesh is our enemy. We deal with lust, fear, worry, hate, anger, jealousy, greed and pride. We face sickness and time. Our body ages and can bring along suffering and worry. We take our eyes off the Lord and look at people. Bad choice.

The devil is our enemy. We can blame him for everything or give him no mind at all. Both views are wrong. He blinds the minds of unbelievers. He promotes discord in our churches and has many preachers in the world preaching a false gospel.

He is the prince of the power of the air. He is the master of confusion. Doubt, despair and depression are his tools of warfare. He is truly a roaring lion looking for an easy prey. Given a chance, he will sift you like wheat.

You want to survive? Find a good church, a good Bible, pray and pray some more.

I am Pastor Johnie J. Logue of Grace Baptist Church at 31046 Hwy MM. Call me at (660) 281-4775.

WARSAW CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Cast all your care upon Him, because He cares for you
-1 Peter 5:7

I recently read about a conflict in the Middle East. A shepherd noticed that when a shot rang out or a bomb exploded, his sheep were startled and frightened. So the shepherd touched the frightened sheep and spoke calmly to them, and they soon relaxed.

This is a reminder to us. Much is going on in our world that disturbs us. With various illnesses, the war in Ukraine, and a host of personal problems, we can feel stunned. When we are scared or frightened - overwhelmed by the cares of this world, as we turn to our shepherd and trust in Him, we can find comfort and peace. We can cast all our cares upon Him because we know that He cares for us. When it seems that no one else cares for us, we can count on the Good Shepherd. "He cares for you." Reach out to Him by faith, and He will touch your heart and give you peace.

HOPEWELL BAPTIST CHURCH

In 1 Corinthians 5:1-5 Paul addresses sexual immorality in the church. This is not a secret relationship; the church knows about it and is celebrating it. Paul says you cannot continue to have fellowship with the man having this relationship. This passage has been used in all the wrong ways to condemn others when it's meant for reconciliation. When there is a problem, one person goes to talk with them, then you send two. If there is still no change, then and only then would the person be asked to leave. Paul says, you need to hand this man over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh. Paul does not say to hand them to their sin and never have anything to do with them again.

If they don't want to make changes then you must do something uncomfortable so the behavior that is not God's will can be destroyed. The problem is not confined simply to sex, it's any behavior inconsistent to what is acceptable to God. Churches have done a poor job of dealing with sin. Some prop up hatred and bigotry instead of the grace of Jesus. Not saying anything condones and celebrates the behavior. If we're never willing to accept our faults, we've got a problem. God's grace is enough to forgive our faults. Let's ask the questions, what's going on in our lives that we are not acting like Jesus. We should love the person enough to care. Enough to have the conversation that is hard. We go to people who are struggling and say we love you and care about you but we're seeing something we're worried about. Maybe we're not even on the right track. We'll never know if we don't have the conversation in the first place. The church is full of people who have made mistakes. It's not about being perfect but repentant. The attitude of our hearts. And we try with His power to change. We cannot do it all by ourselves. Whenever we fall, His grace is sufficient!

Join us weekly for Sunday School at 10 a.m., Worship at 11 a.m., and Children's program and Bible study at 6 p.m. Sundays and Wednesdays. Business Meetings are the second Wednesday each month. At a time of personal loss, we each express our feelings differently. No one service is right for everyone. That's why we offer various options for the most appropriate service, the most fitting farewell. And personalized attention to detail.

celebrated birthdays. Many are in need of prayer. Plans are in place for a community revival this summer.

Pastor Jesse's message from Psalm 61 and Luke 10:25 about the good samaritan. Are you overwhelmed in your Christian life? Burdens can weigh a person down. Prayer warriors don't walk away. They help you with that burden through prayer. It is easier to carry that burden when you know someone is praying for you.

Who is your neighbor? This world is full of traps. If you are in need who is your neighbor? Everyone is your neighbor. Do you walk past people in need? Are you so overwhelmed that you can't help others? We wonder why Jesus lets us go through things. He's building us up. Give your burdens to God.
