McKenzie Graduates 107 During Sunday Ceremony

MCKENZIE (May 13) — McKenzie High School gymnasium was a packed house as family and friends watched 106 McKenzie seniors walk across the stage to end their time at McKenzie High School. One graduate, Sarah Prestwood was at Basic Training for the U.S. Army National Guard and was unable to attend.

The 1.25-hour celebration was filled with references to God by the three student speakers, and a beautiful rendition of the Star Spangled Banner by Nathan Eaton. Principal Tim Watkins also prayed for the students prior to the students entering the gymnasium.

Class President Hannah Bilger said McKenzie High School is a place to grow as individuals, where the teachers and coaches push students to be their best. MHS is a place where champions are made. She told her fellow graduates, "God will always be there for you."

She said McKenzie and its high school is one town, one school, one family.

Luke Spivey, salutatorian, had a simple, three-step message for his fellow graduates.

He advised them as follows: "You will get what you ask for; you will get what you work for; you will get what you pray for. When in doubt, pray it out and to ask for help when you need it."

In closing, Spivey said, "I could not ask for a better group of people to grow up with."

Anders Rider, valedictorian, asked his fellow graduates to honor the mothers on this mother's day. He also asked his fellow graduates to offer applause to the faculty and staff of the school and their families for their support.

Rider said it took the village to help these students grow. He told the story of his childhood, when he was diagnosed with meningitis and told he might suffer physical limitations. He overcame those limitations. He said his fellow students that God has a plan for them.

The valedictorian advised his fellow graduates to be accountable for their actions, be positive, and strive to be a giver. He challenged them to bring value to their city.

Rider asked his fellow graduates if any had ever eaten his mother's chocolate chip cookies. He then asked graduates to reach under their chair and find one of his mother's chocolate chip cookies. Each graduate pulled a cookie from underneath their seat. Rider said look at the cookie, the chocolate chip is an integral part of the cookie, it is mixed in, but it is not blended in. He challenged his fellow graduates to be distinctive and to be like the chocolate chip.

MHS Principal Tim Watkins said the class was the 94th graduating class from McKenzie Special School District and the 109th from the McKenzie community.

In total, students earned $3,332,980 in scholarships from 17 universities and technology schools.

One distinction of this class is the five sets of twin siblings who graduated.

As each student crossed the stage, Sheila Ridley, school counselor, announced each name, and each student was greeted by Superintendent Lynn Watkins and Principal Tim Watkins. Each graduate received his or her diploma from John Austin, chairman of the school board. Two students, Anders Rider and Jacey Davis, received their diplomas from their father, Lance Rider and Jon Davis, respectively. Lance and Jon also serve on the school board.

The top ten students are as follows (in order):

Anders Rider, Luke Spivey, Calista Yoblonski, Natalia Pomphrey, Bridget Bradberry, Connor McReynolds, Devyn Smiley, Emma Renfro, Shelby Butler, and Jacey Davis.

Distinguished Scholars — Drew Russell Basford, Zaria D'Ebony Bowden, Bridget Rose Bradberry, Abbagail Marie Brewer, Shelby Michelle Butler, Jacey Renee Davis, Spencer Raymond Fornera, Alexis Danielle Goodman, Connor William McReynolds, Jacob Highfil Pinson, Natalia Marie Pomphrey, Emma Carol Renfro, Anders Hallman Rider, Devyn Lee Smiley, Austin Luke Spivey, Adam Thomas Taylor, Aiden Christopher Winstead, Calista Faye Yoblonski.

Good Luck Class of 2018!

When you were younger, you would pretend at being anyone you wanted to be, from a firefighter to a president and anything else you could imagine. Now that you're older, it's still that you can be whomever you want to be. So on your graduation day, dream big dreams and don't be afraid to go after them.

Congrats, Graduates! This Edition Honors You

The Banner and our advertisers are proud to again present this special graduation section. As in years past, this section features area seniors from McKenzie, Huntington, Central, West Carroll, Clarksburg and Gleason High Schools. This section was made possible by the many local businesses who are extending congratulations and best wishes for a bright future for every student. They also express gratitude for your continued support of their business. The Banner urges you to read each advertisement and the message it extends. We also ask that you remember these advertisers and show them your support. The Banner extends our sincere appreciation to all area schools for providing names and photographs of each graduating student. Thank you to the teachers who educated these seniors from kindergarten through high school. You have changed their lives in more ways than you may realize. Your tireless effort and patience has made the difference in our community. Thank you to the parents that helped with homework and school projects. You made late-night runs to the store for school supplies. You attended parent-teacher conferences and took an interest in your child's dreams and hopes. A big thank you to all parents for everything you have done and will do for your children. Without great businesses, teachers and parents, our community would not be what it is: a great place to live.

Huntingdon Graduates 75 in Sunday Commencement

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (May 15) — A capacity crowd of family, friends and supporters gathered at Huntingdon High School Sunday afternoon to see 75 seniors complete commencement exercises and become proud alumni.

The HHS Band performed “Pomp and Circumstance” as the graduates entered the gymnasium. Graduate John Tucker gave the invocation, and the band performed the National Anthem.

Class President Kennedy Carter welcomed those gathered, thanking educators, friends and family for support and imploring her classmates to follow their dreams, accomplish their goals and remember that they will always be a part of Huntingdon High School.

Salutatorian Leighann Smith then delivered her address, first noting that senior year had flown by and saying, “It’s hard to believe that four years ago we were scared freshmen entering these doors for the very first time. Most of what I’ve experienced throughout these years are now just memories that I will cherish and hold onto forever. Without all of you, high school would not have been as fun or as challenging as it was. That being said, we have finally made it to the finish line and we’re about to cross it into the real world.” Smith went on to say, “What ever the future has in store for our class, I know it will be monumental. We have the power to do great things in our future, and we need to hold onto that.”

She concluded by saying, “It is finally our turn to break barriers and reach new heights,” and quoted Harry Potter: “Everyone has started out nothing more than what we are right now. If they can do it, why not us?”

Valedictorian Marisa Belew then gave her address. She welcomed everyone and said, “It has been a long four years, but here we are, ready to graduate. We worked hard to get to this point, but we didn’t do it by ourselves.” She said that the class owed a huge debt of gratitude to teachers, parents, coaches, advisors and administrators. “The best way we can show our gratitude is to make the most of every opportunity we’ve been given, and go forward into the world with the intention of making it a better place for generations that follow us.”

She went on to say, “We may not have the power to inspire the entire world to strive for success, but we do have the power to try to achieve it for ourselves. My challenge to each of you and to myself is to do all that you can to reach your full potential. If each of the 75 students in this graduating class is able to do that, just imagine the effect that we would have on our community and our world. Our future is truly in our hands, so let’s make the most of it. We stand here today on the brink of the future. It’s not a distant reality anymore. It begins here. It begins today. It begins right now.”

Belew concluded with a bible verse, Isaiah 40:29-31, “He gives power to the weak, and to those who have no might, He increases strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall. But those who wait on the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint.”

Graduate and Beta President Carson Ensley then took to the podium to recognize senior Beta members: Marisa Belew, Ashleigh Coleman, Lydia Jones, Lakia Moore, April Reynolds, Courtney Saylor, Taylor Smith, Kaylee Taylor, Lillian Taylor, Jack Tucker, Kelly Raye White, Elijah Wilkerson and Emily Williams.

Dr. Kee and a bevy of special guests then presented numerous awards and scholarships before the graduates received diplomas.

Next, a time-honored tradition continued as Carter passed the torch to Morgan Cole, president of the Class of 2019.

The band performed the Alma Mater, and graduate Kade Pearson delivered the benediction.

Dr. Kee gave closing remarks, and the Class of 2018 flung their mortarboards triumphantly into the air.

IF YOU CAN DREAM IT, YOU CAN BECOME IT

West Carroll Graduates 58

BY JOEL WASHBURN
washburn@mckenziebanner.com

ATWOOD (May 10) — West Carroll High School graduated 58 students in its 34th class since the school system was formed. Students marched into the school's gymnasium two-by-two and took their respective seats in the center of the gym.

Jordan Winberry gave the opening invocation, and Class President Noah Rogers gave the welcome remarks.

Rogers said, "...May 10th, 2018 seemed as if it took an eternity to arrive, but now that it is here, it seems like we were merely in the fourth grade a few short days ago."

He thanked the parents, family, and friends for attending the celebration.

"Your kind words, encouragement, laughter, hardiness, and willness to keep us on the narrow path for our high school career have done nothing less than prepare us for this night and the days ahead."

Rogers thanked the faculty and staff of West Carroll for their diligence. He asked his fellow graduates to channel their three most powerful parts of their bodies — the heart, soul, and mind. He encouraged them to do whatever it takes and not to be satisfied with mediocrity.

Sheila Little offered the valedictory address and encouraged students to look forward to whatever lies ahead, whether it is college, tech school or a career.

"Look forward to failing, as it is a natural part of life, even though we all wish it wasn't. Look forward to making discoveries and changing the world, even if it is only one person's world. Look forward to succeeding and achieving your goals after all you hard work. Look forward to a positive mental attitude about life. Look forward to making these upcoming years the best of your life...."

Little closed by quoting from her youth pastor, "It's not about the grades you make. It's about the hands you shake."

Kassie Ann Arnold performed a vocal rendition of "Hero" for the gathering.

Sunni Cooksey, guidance counselor, announced each graduate's name as he or she was presented a diploma. He student was presented a red rose to give to his or her parent.

Hollow Rock-Bruceton Central Graduates 40

BY JIM POTTS

A near-capacity crowd of family, friends, teachers, and school administrators witnessed the graduation of Bruceton-Hollow Rock Central's 40-member Class of 2018, Friday night in Central's Gymnasium.

After the invocation and playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by members of Central's Band, Class President Olivia Lowry welcomed the crowd to graduation ceremonies.

Lowry said, "Members of the Board of Education, Superintendent Duncan, Principal Norval, family, friends, faculty, and fellow graduates, it is my honor to welcome you all to the graduation ceremony for Hollow-Rock Bruceton Central High School's Class of 2018. Today is the closing of a chapter in our lives. Thirteen years, 2340 days, of walking in the same halls and sharing the same memories. "The Hill" has been our foundation, our teachers have been our mentors, our friends have been our support, and our parents have made countless sacrifices to get us where we are today. Everyone here tonight has been impacted by the roar of the Tiger and the feeling of Tiger Pride. Tonight may be our graduation, but it was only made possible by everyone's love, support, and sacrifices. Thank you and welcome."

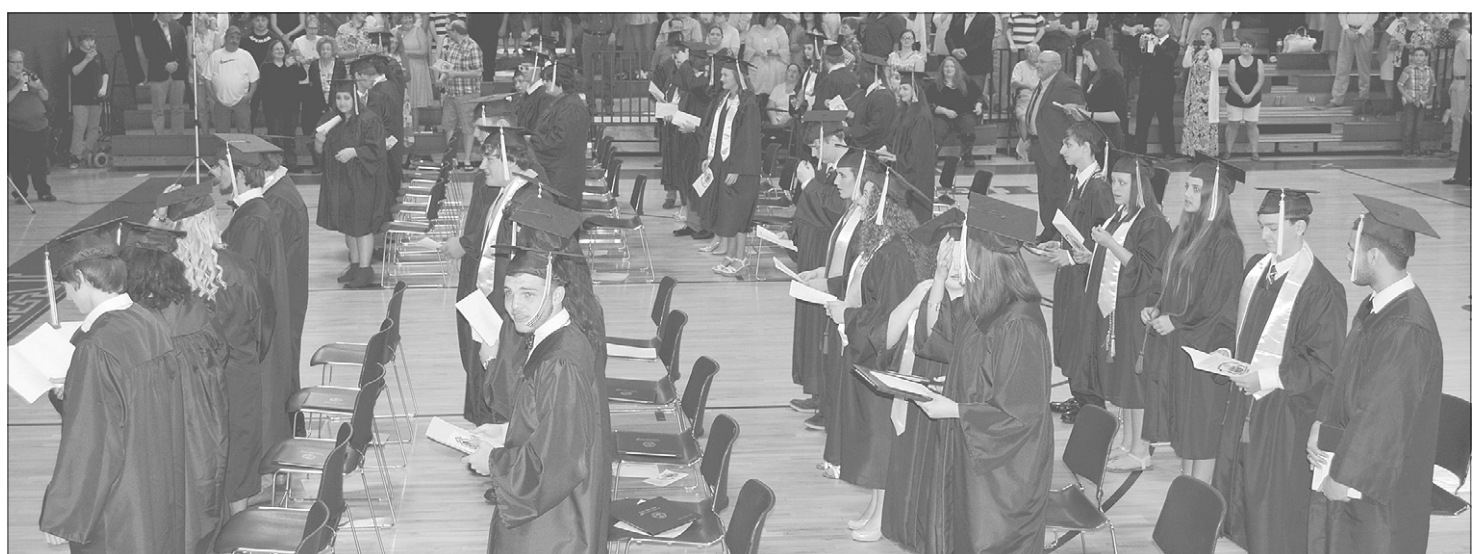

She added, "As we enter this next chapter of our lives, I want you all to remember that life is good. Go into every situation looking to learn something. Always look at the glass as half-full, rather than half empty. You are capable, you are worthy, and you are enough. Wake up each morning looking to better yourself. When you better yourself, you better your family. When you better your family, you better your school. When you better your school, you impact the community."

After Lowry's welcome address, the graduating class performed Michael Jackson's "Man In The Mirror" as their class song.

CHS Principal Joe Norval recognized the 2018 Honor Graduates. To earn this status, students must score an 18 or above on the English section of the ACT, a 22 or above on the Math section, a 22 or above on the Reading section, and a 23 or above on the Science section. These students are distinguished by wearing a gold tassel on their mortar boards. This year's Honor Graduates included: Lawson Boyd, Josh Dare, Nicole Garton, Garrett Graves, Eric Grooms, Danny Hardin, Aubrey Hollingsworth Anna Hopper, and Nathan Robison.

Norval also recognized students Graduating With Distinction. To earn this honor, a student must attain an overall B average or above in high school and complete one of the following tasks: participate in at least one Governor's School, participate in one of the state's All-State Musical organizations, reach a composite score of 31 or higher on the ACT, or earn 12 or more semester hours of transcripted post-secondary credit. These students included: Dakota Braasch, Anna Hopper, Nathan Robison, and Cheyenne Stanek.

Several 2018 graduates participated in the Red Cord Program through Lifeline Blood Services. These students donated lifesaving blood and are distinguished by wearing red cords with their robes. These students included: Brittany Forrest, Katlynn Sala, Hannah Work, Rachel Smith, Dakota Braasch, Nathan Robison, Cheyenne Stanek, Haley Hughes, Chris Hamilton, Anna Marie Martino, Josh Dare, and Maecy Bond.

Class Salutatorian Anna Hopper gave her address to the audience. She noted, "Tonight marks an end of another chapter in our lives and the beginning of great experiences yet to come. Graduation is an exciting time which is both a beginning and an end. Many of us have been together since Kindergarten. High school ends as we begin a new journey into adulthood to achieve our dreams for ourselves and the future."

Hopper issued a challenge to her classmates, "Stand firm and remember where you came from and what you have accomplished against the odds, Cast out self-doubt and all which holds you back from being the best you can be. The extra mile is never crowded. So, go forth and travel your own path. As we leave tonight endless opportunities await us. And so, the adventure begins."

Valedictorian Garrett Graves said in his address, "The one thing all of these graduates, including myself, have in common is we are all about to move along to a new chapter in our lives. Some of us will go to college, go to the military, go into technical school, or go straight into the workforce. While all of us face different obstacles, we are all embarking on an exciting, scary journey."

Awards and Special Honors were presented to numerous graduates followed by the presentation of the Class of 2018 to the Board of Education by Superintendent David Duncan. Diplomas were awarded to each graduating senior followed by the singing of the Alma Mater and the closing prayer.

Class of 2018 graduates then formed their now traditional two receiving lines and were given complimentary silver dollars by Superintendent Duncan before tossing their mortar boards in the air in final celebration.
