REBELS LOOK TO BOUNCE BACK IN 2018

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com

As the McKenzie Rebels prepare to begin their 2018 campaign, Head Coach Wade Comer sat down with The Banner to discuss what fans can expect to see on Friday nights this fall.

The team is hoping to get back to postseason form following an up-and-down 2017 that ended in disappointment as the 5-5 Rebels narrowly missed the playoffs.

Comer said that, as the preseason was nearing a close, “We’ve got to get a lot better, gotta improve, but I like the attitude of our team. It’s starting to come together, and I can see improvement each and every day as far as work ethic goes and a willingness to be coachable.”

He’s looking to his upperclassmen for leadership, especially seniors Stephone Haynes and Murphy Watkins and juniors Kyle Maxwell, Nick Baker and Evan Jarrett. “So far, I like what they’ve done. We’ve got some growing pains, but that’s to be expected.” The coach said he’s pleased with the offseason work.

On offense, Comer feels like he has a lot of tools. He expects big things from senior wide receiver Tyler Spivey. He says that junior quarterback Evan Jarrett is “developing nicely.” Runningback Joseph Miller is coming off of a big season, and the coach hopes for more of the same. He also expects to get production out of seniors Bryston Diggs and Deshaun Woodson.

Asked about how he feels cutting Jarrett loose with the arm in his first year as starter, Comer said, “He’s making good decisions with the football, getting it out on time and making the correct reads. Hopefully we’ll be able to be balanced on offense and be able to move the ball.”

Defensively, he says the team “has got to be a lot more physical.”

“We’ve got to get better linebacker play. I feel good about our defensive line. They’re proving to be physical and getting after folks. We’ve just got to start trusting each other. We’ve got a lot of people in new places and everything. We’ve gotta have everybody understanding how to do their job, and to do it effectively and consistently and not try to do somebody else’s job and stay in position.

Comer spoke about the season opener and hosting their rival Huntingdon Mustangs, a game which is a big point of pride, but has absolutely no playoff implications. “Well, it makes camp interesting. We’ve got our work cut out for us. It’s a huge game for us and for them, too. It means a lot to the fans and the community, the school. It’s a fun opener, and we understand the significance of the game and we’ve gotta get prepared.”

The Rebels don’t begin region play until Week 5, which gives them time to work some things out. Comer said, “The region [7-2A] is gonna be tough, just like it was last year. It’s tough top-to-bottom, one of the toughest regions in the whole state. You’ve got five schools that have been to the state championship or won the state championship in the same region. They all expect to be in the playoffs every year, but somebody’s gonna get left out. It’s a dogfight.”

The Rebels begin the season on Friday, August 17 at home against Huntingdon. Region 7-2A play will begin Friday, September 14 on the road at Trinity Christian Academy in Jackson.

LAMPKINS' BULLDOGS ARE YOUNG BUT VERSATILE

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

Gleason Head Football Coach Noah Lampkins spoke to The Banner during the Bulldogs' Media Day, expressing optimism and confidence about his team.

It's a young team, featuring ten freshmen to replace last year's five seniors. The rookies make up nearly half of the 21-man roster, but that's up from 19 last year.

The Bulldogs are coming off of a 2-8 season, but that followed back-to-back one-win seasons. Another sign of improvement was that the losses were typically by much closer margins than in previous years.

Coach Lampkins believes he has some tools to build on that this season.

He's looking for leadership out of his two seniors, Seth Jones and Noah Anderson, who he says both have good strength and decent size. A big key to success will be the versatile Dawson Arnold, a junior. He also hopes for good things from junior Cody O'Callaghan.

The centerpiece of Gleason's offense will be the towering sophomore Elijah Young, who will see time at multiple positions. Jumping straight into the fire will be freshman quarterback Kolton Crochet, who Lampkins calls the teams "first quarterback in a while."

Lampkins and his assistant coaches Mike Bennett, Albert Collins, Avery Orr, Archie Rich and Bryan Sanders, also coach the junior high team, which is a bit of a double-edged sword. He says it helps with continuity, allowing the kids to know what to expect when transitioning to the high school, but that it often puts a time crunch on the program.

The Bulldogs will open the season at home against Fulton County on Friday, August 17. They'll begin Region 7A play on September 14 as they host West Carroll.

VETERAN WAR EAGLE TEAM COULD HAVE WEST CARROLL BACK IN PLAYOFFS

BY VICTOR PARKINS
Mirror-Exchange

A lack of experience shouldn't be an issue for the 2018 West Carroll War Eagles.

The War Eagles return experience at almost every single position. All total, 18 starters are back from last years 4-6 campaign that left them one game shy of a play-off berth. Two turnovers against Greenfield during the final game of the season cost the War Eagles a post season bid. West Carroll hasn't been to the playoffs now in six seasons.

But with a veteran class of seniors 12 strong and a bunch of experience on both sides of the ball, that should change this season.

Fourth year head coach Josh Wolfe makes no bones about the goals for this years team.

"We just missed the playoffs last year so that's something we want to accomplish," said Wolfe. "We've had a really good pre-season and we had a good spring too. We played Houston County pretty even in the spring but really got after them this summer and won 4 touchdowns to nothing."

Playing with a roster of about 35, Wolfe knows his team needs to work the clock and control the tempo of his opponents.

"We've got to be able to run the ball first because like most 1A schools, our roster is limited," explained Wolfe. "We need to be able to control the tempo and cut down on the number of snaps.

I'm old school so we're going to run it most of the time but I also want to be able to throw when we need to—not just when we need to. We've got some kids that can create big plays in space and we need to take advantage of that."

The War Eagles have 9 starters back running their single wing offense using a two back set.

In the trenches, 5 out of six starters return for WCHS. But they also return most of their backfield and receivers—four of which run the 40-yard dash in 4.6 seconds or better.

Across the front, Levi Hays (5-8, 250) will play center with Blake Davidson (5-8, 200) at left guard and Garrett Brooks holding down the right guard slot. At left tackle, big Luke Blankenship (6-5, 230) will lead the way. At RT, Darrell Williams (5-9, 255) will get the start. Armoni Bonds will also join the crowd up front in tight sets.

In the backfield, Trace Fuller will return at QB with Jeremiah Bryant being the go-to tailback, along with speedster P.J. Odom.

Jarris Weatherford is listed as the most dynamic ball carrier on the team, and will bring big play potential to the War Eagle attack. Zach Perry, Shae Crocker and Devin Nash are also listed as capable ball carriers by coach Wolfe.

The War Eagle defense also returns 9 starters to their 3-4 scheme, with many of the same names on that side of the ball. Added to that however is Devin Nash and third year starter Kyler White at defensive end. Perry will call the shots from linebacker, where he logged nearly 100 tackles a year ago.

In the defensive backfield, Crocker will join returning starters Odom and Bryant.

Nash will also take care of kicking and punting duties.

Coach Wolfe said if his team can stay healthy and avoid depth issues, they could potentially be good enough to compete for the Region 7-1A championship.

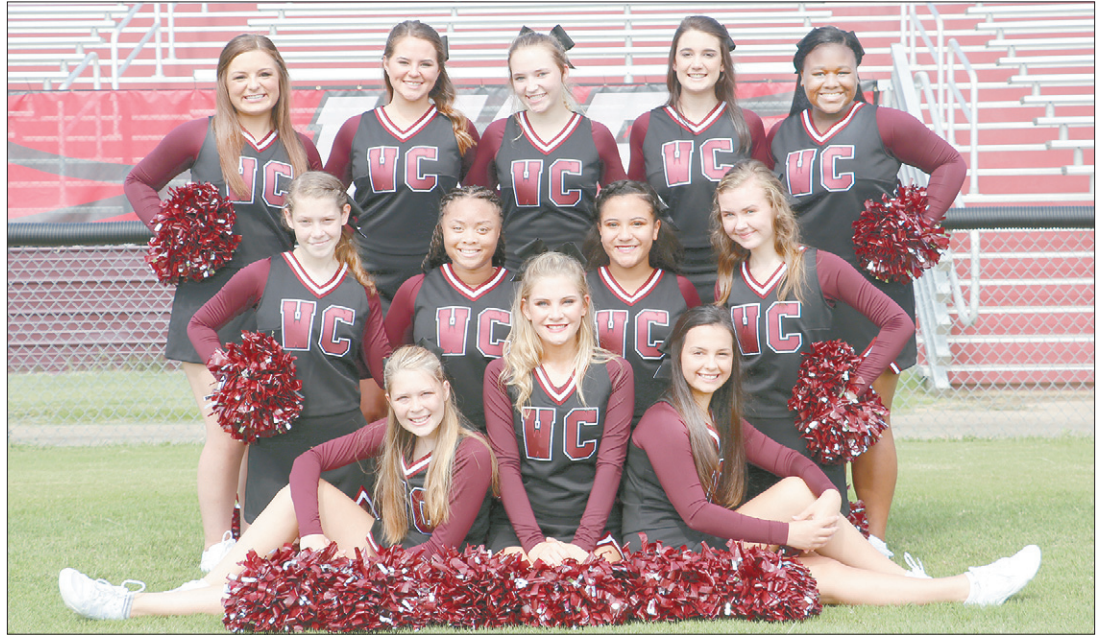

"There's no question Lake County is the big dog in the region," Wolfe admitted. "Dresden lost some good linemen but they've got a bunch of good skill people back. Humboldt is always talented and we expect Greenfield to be very competitive."

The War Eagles open the season with Bruceton on Aug. 17, a team that has beat them two years in a row.

"With our experience, I think we can compete for a region championship," the coach concluded "We'll take it one game at a time and hope when the opportunity comes, we're ready to take advantage of it."

In addition to his head coaching duties, Wolfe oversees quarterbacks, wide receivers and linebackers.

Assisting Wolfe this season will be Shane DePriest, who will oversee running backs and linebackers; Larry Williams will coach offensive linemen and defensive backs; and Alex Giannini, the coach over offensive and defensive lines.

MUSTANGS EYE ANOTHER DEEP PLAYOFF RUN

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

Huntingdon Head Coach Eric Swenson spoke to The Banner about his team during the Mustangs' Media Day.

The seasoned skipper said that he sees a lot of potential to be competitive. "They've worked hard and had good practices. It'll be a matter of staying healthy and being able to overcome adversity when it comes."

The team is coming off of an undefeated 10-0 regular season and a playoff run that ended in a one-point, double-overtime quarterfinal loss, so the bar is set high.

Despite losing 13 seniors to graduation, including Class A Mr. Football finalist Kade Pearson, the team has many key players returning. Swenson is looking for leadership from those, including Dallas Willis, Hunter Ensley, Konnor Pearson, Brandon Lawton, Chris Chaney, Damion Byrd, Brett Huss, Austin Avery and Joseph Richardson.

He expects Ensley to step up at quarterback, with support from tailbacks Lawton and Daquon Robinson and wingbacks Pearson and Willis. "There's no one centerpiece to this offense. It's going to be by committee."

The defense has eight of eleven starters from 2017 returning. The coach said, "I feel really good about our linebackers. Our defensive line has to get better."

Leading the pack on that side of the ball will be Ensley (preseason All-State), Devin McClerkin and Richardson.

One upside going into this year is that, last year, the backups saw a lot of playing time in the waning minutes of Huntingdon's lopsided regular-season wins.

For the second straight year, the Mustangs will start the season against their cross-county rival McKenzie Rebels, a game with pride on the line but no postseason implications. Swenson said he doesn't mind having that big game right out of the gate. He likes it because he knows the fans will come out even more than they might in the middle of the season, when the teams have established themselves for better or worse. He noted that he would have appreciated being more polished for the rivalry game.

The coach isn't sure what to make of the region this year. He's only seen Collinwood (on tape), who he says looks much improved. He knows that Wayne County will always be in the mix. Swenson said his team's goal is, as always, to get a championship ring. He believes it depends on if the team gels. "It's hard to know, but if they do, we could be in the hunt."

The Mustangs begin the season Friday, August 17 at McKenzie.
