Carol Nanney IS WEST TENNESSEE TEACHER OF YEAR

NA SHVILLE — Carol Nanney, librarian at McKenzie Elementary School, was recognized as the Teacher of the Year Grand Division winner for West Tennessee.

The honor came during the 2017-18 Tennessee Teacher of the Year banquet held in Nashville on Thursday, September 28.

Through the Teacher of the Year program, the Tennessee Department of Education recognizes and honors outstanding educators in the state. Nine teachers were selected from each grade division (Pre-K-4, 5-8 and 9-12). Those nine advanced to compete for Region-Level Teacher of the Year, with one being selected from each region.

"These teachers are our students' heroes," Education Commissioner Candice McQueen said. "Our educators have a direct, positive influence on students every day. And, because of educators like these nine finalists, Tennessee's future is bright."

In an interview with The Banner, Nanney expressed her gratitude. "We have fabulous teachers in our district, and to be selected from them, along with the rest of West Tennessee, is very humbling and a huge honor for me."

"The banquet was amazing," she continued. "It was a wonderful program. There was a very nice reception followed by a dinner, with many from the Tennessee Department of Education present."

With the honor, Nanney will serve for the next two school years on the Commissioner's Teacher Advisory Council, which provides feedback and advice on issues that impact teachers and help communicate information with teachers in their region.

She was complimentary of her

Congressman Bob Clement Visits McKenzie, Huntingdon

Former U.S. Congressman Bob Clement visited libraries across Tennessee, donating copies of his book, "Presidents, Kings and Convicts, My Journey from the Governor's Residence to the Halls of Congress." The book, which shares Clement's front row seat to many of the events that shaped the nation and the world, is also one of the most comprehensive accounts of Tennessee history ever told.

"Growing up with a father, Frank G. Clement, who was among Tennessee's most popular governors, I was fortunate to have seen history come alive," said Clement. "I wrote the book to be able to share my experiences with readers, and hopefully, get them interested in pursuing careers in public service."

Clement visited Carroll County Library and then the Governor Gordon Browning Museum, September 28. Governor Browning was actually a political foe of Frank Clement. In later years, the young Bob Clement visited Browning's home to ask for support for Bob's campaign for the Tennessee Public Service Commission.

Clement's book speaks about the history of Tennessee, how his dad, the governor, also had prison inmates working at the Governor's Mansion working on the lawn and cooking.

One time, Elvis visited the mansion in Nashville and performed. Also performing was a group of inmates, who sang. Clement questioned if that's where Elvis got his idea for Jailhouse Rock.

President Harry Truman visited the mansion and stayed overnight. Early in the morning, Frank Clement checked Truman's bedroom and did not find Truman. They found him, alone, taking his morning walk along the city street near the mansion.

At the Carroll County Library, Mayor Dale Kelley, Robert "Gus" Radford, Donald Parish, and Barry Murphy shared their great experiences with the Clement family.

Mayor Kelley said Bob always spoke of "me as his family."

Donald Parish said Bob Clement visited Huntingdon High School some 44 years ago as the guest speaker at the school.

Radford said Clement was in the area and wanted to go visit Browning at his home. The two talked about politics and warmed the relations between the two families, which were once political foes.

Barry Murphy said he had the privilege of working with Clement at the Public Service Commission. Murphy said Clement was always a "people's person."

At the Gordon Browning Museum, McKenzie City Councilman Jason Martin formally welcomed Clement to McKenzie. The museum curator, Jere Cox, introduced Clement to the crowd.

The former congressman shared additional insights into the Browning-Clement relationship, including how Browning purchased Tennessee's Executive Residence.

Known as "Far Hills," the residence was built by William Ridley Willis. The home was purchased in 1949 by the state. Governor Browning and his wife, Ida, were the first to live in the governor's residence; the Clements were the first family with children to call the 10-acre mansion home.

Clement expressed his gratitude and excitement to have Bethel University President Walter Butler in the audience. From 1983 until his run for Congress in 1987, Clement serviced as president of Cumberland University.

For more information on Presidents, Kings, and Convicts, as well as future appearances, visit Clement's Facebook page or his book web site: presidentskingsconvicts.com. Books may also be purchased on Amazon, Barnes & Noble, Archway Publishing or local bookstores, as well as during his presentations.

Bethel Sports HOF Banquet is Friday

BY DAVE MCCULLEY
Bethel University Director of Sports Information

MCKENZIE — Bethel University will honor three former athletic greats, a contributor and one outstanding former team with inductions into the prestigious Bethel Athletic Hall-of-Fame Friday night, October 6, 2017. The Alumni Awards and Athletic Hall-of-Fame Inductions will be held in the Vera Low Center for Student Enrichment, Crisp Wing. The event will begin at 5:30 p.m. with reservations required.

Prior to this year, eighty two people and two teams had been enshrined into the hall. The 2008 National Championship soccer team was the first team to be inducted at the 2013 ceremonies. The 1970-1971 Men's Basketball Team was enshrined in 2016.

Here is a look at the 2017 Hall-of-Fame Class inductee's Hunter Pingston (football), Darren Adderly (football), Bobby Kidd (baseball), 1982 Men's Basketball Team and Linda Hearn (contributor).

Hunter Pingston (07) is a native of Rockledge, Florida and graduated from Rockledge High School in 2003. He now resides in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. He was in Dino Kakkis' first recruiting class as head coach of the Wildcats in 2003. Pingston was a four-year starter who started in 47 consecutive games as a Wildcat. He remains Bethel's career leader in interceptions with 16 and second in career tackles with 318. He was Honorable Mention Mid-South Conference in 2003. He was First Team All-MSC and Defensive Player of the Year in 2005 and 2006. He was named an NAIA All-American those years and Academic All-Conference. He played in the first-ever NAIA All-Star Game. Pingston received his degree from Bethel in 2007 and earned his Masters from Murray State University in 2009.

Dr. Darren Adderly (06) is a native of Rockledge, Florida and graduated from Rockledge High School in 2003. He earned his degree from Bethel in 2006 and became a doctor with his graduation from Meharry Medical School in Nashville in 2012. He was in Coach Dino Kakkis' first recruiting class in 2003. Adderly is fourth in career tackles (255). He is third in Tackles for Loss (28.5), sixth in career sacks (8.5). Dr. Adderly is currently fifth in interceptions with nine. He was second in that category when he graduated. He had 47 career starts as a Wildcat and was a two-time All-conference selection. He was an Academic All-Conference member and played in the first ever NAIA All-Star game. Adderly is currently doing his residence in various hospitals in the Tampa, Florida area.

Robert "Bobby" Kidd (68) was a star two sport athlete from the Somerset, Kentucky High School class of 1963. He was All District, All Region, and All Central Kentucky Conference member in both basketball and baseball in 1963. He was also All State in basketball that same year. In his senior year, Kidd hit the winning shot two nights in a row as the Briar Jumpers captured the CKC crown. Kidd was a pivotal player in back to back dream seasons as the Briar Jumpers appeared in the KHSAA State Basketball Tournament in both 1962 and 1963. On the diamond, Bobby was a pitcher and center fielder on the 1962 baseball team that was the first ever from Somerset High to go to the Kentucky State High School baseball tournament. In recognition of his athletic prowess, Kidd received both basketball and baseball scholarships to Georgetown College. He later transferred to Bethel College where he was named all-conference in baseball in 1968. Though Kidd had unquestionable talent he is also fondly remembered for his unassuming attitude and selfless dedication to his team. He was 7-3 with 60 strikeouts and an ERA of 0.93 in 1967 helping the Wildcats to a 14-6 season. His ERA was 17th in the nation at the NAIA level.

The 1982 Bethel Men's Basketball Team won the VSAC title with a 24-10 record. The team had three Bethel HOF members in Scott Allen, Mark McClintock and Danny Monroe. Three other superb key team members were Billy Ray Hampton, a West Tennessee star who remains a local basketball legend. Bobby Wheeler was a Junior College All American and decorated member of the championship squad. Many feel the best player on the team was Mike Loving who was completing his second year on the team in 1982. He scored over 700 points and averaged almost 24 points per game.

Ken Quinton, a 1983 Bethel graduate said, "Winning the Volunteer State Athletic Conference (VSAC) championship was an amazingly exciting time especially beating Carson Newman from the East Division at home in the championship game. Beyond this win, the 82 team had three signature wins against DII Gulf South competition, twice beating Mississippi College and a victory over UT Martin at Martin! He added, "In the decade of the 80s this was an exciting, talented and accomplished team. I was honored to be a part of this team and am thrilled this great team and group of individuals are being recognized."

Linda Hearn has been a member of the Bethel staff since May 2000. She worked part time for a few months in Development after which she started as a full time Secretary to the President, Robert Prosser. After Dr. Prosser retired she worked for Walter Butler as his secretary and as time passed she became Assistant to the President, Dr. Butler, and she remains in that position to date along with various duties in Development.

Linda commented, "I love all that I do and am so happy to have this responsibility at Bethel University. I love everything about Bethel — I love it is a Cumberland Presbyterian Church School, I love all the sports and athletic programs. I love all the music and most of all I love the people that I come in contact with every day." She added, "I could not have been more shocked and pleased than when I was given the letter telling me I had been inducted into the Bethel University Sports Hall of Fame. Go figure — I have never played sports, I did not graduate from College, and here I am. I am so humbled by this honor."

Bethel Sports Information Director Dave McCulley said, "Linda Hearn is as much a part of Bethel as the Wildcat and Purple & Gold. We honor her tonight but yet through the years she has honored this school with her many contributions."

Bethel Director of Athletics Dale Kelley commented, "Linda Hearn has given endless energy and time to Bethel but just as important her heart to Bethel College/University through the years. Attending events and aiding in countless fashions has been her legacy in giving back to the school and athletic department she so dearly loves." He added, "We are thrilled with all of our inductees. This school is a better place because of their efforts and character."

Carroll County Electric Approves $366,000 Transformer Purchase

BY JOEL WASHBURN

washburn@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (September 28) — A recent outage of electricity in the southern portion of Carroll County was caused by the failure of a 46-year old transformer, installed in the Clarksburg substation in 1971. The new transformer is priced at $366,000.

Danny Brawner, manager of the CCED said the transformer was paired with an adjacent transformer to provide dependable service to Clarksburg, Parker's Crossroads, Yuma, and Wildersville customers. When one failed, both transformers were taken offline. Service crews were able to serve the customers from Huntingdon while the two transformers were decoupled and the remaining transformer, installed in 2013, was placed back in service. That procedure took approximately two to three hours.

Howard Transformer Company of Mississippi was recommended as the supplier of choice by the consulting company and approved by the insurance company, which will cover some of the cost.

Recent hurricanes have devastated electrical grids in the south and Howard Transformer and other companies are working to build equipment to replace much of the damaged infrastructure. That created a backlog in production. Brawner said Howard can produce the replacement transformer in 24 weeks. It will be delivered and sat on the concrete pad at the substation. If all goes as planned, it will go online just in time for the summer peak demand period.

The CCED has a budgetary line item to anticipate the replacement of transformers and substations. Brawner said a transformer at the primary substation costs $2.5 million when it needs replaced.

One bit of good news, the expansion of Granges will not require additional substations or equipment. However, as the geographic area around the 1000-acre lake develops, an additional substation will be needed to serve the area.

The board approved the purchase of a new Ford pickup truck at a price of $29,645.23 from Ford of Murfreesboro, which has the state contract. It will be placed in the Engineering Department. It will replace a pickup with 327,000 miles that is being used in the mapping department. A used truck from Engineering will transfer to mapping.

Customers who pay their electric bills via online or phone will benefit from a smaller courtesy fee charge. Ryan Drewry said a new third-party provider has reduced the courtesy fee from $3.95 to a new fee of $3.50, and from $2.35 to a new fee of $1.25 for using electronic checks. The new fee structure was implemented September 18.

Carroll County Electric employees and board members will celebrate Christmas with a dinner on December 7 at the Carroll County Civic Center, announced Brawner.

The nine finalists for 2017-18 Tennessee Teacher of the Year were:

West Tennessee

Stephanie Rice, Crosswind Elementary, Collierville Schools; Mandy Fraley, Northeast Middle, Jackson-Madison County Schools; and Carol Nanney, McKenzie Elementary

Middle Tennessee

Cicely Woodard, West End Middle, Metro Nashville Public Schools; Chelle Daniels, West Middle, Tullahoma City Schools; and Rebecca Ryan, White County High, White County Schools

East Tennessee

Kristin Burris, Chattanooga School for the Arts and Sciences; Karen Latus, Bearden High, Knox County Schools; and Nancy Miles, South Side Elementary, Johnson City Schools

This council acts as a working group of expert teachers to provide feedback and inform the work of the department throughout the school year. Additionally, to provide continuity and leadership, the three Grand Division winners will continue their term during the 2018-19 school year.

A Metro Nashville Public Schools teacher known for her communication and leadership skills was named the 2017-18 Tennessee Teacher of the Year during the annual honorary banquet on Thursday night.

She is an active member of Cicely Woodard, an eighth-grade mathematics teacher at West End Middle School in Nashville, is the recipient of this year's top honor. Woodard has been teaching for 13 years in Tennessee and, in addition to serving in many leadership roles within her school and district, she has also served as an adjunct instructor at Vanderbilt University's Peabody College, from which she holds a master's degree.

"It is my privilege to honor this outstanding group of educators from across our state. I am fortunate enough to know Cicely and am incredibly proud that we now have an opportunity to honor her as our Tennessee Teacher of the Year. She is a remarkable teacher leader in her school and district, as well as throughout the state," Education Commissioner Candice McQueen said.

Viewed as a teacher leader throughout Middle Tennessee, fellow educators seek Woodard's expertise in helping students grasp challenging mathematics concepts and developing meaningful classroom assessments. Woodard is always looking for new ways to grow and challenge herself as a teacher leader and, in addition to being chosen for numerous awards and honors, she seeks new opportunities to both lead and participate in professional development.

"Teachers who cultivate a passion to lead develop professionally and improve education for students. I want teachers to know that teacher leadership does not have to mean leaving the classroom to serve in an administrative role," Woodard has said.

At the banquet, the department also recognized finalists who earned Teacher of the Year titles for each of Tennessee's three Grand Divisions. Woodard was recognized as the Grand Division winner for Middle Tennessee.

Nancy Miles, a third-grade teacher at South Side School in Johnson City Schools, was recognized as the Grand Division winner for East Tennessee.

Miles believes that it is important to meet the needs of all students, so she strives to embed a variety of strategies, skill practice, and student choice in her lessons.

As Tennessee Teacher of the Year, Cicely will become a main ambassador for teachers in our state, serving as Tennessee's representative in the National Teacher of the Year Program.

In addition, she will be asked to share her insight from the classroom as part of committees and working groups with the department.

For questions about the Teacher of the Year program in Tennessee, please contact Paul Fleming, assistant commissioner of teachers and leaders, at Paul.Fleming@tn.gov. For media inquiries, please contact Sara Gast, director of communications, at Sara.Gast@tn.gov or call (615) 532-6260.

Debunking the Newspapers Are Dying Idea

By David Chavern

Imagine waking up in a world without newspapers. "Ha!" You say, "I haven't gotten a newspaper in years." But I'm not talking about just the paper delivered by carriers or the postal service. I'm talking about the news online, the links on social media, the email newsletter, the source cited in the television broadcast and the push notification on your phone. The word newspaper no longer reflects the media industry encompassed by the word.

It's time to debunk the idea "Newspapers Are Dying."

The newspaper business has changed a lot. But so what? Lots of industries go through ups-and-downs as technologies and customer preferences change. Name an industry – cars, airlines, energy, retail, accounting, transportation, construction – and the underlying economic drivers look a lot different than they did in the 1980s. That doesn't mean they are "dead" businesses. People want and need the underlying products and services and the industries adapt to be successful in the new world.

We are living in the age of information. According to a University of Southern California study, Americans are absorbing five times more information a day than in 1986. And as the demand for quality news grows, storytelling evolves. I think that we have only just begun to explore the incredible upside of new tools in telling compelling news stories. What if we could not only tell people about Syria but also put them there (virtually) to experience some aspects for themselves?

All evidence shows that people of all ages want and consume more news than ever. We need to focus on new ways to address the needs of audience. Legacy newspapers are considered trusted sources of information; we must continue to keep that trust as we experiment in the digital age. Live streaming, social media and video are just tools for better stories as journalists fight to keep readers in the know.

This week, we celebrate the 77th National Newspaper Week, where we celebrate newspapers as the "Real Newspapers...Real News." It is a time to be grateful for the news carriers that trudge through the streets hours before you've had your first cup of coffee to deliver you the news. We take this week to realize that what we know comes from hardworking editors and journalists, who decide what information to put in front of us each day. We celebrate that we can count on them to go into a tragedy and bring us back hope. They make politics human and science easy to read.

I don't want to imagine a world without newspapers, do you?

The Jortonell Gang

By Paula Watkins

That got your attention, didn't it? A gang like no other existed on the north end of town in 1950's. This bunch of young'uns was as lively as any shoot 'em up western you could see at the Park Theatre Saturday matinee. These hooligans stayed busy from sunup to when the street lights came on. We didn't do any harm to our community; we just always found ways of entertaining ourselves.

I am going to try, to the best of my memory, to describe this end of town just so you can get a picture of what our neighborhood was like. We'll begin on Bell Avenue with the Pinson bunch: Kathy was the youngest girl in her family and probably had more to do with this gang than the others in her family. The Cozart crew came next and consisted of Janice, Barbara, Janie, and Harold. Next was the Coleman young 'un – Dennis.

Coming on down Stonewall was the Gregg family. Of all those offspring, Linda Gregg Coleman was the most vivid in my memory. The others were too old (or thought they were) or too young to want to get into mischief.

Ronnie and Tommy Hudson came next. They stayed a little closer to home as per their parents instructions, I'm sure. We weren't exactly the quietest bunch, and some even thought we were allowed to get into too much. Imagine that?

Next on the list were Edna Carol and Buster Massey. I did love this family. They were just as rough and tough as any of us and could compete at the highest level. They had to stay kinda' close to home too. That wasn't a problem for us – we'd just go to their front yard for whatever our imagination could come up with.

Ms. Fannie and Mr. Robin Wilson lived on the corner, and had their three grandchildren most of the time: Myke, Donna, and Bubba. The most I can remember about this family was that Ms. Fannie carried around a fly swatter. This was not for swatting flies, mind you!

The Drewry's came next – five of the best friends a neighborhood could have. If we couldn't think of anything to get into; Jerry, Donald, Peggy, Judy or Ann had a suggestion.

Catherine and Betsy Dinwiddie came along down Jordan Street. Again Catherine was a little too old to get into much, or maybe too smart. Betsy would have done a lot more if Mr. Howard or Ms. Mildred wasn't so close by.

The missionary house (I'll explain later) got a new family every two years. This was always a challenge to meet new children who had lived in a foreign country. Maybe this was why our horizons were broadened??

We had a boundary at that time and the neighborhood ended at the culvert at the bottom of the hill on Jordan Street. So, coming up the other side was the Clarks. A lot of sadness engulfed this family when we were young. Victor and Tommi lost their mother to cancer. We really couldn't understand this...

The Pinson hoodlums came next - Me, Randall, and Darrell. I have decided we were intellectually gifted in the art of getting into trouble. We didn't hunt trouble, it just found us!

The Campbell's were next door and a rather peaceful family. Paul and sometimes Tommy would come over and play basketball in our

The Williams', Joe and Jim, came last. The boundary on the south was their yard. They too were instructed not to get into too much trouble. HA! That's all I've got to say about that until another chapter.

I know this sounds an awful lot like the begats and begats in the Bible. But you have to have a picture of what I am going to try to paint through words in the weeks to come. You had neighborhoods like ours, and maybe these memories will cause you to write down a time that can never be replaced. So while I got a little sense left, I'll write. And to those that were a part of the Jortonell gang – hang on to your seats! Have a good week everybody!

HUNKER DOWN WITH KESExacting A Pound Of Flesh

Well, the "amateur" basketball world is sure in an uproar this week. The breaking news just out alleges that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been handed out illegally to young high school phenoms and their families. This bribe money is an inducement, of course, aimed at funneling the teenager to a particular university, agent and/or shoe company. A bevy of coaches, agents, family "friends" and footwear people have all been implicated.

If the story is correct, some five star recruits have been offered as much as $150,000 to attend the "right" university. I'd say there was a tad bit more than laundry money involved here. Charges have already been brought against several assistant college coaches and a couple of shoe executives. At least one head coach has been put on administrated leave. University presidents all over America have broken out in cold sweats—praying their football programs don't fall under the same scrutiny!

I played high school and college basketball. And if you don't count the six ounce Coke and orange slices Coach Givens gave us at halftime in the locker room to "juice us up" for the rest of the game, I was not paid to be there.

Let me back up a little. My basketball career began in the living room. We'd push the furniture up against the walls and practice dribbling with a tennis ball. The goal was a coat hanger Leon somehow fastened to the wall above the door going in to the dining room. We'd jar the whole house coming down with a rebound.

Money never crossed our minds.

We moved the game outside to Paul David Campbell's driveway. He had a real basketball and a goal with a partial net. We'd choose up sides and play from sunup till sunset. There's no telling how many youngsters developed their ball handling, jump shot and bounce pass skills on that old concrete. The camaraderie was wonderful...right up until the fight broke out. And it beat the heck out of just sitting around the house all day.

My main competitor in those formative years was Emily Scarbrough. Let me tell you, she was the real deal. Em was a couple of years younger than me but she was a born basketball player. We wore out that court behind the high school gym. I used to be a little ashamed of getting beat by a girl most every day...until she made the high school All-State Team three years in a row!

For a spell there Jackie Burns, Nicky Joe Stafford and Leon would ride down to Gleason on Sunday afternoons and play in that big paved drive at Buddy Finch's house. I would tag along as "Leon's little brother". They didn't throw the ball to me much but I was in the game.

Buddy's good looking sister, Pam, would bring out lemonade and cookies at halftime. As the Sundays rolled by, I got way more interested in Pam than I did the teams, the score or how Nicky Joe's hook shot was working that day.

Sometimes there are incentives that outweigh the money when you are considering all the options in your basketball career.

Coach John Camp was my first high school coach. We played a little basketball in between the running. He was tough as whiz leather, worked us to death and often demanded more than we thought we could possibly give. I was a sophomore, rarely got in a game, and I kept reminding myself, "Basketball is my least favorite sport. I just played it because it fell between the football and baseball seasons."

You'd think it was a horrible situation for me. The exact opposite was true. Coach Camp was a mentor who touched my life forever. He loved the game into us. And he would accept only your maximum effort. Listen, if I'm lining up tonight to play hop scotch with my granddaughter...she's not going to get my second best jump!

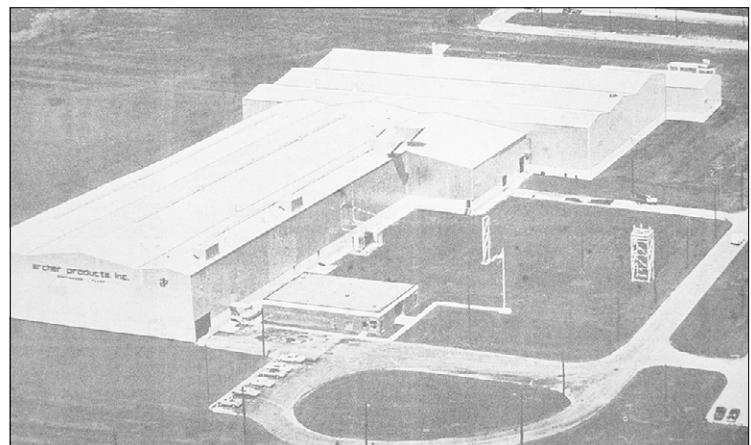

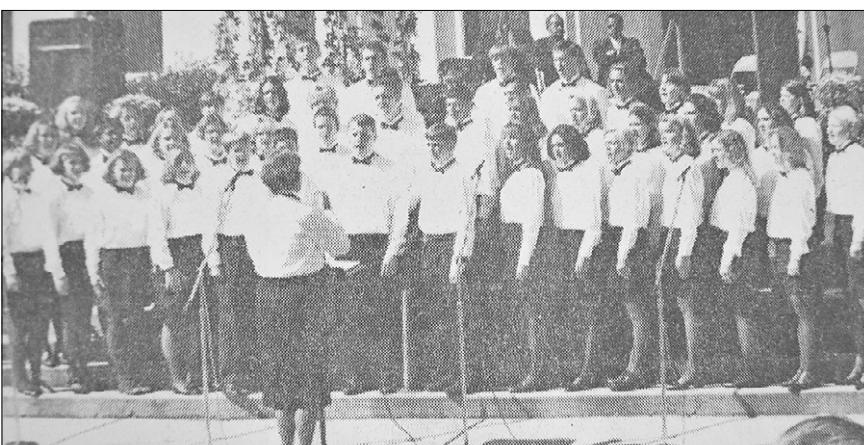

Wasn't it Horatio Alger...or maybe Bobby Knight who said, "The best things in life are free."

I would have rather had my growing up basketball experiences than $150,000 ten times over. What teenager should be made to perform under that kind of pressure? Who would want to be a professional anything at age 15?

I'd rather remember busting my chin on the dining room table after a game winning lay-up. I wouldn't have missed the fights over in Paul David's backyard for all the tea in China. Emily's sweat stained face was a thing of beauty. Pam and I dated only a few times but we've been lifelong best friends.

And, in retrospect, I should have PAID Coach Camp just for the privilege of being on one of his teams.

Respectfully,
Kes

BETTY ANDERSON

GLEASON — Betty Jean Anderson Godwin, 81, of Gleason, died September 23, 2017. She was born on October 11, 1935 in Gleason, Tenn. She was the daughter of Robert and Ruby Anderson.

Betty married Harold Godwin in Corinth, Mississippi, on May 15, 1954, and she was a farmer's wife for 49 years. Betty worked several jobs in her life. She was certified in Nashville as a state licensed beautician. Being the oldest of three children, Betty helped to mother her two siblings, Martha Morris and Charles Anderson before having her own. While raising her and Harold's three children, Betty worked every day managing large hog farm. Everyone in Gleason knew what a hard-working woman Betty Godwin was. She would set her alarm clock for every night around 1 a.m. to go check the hog barns. She delivered thousands of baby pigs in the middle of the night. After retiring from the farm after 25 years, Betty and Harold built the Gleason Korne Kafe. Her career included a seamstress at H.I.S. in Gleason and at Martin Manufacturing and night shift security guard for Spinks Clay Company. She also hand wrote thousands of letters answering fan mail for her son-in-law, Mike Snider, for over a decade.

Betty was loved and respected by everyone, and she loved her children and their spouses: Sabrina and her husband Mike Snider, Benita and her husband Hoyt Giffin, and David and his wife Jennifer Godwin. However, Betty's greatest loves were her grandchildren: Katie Snider, Blake Snider, Derek Giffin, and H.D. Godwin. Betty was a lifelong member of New Valley United Methodist Church in Gleason. Graveside services were officiated by Bro. Chip Davis of Union City. Betty Godwin was an angel on earth, and she will be greatly missed, but the love and lessons she has given us throughout her life will always live in our hearts. +

"All of this together makes it very gratifying," he said.

MCKENZIE (September 25) —

As part of AT&T's continuing commitment to supporting quality education across Tennessee, the company has donated $3,000 to the Tennessee College of Applied Technology in McKenzie.

The contribution will provide for the purchase of network storage units which help support training for high-skill jobs requiring technology-based skills throughout Tennessee.

The use of the units will prepare students to successfully recover from a mock data disaster and practice implementing recovery plans.

"The training supported by this contribution will help provide our students the skills required to compete in today's technology based economy," said Dr. Brad White, Interim President, Tennessee see College of Applied Technology — McKenzie. Creating and maintaining a workforce that is ready to meet the needs of our region is vitally important and through donations like today's we will be able to reach even more Tennesseans."

Each of the state's 27 colleges of applied technology will receive $3,000 to support their efforts to provide workforce development through high quality training that is economical and accessible to all residents of Tennessee.

The college of applied technology in McKenzie provides state-of-the-art technical training to ensure students obtain the technical skills and professional training necessary for advancement in today's competitive job market," said Mayor Jill Holland.

"As the need for IT personnel surges, the Tennessee Colleges of Applied Technology are helping students develop the critical skills required to enter the workforce and find good jobs right here in Tennessee. Judge Williams Speaks to McKenzie Rotary

MCKENZIE (September 26) —

John Everett Williams of Huntingdon was the featured speaker at the September 26 meeting of the McKenzie Rotary Club. Williams, a judge in the Tennessee Court of Appeals-Criminal Division, told of the responsibilities of a appeals judge and how they serve statewide.

Accompanying Williams at the meeting were his two assistants, Magan Corbin and Amber Seymour. Williams' office is located on the Court Square, Huntingdon. He was first appointed in 1998 by Governor Don Sundquist and then stood for re-election in statewide ballots. His name appeared as the very last name on the ballot statewide. However, he said he received more votes than any of the other judges up for reconfirmation by the voters.

The upper chamber of the Tennessee Court System is the Tennessee Supreme Court. Three of the five justices are female, noted Williams.

Williams said performed a few of his magic tricks. He is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians and was sponsored by the late Curtis "Red" Summers of McKenzie.

The Jerry Wilcoxson Memorial Golf Tournament Free to Former Bethel Golfers

MCKENZIE — The Jerry Wilcoxson Memorial Golf Tournament is this Friday, Oct. 6 at Carroll Lake Golf Course. The event is part of Bethel University's 2017 Homecoming Week activities, and it is free to all former members of Bethel University's collegiate golf team.

According to Jennifer Glass, Director of University Relations at Bethel, the waiving of the entry fee for former collegiate golfers is possible because of an exclusive sponsorship of the event by McKenzie Regional Hospital.

"We are very grateful to McKenzie Regional for partnering with us in this way," said Glass.

"Their sponsorship is allowing us to waive the entry fees of any former Bethel University golf team member, and then we are also able to offer a very discounted rate to all other golfers. With the McKenzie Regional Hospital exclusive sponsorship, we are able to offer a $25 entry fee. The fee covers green fees, cart, lunch and prizes.

Glass said the waiving of fees and then the discounted rate is an initiative to get former alumni to come back and take part in a fun day of fellowship.

"We have a good turn out each year for this event," Glass said, "but we honestly have as many community members as we have alumni, and we really want to get alumni more engaged in Homecoming."

Registration begins at 9 a.m., and the tournament will begin around 10 a.m.

The golf tournament is a 4-person scramble, and any interested local golfers are encouraged to take part.

"While the golf tournament is a part of our 2017 Homecoming activities, participants do not have to be alumni of Bethel to participate," Glass said.

To reserve a team or an individual spot in the tournament, contact Jennifer Glass at glassj@bethel.edu or at 731-352-4259. Space is limited, so reservations are recommended. However, space permitting, anyone can register the day of the tournament beginning at 9 a.m.

Rebels Dominant in Homecoming Win

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com

MCKENZIE (September 29)—The Rebels bounced back from two tough home losses with a big Homecoming win over the Halls Tigers Friday night, 38-8.

The players weren't distracted by the pregame festivities, including the crowning of Homecoming Queen Hannah Bilger, as the defense didn't allow a Tiger first down in Halls' first three possessions and the Halls offense scored on its first four.

Halls won the coin toss and elected to receive. Rebel Elijah Horton sacked Tiger quarterback Andrew Harris for a short loss on first down, leading to a three-and-out and a punt.

The Rebels took over at the Halls 37. DeAaron Diggs ran for eleven and a first down, then followed with four more yards. Quarterback Zach Jarrett threw toward the sideline to Tyler Spivey for a one-yard loss. Next, Jarrett took two tries to find Josh Cannon for a first down in the red zone. A pair of false starts set McKenzie back, but Diggs ran for seven and Jarrett threw to Spivey and Cameron Rawls for short gains. On fourth-and-three, Jarrett threw to Cannon for a six-yard touchdown. The two-point attempt failed, and the Rebels led, 6-0, with 6:39 left in the first frame.

School won the State Championship in the girls division.

The boys' fifth place finish included a second day score five strokes better than day one and with a dramatic ending. With four holes to go, the boys found themselves in sixth, four strokes behind South Greene High School. When the strokes of the final four holes had been counted, the gentlemen made up that deficit and propelled themselves forward to claim fifth by eight strokes.

Ben Austin and Johnathan Moore led the scoring that day, each with an 81. Seniors Anders Rider and Will Jones concluded their Rebel golf careers with scores of 83 and 90, respectively.

Rider finished 21st individually out of the 64 male golfers, with Austin finishing in a tie for 28th and Moore finishing 31st.

Alcoa High School won the boys State Championship. Four of the five gentleman saw improved scores the second day, with Will McBride leading that effort by improving his first-day round by 15 shots.

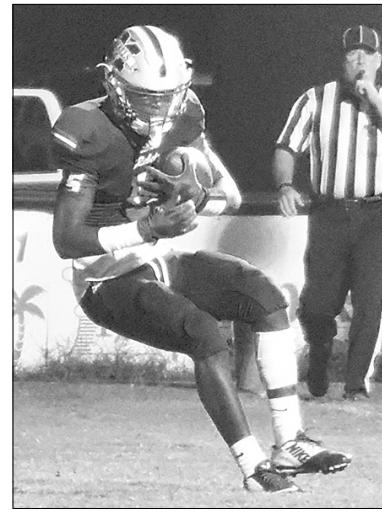

Coach Larry Joe Smith was very happy with the performance, noting the course was much tighter and longer than what the team had played this season, especially for the girls, and much tougher the second day.

He felt the boys peaked and played well at the right time. He stated the boys maintained their composure as they had a good lead for fifth after the first nine holes Wednesday, only to see it evaporate quickly starting the last nine. They regained the momentum at the end to earn the fifth place finish, improving from their sixth place spot after day one. The men had the fourth best second-day score posted. Smith also noted the maturity of his freshmen beyond their years in the tournament and stated this was great experience for our golfers, adding that they met his season expectations.

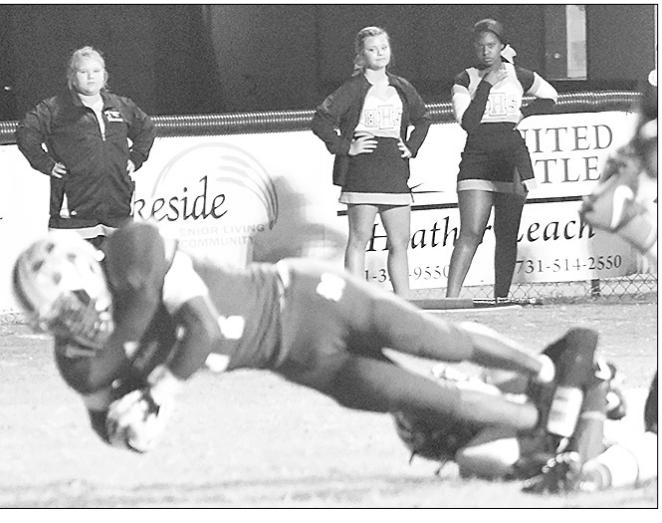

The 2017 golf season ends with the girls record at 39-9, which includes a District and Region Championship and a sixth place State Tournament finish.

The boys finish at 46-10 with a District Runner-Up, Region Championship, and school-record fifth place State Champion ship finish.

The MHS golf team thanks everyone for your support this season. Your continual words of encouragement, as well as your support of our par 3 golf tournament and other fund raising efforts throughout the year, helped make this historical MHS golf season successful and definitely one to remember. We thank you!

Rebels

...From Sports Front

The Rebel defense forced another three-and-out by Halls, allowing just six yards of progress.

McKenzie started at the far 34 with Jarrett throwing to Spivey for 49 yards. Rawls gained just a yard before Diggs ran 13 for a first-and-goal at the 7. Diggs was stopped after a yard, but got the last six on the next try. Jarrett threw to Lane Horton for two points, and the Rebel lead was 14-0 with just under three minutes to play in the first.

Halls lost three yards on the next three-and-out. Rebels Xavini Ayers, Horton and Hunter Stafford made tackles for losses.

Taking over at midfield, Jarrett hit Spivey for a 50-yard touchdown. The two-point attempt was no good, and the Rebels led, 20-0 with under a minute to go in the first.

As the first quarter ended, Harris scrambled and was taken down for an eleven-yard loss. He then started the second with a throw to Chris Hall for 16 and followed with a first down pass to O. Stenson. Harris completed one of his next three passes for a short gain before being intercepted by Rawls on third down.

From the Halls 29, Diggs ran four, then Spivey was stopped for no gain. Jarrett threw to Spivey for nine yards to move the chains, then Diggs ran for another four. After a face mask penalty against the Rebels, Diggs was stopped at the line. Jarrett's pass on third-and-long was batted away, but his next found Spivey in the end zone. Noah Floyd missed the point-after kick, but McKenzie led, 26-0, with 7:43 remaining in the half.

The Rebel kickoff sailed out of bounds, starting Halls at the 35. Bills and Keegan Millsap stopped Harris three yards deep on a keeper, and Maki Jolla gained three on second down. Then, Bills tripped up Harris enough for Horton to swoop in and deliver a 19-yard sack. Pinned deep for a punt attempt, the Tiger snap sailed high, and Rebel Stephone Haynes dove on it in the end zone for a McKenzie touchdown. The PAT failed again, and the Rebels led, 32-0, with 5:21 until intermission.

Starting near midfield, Harris kept three times for eight yards and Halls punted.

Starting deep at the 18, Spivey lost seven yards, then Diggs gained five. Jarrett threw to Diggs for seven yards, and McKenzie punted for the first time. Larson King booted it 62 yards after a good roll.

Halls gained a pair of first downs on strong runs by Jolla, but time expired in the half.

McKenzie received the second-half kickoff, and Diggs made a pair of short gains. Jarrett then threw to DaShun Woodson for a first down across midfield, and Diggs ran for a 45 yard touchdown. Another missed kick made the score 38-0.

With the clock running, Halls drove the ball downfield with a mix of Harris passes and Jolla carries. After four first downs, the quarter ended with Bills taking down a scrambling Harris to force fourth-and-goal from the eleven. The final frame began with Harris passing to Hall, who was taken down at the 1 yard line.

Diggs drove out to the 9, then to the 18 to give new quarterback Evan Jarrett breathing room. From there, Bryston Diggs ran three times for four yards total, and King punted. Another good punt went for 61 yards, but another face mask penalty move Hall forward to the 33.

Harris was sacked by Rebel Chris Barnett on first down for a loss of six. Two plays later, he threw to Andrew Dunham for a 71-yard touchdown. The Tigers converted for two extra points, and cut the deficit to 38-8 with 4:26 to go in the contest.

McKenzie went three-and-out and punted on the ensuing possession.

Grant Ream took over at quarterback for Halls and threw for a first down on three tries. His next throw was caught by Brian Lussier, but he was met at the line by Rebel Blake Hugueley.

Ream's next throw was picked off by Rebel Alex Odum.

Eli Surber took over at quarterback for the Rebels and handed off to Will Latimer twice before time expired.

McKenzie gained 304 total yards of offense on 44 plays, including 144 rushing yards. Halls had 192 yards total on 52 plays, held to just 34 yards rushing.

Rebel quarterback Zach Jarrett was 11 of 13 passing for 160 yards and three touchdowns. He threw to Tyler Spivey six times for 124 yards and two touchdowns and to Josh Cannon twice for 18 yards and a touchdown. Tiger quarterback Andrew Harris was nine of 16 for 134 yards with a touchdown and two interceptions. Maki Jolla was two-for-two for 24 yards. Andrew Dunham had two catches for 87 yards and a touchdown. Chris Hall caught four passes for 33 yards.

Rebel DeAaron Diggs had 15 carries for 132 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Tiger Maki Jolla rushed 15 times for 44 yards.

Hunter Stafford led the Rebel defense with five tackles and two assists, including a sack. Keegan Millsap had four tackles and two assists with two tackles for a loss.

Joseph Meeks led the Tigers with six tackles.

The Rebels will travel to Adamsville Friday for a region contest.

MCKENZIE (September 28) — The McKenzie Middle School Rebels hosted Camden Thursday for a back-and-forth contest heavy on offense. The Lions pulled away late in the third for a 42-32 win over the Rebels.

McKenzie won the coin toss and elected to receive. Unfortunately, the Rebels fumbled away the ball on a first-down rushing attempt.

Taking over at the Camden 39, Lion Hunter Daugherty ran for six yards. Then, Michael Arthur ran twice for a first down. Daugherty took the next handoff 46 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed, and Camden led, 20-14 with just 47 seconds until intermission.

A short kick set the Rebels up at their own 48, and Marquez Taylor took the first handoff 52 yards to paydirt. Another failed PAT kept the score tied, 20-20, with 33 seconds to go.

Two plays into the next Lion drive, quarterback Will Dobson handed off to Cody Scott, whose pass attempt was intercepted by Rebel Jordan Gilbert.

With four seconds to go, Taylor battled for a long run, but the half ended with the score still tied.

Camden scored quickly on three plays to start the second half, capped by a 46-yard run by Daugherty. The pattern of unsuccessful point-after attempts continued, and the Lions led, 26-26.

Gilbert took the Lion kickoff back to the Rebel 46, and Horton began the drive with a two-yard run. McCaslin completed to McDaniel for a first down, then Horton ran nine yards to the 15. McCaslin kept and lost a yard, then Johnson moved the chains to the 13. A fumble cost the Rebels seven yards, but McCaslin threw to Jackson Cassidy for a 20-yard touchdown. The two-point try was no good, and the game was tied, 26-26.

Camden started at the 35, with Daugherty running three times for two first downs. Karsen Goodwin then ran for six. Kellen Conrad gained a first-and-goal at the 7, and Ingram ran it into the end zone. A holding penalty negated the score, but Daugherty took it back in on the next snap. Camden gained 12 to move the chains. He ran again for four, then five, then for a short loss. On fourth-and-two, a Rebel fumble was recovered by Camden.

Taking over at their own 13, the Lions made two consecutive first downs. Daugherty gained seven down to the six, then Ingram was driven back for a loss by Hunter Johnson. Daugherty took the next carry ten yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed, and Camden led, 20-14 with just 47 seconds until intermission.

Vandalism — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Kyle Beauchamp, on September 30 at approximately 6:19 p.m., MPD received a call from Elizabeth A. Anderson, Hamilton Street, McKenzie, stating that her sister, Charity L. Bratton, 42, same address listed, was destroying items in the apartment and that the situation had become physical between the two. The officer, accompanied by MPD Sargent Jeff Winberry, responded to the scene and observed all three windows of the residence broken from the inside with glass scattered on the sidewalk. Upon speaking with Anderson, the officer smelled a strong odor of alcoholic beverage emanating from her person and noted she was unsteady on her feet and slurring words. Upon entering the residence, the officer observed numerous items broken including a television set with a smashed screen. Anderson stated that although no physical activity had occurred between her and her sister, Bratton, she stated that her sister, having been drinking and suffering from mental issues, was alone when she destroyed the items in a rage. The officers located Bratton in a bedroom in a state of distress. Bratton told the officers that she had been left alone and reacted by destroying items. The officer stated that he smelled a strong odor emanating from Bratton as he spoke with her. Bratton was then taken into custody and transported to Carroll County Jail without incident with bond set at $2,000.

Driving on suspended / revoked license — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Brandon Leek, on September 29 at 11:23 p.m., the officer performed a traffic stop on a gray-colored vehicle traveling northbound on Highland for a light law violation via non-functioning front passenger side headlight. A computer check of the license of driver Brittany N. Hill, 26, Forrest Avenue, McKenzie, revealed they were revoked for failure to satisfy court / costs fines out of Carroll County on June 19, 2017. The officer then cited Hill for the listed violation.

Criminal trespass — According to a report filed by MPD Sergeant Trey Boucher on September 27, Robert M. Young, 34, Allen Street, McKenzie told the officer that his wife, identified as Hope L. Phelps, 42, Haynes Street, McKenzie, came to his residence at approximately 8:41 p.m. accompanied by a friend and began causing a scene and wanting to fight his girlfriend. Young informed the officer that he had told Phelps to not come back to his residence on September 26 and said he wanted her charged for doing so. Phelps was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for the listed violation.

Driving on suspended / revoked license — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Austin Jones, on September 28 at approximately 2:33 p.m., the officer observed a white-colored, Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck driving along Forrest at a radar-confirmed high rate of speed. Upon stopping the vehicle, a computer check of the driver license of Having prior knowledge via previous encounters with Williamson that the defendant's license was suspended, the officer stopped the vehicle. A computer check verified that Williamson's license was suspended on July 21, 2017. The report further noted that the defendant had received two suspended license violations out of Carroll County General Sessions, both issued on March 31, 2017.

Public intoxication — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Brandon Leek, on September 25, the officer accompanied by MPD Sergeant Kyle Beauchamp and MPD Patrolman Steven Scott were called to the MPD lobby to speak with Timothy R. After pursuing the vehicle and observing it nearly hit numerous vehicles, the officer stopped the vehicle on Spruce Street. Stopping the vehicle as it began to roll away from the scene; the officer observed that the driver, identified as Vernon Dale Moore, 34, Highway 190, McKenzie, was holding a burned-out cigarette in his mouth with cigarette ash covering his face. Speaking with the driver, the officer said Moore seemed confused and slow to respond to his questions. Moore informed the officer that he had hit a deer a few months prior and may have hit something earlier in the McDonalds parking lot in McKenzie but had not failed to file a report of the incident. After being informed by Moore that he did not have insurance on the vehicle, a computer check revealed that his license was suspended for failure to appear in Weakley County General Sessions Court with license suspended on July 22, 2017. Upon failing field sobriety testing, Moore was arrested for DUI and refused blood alcohol testing. Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
