McKenzie to Accept Bids on University Drive Paving Project

MCKENZIE (October 2) — In a special called meeting, the McKenzie City Council voted in favor of accepting bids for a paving project focused on resurfacing University Drive.

Public Works Director Johnny Mercer

stated the project would take approximately 2600 tons of asphalt. This would including leveling and applying a two-inch layer to the 7,900-foot long roadway. At an estimated asphalt cost at $94 a ton, the road work including labor would cost the city around $340,000.

Mercer added that he would request bids to be by the ton, not the completed job. Any asphalt remaining after the completion of

McKenzie Teachers Petition For Collaborative Conferencing

MCKENZIE (October 2) — McKenzie's professional educators want to "collaboratively conference" with members of the McKenzie Special School District's Board of Education.

During the October 2 meeting of the Board, Lynn Watkins, Director of Schools, said 81 of the 102 professional educators signed a petition requesting the conferencing, which can address grievance procedures, employee insurance, fringe benefits, leave time, payroll deductions, and working conditions. It is not a binding process, unless educators and board members reach a memorandum of understanding.

If parties cannot reach agreement on the areas subject to collaborative conferencing, school boards have the authority to address such issues through board policy without official determination of an impasse.

Although the educators have petitioned for the process, they will still have to participate in a more formal balloting process to GLEASON (October 5) — Gleason, Tennessee the "Ball Clay Capital of the World" attracted record crowds for Minerals Day at Snider Park. The Gleason Downtown Revitalization Committee (GDRC) hosted the event Friday. The free festival was open to the public with an estimated 1,000 individuals in attendance. Over 750 middle and high school students were in attendance from local schools.

The event was sponsored by local clay mining operations: Gleason Clay Company, Old Hickory Clay, Imerys Ceramics/K-T Clay, and Lhoist North America/HC Spinks. Booths, canopies and tents were set up providing members of the community the opportunity to gain a better understanding of what takes place in the mining of ball clay.

Congressman David Kustoff paid a visit to Gleason as he met with the clay company executives, area government officials and supporters of Gleason. Kustoff was cordial, taking time to listen to the concerns of those present. The congressman addressed the crowd providing an update of what he is working on in Washington, D.C.

"Congressman Kustoff was well received, and we appreciated the invitation to visit. He was impressed with our county, city and mining industries. It was a good day for all and made a positive impact on a lot of young people. We hope everyone involved prospers in some way from today's event," state Charles Anderson, GDRC president.

Door prizes, free food and cold drinks were available throughout the day. Presentations of 3D dimensional renderings of a mine were provided. Buses transported students and guests to an actual clay mine for a close up view of what takes place at a ball clay mine.

As part of IMA-NA, Industrial Minerals Association-North America, the local clay companies asked the GDRC to host Minerals Day on a neutral site. Minerals Day originated in Europe and has grown since its inception in 2007.

Gleason's ball clay industry began in 1926 on the farm of W.R. Crawford. Some of the richest veins of clay in the area were discovered

City Holds Public Hearing On Sidewalks, Flooding

Flooding has plagued the area on South Main Street for more than 50 years. The city of McKenzie hopes to remedy that problem by a two-fold approach: an application for a grant for a sidewalk/flooding relief, and the repair of wastewater lines in the area to eliminate the infiltration of storm water into the wastewater system.

Mayor Jill Holland and Councilman Jason Martin attended the public hearing last week to address questions. The mayor said the damage caused by recent floods do not qualify for FEMA

Newspaper Adds Press Capacity During National Newspaper Week

The two-story tall, four-high unit is being installed this week. It will be operational next week and should provide a higher quality print in the newspaper.

It's National Newspaper Week and this newspaper is investing in new equipment to improve the overall quality of print of the weekly publication.

While many press companies have shuttered or greatly downsized, Associated Publishers, Inc. is making a contrarian move – adding capacity at its Huntingdon-based operations. The printing company is owned by The McKenzie Banner, Dresden Enterprise, Carroll County News-Leader, (Milan) Mirror-Exchange, Lexington Progress and (Savannah) Courier.

APPI is adding a four-high color unit to improve the overall quality of print and add capacity for color throughout the newspaper. A four-high is a two-story tall printing unit that prints the four composite ink colors of cyan, magenta, yellow, and black (CMYK) in one pass. The $100,000 addition is being installed

Allegion Hosts Carroll County Technical Students at First Manufacturing Day in McKenzie

MCKENZIE (October 3) — Allegion Americas, a leading provider of security products and solutions, today hosted nearly 80 students at its first Manufacturing Day in McKenzie — part of a nationwide effort to inspire the next generation of manufacturers.

Manufacturing Day is an annual event in October that's supported by the National Association of Manufacturers, during which American manufacturers open their doors to help educate people about the industry.

Allegion produces hollow metal doors and frames at its McKenzie facility, where its brand Republic Doors & Frames has operated for more than 40 years.

"Manufacturing leaders are truly pulling together to change the mindsets of today's young talent — the next generation of manufacturers. We are looking for ways to share the excitement that careers in manufacturing can bring to prospective employees, as well as enticing them to see the challenge and value of careers in manufacturing," said Allegion Senior Vice President of Global Operations and Integrated Supply Chain Chris Muhlenkamp. "At the same time, we're investing in and engaging our current team members, letting them know that we want their hearts and minds just as much as their hands and time."

Students and teachers who attended Allegion's 2018 Manufacturing Day from Carroll County Technical Center were given the opportunity to tour that facility and see, first-hand, how doors and frames are made.

They also heard from State Sen. John Stevens on the importance of manufacturing to Tennessee's economy. Stevens spoke to the morning attendees and Mayor Jill Holland welcomed the afternoon attendees.

"America has been built on manufacturing. For more than 100 years, manufacturing has provided American families a better life," Stevens said. "And there are few activities that exemplify American life more than manufacturing. Each day, you get to serve your family through meaningful work."

Allegion employs approximately 150 people in McKenzie, Tenn. with $5 million in annual payroll at the manufacturing 250,000 square-foot facility, located in the Henry County portion of McKenzie.

Plant Manager Monte Bowers said the local company depends on skilled workers to manufacture the doors and frames that are shipped throughout the world.

Allegion's starting pay is $13.45 per hour, said Bowers, who noted the company is ready to hire and invest in young people. Each year, the company manufactures 60,000 doors and 200,000 door frames.

Bowers thanked the county of Carroll for continuing to invest in technical education through its Carroll County Technical Center, available to all high school students in the county.

The manufacturer launched Manufacturing Day there this year to cultivate relationships with local schools and to develop innovative ways to teach students about manufacturing careers.

To actively address the skills gap, Allegion is also developing skilled trade apprenticeship programs and offering tuition reimbursement opportunities, as well as transitioning some part-time and temporary employees to full-time positions.

West Carroll Audit Reveals No Findings for Second Straight Year

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com
© 2018 - Tri-County Pub., Inc.

ATWOOD (October 4) — For the second consecutive year, an audit by Alexander Thompson Arnold of the West Carroll Special School District has revealed no findings.

During Thursday's regular monthly meeting, ATA's Winston Truett presented copies of the lengthy audit report to each member of the board and Director of Schools Dexter Williams. He also summarized the results, pointed out a few key portions of the written report and took questions. He noted that there was one "management letter comment" (which is less severe than a "finding") regarding the handling of deposits.

Director Williams posed the lone question, asking if two straight years of no findings was uncommon. Truett replied that is was in fact uncommon and that, quite often, issues are found. He added, "You're to be complimented."

Board member Mike Foster credited the many people involved and led a round of applause.

In the board's monthly "Spotlight," primary school Principal Jackie Wester and elementary school Principal Tracy Foster each recognized their educational assistants and paraprofessionals.

Wester honored Melissa Allen, Jeanne Hooper, Shelly Worrell, Sharlanda Emerson, Janice Vinson, Lori Bigham, Ashley Smith and Adam Welch.

Foster honored Sherry Cobb, Dorothy Rimmer, Gayle Kendrick, Chesley Johnson and Adam Welch.

High school Principal Tim Stratton recognized the Marching War Eagles for their performance in three recent competitions. First-year band director Michael Nelson listed the accolades: at the Gibson County Marching Invitational, first place percussion and field commander in Class A; at the WTSBOA Marching Festival, Superior rating for percussion and excellent rating for color guard, field commander and band; and at the Mid-South Marching Invitational, first place percussion, color guard, field commander and band in class, sixth place percussion overall, fifth place field commander overall, third place color guard overall and winner of the Big Beats Drumline Battle.

The drumline was present at the meeting and performed its battle-winning cadence for the board.

The board approved the Textbook Review Committee and the 2018 LEA Compliance Report.

They also approved six board policy updates on second and final reading. Another board policy update was approved on the first of two readings. The update sets the weight of TN Ready scores on students' final grades at 15 percent.

A request by board member Patrick Lindsey to allow the Tennessee School Boards Association to update the policy manual was approved, as was the Safe School Act budget, all of which currently goes toward the School Resource Officer salary.

Two field trips were approved: the FFA Convention in Indianapolis later this month and the Junior Beta Club Convention in Nashville in November.

A decision to purchase a storage building for the junior/senior high was delayed as board members requested that Director of Schools Dexter Williams acquire more estimates for the project.

In principal updates, Principal Wester announced that Family Literacy Night would be Thursday, October 18 and Halloween parties would be Wednesday, October 31.

Principal Foster reported that everyone was happy with the new cafeteria serving line at the elementary school. She said that the Mr. Earl fundraiser would begin Tuesday, October 16 and that 4-H activities would be the week of October 22.

She was pleased to announce the return of the elementary Beta Club with sponsors Michelle Robinson, Beth Bridges and Brittany Fowler.

Principal Stratton announced that Early Post-Secondary Opportunity Week, a state initiative, would begin October 22. He said the school was partnering with Black & Decker on projects for CTE students. Manufacturing Day will be Friday, October 26.

All three schools will recognize Red Ribbon Week beginning October 22.

Friday, October 19 will be Homecoming for West Carroll. Prior to the football game, alumni will tailgate with their classmates.

During the game, students with perfect attendance will be recognized on the field.

The meeting adjourned after 40 minutes.

request the collaborative conferencing and decide who will represent them, such as Tennessee Education Association or other associations. Individual teachers can also vote to be unaffiliated with professional representation.

If the teachers and board agree on terms, they can also decide that those terms will be in effect from one to three years.

There are no provisions for mediation or arbitration. The collaborative conferencing law does not significantly change the prohibition on unlawful acts laid out under collective bargaining. It is still unlawful for school boards or professional employees or their designated representatives to threaten, coerce, or interfere with other parties' exercise of their rights under this law. It is still unlawful for teachers to strike.

Up to the year 2011, McKenzie educators chose to collectively bargain for wages and benefits. However, in 2011, the Tennessee General Assembly made it unlawful for education associations to collectively bargain or strike.

The Board will convene in November to discuss how to proceed with the process ahead of the December deadline.

In other business, the board approved Nick Lowe, SRO, Tim Barker, principal of McKenzie Elementary School, Dorethea Royle, principal of McKenzie Middle School, and Tim Watkins, principal of McKenzie High School to the Disciplinary Hearing Authority (DHA). If parents disagree with the principal's decision, they can advance complaints to the DHA. If no resolution is achieved, the parents have the privilege of requesting a hearing before the Board of Education.

Board members Jan Latimer and Jon Davis were absent.

designation. The lone way to hopefully alleviate the problem is to apply for a transportation grant for a sidewalk, which will include a solution to the water problem.

The city is also making extensive repairs to its wastewater system to reduce storm water infiltration through the aging sewer lines. A grant and loan were secured to make repairs to sewer lift stations and the underground service lines.

For years, the water has accumulated along South Main in an area known as Brawner's Hollow. In the 1980s, city employee Floyd Lee lost his life as he was swept through a culvert he was attempting to clear of debris. In the 1990s, Earl Pace drove his pickup truck into standing water and ruined the engine. Those are just a few examples of the problems created at that site. Highway 79/Highland Drive also floods at the railroad overpass. Last year, two bystanders rescued a woman from her car after rushing flood water swept her car from the roadway and into a storm drain.

Both flood areas are caused because the storm drain is too small under the CSX railroad track.

the project would be applied to city streets in need of repairs and patching.

Mayor Jill Holland recommended the council approve pursuing a five-year 3.875 percent bond through the Tennessee Municipal Bond Fund to pay for University Drive repairs.

The bond would cost the city $40,480.20 in interest totaling the expense to $380,480.20 over the five-year term.

Councilman Jason Martin made the motion to move forward on the bond and open bids for the project. Following a second by Councilman Randy Calahan, the council unanimously voted in favor of the motion.

In other business, the council was informed by the mayor that they needed to bring the budget back for approval due to a transposed number, which had not affected the bottom line number. Jennifer Waldrup explained that when typing the condensed revenue/expense page to send to the State of Tennessee, a revenue figure was incorrectly typed. After speaking with her liaison at the State, he indicated it would be better to bring it back before the council before submission.

The council unanimously voted for the correct budget following a motion by Vice-Mayor Hale and a second by Councilman Martin.

All council was present for the meeting except Councilpersons Cassie Allen and Jessie Townes.

The next regular meeting of the McKenzie City Board of Mayor and Council is October 11 at 6 p.m. at the McKenzie Municipal Building.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KESHe's Just A Kneel Away

If one more person says to me, "I don't know what our country is coming to" or "How could we, as a nation, get into such a fix" or "What in the world is wrong with those people up in Washington" my head is going to explode. Enough already with the "oh me's" and "oh my's!"

We all need a little respite from the president, and raging senator (which could be about anyone of them), and the never ending Congressional Hearings, and the way-overzealous news reporters, and the protesters shouting at the top of their lungs before innocence or guilt has had a chance to be determined, and the late night comedians who think there is something funny in any of this...

The way our government is working right now is embarrassing enough—surely we don't need to be going around reminding each other of it minute by minute!

And I've got the solution. To the whole thing. All of our problems. And it's so simple I can't possibly think why someone hasn't already come up with it: We need a lot more bumper stickers in this nation that have JESUS written on them.

When I'd "forgotten" to do my math homework in the fourth grade I figured my goose was cooked. This was way back when you just didn't "do it". But, man, it was a whole page of multiplication! And I willingly chose to play baseball after school and run down to the big ditch and climb that big walnut tree in Miss Boaz's backyard and listen to "Fibber McGee and Molly" after supper.

I finally confessed to Mom as I started off to school the next morning that Miss Dinwiddie was sure to give me an F-minus because I hadn't worked one problem. She grabbed my hand before I could take another step and said, "Let's pray to Jesus". Mom was praying as hard as she could while I was peeping up with one eye... looking for a miracle! Unless Jesus caught up with me before school with a handful of Arabic numbers on a spreadsheet the grease was in the pan!

We hadn't hardly gotten through the pledge and roll call before the fire drill warning went off. That took a while! And when we got back to class, the radiator was leaking and hot steam was pouring into the room! We evacuated down to the gym. About the time things settled down after lunch Pam Collins and Suzie Cozart got into a knock down drag out fight. Then Bob Edwards threw up. At 1:45 that afternoon Miss Dinwiddie capitulated, "Boys and girls, we must do our reading classes. We will have to wait until tomorrow to go over the math assignment."

I ran all the way home shouting, "I have been redeemed!"

Somehow my last year in high school Billie Jean thought I was taking her to the Friday night dance at the National Guard Armory. Mary Hadley called me Tuesday evening to remind me I'd promised to take her THAT SAME NIGHT to the Henry County Fair. I seriously contemplated moving to Paducah. And I was sweating bullets by Friday afternoon when I remembered a "friend who sticketh closer than a brother." I promised Jesus if he helped me out of this fix, I'd take care of the next one by myself.

Billie Jean called a few minutes later, "Kes, I've got the measles. Sorry about tonight."

I was singing "lift high His royal banner..." when the phone rang again. Mary Hadley had "got a better deal". She was going to the fair with Bobby Winchester. I spent the evening ALONE pondering on the depth of Jesus' fairness and discernment.

The first day of my college career a student jumped out of a second story window. I got run over every afternoon at football practice. Each professor demanded more "creditable performance" than I was able to deliver. It was "Shakespeare to the right of me, John Milton to the left"; I was doomed with the Light Brigade "riding with the six hundred into the valley of Death." Salvation came at the very last second when I discovered Jesus just happened to be going to this same college...AT THE SAME TIME!

You think I married the perfect wife by accident? You think my boys "turned out alright" because of my mature and intelligent raising of them? Do you think I've had such a blessed and happy life because I'm smarter and better looking than the rest of you?

Do you think I'm guessing about those Jesus bumper stickers saving our nation?

Respectfully,
Kes

Guest EditorialPower of the Press is in Being the Way to Know for News Consumers*BY GENE POLICINSKI

The power of the press rests in the ability of journalists to hold government accountable, to mobilize public opinion on matters that are important to individuals, communities or the nation, and to provide necessary information of value.

Notice in those words not a mention of celebrity content, mobile devices nor "aspirational" reportage that feels good without doing any good.

But also notice in those words the key to the future for newsrooms across the nation: A visible role in the daily life of the nation rooted in real benefit and sustained credibility.

Newsprint may not be the medium-of-choice today for many readers, and perhaps certainly not the one for the desired next generation of readers. But the news organizations behind what certainly will be a blend of printed and electronic pages must be again the mediums-of-choice for that group, whether they be thought-leaders in society, officeholders in government or voters.

The nation – our audience – needs facts, presented clearly, accurately and completely. For those who are held rapt by the comings and goings of the Kardashians and turn away from discussion of policy in the Keystone Pipeline System debate: Well, perhaps it's time to say "goodbye" and leave them to vacuous talking heads, unreal "reality" shows and the assortment of cable TV geek-fests that offer a chance to feel superior just by sitting on a sofa.

"Targeted circulation" indeed. Let's leave behind the prideful ignorant who proclaim little faith and demonstrate even less actual consumption of news, and target those readers and users who want news and data and informed decisions – and who will pay a reasonable fee to get it.

Ok, not as easy to gather in and report out as feature items and single-interview chats. It means bucking the system to place journalists in seats where daily decisions are made and social issues discussed – from City Hall to church pews. It means bringing the news of the day in new ways, but with the same old standards that separated opinion from fact, news pages from editorials and commentary from reporting.

The Newseum Institute's latest State of the First Amendment national survey, published on July 4, showed that 70% of respondents disagreed with the statement that "overall, the news media tries to report the news without bias."

To be sure, the change of bias has been leveled at journalists since the nation began – and was, in fact, welcomed by many in the first "journals of opinion" and later by media moguls making no pretense at publishing anything but "news" filtered through their own views.

But over time, and by dint of the hard work and credible reporting by tens of thousands of journalists – in newspapers, and later in radio, television and now online – readers, listeners, views and users gave their loyalty to news operations that brought them what they needed.

As emotional as one can be when waxing about ink-on-newsprint, it was the information that was printed with that ink, on those pages, that made newspapers strong and powerful – and that information was the stuff – not the fluff – of life.

Of course there is room for entertaining, uplifting stories and reports on that part of the day that makes us chuckle, smile or simply shake a head. But editorial decisions ought not to start and end there. "Click-bait" ought not to squeeze out real debate. "Metrics" ought not to rule over meaning. And the challenge in thorough reporting on the county's budget next year ought to mean finding a new way – perhaps through the new studies of gaming technology as applied to news reporting – of telling a complex story. Decades ago, USA TODAY showed us how color weather maps and national sports rankings could be fun while still bringing needed information to commuters, gardeners and golfers – and while also reporting on AIDS, national security issues and unsafe military vehicles.

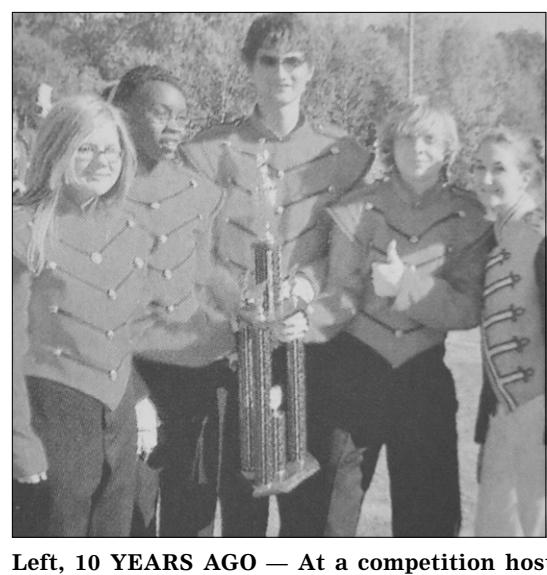

Consider that most news today still originates with mainstream media – and that the value for those aggregators was simply in finding a new way to package and deliver the content. A simple text-and-photo site called Craig's List wreaked havoc on the financial underpinnings of a massive industry just by finding an easier way to post and peruse the same information. Cannot we collectively continue to find such innovation within newsrooms as well?

Journalists have learned many hard lessons over the last two decades: Nobody really loved us because of our nameplates, innovation was not just a good idea but a daily consideration on survival, and we no longer are the gatekeepers anymore between news makers and news consumers.

But in those tough, even brutal, decades, we've also discovered how to make our pages come alive – literally, via the Web – and found new ways to know about and be in contact with those interested in news and information. To the old axiom about being "clear, concise and accurate" those who have survived have added "responsive."

The power of the press was, is now, and will be in the future, bringing consumers the news they need – and having the fortitude to seek and report the news they don't even yet know they need, but will.

Ignorance and apathy is the challenge. Credibility and necessity are the means to overcome those challenges.

Originally from Bowling Green, Kentucky, Johnson is a graduate of the University of the Appalachians. She obtained her Doctor of Pharmacy from Belmont University College of Pharmacy.

"I chose to pursue pharmacy residency training to develop the skills necessary to become a well-rounded clinical pharmacist," said Johnson. "I can already tell that HCMC is going to challenge me and push me to think critically and independently, ultimately allowing me to grow into a confident leader in the pharmacy profession."

HCMC's other pharmacy resident, Jacob Fussell, is originally from McKenzie, Tenn., and saw this as an opportunity to continue his education in the area he calls home. Fussell received his undergraduate degree from Bethel University.

Additionally, he completed his graduate studies at Union University College of Pharmacy.

Fussell shared, "I was drawn to HCMC because of its culture of caring. The immediate sense of community and genuine concern for the patient's well-being makes it a dream work environment."

Fussell Among Pharmacy Residents at HCMC

PARIS — Henry County Medical Center welcomes Caroline Johnson and Jacob Fussell to its PGY-1 Pharmacy Residency Program.

Originally from Bowling Green, Kentucky, Johnson is a graduate of the University of the Appalachians. She obtained her Doctor of Pharmacy from Belmont University College of Pharmacy.

"I chose to pursue pharmacy residency training to develop the skills necessary to become a well-rounded clinical pharmacist," said Johnson. "I can already tell that HCMC is going to challenge me and push me to think critically and independently, ultimately allowing me to grow into a confident leader in the pharmacy profession."

HCMC's other pharmacy resident, Jacob Fussell, is originally from McKenzie, Tenn., and saw this as an opportunity to continue his education in the area he calls home. Fussell received his undergraduate degree from Bethel University.

Additionally, he completed his graduate studies at Union University College of Pharmacy.

Henry County Medical Center's PGY-1 Pharmacy Residency Program prepares residents with the skills, knowledge and attitudes required to become a competent pharmacy practitioner and an adjunct pharmacy school faculty member serving a community hospital.

A pharmacy resident is a licensed pharmacist that pursues additional training to gain a better understanding of how to apply the knowledge and skills learned in school to real patients, situations, and settings. Residency training is crucial to new pharmacists, who are going into a healthcare environment that involves ever changing roles and responsibilities.

During a residency, the resident will get the chance to work with patients as part of an interdisciplinary team, sharpening their critical thinking skills, and learning the subtleties of leadership. They also will have the opportunity to be exposed to different facets of practice and learn about the many and varied career paths available to pharmacists today. The 12-month program provides the necessary opportunities for highly motivated pharmacists to achieve their professional goals.

HCMC is excited to further expand its pharmacy staff with the addition of two clinical pharmacists. Carrie McCulloch, Pharm. D., and Anna Mayberry, Pharm. D., completed their PGY-1 pharmacy residencies with HCMC in June and will now both be working as full time pharmacy staff within the organization.

"I never thought I could love my job as much as I do at HCMC," said McCulloch. "Not only are my co-workers in pharmacy amazing people to work with, but the entire hospital staff is welcoming and dedicated to creating a positive environment for our patients and our healthcare team."

Coming to Tennessee from Albuquerque, New Mexico, Carrie McCulloch, Pharm. D., received a Bachelor's of Arts in Economics from the University of New Mexico in 2008. She obtained her Doctor of Pharmacy from the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy in 2018.

Originally from Parsons, Tenn., Anna Mayberry, Pharm. D., is a graduate of Belmont University College of Pharmacy where she received a degree in Pharmaceutical Studies in 2013 and her Doctor of Pharmacy in 2017.

Silver Threads Quilt Guild Celebrates 16th Anniversary

Silver Threads Quilt Guild celebrated its 16-year anniversary this month. Mike and Tammy Host, with the help of Roselind Cole, went all-out on the party.

There were decorations, trinkets for everyone, balloons and games. This was topped off with a big buffet featuring a beautiful quilt-themed cake.

Silver Threads members welcome anyone interested in quilting, anyone needing help with a project or learning new techniques to come see them. The club supports several community organizations. This is strictly on a volunteer basis. Some of these projects include lap robes for the Veterans Home, fidget mats for nursing homes and child-size quilts for Carl Perkins and Family Services. The club also makes monetary donations to several organizations.

Club members also enjoy the ongoing classes taught by members almost every month at no cost to members. Trips to cloth shops are planned and annual picnics.

Tammy and Mike Host, along with several club members, helped set up the display tables at Carroll County Senior Day at the fair. Lyn Wadginski played host, passing out the beautiful bags provided by the members.

Silver Threads Quilt Guild member Nancy Ray displays her lovely Pink Flamingo quilt. Nancy lives in Eva and is a new club member. Welcome Nancy.

Gas Prices Take Unseasonable Turn Higher

NASHVILLE (October 8) — Gas prices in Tennessee rose 6 cents last week. Sunday's state average of $2.69 per gallon is 9 cents more than a month ago, and 29 cents more than this time last year.

The most expensive gas price averages in Tennessee are in Nashville ($2.72), Kingsport-Bristol ($2.71), and Jackson ($2.71)

The least expensive gas price averages in Tennessee are in Clarksville-Hopkinsville ($2.64), Knoxville ($2.64), and Chattanooga ($2.64).

"Motorists are paying higher-than-normal prices at the pump for this time of year," said Mark Jenkins, spokesman, AAA-The Auto Club Group. "Global supply and demand concerns continue to weigh on oil prices, which are dragging gas prices higher as a result. OPEC output remains low and U.S. sanctions are expected to limit exports of Iranian crude. All of this is happening while global demand keeps growing. These fundamentals could keep upward pressure on prices at the pump during a time of year when motorists normally begin to pay less."

Crude oil prices reach multi-year highs

Crude oil prices reached their highest point in nearly four years. Prices settled at $76.41 per barrel on Wednesday.

day, the highest since November 21, 2014. Crude prices trended lower through the second half of last week, settling at $74.34/b.

Domestically, crude oil supply is at the highest point in a month, according to the latest report from the Energy Information Administration. U.S. oil production rates remain at a record-setting 11.1 million barrels per day, for the second consecutive week.

Wildcats Remain Unbeaten With Win at Campbellsville

CAMPBELLSVILLE, Ky. (October 6) — The No. 10 Bethel Wildcats won their sixth straight with a 49-13 win at Campbellsville University Saturday night in Campbellsville, Kentucky. Bethel is 6-0 over and 2-0 in the MSC Bluegrass Division. Campbellsville fell to 2-4 and 1-1.

Bethel elected to defer after winning the opening toss and with good reason. Chris Beavers recovered Dalton McCann's on-side kick giving Bethel possession at mid-field. Ten plays later Taye Davis scored on a 12-yard run to give Bethel a 6-0 lead. McCann's point-after made it 7-0 at the 11:55 mark. Bethel struck again at the 5:04 mark on a Sam Castranova to Davius Prather 27-yard touchdown pass to make it 14-0. With three seconds left in the quarter Bethel scored again on a De'Ontay four-yard run to give the Cats a 21-0 margin at the end of one.

Campbellsville's Noah Bicksler kicked a 29-yard field goal to make it 21-3 with 10:17 left in the second quarter. Four minutes later Castranova hit Antonio Wright on a seven-yard pass and the Cats led 28-3. With 36 seconds left in the quarter CU quarterback Josh Davis edged his way into the end zone and Bicksler's point after cut Bethel's lead to 28-10 at the half.

Both squads were scoreless in the third quarter.

Five seconds into the final stanza Bicksler's 20-yard field goal made it 28-13 but Bethel would score three times in the last 14 minutes to secure the victory. Wright caught another scoring pass from Castranova. The 60-yard strike gave Bethel a 35-13 lead. Chris Witherspoon and Taye Davis had rushing touchdowns. The fifth best scoring team in the nation averaging 48.2 points per game exceeded that with the 49-13 victory.

Witherspoon led Bethel in rushing with 99 yards on 10 carries. Castranova was 15-of-28 in the air for 265 yards. Wright led Bethel with four catches. Prather had three receptions.

Jeremy Beaulieu and Jeremy Johnson led Bethel in tackles with six each. Beaulieu, Johnson, Jakobe Griffin and Delvin Spruills each had fumble recoveries for the Wildcats.

Bethel outgained the Tigers 527-343 to spoil the CU Homecoming.

Coach Brent Dearmon commented on the win. "This is another big road win for us. We knew this three game stretch would define our season. We did not play up to our standard tonight but as a whole we did enough to win over a tough Campbellsville squad. We are looking forward to finally be back home next week."

The Wildcats return home for the first time since September 15 as they play host to the Kentucky Christian Knights Saturday at Wildcat Stadium. The Bluegrass Division match-up kicks off at 1:30 p.m. It will be Military and First Responders Appreciation Day.

Huntingdon Wins Battle at Wayne County, Remains Undefeated at 8-0

WAYNESBORO (October 5)

— The Huntingdon Mustangs continued their hot streak Friday night racking up 46 points against the 22 points of Region-6A opponent Wayne County. Coming into the match-up, both teams were undefeated in the region. The offense of Wayne County's Wildcats attempted to keep Huntingdon's offense off the field as much as possible, but the quick scoring ability of the Mustangs proved almost undefendable.

Winning the coin toss, Huntingdon deferred until the second half. Playing keep away, the Wildcats ran 15 plays and ate nearly eight minutes off the clock in their opening series. Starting from their own 26-yard line, Wayne County produced the first touchdown of the night but failed to complete the two-point conversion.

Down 6-0 with 8:04 to play in the first quarter, Huntingdon returned the responding kickoff back for touchdown. Daquan Robinson ripped down the field 85 yards for the score. Cole Edwards tacked on the extra-point as the Mustangs assumed the lead 7-6 with 3:49 on the clock.

The Wildcats regained the lead closing out the first quarter. Moving the ball 80 yards down the field, Wayne County's Owen Risner hit an open Jojo Swinea in the end-zone for six points. They teamed up for a successful two-point conversion taking a 14-7 lead.

Within two plays of starting second quarter Huntingdon's Hunter Ensley popped off a 49-yard touchdown. Edwards tied things up 14-14 with the PAT.

Wayne County took back the lead in one big pass from Ris-ner for a 75-yard touchdown. Risner's passed to Travis Patterson for a successful two-point conversion. Wildcats were on top 22-14 with 10:30 to play in the first half.

On the verge of scoring their third consecutive touchdown, Huntingdon's Robinson fumbled the football and Wayne County recovered the ball in the end-zone resulting in a touchback.

Looking to increase their lead, the Wildcats attempted to work the ball down field picking up first-downs. Looking at fourth-and-seven from the Huntingdon 29-yard line, the Wildcats elected to attempt a pass to gain a fresh set of down. Risner's pass was intercepted by Brandon Lawton, who would have returned the ball to the Wildcat 27-yard line, but a block in the back call moved the ball back to mid-field. Unable to capitalize on the turnover, the Mustangs were forced to punt.

Wayne County turned the ball over on downs on the next possession. Starting from the Wildcat 32-yard line, Huntingdon picked up a quick first down. Austin Baker broke free on the next play catching a 65-yard touchdown pass from Ensley. The two-point conversion for the Mustangs was no good as they trailed the Wildcats 22-20 at the half.

Opening the second half on offense, Huntingdon took the 26-22 at the 9:50 mark following a short touchdown run by Ensley. Dallas Willis picked up two points on the conversion.

Two minutes later Ensley was back across the goal line with his fourth TD of the night. Edwards split the uprights for the PAT as Huntingdon increased its lead 33-22 with 7:18 to play in the third quarter.

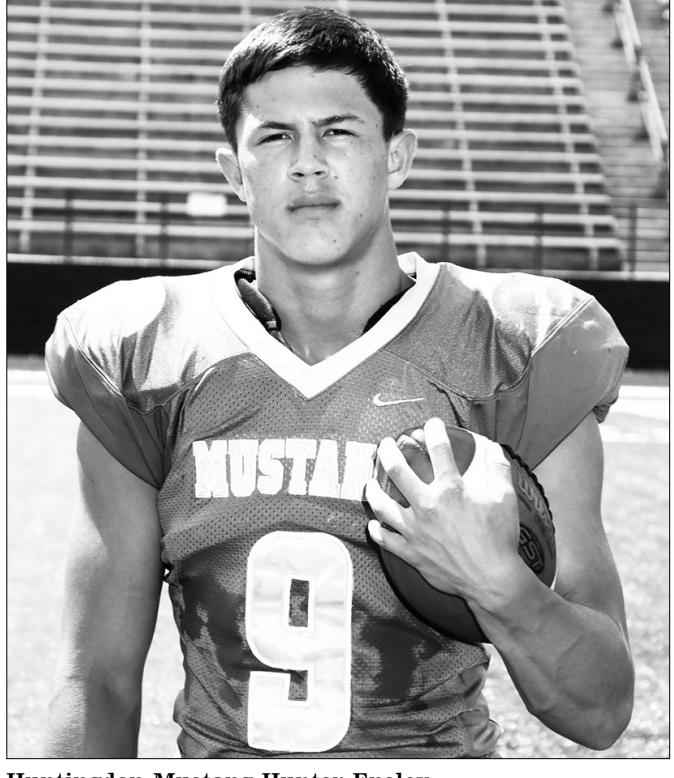

Wayne County's offense became increasingly stagnant as the Mustangs' offense turned up the steam. Ensley scored again for Huntingdon at the 3:01 mark of the third quarter as Huntingdon went up 39-22 following the failed PAT.

With a little over six minutes to play in the third quarter, Ensley was back across the goal line with his fourth TD of the night. Edwards split the uprights for the PAT as Huntingdon increased its lead 33-22 with 7:18 to play in the third quarter.

as the Huntingdon capped off the night with the 46-22 victory.

Huntingdon remains undefeated at 8-0 and 4-0 in Region-6A. Coming into the Friday night match-up, the Associated Press had the Mustangs ranked fourth in the state in class 1A. Ranking first was Greenback (7-0), second was South Pittsburg (6-0) and third was Cornersville (7-0).

West Carroll Routs Undermanned Fulton City, 53-6

FULTON, Ky. (October 5) — The West Carroll War Eagles returned to their winning ways Friday with a big win in their final road game (and final non-region game) of the year.

The team is now 6-1 after dominating Fulton City, 53-6. The winless Bulldogs began the game with 12 active players, but, as they have several times this season, finished the game with just ten on the field.

The Bulldogs won the coin toss and elected to receive the opening kick. Starting at the Fulton City 30, Bulldog Jordan Lannom gained four and was stopped by War Eagle Darrell Williams. Lannom tried again and lost five yards to Williams and a host of defenders. On third-and-long, Williams broke through the offensive line again to sack quarterback Hunter Hayes and cause a fumble, which he recovered at the 21.

Jeremiah Bryant took the first snap for the West Carroll offense, gaining 18 yards down to the 2. Quarterback Trace Fuller then tossed to Blaine Howell for the touchdown. Devin Nash kicked the point-after, and the War Eagles led 7-0 just over two minutes into the contest.

Fulton City again started at the 30, and again disaster struck quickly. Hayes' first-down pass was picked off by War Eagle Kyler White and run back for a touchdown. Nash kicked again, and West Carroll led 14-0 with just over nine minutes to play in the first frame.

For the third consecutive drive, the Bulldogs started at the 30. The War Eagle defense held strong and forced a three-and-out. Shae Crocker fell on the Fulton City punt at the West Carroll 43.

Fuller threw incomplete on first down, then kept on second down for a 38-yard gain. Jarrius Weatherford gained nine down to the 6, then Bryant ran for the touchdown. Nash nailed the PAT, and the War Eagles led 21-0 with 6:29 on the first-quarter clock.

The Bulldogs began the next drive even deeper at the 24.

Hayes kept on first down and was dropped for a seven-yard loss by Hunter Lindsey.

After a short gain on second down, Hayes was flagged on third down for intentional grounding. Back deep near the end zone for fourth down, the ball was fumbled out of the end zone for a safety. West Carroll led 23-0 and got the ball back with 4:23 to go in the first.

A short kick was returned by War Eagle Wyatt Baker to the Fulton City 27. Fuller threw to Jack Barrow for the quick score, and Nash's kick upped the lead to 30-0.

The Bulldogs started at the 35, but again went three-and-out. Crocker received the punt

Rebels Beat Adamsville for Region Win

BY JIM POTTS

The McKenzie Rebels were happy to be home after four straight weeks on the road and it showed in their play Friday night against region opponent Adamsville. They came into the contest with plenty of confidence after getting their first win at getting their first win at McKenzie got the ball first on the kickoff after Adamsville won the toss and elected to defer to the second half.

The offense clicked early with runs by Joseph Miller, Bryston Diggs, and Eli Surber as the Rebels marched downfield with Miller punching in a 1-yard score with 7:47 left in the first quarter. An attempted 2-point conversion failed leaving McKenzie with an early 6-0 lead.

McKenzie's defense clicked early as well forcing Adamsville to go three and out on their first possession.

The 35-yard punt left the Rebels in good field position near midfield. The Rebel's second possession only took two plays to produce points. Miller ripped off a 27-yard run and Bryston Diggs finished it off on second down with a 22-yard dash for a touchdown.

The extra point was no good but McKenzie extended their lead to 12-0 with 5:18 left in the first quarter.

The two teams swapped possessions to finish the opening quarter. The Rebels opened the second quarter having to punt for the first time in the contest. Adamsville got a decent drive going into Rebel territory but were forced to punt after Larson King broke up a pass attempt on third down and long.

McKenzie took over the ball at their own 14 and started a long drive chewing up lots of the second quarter clock. The drive went 13 plays resulting in an 18-yard touchdown run by Joseph Miller with 4:13 left in the second half. Diego Calderon's extra point attempt was good for a 19-0 lead.

Adamsville ran the ensuing kickoff back 85 yards for a score only to have it called back on a penalty. The Cardinals then drove the ball all the way to the McKenzie 1 where they fumbled with just a few seconds left until halftime. Surber took a knee to end a good first half for the Rebels.

McKenzie's defense rose to the occasion early in the second half when Murphy Watkins sacked the Cardinal quarterback causing a fumble which Stephone Haynes recovered for the Rebels. McKenzie moved the ball some on their next possession but had to punt from their own 40 which was partially blocked giving the Cardinals possession at the McKenzie 40. Adamsville's Lathan Morris connected with Donovan Stackens for a 40-yard touchdown on first down. Their extra point attempt was good making the score 19-7 with 7:13 left in the third quarter.

up a fumble and took it the other way 65 yards for a touchdown. Calderon's extra point attempt was good for a 26-7 score with 4:34 left in the third quarter.

The two teams swapped possessions heading into the fourth quarter. Adamsville moved into McKenzie territory early in the fourth and scored on another 40-yard pass from Morris to Stackens on fourth down with 8:30 left in the final quarter. The extra point was good for a 26-14 score. Tyler Spivey took the ensuing kickoff 90-plus yards for a score only to have it called back on a penalty. The Rebels ended up punting after using up plenty of clock running the ball.

Adamsville went to the air trying to get a quick score on their next possession but Spivey had other ideas intercepting a Cardinal pass and returning it 30 yards. McKenzie ran out the clock on their second victory.

Joseph Miller rang up 140 yards and two TD's in his return while Bryston Diggs contributed 75 yards and a score. Eli Surber added 30 more yards to the Rebel offensive effort. Coach Comer was pleased with the effort. "We've had a lot of stuff to deal with forcing us to play a lot of new guys. We gotta take care of our business each week from here on out."

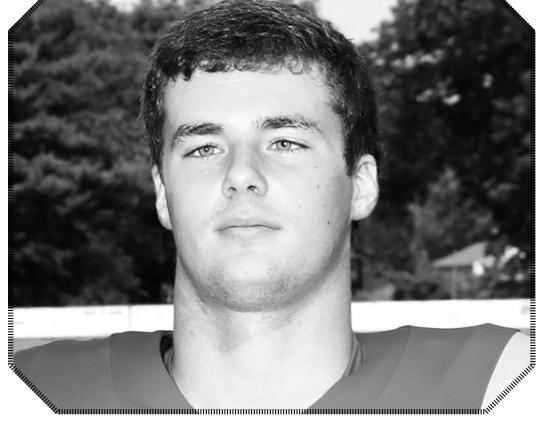

The win combined with Union City's win over Gibson County has put the Rebels in a 3-way tie for 3rd place in the region with Trenton and Union City. McKenzie heads to Trenton this week for the final regular season road trip. Trenton is coming off an open week.

Game time is 7:00 p.m.

Rebel Golfers Headed Back to State

COURTESY TIM MCBRIDE

SHARON (October 1) — The Rebel golf teams again made school history Monday. Both the ladies and gentlemen will return to the state tournament for the second consecutive year as they each won the Region 7 Tournament.

The ladies were led by Maggie Glass, whose 78 earned her tournament medalist honors. Julie French added an 89, earning her a third place individual finish in a playoff and giving the team a total of 167 and a seven-stroke victory over Milan.

The gentlemen were led by Ben Austin and Johnathan Moore, who each shot 77. Logan Green's 85 and Nathan Nanney's 88 gave the team a 327 total and a 14-stroke win over Union City.

The gentlemen also had a play-off for tournament medalist that included Austin and Moore. Once it had concluded, Austin prevailed after five holes to claim the top individual honor, with Moore claiming third after the third playoff hole.

The ladies will carry a 46-8-2 record to the state tournament, while the gentlemen will go with a 63-5 record.

The tournament will take place at WillowBrook Golf Club in Manchester October 8-10, with the practice round on Monday and the two-day tournament on Tuesday and Wednesday.

If you see any of these players or Coach Smith, congratulate them on this historical season and wish them well next week as they represent our school and community as one of the top eight Small Division golf programs in both the ladies and gentlemen's division in the state!

Lil' Rebel Glow Run

The McKenzie Elementary PTO held its annual Lil' Rebel Glow Run Saturday, September 29 raising $2,348 for the organization. This year is the second year they held it in the evening and the kids got to wear glow-stick necklaces or bracelets as they ran laps around the school playground.

41 total runners participated in grades K-4 with a great audience of parents and grandparents looking on. The kids ran in two groups with K-2 running in one group and 3-4 ran in another group. Some teachers were also running with the kids.

Kids in all grades did really well and in several grades there had to be run-offs because kids tied in the number of laps run. The runoff was literally a one-lap race to decide the winners.

Out of 9 Kindergarten runners, Claire Wilkins won first place, Luke Crocker won second place, and Callie Seovic won third place. First grade also had 9 runners with Lane Brown winning first place, Carter Dearmon winning second place, and Cooper Jones winning third place. Second grade had 10 runners with Liam Moore winning first place, Sebastian Sass winning second place, and Briggs Rowland winning third place. Third grade had the most runners with 11. Bella Sass won first place while Malachi Harris won second place and Kaydynce Barksdale won third place. Fourth grade only had 2 runners with Natalie Herris winning first place and Phoenix Keith winning second place.

All of the kids received coupons from Sonic for participating. The top three winners from each grade received certificates and prizes with first place receiving a lighted scooter. The overall leader in money raised was kindergarten Anna Summer with $200, who received a bicycle. The class with the most sponsorships was Brandy Turman's Kindergarten class who will be treated to a party.

and returned to the West Carroll 41.

Weatherford started the drive with a gain of two, followed with a 52-yard run down to the 5, then punched it in for six points. The Nash kick made it a 37-0 War Eagle lead with just seconds left in the frame.

The first quarter ended with the Bulldogs receiving the kick. Per Kentucky mercy rules, the second quarter began with a running clock. Fulton City went three-and-out, losing a player to injury along the way. Both teams fielded just ten players for the remainder of the game.

The Bulldogs punted, but West Carroll fumbled the ball on the return. A Bulldog player picked up the fumble and returned it to the end zone, but the officials ruled the ball down at the 39 in possession of Fulton City.

The Bulldog offense couldn't take advantage of the short field and turned the ball over on downs at the 39.

War Eagle Devon Rader ran for the 61-yard touchdown on the first play. New quarterback Dylan Cox kept for the two-point conversion, and West Carroll led 45-0 with just over two minutes until halftime. Fulton City received the kick and managed just one play before the intermission.

The War Eagles received the second-half kick (with eight minute quarters and a running clock) and started at the 26. Rader gained a yard, then Cox kept for a four-yard loss. On third-and-long, Cox kept again but gained just four. Going for it on fourth down, Rader broke loose for 63 yards down to the 10. Cox kept for three, then Tylor Smith gained five. Xander Moon took over at QB and threw to Smith for a two-yard touchdown. Cox then kept for the two-point conversion. Late in the third quarter, the War Eagles led 53-0.

Fulton City started deep again and ran one play, a pass from Hayes to Lannom for a short gain, before the frame ended. To start the final frame, Hayes threw incomplete, then threw to Kire Tribble for a gain of seven. On fourth-and-two, Hayes ran 62 yards to get the Bulldogs on the board. The two-point try failed, and West Carroll led 53-6 with six minutes to play in the game.

The War Eagles managed a couple of first downs to run out the clock and claim the quick victory.

West Carroll had 346 yards of total offense while holding Fulton City to just 34.

Devon Rader led the War Eagles with 138 yards on four carries with a touchdown. Jarrius Weatherford ran four times for 66 yards and a touchdown. Jeremiah Bryant ran twice for 25 yards and a touchdown. Trace Fuller ran once for 42 yards.

Fuller was two of three passing for 28 yards and two touchdowns. Xander Moon was three of four passing for 18 yards and a touchdown. Cody Wildridge led the defense with four tackles. Darrell Williams, Devin Nash, Blake Davidson, Jack Barrow, Shae Crocker and Devon Rader each had two tackles.

The War Eagles (6-1, 3-0) will host region foe Lake County Friday. Kickoff is 7 p.m.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
