Sunday Wine Sales Among 31 Laws Effective January 1

With the new year comes a slate of laws taking effect in Tennessee.

A total of 31 laws regarding subjects ranging from wine sales to immigration became effective on January 1. The majority will have little effect on the day-to-day lives of typical Tennesseans, but a handful will interest various sectors of the public.

One notable change will be the sale of wine in retail grocery stores on Sundays. Wine and other alcoholic beverages may be sold on Sundays between the hours of 11 a.m. and 10 p.m. Sales will still be prohibited on Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Sunday sales in package stores had been authorized in 2018.

Great Reasons to Visit Your Local Library

Many people have a wonderful resource at their disposal just minutes from their homes. This resource can transport them to distant lands, teach their children valuable lessons and serve as a great place to meet new friends. So what is this magical place? The local library.

Libraries are filled with books for adults and children. But libraries have even more than books to offer, making them an invaluable resource for the entire community. The following are just a handful of the many great reasons to visit your local library.

*Reading may help improve long-term mental health. A 2001 study from researchers at Case Western Reserve University found that patients with Alzheimer's disease were less active in early and middle adulthood in regard to intellectual, passive and physical activities than people who did not have AD. Young adults and middle-aged men and women who visit their local libraries and check out a good book might decrease their risk for cognitive decline later in life.

*Reading can improve your vocabulary, even as you get older. Reading for pleasure as a child has long been linked to helping young people age 16 and under develop strong reading and math skills. But a recent study from researchers at the University of London that examined how the vocabularies of more than 9.400 people developed between the ages of 16 and 42 found that vocabulary continued to improve long after teenage years. By continuing to read books from their local libraries into adulthood, adults can further develop their vocabularies.

*Libraries provide lots of free entertainment. Libraries are home to thousands of books, but that's not all you can find at your local branch. Newspapers, magazines, CDs and DVDs are some examples of the forms of entertainment available at local libraries. Better yet, such entertainment is free to card holders.

*Libraries offer age-appropriate programs for kids. Some parents may lament the lack of programs available for their youngsters. Such parents are urged to visit their local libraries, which are often home to many programs that can inspire kids to read and foster their creativity. The scope of kid-friendly programs at your local library is wide and may range from sing-a-long sessions for toddlers to group art programs for preschool-aged children to STEM-based programs for elementary and secondary school MACEDONIA (January 3) — Six months after ground was broken, the first walls are now standing at what will be the Macedonia Fire Department's new firehouse.

The concrete foundation was poured in August, a month after the ground-breaking, and construction of the building itself began Thursday.

In an interview with The Banner in August, Chief Brady Jackson explained that the older firehouse had major structural issues and was beyond repair.

The department moved its equipment to a building in the Hico community, which will remain as a satellite station to supplement the Macedonia firehouse.

The new site is adjacent to the community center and was donated by J.C. and Melinda Popplewell. Labor, equipment and materials were donated by White Farms for the dirt work and by Tosh Farms for the concrete foundation.

Construction is being done by members of the community with a big assist from A&W Leasing, whose owner Anthony Moore is the former Macedonia fire chief.

Chief Jackson said that funds for the project were acquired through community support. The fire department is working closely with the Macedonia Community Center in fundraising efforts.

In a Monday follow-up interview, Chief Jackson said the building will consist of a garage and an office and should be completed in four to five weeks. depending on the weather.

The eight-person Macedonia Fire Department utilizes a numper, a tanker and a brush truck. The department also owns extrication equipment and hopes to put together a rescue truck.

As more fundraising events are scheduled, they can be found on The Banner's weekly calendar

McKenzie Memorial Library

BY JEAN ALEXANDER

As we enter the New Year, we are reflecting back with gratitude for all of our patrons and the many acts of kindness shown to McKenzie Memorial Library.

We are governed by seven fantastic Library Board members and one Regional Board member appointed by Mayor Holland. We have a Friends of the Library Group that helps support the Library with assistance when needed. HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Oh, Say Can 'They' See

Am I the only one confused here? It is a federal government shutdown! That's what they've advertised from the beginning. But apparently, not everyone is going home. We've shut down the National Parks and a selected agency here and there—and left Washington pretty much alone! We should have known! There is no way on earth we could get that lucky!

It seems, even in closing, our fearless leaders got it backwards. Which had you rather see; a herd of iconic buffalo roaming through Yellowstone Park...or congress and the White House deciding what is "best"

When the lumber company had that walkout back when I was a kid, everybody was out of work. It didn't matter if you hauled logs, pulled on the green chain or was the first shift foreman, you didn't get paid. Everybody went hungry. Now folks,

Our government puts on a shutdown and they allow parts of the outfit to remain on the job. Their terminology is "not essential" versus "non-essential". One group is out of luck, the other still goes to work everyday. It's splitting hairs to the nth degree and, naturally, legislated in a shroud of gerrymandering gobbledygook.

That's what these elected folks do. And we should be proud of them for how well they do it! There ain't no other country even in their league. They can elaborate on the simple. Expound on the present. Postulate on the future. Blame the opponent. Praise the party. Straddle the fence. Serenade the benefactors. Appraise the political barometer. And unabashedly take credit for tax cuts, higher wages, universal health care, Mother's Day, winning World War II, free Garth Brooks' concerts.

Avoiding a total government shutdown (that would include them) ain't no hill for this group.

They may not get paid immediately. But an assemblage that ultimately votes on their own salary will come up with the "right" plan. Money will be appropriated from somewhere. And it won't take a congressional investigation to figure out who will ultimately foot this bill.

'Course, I kinda agree with Will Rogers, we need to be thankful that we're not getting all the government we're paying for.

But let me tell you, an all out government shutdown, if even temporary, is a wonderful thought. A respite from lawmaking could be exactly what this nation needs! Send'em all home! Both sides of the aisle! Let'em mingle with regular folks. Shucks, they might even discover that grassroots is not a political term.

Think how quiet it would be. Everyone could back up and take a deep breath. You can almost feel the calm. We don't have a clue if silence is really golden...we haven't heard it in so long!

CNN and Fox News could show "My Friend Flicka" reruns. We'd all be better off. "Face the Nation" could interview Brenda Lee and Alan Jackson. We might actually learn something useful. Newspaper editorials could focus on Alabama football and Aunt Bessie's Lemon Icebox Pie recipe.

This "no government" idea could blossom into an enlightening change. I don't see how it could possibly hurt! You talk about a fiscally sound proposition. And our children might realize the fundamental needs of this great nation are not up for debate on the Senate floor. Plus, wouldn't it be a hoot to see these "elected at the highest level" folks brought back down to the same planet the rest of us are living on.

Too good to be true! Fairyland stuff you say! Well, you're right of course. Believe me, the "powers to be" don't want us messing with the deal they've got going! That's why a genuine shutdown is out of

I'm not sure how running a country got so big and complicated. We had more or less an invisible government back when I was a lad. We didn't know the difference between a Republican and a Democrat. We didn't know the Senate had its own president or that there was a whip in the house. If congress could just keep hog prices from falling off a cliff, things were alright in our

Ike was always smiling. Gas was twentyfive cents a gallon. A Coke cost a nickel. We got S and H Green Stamps with every purchase. I don't know how you can make life any better than that.

 $I^{\prime}m$ willing to take a chance on a real shutdown if you are. It might shake some common sense into a few of them. Who knows, they might even take a look at the current hog market...

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

McKenzie Police Reports

Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — Mr. Gabriel Chavez, of McKenzie, contacted the McKenzie Police Department last Thursday evening, Jan. 3, and reported that he had left his car at his girlfriend's residence on Florida Court and someone backed into it.

According to a report filed by Officer Trey Boucher, he and another officer responded to the Florida Court residence where Chavez stated his girlfriend witnessed her neighbor back out and hit Chavez's car. His girlfriend, Anna Lee, confirmed the story and also advised her neighbor. Christopher Homes did come to her residence and report that he hit the vehicle.

Homes was found to have a suspended drivers license and could not provide proof of insurance on the vehicle he was driving. He was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for driving on a suspended license and failure to provide financial responsibility.

Failure to Appear — McKenzie Police responded to a Forrest Avenue residence last Friday afternoon, Jan. 4, in regards to a person suspected of having an active warrant. Officers made contact with Jeffrey D. Aeschbacher who did have a warrant for failure to appear. He was cited into General Sessions Court to satisfy the warrant. Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — Officer Cody Coleman along with another officer witnessed Karen Sexton of McKenzie leaving Casey's General Store, driving in a white Ford F150, early last Friday morning, Jan. 4. Coleman had knowledge that Sexton did not have a valid driver's license and did confirm this through dispatch before initiating a stop on Allen Street. Sexton was placed under arrest for driving on a suspended license second offense and transported to the Carroll County Jail.

Driving on Suspended License/Theft of Merchandise

— Last Saturday morning, Jan. 5, Officer Kyle Beauchamp initiated a traffic stop on Hwy 79 for speeding. Beauchamp approached the vehicle and noticed the odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle. The driver, Jorden T. Tharpe, of Paris, gave permission for a search which turned up no marijuana. A license check revealed that her license was suspended and also revealed a warrant for County. Tharpe was held in custody until a Henry County Deputy ar-theft of merchandise in Henry rived to pick her up. She was also cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for driving on a suspended license first offense.

Multiple Charges — Officer Mark Boaz initiated a traffic stop last Wednesday morning on a vehicle speeding on Highland Drive. The driver, Connie M. Felty, was found to be driving on a suspended license and could not provide current proof of insurance. She was cited into court for speeding, driving on a suspended license, and failure to show financial responsibility.

Coach John Weeks enters his second season at the helm after finishing 15-36 overall and 8-20 in the SSAC. The record doesn't reflect the team's accomplishments. Last year's team was the only team from the conference to record wins against each school in league action. Twenty losses were by three runs or less, 15 by two or less and 10 by one run. The Lady Wildcats finished 5th in the SSAC Tournament last year. Weeks is joined by former Ole Miss standout Elantra Cox who is in her first year as an assistant coach.

This year's team is led by two seniors, Iesha Kizer (RF) and Julia Abney (CF/C). Kizer returns as an All SSAC First Team selection hitting .368, on base percentage of .492, 46 RBI's and 13 home runs. Abney returns with stellar defensive play and looks to add power the the hitting lineup.

After being sidelined for much of 2018, Morgan Hunt (UTL) brings quickness and versatility to the 2019 team. A sophomore transfer pitcher Darcie Gibson (P) adds depth to a staff that looks to improve upon last year's season.

This year's freshman class looks to bring about a resurgence of enthusiasm and competitiveness to the field. They are very talented, athletic and bring about a youthful experience needed to step in and fill many of the roles needed for the team. Alexis Wheeler (C) is expected to see much time behind the dish and brings a solid bat to add to the lineup. Three lefties, Melanie Alexander (1B, OF), Mackenzie Caldwell (CF) and Amanda Perry (2B) will add depth and skill at their re-

TVA: 2018 was Wettest Year on Record

TVA announced Wednesday the Tennessee River Valley received 67.01 inches of rain in 2018, exceeding the record set back in 1973, when 65.1 inches of rainfall drenched the region.

Last year's record is the highest amount of rain recorded since weather data collection for the area began 129 years ago.

According to TVA Weather Forecast Center senior manager James Everett, the 41,000-squaremile TVA river basin consists of seven states, including North Carolina where some mountainous regions received up to 80 inches of rain last year. At Mount Mitchell in North Carolina, the highest peak east of the Mississippi River, rain gauges measured 118.8 inches of rain

Everett said the TVA's tributary system is currently experiencing high lake levels, where water, such as in Douglas Reservoir near Dandridge, is being stored to help reduce flooding. In addition, the TVA's main system of dams that dot the Tennessee River are working systematically to release water to ensure it is being evenly distributed among its many reservoirs, including Chickamauga Lake in Chattanooga.

As a result, Everett said a constant flow of water is churning through the turbines, as well as the floodgates of the federally owned corporation's system of

According to its Twitter account, TVA announced it is recovering storage capacity in the tributaries and utilizing the limited storage space at the main stem reservoirs as we manage flood crests on the Tennessee River from heavy precipitation in December."

In West Tennessee, the influx of water flowing between Pickwick and Kentucky Dams is immense, potentially leading to increased levels in the Ohio River.

'One-and-a-half million gallons of water is flowing through the dams per second," Everett

Everett said TVA is not expecting the deluge of water flowing through its system of dams and reservoirs to abate anytime soon.

"January through March is typically the wettest season in the TVA region," Everett said.
