Butterfly Release at MES

The Morning Glory Garden Club maintains a butterfly garden of live plants at the McKenzie Elementary School. Each year, the Club sponsors a butterfly release at the school.

The Club provides the caterpillars for two classroom “habitats” where the students can witness an incredible transformation as these caterpillars eat, grow, form into chrysalides, and finally emerge as beautiful Painted Lady butterflies.

Students who came out to experience the release this year were Brandy Baumgardner’s pre-school class, Amy Valley’s pre-school class, and Kim sharp’s CDC class. Also present were Jill Warren, Ginny Knott, Pat Allen, Gina Harper, Rocio Mejorado, Melodie Marr, Principal Tim Barker, and Garden Club members Sara Fitzgerald, Donna Hodge, Leslie Lewis, Zia Locke, Lucille Russell, Judy Winters, and Judy Davis.

Donna Simmons, an educational assistant, and certified teachers Beckie Smith, Raymona Batchelor, and Cassie Ellis were honored on the last day of the 2018-2019 as teachers of the year or educational assistant of the year.

Four Educators Honored by McKenzie Education Association

McKENZIE (May 20) — It was a bittersweet day as two persons retired from McKenzie Special School District. Mona Batchelor, high school librarian, and Renee Brown, educational assistant, both ended their tenure at McKenzie High School. Batchelor has served as MHS librarian for 10 years and Brown as worked 25 years as an educational assistant.

MEA President Joanna Turner welcomed everyone to the annual gathering in which retirees and teachers of the year are honored.

MHS Principal Tim Watkins said Brown will be missed by the faculty and students. She had lots of patience and helped with the students in special education. He noted she will now enjoy her time with family, especially a new grandchild.

Batchelor was hired by retiring MHS Principal Terry Howell upon his retirement and immediately prior to Watkins assuming the office. He called her an asset and one who students arrive early to school to visit with her in the library. He noted faculty members heavily depend on her.

Kevin Gallimore, in his presentation of the MHS Teacher of the Year Award to Batchelor, said she always worked to build relations. She is a kind person, who tries to connect with everyone and make it a valuable relationship. She often helped technologically challenged faculty members with the computers, said Gallimore.

Donna Simmons was named the educational assistant of the year, her daughter-in-law, Kelly Simmons said her mother-in-law always “pours herself into everyone” and offers smiles and hugs and is supportive of the students. On a personal note, Kelly Simmons said she hit the mother-in-law lottery.

Beckie Smith was honored as the McKenzie Elementary School Teacher of the Year. She was said to light up a room and offer kinds words and smile while giving great advice with a positive attitude. Smith is the counselor for the school.

Cassie Ellis was honored as the McKenzie Middle School Teacher of the Year. She is a genuine team player and often thinks outside the box to look for improvements, said Jill Renfro. She embraces change and is eager to embrace new teaching methods to connect with her students.

a five-year contract with the city. Republic Services’ bid was lower at $10.49 a month and Red River’s curbside bid amounted to $11.41 a month. Through the recommendation of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service (MTAS) both bids are acceptable by the law; the council holds the right to accept or

Brent Dillahunt, general manager of WTPU said the utility company is served by two major cross-country pipelines. Redundancy of the two companies helps WTPU maintain its reliability and pricing. The major pipeline taps are in Scotts Hill and Gleason. Each chicken barn must be maintained at 95 degrees. The owners of the barns will save tens of thousands of dollars as compared with heating with propane.

Jim Tracy, director of the USDA Rural Development, said the federal agency is proud to work with local entities to improve the economic development of the area. The Weakley County project is a public/private partnership. Tracy said U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue’s number one goal is economic development in the rural areas.

Joel Howard, USDA area manager, said WTPU is the largest utility his agency works with. He thanked the WTPU’s local leadership for developing the project.

Dillahunt said the Weakley County project is 90 percent complete and is under the day-to-day supervision of Mike Stafford. WTPU’s next major project is in south Carroll County.

Tyson is also adding a production facility in Humboldt. Chicken growing houses are being erected in the New Zion area between McKenzie and Trezevant, plus Clarksburg and Little Grove area.

Area Fred’s Stores Closing

BY JIM POTTS

banner@mckenziebanner.com

MEMPHIS (May 16) — Fred’s has announced another round of store closures five weeks after announcing they were closing 159 underperforming stores and holding inventory liquidations at nearly 400 other stores.

Local stores affected in the first round of closures were Paris and Medina in addition to stores across the state of Tennessee, Texas, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Kentucky.

Stores in Huntingdon, Milan, Humboldt and Union City are listed in the new round of closures along with 93 other stores, bringing the total number of closing stores to 263 stores, leaving approximately 300 stores open.

McKenzie’s Fred’s is participating in the inventory liquidations, but is not scheduled to close.

“These additional store closures are a difficult, but necessary step in the continued restructuring of Fred’s,” CEO Joseph Anto said in a press release.

Prior to announcing the two rounds of store closures and inventory liquidations, Fred’s got out of the pharmacy business by closing the pharmacies and selling their patient prescription files and inventory to Walgreens last fall.

Fred’s stock has been closing below $1 per share since May 6 and was listed at $.45 as of May 17.

Trezevant Loses Board Member

BY JIM POTTS

banner@mckenziebanner.com

TREZEVANT (May 14) — The Trezevant Board of Alderman learned at the start of their monthly session, Tuesday, that Pam Bryant had resigned her seat that morning. No reason was publicly given for the resignation.

Mary Crocker, a Trezevant Citizen, approached the board about a second adjustment on her water bill. She had plumbing issues that carried over two billing cycles. The board approved a $70 adjustment to Crocker’s water bill. The board approved a recommendation from Police Chief Mike Mulligan for the town to increase the driving school fee to be more in line with what other towns were charging. The board approved an increase from $100-$125 on driving school fees.

The second reading of an ordinance to fix the salaries of the Mayor and Alderman was passed with little discussion. Board members will receive $75 per month while the mayor will receive $150 per month. This does not go into effect until after the 2020 elections.

There was discussion but no action taken on whether the town needed to form a water board. The discussion centered mostly around the fact that while a water board could make recommendations to the Board of Alderman, the actual decisions would still be made by the Board.

Mark Butler, from the Tennessee Association of Utility Districts (TAUD), gave a lengthy assessment of their water system and how to proceed. Butler indicated that there were a number of policy and procedure items that need to go into effect but didn’t have to be done immediately. His presentation focused on water department/sewer department assets and how they were aging and the amount of money needed to keep everything from going downhill. Butler pointed out items that were depreciated too long or capitalized incorrectly but also said that all these things can be fixed with adjustments.

Butler emphasized the need to establish a 5-year plan in order to be able to borrow money or apply for grants. With Trezevant having no debt service at this time, they might be able to borrow the money rather than use their reserve money. He recommended borrowing sooner than later because it would be cheaper now than later. He also indicated that the city needed to start making incremental increases to the water rates because their water rates had not changed since 2008.

After hearing Butler, the board scheduled a water/sewer plant walk-through for June 4 at 5:00 p.m. It was determined that an extra meeting would be needed to get the new fiscal budget passed prior to July 1. The regular June meeting is scheduled for June 11 during which the first reading of the budget will be discussed and acted on. A called meeting has been set for June 27 to act on the second reading of the new budget.

ALL ABOUT THE CITY OF MCKENZIE'S SESQUICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

E: jmartin@mckenziebanner.com • P: 731-352-3323

The Foundation to Learning

Cora Sedberry

As another school year comes to a close, I felt the need to hop into the Banner archives to honor one of McKenzie's great educators, Miss Cora Sedberry. I have heard over the years that she was one of the best and more than likely taught either our grandparents or parents. In my case she taught my uncle (Robbie C. Story) and father-in-law (Joel Washburn). In 2000, I was presented the Cora Sedberry Award for most promising future teacher; the award meant a great deal to me as I prepared trained to become the super teacher that would change the world. I eventually had enough sense to get out of education. Anyway education and those that brought the love of learning and reading to our youth mean a lot to me.

The following comes from the McKenzie Banner's salute to McKenzie Citizens in the January 4, 1957 edition:

Miss Cora Lee Sedberry, first born child of the late Andrew Johnson and Hettie Nesbitt Sedberry was to be the first child in a family of five brothers and sisters, all born on a large farm in Buena Vista, Carroll County. Miss Cora attended school there with one of her half-brothers, Leland Sedberry, graduate of McTyiere prep school and Vanderbilt University, as her teacher. Miss Cora also studied music with Miss Helen Hilliard of Huntingdon as her piano teacher. She later attended and finished high school in Trezevant, where the family had moved following the death of her father in 1912. Miss Cora was the valedictorian of the Trezevant High School Class of 1918. In this year she had her own piano recital.

Following her graduation from high school, Miss Cora visited another half-brother, Miles Eugene Sedberry, lawyer in San Angelo, Texas for year or more. But she decided to return to Tennessee to follow the family career of teaching. Her mother had need of the family income, and so Miss Cora began early in life to share the responsibilities of guiding and caring for children and youth, which she seemed to enjoy, and to do so thoroughly well.

In 1919, the family moved to McKenzie, and before the family was broken up after the death of her mother in 1923, Miss Cora shared a large part of the support of the family, especially the two smaller sisters, Mrs. Sue McMackins of Bruceton, and Mrs. Howard Dinwiddie of McKenzie.

During the summer vacations, however, Miss Cora attended summer school, and saved enough from her teacher's salary to complete the Bachelor of Arts and Masters Degree. Although she did three years of work at Memphis State College, she complete her Bachelor of Arts Degree at Peabody College in 1934, with a major in Education, and in the area of Teaching of Reading. In 1941, she completed the Master of Arts Degree with continued work in the field of reading under Dr. Leavell, the well-known expert in reading. At Memphis State, she belonged to the Kappa Lambda Sigma sorority, and while at Peabody she became a charter member of the Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, a society of women educators.

Miss Cora came to McKenzie to teach in 1930, and is still teaching in the same position, despite offers of more promising salaries. She became interested in the Nursery Department of the Methodist Church, of which she has been a member since early childhood. Miss Cora has been a regular helper at the Methodist Church on Sunday mornings for about 20 years, and this with the full enjoyment of her first grade children has given Miss Cora a rich, full life. One thing that keeps her very much alive is the birthday calendar which she keeps of her children, and she never fails to remember each with a greeting on the birthday. It is this continuous joy that keeps Miss Cora going. She is much adored by the children. Other members of her family now are J. Morgan Sedberry of Union City; A. Johnson Sedberry of Nashville; a half-brother Rupert of Fulton, KY.

Miss Cora is also the great-great-granddaughter of Nathan Nesbitt, who is one of the earliest settlers of Carroll County. He helped to lay the foundation for the first court house in Huntingdon, and preside over the first court held in the courthouse. This family of Nesbitts lived eat of Huntingdon.

Miss Cora retired in 1964 and died in 1992 at the age 93.

Memorial Day

Thank Our Soldiers

BY GLENN MOLLETTE
GMollette@aol.com

May 30, 1868 was the first official Decoration Day. The day was declared by General John A. Logan and observed at Arlington National Cemetery. Volunteers that day decorated the graves of more the 20,000 Union and Confederate soldiers.

During World War II, Decoration Day was expanded and renamed Memorial Day to honor all Americans who died in military service. The day became a national holiday in 1971.

Almost 500,000 military personnel died during the U.S. Civil War. About 1.1 million service members have died in all the wars combined.

If you know someone killed in any of our wars then every number is very personal to you. We know 90,220 of our service members died in Vietnam.

If one of those was your friend, sibling or child then that war has a face that is personal to you. Four thousand four hundred and twenty four died in Iraq. I'm not sure how many have died in Afghanistan but the last statistic I can find is 2,372 but I'm sure it's several more now.

War is bad. I don't like the idea of war and yet every service member died fighting for you and me. They died for our country. Every time you have a casual moment to do anything you want to do then stop and thank God for our service members. We have so much freedom in America. We have to pay some taxes if we work and own property.

We have some laws we have to obey which pertain to treating each other in a civil manner. After this, you are free to go to the ice cream shop anytime you want.

You can work hard and buy whatever you want or if you are content and want to do little to nothing you can even do that in our country.

The bottom line is America is still the greatest country in the world. We aren't perfect and we have problems but we still have freedom and we need to respect and give thanks to our past and present soldiers.

Take a moment at the cemetery and walk around. It won't take you long to find a grave stone of someone who served our country. When you do give thanks for their lives and the life you are enjoying today.

Memorial weekend is America's weekend to travel our highways vacationing or resting at home. As you travel, or hopefully relax, thank God for our soldiers - past and present.

Redistribution of Wealth...

ROGER C. JOHNSON, PH.D.
McKenzie, TN 38201

Does Article I Section 8 of the US Constitution state that Congress has the power to declare war? Further, does it state that the Congress has the power to raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a term longer than two years?

Have U.S. presidents of both major political parties told the American people that we should be at war against some enemy but their statements were untrue? (For example: Gulf of Tonkin or Weapons of Mass Destruction.) Have these wars exceeded two years? Is it possible that a U.S. president could cause us to be involved in another war? Could the Congress refuse to appropriate money for war and thus stop the war? Is the result of war the following: pain, suffering, death, hatred, destruction, and redistribution of wealth from the poor to the rich?

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

On the Road Again... and Again!

David Mark called, "Let's go to Adobe Walls."

"OK." He's the only brother I have left. I'm going to do about whatever he says. "Isn't that up by Cairo, Georgia?"

"No," I could hear Dave over the phone shaking his head at my geographical shortcomings, "it's closer to Stinnett, Texas, high up in the Panhandle."

"Uh...refresh my memory a little; what exactly is inside these walls?"

"Nothing, I don't think they exist anymore. But there were two big frontier fights at this place; one in 1864 and again in 1874. Lots of history, I was thinking about leaving Monday."

I didn't have time to google it.

"Cathy, we've got to do some quick packing. Dave and I are headed to Adobe Walls."

Her only remark was, "Is that in Georgia?"

We drove through rain, wind, floodwater and some kind of cowboy parade in Lawton, Oklahoma. We only turned aside twice on the trip out. Once near Liberty, Mississippi—Amite County to be exact—to see where Jerry Clower first saw the light of day. And we swung by Ferriday, Louisiana, to get a piano-jumping feel for Jerry Lee Lewis' hometown.

I spent the ride through Texas, Oklahoma and into the Panhandle marveling at the wide open spaces and counting cows, oil wells and Mexican restaurants.

We read six hundred historical markers till we got to the right one halfway between Borger, Texas, and Stinnett. It referenced the fight in 1864 between Col. Kit Carson's troops and the Kiowa, Comanche and Plains Apache tribes.

It also outlined the 1874 skirmish where 700 handpicked Comanche warriors, which included Quanah Parker, attacked 28 buffalo hunters holed up inside Adobe Walls.

My eyes kept going back to first line on this metal information sheet, "Fifteen miles east of here..." Are they telling us fifteen miles is as close as they can get to this Adobe Walls place to erect a marker?

Stinnett was one step above a wide spot in the road. It had no information center, not one historical sign or even a picture of an old adobe wall painted on the side of an abandoned building. It could have been a ghost town on this Saturday morning. And we'd already traveled way more than fifteen miles...

Undeterred, David drove on.

We turned off SR 207 and took a chance on Road F. Not a U. S. Highway or a State Road mind you...just Road F. But the good news was we began to see lots of signs, like Private Property! No trespassing! Keep out! Property of Turkey Track Ranch. Stay on the main road!

The main road was actually a path! And then came the most superfluous sign ever perpetrated on a traveler: "Pavement ends".

WE COULD SEE THAT! My mind went to wandering, a lot of these Texas fellows are big and surly...and carry guns!

Cows stopped eating and gawked at the car. They obviously hadn't seen a vehicle this far out since 1984. Another ten miles and they didn't even bother with a fence...the cows couldn't go anywhere!

We slowed to a halt when the road wouldn't go any further. "Whew, am I relieved," Dave deadpanned, "I thought it might be a tourist trap!"

It was a beautiful spot with high bluffs across the way, the Canadian River bounding one side. You could almost see the Indians coming down the valley. One stone monument and a couple of grave sites was all that was left of Adobe Walls. Our imagination had to do the rest.

You could feel the authenticity of the place. This wasn't some Hollywood concoction. American blood was shed here on American soil.

It was Kit Carson's last fight. And even as the Indians stood their ground, time—and numbers—were not on their side.

I spent one of the best hours of my life here.

It was amazing that any Indian, army calvary scout, buffalo hunter or store keeper could have found this place 150 years ago. And they did it twice!

It was time to go. You wouldn't want to be caught dead out here after dark. I was satisfied and told Dave we could start home in the morning.

"Not so fast. I think I can find Stinking Springs. It's twenty-four miles east of Fort Sumner, New Mexico. It's where Pat Garrett captured Billy the Kid in December of 1880. It's just a little ways off US 84, we'll need to turn to the right, down Black Hat road..."

Respectfully,
Kes and David Mark

Transcendence

*"Ob, the depth of the riches of the wisdom and knowledge of God!
How unsearchable his judgments, and his paths beyond tracing out!"*
—Romans 11: 33 NIV

5-21-19

Transcendence occurs when we have an experience which gives us a glimpse beyond our mundane physical world. Sometimes this happens when we experience God in the stillness of prayer or solitude. Other times this happens when we confront the power or vastness of nature. The starry sky can overwhelm one with the sense of eternity, just as the power and size of the ocean can make us aware of God because we feel so small by comparison. Transcendent experiences where we feel the presence of God can't be forced, but we can make ourselves ready for them, and put ourselves in situations where they are more likely to happen. Nature and solitude are two of the more common ways to foster transcendent experiences, but many people also get them through being in sacred places, such as churches or temples. Some find the experience through works of art or music, and it can also come via our contact with holy men or women. Truly holy people often radiate God's love so strongly that one feels God's presence through that person. One problem with transcendent experiences is that they don't last forever. Despite glimpsing eternity in the experience, we inevitably fall back into the humdrum monotony of everyday life, and that return can be a letdown. We should seek these experiences, but realize that they are but a glimpse of our ultimate origin and destination.

— Christopher Simon

Co-chairs for Survivor Hospitality, Tracy Teague and Kathy Whitehead, are planning the Carroll County Unit of the American Cancer Society Relay For Life Survivor Dinner on Tuesday, June 11, at 6:30 p.m., at the Carroll County Civic Center in Huntingdon.
A Cancer Survivor is defined by the American Cancer Society as anyone who is living with cancer from the date of diagnosis. If you have ever heard the words, "You have cancer" we invite you to participate as a survivor. This is just one of the ways we are able to celebrate with all the cancer survivors and their caregivers. All cancer survivors, along with one guest, are invited to attend this event. A delicious catered meal along with entertainment will be enjoyed by all as we celebrate another birthday for our survivors. Survivor T-shirts for the Relay For Life event, which will be at the Carroll County Civic Center on Friday, June 21, will be given out.
On Relay night, June 21, the Survivor Registration and Reception is 5-6:30 p.m. The opening ceremony is at 7 p.m. inside the Civic Center.

Bethel, Eastside FCE Club News

The Family Community and Education club known as Bethel/Eastside FCE met for its monthly meeting in the lovely home of Pennye and Mary Mays. There were nine members present. The hostess for this event was Danita Laman who opened the meeting, after it was called to order by the president, with a devotion entitled Grandpa's hands. The prayer was offered for the meal by Mary Mays, which was enjoyed by all with much merriment and good conversation.
The business portion of the evening began with the reading, in unison, of the Homemakers Club Creed. We then proceeded with the roll call which was answered by, "What is your favorite flower?" The minutes were read and accepted. Next was the treasury report.
Under old business: The articles we had collected were taken to The Carl Perkins Center. During that transaction it was mentioned they would like the blankets we had left from the Cancer Center; also they want more teddy bears. A motion was made and voted on to donate the blankets.
New business: FCE pins are on order. We have a member, Mrs. Betty Meggs, who has 60 years of perfect attendance. That is quite an achievement, to not have missed even one meeting in 60 years. In honor of that accomplishment she received the door prize.
The educational program was presented by Danita Laman on vitamin supplements. The hostess next month is Betty Meggs. Meeting was adjourned. Hope you had a happy Mother's Day!

McKenzie Garden Club April News

The McKenzie Garden Club met Friday, April 26 at the home of Victoria Ard. On arrival, members were served a buffet of sandwiches, fruit and desserts.
President, Myra Sasser called the meeting to order. Roll call was done with 15 members present. New member, Carolyn Moore was introduced by Victoria. Minutes from the last meeting were read. They were approved as read. Gladys Patterson, communications chair reported on cards sent.
Improvements to Triangle Park were discussed and it was decided to purchase mulch to use at the park while it's on sale. Under new business, several members planted flowers at the Alumni Garden at Bethel University. Flowers were purchased by Dennis Kiefer, alumnus of Bethel in the sixties. Work was not completed due to extensive need of grass removal. The club voted to postpone any further work due to such a large undertaking.
Randy McCadams showed a slide presentation on Rainwater Conservation. He explained water requirements for the population is 27.7 billion gallons daily. Agriculture requires 50 billion gallons per day. In third world countries water is saved in barrels or other large containers and purified with chlorine.
The meeting was adjourned with the reading of the collect. Hostesses for the May meeting will be Angie Menne and Ann Montgomery

Harry Evbuomwan, a current Huntingdon resident, accepts his diploma from UT Martin Chancellor Keith Carver during commencement exercises May 4.

Huntingdon Guardsman Finishes College Tennessee Strong

MARTIN — Harry Evbuomwan, originally from Nigeria, graduated from the University of Tennessee at Martin on May 4 with a bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary studies and a focus on sport business. Evbuomwan is currently living in Huntingdon and is part of the Tennessee Army National Guard 190th Engineer Company based in McKenzie.

He started his bachelor's degree in 2003 at Lane College in Jackson and later transferred to Union University. However, life plans of ten change, and he found himself leaving school in 2008. In 2017, Evbuomwan came to UT Martin to finish what he started with the help of the new Tennessee STRONG financial aid program.

"I felt comfortable going back to school and that UT Martin would be the best choice for me," he said. "(Johnny) Dyer helped me a lot with how to get all the things I needed with the ... (Tennessee) STRONG Act." Dyer is the UT Martin veteran services coordinator and works closely with all student-veterans at the university's main campus and West Tennessee centers.

The Tennessee STRONG Act, proposed by former Gov. Bill Haslam and made official by the state legislature in May 2018, provides tuition reimbursement to service members who meet certain qualifications and are already using federal tuition assistance to obtain their degrees. "The last-dollar scholarship is used to fill any gaps remaining after other financial aid options have been applied. "It's helped me a lot to go to school and know that I would have enough to go to school and finish my degree on time," said Evbuomwan.

Evbuomwan works in corrections at the Carroll County Jail in Huntingdon. However, he wants to use his degree to help young people stay away from that environment.

"I'm hoping to try to work with maybe high school kids to become a coach.... (Sports) build character. It helps them to see that it doesn't matter how you look at it, it doesn't matter where you're from, if you put your mind to it, you can do anything that you choose to (do)," he said.

Postal Carriers Deliver Food

McKENZIE — McKenzie postal carriers joined participating carriers nationwide in an effort to stamp out hunger. Local postal patrons were asked to donate food to the local McKenzie/Carroll County United Neighbors food pantry. Numerous postal patrons volunteered each year and hang a bag of food on their mailbox for the annual pickup day in May. This year, the event was on May 11.

The food is delivered to United Neighbors, where it is distributed to needy persons. Pictured are postal carriers standing behind carts of food headed to the United Neighbors.

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.

MATTER OF RECORD

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Court Order Violation — A Huntingdon man was arrested May 10 for violating a court order.

According to the report by Deputy Dennis Adkins, a court order was issued against Ricardo Alvaraz Islas, 37, of 38 Jesse Lane in February prohibiting him from having any contact with Angela Patino of Huntingdon after Islas was charged with domestic assault. While investigating a gas drive-off, Adkins found Islas with Patino at a McKenzie business. A computer check showed that the court order was still active.

License Violation — A Hollow Rock man was cited into court during a May 13 traffic stop on Smyrna Road.

Curtis T. Owens, 51, of 601 Holcomb Street was cited for driving on a revoked license. Deputy Cody Walker reported that he pulled over a vehicle driven by Owens shortly before midnight. A computer check showed that Owens' driver's license had been revoked for a previous DUI conviction. Owens told Walker that his cousin lived nearby, so the deputy allowed Owens to call his cousin to come pick him up.

Simple Possession — A

Bruceton man was cited into court during a May 13 traffic stop near Hollow Rock.

Joseph Ryan Moudy, 38, of 108 Ash Street was cited for simple possession of a schedule VI drug and possession of drug paraphernalia. Deputy Michael Smith reported that he pulled over a black Ford Mustang driven by Moudy at the intersection of Hebron Road and Hebron Church Road after observing the vehicle cross the fog line several times. A female juvenile was also in the Moudy's car as a passenger. According to Smith, he smelled the odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle and then gained Moudy's permission to search the car. During the search, Smith found a glass pipe with marijuana residue in it in the glove compartment and some marijuana in a glass jar and a marijuana grinder in a purse in the back seat. Moudy told the deputy that the items found in the purse belonged to him. The juvenile was released into her mother's custody.

Unwelcome Drone — Deputy

Chris Adams responded to a May 15 incident involving a drone at a residence near Hollow Rock.

According to Adams' report, he went to 26855 Highway 114 and spoke with Kimberly Crouch. She told Adams that she was housesitting for a friend when she heard a noise coming from the back of the house. Crouch said that when she opened a bedroom window, she saw a drone hovering right outside the window. The owner of the drone had not yet been determined at the time of Adams' report.

McKenzie Police Reports

Aggravated Assault/Simple Possession — McKenzie Police responded to a call regarding a woman possessing a gun and attempting to shoot someone last Wednesday at a Walnut Circle residence. Five police officers responded and upon arrival observed four men dragging a woman through a yard.

According to the report filed by Dalton Raspberry, the four men were bounty hunters and had come to that residence for warrant service. The woman was identified as Ashley Beckham of McKenzie who had an active warrant out of Gibson County. A bounty hunter informed Raspberry that Beckham's husband, Kenneth Beckham, was inside the residence and had attempted to stab his son, who is also a bounty hunter.

As Raspberry approached the residence, two men, identified as Kenneth Beckham and John David Forrest, were seen fleeing out the back door and were apprehended shortly afterward. Two more men attempted escape but stopped when they saw officers. They were Kevin Jones and Charles King. Three more persons were found in the residence and all questioned.

It was determined that Beckham, Forrest, and King had active warrants and were taken into custody. Mrs. Beckham had an active warrant and was turned over to the bounty hunters. The other persons had no warrants and were allowed to leave.

Forrest was seen throwing a lockbox away in the process of fleeing from officers. The lockbox was found to contain drug paraphernalia and eight baggies of a crystal-like substance thought to be methamphetamine as well as marijuana.

Beckham was additionally charged with Aggravated Assault, Forrest was charged with Possession of Drug Paraphernalia, King was charged with Simple Possession of a Schedule VI drug, and additional charges for the lockbox are pending at this time.

Drug Paraphernalia — A Henry man was cited into General Sessions Court after two McKenzie officers were dispatched to O'Reilly's Auto Parts in regards to a male subject smoking marijuana in a car. James R. Martin and two passengers were located in the store. Martin advised officers that they would find a pipe under his cigarettes. A brief search of his vehicle revealed three pipes, multiple torch lights, rolling papers, a digital scale, and a bottle of butane fuel. The pipes were later tested and found to have traces of Methamphetamine in them. Martin was cited into General Sessions Court for Possession of Drug paraphernalia.

Simple Possession/Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — Officer Cody Coleman pulled into a convenience store and observed Whitney Kirkpatrick backing out of a parking space. Coleman had prior knowledge that Kirkpatrick was driving on a suspended/revoked license. She was found to have a prior for driving on a suspended/revoked license and Violation of Financial Responsibility charge. She was found to have marijuana and prescription pills in her possession.

Kirkpatrick, of McKenzie, was charged with Simple Possession of a Schedule II Drug, Simple Possession of a Schedule VI Drug, Driving on a Suspended/Revoked License-2nd Offense, and Violation of Financial Responsibility Law-2nd Offense. She was transported to Carroll County Jail while her vehicle was impounded.

Criminal Trespass/Resisting Arrest — According to a report filed by Officer Jeff Lowden, Maurice Lawrence was arrested and charged with Criminal Trespass and Resisting Arrest at Casey's Store, last Monday, May 13, after Lowden stopped at the store and observed Lawrence sitting at a table. Lowden had prior knowledge that Lawrence had a ban notice placed on him in 2017. He threatened officers and resisted arrest while being cuffed.

Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — Officer Billy King observed a vehicle run a stop sign at the intersection of Elm and Magnolia and initiated a traffic stop. The driver, Nathaniel L. Noah, was found to be driving on a Suspended/Revoked License and was also driving with no insurance. He was cited into General Sessions Court for Driving on a Suspended/Revoked License, Violation of Financial Responsibility Law, and Stop Sign Violation.

Theft — Norman M Watne told police, early Saturday morning, that his dogs woke him up and he found a white male in his Paris Avenue garage. He stated when he confronted the man, he ran through the back yard toward Newsome Street. Officers checked the area and were not able to locate him. Watne advised the man took a red sander, a red electric rechargeable drill, and a car buffer. All were valued at approximately $70 dollars. The incident remains under investigation.

Columbus Ships Pinta and Nina To Land at Paris Landing Friday

PARIS LANDING — On Friday, May 24, the 'Pinta' and the 'Nina', replicas of Columbus' Ships, will open at Paris Landing State Park.

The ships will dock at Marker 66 Marina and Grill, 41 Marina Drive until their departure early Monday morning, May 28.

The 'Nina' was built completely by hand and without the use of power tools.

Archaeology magazine called the ship "the most historically correct Columbus replica ever built."

In 2005, the 'Pinta', also a caravel, was launched in Brazil and was the first ship to sight land in the New World. Historians consider the caravel the Space Shuttle of the fifteenth century.

Both ships tour together as a new and enhanced 'sailing museum' for the purpose of educating the public and school children on the 'caravel', a Portuguese ship used by Columbus and many early explorers to discover the world.

Before him, the Old World and the New remained separate and distinct continents and ever since their fates have been bound together for better or for worse.

While in port, the general public is invited to visit the ships for a walk-aboard, self-guided tour.

Admission charges are $8.50 for adults, $7.50 for seniors, and $6.50 for students 5 - 16. Children 4 and under are free. The ships are open every day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. No reservations necessary.

Teachers or organizations wishing to schedule a 30-minute guided tour with a crew member should call 787 672 2152 or email ninapintatour@gmail.com. Minimum of 15 is required for groups, $5.00 per person, no maximum number of group members. Visit the website at www.ninapinta.org.

The On Target Award is presented to an individual for outstanding support of the Federation's Tennessee Scholastic Clay Target Program (SCTP). Mr. Rider has been instrumental to the success of both the Tennessee SCTP and the shotgun shooting sports statewide. Mr. Rider was one of the first in the nation to field an all-girls squad and has led many teams to success during his coaching career. He's served as an advisor for new teams and helped communities build and launch four new shooting ranges in West Tennessee.

A total of 17 individuals were honored by the Federation in various capacities of service.

"The diverse group of award winners today serves as a reminder that successful conservation will always depend on a diverse and collaborative effort," said Michael Butler, CEO of the Federation. "Our honorees have conducted important field work, secured crucial support, educated the next generation, and so much more."

The event was sponsored by Bridgestone, BDY Natural Sciences Consultants, and the National Wildlife Federation.

"The Federation was founded by people with varying interests, backgrounds, and viewpoints. In much the same way, we bring together and celebrate each year a mix of people, organizations, and disciplines. Their complementary talents and expertise serve key roles in sustaining Tennessee," said Kendall McCarter, CDO of the Federation.

Inglenook Book Club May News

The Inglenook Book Club met in May at Lakeside Assisted Living Center with Carolyn Moore and Mary Newman as hostesses. After enjoying delicious refreshments home baked by Carolyn and Mary, the business meeting was held.

President Donna Ward noted the death last month of former member, Cynthia Kemp, and members voted to make a monetary donation to the McKenzie Memorial Library for the purchase of a book in memory of Cynthia Kemp.

Shirley Martin distributed a schedule of Carroll Arts summer activities, which include a Creativity Camp in July for children; the Heritage Arts and Crafts Festival in June at the city Veterans Memorial Park; a celebration luncheon for Women's Suffrage Movement in August at the First United Methodist Church with guest speaker, Catherine Argo; and the Southern Fried Funnies in August at the Park Theater.

Juanita Finley began her program by asking these questions: Are you a survivor of some unusual experience? Did it change your attitude or view about people and things? Have you ever been on a debate program? Did it change your view about things?

These are discussed in a new book by Elizabeth Hasselbeck entitled Point of View, her story of discovering what matters most. Many are familiar with Elizabeth Hasselbeck from the TV show "Survivor" and later as a regular on Fox Network's "Fox & Friends." For almost two decades she learned more about standing up for herself and her convictions; she strived as if she had to earn the approval of others and of God.

Elizabeth Hasselbeck grew up in Cranston, Rhode Island. She loved art and sports. Her parents had a strong work ethic with rules like work hard, be kind, be honest. She loved to set goals and finish them. She played softball, and with her dad's coaching, she did well.

She attended Boston College where she met her future husband, Tim Hasselbeck, professional football player for several teams. He later left the field to become a sports analyst for ESPN. They later married and now have three children. During Elizabeth's ten years on "The View," Tim would often join his wife to discuss the latest hot topics, and filled in for any missing co-host.

Elizabeth's experience on "Survivor," which took place in Australia's Outback, involved adventure, hunger, climbing, falling, all kinds of animals, deadly snakes, and beautiful sunsets. She learned that "though they were all in the same boat, her instincts told her they might not all paddle the same way." She says now, when she hears the "Survivor" music, her heart skips a beat. "Reflecting back, that whole experience did not define me, but it sure did refine me," she said.

Hasselbeck started on "Fox & Friends" in 2013 and had some doubts about being on a news show. She studied hard and made note cards, often staying up until midnight after putting her children to bed. When she feels unqualified, she tends to over-compensate. The stories they discussed affected Elizabeth emotionally, and she often fell asleep from exhaustion at the kitchen table.

In the middle of that exhaustion, Elizabeth got an invitation to host the K-LOVE radio chain's Christian Music Awards show. She was at first intrigued, as she liked contemporary Christian music. Even though she felt she had no energy for such a gig, she kept talking to the producers and soon felt led to say yes. The whole family traveled to Nashville for a weekend of activities, really enjoying Nashville and its people. Later she did host the K-LOVE Fan Awards at the Grand Ole Opry House, and that eventually launched the family's move to Nashville—and away from her job on "Fox & Friends."

"Looking back on this adventure-packed path that God has placed me on, I still blink a few times! God has written my life story," Elizabeth writes. "My point of view constantly needs to be refocused. What I have learned is that until I see myself as God sees me, I am not seeing clearly. And until I see God in everything, I am not seeing at all."

Elizabeth Hasselbeck stepped away from the spotlight to take on her most important role yet: her family's "Chief Breakfast Officer." After spending more than a decade in television, the mom of three felt called to give her family her full attention. She has written two other books, The G-Free Diet and Deliciously G-Free. Point of View was released in March of this year.

The next meeting in June is at Lakeside with Juanita Finley and Carolyn Goodwin as hostesses. Mary Newman has the program.

Members present were: Peggy Chappell, Juanita Finley, Linda Edge, Carolyn Goodwin, Suzanne Howell, Shirley Martin, Sandi McMahan, Carolyn Moore, Mary Newman, Carolyn Potts, Marilyn Putman, Shelia Rogers, Suzanne Russell, Sally Sutton, Donna Ward, and Elaine Williams.
