Tim Watkins

Tim Watkins is New Obion County School Director

UNION CITY (July 1) — McKenzie High School Principal Tim Watkins was elected as the new director of schools for Obion County. His service begins July 15 at the school system, based in Union City.

Watkins, a 1988 graduate of McKenzie High School, had high regard for the educators and administrators in McKenzie Special School District. During his ten years of service as MHS principal he said he was truly blessed to work with outstanding teachers.

"I am better at what I do because of what

MCKENZIE — The Annual Freedom Festival got underway with a well-attended Kiddie Parade Thursday morning. Kids and their families came out and had fun despite the hot sun and rising temperatures.

The remainder of the festival took place later in the evening at McKenzie City Park despite interruptions from Mother Nature. Opening ceremonies began with the posting of colors by McKenzie Cub Scout Pack #78 followed by a welcome from McKenzie Mayor Jill Holland and a prayer by Bro. Dennis Trull. Megan Allen sang the National Anthem. Most Patriotic Window and Patriotic Yard awards were announced with Belles on Broadway winning Most Patriotic Window and Edward Sexton winning Most Patriotic Yard.

The Legends Band entertained everyone until a thunder shower interrupted things for about an hour sending people running for cover. Most went home and came back later for the fireworks display. A few took cover at the park and stuck around. The band was unable to continue performing after the rain due to wet equipment but the fireworks display did occur on time following Taps and the Retirement of Colors. The crowd was still decent for the fireworks despite the inclement weather.

Banner to Launch ‘Focus Group’

The McKenzie Banner is preparing launching a “focus group” of 12 individuals from a variety of age groups - young, middle aged, and senior adults, including readers and non-readers to better determine what the audience wants in their local newspaper.

Group members will be asked what news articles they like, what they dislike, what photos they like and dislike, and whether or not they like or dislike the design of the newspaper.

The McKenzie Banner will soon start its 150th year of publication. It started just five years after the Civil War. Some news topics have been a tradition for the entire history of the newspaper.

Selected participants will meet during a single free lunch or dinner meeting and divide into three groups of four. The time and date are to be determined.

The Banner considers its local service area as within 20 miles, including the north, west and central portions of Carroll County, along with Gleason in Weakley and Paris in Henry.

Persons within those geographic areas are urged to participate in this one- to two-hour meeting. The Banner is eager to get a cross-section of age groups along with readers and non-readers.

Becky Newbold, editor of the Lewis County Herald and a graduate of Bethel College, conducted a similar “focus group.” It yielded positive results for the newspaper. The Banner contacted her for ideas on the subject.

The Herald asked for “impressions of the front page, the classified page, the flow of our pages, photos, sports, headlines, everything we could think to ask, we did. And this group took the task seriously,” wrote Newbold.

Now for the request. If you are interested in helping improve your local, home-owned newspaper, please e-mail or phone with your request to participate to Joel Washburn, publisher. The contact information is washburn@mckenziebanner.com or phone 731-352-3323.

Wooden Train Added to McKenzie Station Playground

MCKENZIE (July 8) — A 45-foot wooden train is the newest addition to the McKenzie Station playground in downtown McKenzie. On Monday, the new 45-foot wooden train was placed adjacent to the city’s splash pad and the McKenzie Industrial Board, located in the former train depot.

Monica Heath, coordinator with the city’s Main Street Community Development, said the new playground equipment was paid completely with a state tourism grant, which also funded the remodeling of the interior of one-half of the former depot. The train cost $4,548 and has six cars in which children can crawl, climb, or sit on. It has a bell, telescope, binoculars and a tic-tac-toe board.

Use of the splash pad and train are free for children to enjoy.

Huntingdon Mayor Dale Kelley Re-Elected to TMBF Chairmanship

Huntingdon Mayor Dale Kelley was re-elected as chairman of the Tennessee Municipal Bond Fund (TMBF) for three additional years.

Mayor Kelley says, “I’m happy to be associated with the bond fund that continues to help the 346 towns and cities across the state of Tennessee with their financial needs.”

Margaret Mahery, TML executive director, states Mayor Kelley has contributed greatly to the Municipal League over the years. He has served as president of the league, served on the TML Risk Management Pool (Insurance) for many years, and represents the league on the National League of Cities Transportation Committee. Mayor Kelley was named Mayor of the Year in 2008. He has served on the Executive Board for many years. The bond fund has benefited greatly by his service.”

The fund has grown to $4.65 billion and has saved cities some $665 million in interest expense as compared to seeking funding from the open market.

Tennessee Gas Tax Increased July 1

Tennessee motorists experienced a one-cent increase in the motor vehicle tax on July 1, thanks to the approval of the IMPROVE Act passed in 2017 under the Haslam administration and the Republican-led General Assembly. Overall, the Act called for gasoline to be increased by six cents per gallon and diesel by 10 cents over a three-year period.

State Taxes are $0.20 per gallon until June 30, 2017, $0.24 from July 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018, $0.25 from July 1, 2018 to June 30, 2019, $0.26 from July 1, 2019 and after.

Diesel $0.17 per gallon until June 30, 2017, $0.21 from July 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018, $0.24 from July 1, 2018 to June 30, 2019, $0.27 from July 1, 2019 and after.

To help balance out those tax hikes, the state portion of sales taxes on groceries decreased from 5 percent to 4 percent. That means for every $100 spent on groceries, shoppers saved $1 on taxes.

ATWOOD (June 27) — The West Carroll Special School District Board of Education met Thursday for a work session and special called meeting. A full agenda included approval of the 2019-20 budget and tax rate.

Board members unanimously approved the property tax rate of $1.3486 per $100 assessed value.

Approval of the new budget came only after heated debate that began during the work session and carried over into the meeting.

Director of Schools Dexter Williams presented the board with two options on the budget, one which included a new teacher position at the elementary school and one which did not. The school needs to add a third grade teacher to meet student-to-teacher ratio requirements due to an influx of second graders during the previous school year. Other than that, Williams described the proposed budget as “not much different from last year.”

Board member Patrick Lindsey initiated a discussion about the fairness of having principal pay incentives but no teacher incentives. West Carroll Primary School Principal Jackie Wester, the only principal in attendance, vehemently defended the principal incentives and noted that teachers have other ways to supplement their income that aren’t available to principals. Director Williams and several board members noted that introducing teacher incentives could bring about a litany of issues.

Lindsey suggested delaying the vote on the new budget to allow for more time to study it and ask questions, prompting a brief back-and-forth with board member Mike Foster, who expressed frustration that there would be a delay on a budget which “hasn’t really changed from last year.”

Ultimately, Foster made a motion to approve the budget with the addition of a teaching position. Kyle Foster seconded, and the motion was approved with only Lindsey voting in opposition.

The budget estimates the General Fund to have revenues totaling $7,258,858 and expenditures totaling $7,303,262. The Debt Service Fund projects revenues and expenditures of $417,750.

A balanced Food Service Budget of $632,914 was approved unanimously. Final amendments to the 2018-19 budget were also approved, as were food service bids and student handbooks.

Another point of discussion in the work session and meeting was athletic practice during the school day. Board Chairman William Robinson and member Nancy Johnson expressed concerns about limiting instruction time of both student-athletes and teacher-coaches. Mike

Foster pointed out that block scheduling exacerbates the issue. Overall, several board members wished to look at potential changes to athletic practice and block scheduling but agreed that no changes should be made in haste. The board approved practice during the school day with Robinson dissenting.

Band director Michael Nelson presented two requests to the board which were both approved unanimously. First, the band will surplus some old, unusable instruments to a recycling company. Second, band members will have the opportunity to participate in a field trip to Washington, D.C. from April 3-7, 2020. It will be a joint venture with the Huntingdon band and will include visits to many landmarks and museums. The band members will also perform at the World War II Memorial. A second reading is required to approve the trip.

Board members submitted their evaluations of Director Williams, who will compile the results and present a report in August.

The meeting adjourned after 40 minutes. The board will not meet in July.

Dog Park to Open Soon

McKenzie was awarded a $25,000 Dog Park Dash Grant from the Boyd Foundation in August 2018. The grant pays 100% of the park which will open soon. It is located off Como Road adjacent to the walking trail. It will have separate large and small dog areas with water stations, waste receptacles, and benches within each of the fenced-in areas. The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board was approached by citizens who presented a petition from those that asked for the park over a year ago. Although it will be an off-leash park, all dogs must wear a collar and ID tags at all times. Owners must clean up after their dogs, and owners are legally responsible for the actions of their dogs. Dog Parks across the country are growing at a rate of 84% since 2007, because of the many positive effects of the communities. Source: McKenzie Matters Newsletter, June 2019.

Have Fun As A Family Without Breaking The Bank

Raising children is no small task. Parents face numerous challenges when raising their kids, and while it may not be the biggest hurdle they face, the cost of raising a family can sometimes seem daunting.

A 2015 report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture found that a typical middle-income American family spent just under $13,000 annually per child. Those costs included housing, food, childcare, health care, and the various other expenses associated with raising children. Multiply that number by 18 years and parents can expect to spend $234,000 per child by the time the youngster graduates high school. That's before parents write a single college tuition check.

Since the costs of raising children are so substantial, it's no surprise that parents are often on the lookout for budget-friendly ways to have fun as a family. The following are a handful of ways that families can have fun without breaking the bank.

- Picnics: Dining al fresco is an enjoyable way to break bread, but if backyard barbecues have grown stale, parents can always plan picnics in local parks. Park admission is probably free, and parents can save even more money by packing picnic-style foods, like salads and sandwiches, rather than using grills provided by the park (parks may or may not charge fees to use grills).
- Family days: Local attractions like zoos and museums may designate a certain day of the week as "Family Day." Admissions might be discounted on these days, and some attractions may even allow kids to enter free. Take advantage of these promotions whenever possible. In addition, inquire about family memberships at local attractions. Such memberships may offer year-round entry for the whole family for an annual fee. Depending on how often you visit the attraction, paying an annual fee can save you a lot of money compared to paying regular admission prices on each visit.
- Festivals: Community festivals are another great way for families to get out of the house without taxing their budgets. Community festivals typically do not charge for admission. Parents should not downplay the benefits of free entertainment, as a report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics found that the average American spent just over $2,900 on entertainment in 2016.
- Camping: Campsites may charge fees, but such fees are nominal compared to the costs associated with more traditional lodging, like hotels. Camping is a fun activity the whole family can enjoy, providing a great weekend getaway that won't cost parents too much money.

Parents whose budgets are stretched thin can still find affordable ways to have fun as a family.

Why Immunizations Are Important

Measles is not something that garnered much attention outside the medical community in recent decades. However, in 2019 a series of measles outbreaks put the spotlight back on this highly contagious infectious disease.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, between January 1, 2019, and May 31, 2019, 981 individual cases of measles had been confirmed in 26 states in the United States. That marked the greatest numbers of measles cases reported in the U.S. since 1992. And the U.S. is not the only country in North America facing a measles problem, as the Public Health Agency of Canada reported that, as of mid-May, 54 cases of measles had been reported in the country in 2019. Perhaps most surprising, measles was declared eliminated in 2001, leading many to wonder what's behind the sudden outbreaks so long after the disease had seemingly vanished.

Regardless of why people choose to avoid vaccinations, it's important to note some of the reasons why health organizations like the CDC and the World Health Organization urge all children and adults to be immunized.

- Immunizations save lives. The CDC notes that advancements in medical science have made it possible for humans to protect themselves against more diseases than ever before. Once-fatal diseases have now been eliminated thanks to safe and effective vaccines.
- Immunizations protect loved ones. Some people cannot receive certain immunizations due to allergies, illness, weakened immune systems, or other factors. Such individuals are vulnerable to disease, and especially vulnerable if their loved ones who can be vaccinated do not receive their recommended immunizations.
- Immunizations save money. The human toll of failing to be immunized can be fatal, and the financial toll can be heavy, too. Children with vaccine-preventable diseases may not be allowed to enroll in certain schools or daycare facilities, forcing parents to make decisions that can affect their ability to earn a living. In addition, medical bills that result from long-term illnesses can be substantial. The majority of health insurance plans cover vaccines for adults and children at little or no cost, and even uninsured families can receive free or inexpensive vaccines through certain government programs.

Immunizations take only a few seconds to receive but can have a positive effect that lasts a lifetime.

I learned at McKenzie," said Watkins. "I love McKenzie and it will always be home to me."

He added that he learned a great deal from his predecessor Mr. Terry Howell, who served as a mentor. He praised his older brother, Lynn, who is the school director of schools, for being a good administrator. He also praised the educators with whom he worked.

"McKenzie has an outstanding group of teachers. McKenzie is blessed to have them," said Watkins. He noted he learned a great deal from faculty members.

Watkins graduated from McKenzie High School in 1988, earned his undergraduate degree from UT-Martin, and a masters and an educational specialist degree in administration and supervision from Tennessee State University. He started his teaching and coaching career in Lewis County, where he served six years as middle school principal.

He and his wife, Sandy will soon move to Obion County. Their children, Macy graduated from MHS in 2015 and Murphy in 2019. Sandy works for the Department of Children Services in Paris and will transfer to the Union City office.

Watkins was selected from four finalists to earn the position. He replaces Dr. Leah Watkins, who is the new Henry County director of schools. Obion County has two high schools and five elementary schools.

Carroll County's Return to Top 10 In Unemployment is Embarrassing

BY JOEL WASHBURN
publisher

Carroll County needs to envision and then enact a new economic development plan. It is embarrassing to see the county's unemployment percentages in the bottom of statewide statistics in May 2019. The county has hovered in that area for several years with little to no action by the county.

When the county of Carroll approves its budget in August for the 2019-2020 fiscal year, it is time for commissioners to demand an action plan of the Chamber of how the people's money is spent on economic development. Clear benchmarks need to be established along with an accounting of where the funds are applied. The county of Carroll, Carroll County Electric/TVA and the town of Huntingdon contribute to the county's economic development program. The contributions total more than $100,000 annually.

It is no secret rural counties continue to lose economic ground to the urban areas. Part of Carroll County's problem lies in the fact there is little intra-county cooperation. McKenzie had a great economic developer in Frank Tate, who previously worked for Kentucky's economic development. He left McKenzie one year ago and was hired by Montgomery County to lead its economic development program. Montgomery County has one of the most successful programs in the state.

Carroll County has recently announced new jobs in Huntingdon, McKenzie and Bruceton. That is great news and long overdue. In contrast, the county has also lost hundreds of jobs with the closing of the McKenzie hospital and two retail establishments - Fred's and Save-A-Lot in Huntingdon.

It is time for a new plan with an advisory board that represents the entire county, not just a few.

(Washburn serves as an elected county commissioner and an appointed member of the McKenzie Industrial Board).

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

It Was Some Kind Of New Frontier For Sure!

I'm still not one hundred percent certain about this moon landing thing. And I also realize that fifty years is an extra long time to perpetuate a hoax. But you've got to realize, CNN didn't invent fake news.

I was fourteen in May of 1961 when John F. Kennedy went before a special called joint session of Congress to announce that America would land a man on the moon before the end of the decade.

You can't believe the sparks that set off up at Bill Argo's Gulf Station. Mr. Melton leaned back on his stool and laughed out loud. "That ain't never going to happen."

"It's Buck Rogers talk." Rufus Brown was teetering on a turned up Pepsi Cola case. "And that's a comic book for goodness sakes!"

Bill came in from pumping gas into Vaughn Lawrence's big Buick, "I don't think a President of the United States is going to say something like that before the whole world if there wasn't a possibility of it working."

Mr. Melton wasn't one to cave, "It's a zillion miles to the moon! How big a gas tank do you think it would take for a round trip?"

They discussed the cost of such a project. How you would guide a rocket ship if you could get it into outer space. Could you carry enough air with you to survive? What were you going to eat for the week or so it took to get up there and back?

I'd heard those men at the Gulf Station, given a whole afternoon to work on it, figure out every problem, situation or quandary known to mankind...but I'm telling you, they couldn't make much headway on this moon landing idea.

Bobby, me and Ricky decided to be more proactive. We'd been mixing charcoal, potassium nitrate and sulfur into gunpowder since the sixth grade and blowing plastic army men off the side porch. We figured if we could pour enough of it into a cylinder tube stuck up-right in the ground pointed kinda towards the moon... there's no telling how close we might come...

We cut out all but one end of three 15 ounce Van Camp's Baked Beans cans, taped them together as tight as we could, filled 'em to the brim with homemade powder and tied a metal cone shaped funnel we'd borrowed from the science lab on top. We figured that big field out near where the railroad crossed under new Highway 22 ought to give us enough room.

We slid into the small ditch that paralleled the railroad about the time the explosion occurred. Ricky allowed they heard it all the way down to Gleason! It was pretty loud and accompanied by a tolerable amount of smoke. And it sure enough blew the dickens out of the Van Camp cans. It propelled our funnel shaped rocket nine and a half inches towards outer space.

I sat in my living room eight years later and watched spellbound as Neil Armstrong stepped onto the moon. It WAS like a Buck Rogers movie. Or, at the very least, a Star Trek episode gone wild...

Bill's Gulf Station had moved out on the highway so I went by Mr. Melton's house the next morning. I was interested in his views on—

"Son, don't believe everything you see! The picture on my TV of that fella supposedly stepping on the moon was perfectly clear. Like it was happening right next door! Listen, I can't hardly watch live studio wrestling on Channel 7 for all the snow and interference. And that broadcast is only forty miles away! And you tell me they can send perfect looking pictures from the moon!"

You know, I hadn't thought about that.

"And I'll tell you something else, why do you think the government has all that land fenced off out in New Mexico. They can produce any movie they want with complete security. They've got cameras now that can make Phyllis Diller look like Raquel Welch. Saying you're on the moon and being on the moon are vastly different things!"

As we celebrate the fifty year anniversary of the moon landing, my mind races back to the friendly confines of that old service station. And to the men who taught me so much! Of course, they might have been wrong this one time...

But then again, I go to the movies today and I can't tell the real people or the real mountains or the real plane crash...from the computer generated ones...

Respectfully,
Kes

Below Left, Governor Ray Blanton looks bewildered as Hope demands an explanation for his tardiness. "If you'd been campaigning here, you'd have been on time," Hope joked. Blanton was later convicted on charges of mail fraud, conspiracy, and extortion for selling liquor licenses and served 22 months in federal prison. Below Center, Bob Hope leaves the plane at Paris Airport. "I was on my way to McKenzie and got trapped here. We had to fly all the way from Memphis upside down because the pilot forgot his suspenders." Below Right, Bob hope receives a Doctor of Humanities Degree from Bethel College for his charitable work with the institution. Road to Saving Bethel College...Starring Bob Hope

McKenzie was all abuzz in May of 1975 with the anticipated arrival of Hollywood Legend Bob Hope. The film icon was scheduled for a stage performance at Bethel College on Sunday, May 31 in order to raise much needed funds for the financially distressed McKenzie institution. Hopes presence left the school with over $100,000 and the community with a life time of memories.

The late Ben Gaines served as chairman of the benefit with many McKenzians holding various roles in the events organization; Dr. Ed Perkins, Co-Chairman; J.W. Atkins, ticket chairman; Phyllis Franks, coordinator of ticket sales; Jerry Moran, the special Bob Hope Brochure; James Washburn, manager of the photography and press invitations; and W.D. Richardson, director of security and parking.

Bethel Interim President Dr. Fred Bryson was responsible for Hope's visit. Dr. Bryson became friends with Hope while serving as Dean at Southern Methodist University (SMU) in Dallas, TX.

The benefit was held to much fanfare as the Gaines family's private plane shuttled Hope from Memphis to the City of Paris where the comedian was introduced by Paris Mayor W.J. Neese. Hope was awarded the "Marquis of Paris" by the city mayor. Following a thirty-minute press conference at the airport, Hope was on his way to McKenzie.

Dr. Perkins served as the Master of Ceremonies of the event where he introduced Miss Tennessee Debbie Kincaid. The beauty queen sang an array of songs with her accompaniment. Shortly after 4 p.m., Tennessee First Lady Betty Blanton introduced Hope. Governor Ray Blanton was supposed to do the introduction but was late leaving Jackson because of the weather.

Other dignitaries present were Congressman Ed Jones; Former Governor and then State Speaker of the House Ned McWherter; county officials from Henry and Carroll Counties along with City of McKenzie Officials.

Governor Blanton named Hope Tennessee's Ambassador of Goodwill. The award was given for Hope's work in raising funds toward the "plight of many of our small colleges." Dr. Bryson awarded Hope with an honorary Doctorate in Humanities degree from Bethel College.

During his performance, Hope went through his history of how he started out as an amateur in show business and how he work his way up and "eventually had worked his way up to McKenzie."

Dr. Fred Bryson toasts Bob Hope for raising $100,000 in funds for Bethel College as the celebrity signs autographs at the reception.

The two hour show was packed with jokes and songs. Hope entertained his audience with jokes about local, state and national affairs. During songs he would interrupt himself with one-liners.

"This is a nice garage you have here," joking about Baker Fieldhouse, "and just look everybody's already fanning and I haven't even started yet."

Talking about the show he said, "This is such a nice affair for me. By the way, I don't ordinarily do matinees, only in McKenzie."

In regards to his honorary doctorate Hope kidded, "I have gotten about 20 awards from colleges that I couldn't even get into legitimately. I got an Oscar the year I didn't make a picture and my country gave me a medal for leaving the country."

Following Hopes performance, Gaines presented Hope with a souvenir check of $100,000 noting how much the share raised for the school. Hope was presented the Hero's Award from the women's organization of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

A reception as held in the student center with the Bethel Dames hosting. During the reception, a five-tier cake with four smaller ones on the bottom was served in honor of Hope's 72nd birthday on May 29. The cake was estimated at weighing 110 pounds.

He was later honored at a private dinner at the Carroll Lake Country Club; only invited guests were allowed to attend. After the dinner, Hope left for Memphis where he would catch a flight to Los Angeles to begin filming a TV show.

It is a pretty remarkable piece of local history having someone with the celebrity caliber of Bob Hope spending a day in McKenzie. I can remember visiting with Mrs. Ludie Gaines in her home, and her reminiscing on meeting Hope and showing off photos of the pair. She said with all heart that the Bob Hope saved Bethel College from closing its doors. I've always said I owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Ludie helping me go to college, but I guess I also owe a few more people including Bob Hope for allowing me to attend Bethel College.

I wonder if McKenzie could band together again to pull off something of that magnitude. It is one thing to bring an A-list celebrity to town; it's another thing to have a community spend their time, energy and money to work on a common goal or cause. Just a little something to think about.

GUEST DEVOTIONAL

Too Testy?

BY DR. DENNIS PRUTOW

The people of Israel had no drinking water. They grumbled. They harangued. They challenged Moses. “Why, now, have you brought us up from Egypt, to kill us and our children and our livestock with thirst?” (Exodus 17:3). God told Moses, “Take in your hand your staff with which you struck the Nile, and go. Behold, I will stand before you there on the rock at Horeb; and you shall strike the rock, and water will come out of it, that the people may drink” (Exodus 17:5-6).

The place was named Massah meaning “test.” Forty years later, Moses warned the people, “You shall not put the Lord your God to the test, as you tested Him at Massah” (Deuteronomy 6:16).

Satan tried to snare Jesus. “The devil took Him into the holy city and had Him stand on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to Him, ‘If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down; for it is written, “He will command His angels concerning You”; and “On their hands they will bear You up, so that You will not strike Your foot against a stone”’ (Matthew 4:5-6).

Jesus hearkened back to Israel’s failure. “You shall not put the Lord your God to the test” (Matthew 4:7). Like ancient Israel, we test God. Jesus doesn’t. His loving obedience makes up for our testy behavior.

AHC McKenzie Receives National Quality Award

MCKENZIE (June 18) — AHC McKenzie, a senior living and rehabilitation center in McKenzie, Tennessee, recently received a 2019 Bronze Commitment to Quality Award from the American Health Care Association/National Center for Assisted Living.

This national award is given to long-term care and skilled nursing facilities that demonstrate a commitment to providing quality care to their patients.

The AHCA/NCAL National Quality Award program lays out a multi-year pathway to help participating long-term care and rehabilitation facilities improve performance and ensure patient satisfaction. Applicants undergo a rigorous process to earn bronze, silver or gold awards, and an organization only becomes eligible for silver and gold awards after earning a bronze.

“We are excited to be recognized for our high standards and commitment to quality,” said Shawn Wall, administrator at AHC McKenzie. “We believe every patient and resident deserves great healthcare. This award shows we are constantly working toward our goal to be one of Tennessee’s premier skilled-nursing communities.”

AHC McKenzie is one of three

American Health Communities to be recognized by AHCA/NCAL in 2019. AHC Northside in Murfreesboro, Tenn., and AHC Union City in Union City, Tenn., also earned the Bronze Commitment to Quality Award. To qualify for the bronze award, applicants assess their organization’s mission, vision, and key factors for success. They then use that information to develop new methods for boosting performance and improving patient outcomes. The award guidelines are based on the prestigious Baldrige Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence, according to the AHCA/NCAL.

“We are proud of our team at AHC McKenzie,” said Greg Haynes, vice president of operations for American Health Communities. “Their dedication to patients is inspiring and reflects the mission of our 29 skilled nursing facilities to provide care that enhances patients’ well-being and exceeds their expectations.” The 2019 AHCA/NCAL Quality Awards will be presented at the AHCA/NCAL 70th Convention and Expo in Orlando, Florida, on October 13-16, 2019.

Cultivating Strength of Spirit

How often do you find yourself praying to be relieved of your pains and infirmities? Perhaps it would be better to pray to have the strength, courage and patience to bear your infirmities. This prayer becomes increasingly important as we age, since our bodies eventually wear out. As the saying goes, “Old age is not for sissies,” at least in part because the elderly almost invariably have their share of chronic aches and pains. As the writer Philip Roth remarked, “Old age isn’t a battle, old age is a massacre.” But it is also worth remembering that certain infirmities actually contribute to our character, making us better people by reining in certain untoward desires or tendencies. So how do we develop the necessary strength of spirit to bear our pains and infirmities? One way is to get in the habit of doing small things every day which are difficult, painful, or just plain boring. This practice will help you to develop fortitude and strength of spirit for the more difficult and painful episodes, which are bound to come. And remember that in your suffering, you are in some ways sharing in the suffering of our Lord, who suffered greatly in his time here on earth.

— Christopher Simon

“Therefore, in order to keep me from becoming conceited, I was given a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan, to torment me. Three times I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me. But he said to me, ‘My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.’”

—2 Corinthians 12:7-9 NIV

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Aggravated Assault — James R. Scott, 31, of 130 Harrell Street, McMoresville, was arrested June 30 on charges of aggravated assault and domestic assault.

According to the report by Deputy Ethan Parham, he went to a residence in McKenzie and spoke with Iris Barnes of McMoresville, who told Parham that Scott had assaulted her at their mutual residence. Barnes said that she and Scott were engaged in a verbal argument when Scott punched her in the shoulder, slapped her in the face multiple times, and pushed her down on the floor; after which he kicked her, hit her with a belt, and held her down with his foot. Barnes said she tried to hide in the bathroom, but Scott kicked in the bathroom door and then strangled her and shoved her into the shower. Deputies arrested Scott later at his residence. A 22-caliber Beretta handgun was seized during the arrest.

Theft, Burglary — Joshua

Allen Lawton, 45, of 335 Holmes Mill Road, Huntingdon, has been charged with two counts of burglary and four counts of theft under $1,000.

According to the report by Deputy Cody Walker, he responded to a residence on Maytown Road in Bruceton on June 29 and found Lawton trying to load a lawn mower into the back of a pickup truck. Amber Griffin, the owner of the property, told Walker that Lawton did not have permission to be on the property. Lawton told Walker that since no one was living at the residence, he thought he could just get the “junk” there on the property. Griffin informed Walker that a pull-behind mower had been previously taken from the property. After Lawton told Walker that the pull-behind mower was at his residence, Walker took Lawton and Griffin to Lawton's residence, where other item's belonging to Griffin were also found. Other stolen property belonging to other people was found at Lawton's residence, including a 2006 Green Polaris Ranger valued at $6,000 that had been stolen from Paris resident Clint Ellis.

Multiple Charges — James Robert Tummins, 38, of 740 Terry Road, Huntingdon, was recently charged with burglary, theft over $1,000, vandalism over $1,000, possession of burglary tools, resisting stop/halt/frisk, and criminal impersonation. According to the report by Deputy Michael Krause, he observed an abandoned vehicle while on patrol on Tiny Street in McMoresville on June 28. Krause then tried to make contact with a man that was walking along the roadway near the vehicle, but the man disappeared into a bean field before Krause could make contact. After learning that the man he had seen was probably Tummins, who had an active warrant for his arrest, Krause started patrolling the area on foot. Krause spotted Tummins coming out of the bean field and took him into custody following a foot pursuit of about 300 yards. Tummins, who initially gave Krause a false name, was found to be in possession of food items and two electronic devices that had been stolen from West Carroll Primary School.

Huntingdon Police Reports

DUI — A Huntingdon woman was arrested following a June 15 traffic incident.

Stephanie Pruett was charged with DUI and violation of the implied consent law. According to the report by Officer Shelton

Moon, he responded to a call about a car running off the road and hitting a sign on Veterans Drive South, where the officer found Pruett in an unresponsive state in the driver's seat with the car still running and in drive. Moon woke Pruett and observed that she was unsteady on her feet, seemed confused, and smelled of alcohol. Pruett performed poorly on field sobriety tests and refused to submit to a blood-alcohol test.

DWI — A Huntingdon man was arrested during a June 14 traffic stop.

Andre Hunt was charged with driving while intoxicated. According to the report by Officer Shelton Moon, he pulled over a vehicle driven by Hunt because Hunt was speeding on Highway 22 North. Moon reported that he asked Hunt why he was pulled over, and Hunt replied that it was because he was drunk. Hunt performed poorly on field sobriety tests and was given a blood-alcohol test.

Theft, Drugs — A Weakley

County woman was arrested June 16 for allegedly shoplifting from a local department store and for drug possession.

Christina Marie Barker of Dresden was charged with theft of property under $1,000, simple possession/casual exchange, and drug paraphernalia. According to the report by Officer Labe Ezell, he went to Walmart in Huntingdon and found that Barker had been detained by store security for attempting to take $71.15 in items from the store without paying for them. Four small baggies containing a substance that field-tested positive for methamphetamine, three partially smoked marijuana cigarettes, rolling papers, a glass pipe, a syringe, and a cooking spoon were found in Barker's possession.

DUI — A Huntingdon woman was arrested June 19 during a traffic incident on Hawkins Lane.

Kathleen M. Cox was charged with DUI and violation of the implied consent law. According to the report by Officer Devon White, he observed a vehicle stopped sideways in the roadway with its headlights off. White spoke with Cox, who was sitting in the driver's seat, and she asked White for help because her car “just stopped.” Looking inside the vehicle, White observed that the car was turned off and still in drive. White also noted that Cox smelled of alcohol. White tried to get Cox to take field sobriety tests, but Cox would not cooperate. Cox also refused to submit to a blood-alcohol test or a breath test.

Leaving the Scene — A Middle Tennessee man was arrested June 22 after a traffic accident on West Main Street.

Bradley Adair of Murfreesboro was charged with leaving the

Local Students Earn Titles at State Championships

NASHVILLE — More than 1,250 youth athletes, from middle school to college, participated in the 2019 Tennessee Scholastic Clay Target Program State Championships on June 18 through 23 in Nashville. State Championships spanned six full days of co-ed competition in three shotgun shooting sports disciplines: trap, skeet, and sporting clays, as well as doubles competitions. Individuals and teams from all corners of the state competed for titles in more than 70 categories.

“The dedication of our student athletes—and the parents and coaches who support them—is truly incredible,” said Andrew Percy, Tennessee Scholastic Clay Target Program manager. “These youth are setting the bar for the shooting sports and what it means to pursue an outdoor lifestyle from a young age.”

The governing body of the sport in Tennessee is the Tennessee Scholastic Clay Target Program, an initiative of Tennessee Wildlife Federation.

Tennessee Wildlife Federation is one of the largest and oldest nonprofits dedicated to the conservation of Tennessee’s wildlife and natural resources. Tennessee Scholastic Clay Target Program recruits youth into an outdoor lifestyle by introducing them to the shooting sports.

“Our athletes embody commitment and discipline. We’re looking forward to seeing many progress to Nationals the week of July 13,” said Percy. “From middle school to college seniors, our competitors represent the future of outdoorsmen in Tennessee and ultimately the future of our state’s wildlife and natural resources.”

Hunters and anglers are leading advocates for policies that promote good stewardship of our natural resources and are the main source of funding wildlife conservation in Tennessee. But for every ten sportsmen today, only seven are growing up to take their place.

Tennessee’s Scholastic Clay Target Program is one of the largest in the nation; its State Championships is among the nation’s premier amateur shotgun shooting sport competitions

McKenzie’s Shooting Sports rookies placed second in Sporting Clays while their Intermediate Advanced team won the Doubles Trap competition.

Bethel’s Shooting Sports placed teams in the top three in every category including winning the Collegiate Trap competition and placing second in skeet, doubles skeet, and sporting clays.

Tennessee Wildlife Federation leads the conservation, sound management and wise use of Tennessee’s great outdoors. Since 1946, the Federation has spearheaded the development of the state’s wildlife policy, advanced landmark legislation on air and water quality and other conservation initiatives, helped restore numerous species, and introduced thousands of kids to the great outdoors. McKenzie Police Reports Multiple Charges — A stop for illegal tinted windows Saturday afternoon, July 6, turned into a lot more when Officer Dalton Raspberry along with the Carroll County Sheriff’s Department pulled over a black Dodge Ram in the parking lot of a local convenience store. The occupants were identified as Ms Jessica Vestal of Hendersonville and Ms. Lindsey Townzen of Camden.

According to Raspberry’s report, due to the two occupants acting nervous, a K-9 unit was run on the vehicle and gave a positive notification of the presence of narcotics in the vehicle. A search was conducted and revealed a baggie with a crystal-like substance that field tested positive for Methamphetamines along with 66 clear capsules containing a white powdery substance which field tested positive for cocaine. Also located in the search, was five glass smoking pipes with residue inside, 7 lighters, numerous clear baggies, rubber bands, gloves, butane fuel, a digital scale, and a Taurus .380 handgun.

Townzen claimed the gun and told officers about another baggie of meth that had not been located yet. Officers seized a total of slightly more than 35 grams of Meth and approximately 66 grams of cocaine. The two women were charged with Sale/Delivery of a Controlled Substance and the Manufacture of Methamphetamines while Townzen was additionally charged with Possession of a Firearm in Commission of a Felony.

Simple Possession/Casual Exchange — Officer Jeff Winberry pulled over a vehicle Saturday early Saturday morning, July 6 for speeding and ended up filing multiple charges against David Quinn of Henry.

According to Winberry’s report, he smelled of alcohol but did pass the standard field sobriety tests but a search of his vehicle revealed slightly over 11 grams of marijuana and a pipe found. Quinn’s license was found to be expired along with his registration and he couldn’t show proof of valid insurance. Quinn was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for Simple Possession/Casual Exchange, Possession of Drug Paraphernalia, and Speeding. Quinn also had an active warrant for Domestic Assault out of Henry County and was picked up by the Henry County Sheriff’s Department.

Domestic Assault — Officer Jeff Lowden arrested a McKenzie woman for domestic assault after he and Officer Dalton Raspberry responded to a 911 hang up call which came from a David Street residence early Saturday afternoon, July 6.

According to the report, Mrs. Renee Malloy answered the door and told officers that she and her sister had gotten into an argument with her sister, Monica Brock, during which Brock threw items at Malloy and threatened to kill her. Due to Malloy having visible bruises, Brock was arrested and charged with Domestic Assault and transported to Carroll County Jail.

Domestic Assault/Aggravated Burglary — Last Tuesday, July 2, McKenzie Police arrested a Martin man on multiple charges after responding to a 911 call from an Elwood Street Residence.

Sarah Keller called 911 when her soon to be ex-husband, Brandon, was attempting to kick in her door. He surrendered to authorities peacefully and admitted to kicking in her door and punching a hole in her garage. She also suffered a minor injury attempting to block the door.

According to the report, Keller was charged with Domestic Assault, Aggravated Burglary, and Vandalism and transported to Carroll County Jail.

Hestella Adkisson's 100th Birthday Celebration Draws Huge Crowd

TREZEVANT (June 29) — A huge crowd gathered Saturday at the Trezevant Community Center to celebrate the 100th birthday of Hestella Adkisson. The centenarian arrived at the party with a Carroll County Sheriff's Department escort from her home in the Wingo community. Upon arrival, she was presented with a corsage by granddaughter Janna Taylor and everyone sang "Happy Birthday." Next, the event was blessed by another granddaughter, Minister Kara Watson of Fellowship Baptist Church in Warner Robins, Georgia. Trezevant Mayor Bobby Blaylock and Alderman Pam Joyner were on hand to honor Adkisson. Joyner read a mayoral proclamation praising her as a model citizen who served her community as a Sunday school teacher, missionary president, choir member and volunteer at Webb School in McKenzie. It declared that her 100th birthday, June 3, 2019, shall be known as Hestella Williams Adkisson Day and encouraged all citizens of Trezevant and the Wingo community to join in wishing her a happy birthday. Mayor Blaylock then presented Adkisson with the key to the city. Adkisson's youngest daughter, Lula Williamson, served as host of the party and introduced many friends and family members to speak about their experiences with Mrs. Hestella and offer birthday wishes. Some of her youngest relatives announced that she had received numerous cards from ten states as well as England and China. Adkisson's four-year-old great-niece, Audye Abakwue, sang "You are My Sunshine," and her sister-in-law, Evelyn Johnson, sang "I'm Grateful." Guests enjoyed hamburgers, hot dogs, cake and ice cream.

Between visiting with the many guests, Hestella and Lula spoke to The Banner about the milestone. Known to most as "Stell," Lottie Hestella Williams was born in Paris on June 3, 1919 to Hilliard and Mary Jane (Atkins) Williams. Her father was a sharecropper. Among her three brothers and two sisters, she's the third oldest and the last surviving. The family moved to Wingo when Hestella was four years old, and she attended Wingo School. On April 3, 1935, she married Ethridge H. Adkisson, and they had seven children: Oscar, Mattie (Taylor, deceased), Earl, Maybel (Kelley), Mary (Brown), Angelene (Moore) and Lula (Williamson). She and Ethridge were married 72 years until his death on May 7, 2007. Hestella has 20 grandchildren and numerous great- and great-great-grandchildren. She said, "I try to live like I ought to. By God's mercy, He's keeping me. I love everybody. I like church." She attends Wingo Missionary Baptist Church. The biggest change she identifies in the world is the "different situations people are in." But she laments that, "People don't love like they used to." The best change she sees is the different jobs that connect people together.

Her advice to younger generations is, "Love each other, and do unto others as you would have them do unto you. Let love abide." She attributes her longevity to clean, healthy living, with "no drinking or smoking." Lula added that her mother "works hard and keeps busy. She's still very independent. What all she can do for others, she does as best she can." At the end of the party, Hestella thanked everyone who came and sent cards. Everyone then joined hands and sang a few choruses of "Reach Out and Touch (Somebody's Hand)."

WestStar Graduates 30th Class

MARTIN — Members of the WestStar Leadership Program's class of 2019 graduated Tuesday, June 25, during WestStar's closing event held at Madison Downs Venue in Jackson. A 5:15 p.m. reception was followed by dinner and the graduation ceremony. WestStar is the University of Tennessee at Martin's regional leadership program that is supported by corporate sponsors and individual donors. This marked the program's 30th class and brings the total to 857 graduates since WestStar was established in 1989. The 2019 class included 30 members who were competitively selected to learn new leadership skills and develop strategies for assisting communities in solving problems and maximizing potential. Each WestStar class is chosen annually by the program's board of trustees. Selection is based on individual leadership achievements and potential to contribute to West Tennessee's development. The class members, selected from all occupations and levels of community and regional involvement, complete eight sessions covering topics including agriculture and transportation, energy and environment, public policy issues, education and tourism.

Dr. Charley Deal, WestStar executive director, welcomed class members, alumni, the WestStar Board of Directors and other guests to the graduation event and ceremony. He also introduced UT Martin chancellor and 2009 WestStar graduate Keith Carver who welcomed attendees and noted the important work ahead for the program graduates. "Tonight is all about you," Carver said to the class. "You're now (part of) this much larger WestStar family, and I think any time you come through something like this you think about what's next. So, I just want to tell our graduates that the journey is really just starting, and it's time to invest back into WestStar but more importantly back into your communities and back into West Tennessee." Deal reviewed WestStar-sponsored conferences and youth activities held during the past year. He also announced three major awards presented annually during the program's graduation and WestStar's most recent scholarship recipients: Erica Moore, of Dresden, communications director for Weakley County Government and executive assistant to Weakley County Mayor Jake Bynum, received the 2019 Class Representative

Award. Moore was selected by current class members to represent the class in future WestStar activities. Dr. Larry Lusk, of Dyersburg, director of the Dyer County School System, received the C.P. Boyd Leadership Award. The award, named for the late Haywood County community leader and educator Dr. C.P. Boyd, recognizes the person who best reflects compassion and leadership for West Tennessee, as selected by the WestStar class. Jai Templeton, McNairy County farmer and former Tennessee commissioner of agriculture, received the Jimmy Daniel Make-A-Difference WestStar Leadership Alumni Award. The award is named for the late Jimmy Daniel, a 1990 WestStar graduate, founding program trustee member and a field representative during the Gov. Don Sundquist administration. Recipients must be WestStar graduates who have had positive impacts in their city or county during the past five years and possess strong records of leadership in West Tennessee. Templeton completed the WestStar program in 1999. Morgan Sturgis, of Huntingdon, daughter of Joel and Amy Sturgis, received the RisingStar Leadership Scholarship. These scholarships are awarded to students who attended WestStar's RisingStar Leadership Program held for selected high school juniors and seniors each fall and who plan to attend UT Martin. Selections are made by a university committee. Mallory Shell, of Dyersburg, Tanner Ream, of Ripley, and Brennan Brown, of Martin, received the Nick Dunagan Leadership Scholarships. Shell is the stepdaughter of Tony Childress, WestStar Class of 2018, and the daughter of LeAnn Childress, WestStar Class of 2013. Ream is the son of David and Cindy Ream and the grandson of Donna Buckner, WestStar Class of 2002. Brennan is the daughter of Andrew (WestStar Class of 2001) and Amy Brown. These scholarships are named for Dr. Nick Dunagan, UT Martin chancellor emeritus and former WestStar executive director. Recipients are chosen by the WestStar Board of Trustees.

The 2019 WestStar graduating class members and their hometowns are: Kayce Beam, Jackson; Skipper Bondurant, Union City; Joyce Brooks-Brown, Trenton; Reba Celsor, Dyersburg; Jim Cheatham, Dyersburg; Jenna Cole-Wilson, Camden; Al Da Silva, Memphis; Sybil Dancer, Selmer; Chris Davis, Brownsville; Amber Greene, Henderson; Justin Hargrove, Camden; Nichole Lawrence, McMoresville; Dr. Larry Lusk, Dyersburg; Andrew Maddox, Huntingdon; Jason Martin, McKenzie; Travis McLeese, Paris; Civil Miller-Watkins, Somerville; Erica Moore, Dresden; LaShell Moore, Selmer; Sharron Murden, Bolivar; Paul Newbill, Dyersburg; Jeffrey Richmond, Brownsville; John Penn Ridgeway, Paris; Derick Seaton, Savannah; Lucianne Shoffner, Munford; Lori Weir, Jackson; Ron Wells, Millington; Bryce West, Trenton; Mark Woodruff, Counce; and Jamie Worrell, Union City. Jordan Gardner, WestStar staff member, was made an honorary member of the 2019 class. Applications for the 2020 WestStar class are being accepted after Sept. 1, and members of the new class will be selected later this fall. WestStar's 30th anniversary will be celebrated during an event Nov. 9 at Discovery Park in Union City. Find out more about WestStar at utm.edu or call 731-881-7298.
