A Word About the Christmas Edition

The McKenzie Banner and Dresden Enterprise proudly to present this special Christmas Greetings edition. As in years past, this edition features letters to Santa Claus, written by the children of Carroll, Henry and Weakley counties. Each year, we welcome letters from any child, regardless of location, and we could not be more proud of the amount of letters that arrived. Thank you!

The staff of the Banner and Enterprise express sincere gratitude to area schools, pre-schools, daycares and parents for being wonderful to work with during the planning process for this edition.

This edition is divided into multiple sections and is 26 pages in length.

This edition is only possible because of local businesses who wish you good tidings, and offer thanks for your patronage. We urge you to read each advertisement and show your appreciation by supporting those businesses.

We have spent many hours typing letters for Santa and his elves. We hope you enjoy this labor of love that we've produced. Thank you for reading.

Merry Christmas & Happy Holidays

GLEASON (December 4) — Gleason kicked off the Christmas season in style at Snider Park on December 4 with the 15th Annual Hometown Christmas, which had numerous events for everyone in the family to take part.

Tumbling Creek Baptist Church was set up at the Gleason Community Center, serving free soup dinners to anyone who wanted to take a break from the cold. They also took donations to benefit children in the community.

Vendors sold arts, crafts and other goods to holiday shoppers at the park.

Christmas music and singing were provided by John and Anna Eaton.

There were also hayrides and a ride in a fire truck, which were free to all.

Gleason had many different competitions during the night that the community could take part in.

Three local students at Gleason School took home prizes with their entries submitted in an art show at the Gleason Community Center.

Gracie Long won the Christmas Spirited Award; Candice Carson received Viewer's Choice, and Giomar Rivera won the Elementary Art Award.

In the cookie eating contest, Shelby Perry ate the most cookies in the children's category and Andrew Adams won in the adults' competition.

Demetra Akers won the Ugly Christmas Sweater Contest.

Additionally, two lucky children, Madalyn Jackson and Andrew Bruce, won a new bike after entering in a drawing.

The festive night came to a close with a fireworks show at the park.

McKenzie Hosts Polar Express

McKENZIE (December 6-7) — The City of McKenzie hosted its annual Polar Express event at the historic depot during A Mistletoe Christmas. Approximately 200 children plus their parents and guardians attended one of the three sessions on Friday evening and Saturday morning and afternoon.

The kids began their journey to the North Pole by having their magic tickets checked. They then wrote letters to Santa saying just what they wanted for Christmas. They prepared reindeer food for Santa's team, then enjoyed hot chocolate and cookies prepared by the Polar Express's master chefs.

Next was a visit with the Man in Red himself. Kids then got to cut loose with an indoor snowball fight and other games. Chris Hall of Thred's INK. helped everyone create their own Polar Express t-shirts.

Outside, there was a big inflatable slide to pass the time while awaiting the magical train's arrival.

Kids had their tickets checked by the Conductor and were taken on a trip through town on the Polar Express.

Finally, each group gathered at the Park Theatre to see the animated film adaptation of the classic story on the big screen.

MEGAN TAYLOR
Dear Santa,
This year I've been naught (but I can explain). After all it's not easy being #4 of 5 kids ya know. I do try to be good though. I know I talk a lot when I am in school (sometimes I sing). I tend to play with all of my toys together, so no one gets left out, and when mama or Nana tells me to clean up I a lot of the time try to listen, but sometimes I get distracted or maybe I sometimes will blame my little sister to get out of it, which hardly works. I know I could do better, and I promise to try real hard to not to talk so much next year in school and to work real hard on cleaning up my room after I play if you could grant my Christmas wish. This year my Christmas wish is for a Elsa hair dressing head and an Anna hair dressing head for my sister Elli. I like hatchimal eggs that you hatch, if you have a few spare. Oh and Eliana loves pinkie pie from my little pony that you watch on TV. What I really want more than anything else is a real life puppy just like "Baby Girl" was (beagle). I know that she is in heaven with Grandpa Toth now, but I really miss her. Elli says she just wants a pink fluffy toy puppy. There is one more thing. My secret wish. I have shared it with God, and Jesus, and now I am writing it to you. I really wish for my family to be happy and stay together. My mommy has been really sad since her grandpa and grandma Terry went to heaven and her daddy, my grandpa Toth. My daddy helps a lot of different people. My mommy and daddy fight a lot more than they when I was little. We having to moe in couple weeks, and mommy is scared because she still hasn't found a job. I don't want my family to break up again. I want us to be together and all of us happy forever. I hope that I am not asking not too much Santa.
