Operation Thundering Justice Nets 16 Local, Area Arrests

HUNTINGDON — An undercover operation spanning more than a year into the sell of illicit drugs throughout Carroll County has resulted in the indictment of numerous individuals.

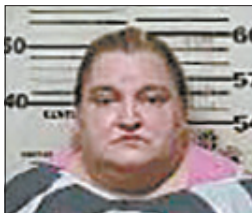

"Operation Thundering Justice," led by special agents with the Drug Investigation Division of the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Huntingdon Police Department, the McKenzie Police Department, and the Henderson County Sheriff's Office, began in January 2020. During the investigation, authorities conducted multiple controlled purchases, surveillance, and research.

On September 8th, the Carroll County Grand Jury returned indictments, charging 19 people in connection to the ongoing investigation.

"It's been a pleasure to work with the TBI on such a major operation," said 24th District Attorney General Matt Stowe. "By taking these drug dealers off the street, we're making the 24th District a safer place and hopefully there will be fewer parents wondering where their children are because of this operation."

Today, TBI, Carroll County Sheriff's Office, Huntingdon Police Department, McKenzie Police Department,

McKenzie Now 5-0 with Perry County Win 63-0

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

McKenzie improved to 5-0 (2-0) with a lopsided 63-0 win over Perry County at home Friday night. It did not take the Rebels long to score and score often. After recovering the kickoff, Jackson Cassidy went 43 yards for the first score just seconds into the contest. Zach Aird was good on the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

The Rebels got the ball right back when Perry County fumbled on first down deep in their own territory. Etiljay Tharpe took it three yards for another score less than a minute after the first. Aird connected on the extra point to make it 14-0.

Perry County lost yardage on the ensuing possession and the Rebels blocked the punt on fourth down with Marquez Taylor recovering the ball in the endzone for a touchdown. Aird nailed his third extra point of the contest extending the lead to 21-0.

McKenzie was on the move again after the defense forced Perry County to go three plays and out. On second down, Taylor found 47 yards of running room for his second touchdown of the night. Aird's extra point was good for a 28-0 lead.

After another three-and-out, Perry County punted to the Rebels, who wasted no time moving downfield and scoring again, this time on a 21-yard touchdown pass from Cassidy to Zay Webber. Aird was good for his fifth extra point making the score 35-0 with the contest still in the first quarter.

The Rebels made it 42-0 after another short Perry County possession when Cassidy threw to Marquez Taylor for a 25-yard touchdown. Cassidy's second TD pass of the quarter. Aird was good on his sixth extra point.

With Perry County unable to generate any offense, younger Rebels began getting into the game early in the second quarter. Colt Norden scored an 8-yard touchdown with Aird good on the extra point for a 49-0 lead.

Shortly before halftime, McKenzie was in scoring position again with Drew Chappell scoring on a 1-yard touchdown. Aird's extra point was good for a 56-0 Rebel lead. This was the score going into halftime.

The second half was a very short pair of 6-minute quarters that saw all McKenzie players get playing time. The Rebels found the endzone one last time in the fourth quarter with Drew Chappell getting loose for a 76-yard touchdown. Aird hit the extra point for a 63-0 lead which became the final score.

McKenzie rolled up 376 yards in offense while holding Perry County to 19 total yards offense for the game. Jackson Cassidy threw four of six passes for 105 yards and two touchdowns. The run game was spread out among several Rebels who touched the ball.

McKenzie plays host to West Carroll next week during Homecoming.

West Carroll Claims Fifth Win of Season

BY MICHAEL ODOM
(Milan) Mirror-Exchange

While senior Xander Moon has been a touchdown machine the past couple of weeks, West Carroll has a solid backfield with three running backs.

In Friday's 43-12 win over Halls, junior Malik Lee showed how he can set the tempo in a game.

Lee averaged 14.0 yards per carry as he ran for 182 yards and one touchdown on 13 carries for the War Eagles.

"Malik had a very big night on a night when we didn't play our best ball," West Carroll coach Clayton Morris said. "Malik earned some hard yards, busted some tackles and kept his legs churning."

So far this season, Lee has rushed for 394 yards.

That solid corps of running backs includes Lee, senior Jay Long and freshman Jayden Milton.

"To look at it from a defensive side, it is hard to prepare for us because of that," Morris said. "You look at West Carroll, you think about Xander Moon, but you think about the other backs and they have big play potential."

West Carroll (5-0, 2-0 7-1A) did give Halls its first points of the season, but the defense held the Tigers to minus-49 yards of offense.

Moon was still the main touchdown scorer for the War Eagles as he rushed for three touchdowns and threw for another score.

Moon scored the lone touchdown of the first quarter on a five-yard run for the 8-0 lead. After Halls answered that touchdown, West Carroll scored four unanswered touchdowns. The first two came in the second quarter for a 21-6 lead at halftime, and the War Eagles scored the first two touchdowns of the second half for the 35-6 lead with 8:07 left in the third quarter.

Lee scored West Carroll's second touchdown, and Moon connected with Nate Wykoff for a nine-yard touchdown pass for the two touchdowns in the second quarter.

The two scores in the third quarter were a five-yard touchdown run by Long and a 24-yard touchdown run by Moon.

Moon finished with 81 rushing yards and 134 passing yards for West Carroll. Lee was the leading receiver with two catches for 39 yards.

"Malik has some hands, as he is our punt returner and kick returner, so he is a weapon for us," Morris said.

McKenzie now prepares for its toughest test of the season as the War Eagles travel to Carroll County rival McKenzie, who is also undefeated.

"It starts with our mindset," Morris said. "I asked the kids Friday and again (Sunday), 'Are you satisfied? Are you satisfied being 5-0 and slightly above average in West Tennessee?' McKenzie has been one of those programs with a lot of success and a great culture."

West Carroll's Week 6 Opponent
Who: McKenzie Rebels
Where: Away
Record: 5-0
Week 4 result: Beat Perry County 63-0
Series record: McKenzie leads 29-3

Last meeting: McKenzie won 30-12 in 2019 as the 2020 meeting was a forfeit win over the Rebels due to COVID.

Players to watch: Jackson Cassidy (QB, Jr.); Marquez Taylor (RB/DB, Jr.); Zach Aird (K/WR/DB, Jr.)

What to know: McKenzie's Marquez Taylor is one of the top junior recruits in the area, and he already has an offer from Tennessee. McKenzie is scoring an average of 51.4 points per game this season, and the Rebels have scored at least 36 points in all five games. West Carroll is averaging 38.6 points per game. The War Eagles' Xander Moon has rushed for close to 900 yards with 18 touchdowns.

Huntingdon Mustangs Shut Out Houston County in Region Win

ERIN, Tennessee (September 17) — Friday night the Huntingdon Mustangs picked up their fourth straight win of the season and second win in Region 7-AA. The hour and a half trek to middle Tennessee proved to be a cakewalk as the Mustangs defeated the Fighting Irish 54-0.

Houston County won the coin toss and elected to receive the opening kickoff. After a quick three-and-out, the Mustangs took over on the Irish 30-yard line. On first-and-ten, Aden Hutcherson scored from 70 yards out. James Neely added the extra point as Huntingdon took an early 7-0 lead.

The Mustangs scored on their next possession after another three-and-out by the Fighting Irish. Huntingdon moved the ball 70 yards down-field before Cade Wood crossed the goal line for the 51-yard TD. The PAT was no good as the Mustang lead increase 13-0.

Houston County punted for the third time after going three-and-out, putting

Aden Hutcherson

Huntingdon on the Irish 40-yard line. Freshman Quarterback Gray Eubanks moved the Mustangs down-field to the ten-yard line. On first-and-goal, Hutcherson broke a tackle for his second touchdown. The two-point conversion pass was incomplete as Huntingdon led 19-0 with 4:13 to play in the first quarter.

The second quarter picked up with Huntingdon scoring in rapid succession. Eubanks scored followed by Hutcherson picking up two points on the conversion making the score 27-0. On the next drive, Kaleb Pearson found open receiver Blane Fields for a 20-yard touchdown. The PAT was no good putting the Mustang lead to 33-0.

Just before the half, Ashton Hutcherson came into the game scoring on second-and-five from the 35-yard line. With a successful two-point conversion the Mustangs led 41-0 at the half.

The second half came with a series of substitutions for Huntingdon and a running clock. Eddie Woods came in at running back and score from 45 yards out. The PAT put the Mustangs up 48-0 with 7:20 left in the third quarter.

The final scoring drive of the night came by way of Jax Bennett. The sophomore back scored on a 55-yard run capping the game at 54-0.

Next Friday night, the Mustangs (4-1) run to Paul Ward Stadium to battle the Milan Bulldogs (2-3) who are coming off a 40-7 loss to Haywood County. Kickoff is 7 p.m.

McKenzie Middle Falls to Huntingdon, 28-6

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

McKenzie Middle's Rebels hit the road to Huntingdon last Thursday, September 14 for their annual battle with the Mustangs. The Rebels were coming off of a loss to North Henderson last week and were looking to get back on the winning track.

The Rebels got off to a good start recovering the kickoff to the Mustangs however they failed to move the ball far and turned the ball over on a failed fourth down incomplete pass.

Huntingdon lost yards on a bad snap on their first possession and then fumbled the ball to the Rebels on the next play. McKenzie went three plays and had to punt it back to the Mustangs. They moved the ball to midfield by the close of a 0-0 first quarter.

The two teams swapped fumbles to open the second quarter. Huntingdon got their offense clicking and drove to a first down just inside the Rebel 10. Mustang Broox Bennett swept to the right and found running room to the endzone for the first score with 5:08 left in the second quarter. McKenzie stopped the Huntingdon two-point conversion run leaving the score 6-0 in favor of the Mustangs.

McKenzie answered shortly after getting a decent return on the kickoff. Tim Airline took it 57 yards to tie the score 6-6. The Rebels failed on their two-point conversion attempt.

Huntingdon took the ensuing kickoff and drove into Rebel territory where Broox Bennett got loose for a 37-yard touchdown run, his second of the game. The Rebels stopped the Mustang two-point conversion attempt to leave the score 12-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

The Rebels and Mustangs swapped possessions in the closing couple of minutes of the second quarter. McKenzie recovered a Mustang fumble and then Huntingdon picked off a McKenzie pass. Broox Bennett took off on a 60-yard scoring run in the closing seconds of the first half. The Mustangs scored on the two-point conversion extending their lead to 20-6 at halftime.

McKenzie got the ball first in the third quarter and drove into Mustang territory where they had a touchdown run called back on a penalty. The drive ended on a fourth down Huntingdon interception.

The Mustangs took it back the other way and tacked on one last touchdown on a 7-yard run by Broox Bennett. The two point conversion was good for a 28-6 win for the Mustangs.

The Rebels drop to 3-3 on the season with two home games upcoming to close out their season. They host Gibson County on September 23 and Camden on September 30.

Correction: In the August 31, issue of The Banner, a photo of the MMS Rebels incorrectly appeared with the story of a different opponent of MMS. This season, the MMS Rebels lost in overtime to Milan and defeated Henry County.

Gleason Loses to In-County Rival, Dresden

DRESDEN (September 17) — Gleason did not come away with the result they wanted in the 41-0 loss to Dresden, but it was a night to memorize the team's biggest fan, Jimmy Belew, who died on Saturday, September 11.

Belew, age 77, wore the #22 as a high school player at Gleason. He also wore it to the games he attended in recent years. He also provided encouragement to the players and the fans of the Bulldogs.

The first quarter remained scoreless as both teams moved the ball well.

A fumble by Gleason late in the first quarter gave Dresden excellent field position. A series of plays netted the 30 yards needed to break the endzone for the first score for Dresden. Raymond Johnson rushed for eight yards for the TD and Mark Maddox added the PAT.

Gleason's Issac Denton earned a first down on a 15-yard rush, before the series sputtered and QB Kolton Crochet punted at mid-field.

Dresden responded with a series of plays, six first downs, and a TD by Tatum Oliver. The PAT failed and the score stood at 13-0.

Gleason 's Drake Lovell carried twice, and the team again found themselves at mid-field with a fourth and long situation. Crochet's punt was received by Trey Eddings, who returned it 16 yards. Dresden went to work, marching downfield, earning three first downs and a TD by Nick Turnbow. Maddox added the PAT and the score was 20-0 at half.

The second half started with a Eddings' TD and a Maddox PAT to make the score 27-0 at the 10:19 mark in the third quarter. Dresden was again in the endzone at the 8:46 mark on a Tristen Jett TD and Maddox PAT. Tatum Oliver added one last TD at the 6:12 mark with a PAT by Maddox to make the score 41-0, which was the final score of the game.

Both teams had substitutions in the last quarter.

Gleason plays at Greenfield this Friday.

The two compete in world competitions. Dixon is mostly blind and her sighted athlete guide is Kirsten, a world champion athlete.

On Thursday evening, the two appeared in McKenzie at the Nights on Broadway. They thanked the community members for the outpouring of love and support for their competition in Tokyo. Dixon said she was very grateful for her adopted Tennessee home, where her guide resides.

On Saturday, the two competed in the Dixie Triathlon. Kirsten helps Amy run and swim by serving as her eyes. On the bike portion, the two ride a tandem bike, a bicycle built for two.

Amy offered these comments. “Today, I got to race the best of America. Not the most elite athletes, not the fanciest bikes, not the giant televised production of the Olympics, but America’s best. The small towns of McKenzie and Huntingdon put on quite a show for me today and all who dare to brave this hilly course.”

“People made signs, set up chairs on their country lawns, made delicious barbecue, made handcrafted medals and awards from local wood and pottery. Kids, seniors of every ability smiled. They were inspired by Kirsten (Sass) and I to push up hills when we came flying past on the bike. They took a moment to cheer us as we came back from our run. They asked for stories of Tokyo. They bragged about their hometown hero, my guide, Kirsten Sass and how proud they were to have a paralympian in their midst. Her husband, Jeff, dressed as Elvis and sang our National Anthem.

“The local firefighters (Huntingdon) raised our beautiful flag high above the finish for all to look at so proudly. In was the best of America today. I’m so glad I came to Tennessee this weekend. In was the post-Tokyo, moral compass, feel-good hometown race that my mind and body needed. This is why I love this country, this community, these people, this sport. What a day indeed....”

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Spreading It On Pretty Thick

Mother didn't actually lie to us. I don't think.

She said it was mayonnaise. We called it mayonnaise. It wasn't all that complicated. Besides, it was white and creamy...like you expected mayonnaise to be.

And we put in on almost everything. Hamburgers. Hot Dogs. Sauerkraut and wieners. "Baloney" sandwiches. Brown beans and cornbread. Vienna sausages. Mom would slice a pear and put a dab in the little hole in the center.

When times were hard we made do with a mayonnaise sandwich.

We even tried it on the big three: broccoli, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts. It didn't work. I'm telling you, nothing could liven up the blandness of that trio. Mayonnaise was good...but it was not a miracle worker!

If we had chicken and dumplings we'd compliment that meal with a slice of light bread smeared with mayonnaise as kind of a backstop. It's the way I still do it to this day.

But mostly we liked mayonnaise on tomato sandwiches. There was just something special about fresh picked vine ripe tomatoes, sliced thick and piled between two slices of Colonial bread, with real, old fashioned mayonnaise applied liberally to the mix.

Kraft was our brand of choice. I know there were others. Blue Plate. Hellmann. Duke's. I don't think they measured up. And I waffle a wee bit here because I don't know that for dead certain positive. I don't ever remember using anything but Kraft.

Now, here is where the "dark and stormy night" metaphor enters this story. I'm rummaging around in the refrigerator after an exhausting freshman football practice, hoping for a piece of leftover chocolate pie but willing to settle for anything edible that might tide me over till supper.

I picked up the mayonnaise jar to move it aside when I noticed it WASN'T the mayonnaise jar. It was Kraft Miracle Whip Salad Dressing. I turned it around in my hand. I couldn't find mayonnaise on either the front or back label. Folks, there is a world of difference between an "aha" and an "oh no" moment!

And where is Sigmund Freud or Dr. Seuss when you need them?

I confronted Mother immediately, "This is Salad Dressing!"

"I know son, it is the only mayonnaise we ever use."

Only in West Tennessee. In the 1950's. Or maybe only in our little town in West Tennessee. Or more likely only in a single house out at the end of Stonewall Street in our little town in West Tennessee. In the '50's.

And here is the real kicker. I don't ever remember one time, in our whole growing up days that we put this "salad dressing" on a salad of any kind!

Something like this could scar a teenager for life. Why would anyone call salad dressing mayonnaise in the first place? And then perpetuate the mistake meal after meal, year after year. We would have to be the only family on God's green earth that could misname a condiment ad infinitum...

I have no idea the difference between the two. But remembering how we were raised out where the road stopped, I can bet you the salad dressing is the cheaper of the "mayonnaises."

But this story runs much deeper than a sandwich spread. Is there something else Mother didn't get "just right?" I always thought Leon was my older brother. But I've never seen any papers confirming that...

I know for sure that he didn't act like nobody else in our whole family. He claims aliens pulled him up into their spaceship once. Maybe that was because they had dropped him on our doorsteps when he was a mere babe.

It will make you scratch your head. Come to think of it, I've never seen any hard evidence that I came to the family naturally...

We didn't wash our hair in mayonnaise (or salad dressing). I know that is currently the fashion of the day. Listen, I'm a big believer in to-each-his-own. But I draw the line when it comes to putting something in your hair that can't do a thing to help Brussels sprouts.

Thank goodness we use real Kraft mayonnaise in our house today. I think. Cathy calls it mayonnaise. It looks like mayonnaise. It tastes just like the way Mother served it...

I made a double bee line straight for the refrigerator. I was pretty sure there wouldn't be any chocolate pie in there. And I wasn't ever as hungry anymore as any single day I walked into the old house after football practice.

But could it be déjà vu all over again?

I reached in and pulled out the mayonnaise jar...with the Miracle Whip Salad Dressing label on it! And took a delightful measure of comfort in knowing some things never change...

Respectfully,
Kes

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

One Quick Question

Can anyone tell me how it came to be that our government can mandate employers (with 100 employees or more) be vaccinated or tested weekly for COVID while thousands are coming across our southern borders wearing no masks and showing no proof of vaccination?

As of this writing (9/17/2021) ABC and NBC national news reported approximately 12,000 under one bridge in Texas.

Thank you,

J.C. Popplewell

Basketball Star and Coach

Coach J.C. Popplewell was considered a "true teacher" by his colleagues and his students who long recalled their admiration for the former coach. A narrative in the 1987-88 Henry County Elementary School yearbook reads of Popplewell, "He is well-liked and much respected by his students as well as by his peers in the education field. He gives us his all every day in the P.E. classes he teaches. He is always there to lend a kind word, to give a little one an extra smile on their first day of school, to loan 50 cents for a Coke, to encourage or just to care.

"Being a star basketball player in high school and at Bethel College, his coaching ability is a great asset to the sports programs at Henry School. His football teams have won many county championships. His basketball teams have always had super seasons even when it seemed to others to be a 'growing' season.

"He is considered to be one of the finest coaches around... The Christian concepts are the guiding principles in and out of school. The winning of the battles of life are more important marriage in August of 1971.

After graduation, becoming Coach Popplewell, he was hired at McKenzie Junior High School where he taught science and physical education and coached girls' basketball. He later coached both junior high teams and high school girls' basketball. This was still in the time when the junior high girls played half-court.

One of his most memorable games at McKenzie was in 1975 against Trezevant. The Lady Rebels provided Trezevant its only loss on their way to winning a state championship.

By 1980, he felt his plate was overflowing due to his coaching responsibilities. Popplewell said, "It was a little bit too much. I was spending a lot of nights working. I wasn't here. I thought I was ready to get out of coaching; I guess I thought it was time they had a chance and it was."

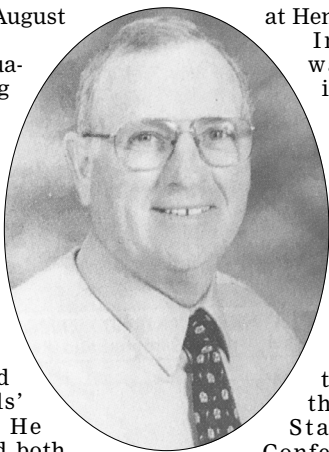

In the spring of 1981, he began selling insurance through the summer and fall before taking a position in January 1982 at Henry County Elementary. His son, Robin, who was in the second grade, began riding to school with his father every morning. Coach Popplewell was able to coach his son through his eighth-grade year before Robin transferred to McKenzie to start high school.

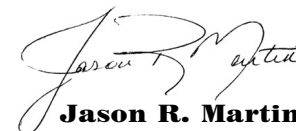

Popplewell later went on to become the vice-principal at Henry.

In 2000, J.C. was inducted into Bethel's Athletic Hall of Fame. His bio states he was voted most valuable player two years in a row, was instrumental in leading Bethel's team to victory in the VSAC (Vol State Athletic Conference) tournament in Nashville, beating teams like Union University, Lambuth University, Belmont University, the University of Tennessee at Martin, LeMoyne-Owen and Christian Brothers University.

In 2001, Coach Popplewell retired. Though years of playing softball and basketball took its toll on his body, he found other hobbies to occupy his time. From working around the family farm in the Macedonia community, riding horses and spending time with his grandchildren, keep him busy.

Inglenook Book Club September News

The Inglenook Book Club met in September at Lakeside Senior Living Center with Linda Edge and Donna Ward as hostesses.

President Carolyn Moore called the meeting to order and thanked the hostesses. Members recited the Pledge of Allegiance, the club aim and motto.

President Moore noted the passing of our member Juanita Finley this past Monday evening. The club had celebrated her 92nd birthday at our August meeting and the club extends sympathy to Juanita's family. Motion was made and passed to send a donation to the library in her memory.

President Moore announced that she delivered 67 notebooks for the school-teachers last month. This month the item was earbuds, of which quite a few were collected. Next month we will bring plastic folders with brads.

Our program was presented by Mary Newman whose subject was William Kent Kreuger, American novelist and crime writer; best known for his series of novels featuring Cork O'Connor, and set mainly in Minnesota. In 2005 and 2006 he won back-to-back Anthony Awards for best novel. In 2014 his stand-alone book Ordinary Grace won the Edgar Award for best novel of 2013. Another stand-alone novel, This Tender Land, is currently being read in the club this year.

Kent, as he prefers to be called, was born in 1950 in Torrington, Wyoming. He said that he wanted to be a writer from the third grade when his story "The Walking Dictionary" was praised by his teacher and parents.

Upon entering Stanford University in 1969, he became involved in radical on-campus protests against the Viet Nam War, resulting in a loss of his academic scholarship, forcing him to leave after his freshman year. Afterward, he logged timber, worked in construction, tried his hand at freelance journalism, and eventually ended up researching child development at the University of Minnesota. He has been married nearly 50 years to his first love, Diane, a girl from Nebraska. Kreuger says when their first child was on the way, they had to get serious about life.

In 1980 they moved to St.

Paul, Minnesota, so that Diane could attend law school. She gave birth to their second child in the first semester of her final year and still made the Dean's List. It was during that time he began writing in earnest. He rose early each morning and wrote for an hour or so before going to work. He wrote in longhand in cheap wire-bound notebooks sitting in a booth at the St. Clair Broiler café just a few blocks from their home.

He wrote many short stories, but it was not until the age of 40 that he finished the manuscript of his first novel, Iron Lake, the first of the Cork O'Connor series. It won the Anthony Award for Best First Novel, the Barry First Novel, the Minnesota Book Award, and the Loft-McK-night Fiction Award.

The Cork O'Connor series consists of 18 books so far and are set in Northern Minnesota which has a large percentage of population of mixed ancestry. In college he had researched the Ojibwe Indian culture which he has woven into his books, set in and around Native American reservations. The main character, Cork O'Connor is part Ojibwe and part Irish.

Scarecrow Grove

"A No-Brainer"

Sept. 27-Oct. 31

Deadline to enter is Oct. 4

Bring your scarecrow to City Hall during the week of September 27-October 4.

Show your McKenzie "Spirit" and participate in our seasonal celebration of fall by creating a scarecrow to lurk about in our downtown park and green spaces. Big, small, frightening, friendly, silly or serious, have your business, club, church, class, family or neighborhood create something special for McKenzie and its visitors to enjoy! Being a part of this fun event is easy! Entries must be family friendly, in good taste, and no political or controversial entries will be accepted. City employees will place in the park, along with your sign proclaiming who the scarecrow is and its creator! You can also place in the park yourself if you choose and give us your sign info.

HINTS: Spray Scotchgard both inside & out to prevent mildew. Plastic bags & bubble wrap work well for stuffing, as does newspaper stuffed inside plastic bags. Water soluble peanuts do not work. Nylon and polyester hold up better & fade less than cotton. Secure everything with sewing, staples or safety pins. Latex gloves disintegrate outdoors

Form due back to City Hall no later than Friday, October 1. Please Print Clearly!

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Goat At Large — John R. Jordan, 38, of 95 Maytown Road, Huntingdon, was cited for animal running at large following a recent incident involving his goat.

According to the report by Deputy Christopher Adams, a homeowner on Buena Vista Road told deputies on Sept. 13 that a goat belonging to Jordan was on his back porch, that it tried to get into his house, it head-butted him in the buttocks, and it defecated on his porch. Jordan came to the property to retrieve his goat. The report noted that deputies have responded to calls about this particular goat on previous occasions.

Aggravated Assault — Mike Brotherton, 58, of 465 Holmes Mill Road, Huntingdon, was charged with aggravated assault following a Sept. 10 incident at a Hollow Rock residence.

According to the report by Deputy Chance Townes, deputies responded to a call about an altercation between neighbors on Cemetery Boundary Street. Upon arrival, deputies found Tedd Karp was bleeding from his left arm and his son had a head injury, and it was determined Brotherton struck the two with a stick he had gotten from inside the house. Brotherton told officers he did strike them, but he also said the son had struck him with a cane. Townes looked but did not see any marks of injury on Brotherton's body. The father and son received medical attention at the scene but refused transport to the hospital.

Drug Paraphernalia — Brandon Doug Hilliard, 35, of 9025 Old Stage Road, Huntingdon, was cited for possession of drug paraphernalia during a Sept. 9 traffic stop on Old Lavinia Road.

Deputy Nick Roberts reported that he pulled over a black Chevrolet Silverado driven by Hilliard after observing the vehicle swerve off the roadway into a ditch, nearly causing an accident. During a search of the vehicle, Roberts found a glass pipe containing a crystal-like substance.

Gunshot Fired — Deputies are looking into a recent case of a firearm being fired from a vehicle near a residence in the McKenzie area.

According to the report by Deputy Christopher Adams, he responded to a call on Sept. 11 to a residence on Oak Manor Road. Resident Rodney Griffin told deputies he heard a gun being fired and then saw a white, four-door Dodge pickup truck pass by his residence with a passenger holding a shotgun out the window. Griffin said he then got in his own vehicle and pursued the truck, but the driver of that truck would not stop. Adams found one 12-gauge shotgun casing at the scene.

Drugs, Firearms — William Shawn Manning, 37, of Bradford was charged with possession of schedule II, schedule VI, drug paraphernalia, and a firearm during commission of a felony during a Sept. 10 traffic stop in Trezevant.

Deputy Nick Roberts reported that he pulled over a white truck driven by Manning due to dark window tint and after observing the vehicle swerve across the center line. A K-9 unit was called to the scene after Manning denied Roberts' request to search the vehicle, and a search was conducted after the dog indicated the presence of illegal substances. During that search, deputies found a pipe with residue, a small cylinder containing a substance that tested positive for methamphetamine, three THC vape pens, a Glock 40-caliber handgun, a .308 rifle, and a digital scale.

Felony Evading — James Anthony Taylor, 53, of 2100 Hebron Church Road, Bruceton, was arrested for felony evading, reckless driving, and driving on a revoked license following a high-speed pursuit on Sept. 13 in Carroll and Benton Counties.

Deputy Michael Smith reported he tried to pull over a red Chevrolet S10 driven by Taylor on Highway 70, but the vehicle accelerated, reaching speeds over 100 mph. Smith continued to pursue into Benton County and onto several different roads. The vehicle finally came to a stop on Old Union Church Road, and Taylor was apprehended after fleeing on foot. He was transported to the Carroll County Jail.

Theft — Deputies are investigating the recent theft of items from private property in Bruceton.

Deputy Michael Mulligan reported he responded to a call on Aug. 13 about a breaking and entering at a residence on College Street. Attorney Laura Keeton, who has power of attorney over the resident at that address, told deputies that sometime during the previous night or earlier that day, someone entered the home and took a Maytag washing machine valued at $250 and a Maytag dryer valued at $250. Keeton also said a window AC unit valued at $200 was taken from an outbuilding on the property.

Vandalism — Matthew Snyder told deputies on Sept. 12 sometime between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. that morning, someone shot what appears to be BBs at two vehicles belonging to other people that he was working on in his driveway on Terry Road, causing an estimated $950 in damage.

Burglary — Deputies are investigating the recent burglary of a residence and other property in Bruceton.

It was reported on Sept. 11 someone broke into and ransacked a home on Carroll Street, plus an outbuilding, camper, and two vehicles on that property. Around $1,200 in items were reported as being stolen, including four wheels and tires for a Nissan truck, a rear steel door with glass, a propane turbo heater, a front wooden window, a 46" flat screen TV that doesn't work, a car radio/CD player, an air compressor, collector knives, and collectible currency.

WEST TENNESSEE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Community Leaders Hear WTPU Speak of Growth, Community Service

MCKENZIE (September 8) — West Tennessee Public Utilities officials sponsored a luncheon for community leaders to thank them for their support of the natural gas utility. The event was held at Bethel University. They also promised to be progressive, community servants to serve the people, businesses, and industries of a five-county service area.

Brent Dillahunt, general manager, said WTPU offers cost effective, uninterrupted natural gas. From its Huntingdon office, it works with the local industrial recruiters to attract industries and jobs to the area. In recent years, the company has extended its service lines to serve rural areas. A planned extension in south Carroll County will provide 43 miles of service lines, serve 480 homes and chicken houses. One of the advantages of West Tennessee Public Utilities is it is served by two major supply lines, which allows it to have redundant supply and the ability to purchase gas from the lower-cost provider.

Natural gas is combustible, clean and efficient, said Dillahunt. It can be used as a fuel to power automobiles, replacing gasoline. West Tennessee

Madison Endres, marketing manager, outlined safety precautions and urged attendees to call 811 before digging. She encouraged attendees to complete an online marketing survey, which entered them into a drawing for door prizes.

Tennessee Fish, Wildlife Changes License Duration

The Tennessee Fish and Wildlife Commission (TFWC) approved changing licenses to 365-day duration instead of expiring at the end of February each year. The new rule goes into effect beginning March 1, 2022.

A report on chronic wasting disease was presented. TWRA's participation and support produced sampling protocols that were first employed in 2018. Recently, CWD was detected in Henry County, changing the county's status to positive. Neighboring Weakley County's status was changed to high risk.
