MARTIN — A Martin man is in custody in the Weakley County Jail after shooting at deputies during a four-hour standoff Sunday night. None of the deputies was injured.

William Anthony King, 31, is held on multiple charges of Attempted First Degree Murder, Evading Arrest, Aggravated Burglary and Aggravated Criminal Trespass.

Deputies were called to a resident on Dunlap Road in Martin around 6 p.m. on a welfare check. Deputies were informed that King was hiding in a shed. As deputies walked toward the shed, King fired multiple shots. The deputies did not return fire.

King then barricaded himself in the home and one family member escaped out the front door and a 91-year-old person and the family dog were later rescued from the home.

Deputies finally used tear gas to enter the home and found King hiding in a closet with a handgun.

The Martin Police Department and Tennessee Highway Patrol assisted deputies at the scene.

EDITORIAL: HAVE KIDS WILL TRAVEL

Vacationing with Young Children

Entertaining diversions and snacks are must-haves when traveling with kids in town.

Prior to having children, few adults would bat an eye at spontaneous weekend excursions or discounted red-eye travel deals that required little more than a hastily packed carry-on bag and passport in hand. Once adults make the decisions to expand their families, traveling even short distances often requires precise and detailed planning.

Children add the element of surprise and the unexpected - not to mention extra gear - and parents must adapt accordingly when they travel with their little ones. These pointers can keep parents properly prepared.

Pack for the journey. Anticipate what your child may need, but remember, unless you are traveling to a remote location, there's a good chance you can buy many items at your destination. Direct much of your focus on packing items you'll need for the journey, and less on what you'll need once you arrive. Food and entertainment are two key components to keep in mind.

Factor in "stretch your legs" opportunities. Children have limited attention spans and abilities to stay put. According to Brain Balance, a program for improving concentration, children between the ages of two and six have attention spans from four to 18 minutes. Since kids may not be able to sit still the entire time, build breaks into trips so they can get up, run around and expend some of their boundless energy.

Travel early morning or late at night. Morning flights tend to be less crowded and are less likely to have takeoff delays that can push kids into meltdown mode. Kids are apt to be tired in the wee hours of the morning or later in the evening, so traveling, whether by road or sky, when they're likely to sleep can be advantageous.

Plan accommodations wisely. Choose lodging that fits your needs. Some people prefer a rental home because it affords more space and the ability to save money by preparing some meals at "home." However, certain hotels may have babysitting services or recreational activities for children, enabling Mom or Dad to have a little time off.

Bring a light stroller and baby sling/carrier. A full-sized stroller may be cumbersome, especially on sand or cobblestone. A sling or carrier enables you to navigate crowded places with ease. A lightweight, folding stroller can be used as a temporary bed for naps or when your toddler has tired out from walking.

Know security rules. Check with the airline for confirmation, but the TSA generally allows formula, breast milk, and juice in quantities greater than 3.4 ounces or 100 milliliters in carry-on baggage. It does not need to fit within a quart-sized bag. Remove these items from your carry-on bag to be screened separately from the rest of your belongings.

Explain the itinerary. For young children who are able to understand, spell out what will be happening along the journey so they know what to expect. This can help calm nerves and prevent tantrums.

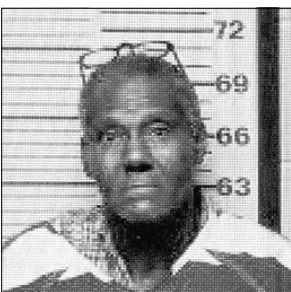

Traveling with young children requires a little extra planning and patience

HUNTINGDON

Drug Investigation Leads to Arrests

HUNTINGDON (October 10) — A joint investigation by special agents with the Drug Investigation Division of the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, Huntingdon Police Department, and Carroll County Sheriff's Office resulted in the arrest of two individuals on various drug counts.

Monday morning, while serving an arrest warrant at a home in the 200 block of Maple Street, Huntingdon, officers with the Huntingdon Police Department and Carroll County Sheriff's Office discovered drugs and drug paraphernalia in plain view and requested the assistance of the TBI. After receiving consent to search the home, agents and investigators discovered drugs and drug Schedule IV (Xanax), and Possession of Drug Paraphernalia. His bond is set at $4,500. Micah J. Leite (DOB: 8/17/97) was booked on counts of Possession of Schedule II with Intent to Sale and Deliver (Methamphetamine) and Possession of Drug Paraphernalia. Her bond is set at $4,000.

Area Unemployment Remains Low

NASHVILLE — Every county in Tennessee experienced lower unemployment rates in August, 2022, according to new data released by the Department of Labor and Workforce Development. For the month, 89 counties recorded rates below 5%, while the remaining six counties came in with rates higher than 5%, but less than 10%.

Carroll County recorded a rate of 3.9 percent, down from 4.8 a month earlier and 4.3 one year earlier. From a labor force of 11,171, a total of 10,731 were employed leaving 440 unemployed.

Henry County recorded a rate of 3.7 percent, down from 4.2 one month earlier and 3.7 percent one year earlier. From a labor force of 14,265, a total of 13,736 were employed and 529 were unemployed.

Weakley County recorded a rate of 3.4 percent, down from 5.6 one month earlier and 3.8 percent one year earlier. From a labor force of 15,050, a total of 14,451 were employed and 599 were unemployed.

Williamson County's unemployment rate was the lowest in Tennessee during August. At 2.3%, the county's rate dropped by 0.3 of a percentage point from its July figure of 2.6%.

Cheatham County came in with the state's second-lowest rate for the month at 2.5%, a 0.3 of a percentage point drop when compared to the previous month. Moore County's rate was the third-lowest in August at 2.6%, also down 0.3 of a percentage point.

Perry County recorded the state's highest jobless number for the month at 5.6%. Its new rate accounted for a 0.7 of a percentage point drop from its July rate of 6.3%.

Bledsoe County had the second-highest rate in August at 5.4% but its rate dropped by 0.7 of a percentage point for the month. With the third-highest rate, Shelby County's new figure of 5.3% was down 0.7 of a percentage point from its July rate.

Statewide, seasonally adjusted unemployment did inch up in August. It was the first increase after three consecutive months of a steady rate. It went from 3.3% to 3.4% between July and August.

Nationally, seasonally adjusted unemployment increased slightly between July and August, up 0.2 of a percentage point to 3.7%.

County unemployment rates are not seasonally adjusted to account for different impacts on the workforce.

She offered the former railroad depot as the location for the display of memorabilia. She noted the depot already has railroad memorabilia. The former Industrial Board offices are now being used as public meeting space.

The city officials are starting the conversation with hopes of a new alumni organization. However, the city will be part of the leadership.

Alumni associations at other schools provide support for the school, offer scholarships, and raise funds for special school projects. The collection of memorabilia can also serve as a catalyst for tourism in the city, said the mayor.

A Textbook Selection Committee was selected for new mathematics books. The committee is Lorrie Brown, Mary Spivey, Amanda Oakley, Amanda Morris, Kim Smith and Beth Mathis.

A Disciplinary Hearing Authority was established with the following: Nick Lowe, student resource officer; Tonya Brown, McKenzie Elementary School principal; Dorethea Royle, McKenzie Middle School principal; and Kelly Spivey, McKenzie High School principal. This group convenes if a parent appeals a decision of a student's suspension in excess of 10 days.

LaDona Herrin gave an update on the federal COVID-relief funds (ESSER) expenditures. The school has $283,880 remaining in the ESSER 2.0

funding and $1,510,119 in ESSER 3. The expenditures included programming to stem learning loss during the pandemic, which, in part, included summer programming, interventionists, speech therapists at MES, class-size reductions, and lots of capital improvements. Part of the improvements included air conditioning the gymnasium at MES and MMS, renovating very dated locker rooms at MMS, and other capital improvements.

In Lynn Watkins' report, the director said the fire marshal gave final approval for the heating and air conditioning systems at MMS and MES and approved the locker rooms at MMS, giving permission for occupancy.

The November meeting was canceled.

While the proposed geographic service areas are not yet designated, the fiber could serve up to 4,600 houses in the rural area of Carroll County, one of the largest geographic counties in the state. Grant funding is not available to overlap other high-speed services that also received grant funding.

The attendees at the forum were interested if their area would be served, but those answers were not available last Thursday.

The Tennessee Department of Economic and Development will develop maps of served and under-served areas of the county. Spectrum is one of three high-speed providers interested in accessing grant funds to serve Carroll County and will provide 1,000 gigabit download and 500 gigabit upload speeds.

Spectrum has a major presence in McKenzie with its regional offices and customer service offices on Circle Drive and its head-end for TV programming and internet, located near Cherrywood Road.

Panelists at the Thursday event included State Representative Tandy Darby, State Senator John Stevens, Jonathan Kee, director of schools at Huntingdon, Brad Hurley, president of the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce, Zack Bates of Spectrum, Taylor Batey of the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development, and Carroll County Mayor Joseph Butler.

Bard Hurley said the emphasis is accessibility and affordability. Both are important factors to eliminate the digital divide. While Spectrum indicates it plans to serve up to 4,500 new rural homes, there are 11,000 homes in the county. Spectrum already serves the citizens in the municipalities in the county.

At the end of the presentation, attendees were invited to provide their contact information to receive updated information as it becomes available.

After the meeting, Spectrum provided a check of $5,000 to the Carroll County Office on Aging to purchase computers for its office.

23 TN Promise Mentors Needed In Carroll County by October 21

With less than two weeks remaining until the October 21 tnAchieves mentor application deadline, Carroll County still needs 23 mentors to meet local student demand. More than 3,300 volunteer mentors are still needed statewide!

Those interested in applying to mentor can visit <https://www.tnachieves.org/mentors>.

"Seven thousand fewer students have entered the college pipeline in Tennessee since 2021," said tnAchieves Senior Director of Mentors Tyler Ford. "While the pandemic has caused declining college-going rates nationwide, I am a firm believer that Tennessee is well suited to confront this challenge head-on given the thousands of volunteer mentors who advocate for higher education in their communities each year!"

Many TN Promise students will be the first in their families to go to college. These students often need a little extra support and encouragement as they navigate a confusing college-going process! Mentors provide irreplaceable local support for students who may otherwise be without guidance or encouragement in the college-going process.

"I wasn't sure if I was ready for the transition from high school to college, but my mentor kept pushing me and was patient through the process," said current tnAchieves mentor and former TN Promise student Miami Coleman. "I knew I had to be like her and give back when I had the opportunity." To hear more from Miami, click here: <https://youtu.be/0pZMZdKt15c> tnAchieves mentors commit just one hour per month to serve students in their community. All mentors in 2023 will begin working with their students in November of 2022 and will meet their students in person at the student's high school in December or January. Mentors will receive training and handbook guide to the program.

Mentors must be a minimum of 21 years of age and are subject to a background check. Those interested in applying can visit <https://tnAchieves.org/mentors>.

tnAchieves is a 501(c)3 nonprofit that has provided scholarships with mentor support since 2008. Any interview requests or questions can be directed to Tyler Ford at tyler@tnAchieves.org or (309) 945-3446.

McKenzie Students Walk To School on October 6

Many students at McKenzie Elementary School and McKenzie Middle School participated in the annual Walk to School Day on Thursday, October 6. At the McKenzie Elementary School, the largest number ever participated with 324 students, 238 parents, and nine dogs participated in the morning walk. Students started from area neighborhoods or area parking lots to walk to school. The students were greeted by Bethel University athletes and cheerleaders, MHS athletes, and MES teachers and administrators. Middle School students started at McKenzie City Hall and walked from downtown to the Middle School on Woodrow Avenue. Law enforcement officers from McKenzie Police Department and Carroll County Sheriff's Department provided protection as they students walked the busy roadway.

New board members are Kelly Weaver, Keith Murray, and Betty Wallace, the latter of whom is a retired teacher, administrator and interim director of schools at West Carroll. Other board members are Misty Mitchell, William Robinson, and Jeremy Jackson.

The $10,000,000 budget is funded by a $1.2207 per $100 appraised value. Expenses include $413,375 for debt service, incremental raises for support staff, and step raises for teachers in accordance with the state's pay scale. Some teachers received no raises, said Caldwell, who noted all teachers and support staff received a four-percent raise in the previous year. All employees will receive a $500 bonus prior to Christmas break.

"I want the community to know I support the teachers," said Betty Wallace, who noted Governor Bill Lee touted a 2.5 percent raise for teachers in the state budget. Caldwell said he, too, supports the teachers, but this year's pay raises for teachers are based on the state scale.

The budget also includes $47,000 allocation to pay the last annual installment on the LED lighting project, that essentially replaced all fluorescent lighting on all three campuses. The more efficient LED lighting was installed a few years ago with a guarantee that the cost savings in electric bills would be enough to make the annual installment payment on the new lighting system.

An estimated $4,940,000 reserve will remain at the close of the fiscal year.

A new intercom system will be installed at the Primary School in McMoresville and the Elementary School in Trezevant. Caldwell said the current intercoms are in disrepair.

Two companies bid on replacement systems. BLUUM in Phoenix Arizona bid on a cloud-based digital system at more than 145,000 plus an annual licensing fee. Central Technologies of Germantown bid on a cloud-based and an analog system. The Board approved the analog systems at a cost of $81,304.61.

A bid from Mid-South Business Construction of Jackson, Tenn. was the lone bidder for the replacement of flooring at the Elementary School.

The Board awarded the bid of $57,000 to remove carpet in the workroom, secretary's room, principal's office, library, and another small office. It includes some minor base floor repair, and removal of asbestos-laded subflooring, and the installation of all new tile.

All student group day trips will be approved the principal and director of schools. Returning overnight trips for student groups require approval by the board. New overnight trips require two readings for the inaugural year. All student group trips require the coach or program sponsor plus one adult chaperons per each 10 students.

is staffing. Currently, the department is short four officers, but White is optimistic about filling the void with quality officers by recruiting certified officers from other police departments or by way of sending new hires to the police academy. He added that as the new chief he plans to build an improved work environment where the officers have more of a voice in the department's decision-making process.

Chief White explained by having a good work environment and competitive pay would make the McKenzie Police Department a place where police officers desire to be rather than a stopping-off point. Having worked nearly all facets of the department, he has built a reputation that is respected in the McKenzie Police Department and throughout McKenzie and the surrounding area.

Community policing was listed as another goal. White stated he along with the other officers in town will be more visible and plans to take part in the city and community-planned events, including a block party and the Boo Bash. He wants the community to know the officers while making them feel invested in McKenzie. In regards to school, the chief plans to work with the Carroll County Sheriff's student resource officers (SROs) with the McKenzie officers walking with students to school and having a presence inside the school buildings. Knowledge of school facilities builds the officers' awareness of key areas to focus on if there is a need for McKenzie officers in a building. White also plans to aide SROs during ballgames held in McKenzie.

White said he was willing to face public scrutiny and understood the pressures that come with the position as chief. He added that good leaders know when to listen and work with others. Having started as a patrolman and into supervisor roles including time with the drug task force, White believes serving as a mentor to new officers as a strong leader leads by example. While working to build a good working environment he plans on challenging his officers to be the best.

He did acknowledge that he does not have all the answers but would work with other chiefs in the surrounding area. Their institutional knowledge would help in his future success.

After the meeting, Chief White was congratulated by his fellow officers, family, friends and local leaders.

a cyber tip about apparent child pornography activity on a blog called "sweet-babygirlsdaddy." Tumblr provided an email address and IP address for the account and disabled the account. The IP address geolocated to Bruceton, Tennessee. To assist with the investigation, NCMEC forwarded the tip to local law enforcement. The Martin Police Department Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force contacted the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Violent Crimes Against Children Task Force. Investigators identified Carl Goodson Ragsdale, of Bruceton, Tennessee, as the owner and user of the account.

FBI special agents interviewed Ragsdale, who admitted that he used the Tumblr account "sweet-babygirlsdaddy" to receive and post images, including sexually explicit images of prepubescent girls. He admitted that he also used a cloud storage site to receive sexually explicit images of prepubescent children. He told agents that he "constantly" accessed child pornography on the internet and that he thought about sexual intercourse with women and children "all the time."

Agents reviewed Ragsdale's cell phone and tablet computer and found over 600 images of child sex abuse and graphic sexually explicit conversations about the children in some of those images of child sex abuse.

United States Attorney Kevin Ritz said: "Thanks to proactive and significant cooperation between our office and local and federal law enforcement partners, this defendant was brought to justice for his abhorrent crimes."

On May 16, 2019, a federal grand jury returned a three-count indictment against Ragsdale, charging him with distribution, possession, and receipt of child pornography.

He pled guilty to the charges on March 25, 2022.

On October 4, United States Chief District Judge S. Thomas Anderson sentenced Ragsdale to 144 months imprisonment, to be followed by lifetime supervised release.

Ragsdale must also register as a sex offender. There is no parole in the federal system.

The case was investigated by the FBI Violent Crimes Against Children Task Force and the Martin Police Department Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force.

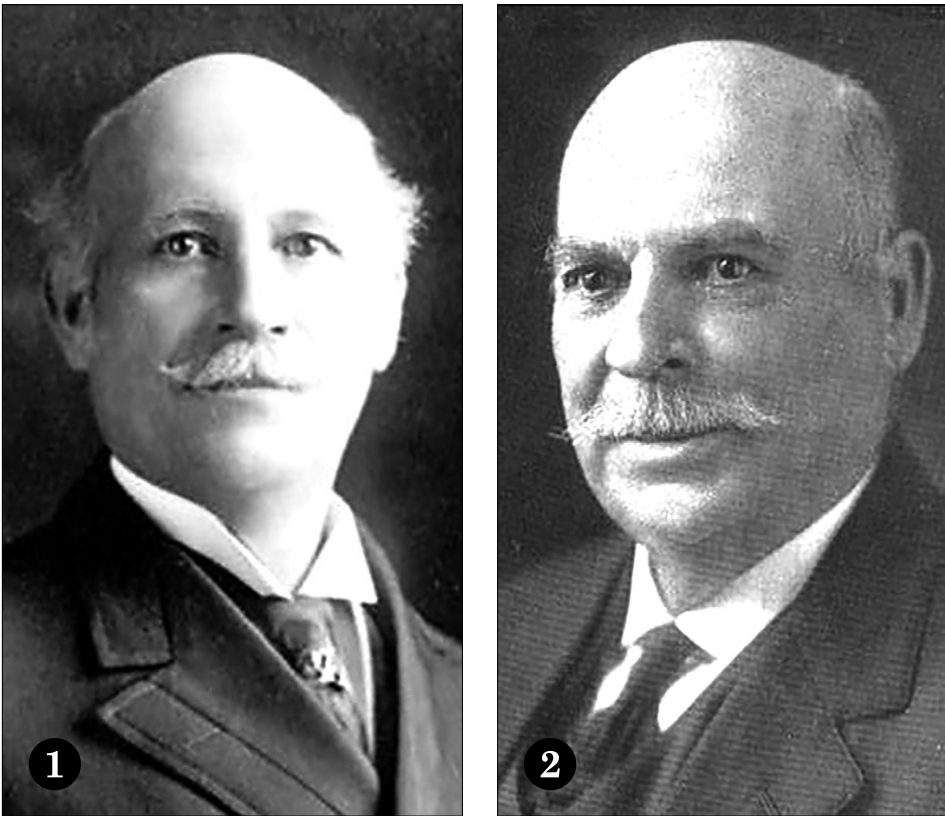

Assistant United States Attorney Lauren Delery prosecuted this case on behalf of the government.

War of the Roses
Brothers for Governor

Figure by now most of our readers know that I have some of the most random recollects of history. This morning as I was thinking about a topic of interest I began recalling various Tennessee governors. Then randomly the War of the Roses popped and for a brief second I was afraid I was confusing the British title with something else, but the rusty cage held onto a story I remember from middle school.

The story begins with the election of 1886 with the nomination of brothers Alfred and Robert "Bob" Taylor for Tennessee governor. Natives of the Elizabethton (Johnson City area), Tennessee Alfred received the Republican nomination while Bob received the Democratic nomination. Their father, Nathaniel Green Taylor, was a Methodist minister and had served in Congress as a Whig. But their mother, Emaline Haynes Taylor, was the sister of a Democratic Speaker of the Tennessee House of Representatives, Landon Carter Haynes.

It is speculated Alfred received the nomination in hopes of forcing his brother into declining the Democratic nomination. The public wasn't aware of the family's history of division. When Bob declined to withdraw, the Memphis Appeal referred to the race as "grotesque and unnatural." Alluding to England's War of the Roses, it asserted: "If we are to have the house of Taylor, like that of York with its white rose, and Lancaster with blood red rose; let the brothers of our house lovingly exhale the fragrance of the same flower."

After receiving the Democratic nomination, Bob opened the joint campaign with Alf in Madisonville on September 9. During his speech, he used the rose metaphor as a symbol of harmony: "The red rose and the white rose bloom together and shed their odors upon the same atmosphere, and gently struggling for supremacy, glorify the twilight hours." Two days later, in Cleveland, supporters began wearing red and white roses.

The brothers thought it would be best if they campaigned together; often the pair shared a room. The Taylors sought to entertain crowds on the campaign trail with music and witty remarks, rather than confuse people with issues. Both played the fiddle. Alfred was rewarded as the better musician while Bob usually had the sharper wit.

On one occasion, Bob said that while they both were born of the same mother and nursed at the same breast, Alf's milk soured on him and made him a Republican.

In his last campaign speech at Blountville before the election, Alf told the crowd, "I say to you now that after all these eventful struggles I still love my brother as of old, with an undying affection – but politically, my friends, I despise him." Bob was not to be outdone. In his rebuttal, he said, "I thank God that it has been reserved for Tennessee to declare to the world that politics cannot sever the tender relations of brotherhood. I love the man who has borne the Republican standard as dearly as in the old days long ago when we slept side by side in the same trundle bed and shared our youthful joys and griefs. I have never seen the hour that I would not willingly lay down my life to save him, nor the dawn of the day that I would not lay down my life to destroy his party!"

The Prohibition Party attempted to nominate their father to run against his sons but he declined. After being asked numerous times during the race about his choice for governor, Nathaniel said he was for Alf and added that his son, Bob, was stubborn and the "mule" of the family. Bob replied, "Well you know what the father of a mule typically is?" All laughed hilariously. Bob turned serious and said "I love my dad. He's the finest man in the world but he is for Alf because he is a Republican."

Bob won by 13,000 votes. He went on to serve three terms as governor, from 1887-1891 and again in 1897-1899. In 1907, he defeated the incumbent Senator Edward W. Carmack in the primary, and Taylor was elected by the state legislature to the seat later that year. He served from 1907 until he died in 1912.

Alfred's political career continued despite losing to his brother. He also served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives, from 1889 to 1895. In 1910, Taylor sought the Republican nomination for governor but was defeated by Ben W. Hooper. Eight years after brother Bob's death, the 71-year-old Taylor was nominated by Republicans for governor.

His opponent was the Democratic incumbent, Albert H. Roberts, who had alienated a significant portion of his party by enacting unpopular tax reforms and helping ratify the 19th Amendment (which gave women the right to vote). On election day, he defeated Roberts, 229,143 votes to 185,890. It was the state's first gubernatorial election in which women could vote.

Following his defeat in the 1922 governor's race, Taylor returned to his farm near Johnson City, Tennessee. He died on November 25, 1931, and was buried in the city's Monte Vista Cemetery.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

From Butcher Hollow To A Mansion On High

No attempt at humor today. As the immortal Luke the Drifter wrote many years ago, "A light has gone out...." To paraphrase Edwin Stanton's profound statement as President Abraham Lincoln drew his last breath, "Now, SHE belongs to the ages."

Loretta Lynn died early Tuesday morning, October 4th.

This is one of those occasions where I wish I had just a lick of real writing ability. There is no way I can convey to you my loss, the personal pain or just how special Loretta Lynn was in the life of a country boy who grew up out at the end of Stonewall Street....

We were dirt poor when it came to money back in those days. We literally counted our pennies. "How much does it cost?" always came first at everything we looked at or wished we had. We ate collards, pinto beans and cornbread. Leon "tested" every shirt, pair of pants and shoes I eventually had to wear.

But Loretta Lynn grew up poorer than us.

We were country from our red necks down to our bare feet. We listened to Ernest Tubb, Red Foley and Little Jimmy Dickens on the radio. We pronounced fire like it had an "a" in it. Chair sounded a bit like "cheer." We wore "overalls" instead of overalls. We picked cotton, kept dogs on the porch and had to walk to town.

But Loretta Lynn was more country than us.

Our Dad drove a truck for a living. He worked harder every day than most any man I've ever known. He would come home after fighting a load of hogs all the way down to Tupelo and hop out of that 1947 International and work in the garden till it was so dark you couldn't see.

But Loretta Lynn's father worked even harder than Dad.

I was 13 years old in 1960 when I first heard her voice. She was singing, "I'm a Honky Tonk Girl." To say I was mesmerized would be the classic understatement. She could sing better than Kitty Wells, which was "some more" feat in that day and age. And so what if she didn't have the sophisticated voice of Patsy Cline....she sounded more like us.

Somehow that instantly connected with me. And a love affair was born. That, I can promise you, death cannot destroy.

I don't know how you "pick" someone to idolize. We'd go to those western movies as kids and some of us liked Roy more than Gene, or some would choose Lash LaRue over Whip Wilson....or vice versa.

It was the same with baseball. We'd sit on the steps up at Woodrow Kennon's Grocery Store and argue over who was the better centerfielder, Mickey Mantle or Willie Mays. Or who was the best hitter or the best pitcher or the fastest runner.

Everyone had a favorite. My heart picked Loretta Lynn. And it has never wavered.

You talk about being honest! Her husband would stay out late at night drinking and running around. Loretta wrote a number one country hit "Don't Come Home a Drinking with Loving on Your Mind." When other women hung around Mr. Lynn maybe just a trifling too long, she had another hit with "You Ain't Woman Enough to Take My Man."

And, of course, her autobiography, "Coal Miner's Daughter" told a story that resonates with every person in the world that grew up in places like the end of Stonewall Street.

The first real girlfriend I ever had looked through my billfold and laughed when she discovered the only picture I carried in it was Loretta Lynn. I quit her on the spot. My first wife has spent 48 years telling everyone she comes in a "close" second to Loretta Lynn. That may not be exactly true, but I don't discourage her from saying it.

I spent a magical summer in 1968 working at the Grand Ole Opry. I got to see all the country music stars up close and personal. And let me tell you, there were a lot of nice folks there.....but Loretta topped them all! By a country mile! She was just the absolutely most genuine, sincere and nicest, down-to-earth person I've ever seen.

She was way better than I had even imagined!

And you can bet your last dollar I told her I loved her just as soon as I got the chance! She gave me a hug, laughed and said, "I appreciate that son."

It was a match made in Heaven.

I could go on....and on. But you get the message. And I've got to stop. The light in here seems a bit dim. And water from somewhere keeps dropping on my paper as I write.

I've been singing an old Johnny Tillotson song over and over for the past week. It is not some kind of tribute to Loretta. It's about the way I feel tonight, "and it keeps right on a-hurtin' since you're gone..."

Respectfully,
Kes

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

While a Speaker is temporarily discharging the powers and duties of the governor, the Speaker would not be required to resign as Speaker or to resign as a member of the legislature; but the Speaker would not be able to preside as Speaker or vote as a member of the legislature. A Speaker who is temporarily discharging the powers and duties of the governor would not get the governor's salary but would get the Speaker's salary. The amendment would also exempt a Speaker who is temporarily discharging the powers and duties of the governor from provisions in the Constitution that would otherwise prohibit the Speaker from exercising the powers of the governor and from simultaneously holding more than one state office.  Question: Shall Article III, Section 12 of the Constitution of Tennessee be amended by adding the following language immediately following the current language in the Section?  Whenever the Governor transmits to the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, a written, signed declaration that the Governor is unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office, the Speaker of the Senate shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as Acting Governor, or if that office is unoccupied, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as Acting Governor, until the Governor transmits to the same officials a written, signed declaration that the Governor is able to discharge the powers and duties of the office. ## Carroll County Sheriff Department Reports

Multiple Charges — Toni Bennett 28, of Hollow Rock was cited for drug paraphernalia and transported to Madison County for active warrants.

Matthew Herrin 34, of New Johnsonville was cited for drug paraphernalia also on October 5.

Deputy Meier observed a truck speeding (48/40 mph zone) and initiated a traffic stop. While writing the driver Matthew Herrin a warning ticket for speeding, the deputy noticed nervous behaviors from the driver and the passenger, identified as Toni Bennet. Herrin became defensive towards the narcotic topics and denied the deputies consent to search the truck. Meier called for a K-9 to come to the location. The canine gave a positive alert on the passenger side of the truck. Deputies located a glass pipe, clear bag with white powder residue, fake urine, two black magnetic boxes; one of which was stuck underneath the frame of the truck, and a new container of clear plastic bags.

Domestic Assault — Justin Ray Gateley, 30, of Cedar Grove was charged with his third offense for a domestic assault.

On October 2, dispatch received a call from the victim's mother in reference to a welfare check on her daughter. The concern was due to her daughter's boyfriend, Justin Gateley, having past domestic assault history. The mother stated Gateley messaged a picture of the victim crying to her mother's phone. Deputy Meier was en route when the victim's mother called and stated her daughter was out in Camden now due to her getting away from the defendant. Officer Josh Boyd performed the welfare check with it being in another county. She had apparent bruising and swelling on her face, neck, back, shoulder, and left side of her torso. The victim stated Gateley assaulted her because he thought she stole some pill tablets from him, after he assaulted her, she left the residence. The victim refused to write a statement with him already being on probation for aggravated domestic and having two prior domestic charges. The verbal statement from Morgan and the severity of her injuries allowed Deputy Meier to charge Gateley with Domestic Assault: third offense.

Drug Violation — On October 1, Deputy Sevans located a small plastic bag containing a white powder substance. The substance field tested positive for cocaine at the Carroll County Shooting Complex.

All Other Larceny — On October 5, Investigator Adam Meggs received a call from Bryant Allen at TBI Bomb and Arson. Allen advised there was a burglary at a residence in Benton County. Deputies later located a red HHR sitting vacant in a field with TVs in the back seat. Deputies were able to locate the owner, who stated he sold the vehicle with a blown motor to Auto Salvage 22 six months earlier. Mary at Auto Salvage 22 claimed the title was still there, except the vehicle was gone off the lot. Deputies were able to inform Auto Salvage 22 the vehicle was in a field and towed to Benton County Sheriff's Department.

Multiple Charges — Elizabeth Ann Bugg, 31, of Nashville was charged in Carroll County for a DUI, first offense; driving with suspended, first offense, and violation of implied consent. She was given a $2500 bond with a mandatory eight-hour stay in jail.

On October 4, Deputy Coleman initiated a traffic stop for failure to maintain lane on Highway 77. Upon contact with the driver, identified as Elizabeth Bugg, the deputy noticed an odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle. Coleman asked the driver to get out of the vehicle and noticed an intoxicating beverage odor coming from her person. Bugg did poorly on the field sobriety tests. She was placed under arrest for a DUI, with a check of her drivers license status, revealed it was currently suspended. When she was advised of the implied consent law, she refused to submit a blood/ breath test.

Driving on Revoked — Kenneth H Selsor, 56, of Huntingdon was arrested for driving on revoked, first offense.

On October 5, Deputy Hamilton initiated a traffic stop on a vehicle for failure to maintain lane. Upon contact he identified the driver as Kenneth Selsor. A check of his driver's license revealed it was revoked with no reinstated date for a DUI out of Carroll County.

Football Playoffs on the Horizon

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

With Week 8 of the regular season out of the way, the state football playoffs are coming on the horizon and it's time to take an early peek on who may make it and who they are likely to play.

McKENZIE

The Rebels are in command of Region 6A after beating Dresden two weeks ago. They defeated Gleason last Friday, October 7 to improve to 8-0 on the year with an open date this week. After the open date, they will host Bruceton on Friday, October 21 for Senior Night and then travel to McEwen for the last regular season game on Friday, October 28. If they finish unbeaten, they are guaranteed to host the first two rounds of the playoffs.

In Region 5A, Fayetteville is 8-0 with an open date last week and will host Red Bank this week and close out with region games against Huntland and Eagleville. Moore County, which was a play-off opponent of the Rebels last year, has three region games to close out the regular season against Collinwood, Cornersville, and Huntland.

The third and fourth teams are likely first round playoff opponents for the Rebels depending on how the rest of the regular season plays out. Eagleville is 4-3 with a week off last week and three region games against Huntland, Collinwood, and Fayetteville left on the schedule. Cornersville is sitting in fourth place with a 2-5 record and two region games to play against Wayne County and Moore County.

The likely first round opponents for McKenzie will be either Eagleville or Cornersville at home on Friday, November 4. If the Rebels win, they will host either McEwen or Moore County in round two on Friday, November 11. Round three will potentially be a rematch of last year's round three game against Fayetteville. The semi-final game on Black Friday, November 25 could either be Lake County or a rematch against Trenton.

HUNTINGDON

The Mustangs have some control of their destiny and could land either in second or third in Region 7AA. They are 6-2 and tied for second in Region 7AA thanks to Westview's upset of Union City two weeks ago. The Mustangs hosted Westview last week losing a close one to the Chargers. They finish out the regular season with games at Trenton and at Union City.

If Huntingdon were to beat Union City, they would finish second in the region. The first round would likely be against Memphis Mitchell, KIPP Memphis, or Oakhaven at home. If they lose to Union City, the Mustangs will fall to third and hit the road to somewhere in Memphis.

WEST CARROLL

The War Eagles are 4-3 and 1-2 in Region 7A after losing to Lake County two weeks ago. They won their first four games and lost three in a row. West Carroll had an open date last week and travels to Greenfield for a region contest this Friday. They have Scotts Hill and will host Trenton for Senior Night on October 28.

West Carroll's playoff picture is pretty clear. It appears the War Eagles will finish either third or fourth in Region 7A. Either one of those places will have them traveling to Memphis for the first and second rounds. If they finish third, they will likely play Memphis Middle College. If it is fourth place, they will face Memphis Arts and Science.

Wildcats Remain Unbeaten With Home Win Over Patriots

MCKENZIE — The No. 8 Bethel Wildcats returned to the friendly confines of Wildcat Stadium Saturday night to host the Patriots of the University of the Cumberland.

The Cats handed head coach Michael Jasper a birthday present with their 43-13 win over the visitors from the Commonwealth. Bethel moved to 6-0 and 3-0 in the MSC. UC dropped to 3-3 and 1-3. It was the 12th meeting between the two programs with the Patriots holding an 8-4 advantage in the series.

UC got on the board first blocking a Bethel punt. UC's Damon Byrnes-Mitchell blocked the punt, which was recovered by Adam Foulk, who ran it into the endzone for a score putting Cumberland in front 7-0. The Wildcats responded with a 14 play, 80 yard drive which was capped off by a one yard rushing score by Quashawn Ford. The point after was no good. Bethel trailed 7-6 after one.

The Wildcats took the lead at the 11:36 mark of the second quarter on a Terrance Roberts 12-yard touchdown run. The two-point conversion attempt failed but Bethel led 12-7. Joaquin Collazo found Avont Burris from 20 yards out and the Cats extended their margin to 18-7. Austin Abbott nailed the point after and Bethel led 19-7. After UC scored to pull the Patriots to within 19-13, the Cats took a 22-13 lead on a 36-yard field goal by Abbott as time expired in the first half.

Bethel scored 21 unanswered points in the second half to win 43-13. Scores included a Taylor Yancy five-yard scoring run. Collazo teamed up with Kenny Williams on a six-yard touchdown pass. Collazo then connected on a 52-yard scoring strike to Davius Prather with 9:46 left for the final points of the night.

Bethel put up a season high 642 yards in total offense. The Cat defense held UC to just 150 yards in total yardage. Collazo was 30-of-55 in passing for 463 yards.

Roberts had 94 rushing yards. Burrus caught seven passes for a career high 165 yards. Prather had three receptions for 77 yards while Cobey Johnson caught five passes for 77 yards.

Vonte Bates and Brody Franks led the defense with six total tackles each. Brandon Moore had an interception for the Wildcats.

Coach Jasper was pleased with the win. "Give the Patriots credit as they came to play. We had to earn this win as you always must do in this league. I thought we really picked things up in the second quarter. We became more aggressive on both sides of the ball, and it paid off. I thought Avont Burris was a huge factor. Collazo did a lot of good things and the defense was great again this week. We will get back to work Monday and get ready for Campbellsville."

The Wildcats travel to Campbellsville to battle the Tigers. Kick-off is scheduled for 12 p.m. CST.

Mustangs Lose Close One to Westview

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

This game was definitely a typical contest between Huntingdon and Westview Friday night, October 7, at Paul Ward Stadium. It was tough, physical, and very close from start to finish and decided the Region 7AA championship. Westview's Chargers won the game but the Mustangs gave them all they could handle!

The Chargers took the ball first on the kickoff and immediately faced pressure from the Mustang defense going three and out on the possession. Huntingdon started their first offensive attempt at their own 40 and drove to the Westview 41 before having to punt. The punt resulted in a touch-back placing the Chargers at their own 20 to start their next possession.

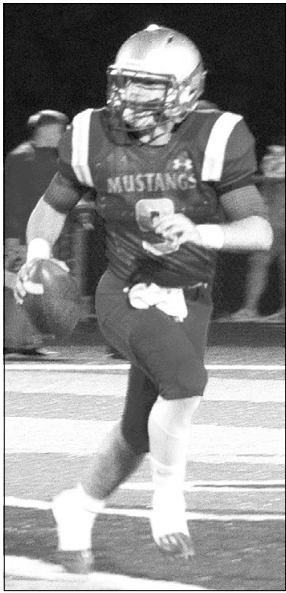

Two plays into the possession, Westview fumbled after a long run with Huntingdon recovering the ball near the Mustang 25. They mounted a drive that went to the Westview 35 where a short punt backed the Chargers to their own 10-yard line. They scored first on the first play from scrimmage on a 90-yard touchdown run with under a minute to play in the first quarter. The PAT was good for a 7-0 Westview lead.

The Mustangs opened the second quarter with possession and drove into Westview territory again before being forced to punt. After another touchback, Westview struck again with an 80-yard touchdown pass with 7:13 left in the second quarter. The PAT was good for a 14-0 Charger lead.

Huntingdon got a decent return on the kickoff and started their next drive from the Mustang 41. They hammered away at Westview's defense with the Mustang run game mixed with the occasional pass and scored their first touchdown on an 8-yard touchdown run by Ashton Hutcherson. The PAT was good cutting the Charger lead in half 14-7 with 2:20 left in the second quarter.

Westview wasted little time moving back downfield scoring their third touchdown on a 24-yard pass with 18 seconds left in the half with the PAT good for a 21-7 Charger lead. Huntingdon finished off the first half clock with a couple of plays going into halftime trailing by two scores.

The Mustangs got the ball first in the second half and mounted one of their clock-eating drives that took nearly half of the third quarter clock punching it in the end zone on a 1-yard run by Ashton Hutcherson. The PAT was good cutting the Charger lead to 21-14 with 6:45 left in the third quarter.

Westview answered with a quick drive that resulted in another Charger touchdown on a 7-yard touchdown with the PAT no good increasing their lead to 27-14 late in the third quarter.

Huntingdon got good field position to start their next possession which rolled into the fourth quarter. The Mustangs scored with 11:48 left in the fourth quarter on a 9-yard Gray Eubanks touchdown run. The PAT was good cutting the lead to 27-21 with the Chargers still in the lead.

The Mustangs got the ball back after Westview threw incomplete passes on third and fourth down. Huntingdon took over the ball with 7:59 left in the game and chewed up slightly over four minutes on a drive that resulted in a tying touchdown. The score came on an Ashton Hutcherson 1-yard TD but had the extra point blocked leaving the score tied 27-27 with 3:21 remaining to play.

Westview took the ball after the kickoff and used an up-tempo style offense and scored what turned out to be the winning TD on a 15-yard pass with 42 seconds left to play. The PAT was good for a 34-27 lead. Huntingdon got the ball back to midfield but ran out of time losing a hard-fought contest.

Westview secured the Region 7AA title with the win having already defeated Union City. The Chargers will host the first two rounds of the playoffs in Martin. Meanwhile, second place is up for grabs between Huntingdon and Union City who will play each other October 28 at Union City. The winner will finish second and host a first round playoff game at home. The loser will likely finish third and travel to Region 8AA's second place team on November 4.

The Mustangs are off this week with an open date and will be back in action on October 21 at Trenton before finishing the regular season at Union City.

City Constructs New Pavilion in Downtown

MCKENZIE — McKenzie has a new pavilion in the downtown park adjacent to the Splash Pad and near the historic railroad depot. The new pavilion was constructed by members of the Fire Department and Parks and Recreation Department and paid through a federal grant known as the American Rescue Plan and partially funded by the Rotary Club of McKenzie.

It is part of the campus with the historic Red Caboose, the small music park and Splash Pad. The pavilion, 16-foot by 26-foot, will serve for picnics and birthday parties and provide much needed shade for parents watching their children at the Splash Pad. Soon picnic tables and benches will be installed.

The city installed a roof covering to match the tile roof of the depot.
