Packing the park, shooting fireworks

Annual July 4 event returns

BY ELIZABETH A. ELLIOTT
news@enterprise.com

It's nearly time to celebrate the fourth of July and Logan is providing much of the entertainment July 3-4, beginning with the Pack the Park event, sponsored by the Logan Chamber of Commerce.

From 2-7 p.m. on July 3, people are invited to the city park for several events. A cornhole tournament with registration beginning at 1 p.m. with a three-game minimum, a beer garden, inflatables and games for kids. Wristbands will be for sale.

Food will be available and all proceeds will be going to the Logan Volunteer Fire Department to help raise funds for building a new fire hall.

The annual fireworks show will start at dusk at the Logan Magnolia football field.

Continuing the celebration July 4 will be the annual parade. Float sign ups begin at 9 a.m. The parade will begin at 10:30 a.m. The Harrison County Sheriff Brandon Doiel leads the parade. Other participants include veterans, VFW and Boy Scouts.

The parade's volunteer of the year is Gary Guge. Guge moved to Logan in 1963 and accepted a position from ISU working with Harrison County Extension Service. He has been a member of Logan Kiwanis for 52 years, served as president of Kiwanis and chairman of the legislative coffees held for the past 40 years. The coffees are sponsored by the Logan Chamber of Commerce and the Logan Kiwanis.

Guge is also a member of the Logan Chamber of Commerce, and was involved in 4-H at 40 county fairs, helping with the organizations of 4-H clubs still active after 50 years.

Guge retired in 2004 after 40 years, has been growing Christmas trees for 40 years and owns Logan Fitness gym to keep it open for local families.

"I get embarrassed," Guge said. "I'm very honored to have been selected for this."

The Woodbine Rodeo Queen made an appearance at the Pisgah Play Days Parade, looking fabulous and had all the children excited to see her.

PISGAH PLAY DAYS fun in the rain

BY KENDRA BECKNER

Even in the rain, the fun must go on! After having to take a break due to COVID-19 the fun was back in Pisgah. Saturday, June 15, was the annual Pisgah celebration, Pisgah Play Days, and it was back in full swing.

The "playing" had a wet start as showers rolled through the little town. Although you were hardly able to tell it was raining from all the fun being had. A parade started the day off with both Pisgah natives and others from surrounding communities gathering.

Many businesses and clubs had floats or vehicles in the parade line up.

The parade ended in the area of the park that was packed with fun things. Vendors, bounce houses, food, pony rides, and a petting zoo were just a few of the things happening in the Pisgah park.

Along with the obvious fun you could also see and hear the joy of everyone gathered, happy to be together once again for the fun event. Despite being small, the town of Pisgah showed they know how to play and have a good time.

5H Enterprises LLC had this cute helper to wave at those watching the parade this past Saturday in Pisgah.

Despite the rain Pisgah Play Days went on this past Saturday. The fun started with a parade.

Pony rides were among the many fun events happening in Pisgah.

Volunteers for Mo Valley Rally days also helped to make the parade fun while reminding everyone that the rally days will be the 17th and 18th of September.

The park in Pisgah was packed with people playing and having fun this past Saturday.

The dog park was named best in state on website

BY ELIZABETH A. ELLIOTT
news@enterprisepub.com

A local dog park was named best in the state on BringFido.com.

Dog owners in Missouri Valley, as well as those traveling through, can lay claim to the top dog park in the state.

Billy Francis, international travel editor for BringFido, visited the dog park.

"Last year, we embarked on a cross country road trip and came across the dog park on the way," he said. "I was impressed with the cleanliness, agility equipment and unique dog sculptures outside."

Francis said he weighed it up against other options in the state using criteria like cleanliness, reviews on the site, popularity and best amenities, and came to the conclusion that it deserved the number one spot.

"It's also a great stop on a road trip with a dog as it's just off the interstate," he said.

The website has a description of the dog park, that reads in part, "Hot dogs can cool down at the water station. This park is the first and the only off-leash dog park in Harrison County Iowa."

Changes to Missouri Valley city park in the works

BY ISABELLE FOLAND
ifoland05@gmail.com

Mary Jo Buckley of the park board was present at the June 21 Missouri Valley City Council meeting to provide the council with information regarding the mulch replacement project in the city park.

Buckley informed the board that she has been in contact with Outdoor Recreation Products in regards to replacing the mulch in the city park. The overall plan for the project is to replace the current wooden mulch with rubber mulch.

The council approved the park board's request to make the $12,500 down payment to Outdoor Recreation Products in order to lock in the existing bid of $29,418 for the mulch. As far as the payment of this project goes, Buckley said that the council has given the park board $15,000 from last year's budget to go towards this project, so that amount combined with the $12,500 down payment would only cover $27,500 of the overall $29,418 cost, which would be increased with the addition of a weed mat and staples.

The council and Buckley discussed whether or not to include a weed mat underneath the new mulch to prevent weeds growing in the park. The weed mat would cost $2,130, and the needed staples would cost $638. Ultimately, the council decided that the weed mat would be something they would want to look into, and they may be able to "shop around" in the near future to find a cheaper price.

Buckley added that some fundraising or donations may be needed in order to cover the leftover few thousand dollars, but the rest of the money owed can be paid in July when the council and park board can come up with the rest of the money. This timing will also work out more favorably due to the upcoming county fair.

"I kind of thought that maybe we probably better wait until after the fair anyhow to try and tear (the park) up," said Buckley.

Brief update on Melody Oaks Otta Seal project

ifoland05@gmail.com

Harrison County engineer Steven Struble brought a quick update about the Melody Oaks Otta Seal project to the Harrison County Board of Supervisors at their regular meeting Thursday, June 23.

Struble informed the board that Gail Hatcher, the assistant road foreman, has been in contact with the development council president of the project, and has reviewed the trees they have marked to be taken down in the Melody Oaks area.

"Removing these (trees) will be a great improvement to help maintain surface and subsurface drainage, and with snow and ice removal," Struble said.

According to Struble, a tree removal service will have to be hired in order to remove some of the larger trees.

Struble also provided a bit more information on a more definitive start time for this project. He said that the Midwest Coatings company still thinks that a mid-August start is possible.

PUTTING ON THE BIG BOOTS

Something we can count on

DEANN (WOLKOW) KRUEMPEL

It's always good to know there are things in life we can count on. Flip a switch and let there be light. Turn a faucet and Voila! Water pours forth! Every morning just before dawn I can count on a wake-up call from Brooster. Actually 20 wake-up calls—at least.

Brooster is my Delaware-Cuckoo Maran-cross rooster. He is NOT a sweet, lovable cuddly critter. Once a week, Brooster sneaks up behind me (obviously thinking he needs to assert himself as the alpha male), ready to attack. His two-inch spurs have connected with my legs several times. I once promised myself I would never keep a mean rooster, but two factors have prevented Brooster from becoming chicken noodle: First of all, a rooster ensures fertile eggs in the event that I want to hatch chicks. Secondly, I count on Brooster to defend the flock. Weasels, hawks, bobcats, coyotes and other predators abound here in the country. I have read that roosters will fight to the death for their women. Every morning when I hear that rooster crow, I smile and go back to sleep, secure in the knowledge that my chickens have a protector.

But this morning something was different. First-light song birds broke the morning silence, calling and answering through the trees. I waited for Brooster. No cock-a-doodle-do. No daily wake-up calls. Nothing.

Images of the dreaded weasel flew into my head. Had one slipped through wires? Were Brooster and all the hens lying dead in bloody carnage? I pictured poor Brooster, dying a hero's death.

I stepped into my chicken-print Sloggers and cautiously plodded to the coop, dreading what I might find. The hens were outside in the small fenced-in area under their house. They moved about nervously, pecking at a morsel here and there on the ground. Where was Brooster?

The yard was quiet. Too quiet. I stopped and looked around. Suddenly, just behind the coop I saw movement! A very large dark-gray animal strutted back and forth. Its tail opened into a giant fan, then closed. Wings drooped. The whitish head turned and the long red snood shook with a "gobble-gobble-gobble." A tom turkey danced his courtship ritual for the chickens in the coop. He wanted to know my hens--in the biblical sense!

A look inside the main coop revealed Brooster, cowering on the back roost. He had taken one look at that enormous bird and cackled, "You're on your own, girls!" Some protector!

When the gobbler saw me, he sauntered into the woods. Eventually, the lily-livered feathery wimp, Brooster, stuck his beak out to make sure the coast was clear.

Tonight when I opened the coop door to let the flock out to range, I told Brooster he was pathetic. "You are such a chicken!" I laughed at the pun and turned away. The hens clucked in agreement.

Just then, something sneaked up behind me. It crowded. It was Brooster, ready to attack.

Well, I guess it is good to know there are some things in life we can count on.

We tend to think of patience and tolerance as the ability to put up with others and to refrain from rushing or criticizing or otherwise becoming annoyed with them. But patience is more properly incultured by having an attitude of loving kindness towards others. If you try to be truly kind and caring to others, the patience and tolerance of their foibles will naturally come. This loving kindness is closely allied with empathy; the better we understand others the easier it is to forgive them. The same is true with us and how we treat ourselves. We can easily become impatient and intolerant of ourselves if we don't have a gentle, caring attitude towards ourselves. This doesn't mean that we shouldn't strive to improve or develop our skills and our character, and to become better people. It just means that we should be more forgiving of our own foibles and to treat ourselves with the same kindness that we would expect of a loving parent. The old saying that charity begins at home applies here, and the first one we should show kindness and charity towards is ourselves. And just as empathy and kindness are allied in our dealings with others, we should seek to understand ourselves better and from that self-knowledge will naturally come a loving kindness towards oneself. "A person's wisdom yields patience; it is to one's glory to overlook an offense." Proverbs 19:11 NIV
- Christopher Simon

2023 Loess Hills Calendar photographers announced

The annual Loess Hills calendar which celebrates the Loess Hills of Western Iowa has been published since 1995. The 2023 issue has arrived at the Loess Hills Visitor Center and Gift Shop in Moorhead, in spite of COVID-19 related delays of paper and labor shortages. As usual it is printed on high quality paper stock which exhibit the beauty of the Hills.

Larry Green of Mondamin stole the cover of the 2023 calendar with a colorful image of Milk Weed downy seeds "Blowing in the Wind."

Dave Burmeister of Logan has several images in the calendar. "On the Prowl" a coyote on an icy pond in Harrison County was dedicated to January. His image titled "Walk with Me" taken in Harrison County is a path following a ridge top. "Trail on the Ridge" shows off July glory in Monona County. A favorite agricultural subject in September is the scene of a red combine, "Harvest in the Hills"—a view of combining a field of beans with golden hills and a pond in the distance. The "First Snow" taken in Harrison County, is of a heavy November snow cloaking trees with a bright sunset in the distance.

Featured for February, Mike Whye of Council Bluffs, another prolific photographer, has a "Lofty View" of partially snow covered Loess Catsteps reaching into the distance of Plymouth County. His "Hillside Beauty"—brilliant pink Loco Weeds abounding on a hillside in Pottawatomie County is the May selection. Taken in Pottawatomie, Whye's October image is for hunters. "Ducks on Lake Manawa" are observed up close. Whye's April "Spring Delight—Bloodroot Emerges" is a not-soon-to-be forgotten image taken in Pottawatomie County.

June's "Morning Dew on Yucca" taken in Harrison County, a favorite subject of the area, was captured by Ruth Pickle, Moorhead.

A grouping of four images all taken in Woodbury County, by Randall Williams of Sioux City, illustrate sunrises, fall colors and the Calumet Trail for August.

Moorhead's Pam Stillman's, red barn "Sprinkled with Snow" suggests Christmas morning in the Loess Hills.

Small images all taken by Iowa photographers were selected to compliment the large pictures are by Larry

Downtown Logan housing grant

SWIPCO grant application nets more than $178,000

Southwest Iowa's regional council of governments provided grant writing assistance to bring the funds, which will add two affordable housing units, to the City of Logan.

Affordable housing in southwest Iowa recently got a boost from the Iowa Economic Development Authority. A grant administered by Southwest Iowa Planning Council (SWIPCO) will provide $178,984 to renovate and add two upper-story housing units in the City of Logan.

"Housing is just one of the things that are more expensive right now as we recover from the disruption of the last two years," SWIPCO

Community Development Specialist Mackenzie Bandow said. "In addition to improving the aesthetic of downtown, this grant will help the City of Logan ensure there is affordable housing for more of its residents."

Bandow also praised the city's commitment to affordable housing, and noted more units make the city a more inviting place to live for young professionals who may be looking to start a family someday. "There are 5 residential units in Logan's downtown district, and all are occupied with a waitlist," Bandow added.

The project will include a complete interior overhaul of the second level of the building at 307 E 7th Street in Logan. Boarded windows will be reopened, and a new stairwell built to provide a secure, main street entrance to the residential units. In addition to two more one-bedroom, one-bath housing units, the renovation brings new economic activity in town. While the upper story has been vacant for many years, the building's main level will soon house an expansion of Logan Flours, an existing local bakery.

The project's total cost is estimated to be just under $240,000 with $60,000 in private dollars in addition to the Downtown Housing Grant. The grant is funded with State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds authorized under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021.

SWIPCO routinely provides grant writing and administration services to its member communities in Cass, Fremont, Harrison, Mills, Montgomery, Page, Pottawattamie, and Shelby Counties and has brought over $100 million in grants to the region in the last two years alone.

SLOW DOWN AND WATCH YOUR SPEED

With the assistance of a GTSB grant Sheriff Doiel was able to purchase a speed trailer for Harrison County to help motorists remember to slow down.

Keep Iowa Beautiful contest launched

Summer is here and Keep Iowa Beautiful is announcing the 13th Annual Keep Iowa Beautiful Photography Contest. Iowans have the next six months to grab their cameras, or phones, and enter one or all of the five categories. "This is a great way for Iowans to share what they like about Iowa," said Kevin Techau, Keep Iowa Beautiful Executive Director. "There are five categories to enter your favorite photo of what makes you proud to be an Iowan and captures the beauty and spirit of Iowa," added Techau. "Again, this year our contest will feature over $2,000 in cash awards." The two-phase contest begins now with entry deadline on December 17, 2022. Each of the five categories will be awarded 1st place: $100, 2nd place: $75, and 3rd place: $50. January 15-29, 2023, the five first-place winners will be featured on Keep Iowa Beautiful social media for voting and selecting the Public Favorite Photo. The winner will receive an additional $100. The Robert D.

Ray Best of Show Awards, determined by a distinguished panel, will also be announced at that time. The Robert D. Ray Best of Show award amounts are as follows; 1st place: $500, 2nd place: $250 and 3rd place: $100. Randi Ray, Robert and Billie Ray's eldest daughter, has agreed to serve on a panel of judges. "Photography was one of my Dad's favorite pastimes," said Randi. "During his 14 years as governor, he and my Mother traveled to many places around the world and he always had a camera around his neck." Randi added, "Dad was so proud of Iowans and their efforts to make Iowa a great place to live." The five categories are: Iowa Landscape Capture Iowa's beauty through depictions of Iowa's landscape, including but not limited to: farm fields, rolling hills, and wooded forests. Iowa Water Feature Iowa's beautiful water systems with depictions of Iowa rivers, streams, ponds and lakes. Iowa Cities Iowa's urban centers are hubs of history, culture, and beauty. This category features depictions of Iowa's cities, street scenes, and urban landmarks. Iowans in Action This category aims to capture the spirit of Iowa through depictions of the people that live, work, and play in Iowa. All means of action that can be captured: biking, running, fishing, hunting and hiking are but a few. Iowa Wildlife Iowa is home to a variety of beautiful critters. This category aims to showcase Iowa's beauty through depictions of Iowa's wildlife animals: mammals, fish, birds, bugs and more! A fee is required for each photo entered. Contest rules and entry guidelines are on KIB's website: www.keepiowabeautiful.com/photograph-contest/

Woodbine Rodeo set for July 7, 8, 9

Woodbine Saddle Club to Celebrate 61st Annual Rodeo

The Woodbine Saddle Club will be hosting their 61st annual rodeo Friday, July 8 and Saturday, July 9 at their grounds on the west edge of Woodbine.

Rodeo weekend gets started on Thursday, July 7, with Kid's Night at 6 p.m. The highlight of Kid's Night is the Mutton Busting preliminaries where kids under 60 pounds have the opportunity to ride a sheep. The top 30 riders will perform at either Friday or Saturday night's rodeo. Other activities will include horseback rides, games and a sneak peak at the specialty act Rawhide and Dusty. Admission and games are free, but there is a small charge for the Mutton Busting.

Rodeo will start Friday and Saturday at 7:15 p.m. with Queen's Entry where all past Woodbine Rodeo Queens in attendance will be recognized along with visiting royalty and the current queen, Kaydee Meseck, will be introduced.

Grand Entry will be at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

"Not all rodeos do as elaborate a Grand Entry as Woodbine does," said Irene Blazek, president of the Woodbine Saddle Club. "It's an opportunity for the spectators to see the cowboys and cowgirls that will compete each night up close."

Riders will set the pivots for the parade of cowboys and cowgirls, which will be led by Melissa Pauley. Rodeo action begins afterwards, which will include all of the traditional rodeo events and the new Ranch Bronc Riding.

Back again this year for both nights is specialty act Rawhide and Dusty, featuring their longhorn steers Jesse & Frank. The act includes trick roping, bullwhip artistry and daring acts on horseback. Rafter K Cowgirls Equestrian Drill Team will perform Saturday night. Funny man John "Lefty" Kee will also be back this year to entertain the crowd.

2022 Rodeo Queen Kaydee Meseck, from Charter Oak, is the daughter of Chad and Mary Meseck. She is a recent graduate of COU High School and is attending Iowa Western Community College with the goal of getting her BSN.

"Our history and heritage mean the world to us. We can never thank the founding members enough," said Blazek. This year the club will be honoring one of their founding members, Murray Hubbard, and one of their past queens, Mary Kelley Plowman, who passed away since last year's rodeo.

The Rodeo Parade will be Saturday, July 9, in Woodbine, beginning at 11 a.m. The parade theme is "County Pride, Country Wide." Line-up directors will be located at 3rd and Lincolnway. Grand Marshals will be Harrison County 4-H Clubs and Woodbine Saddle Club youth members.

The Woodbine Saddle Club was formally organized in 1961 as a group of families that enjoyed getting together with their horses. Over the years, improvements have been made to the grounds including updating the calf pens, a permanent building with a complete modern kitchen and most recently, handicapped seating. Plans are in the works to update the bleacher seating.

"Rodeo takes a lot of volunteers and teamwork. We are always looking for more people to help for a couple hours one evening, especially in the food stand, which is the only air conditioned spot on the grounds," stated Blazek. Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Blazek at 712-592-1032.

WSC also hosts monthly Fun Days throughout the summer months. Dates for this year are July 24, August 21 and September 18. Games will include poles, egg race, barrels, flag race, keyhole and other fun games to do with your horse.

Since 1999, the club has hosted bi-annual horse and tack sales in the spring and fall. Over the years, this has become a major fundraiser for the club, allowing them to continue to offer events to the community. This year the club will be hosting one horse sale on Saturday, August 13th at the 4-County Fairgrounds in Dunlap.

The club also rides in local parades to promote the club and annual rodeo. "The horses are always a hit in parades," said Blazek.

For more information about the club and activities or to join the club, check out their Facebook page, website www.woodbinesaddleclub.com, or email Blazek at woodbinesaddleclub@gmail.com.
