State auditor questions numerous Stockton practices

WELCOME TO STOCKTON

By Layce DeLong of the Advocate News

On Friday, Nov. 30 the Advocate News received two reports from the office of Auditor of State for the state of Iowa. The first showed that the city has failed to make several changes recommended by the state auditor in 2016; the second uncovered more than $3,000 worth of misused city funds.

The report on the Status of Findings and Recommendations from the city's Periodic Examination Report from July 7, 2016 stated, "The city council has a fiduciary responsibility to provide oversight of the city's operations and financial transactions. Oversight is typically defined as the 'watchful and responsible care' a governing body exercises in its fiduciary capacity. Many of the findings included in this report indicate the city council needs to exercise additional fiduciary oversight. While two of the 13 findings reported in the Periodic Examination Report dated July 7, 2016 were corrected and three were partially corrected, eight of the findings are reported as 'not corrected.' Four additional findings identified during the follow-up procedures are also included in this report.'

The second report by the Auditor of State detailed a special investigation into the city of Stockton that uncovered the misused city funds and equipment, particularly by its mayor Patrick Baker. The following is the release on the special investigation provided by the auditor.

Auditor of State Mary Mosiman today (Nov. 30) released a report on a special investigation of the city of Stockton for the period Jan. 1, 2016 through March 31, 2018. The special investigation was performed as a result of concerns regarding certain financial transactions including payroll, reimbursements and donations collected for city-sponsored events held for the youth in the community.

Mosiman reported the special investigation identified $3,303.77 of improper and unsupported disbursements and undeposited collections. Mosiman reported the improper disbursements of $3,051.94 included:

$1,435.00 of improper payroll payments to Robert Russell, the former city maintenance employee, for additional hours he recorded but did not work. According to the former maintenance employee, the mayor told him to "pad" his hours and pay him (the mayor) for the work he helped with. The mayor denied this occurred.

$1,299.47 of improper payments to U.S. Cellular for the mayor's cellphone plan and $54.54 of improper mileage reimburse*ments to the mayor.*

The $85.03 of unsupported disbursements was a payment made to the mayor for which no support was located.

Mosiman also reported the $166.80 of un-deposited collections was the result of rebates issued by Menards to the city which were used by the mayor to offset expenses he incurred on behalf of the city. The mayor repaid the $166.80 in rebates to the city in April 2017 and subsequently submitted a request for reimbursement and supporting documentation totaling $211.64 which included $166.80 of > supply purchases he made for the city.

In addition. Mosiman reported donations and disbursements for city sponsored events held at City Hall for the youth of the community did not include adequate internal controls over donations and disbursements for the events.

Mosiman also reported it was not possible to determine if additional amounts were improperly disbursed or if additional collections were not properly deposited because adequate documentation was not available.

In addition, Mosiman reported the mayor used city property for personal use in violation of the Constitution and the Code of Iowa. The mayor admitted to using the city's backhoe to dig a hole for a resident's pet, digging a foundation for a basement and using the city's plow in the city of Durant. The mayor stated he had received verbal approval from the city council. However, the city council cannot approve an act which does not meet the requirements of the Constitution or the Code of Iowa which prohibits the use of city equipment for personal use. In addition, Chapter 21.3 of the Code of Iowa requires "The minutes shall show the results of each vote taken and information sufficient to indicate the vote of each member present. The vote of each member present shall be made public at the open session." As a result, verbal approval does not meet the requirements of the code and does not constitute an official action of the city council.

The report includes recommendations to strengthen the city's internal controls, such as improvements to segregation of duties and ensuring all disbursements are properly supported and the public purpose is documented.

Copies of the report have been filed with the Muscatine County Sheriff's Office, the Iowa Division of Criminal Investigation, the Muscatine County Attorney's Office and the Attorney General's Office. A copy of the report is available for review in the Office of Auditor of State's website at https://auditor.iowa.gov/ reports/audit-reports/.

Former employee claims mayor asked him to 'pad' hours

The 61-page report (which can be viewed at wdadvocatenews.com) details the findings made in the release. According to the report, in December 2017, the city clerk contacted the city's attorney to notify him of issues with the city maintenance employee's time sheets and concerns the mayor was using city equipment

Wilton and Durant enrollments trending in different directions

■ Wilton enrollment: 874 Durant enrollment: 641

By Derek Sawvell

Managing Editor, Advocate News

With holiday break right around the corner for Wilton and Durant schools, Superintendent Joe Burnett is nearing the halfway point of his first year in a sharing role within the two school districts.

In the days after the official "count day" in both Durant and Wilton, Burnett presented each school board with enrollment summaries — simple pieces of paper he calls the most important documents the board members need to see and understand. Something he calls the school's lifeblood.

"It drives everything. Neither school had ever seen these until I presented them with it," he said. "You have to know your finances and you have to know your future. The best way to know your future is to know your enrollment."

In both communities, the enrollment summaries tell different stories.

Wilton enrollment on the rise

Wilton's enrollment has steadily been rising since the 2012-2013 school year. At that time, the K-12 enrollment was 784, down significantly from a high of 1,041 in 1998-1999. "It was bleak. We lost 100 students in my first two years as superintendent," said Burnett. "Talk about cutting your teeth."

The district began doing what it could to "tighten its belt" as Burnett would say. The main way to do it was by consolidating and/ or not filling positions when teachers would retire. Wilton also began several sharing opportunities with Durant, many of which are still active today. Elementary grades also only had two teachers/sections at that time rather than three.

In February 2014 with enrollment numbers still low, residents of Wilton voted "Yes" at a rate of 72 percent to approve a $13.8 million bond project to build a new elementary school, shared cafeteria and baseball diamond, relocating the elementary school to the site of the junior/senior high school.

Wilton's current K-12 enrollment is 874, up 190 students since the low of 784 six years ago. And in recent years, it's become difficult to find houses for sale or rent in Wilton.

When the district built its new school, it did so with three classrooms for each grade. "People said we'd have empty classrooms. Now all our elementary grades are three sections," said Burnett. "Build it, you'll fill it. Don't build it, it will get worse."

There have also been many other additions to Wilton over the past 10-15 years, including a new library/community center, retirement community/nursing home and health clinic, all located across the street from the schools. The town is also in the middle of a downtown revitalization project. Burnett has also been involved in the Wilton Development Corporation over the years.

"This is a community effort, it can't just be the school," said Burnett.

The result has been large kindergarten classes coming into Wilton in recent years, with six of seven grades K-6 having at least 70 students. The average number of kids in grades K-6 is 73 while in grades 7-12 it's 60. These numbers mean Wilton will graduate (on average) smaller classes than those coming in, meaning enrollment projections are now

Durant numbers going down

Durant's K-12 enrollment for 2018-2019 is 641 students, down from 668 in 2013-2014. Small incoming kindergarten classes have been a driving factor in the decline. This year's kindergarten class has 42 students while first grade has 40 and second grade has 35. Those three are the lowest in Durant's 13 grades.

The average number of students in grades K-6 is 44 while the average is 57 in grades 7-12. As senior classes graduate from Durant High School in coming years, the school's overall enrollment will decrease more. If incoming kindergarten classes continue on the trend the district has seen, enrollment could be as low as 607 by 2022.

One major factor affecting the decrease, according to Burnett, is what he referred to as the "Davenport desegregation plan," which limits the number of students that can open enroll to outside smaller districts from Davenport schools. This means there are far less students enrolling in Durant from Walcott and other western Quad Cities area small towns than in the past.

"The department of education allows (Davenport) to do that, which I don't agree with," Burnett said.

Another factor is that the Bennett School District now has whole grade sharing with Tipton as well as Durant for its students. Burnett also notes that in the average 7-12 numbers, there are Bennett students mixed in. That's not reflected in the K-6 averages, although the main issue is still small incoming kindergarten classes.

In September, residents voted down a $10.8 million bond project in resounding fashion.

Burnett was quoted as saying he came in during the ninth inning of the project, but was able to meet far more community members early as a result. It's unknown whether the school board will explore another project in coming years, but the district is exploring a facilities study under Burnett's direction, a key element at the beginning of Wilton' successful bond project four years ago.

"There's two lines of thought," said Burnett with regard to a bond project. "One person can look and say we need to build this so we can grow. Another can look and say 'why build this when (enrollment is) going down?"

Durant has an aggressive tax abatement program and is looking to add a new housing addition. It is also exploring renovating its downtown district. "Both communities are trying to put their best foot forward. There's no such thing as status quo. You're moving forward or backward," said Burnett.

Regardless of whether or not a bond project would pass and/or help Durant's future enrollment, Burnett said he's focused on one thing: relationships. "When you have strong relationships and you're working toward a common goal of making things better, the sky's the limit. We've established it in Wilton and it's starting to happen in Durant. That's not a Wilton thing, that's a Joe Burnett thing. I don't believe people in Durant are against improving the school or investing in it. The seeds are there. I've enjoyed the teachers and community members I've met. They're hungry."

STEM Council releases 2017-18 Iowa STEM Evaluation Report

CEDAR FALLS - The Iowa Governor's STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) Advisory Council released the 2017-2018 Iowa STEM Evaluation Report. This independent evaluation measures the STEM Council's progress toward increasing student interest and achievement in STEM education and workforce development in Iowa.

"Engaging, relevant STEM education is changing the lives of students across Iowa," said Gov. Kim Reynolds. "The annual STEM Evaluation Report demonstrates how STEM is transforming schools and our future workforce. With the growth of well-paying STEM jobs expected to outpace other occupations, STEM Council education programs provide teachers with the tools they need to inspire young people from preschool through high school to prepare for STEM careers."

Highlights of the report include:

* In 2017, 96 percent of Iowans said STEM education should be a priority in their local school district.

* Students who participated in the STEM Scale-Up Programs, a menu of exemplary STEM programs available to teachers and students in Iowa, scored an average of two points higher in National Percentile Rank on the Iowa Assessments in mathematics and reading and three points higher in science.

* Among educators taking part in the STEM Scale-Up Program, 91 percent agreed or strongly agreed that they now have more confidence to teach STEM topics and have increased their STEM knowledge.

* The percent of students who said they were very interested in someday working in Iowa was 45 percent of STEM Scale-Up Program participants compared to 36 percent of students statewide.

* From 2012-2013 to 2016-2017, STEM post-secondary credentials (including certificates, associate's degrees, bachelor's degrees and other awards) have increased 26 percent at Iowa's four-year public universities, 20 percent at Iowa's four-year private colleges and universities, and 2 percent at Iowa's two-year community colleges.

* Individuals in STEM occupations earned $27.58 in average hourly wages in 2016 and $57,357 in mean salaries, compared to all occupations overall earning $20.12 in average hourly wages and $41,843 in mean salaries.

* More than half of all Iowans (59 percent) had heard of the STEM acronym in 2017. This is an increase of 10 percent compared to 2016, and more than double compared to 2012.

"The results of this report will have a significant impact on STEM education and workforce development for years to come as it will help guide future STEM Council programming and projects in Iowa," said Accumold President and CEO Roger Hargens, co-chair of the STEM Council.

Wellmark Foundation awards more than $370,000 in Small MATCH grants

DES MOINES — The Wellmark Foundation has awarded 17 Iowa organizations Matching Assets to Community Health (MATCH) grants. Applicants were able to request up to $25,000 in grant funding. To ensure community support for the grant projects, recipients were challenged to match this grant at 50 percent. Each of the grant recipients submitted projects that will help individuals, families and communities achieve better health through built environment initiatives that encourage physical activity and/or access to and consumption of nutritious foods.

"The Wellmark Foundation is proud to support organizations that have identified sustainable initiatives that provide opportunities for citizens to improve their overall well-being," said Becky Wampler Bland, The Wellmark Foundation executive director. "The longevity of these projects will continue to pay dividends years after the initial investment."

The 17 Iowa organizations that were selected to receive a 2018 Small MATCH grant include:

* City of Earlham, $15,000 Tennis court restoration: The city of Earlham plans to restore its tennis courts, which are conveniently located in the center of town. The restoration will include resurfacing and repainting the courts while also installing new posts, nets and lights to enhance the safety and functionality of the area.

* City of Forest City, $25,000 J Street Trail Connection: The J Street Trail Connection includes a trail extension, adding a pedestrian crosswalk and a sidewalk extension. This connection will create a safe area for pedestrians to cross Highway 69 so they can easily access community services, schools, parks and businesses.

* City of Glenwood, $25,000 Trail and trailhead project: This project will connect Glenwood, Iowa, to Bellevue, Nebraska, and Council Bluffs, Iowa. It will create nearly 2.5 miles of paved trails with six bridges that will improve access to parks, youth athletic facilities, the aquatic center and several area schools. The trailhead will include a safe parking area for residents to engage in school and park activities.

* City of Glenwood, $25,000 Vine Street pickle ball courts: The city of Glenwood and the Southwest Iowa Pickle ball Committee are working to create six pickle ball courts. This project will replace the city's dilapidated 50-year-old tennis courts with well-designed, low-maintenance pickle ball courts. These new courts will provide the first opportunity for outdoor pickle ball play in Southwest Iowa.

* City of Granger, $24,970 Trail hub and creek crossing: Through a community visioning process, Granger residents identified a need for more pedestrian and bicycle-friendly routes and facilities. As a result, the city will create a creek crossing and trail hub to connect residential neighborhoods, a sports complex, a park, an existing walking path and an elementary school for both walkers and bicyclists.

* City of Ionia, $12,133 City park walking trail: This project will create a walking trail around the perimeter of the city park, which is comprised of nearly four acres of green space. The trail will be both pedestrian and bicycle friendly and will connect with two existing hard surfaces within the park.

* City of Lamoni, $25,000 Recreational trail home pond spur: The city of Lamoni and the Recreational Trails Commission will develop a paved, 900-foot trail extension from the existing trail across the dam and spillway of Home Pond. The trail will provide a loop option for users and improve connectivity and safety. The extension will provide the user a panoramic view of the city of Lamoni's scenic beauty.

* City of Preston, $25,000 Westside Park walking path: This project will create a 2,000-foot walking path that will circle around Westside Park. The new concrete walking path will be well-lit and kept clear of snow and ice for year-round use. The path is designed to provide a space for residents to safely engage

Bush presidency was the first I truly remembered

Case

Point

By Derek Sawvell

Follow @SawvellAN

The passing of President George H.W. Bush last week had me traveling down several different avenues of thought in the days that followed.

Bush served the nation as the 41st president from 1989-1993, being elected in 1988. Based on my age, he's the first president I truly remember, at least with regard to being more than a name.

Born in 1982, Ronald Reagan was the only president in my lifetime prior to Bush. However, as a very young child during Reagan's presidency, of course I knew who he was and certainly remember him as the leader of our nation. Yet I don't remember watching speeches, reading about him or retaining information.

Of course Bush was vice president at that time but I was oblivious to that as a young child

I know more about him now than I ever did then. The Bush presidency is the first that really started getting committed to memory with me. He also had deep sports ties so I also knew his family's affiliation with the Texas Rangers and have loved reading in recent days about his time at Yale after World War II and his playing in the first two baseball college world series.

We received a great letter to the editor this week from Mark Patton (see on this page), so I'll defer to him to further talk about his character and impact on us as Americans.

To stick with my lifeline in the world of politics, Bush was the only oneterm president in my lifetime, meaning that there haven't been many in the 36 years I've been alive. I admired his wonderful temperament over the past 10-15 years or so and will miss that in this ever politicized world we are currently living in. Another curve ball given to newspapers this week is that President Trump declared Dec. 5 a day of mourning in the wake of Bush's death. This caused the closing of most government agencies for the day, including most operations within the U.S. Postal Service.

You may have experienced delays in getting your paper this week. We apologize for that but when most weeklies are dated for Thursdays and print Tuesdays in order to hit the mail stream Wednesdays, you can understand the predicament we found ourselves in this week — for all the right reasons.

Window walk—We want to thank all who visited our AN office during the Wilton Chamber of Commerce's annual Window Walk Dec. 2. As usual, I think it was safe to say all had fun, as visitors have grown accustomed to gratifying their sweet tooth upon coming to our office.

We rolled out a new homemade hot chocolate recipe this year. I have to thank my mother Tami for that, along with all the treats she makes annually, and preparing several different meats and cheeses.

She also donated and decorated the ornaments and Christmas tree in our office. Layce DeLong from our staff helped her with decorating the tree.

Our staff has also helped give the Window Walk a great shot in the arm the past two years with their crafty and innovative ideas. With our own Carissa Hoekstra and Brandy Marquez being on the planning committee, they've helped implement fun events for all ages.

For the second year in a row there was a scavenger hunt for children. This year it was finding the pieces to make a rainbow wreath. There was a gingerbread house theme for windows this season. With a more publicized central theme, it has resulted in more downtown businesses getting involved in window prep, much like in years past.

There was a candy cane challenge for downtown businesses as well this year and, perhaps my favorite addition, businesses and/ or community members were able to "adopt" downtown poles to decorate.

How neat was it to see several decorated light poles in downtown Wilton? It was a result of a wonderful brainstorm by Brandy Marquez on our staff and boy was it a hit. Something tells me we're in for many more next year!

It was a strange weather night, as Mother Nature couldn't decide if it wanted to rain or not. There was a bit of a drizzle. However, as I told several folks, we could have been dealing with a foot of snow.

For the first time in the many years my family has been attending, my father Stan was counting heads as they came through our doors. He stopped around 250 and that was long before the event was over. I feel it's safe to say we had more than 300 visit us this year. We thank all who spent some time with us and are already looking forward to next year.

Bush 'a gentleman and public servant'

Editor:

George Herbert Walker Bush's passing reminded me that he challenged us to be a kinder and gentler nation. What a positive and poignant reminder on how we should strive to improve ourselves and our country.

While few would say he was without shortcomings, President Bush never stopped trying to understand what was needed for the greater good and to actively work across the aisle to get legislation that worked for all.

President Bush helped put into place the Americans With Disabilities Act, enabling those who are physically handicapped access to public places. Curb cuts, wider doorways and construction of handicap accessible ramps resulted in much greater independence for those confined to wheelchairs.

President Bush also pushed for the Clean Air Act, relieving many urban areas of smog, the fouled air they had to breathe daily. Sulfur dioxide pollution came down 67 percent since the passage of the Act. He recognized coal as a major man-made polluter of air and water by putting into place a "cap and trade" market device, against the advice from some of his political advisers.

He was a gentleman and a public servant, an ideal we could all strive to emulate. His life is a reminder of what a civil political life can and should be.

One of the few hooked on fruitcakes

Everyday

People

By Phil Roberts

This column contains everything you ever wanted to know – or perhaps never wanted to know – about fruitcakes. And when I say fruitcakes, I'm talking about those cakes that contain dried fruit and nuts and are prevalent this time of year.

I'm not talking about your eccentric uncle or some other wacky member of your family.

What prompted this discussion was an article in the Nov. 7 North Scott Press noting that Camp Courageous is in its 30th year of selling one-pound fruitcakes that do not contain citron, a fruit similar to lemons, or alcohol for $10 each.

They're being sold through December at 20 locations across Iowa, including Home Hardware in Davenport.

I got hooked on fruitcakes in my early teens. My mother's good friend baked them every year and handed them out. They contained

For some reason, fruitcakes have long been maligned by comedians and others.

Here are some examples:

• "The worst gift is a fruitcake. There is only one fruitcake in the entire world, and people keep sending it to each other." — Johnny Carson

• "The easiest way to make a fruitcake is to buy a darkish cake, then pound some old, hard fruit into it with a mallet. Be sure to wear safety glasses." — Dave Barry

• "Have you ever known anyone who bought a fruit-cake for himself? Of course not. They are purchased as Christmas gifts, mostly for people you don't particularly like." — Phyllis Diller advice is a bit like your average Christmas fruitcake: something everyone gives and no

• "Political

one wants." — Bob Dole Laugh if you will, but I like fruitcakes, rum or no rum.

It would be nice if you bought one or more fruitcakes this month to support Camp Courageous. Give them to either friends or enemies. For those who don't want them, I'm told fruitcakes make nice doorstops.

A fifth scholarship will be awarded to a senior planning on studying communications, public relations and/or marketing. This scholarship is in honor of William J. Fultz, long time KIB founding Board member and artist. Bill served as Chairman of CMF&Z that was acquired by Young & Rubicam and became the largest agricultural advertising agency in the world.

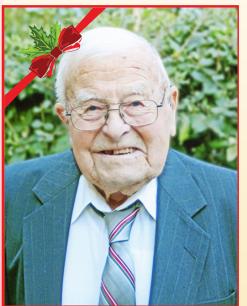

"KIB seeks to foster positive values in younger generations and reinforce them in older generations. We encourage respect for home, neighborhood, community and state," said Gerry Schnepf, KIB Executive Director. "KIB serves as a key resource for educating youth on the importance of environmental stewardship and community betterment."

Through the leadership of Bob Byers, KIB's Litter-Free School Campus program was initiated in northwest Iowa in 2003. In memory of Byer's dedication to young people and environmental concerns, KIB and the Byers family established the Byers Environmental Scholarship Fund in 2009. "My dad recognized from the beginning that Keep Iowa Beautiful encourages youthful idealism and fosters service to community. This scholarship program is a great tribute to him," said Jay Byers.

Wilton girls remain undefeated after big RVC road wins

Wilton's Aubrey Putman (right) fights for post position in road action at Regina Nov. 30. Putman had 12 points as the Beavers defeated the 2A No. 12 Regals 42-34.

The Wilton girls' basketball team had a big week, defeating both Camanche and Regina on the road. It was the first time the Beavers had beaten Camanche since the Indians entered the River Valley Conference. And the win at Regina was the first win over the Regals in the careers of Wilton's senior class.

By Derek Sawvell

Managing Editor, Advocate News

In the process, the Beavers moved their Basketball record to 3-0. "Their goal is to get to the top of our conference. To do that you have to beat Camanche and Regina on the road," said head coach Jeremy Putman.

Wilton 58, Camanche 43

The Beavers traveled to Camanche Nov. 27 and a slow start found them in a hole they'd use quarters two and three to climb out of.

The host Indians used a 19-point first quarter to build a double-digit 19-7 lead. Wilton responded with 22 second quarter points to take a 29-27 lead to the break.

The Beavers built on the lead in the third quarter, outscoring the Indians 12-4 and overall 34-12 in the middle quarters.

Wilton was up 10 heading to the fourth and kept the intensity down the stretch, pulling away to a 58-43 win.

"We played really great in the second half. Our defensive rebounding was great," said

Emily Lange led Wilton with 21 points and 12 rebounds for a double-double. Aubrev Putman also had a double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds. Kortney Drake filled the stat sheet with 10 points, nine rebounds, four assists and two steals. Linsey Ford led the team with four steals.

Wilton 42, Regina 34

The Beavers were on the road again Nov. 30 at Regina, where they won a grind out game against the Class 2A No. 12 Regals 42-34.

Regina was without Alex Wiese, who sat out with a knee injury. Wilton turned its defensive focus to Kennedy Wallace who, despite leading Regina with 15 points, was shadowed much of the night defensively by Kortney Drake.

Both teams played soft 3-2 zone defenses most of the night and Regina keyed on Lange and Kortney Drake defensively, constantly sagging off the other Wilton players on the court, daring them to shoot.

Aubrey Putman picked up a bit of the offensive slack, starting with a three to open the game. Regina led 8-7 after a quarter of play as both teams were missing shots while trying to figure out the defenses.

Drake hit a three midway through the second and Lange scored the final four points to send Wilton to the locker room with a 19-17 lead at the break.

After the break, coach Putman urged his team to play its offensive sets closer to the rim. resulting in an 8-1 run Wilton used to create a cushion for the rest of the game.

Drake hit a three to start the third and Putman followed with a three-point play. Drake hit another three and Wilton (4-0) had built an 11-point lead 32-21. Regina responded with a 7-0 lead to cut the lead to 32-28 heading to the final period.

Linsey Ford picked up her defensive intensity in the fourth quarter, creating havoc for Regina's guards. She also made four free throws down the stretch to help Wilton to a 40-32 lead and eventually a 42-34 win.

Drake led the way with 15 points while Putman added 12 points, four steals and two blocks. Lange had a frustrating night from the field, scoring eight points on 4-19 shooting.

"We shot terrible. Their defense dictated how we played," said coach Putman. "They didn't even guard our other girls, they just let them shoot jump shots, which made it tougher for us to get the ball inside. Luckily our defensive showed up big tonight, especially Linsey Ford at the top of the key."

Wrestlers hit the mats Durant boys run into hot Bears team

Managing Editor, Advocate News

The 2018-2019 wrestling season is going to be a bit more interesting for the Wilton wrestling team. After several successful seasons, including a record setting season with 29 wins and just four losses last year, the Beavers began the winter schedule with six open weights listed on the lineup in opening dual action at North Cedar Nov. 29.

In a triangular with River Valley Conference schools North Cedar and Northeast, Wilton was open at four weight classes but picked up two victories. Head coach Gabe Boorn stressed that it may take more strategy this season when preparing for meets.

The Durant wrestling team is trending in the right direction, with five wrestlers in the lineup during opening quadrangular action at Anamosa Nov. 29. While the Wildcats were open at nine weights, the five wrestlers on the mat is a vast improvement from last season's lineup that typically had no more than two or three wrestlers competing in varsity meets.

Wilton sweeps triangular

The Beavers picked up their first win of 2018 in North Cedar Nov. 29 with a 54-18 win over Northeast. The Rebels were dealing with open weight classes of their own, as the dual featured just three contested matches.

Trey Sulzberger (145 pounds) and Zach Rubendall (285 pounds) each picked up pins for the Beavers while Jacob Creamer (182 pounds) got pinned in his first mat action after swimming earlier in his high school career.

Wilton picked up seven forfeits en route to the 54-18 win.

The Beavers had to come from behind to defeat host North Cedar 35-27. After picking up a forfeit at 152 pounds with Cory Anderson, Wilton then lost the next four classes (after two open weights), including a 4-1 loss at 220 pounds by Coy Baker and a loss by fall at 285 by Calib Lilly.

Down 21-6, Wilton rallied to win six of the final seven weight classes, including a tech fall at 113 by Kael Brisker and a fall by Colton Cruse at 132 to get to the final match up 32-27. Trey Sulzberger won an 11-6 decision to seal the 35-27 win for Wilton.

Durant drops three at Anamosa

The Durant wrestling team will again focus on individual matches this season as the Wildcats began 2018 fielding five of 14 weights in a River Valley Conference quadrangular at Anamosa Nov. 29.

The Cats were defeated 63-16 by Anamosa, 72-12 by Camanche and 48-22 by Monticello.

Ethan Gast was 3-0 on the night at 113 pounds for Durant with two falls and a 12-1 major decision against Monticello's Dylan Bowser.

Against host Anamosa, Durant's other wins came at 126 pounds as Nathan Moomey won by major decision 13-1 and at 132 with a fall from Kenny Salemi. Moomey also picked up a forfeit against Camanche and a fall in the Monticello dual to also finish 3-0 on the night for the Cats.

Tysen McKinley (145 pounds) and Cameron Ruggiero (160 pounds) each picked up falls in the Monticello dual.

Teams compete at Wapello

Durant and Wilton both traveled to Wapello Dec. 1 for the annual Willard Howell

Wilton finished sixth in the team standings with 86 points. Mount Pleasant won with 165 points.

Brisker (106 pounds) and Cruse (126 pounds) each won titles at their respective weight classes. Brisker was 3-0 on the day and won in the finals by major decision 15-7 over Mount Pleasant's Corbin Broeker. Cruse was also 3-0 on the day and won the title with a fall over Mount Pleasant's Dalton Moyle.

After opening the week wrestling at 152 pounds, Cory Anderson had cut to 145 by the weekend and finished third in Wapello. He fell by fall in the semis to Nathan Wallace of Mount Pleasant but won his way back to third with two falls in consolation.

Calib Lilly also wrestled to third at 220 pounds. He lost in the semis by fall to Mount

West Branch 77, Durant 52

After a 13-10 campaign last season that ended in District play at Camanche, head coach Matt Straube's Durant boys' basketball team returns much of its production for the 2018-2019 season.

Junior Joe Lilienthal will work the post and senior Will Iossi will also get post touches. Basketball Seniors Bryce Lafrenz and Zac Badtram, and juniors Marcus Engstler and Brendan Paper, will play the wing positions. Guard play will come from seniors Easton Botkins, Jack Voss and Mason Compton, along with juniors Drew DeLong and Jake Willkomm.

With Botkins out of the lineup for the opening game of the season Nov. 27, Durant traveled to West Branch, where the host Bears were hot in the River Valley Conference opener. The Bears shot 56 percent (29-52) including 9-20 from three in a 77-52 win.

Beau Cornwell led the way for West Branch with 23 points, nine rebounds and eight assists.

The Wildcats (1-1) started in a 2-3 zone and Cornwell hit two threes to start the game. After a third West Branch three, Durant began playing man-to-man. Down double digits, the Cats got back-to-back threes from Lafrenz and Compton to get back into the game. A fast-paced first quarter ended with the Bears on top 25-18.

Joe Lilienthal picked up his second foul early in the second and the Bears went on a 9-2 run to open the period and ended with a 13-0 run to push the halftime lead to 49-24.

Durant didn't get its first second half bucket until there was 4:23 left in the third as West Branch continued to shoot well, rebound and push the lead. Durant was down 30 (65-35) entering the fourth and the Bears finished the game with a 77-52 win.

Lilienthal led Durant with 15 points while Compton added 11 and DeLong had 10.

Pleasant's Zach Beason but won in the consolation semis and won an 8-2 decision in the third place match over Mediapolis' Keegan

Gast turned in the best performance for Durant with a 2-1 record and third place finish at 113 pounds. He lost in the semis by fall to Matthew Lewis of Centerville before winning by fall in the third place match over Carson Coleman of Mount Pleasant.

At 160 pounds, Ruggiero lost for the second time in a week to Baylor Crigger of Camanche in the semifinals. He then lost a 5-4 decision in the consolation semis to Highland's Jordan Sosa before winning the fifth place match by fall over Davenport West's Dylan Tomlinson.

The Wildcats finished 12th with 34 team

"Joe was really outstanding offensively but he and the rest of the team were not close to where we need to be defensively," said coach Straube. "Our on and off ball defense was really bad, and our rebounding was worse. Can't give up double-digit offensive rebounds to anyone, especially a team that was shooting that well. We will emphasize defense and rebounding going forward and hopefully see improvement in those areas."

Wilton basketball opens with tough RVC road tests

By Derek Sawvell Managing Editor, Advocate News

The Wilton boys' basketball team enters the 2018-2019 season in the midst of a rebuild, starting at the head coaching position as Erik Grunder has taken the reigns from former longtime coach Mark Patterson.

Grunder has had coaching experience in several sports but heading this year's boys' squad will be his first ever varsity head Basketball coaching experience.

Wilton has had a 3-40 collective record over the past two seasons, including just one win last year. Grunder said he's teaching a new offensive set to the Beavers and he'll look often to play a 2-3 zone defensively.

"I like a hard 2-3 zone where you make guys settle for jump shots. Offensively we've got more of a motion style. I'd love to have our guys look for good shots and move off screens. This group is responding to my expectations: hard work, defense and hustle."

The Beavers came out of the gate with two tough road tests last week in losses to Camanche and Regina, two of the better teams in the River Valley Conference in recent years.

Camanche 78, Wilton 37

The Beavers found themselves in a huge hold early and never got out in a 78-37 road loss at Camanche Nov. 27. The host Indians began the game on a 25-6 run and never looked Camanche had coasted to a 51-17 lead by halftime en route to the 41-point victory. The Indians were led by junior Cameron Soenksen, who had a game-high 32 points, including eight threes.

Senior Jared Townsend led Wilton with 19 points, including 11-11 from the free-throw line. He also had nine rebounds. Ashton Stoelk had eight points and seven rebounds.

Regina 67, Wilton 32

The Beavers were on the road again Nov. 30 and made just 13 shots in a 67-32 loss to River Valley Conference South foe Regina.

Wilton slowed the pace early, trailing 5-2 midway through the first quarter. The Regals ended the period on an 8-0 run to lead 13-2.

In the second, Townsend hit a shot and Brock Hartley followed with a three off the glass. Later in the quarter, Wilton used a 6-1 run to cut the Regal lead to 22-13. Coach Grunder took a timeout.

'The game plan was to play four tough minutes to start then call a timeout, then play four more tough minutes at the end of the first quarter," said Grunder. "We made a run to get down nine then took a timeout to refocus. I told the guys if we hit another shot we could go to half down single digits."

Instead the Regals came out of the timeout with a quick 10-0 run to end the half with a 32-13 lead.

"The game started going fast and we got a little flustered. We couldn't slow it back down," said Grunder.

Regina used another 11-0 run in the third to push the lead to 45-19 en route to the 67-32

Townsend had 12 points and 11 rebounds for a double-double. Stoelk added nine points and eight rebounds. Wilton is 1-2 on the season after a win Monday night against L-M.

Wilton senior Kortney Drake recently signed a letter of intent to play college basketball at Kirkwood Community College. The ambidexterous ball handler will look to work her way into the Kirkwood rotation while getting her collegiate general education studies out of the way. Kortney went on a visit and said she loved the team's style of play. "I felt like I fit in with their style, full court man defense and up-tempo offense," she said. # Pressure getting to Cats early

Managing Editor, Advocate News

West Branch 76, Durant 43

The Durant girls' basketball team traveled to West Branch Nov. 27 and had a tough time dealing with the full-court pressure of the host Bears in a 76-43 defeat.

Down 12-2 early, the Wildcats clawed back into the game at the end of the first quarter with a 6-0 run

a straight

Basketball fueled by two straight buckets from Kamryn Meyer to cut the lead to 12-8.

A few minutes into the second quarter, Durant had pulled to within two (16-14) and freshman Ally Happ was brought into the game. She insisted on guarding West Branch guard Sasha Koenig, who proceeded to hit a three as Happ was called for a foul on the play. Koenig converted the 4-point play and the Bears were off to the races, scoring 25 points in the period to lead 37-24 at halftime.

"I had (Ally) guard her," said Durant head coach Ross DeLong. "We had some foul trouble and I only had Ally for two quarters. We were deliberate early and slowed the pace. Eventually the flood gates opened and they got a lot of steals on their press. That's how the season's gone so far. We have one bad spot and then it snowballs.'

The Bears doubled up the Cats in the third 20-10 to push the lead to 57-34 as the full-court press continued to force Durant into turnovers. West Branch had 25 steals in the game and Koenig led all scores with 31 points. Taya Young added 23.

Kamryn Meyer led Durant with 18 points, eight rebounds and three blocks. Hannah Happ scored nine points.

West Liberty 73, Durant 51

The Wildcats were back on the road Nov. 30 at West Liberty, where they got in an early hole and couldn't get out in a 73-51 loss.

The host Comets scored 20 first quarter points and had a 20-7 advantage.

Durant got into the swing of the game, losing the middle quarters just 34-30 but the Comet lead continued to grow marginally en route to the 73-51 win.

on our guards and caused a lot of turnovers," said DeLong. "Our energy level was bad and West Liberty was ready to play ... We just got off to a bad start.'

"West Liberty's guards put a lot of pressure

Annie Taylor and Hannah Happ each had 13 points to lead Durant. Meyer added eight points and 11 rebounds.

Sailor Hall led West Liberty with 23 points while Macy Akers added 17.

The Cats fell to 0-3, with all losses coming in River Valley Conference South play.

Stockton city officials accused of holding private meetings

STOCKTON REPORT

for his personal use. The Muscatine County Sheriff's Office and the Office of Auditor of State were subsequently notified of these is-

According to the information provided to the city attorney, the maintenance employee, Robert Russell, told members of the city council he had been padding his hours and then would turn around and pay the mayor (Baker) for work the mayor had helped him with. He also stated he had been told to pad his hours by the mayor since the mayor could not be paid by the city for the work he was performing. Russell recorded 102.5 hours that he claimed he did not work but was paid for.

Russell submitted his resignation noting he would resign during the period Dec. 15, 2017 to Jan. 11, 2018. The report stated his resignation letter indicated he was resigning because of "constant harassment from the mayor." Russell's last day of employment was Dec. 25, 2017.

As a result of a written statement by Russell, it was found that $1,435.00 of improper payroll checks had been issued to him. An additional $237.93 was spent for the city's share of FICA and IPERS paid as a result of the improper pay roll checks.

The report detailed an interview held with Russell and a detective from the Muscatine County Sheriff's Office in which Russell admitted to padding his paychecks at the request of Baker.

"Mr. Russell stated this started as a way to pay Stockton Mayor the mayor for performing plow work while Mr.

Patrick Baker

Russell was out of town for his regular job as an over-the-road truck driver. Mr. Russell stated the mayor acknowledged to him, that he couldn't be dually compensated by the city so they would just add a couple hours to his (Mr. Russell's) timesheets when the mayor helped him with work around the city and they would be even. Mr. Russell stated this stopped in June 2016."

The report also explained the repercussions that happened after he refused to continue the agreement with Baker, "According to Mr. Russell, he had a falling out with the mayor in late 2016 after he had some issue with plowing the rental properties of the mayor's.

"According to Mr. Russell, his hours decreased after August 2017. During the interview, Mr. Russell stated the mayor asked him if they would have the same arrangement as in 2016; however, because Mr. Russell's son-in-law was hired to assist him he told the Mayor no.

"Mr. Russell stated the mayor started scrutinizing his timesheets after Mr. Russell refused to increase hours on his timesheets as he did in the prior year at the request of the

"During our review of Mr. Russell's time sheets beginning in February 2017, many of Mr. Russell's timesheets included notes on the timesheets, initialed by the mayor, about issues with Mr. Russell's time. According to the mayor, he began to closely scrutinize Mr. Russell's timesheets."

Auditors found that there were no records available showing when Russell would have been out of town where the mayor would have worked for the city. Russell also said he cashed his payroll checks and would pay Baker with cash, and that sometimes Baker would go to the bank with him to receive his portion of the

"We interviewed Mayor Baker regarding the statement he was paid by Mr. Russell for work he performed for the city. The mayor denied this ever occurred. Because Mr. Russell stated he paid the mayor in cash, we are unable to determine if Mr. Russell paid the mayor for the extra hours he included on his timesheets as Mr. Russell stated he was told to do by the mayor," said the report.

The office of the auditor has recommended the city council adopt a policy requiring employees to prepare and sign detailed time sheets. Times sheets should be approved and initialed by the employee's supervisor or by an independent official who is not involved with payroll.

Improper cellphone payments

In the report, it was stated that $1,299.47 of improper payments were made to U.S. Cellular to provide a cellphone for the mayor. It was also uncovered that $25.00 of improper cellphone reimbursements had been made to a former city clerk.

Stockton's city council made the decision to pay between $50-$100 monthly for the mayor's cellphone plan during a meeting on Feb. 9, 2012, under a previous mayor. The report said that the council meeting minutes did not include a reason or public purpose for paying for the cellphone plan.

For the period covered, the city paid U.S. Cellular a total of $1,839.47 for the mayor's cellphone plan. The bill for the period Feb. 24, 2017 through March 23, 2017 also included the purchase of a "LG K8 Indigo Blue" phone and a "LG K8 Ballistic TJ Case." The $120 cost of the phone was included as a credit as part of the retail installment deferment plan. Because the phone and case are included in the cost of the plan, the phone and case are city property and should be returned when the mayor leaves office.

The city council also had passed a resolution on March 10, 2011, providing the city clerk a $20 per month cellphone allowance. However, a look at former reimbursements found that a previous city clerk was receiving $25 per month for the five months she was employed with the city. As a result, $25 was over paid to the former city clerk. The current city clerk has not requested the city provide her the al-

The report said, "As previously stated, the city council approved a $20 allowance for the city clerk. As a result, we will accept a $20 allowance as reasonable for the mayor for using his personal cellphone for city business. For the period of our investigation the stipend paid to the mayor for the use of his personal cellphone would total $540. The $1,299.47 difference between the $1,839.47 paid to U.S. Cellular and the amount which would be paid to the mayor as a stipend for the period of our investigation is considered improper."

The report made additional recommendations for cellphone allowances including the documentation of its public purpose.

Issues with mileage reimbursement

A total of $54.54 was paid in improper mileage reimbursements to Baker. "We identified 18 reimbursements to Mayor Baker totaling $2,356.29 for the period of our investigation," stated the report. There were 18 reimbursement checks to the mayor, with two regarding meetings in Muscatine for the Muscatine County Solid Waste Commission (MCSWC).

The first was for check No. 8125 for $90.50 issued on March 9, 2016. "Mayor Baker's mileage claim report showed 54 total miles for a MCSWC meeting held on Feb. 6, 2016. According to officials from MCSWC, there was no meeting held on Feb. 6, 2016. The city reimburses mileage at $0.505 per mile. As a result, the city reimbursed Mayor Baker $27.27 for a meeting which did not occur,"

The second was for check number 8209 for 35 35 issued on June 10 2016. The Mayor included 54 miles on April 28, 2016 for a MCSWC meeting held April 28, 2016. "The mayor previously included the 54 miles for the April 28, 2016 meeting on his April reimbursement request. The Mayor was reimbursed $0.505 per mile, or $27.27 for the 54 miles on check No. 8179 issued on May 9, 2016. As a result, the Mayor was reimbursed twice for the mileage," explained the report.

According to the report there was also check No. 8134 for $85.03 issued on March 10, 2016 that was not supported by documentation. As a result, the $85.03 check issued to the mayor has been labeled an unsupported disbursement.

Review of community event spending

"The procedures also identified the city did not issue receipts for all donations received and did not ensure the $2,163.37 of reimbursements to the mayor and another resident for purchasing items for city sponsored events for the youth in the community included only items previously approved by the city council and did not include items which may have been for personal use," said the report.

Full Stockton report available online at wdadvocatenews.com

It explained that the city council meeting minutes did not include any discussion or approval of the type of food and other supplies the city approved to be purchased, or discussion of the amount of donations received for the events. Because the events were held, the funds are not included with the improper disbursements.

"Because supporting documentations was not available for all transactions, it was not possible to determine if additional amounts were improperly disbursed or if additional collections were not properly deposited," said the report. It recommended disbursement policies, which included all disbursements being supported by invoices or other supporting

Concerns of private city equipment use

According to legislation, the city may not authorize the use of city property by city employees for their private use. There were multiple claims, both verified and unfounded, that Baker used city equipment.

"Mayor Baker used the city plow at his property on Railroad Street to clear way for personal home building supplies like rock. Mayor Baker denied this claim and stated he would not work on rock outside his property in the middle of winter," said the report.

It also said Baker used the plow at Soda Blasting, in the city of Durant, in lieu of a charge to the city for repairs the business made on the plow truck.

The report also stated, "We received separate concerns from various residents that Mayor Baker's girlfriend owns rental properties in the city of Durant and they suspected Mayor Baker was plowing her properties with the city of Stockton plow truck. When asked about the concerns of plowing his girlfriend's properties in the city of Durant, Mayor Baker denied this and said he has never plowed any of his girlfriend's rental properties in the city of Durant."

With reports of Baker using the backhoe to dig a hole for a pet and dig a foundation, the report said, "Mayor Baker also stated it has always been a standard practice for mayors or city council members to help citizens using city equipment." He gave the auditors a booklet of old work orders done by previous officials who used city equipment on private

The report went on to say that Baker explained the council had given verbal approval of the use of the city equipment, but the meeting minutes did not include any discussion. "During our interview and in a subsequent email from Mayor Baker, he stated the recordings of the city council meetings would have included the approval; however, the tapes had been destroyed by a former city clerk after being told to maintain the recordings."

It was recommended that city officials develop policies or procedures that prohibit the use of city equipment. It also recommended to address the use of city property.

City equipment taken to mayor's shop

While reviewing reimbursements to Mayor Baker, we were also told he owned Stockton Auto. During our interview with Mr. Russell, he stated the city plow's alternator seized up while Mayor Baker was plowing his own property and he fixed it at his personal business and billed the city for the work," said

On March 10, 2016, a check was made for $487.26 to Stockton Auto. Documentation provided included two invoices, one for $342.29 for an alternator, Micro-V Belt, antifreeze, oil and installation services. A second invoice for $144.97 was for fixing a quick release pin on the Kubota backhoe, 3 gallons of hydraulic fluid and shop supplies. The documentation also included a quote from Firestone Automotive for $405.36 for fixing the alternator on the city plow.

"According to Mayor Baker, the quote from Firestone was provided to show it was cheaper for his business to repair the city equipment than to take it to Firestone. Mayor Baker also stated because the plow needed to be towed, he decided to get the city plow repaired at Stockton Auto to save the towing expense. Mayor Baker stated he spoke to city council members by phone and received verbal approval to do the work at his business," explained the report.

The auditors found no discussion in the city council meeting minutes for the repairs. It added that because Chapter 362.5(3)(k) allows payments to city officer and employees, the $487.26 is not included as an improper disbursement.

"In addition, verbal approval does not meet the requirements of Chapter 21.3 of the Code of Iowa requiring the vote of each member be documented in the minutes during an open meeting. As a result, verbal approval does not constitute an action of the city council," said the report.

Meetings before meetings?

"During the course of our review, we were provided information which alleged the mayor and city council members would meet at the mayor's home or another location prior to the regular city council meeting in order to discuss the agenda and make decisions prior to the city council meeting. We were unable to determine if this occurred," said the report.

It was recommended that council follow meeting guidelines and it was noted that, "Because verbal approval by the city council does not constitute an official action of the city council, the city council should ensure they comply with Chapters 21.2(2) and 21.3 of the Code of Iowa, and not discuss or take any action related to any matter within the scope of their policy-making decisions outside of a public meeting."

Baker has been serving as the mayor of Stockton since 2015. He ran against two opponents in the most recent election last year. In 2017, Stockton had four open seats, one mayoral and three for council. Ten citizens ran with three running for mayor, including Baker and (former city employee) Russell.

Mayoral terms are voted on every two years and Baker's runs through 2019, when Stockton's mayor seat will next be on the ballot. Information on removing an elected official from public office can be found at www. legis.iowa.gov under Iowa Code Chapter 66. Chapter 66.29 states, "Any city officer elected by the people may be removed from office, after hearing on written charges filed with the council of such city for any cause which would be ground for an equitable action for removal in the district court, but such removal can only be made by a two-thirds vote of the entire council."

The Advocate News reached out to Baker via email for comments but none were received as of press time. A full copy of the report can be found at https://auditor.iowa.gov/reports/ audit-reports/.

Mather stated he is worried about trying to prove a negative. Mather stated, per Dr. Askew, there is no environmental risk. Ayes: Mundt, Quiram, Schulz, Sterner. Nays: None. Motion carried.

Consider Resolution 2018-57 authorizing longevity pay for all employees employed as of December 1, 2018 as per city of Durant Personnel Policy Handbook. The report shows TIF revenue, TIF rebate expenditures and non-rebate expenditures. After further review, it was moved by Member Budding seconded by Member Owens that this annual report be approved. The roll was called and the vote recorded as follows: Ayes: Owens, Budding, Stanley, Lenker and Marolf. Nays: None. Motion Carried. ADMINISTRATIVE ITEMS:

Chris told the Members that there were two public works employees that went out with the leaf vac this past Friday (a holiday) to try to get caught up with the leaves before the snow came. Due to the amount of snow that Wilton received, the leaf vac may not be out again this season. If residents still have leaves, they can take them down to the Convenience Center or purchase leaf bags at City Hall. The new truck and plow were used during this snowfall. The employees wanted to thank the Council for this purchase.

The truck worked extremely well with the new v plow in the downtown area. It maneuvered excellently and handled the drifts also. The plow is spring loaded and trips and resets itself if it comes up against something solid. The 2019 truck and plow are a good addition to the fleet of vehicles.

The Financial Statements were accepted and placed on file. It was moved by Member Stanley seconded by Member Budding that the total disbursements of $1,268 f proved by the Finance Committee, be allowed and instruct the City Clerk to pay the same. The roll was called and the vote recorded as follows: Ayes: Owens, Budding, Stanley, Lenker and Marolf. Nays: None. Motion Carried.

No further business, the Mayor adjourned this meeting.

Since 1996, 255 Iowa communities have benefited from the Community Visioning program. To qualify for the program, a community must have a population of fewer than 10,000 residents, existing transportation-related is-
