Welcome To Greater Severna Park

Severna Park, Arnold and Millersville are home to many amenities and resources. The Severn and Magothy River watersheds offer opportunities for boating, fishing, crabbing and sports. Passing through Severna Park, the B&A Trail boasts a 13.3-mile paved path for biking and jogging. Nearby in Millersville, the 288-acre Kinder Farm Park includes several activities, with sports fields, playgrounds, trails, a petting zoo, farm tours and a museum. An array of restaurants and small businesses bring a unique flair to their markets, proving that the American dream is alive and well.

The greater Severna Park area is also special because it's a place where neighbors gather for fun and support one another. Hundreds of spectators come together annually for events like the Fourth of July parade and Rock 'N' Roll Revival. Last year, music lovers gathered at Severna Park Taphouse, raising $20,000 for the Baltimore Washington Medical Center Foundation. Months later, dozens of Andy Borland's former players and peers supported the longtime Severna Park football coach and athletic director as he was inducted into the Anne Arundel County Sports Hall of Fame. Throughout the year, people fundraise to assist their neighbors in need, whether that's by participating in SPAN's Turkey Trot or by plunging for Special Olympics Maryland.

The area has also been home to many famous figures. Baltimore Ravens owner Steve Bisciotti has a home in Millersville. Notable Severna Park residents have included Good Charlotte guitarist Billy Martin, Major League Baseball players Mark Teixeira and Gavin Floyd, and novelist Ronald Malfi, among others. Arnold has been home to Olympic gold medalist Matthew Centrowitz Jr. and Carolyn Colvin, former acting commissioner of the Social Security Administration.

Flip through our Community Resource and Business Directory for stories about local organizations and for lists of schools, churches, restaurants, government agencies, clubs and more. Our hope is that everyone in the community can find something of value in this guide. ■

From The Chamber CEO

Liz League
GSPACC

The Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce (GSPACC) is a well-respected membership organization that has been supporting and advocating for businesses and nonprofits in our community since 1957. Our mission is to build and strengthen relationships between businesses, organizations, and the community, which will enhance local commerce, enriching the lives of everyone.

Chamber members are business leaders committed to the economic prosperity and civic well-being of our community. Commerce improves lives, solves problems, and strengthens our economy.

When you patronize local businesses, more than 50% of the money spent stays in our community. This money maintains and creates jobs, gives us resources and desired goods and services, and ultimately supports our nonprofits as businesses are the first to contribute to charitable needs. You may have to pay a slightly higher price, but the good you'll do for our community far outweighs those negligible costs. Be a part of the local shopping revolution, and you'll almost instantly feel the positive impact! ■

Unique Events Contribute To Tight-Knit Community

Throughout the year, there is no shortage of activities around Severna Park, Arnold and Millersville. These annual events make it a sought-after place to live, work and play.

WINTER

Mental Health Awareness Week

Severna Park High School students took it upon themselves to plan the school's inaugural Mental Health Awareness Week in 2022. Each day featured a different activity, including Wear Green Wednesday, After-School Cookie Baking Thursday and Courtyard Connections Friday.

"Historically, we [as a society] don't like talking about mental health," said student Eric Lin, an executive staffer with the school's Student Government Association (SGA). "We wanted to let students know it's OK if they're not feeling OK."

Lin and his peers plan to hold Mental Health Awareness Week from March 6-10 with a community walk on March 11.

Rock 'N' Roll Revival

Talented singers, musicians, dancers and crew members from Severna Park High School have performed hit songs in this annual show since 1989. "RNR XXIV Goes to the Movies" is the theme for the 2023 show, set for March 9-12 and March 16-18. An early look at the set list shows songs spanning several decades: "Viva Las Vegas" by Elvis, "Danger Zone" by Kenny Loggins, "My Heart Will Go On" by Celine Dion and "I'm a Believer" by Smash Mouth, among others.

Find more information at www.sphsdrama.com/rock-n-roll-revival.

SPRING

Earth Day Festival

For the last 20 years, more than 30 organizations and vendors have partnered to educate and engage the community about sustainability and environmental awareness. Sponsored by Good Neighbors Group, the event features booths with interactive activities for children of all ages, as well as materials and information for homeowners striving to make eco-friendly improvements in their homes.

Exhibitors include environmental organizations and service providers, animal welfare organizations, recycling and composting exhibitors, and alternative energy specialists.

Julie Shay, founder and executive director of the Good Neighbors Group, and festival co-organizer, explained last year why the festival educates people to be more conscious of their choices.

"It's a festive event where you can learn and have fun, and you can also unload the burden of things you no longer need or things you have been holding onto because you weren't sure how to dispose of them or didn't have the chance," Shay said.

This year's festival is scheduled for April 29 from 10:00am-1:00pm at Severna Park High School.

Burgers and Bands

Ann Brennan and her son Ethan, along with a group of dedicated volunteers, are on a roll with this music festival that raises awareness about suicide prevention. Held at Severna Park Taphouse, the concert also showcases the talents of the area's young musicians.

The 2023 event is set for May 21 from 11:00am-7:00pm. To learn more, visit www.burgersandbands.org.

Shop Local Fun Fiesta

The Shop Local Fun Fiesta invites families to the Park Plaza shopping center for a day of entertainment while demonstrating why local businesses are an essential part of the community. This year's event is tentatively planned for May 6.

GSPACC FOURTH OF JULY PARADE

NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

ART IN THE PARK

SUMMER

Cape St. Claire Strawberry Festival

Summer on the Broadneck peninsula starts with this strawberry festival in June. Families gather on River Bay Road for a parade, music, food, games, crafts, a petting zoo, a silent auction, face painting, a strawberry baked goods contest and more.

Fourth of July Parade

For many families around town, this is a spectacle that cannot be missed. Sidewalks are lined with lawn chairs and blankets. Decorated floats, people and pets travel from Benfield Road to B&A Boulevard. Organized by the Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce, the parade is not just patriotic but also one of the best social opportunities.

Earleigh Heights Carnival

Games, rides and concessions are all part of the Earleigh Heights Volunteer Fire Company's annual carnival, usually held in July. The carnival supplies fun while bringing in much-needed funds to keep the department in operation.

National Night Out

Held on the first Tuesday in August, the popular community-police event came to Anne Arundel County's Eastern District in 2015. Earleigh Heights Volunteer Fire Company serves as the perfect venue, providing families with food, games, K-9 demonstrations and opportunities to meet local police officers, firefighters, sheriff's deputies and first responders.

FALL

Art in the Park

Two years ago, the Severna Park Voice partnered with Cafe Mezzanotte to create an experience new to the area: a jazz and arts festival. The third annual Art in the Park is expected to return this September, giving music and art aficionados a reason to get excited.

Lifeline 100

What began as a way to showcase Anne Arundel County's scenic trails and roadways, and spotlight cycling safety and benefits, has grown every year into a celebrated annual event drawing hundreds of cyclists of all ages and abilities. The event offers routes of 15, 30, 65 and 100 miles, taking cyclists to Kinder Farm Park, the Severn River, United States Naval Academy, the Chesapeake Bay, U.S. Naval Academy Stadium and more.

The Anne Arundel County Department of Recreation and Parks, Anne Arundel County Police Department, and Bicycle Advocates for Annapolis and Anne Arundel County (BikeAAA) are planning the ninth annual Lifeline 100 for October 1, 2023. Learn more at www.lifeline100.com.

Fall Fun Day

Kinder Farm Park's annual Fall Harvest Festival regularly drew a crowd of thousands of guests, treating them to hayrides, crafts, music and the chance to see farm animals. The event was so popular, volunteers scaled it down the last two years. Fall Fun Day is a smaller version of the event, designed to provide the same level of fun to a smaller population.

Shoptoberfest

Shoptoberfest comes to the Park Plaza shopping center in October, inviting area residents to enjoy entertainment, a costume contest for kids and dogs, and items from more than 60 exhibitors.

SPAN Turkey Trot

Runners and walkers gather at Kinder Farm Park in November for a 5K run or one-mile walk to support the nonprofit SPAN. Funds help local families in need with utility shutoffs, evictions, and medical/prescription copays.

Jingle Bell Hayride

Before fall officially ends, Kinder Farm Park hosts a December day of festive hayrides, roasted marshmallows and chances to see the park's decorated farmhouse.

Christmas Tree Lighting

How do you know that it's officially the holiday season in Severna Park? The Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce kicks off the season by hosting a tree-lighting ceremony with cookies, hot chocolate, and music and dance performances from local youth groups. This past season was special for the chamber, which revived an old tradition. For the first time in decades, the chamber illuminated a large evergreen tree that is more than 70 feet tall and 40 feet wide.

"There were adult attendees who remembered the tree when it was small and manageable, and showed up to see it shine again," said Liz League, CEO of the chamber. "The tree is now a beacon in Severna Park, visible for miles and even on flights coming into BWI [airport]."

Taste & Sip

This Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce event provides an evening of food, wine and music where guests can sample goods from local restaurants, bakeries and liquor stores. With networking, live holiday entertainment and a silent auction, Taste & Sip has plenty to offer. ■

American
Telecom Solutions

We asked middle schools in our coverage area to have their students create their best art for our magazine cover, and they delivered. Landon Oliver, a sixth-grader at Severna Park Middle School, created the winning piece displayed on the cover of this magazine. Landon also received a prize of $100 from American Telecom Solutions. The runners-up, Andrew Shingledecker and Aaron Watson, are both eighth-graders at St. Martin's-in-the-Field Episcopal School. Andrew's work showed off a Chesapeake Bay skipjack, the Wilma Lee. Aaron drew a crab on a plate. All three entries will be on display throughout March at Gallery 564, located at 564 Baltimore Annapolis Boulevard in Severna Park. Congratulations to these talented artists. ☐

THE SUMMIT SCHOOL

WHY SUMMIT?

- Summit provides a safe learning environment where learning differences are understood and celebrated.
- Teachers are empathetic and trained to differentiate instruction for their students' needs.
- Evidence-based teaching methodologies are implemented in a systematic way using multisensory approaches.
- Students gain confidence and learn to learn. They tackle their challenges and develop their strengths.
- At Summit, different can mean exceptional. Potential is unlocked.

THE WHOLE CHILD

When a child struggles in school, often they are impacted socially or emotionally by their academic challenges. Summit addresses the whole child and teaches self-advocacy, confidence, and social-emotional wellness. Parent-school partnerships are key to student success. Communication with parents is frequent and collaborative.

MEASURABLE OUTCOMES

Continuous progress monitoring supports student growth and success. Summit employs Benchmark Testing three times per year to evaluate students against specific grade-level standards and learning goals. The results give teachers actionable data and drive instruction for each student.

LIFE CHANGING IMPACTS

Even though Summit's program ends at eighth grade, parents and alumni credit The Summit School with giving them the confidence, strategies, and learning tools they needed to succeed. With a strong foundation, the possibilities are endless.

These Spots Offer Sledding Fun

If you're looking to try a new sledding spot this winter, check out these locations, and don't forget to be safe.

Anne Arundel Community College

101 College Parkway, Arnold

This location has great hills, but there's a caveat: visitors may have to travel on foot because Anne Arundel Community College often closes its main entrance during inclement weather.

Bay Hills Golf Club

545 Bay Hills Drive, Arnold

This site offers plenty of adventure for Broadneck peninsula families.

Broadneck High School

1265 Green Holly Drive, Annapolis

Broadneck High School has a hill next to stairs, providing easy access.

Chartwell Golf & Country Club

1 Chartwell Drive, Severna Park

The driving range features a short but steep hill.

Elvaton Park

311 Dogwood Road, Millersville

Driving by Kinder Farm Park? Why not double up and try Elvaton Park a few miles north?

Folger McKinsey Elementary School

175 Arundel Beach Road, Severna Park

Try this school as a medium-sized option.

Kinder Farm Park

Kinder Farm Park Road, Millersville

Check out the hills by the playground area.

Severna Park Middle School

450 Jumpers Hole Road, Severna Park

The school's small hills are ideal for younger children.

GREEN HORNETS ORGANIZATION MENTORS YOUTH

Known by most families as the Green Hornets, the Greater Severna Park Athletic Association is a nonprofit youth sports organization for children ages 3 to 18. Green Hornets serves more than 8,000 area children each year, providing the opportunity for kids to be involved in any of 11 sports at varying levels of competition.

In 1949, Harvey Garcelon and Paul Bigby started the first Green Hornets teams with a few boys and whatever money they had in their pockets. Those first few years, the boys played wherever they could find space. As the years passed, more sports were added and more children participated. As interest grew, so did the organization.

Garcelon's tenacity led to the development of Kinder Farm Park as a recreational site for Green Hornets sports. He helped design the playing fields and facilities at the county park. He passed away in 1999 at age 86, but his memory and vision lives on.

Today, the organization consists of more than 800 volunteers who help the kids learn the rules of their respective game, build confidence and self-esteem, develop social skills, and gain an understanding of teamwork, coordination and athletic skills. ■

BAYS Prepares Local Athletes For Success And Sportsmanship

BAYS serves as a pipeline of talent for Broadneck High School. Several of the 2022 state champion Bruins field hockey players remarked that playing together for so many years in the BAYS program helped their chemistry.

By Kevin Murnane

Broadneck Area Youth Sports (BAYS) President Stacie Oliver takes a great deal of pride in having a guiding hand in the success of Broadneck High School's athletic teams over the years.

"We have a very close relationship with Broadneck High School, and their coaches will offer clinics and camps to help with our development of our athletes," Oliver said. "Our young athletes will go to the high school games wearing their BAYS T-shirts and root for the players who were at their camps as instructors."

That relationship between the BAYS and Broadneck High School is evident as some of the Bruins' state championship field hockey teams have remarked that playing together for so many years in the BAYS program helped their chemistry in achieving a state championship and undefeated season.

"We have over 2,500 kids playing one or more sports with our organization," Oliver said. "We're a volunteer-run organization with outstanding community involvement."

Oliver said getting fields and gyms are her toughest tasks. She has made great relationships with staff members from the Anne Arundel County Department of Recreation and Parks during her 15 years with the BAYS, though.

"It's a challenge for the entire county to find facilities to practice on, they are at a premium, but we continue to work with Parks and Rec and to be creative," Oliver said.

BAYS utilizes fields at Broadneck High School, Severn River and Magothy River middle schools, as well as Broadneck, Mago Vista and Browns Woods parks.

Oliver is also proud to have started a relationship with the Pip Moyer Recreation Center in Annapolis to offer the first indoor field hockey program in the county.

BAYS offers six sports to Arnold residents: soccer, field hockey, basketball, lacrosse, volleyball and triathlete. The organization will add ultimate Frisbee this summer.

Oliver played numerous sports growing up and knows the value of being part of a team and the life lessons learned.

"I thoroughly enjoyed being part of a team and gaining confidence in myself as well as communication skills, assertiveness and sportsmanship," Oliver said. "It also enables you to gain new friendships and take pride in your community."

Oliver recalls a military family with a child they said was shy from moving around so often.

"They came back after a few practices and said their child was included in the team's off-the-field activities and she loved being part of her new community and new friends," Oliver said.

Oliver is also commissioner of the field hockey program and enjoys seeing the success of Broadneck's field hockey program and being ranked No. 1 in the state.

"To be part of the youth sports program that helps our athletes develop their skills and be part of a championship team is awesome," Oliver said. "It's truly a labor of love." ■

Remember When?

Restaurants From The Past

By Zach Sparks

zach@severnaparkvoice.com

In the early stages of growth in Severna Park and Arnold, visiting a restaurant was as much a social occasion as it was a search for a good meal. Thanks to a handful of entrepreneurs, good meals and good conversation could be found as easy as pie.

Betty Winkelmeyer Wells, daughter of Walter and Jane Winkelmeyer, saw Severna Park's development over several decades. Her parents opened a feed store and coal yard in 1947. The store later transitioned into a hardware store.

"Restaurants in Severna Park played such a critical role in the growth of the community," Winkelmeyer Wells said. "All the merchants in Severna Park lived in the area and all their kids went to school here."

These are a handful of restaurants that area residents still have fond memories of many years later.

Millhausen's Tavern

Millhausen's Tavern opened at the intersection of Benfield Road and Jumpers Hole Road with a ribbon-cutting ceremony in July 1937. Known for shuffleboard and beer, Millhausen's started as a tavern before becoming a full-service restaurant that satisfied the appetites of customers hankering for burgers, roast beef, crab soup, or any other number of meals. Millhausen's stayed in business until the 1980s.

Known for its crab cakes, burgers and fried chicken, Hamlen's was a family run restaurant.

Street's

This establishment was located diagonally across the street from Millhausen's, until 1936. Street's was then relocated near the intersection of B&A Boulevard and Cypress Creek Road.

As lifelong Severna Park resident Scott Jay recalled, Street's was the neighborhood watering hole where neighbors gathered to share local news and information about soldiers overseas.

"The neighbors created a newsletter called The Tap-Loid featuring articles and stories from Severna Park for over 122 subscribers in the armed services," Jay wrote last year in the Severna Park Voice. "Down the street from Street's Restaurant was another favorite with the locals, Feeser's Restaurant, which served the best crab cakes around."

Feeser's

With black-and-white televisions and a print of Custer's Last Stand, the interior of Feeser's was unmatched.

Feeser's was owned and operated by Harry and Anita Feeser, who opened the restaurant in 1932. A neighborhood hangout, Feeser's sold beer, food and gasoline.

In the 1996 book "Severna Park Reflections: An Album of Memories," Harry and Anita's granddaughter, Phyllis Feeser Liley, said Baltimore Sun cartoonist Richard Yardley was a frequent patron of Feeser's and featured the restaurant in his cartoons.

Susan Yardley Wheltle noted how the wooden building always seemed slightly tilted, and the restaurant was divided into four distinct spaces: the bar, kitchen, dining room and restrooms.

The Bumble Bees, backed by The Severna Park Bums band, entertained the audience at "Remembering Hamlen's," an event held to celebrate Severna Park's centennial in 2006.

"The first space, dominated by a high wooden bar and barstools, was Harry's domain," she wrote. "Like the proprietor of a wooden pub, he loved conversation, knew all of his regular customers, and had the reputation for discouraging some new arrivals with a withering glance and stony silence. Some people, my parents among them, were welcome to stay all day; others left rather abruptly."

Harry provided Wheltle with a seemingly limitless supply of food: Cokes, peppermint patties, and pistachio nuts.

"When adult conversation got boring, someone would hand me a dozen nickels, which I would cheerily gamble away in the slot machine opposite the bar," she said.

As Earl Anderson wrote in the book "Linstead on the Severn, A History," Harry would close the bar to patrons he did not like, but everyone there enjoyed the music.

"No one would know that there were a lot of ex-GIs there," Anderson said. "Then all of the sudden, the piano player would start to play 'Anchors Aweigh,' or the Air Force song, and the guys would stand up and they'd sing and they'd hit their mugs on the table. Then he played 'From the Halls of Montezuma' and a couple of Marines would stand up and everybody sang and cheered."

Winkelmeyer Wells remembers musicians playing rinky tink piano.

"Anybody who was anybody wanted to be there," she said. "It was lively."

The kitchen was Anita's domain, where she made fried crab cakes, fried shrimp, fried ham, fried pork chops and fried steaks. A full-course dinner, pie included, cost less than $2.

"Her cooking methods might make a 1990s nutritionist blanch, but the tastes she created were fabulous," Wheltle wrote. "She literally cooked all day, and most of the night."

The restaurant continued in business until the 1960s when it was purchased by Charlie and Marcie Hamlen.

Hamlen's

Known for its crab cakes, burgers and fried chicken, Hamlen's was a family run restaurant in the heart of Severna Park. Charlie Hamlen oversaw the bar, and his wife, Marcie Hamlen, ran the kitchen. Daughters Cheryl and Carla served food and beverages to customers.

The décor was befitting of the times, too. Hamlen's had red checkered tablecloths, a piano in the corner, and a ceiling fan. With some patrons being members of Colts Corral 27, Marcie often shepherded six busloads of fans to home games at Memorial Stadium. According to an obituary printed in 2020, Marcie was the largest season ticket holder the Baltimore Colts had for 17 years.

For 26 years, Hamlen's was a family business. The restaurant was torn down in 1992 and replaced with an office complex.

Wagon Wheels

The luck of the Irish must have been with G. Carrigan "Fitz" Fitzgerald, who was born on St. Patrick's Day in Ireland in 1916. He and partner, Charles "Chuck" Greco, purchased the Emoclew Inn and renamed it Wagon Wheels, taking the name from the indoor lighting fixtures.

Fitzgerald operated Wagon Wheels, a steak and seafood joint, from 1950 to 1985, with Greco selling his interest in the restaurant in 1959.

Located near Jones Station Road, where the Rite Aid is now, Wagon Wheels invited guests inside to an area with large open space and a ceiling held together with huge beams that crisscrossed.

Fitzgerald's wife, Esther, quit her job as a nurse at the Naval Academy to help run the business. Things did not always go smoothly.

"I remember one spring day, I spent the whole day planting 100 pink geraniums out front," she recalled, in a piece published in the "Reflections" book. "That night, when I left the restaurant, I saw that someone had carefully pulled them all up and placed them on the hoods of the cars up and down the parking lot."

Her experience wasn't all bad. Esther praised her customers and the fire department.

"Through the years, the Wheels became a meeting place for businessmen, sports personalities, and politicians," she said. "Fitz got to know many very interesting people and enjoyed them all. The people of Severna Park were very good neighbors and friends. I hope we were good neighbors, too." ■

Harry and Anita Feeser created an atmosphere that drew people from all over town who wanted to sing, dance and enjoy delicious meals, sometimes for less than $2.

Feeser's, which opened in 1932, became a neighborhood hangout, selling beer, food and gasoline.

SPY Brings Competitive Swimming To Severna Park

The Severna Park YMCA Swim Team, or SPY, has been around almost 50 years and offers a range of programs for youth swimmers.

By Mark Patton

mark@severnaparkvoice.com

The Severna Park YMCA Swim Team, or SPY, has been around almost 50 years, and the team's long list of accomplishments include three Olympic Trials qualifiers and more than 200 athletes who went on to compete at the collegiate level.

You don't have to be an Olympic or NCAA hopeful to participate in SPY, though. The team competes in meets that offer events for age groups ranging from 8 and under to high schoolers. Most practices are held at the Severna Park Community Center.

"It's got to be fun, and you've got to have friends," said SPY head coach Crystee Ballard, who once swam for SPY and went on to don the swim cap of Towson State University.

For the younger swimmers, the coaching staff of SPY aims to foster a love of the sport with a more relaxed practice option to give athletes opportunities to compete in other sports and activities. As swimmers develop, they may opt for a more intense practice schedule when they're ready to fully dive into being a year-round competitive swimmer.

"It keeps you in shape, and I just have good friends here," said 13-year-old Severn River Middle School student Jojo Navarro, who is in his sixth year with SPY. "They push you to your limits, they encourage you and they're competitive."

SPY swimmers have the opportunity to represent the Anne Arundel County YMCA in "Y" competitions as well as compete in United States Swimming-sanctioned meets. The Colorado Springs, Colorado-based USA Swimming is the national governing body for amateur competitive swimming.

Ballard, who has been head coach of SPY since 2005, touted the virtues of competitive swimming by pointing out the demands of the sport and how it helps youth optimize their time management skills.

"The most rewarding thing is when they reach their goals," Ballard said.

Ballard keeps in touch with many of her swimmers even years after they age out of SPY. In fact, many former SPY swimmers who are now swimming for college programs come back during their breaks to train with their former team.

Severna Park High School sophomore Collin Mays aims to be one of those college swimmers one day and wants to continue to do laps for the rest of his life.

"It's mostly about self-improvement," Collin said. "SPY makes it fun to swim, and I want to be here every day."

Although SPY competes in meets both close by and in those that require travel, one of the team's annual highlights is Winterfest. This invitational meet, featuring more than 1,200 athletes and 40 teams, is hosted by SPY over a three-day period at the University of Maryland.

Nine-year-old Samantha Rogers is swimming with SPY for the first time this year after whetting her appetite for the sport with her summer league swim team.

"I learn a lot from the coaches," Samantha said. "We go to different states a lot. I like that."

Lily Quill, a sophomore at Severna Park High School who favors the 400-yard individual medley event, said she's tried other sports, but she found her true lane in the pool.

"I like the team part, and it also has an individual component," Lily said.

Ballard said she hopes that SPY swimmers keep the love of the sport going into adulthood as a way to stay healthy and fit.

"It's definitely a lifetime sport," Ballard said.

More information about SPY can be found at www.spyswimteam.org. ■

American Legion Offers Haven For Veterans

By Judy Tacyn

If you've entered the Manhattan Beach community, you've passed American Legion Post 175. For 89 years, Post 175 has called Severna Park home.

The area's post now serves approximately 700 members and the greater community at large. For the last six years, the post has been under the leadership of Ambrose Cavegn, a retired 25-year Army combat medic and commander of Post 175. Although Post 175 is an established part of the community, Cavegn said many people, including veterans, don't know enough about the American Legion or the local post.

According to the organization's website, the American Legion provides life-changing assistance and guidance for veterans, military personnel, their families and communities around the world.

American Legion offers its members benefits that include advice and representation for those seeking government benefits, career assistance, support for active-duty service members who are transitioning to the civilian world, financial services and planning, and job training.

For Bob Quigel, a U.S. Army infantry veteran who served from 1968-1971 and was injured in an ambush in Vietnam, the camaraderie with the men and women of Post 175 is more valuable than anything else.

"These are my brothers right here, and I love them," said Quigel, referring to Daniel Cavegn, a 23-year retired U.S. Army recovery specialist and his brother, Ambrose. "We are all part of a bigger family. We understand each other and what we went through."

Through several branches, including the American Legion, Sons of the American Legion, Legion Riders, and American Legion Auxiliary, the American Legion in total is first and foremost an organization for veterans and their families. Their broader reach goes much deeper into the community, though.

The post holds numerous fundraising events throughout the year. According to the post commander, a large amount of the money the organization takes in goes to multiple local and national charities.

Sponsorship is another area in which the American Legion supports the community. Post 175 sponsors baseball and rugby teams and youth organizations. Christmas and Halloween parties welcome veterans and their families to the post. Friday dinners for veterans and loved ones are a weekly event that usually fills up the facility.

Post 175 offers a bar, a large banquet hall, pool tables, slot machines and dart boards. During the week, members can be seen enjoying trivia nights, music bingo, live music and lunch specials. Outside the main building, a large field that can be used for sports is available as well as a covered pavilion complete with a tiki bar and an area for grilling.

Ambrose Cavegn said the local American Legion post also supports veterans and families through the tougher times.

"When a vet is in the hospital, and it's determined that their death is imminent, we will get a phone call and come to their bedside," Cavegn said. "We play their branch-of-service song, give a final salute, and stay with them till they pass away."

Post 175 leaders also attend state, regional and national training sessions specific to veteran suicide prevention. According to the 2022 National Veteran Suicide Prevention Annual Report put out by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, there were 6,146 veteran deaths by suicide in 2020, the lowest total since 2006. Although veteran suicides are down compared to recent years, it's a topic that Post 175 members are still adamant about.

"We are very focused on veteran suicide prevention, how to intervene and identify a veteran at risk," Ambrose Cavegn said.

The American Legion post also provides a color guard for funerals in Crownsville or other events when a color guard is requested. Post 175 also serves as the custodial group for the Gold Star pavilion on the B&A Trail in Severna Park.

More information and eligibility requirements for the American Legion are available at www.legionpost175.org. ■

Severna Park Elks Celebrates 50 Years Of Community Involvement

By Kevin Murnane

Americanism, acknowledgement of veterans and community involvement.

According to Loyal Knight Phil Hicks, those values are the pillars of the Severna Park Elks foundation.

The lodge was founded 50 years ago by community members who wanted a site between the Glen Burnie and Annapolis lodges. They originally met at Severna Park Elementary School in 1971 to gauge interest in creating a new lodge in Severna Park. After a good turnout and interest in forming a lodge, a charter was granted in June of 1972 for the Severna Park Elks Lodge.

The founders converted a vacant farmhouse on Truck House Road to a meeting site in May 1973. Through continuous fundraising efforts, the farmhouse was razed, and the current lodge was built on that site in 1983.

The club currently boasts 400 members and is active in the central Anne Arundel County region.

"Our big events are the fundraisers like the bull and oyster roasts, crab feasts, luaus, and Christmas and Easter events," said Lecturing Knight Ronnie Culotta. "We also see a good amount of revenue from renting our banquet hall."

The Elks banquet hall is one of the largest in the region and has hosted an array of community events and fundraisers over the years. Happenings as varied as weddings, bingo events, birthday parties, office holiday parties and quinceañeras have been held at the hall.

As members of a nonprofit organization, the Elks take pride in giving back to the local community.

"One of our focuses is helping the less fortunate families with our donations," Culotta said. "Each year, we have Toys for Tots and the Angel Tree campaign, trunk or treat at Halloween, our Blue Ribbon Project where we provide backpacks to children with school and home supplies, and we also sponsor children at Camp Barrett so our young people can experience a summer camp."

The Severna Park Elks Lodge, which recently celebrated its 50th anniversary with a gala, has one of the largest banquet halls in the region and has hosted an array of community events and fundraisers over the years.

The Elks also assist families during holidays throughout the year.

"We provide food baskets at Christmas, Thanksgiving and Easter," said Leading Knight Andre Denault, adding that 50 baskets were provided to needy families during the most recent Christmas season.

Another one of the cornerstones is recognizing veterans for their service to the country. The Elks offer a free Veterans Day luncheon to anyone with a service background to express their gratitude.

To showcase its American pride, the Elks have a Flag Day celebration and have a ceremony to recognize their police officer and firefighter of the year.

"We also organize numerous events for our members," said Exalted Ruler Terry

Hicks. "We really want our members to enjoy the camaraderie of the club, such as the Sunday breakfasts, comedy nights, special dinners, and just watching a football game in the lounge. We also arrange numerous day trips for our senior group to go on destinations in the mid-Atlantic area."

Over the previous 50 years of community involvement, the Elks have provided $3 million to support projects, youth groups and the less fortunate. They also provide college scholarships to high school students in need, as well as youth sport groups.

To rent the banquet hall at the Severna Park Elks Club, which can hold up to 350 seats, contact Lynne Bailey at 443-510-6319. Membership information is available by calling 410-647-2482. ■

Books, Activities And More At The Severna Park Library

Since 1972, the Severna Park Library has given the community a place to meet and enjoy resources. Guests can check out everything from books and movies to board games. The library also offers free programs for all ages.

Clubs include “Dungeons and Dragons,” Babies in Bloom, Rad Readers for elementary kids who are homeschooled, and the Guys Book Club, among others. Line dancing and stitching are a few of the other activities held at the library.

The Severna Park branch of the Anne Arundel County Public Library system is located at 45 West McKinsey Road. Operating hours for the library are 10:00am–9:00pm Monday through Thursday; 10:00am–5:00pm Friday and Saturday; and 1:00pm–5:00pm on Sunday. Curbside pickup is available. Visit www.aacpl.net for a full calendar of the library’s upcoming events. For other services, call 410-222-6290. ■

Greater Severna Park Council Continues Serving The Community

Formed in 1959, the Severna Park Council (GSPC) has spent decades advocating for the best interests of residents whether that is fighting overdevelopment, making sure county and state agencies maintain local roads, or helping community associations with other needs. All Severna Park residents are encouraged to attend meetings, which take place on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30pm. Meetings are currently being held via Zoom. To learn more, visit www.gspcouncil.org. ■

Wink & Jane Winkelmeyer BUILT history! Together, they opened Winkelmeyer's Feed & Coal Yard in 1949 and became a force for good in the community. Jane organized the local Polio Salk Vaccine Program, while Wink founded and became the first president of the Severna Park Chamber of Commerce (a vibrant organization now known as the Greater Severna Park & Arnold Chamber of Commerce), amongst many other contributions to the area. Their motto was "Having a great business community secures the value of your assets, your home!" Thank you for supporting our local businesses.

THE BALTIMORE COLTS OF 1958
Champions of the National Football League

This moment in local history is brought to you by The Severna Park Museum, where history is YOUR story!

Picture of the 1958 Baltimore Colts. Fun local fact — state trooper, Detective Sgt. Wilbur L. Wells of Severna Park often provided police escort for the team early in his career!
