Message From The Chamber CEO

Liz League
CEO
GSPACC

It is my greatest honor to serve as the CEO of our wonderful Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce that has supported businesses and nonprofits since 1957. Having lived in the community for many years and raised four kids, I have personally experienced the incredible rise in popularity and economic growth in our area.

We are truly fortunate to partner with leaders, business owners, educators and citizens to share the responsibility of creating economic success and happiness within our community.

Our chamber is proud to organize many fantastic local events that bring our community members together and highlight our local businesses and nonprofits. These include our annual Independence Day parade, shop local festivals, our Christmas tree-lighting event, Holiday Taste and Sip that celebrates our local food establishments, and so much more! We are supported by our great local newspaper, the Severna Park Voice. We have second-, third- and fourth-generation small businesses in our membership portfolio and new businesses opening all the time. Because of our members, sponsors, volunteers and community members, we are thriving.

Our chamber is governed by a dedicated volunteer board of directors, which comprises members who hold the same vision for business growth and a healthy community environment. This vision is built around our core values: commitment, leadership, integrity, service and passion.

With your ongoing commitment to patronizing our local businesses and supporting our local nonprofits, we will continue to grow and flourish as a strong and effective community connector and voice of business. ■

Welcome to Greater Severna Park

Based on the numbers, the greater Severna Park area is an interesting place.

- 60,000 people call Severna Park or Arnold home, according to the latest U.S. Census data.
- 10 schools have been recognized as National Blue Ribbon Schools. Those include elementary schools — Arnold, Benfield, Broadneck, Folger McKinsey, Jones, Oak Hill, Shipley's Choice and Severna Park — along with Severna Park Middle School and Severna Park High School.
- 7 teams from Severna Park and Broadneck public high schools won state titles in 2023.
- 2 rivers, the Magothy and the Severn, are Chesapeake Bay tributaries.
- Hundreds of small businesses support job growth and charitable causes.

But the qualities that make the area unique cannot be measured by numbers alone. Severna Park Voice stories in the last year show how many residents and natives are accomplishing their dreams.

Jackson Merrill continued his ascent through the minor leagues, positioning himself for a potential Major League Baseball debut in 2024.

Erik Crown and Tod Schneider released a documentary about Harambe, a western lowland silverback gorilla that was shot and killed in 2016 after a child fell into an enclosure at the Cincinnati Zoo.

Young Arnold entrepreneurs Lila and Georgia Knoepfle launched Li-laPants, an online boutique for their line of formalwear.

It’s also a place where neighbors looked out for one another. One of the latest examples of this came earlier this winter when community members helped the nonprofit SPAN bring joy to more than 150 families as part of the Holiday Caring program.

Whether it’s the people or the natural resources that make it possible, this area is unlike any other. If you are looking for a specific product or service, or you would like to find a new activity offered in the community, we hope this Community Resource and Business Directory will connect you so that you can take advantage of all that the region has to offer. ■

Unique Local Events Offer Year-Round Enjoyment For All

Parades, festivals and holiday events are part of the special fabric of the greater Severna Park community. Mark your calendars and save the date for this year's upcoming events.

WINTER

Rock 'N' Roll Revival

Hitting the stage for the 35th time, Severna Park High School's biggest annual production is slated to delight audiences for two weekends in March. The theme of RNR XXXV is "Greatest Hits!" and the show will feature just that: timeless songs, new and old, performed by talented students. Singers, musicians, dancers and crew members are already rehearsing for the 2024 show, which will run March 7-10 and March 14-16. Learn more about RNR at www.sphsdrama.com.

SPRING

Earth Day Festival

Hosted by the Good Neighbors Group, Severna Park's Earth Day Festival will return this spring. Now in its 22nd year, the event aims to promote sustainability and the environment. More than 30 organizations and vendors, including all Severna Park public schools, will be present to educate and engage the community in a fun and meaningful way. Booths will inform homeowners about eco-friendly home improvements, as well as provide interactive activities for children of all ages. The Earth Day Festival will take place on April 27 from 10:00am-2:00pm at Earleigh Heights Volunteer Fire Company. For more information, go to www.goodneighbors-group.org.

Shop Local Fun Festival

The Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce invites community members to support local businesses during its annual Shop Local Fun Festival, slated to take place this year on Saturday, May 4, from 11:00am-3:00pm in the Park Plaza shopping center. Attendees can enjoy a day of entertainment while learning why local businesses are an essential part of the community. For more information, visit www.gspacc.com.

Burgers And Bands

Established in 2017 with a mission to raise awareness and funds for suicide prevention, Burgers and Bands is an annual music festival typically hosted at Severna Park Taphouse. This year's event will take place on Sunday, May 19, and will feature local musicians. Designed to show community members that they are not alone, Burgers and Bands has raised over $200,000 since its inception. To learn more, go to www.burgersandbands.org.

SUMMER

Cape St. Claire Strawberry Festival

For many on the Broadneck peninsula, the beloved event has marked the unofficial start of summer for over 60 years. The 2024 Cape St. Claire Strawberry Festival is scheduled for Saturday, June 1. Festivities will begin at 10:00am with a parade that steps off from the Cape St. Claire firehouse and concludes at the main beach. There, attendees can enjoy live music, arts and crafts vendors, free kids' activities, food, goodies from the Strawberry Kitchen, and more. The festival runs until 6:00pm. Check www.cscstrawberryfestival.com for updated information as the event date approaches.

Fourth Of July Parade

Scores of decorated floats, vehicles and other entries will again delight spectators from Benfield Road to Baltimore Annapolis Boulevard at this year's Independence Day parade. Organized by the Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce, festivities will begin with a kids' decorated bike contest before the parade gets underway. One of the most anticipated events of the year for over four decades, the parade will run from 10:00am to noon.

Earleigh Heights Carnival

Held each year for several days in July, the Earleigh Heights Volunteer Fire Company's annual carnival is a summertime staple for residents of the greater Severna Park community. Long, hot days give way to more temperate evenings, during which carnival-goers enjoy rides, games, concessions and more at the fundraising event that helps enable the department to continue providing critical services.

National Night Out

Anne Arundel County's Eastern District will again host National Night Out on the evening of Tuesday, August 6. Scheduled to take place this year at Kinder Farm Park, the free event will promote relationships between neighbors and law enforcement. In years past, National Night Out has entertained attendees with kids' games, food, giveaways, contests, demonstrations, police and fire vehicles on display, and more. As the event approaches, check www.nationalnightouteasterndistrict.org for more information.

FALL

Art In The Park

Hosted by the Severna Park Voice, the annual Art in the Park music and arts festival will return for its fourth year this fall. Each year, the event raises funds to support a different local nonprofit organization.

Art in the Park will again take place at Cafe Mezzanotte. Check future editions of the Voice for more information.

Lifeline 100

This year marks the 10th anniversary of Anne Arundel County's Lifeline 100 bicycle event. The award-winning event will offer scenic 65- and 100-mile county tours with water views and historic sites, as well as 15- and 30-mile paved trail rides. Kids can enjoy a free bike rodeo and family fun ride. Each year, Lifeline 100 draws hundreds of cyclists of all ages and abilities and showcases cycling awareness, safety and benefits. Since its inception, the event has raised over $300,000 for local nonprofits. The 2024 Lifeline 100 will be held on October 6. For more information or to register, go to www.lifeline100.com.

Fall Fun Day

Held each year on the second Saturday of October, Kinder Farm Park's Fall Fun Day is scheduled this year for October 12. The all-day festival serves as the park's largest annual fundraiser, and it draws roughly 6,000 visitors. Attendees of all ages can look forward to games, food, craft vendors, scarecrow making, meeting farm animals, hayrides, blacksmith and sawmill demonstrations, and more. Look for more information at www.kinderfarmpark.org.

Shoptoberfest

Community members will again have the opportunity this fall to support local businesses in a unique way during the Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce's annual Shoptoberfest shop local event. Scheduled for Saturday, October 26, from 11:00am-3:00pm in Park Plaza, the free family event will highlight the importance of shopping local. Past events have entertained attendees with music, trick-or-treating, a kids' costume contest and items available for purchase from dozens of exhibitors. For more information, stay tuned to the chamber's website.

SPAN Turkey Trot

Since 1990, SPAN has assisted neighbors in need in the greater Severna Park community with utility turn-offs, court-ordered evictions, prescription/medical needs, and food. The nonprofit's largest annual fundraiser, the Stride for SPAN Turkey Trot takes place each year in November. Runners and walkers of all ages and abilities can look forward to lacing up for a good cause on a brisk morning this fall. The 12th-annual 5K race and one-mile fun walk are slated to take place at Kinder Farm Park. Look for the official date and forthcoming information at www.spanhelps.org.

Jingle Bell Hayride

Christmas spirit will be in the air at this year's Jingle Bell Hayride, scheduled to be held at Kinder Farm Park on December 7. In addition to enjoying a hayride, children can meet Santa and Mrs. Claus, and attendees of all ages can indulge in hot cocoa and roasted marshmallows. In past years, the Kinder Farmhouse Museum was decorated for the holidays for visitors to enjoy as well. More information about this year's festivities will be available in the coming months at www.kinderfarmpark.org.

Taste & Sip

Plan to come hungry to the Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce's annual showcasing of local fare, slated this year for Tuesday, December 3, from 5:00-8:00pm. Last year, attendees sampled food and drink from community restaurants, bakeries and liquor stores while enjoying networking, live holiday entertainment and a silent auction. The 14th annual Taste & Sip will be held at Chartwell Golf and Country Club.

Christmas Tree Lighting

For the Severna Park community, the holiday season kicks off each year with the official town Christmas tree-lighting ceremony. This year, the annual celebration is scheduled for Friday, December 6, from 5:00pm-6:30pm. In 2023, event hosts illuminated both the stout tree by the chamber's front door and the towering evergreen on the adjacent property with dazzling lights for residents and passersby to enjoy throughout the Christmas season. After the trees were lit, attendees enjoyed meeting Santa, savoring sweet treats, watching local performances, and browsing local vendors' wares at the nearby Severna Park Community Center. ■

More Than Books

Severna Park Library Offers Array Of Programming, Rentals

The library remains the epicenter of rentals. Along with books, both hard copy and digital, residents can borrow DVDs, Launchpad tablets for kids, Chromebooks and fishing poles. They can also get free gun locks and COVID tests.

At the heart of Severna Park, between the B&A Trail and Ritchie Highway, sits the Severna Park Library.

A local mainstay since 1972, the library offers not just books, but community.

"It doesn't matter if you're a baby, a senior or everybody in between," said Samantha Zline, Severna Park Library branch manager. "For anybody who comes in the door, the library is here."

Check the events tab at www.aacpl.net, and you'll find something scheduled nearly every day.

For parents and caregivers of little ones, weekly Babies in Bloom, Toddler Time and Preschool Storytime offer a safe, indoor space to both learn and socialize.

This year, the library is adding more weekend and evening options to give working families more opportunities to attend.

"I think there's some pandemic parents who just don't know that the library has this to offer," Zline said. "So we're trying to figure out what will bring them in. What are the special programs that'll catch their eye that they might not have thought about?"

Other regular offerings for children of varying ages include Early Reader Book Club, Fresh Air Storytime and Homeschool Hangout.

Adults can also foster their hobbies through the local library with events focused on fitness, stitching, line dancing and more.

Zline explained that the library strives to meet community demand. One example of that is STEM programming; because of the high levels of interest, this year the library is trying to host STEM events quarterly.

"Feedback is helpful," Zline added.

Last fall, the Severna Park Library added an outdoor play space thanks to a generous donation from the Kiwanis Club of Severna Park. This new feature offers two Percussion Play instruments, an open play area and four benches.

"I already had families that were telling me that's where they'd go sit after story time anyway and have their lunch, so now there's actual benches for them," Zline said. "Hopefully it's the start of something more."

Of course, the library remains the epicenter of rentals. Along with books, both hard copy and digital, residents can borrow DVDs, Launchpad tablets for kids, Chromebooks and fishing poles, in addition to getting free gun locks and COVID tests.

The meeting room at the library is also available to reserve for community groups and nonprofits, free of charge.

The Severna Park Library is a branch of the Anne Arundel County Public Library system, and is located at 45 West McK-insey Road. ■

Who should get a Hearing Test?

Cardiac Patients • Diabetics • Cancer Survivors

Cardiac Patients - Inadequate blood flow from heart disease can contribute to hearing loss.

Diabetics - High blood glucose levels can damage the small blood vessels in your inner ear, diminishing the ability to hear.

Cancer Survivors - Damaged hair cells in your inner ear do not grow back, and can lead to hearing loss, ringing in the ear and dizziness.

Call to schedule your annual hearing evaluation today.

Student Art Featured For Voice Cover Contest

Cover Contest sponsored by Benfield Gallery

To showcase the talent of local artists, the Severna Park Voice encouraged high school students to send their work to be entered into a contest. The winner’s work is displayed on the front of this Community Resource and Business Directory.

Broadneck High School senior Aurora Nelson won the contest with her depiction of a great blue heron gliding over a marsh, with grasses in the background curled into the shape of the letters S and P for Severna Park. Other grasses intertwine to form a heart. Second place goes to Archbishop Spalding junior and Severna Park resident Clare Donovan. She drew a picture of a heron on a beach.

The cover artwork contest is sponsored by Benfield Gallery, which will display the artwork of both students during March. Congratulations to Aurora and Clare. ■

Youth Sports

Before they take their skills to fields and gyms at area high schools, several athletes develop their abilities through youth sports. These organizations give kids the opportunity to focus on fundamentals while learning about teamwork, building confidence and having fun.

Greater Severna Park Athletic Association

(Also known as Green Hornets)

Each year, more than 5,000 children benefit from the services offered by the Green Hornets, which primarily serves the Severna Park High School feeder system. Ranging in age from 5 to 18, young athletes participate in the following sports: baseball and softball, basketball, cheerleading, field hockey, football and flag football, lacrosse, rugby, soccer, track and field, and wrestling.

While the organization uses Kinder Farm Park's six multi-purpose fields and four baseball fields as its main site, Green Hornets also uses fields at many local schools and churches.

More than 300 volunteers make the operation run smoothly, along with a board of directors and an executive director, Josh Banks. For more information, visit www.greenhornets.org.

SPY

The Severna Park YMCA Swim Team, or SPY, competes in meets that offer events for age groups ranging from 8 and under to high schoolers. SPY swimmers often represent the Anne Arundel County YMCA in "Y" competitions and compete in meets sanctioned by United States Swimming, the national governing body for amateur competitive swimming.

Most SPY practices are held at the Severna Park Community Center. For more information, go to www.gomotionapp.com/team/mdspy/page/home.

BAYS

A nonprofit organization, Broadneck Area Youth Sports (BAYS) fields teams in the following sports: basketball, field hockey, lacrosse, soccer, triathlete and volleyball.

BAYS preaches the principles of fair play, good sportsmanship, competitive spirit, tolerance and friendship. Kids can participate in instructional programs, community league sports, county league sports or community activities.

A Name Game: The History Of Severna Park Streets

By Zach Sparks

Have you ever wondered how Severna Park roads got their names? Many of them have a historical significance.

Boone Trail

Named for the Boone family

This Olde Severna Park road is named after Elizabeth and Thomas Boone's family. The Boones initially owned the most land in Severna Park, which was previously called Boone. Another landowner, George Linstid divided his property to give to his three children. Part of it became the community of Linstead and another part, combined with the Boone land, became Olde Severna Park.

Dill Road

Named for the Dill family

Edward and Anna Dill and their three children moved from Baltimore to Cypress Creek Road in 1915. In 1916, Edward opened his own company in Severna Park: E.O. Dill Plumbing and Heating.

His son, Erman "Mike" Dill Sr., worked with his father on the private water systems owned by Severna Park developer Oscar Hatton for the Severna Company and Norvell Chapman for the Round Bay system. The county took over the water systems in the early 1940s. Anna put her culinary talents to use at church suppers at Woods Memorial Church.

Edward and Anna died in 1940 and 1957, respectively. Mike, a charter member of the Severna Park Rotary and Severna Park Elks, was also active with the Earleigh Heights Volunteer Fire Company, where he served as chief for 16 years.

Giddings Avenue

Arthur and Lydia Giddings arrived in Severna Park in 1932. The couple lived on Beach Road and were instrumental in the development of Cape Arthur.

"They were an active part of the community and loved every minute of being in such a wonderful area," said their daughter, Kathie Giddings Hankins, who worked as the associate editor on a book called "Severna Park Reflections – An Album of Memories." Kathie passed away in 2011.

"It was said that Arthur Giddings would slip money to sick people during a handshake, and it is also believed Arthur and Lydia sent surprise coal deliveries to the needy," Kathie said.

As former Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce CEO Linda Zahn previously explained in a story for the Severna Park Voice, Arthur and Lydia arrived in the U.S. from Wiltshire, England, and began farming property near Gibson Island. Arthur sold produce around the county including along Old Annapolis Boulevard (now Baltimore Annapolis Boulevard) in Severna Park. In May 1933, the family started a small grocery store with a Sunoco gas station. Giddings Grocery continued to expand, soon adding a meat department.

Soon after the former Brockmeyer's store burned down in the early 1940s, the Giddings family bought the property, as well as the land across the street on Riggs Avenue and Old Annapolis Boulevard. They then built and opened the first self-service grocery store in the community on the second parcel, which is now the Carr Building.

Some Cape Arthur roads are named after members of the Giddings family.

Hatton Drive

Named for Oscar Hatton

A developer, Oscar Hatton played an integral role in Severna Park's history. Not only did he build some of the neighborhoods, but he also is partially responsible for the town name, according to various books about Anne Arundel County history. Reports say that Oscar Hatton held a contest in 1906 to rename the town, formerly known as Boone.

Also bearing the developer's name is another Severna Park site: Hatton Memorial Beach in Olde Severna Park.

Hendler Road

Named for Lionel Manuel Hendler

A shrewd businessman and community advocate, Lionel Manuel Hendler started an ice cream company called Hendler's. Its frozen treats were known as "the velvet kind." At the height of its success, Hendler's had 120 delivery trucks supplying ice cream to more than 400 stores.

The business offered vanilla, chocolate and strawberry, along with many other flavors. Peach was a summertime staple. Peppermint, licorice and spiced apple were among the other offerings.

In the 1920s, he also became involved in the growth of Severna Park. Because he was Jewish, Hendler was barred from playing golf at facilities in Baltimore, where he lived and worked.

"So he went to Oscar Hatton, who was the developer of Severna Park, and there was a nine-hole golf course there," Severna Park historian F. Scott Jay recalled in a video produced by Charles Germain of Chesapeake Clear Videos and Films. "He volunteered to put in another nine holes and to build a clubhouse."

Located in the Harlequin community, the clubhouse had a card room upstairs, a bar, a lady's room and a men's room, along with a kitchen. Hendler invited guests for swimming, golfing, singalongs and crab feasts while making his guests feel at home.

"A lot of the women or the druggist's wives didn't want to come down to the county and have to ride on the train, so Mr. Hendler tried to make this look like the city as much as he could," Jay said of the clubhouse area. "So he put in a brick sidewalk and he had cobblestone streets here for them, along with gas lights that were put in."

As for his business, it remained locally owned until it was bought by Borden's in 1929. The Hendler family continued to manage the company until the 1960s. Hendler died in 1961 after a short illness.

Jennings Road

Named for the Jennings family

William and Thomas Jennings were part of a group that purchased a parcel of land that was later used for Asbury Town Neck United Methodist Church. Many descendants of the family still reside in the area today.

Jones Station Road

Named for the Jones family

When the Jones community began around 1871, Peter Jones and his family owned and operated a store near the Jones Station train stop. The area was mostly farmland navigated by farm wagons and horse and buggy.

At one time, Jones consisted of stores, restaurants, a gas station, a barbershop, an ice house, bars, dairies, schools and churches. It had many homes, which were owned by Black families.

McKinsey Road

Named for Folger McKinsey

A poet and a Baltimore Sun columnist for 42 years, Folger McKinsey was honored with both an elementary school and a street in Severna Park.

In a Baltimore Sun column penned in 1997, Baltimore historian Gilbert Sandler recapped McKinsey's illustrious career. Known as the Bentztown Bard, McKinsey befriended fellow poet Walt Whitman while McKinsey was the editor of a New Jersey publication called the Shore Gazette. The writer then worked at the Frederick Daily News and got his nickname from the neighborhood of Bentztown.

From 1906 to 1948, McKinsey's "Good Morning" column was a hit with readers as it mixed poetry, prose and Bible excerpts. He became ill in 1948 and died in 1950 at the age of 83.

Riggs Avenue

Named for Francis and Harry Riggs

Wealthy twins from Baltimore, Francis and Harry Riggs used their house to entertain members of the upper class. Governor Albert Ritchie was a frequent guest at the siblings' social events. The brothers also allowed the Boys Scouts of Baltimore to use about 30 acres of their land as a summer camp, which the Boys Scouts referred to as Camp Linstead.

Robinson Road

Named for the Robinson family

The Robinson family, or Robosson according to some documents, remained in Severna Park for four generations.

Dr. Stephen Hittle shared the Robinson family history in "The Old Stone House," a YouTube video produced by Charles Germain as part of the Magothy River Living History Project.

Thomas Robinson purchased land in 1702 that his son, Oneal, used to build a house sometime between 1745 and 1750. That house was inherited by Oneal's son, Elijah, in 1768. Elijah was a lieutenant colonel in the Severn Battalion of Militia during the American Revolution, and he later earned the rank of colonel before transitioning to a new role as justice of the peace.

"To go from Baltimore to Annapolis, you went either by boat or you went around the Severn (River), stopping at Rising Sun Tavern, or you came across the Severn ferry and came up B&A Boulevard and stayed at the Robinson House," Hittle said.

The family operated a mill, tavern and an agricultural business. In 1837, 500 acres were sold to the Tydings family for $2,000. The Tydings family is also recognized with a road in Severna Park.

The Robinson House is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Hittle and his wife now own the home on Evon Court.

According to the Evergreen Estates community page, other members of the family, Thomas and Althea Robinson, were deeded land in 1845 that later became Evergreen Estates.

Whites Road

Named for the White family

One of the earliest Black community leaders was the Rev. George Asbury White. Born on March 5, 1896, White grew up on a farm by what is now the intersection of Whites Road and Ritchie Highway. His family picked fruits and vegetables from the fields and sold them in Annapolis, and as a 10-year-old boy, White helped Oscar Hatton.

As he got older, White bought a septic truck and ran his own business. He also cut the knee-high grass at the corner of Riggs Avenue and Evergreen Road, planted corn by Benfield Road and was a bus contractor.

While he maintained a close relationship with God, it wasn't until 1960, at the age of 64, that he became a pastor of Mount Tabor United Methodist Church in Crownsville. He had previously attended services at Wayman Good Hope A.M.E. Church and Asbury Town Neck United Methodist Church – two churches that have served as staples of the Black community in Severna Park for more than a century.

White lived to be 101 years old after having two marriages, seven children, 16 grandchildren and more than 40 great-grandchildren. ■

Orphan Grain Train Offers Gifts Of Hope At Home And Abroad

Orphan Grain Train's Maryland branch operates out of a 6,300-square-foot warehouse in Millersville.

There, volunteers help receive donations, sort and pack goods, and prepare supplies for domestic and international shipments.

By Meredith Winter

“What do you need?” Orphan Grain Train leaders asked South Sudanese pastor Stephen Mathiang as he toured their Maryland supply warehouse. Mathiang runs the Mission Gardens of Christ in his war-torn home country, where orphans are cared for, over 600 impoverished children are educated, more than 150 pastors are trained, and many more people in need are served. He humbly replied, “I’ll take everything.”

Across the globe, the needs that the Maryland branch of Orphan Grain Train meets are significant. Established in 2004, the Millersville-based Maryland branch is one of 27 locations around the U.S. that gather clothing and relief supplies for destitute people around the world. Orphan Grain Train (OGT) is a Christian volunteer network with a mission to “share resources and bring Christ’s name and character to needy people both far and near.” Since 1992, OGT has sent over 4,500 shipments of donated food, clothing, medical supplies and other needs domestically and to 71 countries.

Severna Park resident Elfie Eberle founded the Maryland branch two decades ago. Previously, she started a branch in New York after witnessing a great need for medical supplies while visiting her missionary daughter in Russia.

Maryland Branch Manager Bruce Coonradt explained that OGT meets needs locally, nationally and internationally. OGT supplies coats and clothing for the homeless and individuals recovering from addiction in nearby Baltimore and Annapolis.

Nationally, OGT aids in disaster relief and sends truckloads of supplies to organizations such as the Christian Appalachian Project in Kentucky, which serves impoverished communities in 11 states.

The Maryland branch’s international efforts are focused primarily in Africa, supporting schools, orphanages, churches and other groups in South Sudan, Cameroon, Liberia, Malawi and Ghana. However, OGT Maryland was on the frontlines when an earthquake rattled Turkey in 2023, and OGT has partnered with local Ukrainian churches to send aid to the war-torn European country.

Eberle shared that through its recent “Light Up Ukraine” campaign, the Maryland branch raised $96,000 from generous community donors to purchase 11,759 solar-powered Luci Lights for Ukrainians, supplying them with the basic human need of light.

“We always say that we’re the hands and feet of Jesus, and I really think that’s true,” Coonradt said. Commenting on the physical and Pastor Stephen Mathiang has received and distributed goods from OGT among school children (pictured), orphans, hospital patients, and others in need in South Sudan.

monetary donations OGT receives that fuel its mission, he added, “It’s one miracle after another at Orphan Grain Train.”

Though it is small in size, the 6,300-square-foot Maryland OGT warehouse is always humming with activity. A team of about 25 volunteer staff and 100 monthly volunteers make it possible to reach Coonradt’s goal of sending at least one shipment per month.

OGT Maryland is supported by churches, various organizations and fundraising efforts of their own. In 2023, the nonprofit received a check from the Greater Severna Park and Arnold Chamber of Commerce after its Fourth of July parade float won “best theme.” OGT Maryland was also the beneficiary of Severna Park’s first PRO-Vision Memorial Run, a race that honored longtime resident Paul Robert Overton. OGT received $10,000 from the October 2023 race.

Opportunities abound for community members to get involved with OGT. Individuals, families, teens fulfilling service hours, businesses and other groups are encouraged to serve in whatever capacity best suits them. Volunteers are always needed to pack boxes of school supplies, toys, sewing equipment, clothing, medical supplies and whatever else the warehouse might have on hand.

“We need a lot of hands,” Coonradt said, adding that people interested in donating their time and talent can sign up online.

Crisis Response System Serves County Residents Facing Diverse Challenges

By Meredith Winter

Every 11 minutes, someone in the United States dies by suicide, totaling 48,183 Americans in 2021 according to the Centers for Disease Control. Estimates from the National Institute of Mental Health indicate that more than one in five U.S. adults live with a mental illness, representing over 57 million people. About as many Americans over the age of 12 faced a substance use disorder in 2022, including 29.5 million who had an alcohol use disorder and 27.2 million who had a drug use disorder, according to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

These statistics represent real people of all ages, ethnicities and backgrounds, and impact almost every American, whether personally or among friends and family. With a population of over 588,000 residents, Anne Arundel County is represented among these numbers; in 2020, suicide was among the top 10 causes of death according to the county's 2022 Health Report Card.

Locally and nationally, the need for mental and behavioral health intervention is great. In Anne Arundel County, individuals facing these challenges have somewhere to turn.

Established in 1999, the Anne Arundel County Crisis Response System (CRS) exists to provide person-centered assistance to people in the community facing mental health or substance use crises. While people experiencing these types of crises traditionally have been treated in emergency rooms or have become incarcerated, the CRS was developed to serve individuals in the least restrictive setting, providing an array of behavioral health supports for individuals in distress.

County residents can receive real-time mental health and substance use disorder support 24/7/365 by calling CRS' crisis warmline at 410-768-5522. It is important to note, however, that if there is a concern for safety and a need for an immediate response, residents should always call 911 for emergency situations. In Fiscal Year 2023, warmline operators fielded 35,467 incoming calls from across the county, including 4,409 calls placed by youth.

Anne Arundel County Crisis Response System Director Jen Corbin explained that residents can call the warmline for a variety of needs including but not limited to behavioral health. "We really want to be the catch-all for the county, so there's really no wrong call," Corbin said. "Someone may call because they're uninsured or at risk of homelessness, but then there's people who call in for 'I'm feeling like I'm struggling with my mental health and I'm having thoughts of suicide.'"

Corbin, who has headed CRS for over a decade, explained that the Crisis Response System serves people in three primary ways. The first is through mobile crisis teams, which are activated through police radios when behavioral health is the primary concern, and consist of a licensed clinician and a master's level clinician. "I call it therapy on wheels," Corbin said, adding, "It's basically clinicians coming out to you to start that process and help be supportive until someone is connected to the resource they need." In Fiscal Year 2022, mobile crisis teams were dispatched 3,126 times.

For more intense situations, CRS sends crisis intervention teams consisting of an Anne Arundel County police officer and a licensed clinician, both trained in crisis intervention. These teams are equipped to respond to situations that mobile crisis teams cannot, such as when weapons or barricades are involved, or as first arrivals at schools until guardians can be reached. Crisis intervention teams conducted 372 assessments in FY22.

Initiated in 2017, CRS' Safe Stations program makes it possible for individuals dealing with substance use disorders who are ready for treatment to walk into any county police or fire station and request assistance. If an individual is not in need of immediate medical attention, CRS can then dispatch someone to help them get connected to substance treatment options. In FY23, 690 individuals obtained help for substance use through the Safe Stations program.

The support offered by CRS to thousands of county residents every year does not end with an initial call or visit. In FY22, care coordinators completed 22,527 follow-up calls and had 4,073 face-to-face interactions with individuals and families.

Corbin emphasized that the heart of the CRS is to meet people who are at crisis level and return them to pre-crisis levels. "I always say my ultimate goal is to take the word 'crisis' out of the crisis system and be able to get people linked to the services they need so they're not in crisis," she said.

Anne Arundel County's CRS is hailed as one of the most advanced in the state and country for its innovative approach and critical partnerships with other county agencies.

Corbin explained that CRS does not stay stagnant in what it does; instead, she and her team continually evaluate new situations not just in the county but across the U.S. and try to get ahead of those issues so they are prepared to best serve county residents.

This approach is possible because of highly cooperative partnerships with other county agencies including police, fire, the hospitals, the department of social services, the department of aging and the school system.

CRS' collaboration with the police department sets them apart from many similar agencies. "Across the U.S. they're talking about putting clinicians in the police department. That's not what we need to do," Corbin said. "We need to put police in with clinicians, and what our police department has committed to is we have eight officers, a lieutenant and a sergeant who are housed here at crisis. So the communication starts from the time the call comes into the warmline to the dispatch to the completion of the call that allows the officer to think differently. It allows them to be prepared going into the call, and to really have an ability to look at the call from many different perspectives, not just the police perspective, and that's really what's changing what we do in the county."

Corbin credited the CRS staff team for much of the program's success. Clinicians, warmline operators, care coordinators and others are available every day of the year including holidays, and they often face stressful and sometimes dangerous situations, she noted. "We are first responders – everybody always talks about fire, police, the hospitals – yet we did everything through COVID and these guys never backed down," she said of her colleagues.

"We're a really good team and everybody is committed to wanting to help our county residents," Corbin said.

To learn more about Anne Arundel County's Crisis Response System, go to www.aamentalhealth.org. To obtain assistance in a crisis situation, call the warmline at 410-768-5522. ■
