Man charged with killing a Cedar County Sheriff dies of natural cause

Charles LaRew
CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

By Pat Hindman

Many older Cedar County residents remember the 1987 murder of Cedar County Sheriff Charles LaRew. Shelby Debler, 67, one of two men convicted of killing LaRew, died of natural causes October 24 after being taken to University of Missouri Hospital in Columbia from the Jefferson City Correctional Center according to MissouriNet.

Debler was originally sentenced to death for the killing, but his sentence was later changed to life without parole. His brother, Brent Debler, is serving a life sentence for second-degree murder.

Shelby Debler applied for parole in 1993 but his plea was denied. His brother, Brent, was eligible for parole after 15 years. He has applied in 2001, 2005 and 2009, and was denied each time.

Following is a remembrance article printed in the Bolivar Herald Free Press by Aaron Sims May 17, 2004:

Slain Cedar County Sheriff C.A. LaRew remembered

STOCKTON- Three former Cedar County sheriff's lives were affected by the death of Sheriff C.A. LaRew in the early morning hours of Sunday, July 26, 1987.

Don Martin hired LaRew as a dispatcher, later promoting him to deputy and chief deputy, where he served under L.A. "Frog" Morlan, and Joe Shearrer was appointed as sheriff upon LaRew's untimely death.

A young C.A. LaRew moved to Cedar County from Nevada in 1973 to accept a job working for then-sheriff Don Martin. He started as a communication officer and later worked as one of two deputies. Martin promoted him to chief deputy in 1976, a job he held through the tenure of L.A. "Frog" Morlan from 1977 through 1984.

LaRew was elected sheriff of Cedar County in 1984, defeating seven Republican candidates in the August primary and defeating Democrat Gerald M. Cook in the November general election. He served until his death in 1987.

LaRew's death stemmed from an apparent feud between brothers Brent and Shelby Debler and Danny

A memorial stone in commemoration of Sheriff Charles LaRew sits in front of the Cedar County Courthouse below the history of Cedar County. LaRew was killed in the line of duty July 26, 1987. Fisk of El Dorado Springs.

Around 10:30 p.m. Saturday, July 25, 1987, the sheriff's office received a call from Shelby Debler, who reported a bomb in the driveway of his rented home, off Highway N, about 2.2 miles east of Caplinger Mills. LaRew and two deputies went to the home and found the "bomb" — an empty Coleman lantern box.

About 1:30 a.m. Sunday, July 26, Debler called the sheriff's office again, asking if it was safe for him to return home.

A third call came from Debler, at about 2:40 a.m. from a neighbor's home. During the call, Debler asked for an officer to be sent to his home to check on a possible burglary in progress.

LaRew radioed dispatch after arriving on the scene at 3:08 a.m. and said he was leaving his patrol car. It was the last anyone would hear from him.

Six minutes later, at 3:14 a.m., a man contacted the sheriff's office, using the radio in LaRew's patrol car. The man said the sheriff had been shot and needed help as soon as possible. The man then said the sheriff was dead.

It was determined the sheriff had been shot by a rigged .30-.30 caliber rifle, which fired when LaRew attempted to open the door and enter the home.

Leland McMasters, Stockton police chief at the time, said he was in bed asleep when he received a call from the sheriff's office requesting help. He said police logs record him arriving at the Debler home at 3:35 a.m. where Stockton police officers Richard Jacques and Jim Swaggerty already had arrived and had the Deblers "under control."

McMasters said he and Jacques and Cedar County deputy Terry Davis later entered the mobile home through a side door, and once inside the home found the rigged rifle on the kitchen table. Reports indicated the butt of the rifle was against the wall and a nylon fishing string was attached to the gun's trigger.

Apparently, McMasters said, the Debler brothers had met LaRew in the driveway when he arrived to investigate the burglary report. The three then walked to the house where LaRew stepped to the left — following standard police procedure — before attempting to open the door. When he tried the knob, the gun fired a single round through the wall of the home, striking LaRew in the forehead.

Cedar County prosecutor Michael Ash told the Republican at the time, "It seems to be a situation where the brothers apparently perceived they were not getting the attention from the sheriff's department they thought they deserved. They concocted this scheme to lure the sheriff's department to come out. At that time they hoped the sheriff would think it was the action of the party they were feuding with."

Ash also said the investigation indicated the shot was not for any particular person and was intended to miss whoever came to the door.

"They did not anticipate him moving to the side of the door," Ash said. "Apparently they just wanted to make a major impression on the sheriff's department."

The feud between the Deblers and Fisk apparently began over money. In court records from 1987, Fisk said he loaned Shelby Debler $2,500 and was to be paid back monthly on the principal with interest, and Fisk had paid $5,000 to have Shelby Debler released from jail in New Mexico, with the bond to be returned to Fisk. Fisk alleged Debler had intervened and used the money himself after the case in New Mexico was resolved.

Shelby Debler later admitted he had incurred the debts, but said he no longer owed Fisk the money.

The case was later resolved in court.

The Deblers were taken into custody at the scene of the shooting, and initially charged with involuntary manslaughter.

If you're in Cedar County, I'm for you.

A case against Boyd Householder and his wife, Stephanie, who ran Circle of Hope Girls' Ranch from 2006 until 2020 in Cedar County, will come to jury trial beginning this month. The trial is expected to last through December. Judge David Munton will preside. A pre-trial conference is scheduled at Cedar County Courthouse on November 13.

A jury trial is set to begin November 27 through December 15 to address charges filed by the Missouri State Attorney General's office. Individual charges have also been filed.

Boyd Householder is charged with 78 counts of statutory rape, statutory sodomy, sexual contact with students, and abuse or neglect of a child. His wife, Stephanie, is charged with 21 charges of abuse and neglect and endangering the welfare of a child in ritual/ceremony.

The Circle of Hope case became nationally known after the Householders' estranged daughter sued her parents. NBC Dateline and other media sources have told Amanda Householder's story.

First Southern Baptist Church is holding "Festival of Trees"

Watch D.O.G.S.

By Alana Hindman

Watch D.O.G.S. (Dads of Great Students) held its informational meeting last month in the Stockton elementary cafeteria for those interested in the program. Approximately sixty attendees met facilitators, watched a short presentation, and enjoyed a light meal of pizza and drinks.

Josh King, school resource officer and program facilitator, said, "We had 17 fathers and father figures sign up. Many for several different days...More are coming in as fathers who could not make the event kickoff night make contact with me."

Anyone with interest must complete a registration form and two background checks.

"Watchdogs spend the day volunteering in their child and other children's classrooms. They get opportunities to read and help with schoolwork. They also have fun with the children during recess and hang out with them during lunch. When Watchdogs are not volunteering with classrooms, they help out by checking doors and gates on campus to make sure things are secure," said King.

Many people work together to make the program possible, from O.P.A.A. Food Service Staff and P.T.O. volunteers to Stockton school staff to parents. King feels that a father or father figures' participation could be the positive impact a child needs, and that's why the program was designed.

He concluded, "Our children are bombarded with negative influences daily. Social media, music, movies. They can connect with all the bad things the world has to offer at the touch of a button on any cell phone. Fathers have a profound impact on their children. Committed fathers should be the most persistent influence in their children's lives. The Watchdog program gives fathers another opportunity to show their children that they matter and that dad is there for them."

Call King at 417.276.5143 extension 748 to receive more information.

St. Andrews donates to several causes from German dinner proceeds

By CCR news

An October German dinner hosted by St. Andrew Church in Stockton netted funds to go to the French family in Fair Play, the Korth Center in Stockton, and the St. Andrew youth program.

The church gave almost $1000 to Dakota and Katie French for their son, Samuel, who is fighting a battle with cancer. Dakota is the Chief of Police in Fair Play.

The Korth Center, a senior center in Stockton, received $300, and the church's youth group received over $700.

The church served over 153 people at its annual German dinner. The menu was bratwurst, hot German potato salad, sauerkraut, cooked cabbage, green beans, bread, dessert and drink.

Martha Frost, right, an organizer of the St. Andrew October German dinner, kneels by Samuel Frost. Samuel and his parents, Dakota and Katie French, were presented with a gift of nearly $1000 to help offset medical costs for Samuel who is battling cancer. PAT HINDMAN

MDC reminds local deer hunters that Dallas, Polk, Hickory, Cedar, and St. Clair counties are part of CWD mandatory sampling

Hunters who harvest deer in these counties on Nov. 11-12 must take deer to designated CWD mandatory sampling collection stations

Contributed to the Cedar County Republican newsroom
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. – The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) wants to remind deer hunters that mandatory CWD sampling will be taking place in 39 counties during the opening weekend (Nov. 11-12) of the November portion of firearms deer season.
Local hunters should note these mandatory-sampling counties include Dallas, Polk, Hickory, Cedar, and St. Clair. This means that hunters who harvest a deer on Nov. 11 or Nov. 12 in these counties are required to take their harvested deer, or its head, to a mandatory CWD sampling station on the day of harvest. In the above-mentioned counties, CWD mandatory sampling stations are located at:

Cedar: MODOT Maintenance Shop, 3865 E. Highway 54, nearest community – El Dorado Springs
Cedar: Stockton Lake – Crabtree Cove Park, 17630 ECT-1, nearest community – Stockton
Dallas: Dallas County Fairgrounds, Park

Drive, nearest community – Buffalo
Dallas: Lead Mine Conservation Area boat ramp near Berry Bluff in the northeast portion of the area, nearest community – Eldridge. (The directions to this station are: From Highway 5, go west on Dallas County Route E until it becomes Bluff Trail at the end of the pavement. Follow Bluff Trail until it ends at the CWD sampling station. Hunters should note there is no access to this station by going through the Lead Mine Area on State Forest Road.)
Hickory: Pomme de Terre U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Maintenance Shop, Highway 254 West, nearest community – Hermitage

Polk: Bolivar Fire Station No. 2 (West), 812 S. Killingsworth Ave., nearest community – Bolivar
St. Clair: Former MO-DOT Maintenance Shop, 1501 Business 13 South, nearest community – Collins
St. Clair: MDC Osceola Wildlife Shop, 3815 NE Highway 13, nearest community – Osceola
Sampling and test results are free. The process consists of an MDC staff person making an incision in the neck of the harvested deer to remove the lymph nodes for testing. Tissue samples are sent to a lab for testing and results.
At MDC mandatory sampling stations, hunters will be provided information about how they can check on results for samples collected from their deer. Results will be available at mdc.mo.gov/cwd-results approximately three weeks after sample collection.

Before arriving at a CWD sampling station, hunters should:
• Field dress and Tel-echeck the deer
• Bring the carcass or bring just the head
• Capes may be removed in preparation for taxidermy prior to arriving at the station
• Position deer in vehicles with head and neck easily available
• Be sure the person who harvested the deer is present

• Be prepared to find the location of harvest on a map
• If using a paper permit, have it detached from the deer for easy access
If using the MO Hunting App, have permit information available
Since CWD was first detected in Missouri's wild deer in 2012, more than 243,000 samples have been collected. Out of this group, there have been 410 positive results. Hunters have played an important role in helping MDC monitor and track this disease in the state by their assistance with sample collection.
More information about CWD in Missouri can be found at mdc.mo.gov/CWD.

Climate Is Attributable to Air Stress, Temperature and Moisture Variations

At its most primary, climate is brought on by variations in air stress, temperature and moisture. Several types of climate phenomena are created when these elements are combined collectively in diverse proportions. For instance, to make a twister, combine some bloodless polar air at an excessive altitude with some warm, heat tropical air at low altitudes!

Get tips on scoring antlers at Nov. 18 MDC program

A trophy size White-tailed deer buck tracks a doe during a fall rut season. People can get tips on scoring deer antlers (pictured above) and other types of antlers at a Nov. 18 MDC program that will have both in-person and virtual options for attending. CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

Contributed to the Cedar County Republican newsroom

ASH GROVE, Mo. – Knowing how to score a set of antlers can make a memorable hunt even more meaningful.

Even if a set of antlers does not break a record (which it probably won't), antler scoring gives deer and elk hunters and their family members another way to remember a special hunting trip. People interested in learning about how to score antlers should sign up for the Missouri Department of Conservation's (MDC) program "Learning to Hunt: Measuring your Trophy." This free program will be Nov. 18 from 8:30-10:30 a.m. It will be taught at MDC's Andy Dalton Shooting Range and Outdoor Education Center and will feature both in-person and online options. People interested in attending this program in person can register at: <https://mdc-event-web.s3licensing.com/Event/EventDetails/194909>

People wishing to sign up for the online option can do so at: <https://mdc-event-web.s3licensing.com/Event/EventDetails/194908>

At the Nov. 18 program, MDC Outdoor Education Center Specialist Ali Cannefax will discuss how hunters can score their harvest and will also discuss what animals can be scored. This class will not qualify people to become an official scorer and it should be noted that antlers need to be scored by an official scorer in order to be eligible for any records.

Though this program is free, registration is required. To participate, use the link above. Registrants for the on-line option must provide an e-mail, so a program link can be sent to them.

MDC's Andy Dalton Range and Outdoor Education Center is located near Ash Grove at 4897 N. Greene County Farm Road 61. People can stay informed about upcoming programs at the Dalton Range and other nearby MDC facilities by signing up for text alerts and e-mail bulletins. People who have questions about upcoming events or how to sign up for text alerts from the Dalton Range can call 417-742-4361.

Staff at MDC facilities across the state are holding in-person and virtual programs. A listing of these programs can be found at mdc.mo.gov/events.

THE ROCKWOOD FILES

What’s on your list?

How to love productivity and people at the same time

On my desk, there are three essential things – my laptop, a computer mouse, and a no-frills, lined pad of paper. Without the computer and mouse, nothing could get done. But without that humble pad of paper where I scribble my to-do list, I wouldn’t remember what needed doing in the first place. Like millions of others, I’ve been a devoted fan of to-do lists for decades. When the glorious iPhone came along, I added a few digital bells and whistles to the system so I could have a mobile version of the list to take with me. It’s like a security blanket for my brain. For the most important items on the list, I also schedule alarms – which is like giving a to-do list the power to yell reminders at you. It’s annoying, but it usually works. I wish I didn’t need back-ups on top of back-ups, but often I do. If I don’t write tasks down where I can see (or hear) them, my brain tosses them into a back-alley memory dumpster where they disintegrate like bad bananas. Last year, I asked my doctor if I should be worried about how easy it is to forget things. He’s a good man and a kind doctor, so he didn’t diagnose me with Moldy Banana Brain Syndrome, as I feared. Instead, he compared my brain to a computer running multiple systems with tons of open tabs. He said my brain has never been as full as it is now, so sometimes it may buffer a bit. Okay, doc. Fair enough. I can compensate. Between the written list, post-it notes, iPhone reminders, Alexa announcements, and the alarms, I get things done, which feels great. In our culture, productivity is a virtue. Many of us dearly love the satisfaction of marking something off our list. I used to be a checkmark kind of girl, but now I use a black pen to zigzag through each item, like a task assassin obliterating the target. But here’s a lesson I’m learning more each day: I’d rather be effective than efficient. In a perfect world, we could be both. But in this real world, we often have to choose. Why? Because life happens. Suddenly someone needs help, and help takes time. Someone gets sick, or a friend needs to talk. Or a kid needs your full attention so they’ll remember how much they matter. Or a spouse needs to vent about work before his head explodes. It’s so easy to say we love people but giving them time is the proof. Time management expert Laura Vanderkam once wrote, “People are a good use of time.” It has become one of my favorite quotes, and I remember it on days when I don’t get as much done as I’d hoped. I’m done beating myself up for not whittling down a list fast enough. If the list has to wait because I chose instead to use time for people, so be it. I’ll catch up eventually, and it’ll be okay. Because I’d rather be an effective human than an efficient workhorse. Gwen Rockwood is a syndicated freelance columnist. Email her at gwenrockwood5@gmail.com. Her book is available on Amazon.

KEYS TO THE KINGDOM

Do You Stink?

When I was a young girl, I thought the fragrance of ‘Evening in Paris’ was absolutely lovely! Several years ago, just for fun, I ordered a cobalt-blue bottle of this cologne from ebay just to remember the scent and enjoy the nostalgia. (However, it didn’t smell as good as I thought it did as a kid.) The sense of smell is a powerful instrument for bringing us pleasure or annoyance. I love the fragrance of an iris, but the scent of a skunk is a whole nother ball game. I’ve been told by friends that my home has its own fragrance. I wasn’t aware of it because I’m used to it. But I know what they’re talking about, as I recall my piano teacher’s living room had the same certain smell every week. Whether we realize it or not, Christ followers give off a pleasing or offensive scent everywhere we go. Like Pepe’ Le Pew, the “odor-able” French striped skunk, we may not realize we’re giving off a putrid odor that annoys people or causes them to run away from us. Pepe’ was used to his odor, and I think it’s possible that some believers can be so used to their harsh and overly-opinionated personality that they aren’t aware that they’re annoying and their persona stinks to high heaven. Apostle Paul admonishes us to, “Guard your speech. Forsake obscenities and worthless insults; these are nonsensical words that bring disgrace and are unnecessary” (Ephesians 5:4 TPT). What’s your favorite fragrance? You can’t buy the following perfumes anywhere, but you can possess them in your heart and lavish them on people everyday: Compassion, Love, Hope, Encouragement, Kindness, Gentleness, Understanding, Patience, Goodness, and Empathy. These priceless fragrances display the character of Jesus Christ. “Thanks be to God, Who in Christ always leads in triumph [as a trophy of Christ’s victory] and through me spreads and makes evident the fragrance of the knowledge of God everywhere” (2 Corinthians 2:14 AMP). Through the yielded lives of believers, we are to spread the fragrance of God wherever we go. We should live every day as fragrant love spreaders. (There’s more than enough manure spreaders out there.) Just a few positive words of encouragement spoken over a discouraged individual can change his/her outlook and give hope. “But this beautiful treasure is contained in us — cracked pots made of earth and clay — so that the transcendent character of this power will be clearly seen as coming from God and not us” (2 Corinthians 4:7 VOICE). Believers must realize that anything good we do always comes from God’s power living in us. We owe it all to Jesus for making it possible to wear the fine fragrances of a renewed life in Him. Although we’re common/imperfect clay jars (created from dust/clay) we possess the fragrance of God in our heart. His sweet fragrance in us will spill out on others as we practice loving on them. Christ followers need to be aware of how we smell to others. What one person thinks smells good, another can think it stinks. I once worked with a very nice woman, but her cologne fragrance was horribly unpleasant to my nose. Obviously, she thought it was wonderful or she wouldn’t have chosen to wear it. But, to me, it smelled like toilet-bowl cleaner. We need to seriously reevaluate our spiritual fragrance choices to ensure that we’re a sweet and welcoming fragrance to others. The Key: Don’t be like Pepe’ Le Pew and turn people off because you stink. Carolyn lived in Stockton from 1963-1976 and has a heart for encouraging others with words and music.

I’m a slow learner

I make mistakes and let some people sway me before I think it through. Has this ever happened to you? After the fact regrets over a decision I made, Maybe it was a bad car trade. Did you buy clothes, get them home and you hated them? The chance of me trying anything on before buying is very very very slim. House full of not so great spur of the moment buys, I look at all this stuff and how much I spent makes me cry We have a country full of unsatisfied people, looking for something to make them happy, Things don’t make you happy, it might make you sappy. What does it take to make you happy and satisfied with what you have? Stay at home spent time with family and save money, It’s like a soothing salve. Spending and going can become a habit, Jumping around like a hyper rabbit. Jesus can help you balance your life, Oh so happy and not much strife. Girls Cross Country Captures 4th Place At State Meet

By Kevin Caudle

After a terrific season, the Stockton Lady Tigers Cross Country team captured the 4th place trophy at the Class 2 State Meet in Columbia last Friday with Lafayette County, Woodland, and Hermann taking the top 3 places. Lillie Burchett for the Lady Tigers and Michael Hudson of the Tigers were selected as All-State Cross Country based on their individual performances.

For the girls, Lillie Burchett set the pace for the Lady Tigers, placing 16th overall (20:36.80). Also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Faith King (22:04.00/43rd), Nikayla Hare (22:19.20/54th), Lydia Bahr (22:22.70/55th), and Abigail Kiley (23:18.30/98th). Also competing for the Lady Tigers was Kayleigh Antonini (24:06.70/123rd).

For the boys, the Tigers had only three competitors therefore, they were racing for individual performances only. Michael Hudson (17:22.05/25th) led the Tigers followed by teammates Colter Woods (19:07.10/111th) and Salvador Gonzalez (20:54.80/152nd).

Even with the graduation of Lady Tigers Nikayla Hare, Abigail Kiley, and Faith King next spring, Head Coach Ryan Pate is hoping the team will continue to improve and potentially compete for a state championship again next fall.

Charities whose missions support veterans, active military and their families

From the Cedar County Republican newsroom

The support Americans have for their armed forces is evident in how much they donate each year to charities with military-related missions. According to Charity Navigator, Americans donate more than $2.5 billion annually to charities with missions dedicated to the military.

Individuals who want to donate to a charitable organization with a military-related mission may not know where to start, and that can be daunting given the number of organizations that fit that criteria. Charity Navigator indicates there are more than 40,000 American charities with military-related missions, which underscores how difficult it can be to find one to support. Thankfully, Charity Navigator, which has provided donors with free access to data, tools and resources to guide their philanthropic decision-making since 2001, has curated a list of highly rated organizations that provide a variety of services to military members and their families. The following is a brief rundown of that list that can serve as a solid foundation for prospective donors. The full list can be found at charitynavigator.org.

Calico Clippers Quilting Guild will distribute veterans' quilts at two places in Cedar County

By Pat Hindman

All year long, the veterans' committee of the Calico Clippers Quilting Guild sew red, white, and blue quilts to present to every veteran present at two school assemblies honoring veterans. The veterans' committee of the Guild works on the quilts all year, and then once a year, the entire Guild comes together to complete their tasks. This year, the Guild will distribute approximately 30 quilts to veterans at the Stockton and El Dorado Springs High School veterans' assemblies.

The Guild will hand out quilts at Stockton High School on November 10 during ceremonies, which begin at 8:45 a.m. The Guild will distribute quilts at 1:30 p.m. at the El Dorado Springs High School assembly.

The not-for-profit organization has also created a red, white, and blue quilt, which was on display at the Black Walnut Festival in Stockton earlier this year. The Guild sold raffle tickets for that quilt, and they will announce a winner at the ELDo ceremony. Judy Sage, a Guild member, said the winner does not need to be present to win.

Depicted are some pictures of the presentation of quilts from last year's Veterans' Day ceremonies. This year, approximately 30 quilts will be handed out to veterans at ceremonies to be held at Stockton and El Dorado Springs November 10.

FAQ about Veterans Day

From the Cedar County Republican newsroom

Each November, millions of people recognize the service and sacrifice of military veterans on Veterans Day. Initially commemorated as Armistice Day but renamed Veterans Day in the United States in 1954, the holiday is a federal holiday throughout the country.

The first Armistice Day was observed in 1919. Despite that lengthy history, the general public may still have questions about Veterans Day.

When is Veterans Day observed?

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs notes that Veterans Day is always observed officially on November 11, regardless of which day of the week that happens to be. In 2023, Veterans Day is Saturday, November 11. Because Veterans Day falls on a Saturday in 2023, the federal observation date is Friday, November 10.

Why is November 11 so significant?

November 11 is a significant day in world history because it marks the signing of the armistice between the Allies of World War I and Germany at 5:45 a.m. on November 11, 1918. Though the formal peace treaty, the Treaty of Versailles, was not signed until 1919 and hostilities between the sides continued for hours after the armistice was signed, the day is still viewed as the end of World War I.

What distinguishes Veterans Day from Memorial Day?

The VA notes that Veterans Day honors all those individuals who served honorably in the military during both wartime and peacetime. Memorial Day is a day to honor and remember military personnel who died in the service of their country, particularly those who lost their lives in battle or as a result of wounds sustained in battle.

What is the significance of red poppies?

Red poppies are ubiquitous on Memorial Day, but they're also visible on Veterans Day. Though it's not taboo to wear red poppies on Veterans Day, it's a tradition that aligns more with Memorial Day. That's because the poppies are typically worn to honor fallen military personnel. A 1915 poem written by a Canadian Lieutenant Colonel named John McCrae referred to the fields of poppies growing around the graves of World War I soldiers in Flanders.

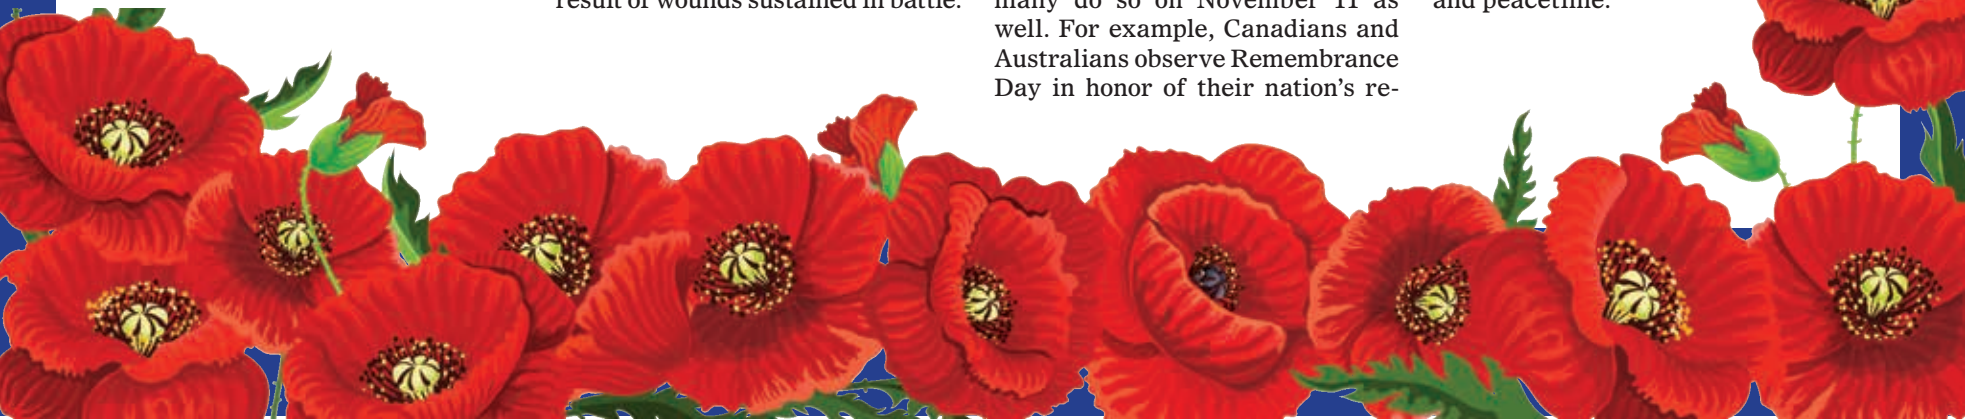

Do other countries honor their military veterans?

Many countries across the globe honor their military veterans, and many do so on November 11 as well. For example, Canadians and Australians observe Remembrance Day in honor of their nation's re-

HONORING ALL WHO SERVED

Remembering our veterans

From the Cedar County Republican newsroom

The men and women who defend the liberties and freedoms of the countries they represent hold a special place in people's hearts and an eternal spot in their countries' histories.

Any opportunity is a good time to commemorate the bravery and selfless deeds of military personnel, but certain prominent holidays in November make this an especially important time to thank veterans for their service.

November 11 is Veterans Day in the United States and Remembrance Day in Canada. It's also known as Armistice Day in other parts of the world. These holidays honor all military veterans who have provided service to their countries, and that each falls on November 11 is no coincidence, as the day commemorates the anniversary of the end of World War I on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918.

Many places around the world pause and remember fallen veterans on November 11, but a good majority of Veterans Day and Remembrance Day commemorative events focus on past and current veterans who are still alive. There are many ways to honor the military at home and abroad in time for the November festivities. The following are just a handful of ways to show appreciation for military men and women.

- When dining out, ask your server if you can pay the tab for a soldier or veteran you see in the restaurant.
- Attend a military parade with your family and explain the significance of the day to children in attendance.

- Draft letters and send care packages to soldiers currently in service far away from home.
- Ask your company if Veterans Day or Remembrance Day can be an observed holiday at your place of business each year to pay homage to servicemen and women.
- Visit a military memorial in a city near you. Your town also may have its own memorial.
- Petition town officials to erect a memorial if your town does not already have one. Such memorials can be a source of inspiration for your community.
- Support a military family in your town who may be missing a loved one stationed elsewhere. Make meals, mow the lawn, help with grocery shopping, or simply provide emotional support.
- Volunteer time at a veterans' hospital. You may be able to read with veterans or engage in other activities.

- Get involved with a military support charity that can provide much-needed funds to struggling families or disabled veterans.
- Have children speak with veterans in your family, including grandparents, uncles and aunts or even their own parents. It can help them gain perspective on the important roles the military plays.
- Ask a veteran to give a commencement speech at a school or to be the guest of honor at a special function.
- Drive disabled veterans to doctors' appointments or to run any errands.
- Support a local VFW organization.
- Create a scrapbook for a veteran in your life.
- Cheer for or thank military personnel each time you see them.
- Visit the veterans' portion of a nearby cemetery and place poppies or other flowers on the graves.
- Always keep the military on your mind and never forget those who have served and didn't return home.

Armistice Day, Remembrance Day and Veterans Day are great ways to honor past and current military for their service and sacrifice.

Honoring Our Veterans

On the 11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month in 1918, an armistice, or agreement to stop fighting, was reached between the Allied nations and Germany in World War I.

One year later, President Woodrow Wilson declared that Nov. 11, 1919 was a day to remember Americans for their military service in World War I. He called it Armistice Day. He suggested that Americans celebrate with parades and perhaps a “brief suspension of business” around 11 a.m. President Wilson also hoped it would be a time when Americans offered prayers of thanksgiving for those who had served and for peace for all times.

★ President Wilson originally intended Armistice Day to be observed one time, but many states decided to observe it every year to honor World War I veterans.

★ Congress followed the states’ lead and in 1938 declared that every November 11 would be observed as Armistice Day.

★ Congress changed the name to Veterans Day in 1954 to honor veterans of all wars.

★ For a brief time, 1971-1974, Veterans Day was observed on the 4th Monday in October. Since 1975, Veterans Day is always observed on Nov. 11.

★ If Nov. 11 falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the federal government observes the holiday on the previous Friday or following Monday, respectively.

★ Nov. 11, 1921, when the first of the unknown soldiers was buried in Arlington National Cemetery, unidentified soldiers also were laid to rest at Westminster Abbey in London and at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

★ Memorial Day, the fourth Monday in May, honors American service members who died in service to their country.

Timeline for Veterans Day Observance

Nov. 11, 1918	The fighting in World War I ended. (The Treaty of Versailles formally ended the war on June 28, 1919)
November 1919	President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed that Nov. 11, 1919, would be observed as Armistice Day—a day to honor the veterans of World War I.
Nov. 11, 1921	The first of the unknown soldiers, a veteran of World War I, was buried in Arlington Cemetery in Virginia in what has become known as the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. On the same day, unidentified soldiers were laid to rest at Westminster Abbey in London and at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.
June 4, 1926	Twenty-seven states had made Armistice Day a holiday so Congress declared it to be a recurring day of remembrance.
May 13, 1938	Congress makes Armistice Day a national holiday.
June 28, 1968	Congress changed Veterans Day to the fourth Monday in October.
Sept. 20, 1975	President Gerald Ford changed Veterans Day back to Nov. 11.

Gestures anyone can embrace in support of veterans

From the Cedar County Republican newsroom

Veterans Day (United States) and Remembrance Day (Canada) are commemorated each year on November 11. Both holidays honor the individuals who served in the armed forces for their respective countries.

Community-wide events tend to be held on November 11, but any day of the year is a good time to pay respect to veterans. On a local level, people can do much to thank veterans for their service and sacrifice.

- Provide a free restaurant meal. Offer to take out a veteran for breakfast, lunch or dinner. If you see a veteran eating in a restaurant, anonymously pay the bill for that person.
- Send care packages. Communities can gather resources and chip in to make care packages for veterans who live in town, and even to send to troops stationed elsewhere. Include foods and comforts from home.
- Buy from veterans. Seek out veteran-owned businesses in the area, and then make purchases from their retail stores or utilize their services.
- Volunteer at a VA hospital. Spend time with veterans where they receive care for current health needs or past injuries suffered in combat.
- Decorate cemeteries. Honor fallen veterans by placing flowers or flags by their gravesites.
- Participate in a parade. If your town hosts a Veterans Day or Remembrance Day parade, find out how you can volunteer or be a part of it. Oftentimes parade officials enable youth groups, such as high school marching bands or scouting troops, to participate in the parade.
- Write to the newspaper. Write an op-ed or highlight piece to submit to the newspaper about veterans in the community. Mention local veterans who have unique stories, or speak about the importance of veterans to the community.
- Ask a veteran to speak. If you work in a school or a community center, ask veterans to share their experiences with area youth.
- Visit local memorials. Spend time visiting memorials nearby and paying homage to the veterans who devoted their time, or even their lives, to service.

Community members have plenty of opportunities and ways to give back to veterans in the area.

THE POW/MIA TABLE

A Place Setting For One, A Table For All

The tradition of setting a separate table in honor of our prisoners of war and missing comrades has been in place since the end of the Vietnam War. The manner in which this table is decorated is full of special symbols to help us remember our brothers and sisters in arms.

The POW/MIA table is separate from the others and can be set for one to four place settings to represent each service participating in the event.

The table is smaller than the others symbolizing the frailty of one prisoner alone against his or her oppressors.

The white tablecloth draped over the table represents the purity of their response to our country's call to arms.

The empty chair depicts an unknown face, representing no specific Soldier, Sailor, Airman, or Marine, but all who are not here with us.

The round table shows that our concern for them is never ending.

The Bible represents faith in a higher power and the pledge to our country, founded as one nation under God.

The black napkin stands for the emptiness these warriors have left in the hearts of their families and friends. A Purple Heart medal can be pinned to the napkin.

The single red rose reminds us of their families and loved ones. The red ribbon represents the love of our country, which inspired them to answer the nation's call.

The yellow candle and its ribbon symbolize the everlasting hope for a joyous reunion with those yet accounted for.

The slices of lemon on the bread plate remind us of their bitter fate.

The salt upon the bread plate represent the tears of their families.

The inverted wine glass reminds us that our distinguished comrades cannot be with us to drink a toast or join in the festivities of the evening.
